Syracuse Chiefs are on the brink of entering the final round of the International League's Governor's Cup playoffs today.

The Chiefs made it three straight over Rochester Red Wings Thursday night in their best-of-seven semi-final round, coming from behind to post a 7-4 triumph.

Rain interrupted the other semi-final, between Montreal Royals and Buffalo Bisons. The Royals lead two games to none.

Jack Robinson will pitch for the Chiefs tonight while lefty Fred Hahn will try to pitch Rochester back into the series. At Buffalo, Bob Alexander will pitch for Montreal against Tom Acker or Tom (no-hit) Simpson.

The Wings piled up a 3-0 lead over Syracuse but the Chiefs came back with a run in the fourth and sewed it up with four more in the fifth. Gene Markland climaxed the uprising with a two-run double. Gene Costello, third Syracuse pitcher, was the winner and starter Bob Habenicht the loser.

Victor Mature Returns To Chest Roles

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 14—(AP)—Victor Mature, who thought he had escaped the title, again finds himself in the "Beautiful-Hunk-of-Man" category.

Thanks to chest-baring roles Mature got stuck with that tag in pre-war years.

Returning from the war an older and a wiser man, he sought to make his mark as an actor, wearing shirts and coats. He accomplished it in "Kiss of Death," a crime subject.

"Even the critics who hated my guts liked me in that one," he admits.

Then he played Samson, the biceps-bender who was taken for the big haircut by Delilah in the biblical epic. He was back in the loincloth league again. Now he's again in the ancient times, portraying a Roman soldier in "Androcles And The Lion."

Mature is reconciled to his fate. "Samson wasn't exactly bad for me," he remarked, indicating this was an understatement. "How can you go wrong in a picture that is going to pull in $17,000,000?"

Publicity-hep Mature added that such pictures aren't bad for putting an actor before the public.

At any rate, Mature is accustomed to the caprices of his film bosses. After scoring his hit in "Kiss of Death," he was signed to a new contract. His first picture under the new deal was "Moss Rose."

"I don't know who dreamed up that one," he said, "but I was supposed to play an Englishman named Sir Alexander Sterling. I was supposed to be speaking with a British accent and I did the best I could.

"Fortunately, the boss (Darryl Zanuck) returned . . . after we had shot eight days. He heard my voice in the rushes and said, 'what is this?' The character's name was changed from Sir Alexander Sterling to Michael Drego and it was explained that he somehow grew up in Canada."

HERO'S WELCOME—Pte. Alexander Anderson, 21-year-old Korean veteran, got a big welcome on return to Vancouver for paratroop training. He is shown surrounded by mother, sisters, nephews, cousins and brother-in-law, but at the moment he's concentrating on girl friend Rita Bentley, 19.

Care Of Blind Outlined By Field Secretary

MARMORA, Sept. 14 (ENS)—The work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind was ably portrayed for Marmora Women's Institute in their well attended September meeting held at the home of Mrs. H. W. Sabine Tuesday evening by P. I. Timmins, field secretary.

The CNIB, he declared, was a private philanthropic agency with two main services for the blind: rehabilitation and amelioration.

It constituted a big program as there were 18,000 blind people in Canada. Newfoundland's division of the work is the oldest, being in force before Confederation.

There were 123 persons coming within the attention of the National Institute in Hastings county. The organization he represented was interested in the blind from the cradle to the grave. The number of blind babies in Canada is increasing and the Institute gives guidance to the parents of pre-school blind children.

Naturally the blind child developed more slowly than the sighted child. Mr. Timmins pointed out, that the Ontario School for the Blind at Brantford was run by the government. The Institute provided clothing for those attending who cannot afford it.

The field for life work for the blind was still strictly limited but it was broader than before the Institute had its program of employment service.

Since World War II, the opportunity was furnished for the placing of blind into various industries to prove what they could do.

"More than 1,700 blind persons are working at jobs which we provided or have found," said the speaker.

Sixty per cent of the blind however, are fifty years of age and over and these largely came under the amelioration side of the Institute's work.

Home teachers get them to think of their four remaining senses. Many blind cannot master Braille type. Many are now learning to read the Moon type which is simpler.

Following the talk for which the speaker was heartily thanked, the session decided upon the suggestion of the speaker to hold a house to house canvass for funds and a Saturday evening tagging instead of the tag day as held in previous years.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Harold P. Nayler in the customary manner. A letter was read from the Department of Lands and Forests calling attention to the woodlot contest which they are holding this month.

Mrs. E. C. Prentice reported for the Library Improvement Committee in which the IODE is working with the WI.

The members of the Institute were urged to take their part as desired in the two night show "Going Places" which the Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring Sept. 20 and 21.

It was announced that an afternoon tea and bake sale would be held by the joint Library Improvement Committee on Sept. 28.

By motion the annual grant of $75 was again voted to Marmora Public Library.

Mrs. J. L. Hickey gave a pianoforte solo, succeded by Mrs. Charles Sopha with a well prepared paper on agriculture and Canadian industries and a solo "Bless This House" by Mrs. L. R. Rundle. The committee in charge served refreshments.

Cattle Prices Strong During Week

TORONTO, Sept. 14 — (CP).—Cattle prices this week were strong on choice cattle and steady on lower grades at the Ontario Stockyards. Calves were steady to strong, while hogs dropped from the opening. Lambs opened 50 cents lower and closed $1.00 higher. Sheep were unchanged.

The cattle supply of 8,400 head was equal to the same week last year and 2,200 more than last week. Included were 1,200 western cattle, mostly stockers. Carry-over from last week was 500 head. Good to choice weighty steers sold at $34-$35, with tops at $35.50. Common to medium steers sold at $28-$33.50. Common to medium light steers and heifers were $24-$32.50. Good heifers were $33 with a few at $33.50. Good to choice fed yearlings made $35-$36 with a few tops at $37. Medium to good cows were $26-$28, with common down to $22. Canners sold from $17-$20. Good heavy bulls were $28-$29; common light bulls $23-$26.

Calf receipts totalled 1,900. Choice vealers brought $36-37, with common to medium $28-$35. Grassers were $20-$23.

Hog receipts totalled 2,200. Early sales were made at $34, but at the close had slipped to $32 for Grade-A. Sows were $25-$26 dressed.

Sheep and lambs receipts totalled 2,600, including 830 westerns. Lambs closed at $33 for good ewes and wethers and $32 for bucks. Medium to good sheep were $16-$22 and culss old down to $10.

Senate Stays Open Officials Defy NATO

OTTAWA, Sept. 14—(CP)—The Senate door stays open.

Efforts to close the Upper Chamber's main entrance as part of the security arrangements for the Atlantic Pact meeting have failed.

NATO officials wanted it closed. The Senate, through Speaker Elie Beauregard, has ruled that it stay open for Senators and Senate staff. They will, however, get NATO passes to enter the building.

The centre block of parliament is being guarded by hundreds of soldiers and airmen, Mounties, and members of the protective staffs of the Commons and Senate The meeting starts Saturday.

Steel In Short Supply Until End of 1952

TORONTO, Sept. 14 — (CP) — Structural steel for non-essential building will continue in its present short supply until the end of 1952, D. C. Been, chief of construction for the Defence Department Production's Steel Division, said Thursday.

He told a luncheon of the Toronto Builders' Exchange that construction men engaged in non-defence work could still "shop around" for European steel. It was outside government allotment restrictions as long as it was not intended for building covered by the government's absolute ban—such things as theatres, bowling alleys and retail stores.

Highway Projects Hampered By Steel

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 14 (CP)—Highways Minister Doucett said Thursday that the steel shortage is handicapping highway construction projects, including the four-lane super highway across Western Ontario.

Making his annual visit to Elgin county court house to discuss road problems with county officials, Mr. Doucett said that his department could obtain much of the steel it needed by paying up to four times the standard price.

"But we don't feel justified in doing that," he said.

13 Lose Citizenship

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — Thirteen persons lost their Canadian citizenship Thursday as the federal citizenship revocation committee concluded its three-day session here. The committee found the 13 had remained outside Canada beyond the six-year period allowed without reasons that could be regarded as mitigating circumstances.

Harvesting Delayed

EDMONTON, Sept. 14 (CP) — New rains across the southern prairies have set back harvesting still further and caused serious sprouting of grain. Saskatchewan, Alberta and Manitoba all report excessive rains in southern areas this week with the resultant sprouting of grain in swath and stock.

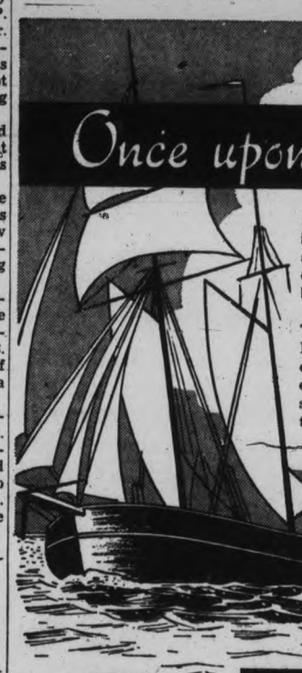
Lineman Electrocuted

ALEXANDRIA, Ont., Sept. 14 (CP)—Frank White, of Ottawa, 33-year-old hydro lineman, was electrocuted Thursday when 4,600 volts of electricity went through his body while he was working atop a power pole eight miles northeast of here.

Approve Certificate

WASHINGTON, Sept. 14 (AP) — The National Production Authority Thursday approved a certificate giving the Aluminum Company of America permission to build a $100,000,000 plant in Central Texas. The project would use vast lignite deposits in the area as a source of power.

Once upon a Vine



As early as 1870, grapes grown in the Niagara district were shipped by boat from Niagara-on-the-Lake to Toronto in baskets made by the Indians.

Through the years, Niagara Peninsula vineyards have been developed to a high degree of excellence, producing many superb varieties of grapes for table use.

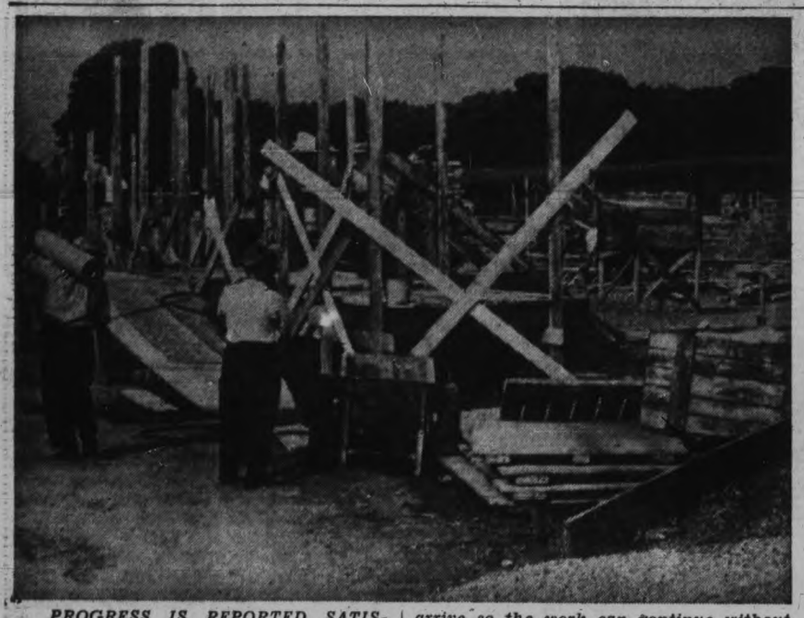
PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1951 VOL. CIII. No. 62



PROGRESS IS REPORTED SATISFACTORY on the new $390,000 high school for Norwood area. It will accommodate more than 300 students from eight municipalities in the area. The ground was broken in June and the school should be ready for use in September, 1952. The foundations are now completed and corridor walls are being built. Next week structural steel should arrive so the work can continue without delay. The present high school has no domestic science, agricultural-science rooms; no accommodation for crafts, workshop or gymnasium-auditorium. These will be included in the new school. At present the students are attending schools in both Havelock and Norwood.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Unemployed Given Half Million

Slight Increase Over 1949 Through District

Unemployed in Peterborough and district received $512,129.37 in unemployment insurance from January 1, 1950, to December 31, 1950, William Mellis, manager of the National Employment office, said today. This was a slight increase over the figures for the same period in 1949.

Mr. Mellis explained that this amount was paid in 35,451 payments to men and women on ordinary, part-time and the special supplementary benefit claims.

In November, 1950, Bart G. Sullivan, Ontario regional superintendent of the Unemployment Insurance, said that $452,187.87 had been paid out to the end of October as compared with only $417,686.75 in 1949.

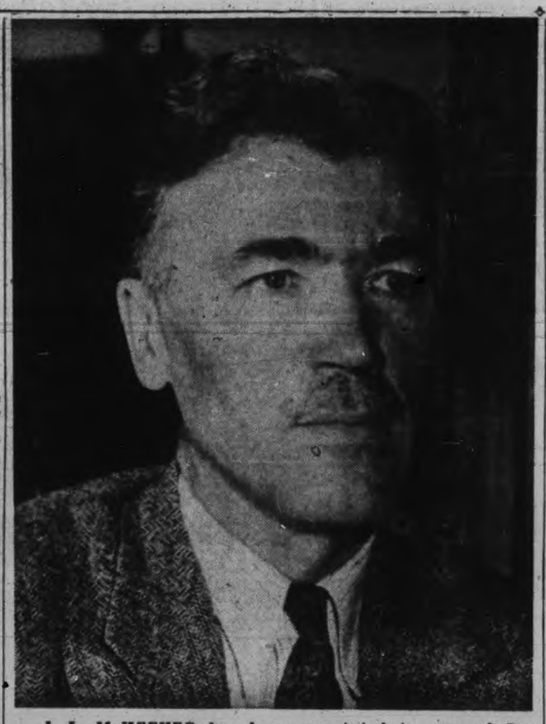
City men and women on unemployment insurance in 1950 received $333,760.40 in 22,443 payments.

Supplementary benefit claims a special clause in the unemployment insurance act which allows payments to a group of winter unemployed from January to December, accounted for only $5,900.85 paid out in 430 instalments in the city.

In ordinary claims city men were paid $327,859.55 in 22,013 payments.

County men and women received in 13,007 payments a total of $178,368.97. This included 160 supplementary benefit payments amounting to $2,612.60 and 12,847 ordinary payments amounting to $175,756.37.

The district for the Peterborough offices includes counties of Peterborough and Haliburton, parts of Durham, Northumberland and Victoria counties.



J. L. McKEEVER has been appointed to succeed Dr. Gordon Langley as works engineer of the CGE's Peterborough plant. Dr. Langley retired recently.

J. L. McKeever Appointed CGE Plant Chief Engineer

J. L. McKeever has been appointed Chief Engineer of the Peterborough CGE Works, in succession to Dr. G. R. Langley, who retired at the first of this month. Mr. McKeever has been with the company and at the Peterborough plant for 21 years. He came to it in May, 1930, as a young engineering graduate of the University of British Columbia (BASc) to take the Test Course.

The new engineering head of the huge Peterborough plant is considered one of the most brilliant engineers in Canada in his special field — application engineering; which means applying, devising or prescribing a motor to an industrial need.

Outstanding Achievements

His broad experience and technical skill encompass many facets of engineering, making him a key man in the plant of which he has been General Engineer since 1938. His engineering achievements have been outstanding. His work during the war was arduous and invaluable when the company undertook vastly important defence assignments and expanded to meet the heavy demands of the war.

Mr. McKeever is a Scot by birth and came as a youngster to British Columbia with his parents, attending schools in Penticton, from whence he went to the University of British Columbia.

Experience In The Plant

Following completion of the Test Course at the CGE, student Larry McKeever went to induction motor engineering, and working under A. L. Dickieson and V. S. Foster assisted in the development and design of fractional horsepower small appliance motors. He transferred in 1935 to the AC-DC engineering department, contributing his technical knowledge to the design and production of large water-wheel generators. In this department he worked in conjunction with B. L. Barns and H. R. Sills; and with B. Ottewell on D.C. machines.

In 1938 he was appointed General Engineer and became the only application engineer in the Peterborough Works. This department expanded as Industrial and Central Station Engineering during and since the war, with ten engineers on the staff. Mr. McKeever headed the section until his appointment as Works Engineer this week.

Peterborough Interests

It was in the valleys of B.C.'s "Interior" where his interest in flora and fauna was first aroused, and natural history has been a passionate avocation since his boyhood. He has been president of the Peterborough Nature Club and until recently a director of the Ontario Federation of Naturalists. Mr. McKeever is keenly interested in conservation projects in the Kawartha district and in the preservation and extension of the natural amenities of his adopted city.

The new Chief Engineer has a clear-sighted, alert interest in municipal affairs and the vagaries of Peterborough's social condition. Although he has never sought or accepted public office (his health and engineering responsibilities have precluded this), his incisive opinions on matters of public weal are influential in municipal circles.

Mr. McKeever is married to a daughter of H. R. Sills and they have two children: Derek 9, and Sheila, 6. They live on Homewood Avenue and attend All Saints' (Anglican) Church.

Professional Interests

Mr. McKeever's professional interests are wide and varied. He is at present an executive member of Peterborough Branch, Engineer Institute of Canada; a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers; the National Committee on Industrial Power Systems, A.I.E.E.; the Power Systems Committee of the Canadian Electrical Association; and the Canadian Committee of the International Electrotechnical Commission. An assignment of exceptional scope and interest, he was selected as Chairman of the Canadian Committee on Industrial Power Requirements, A.I.E.E., and this committee's work has recently been completed.

$216 Bus Bill

Football practice is costing the Board of Education an extra $216 this year. PCVS Coach Bev Goulding estimated that it would take $24 a week to take the two teams down to the Exhibition Grounds by bus. Practices will extend over a nine-week period. This year Nicholls Oval will not be available for football teams. The Parks Department is seeding it with grass as it is worn in spots. At the same time, the Board decided to send a letter to the Quaker Oats Co. thanking them for offering the Quaker Oats softball field, north of the Hunter Street Bridge, for the teams' use. The park is only large enough for practices.

Rev. V. Gillogly Transferred To Port Hope

Rev. V. J. Gillogly, pastor of the parish of St. Martin, Ennismore, since 1937, is being transferred to Port Hope in succession to Rev. James J. Guiry, as announced in diocesan changes by Most Rev. J. Gerald Berry, Bishop of Peterborough.

Rev. Father Guiry resigned recently from the parish of Port Hope and has been appointed to Parry Sound as chaplain of St. Joseph's Hospital. He was born at Downeyville, was ordained to the priesthood in 1910 by Bishop R. A. O'Connor, and has served in the parishes of Kinmount, Downeyville, Lindsay, and finally Port Hope to which parish he was assigned in 1928 after being administrator at the Church of the Immaculate Conception in Peterborough in 1927.

Rev. Father Guiry has been well known for 40 years in this section of the diocese of Peterborough. His health had declined in recent years, and finally accounted for his retirement from active parish work. He is remembered in this city as a scholarly priest of noteable literary attainment.

Rev. P. J. Lynch

Rev. Father Gillogly is widely known in the city and county, from his association through the neighboring parish of Ennismore. His succesor at St. Martin's will be Rev. P. J. Lynch, who has been parish priest at Trout Creek.

Father Lynch was born in Otonabee township, and was ordained in 1927. He was pastor at Kearney 11 years before being transferred to Trout Creek. Previously he had served at Trout Creek as assistant, Bracebridge and Huntsville, and for some time on the staff of St. Peter's Cathedral.

Rev. S. J. Coffey of Bowmanville has been appointed pastor at Trout Creek, and Rev. F. K. Malane, assistant at St. Peter's Cathedral, assumed charge of the parish of Bowmanville.

Other appointments announced by Bishop Berry are:

Board Secretary

Rev. James F. Houlihan, on loan to the Separate School Board Peterborough, as secretary.

Rev. Gerard Gaughan, assistant priest in the parish of the Church of the Sacred Heart.

Rev. Leo Leahy, assistant at Port Hope, to the staff of St. Peter's High School.

The four young priests who were ordained this year receive the following assignments: Rev. John J. Hickey, assistant at St. Peter's Cathedral.

Rev. T. B. Coughlan, on loan to the diocese of Toronto.

Rev. L. M. Dubbery, on loan to the diocese of Kingston.

Rev. Raymond J. Hart, is being sent as student in the department of Psychology, the University of America, Washington, D.C.

These changes will come into effect within the next month.

Two Heifers Run Wild Through City

Constable Shoots Cattle After Long Chase

Two 800-pound Hereford heifers from the wild and woolly west, Calgary, to be exact, made their last bid for freedom while being unloaded today at the north railway siding of the Canada Packers. The charging beasts headed north through the city with a wash of police squad cars, packing house workers, bosses and straw bosses in their wake.

One animal milled around Hunter and Sheridan Sts., dashed up the hill past the Court House and swung right up the Murray St. hill and quieted down in a vacant lot by the Dixon Estate.

Constable Grant Gillespie shot the beast from the bushes bordering the lot and it was bled by experts and hauled away.

Kicked at Child

The second heifer trotted up Stewart St. Opposite the Murney residence at number 209, it slipped on the wet grass of the boulevard strip, and, in lunging to its feet, lashed out at little Georgina Murney, four, who was playing on her trike with some other children. She was knocked down but received no injury, nor was the trike damaged. The animal ran north again.

Just below Parkhill Rd., near the Goodwin Machine Works, the roundup squad, after killing the first animal, caught up with the second and sharp-shooter Gillespie again administered the coup de grace.

Underwriters Put Wrench In Summer Theatre Plan

Another snag has arisen to prevent smooth sailing for the Board of Education and the summer theatre group headed by Michael Sadlier. Fire underwriters take a poor view of the schools being protected by a special insurance rate while their auditoriums are being used for commercial theatre. If the summer theatre is held here next year in the PCVS and Queen Mary auditoriums the Board can expect to pay a higher fire insurance rate.

That is the gist of a letter to the Board from their insurance broker, Charles J. Ray. This year the rate was 75 cents per $1,000, and the total premium was $269.92.

Board members appeared astounded at this latest development in a question that has been a thorny one for some time. They favored the theatre but their question was: what will the extra cost be?

K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, said the difficulty was that this type of insurance does not protect schools individually. Neither Queen Mary nor PCVS, for instance, could be excepted from the more than $2,000,000 group plan and allowed to carry a heavier rate to compensate for the extra fire hazard.

It's all schools or none.

"There'll definitely be a higher rate than 75 cents," said Mr Wightman.

"Does this mean that auditoriums can't be used for anything but educational purposes," asked Mrs. Ann Rowell.

"No, that isn't the case," said G. Wilson Craw. The underwriters consider use of the auditorium by community groups a normal procedure. The plays, concerts and meetings are usually for one night only. But a commercial theatre that operates for a couple of months in a building is regarded as something different.

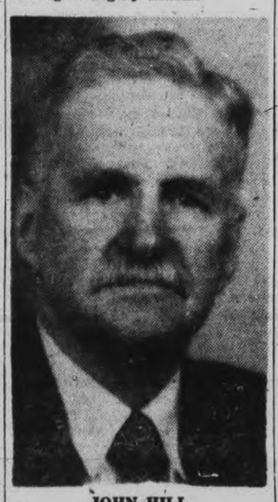
The problem was referred to the finance committee to discuss with the insurance broker and obtain further information. And, in the meanwhile, a decision on whether or not to rent the auditorium next year will be deferred.

An application has been received from Mr. Sadlier for use of the two auditoriums during the 1952 summer season.

The board also appealed to Ross Thompson, of the Davis-Thompson Co., general insurance agents, to use his influence in finding a way out. Mr. Thompson earlier in the year acted as spokesman for a citizens group backing the summer theatre.

John Hill, 83 Veteran Merchant Dies

John Hill, 83, a well known and highly respected merchant and wholesaler in Peterborough for many years, died on Thursday following a lengthy illness.



JOHN HILL

Born in Ireland, son of Captain James Hill and Susan English, Mr. Hill came to Canada with his parents and other members of a large family when his father retired from sailing the seas. They settled in north Simcoe County in the little hamlet of Moonstone.

Here the Hill family grew up under the guidance of a Christian father and mother who instilled into the children a devotion to their church and a frugality which only came from pioneers who had found the road heavy and the going tough.

In 1905, Mr. Hill came to Peterborough and opened a grocery store on George St. where Eaton's store is now. His store was the typical early grocery where the buyers could get practically everything from groceries to cloth and hardware. In return for the farmers' purchases Mr. Hill took their butter and their eggs.

With the coming of the chain store, Mr. Hill changed to dealing in china and for several years operated a high-class china store. It was first on the old site and then when Eaton's bought the property he moved further down the street.

Along with the grocery business Mr. Hill operated a wholesale, and in 1929 the warehouse was moved to 256 Charlotte St.

For years Mr. Hill was a member of the St. Andrew's Church where he was a member of the session and a teacher in the Sunday school. At the time of church union he went to St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, and there he continued his work in the Sunday school and on the session.

He leaves one son, Gordon, and one daughter, Mrs. Laurie Mitchell (Bertha), one brother, Allan, and four grandchildren, all of Peterborough. His wife, the former Martha Wolstenholme, predeceased him in 1946, and one son, Arthur, in 1949.

The funeral will be held Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Comstock funeral home. The Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church will conduct the service. Burial will be in Little Lake Cemetery.

Girl, Boy Win B Of E Bursaries

Winner of the two Board of Education bursaries, totalling $500, were announced Thursday night.

They are Robert Donald Pollock, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Pollock, 575 Bethune St., and Grace Amy Hudson, 18, daughter of Mrs. Amy Hudson, 530 Waterford St., and the late Charles Hudson.

Bursaries take into consideration both the academic standing of the student and his financial status. Mr. Pollock gets a bursary of $300 and Miss Hudson $200.

Through the summer months Mr. Pollock has been working at CGE and he quits tonight to attend Victoria College, University of Toronto, where he is already registered. He hopes to go through for law.

Miss Hudson has not yet decided on her career. She has registered at Trinity College, University of Toronto, and will take sociology and philosophy in her first year. Later she will take psychology and make her plans from there.

"Both are excellent students," commented G. Wilson Craw as he gave the finance committee recommendation.

Drys Organize For All-Out Campaign In Campbellford Liquor Vote Oct. 31

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 14 — (ENS). — Thursday evening's down pour of rain failed to dampen the spirits of either the dry or wet campaigners for the forthcoming liquor vote Oct. 31 in this town. Public meetings for both sides of the question were held last night.

The committee opposing the establishment of government stores met in the Campbellford Baptist church with about 30 persons present. Rev. H. S. Staples presided for the meeting held for the purpose of organizing a working committee to oppose the vote.

Not Church-sponsored

Rev. H. S. Staples stressed the fact that his, or any other church in the town had nothing to with the meeting.

"We are not sponsored by any group, organization or church, but are meeting as a group of independent citizens to oppose this (liquor) bylaw," he said. He also said that although there were members of the local clergy present, those at the meeting would be "Well advised not to delegate members of the clergy to any office."

"Let them be free to work as they see fit," he said. This came after repeated nominations for members of the clergy to office.

Reluctance on the part of persons at the meeting to allow their names to stand for election to the various offices in the organization resulted in what Mr. Staples referred to as "railroading," in placing the various individuals in office.

Officers Elected

The election of officers resulted in the following being named: Campaign manager, Harold W. Pierce; president, Erle Gillespie; vice-president, Mrs. M. Sills; secretary, Mrs. Morley Petherick; treasurer, Mrs. Charles Palliser. Ward chairmen were named as follows: ward 1, A. G. Watson; ward 2, William Ford; ward 3, Mrs. Robert Bateson; ward 4, Thomas J. Craighead.

The duties of the ward chairmen were outlined, and these were instructed to secure ten additional workers in each ward to act as canvassers. It is hoped that a door-to-door canvass of each home in the town will be completed before the end of the month. Information thus secured will be used to compile a list of what wet or dry votes may be expected at the coming plebiscite, and as many dry names as possible will be placed on the revised voters' list which will be made up.

Mr. Staples said he hoped the shyness on the part of those present to accept office in the organization would not be indicative of the canvassers' work, and said he hoped the campaign would be a cleanly fought affair. He warned canvassers against arguing with or antagonizing anyone on whom they call, and said they must use diplomacy and tact.

W. F. Scott, campaign manager for the 'drys' during the previous contest three years ago, sent word to the meeting that he would not accept any office in the present campaign. He did not attend the meeting.

Councillor William Nicholas was nominated to various offices, but refused to let his name stand for any. Erle Gillespie also refused to let his name stand in the presidential nominations, but later accepted, due to the unanimous vote for him to become president.

A statement to the town clerk bearing 25 signatures and naming Mr. H. W. Pierce as campaign manager for the organization, will be handed over within the next few days.

County Farm Notes

By HARRY THEOBALD

Federation and Forums Meeting Wednesday, Sept. 19; Clare Burt, Speaker . . . Lindsay Fair Next Week . . . Robt. Armstrong to Combine New Alfalfa for Seed . . . No Entries Yet for Senior Wheat Club . . . Aberdeen-Angus Bull Sells for $57,000.

Farm Forum secretary, Clare Burt of Toronto, will be here Wed., Sept. 19 for a meeting in F. H. Paterson's office at 8 p.m.

Wellington Sutton, chairman of the local Forum association, stresses the desire of Mr. Burt to meet representatives of the Federation of Agriculture, secretaries and chairmen of all local Forums, and also directors and other members of Co-Operatives.

This meeting is one of a series preliminary to the opening of the new Forum season Oct. 29. The topics that have been chosen present a challenge to those three rural groups, Mr. Sutton said, and to turn them into practical effects there should be broad representation at this meeting.

Mr. Burt has suggested an agenda including reports on county Forum memberships of the season of 1950-51; report by the president of Peterborough Federation, discussion of an educational program, and other interests of the senior organization; co-operative problems, provincial statistics and report by Mr. Sutton; discussion groups and so on.

Forum Subjects

Farm Radio Forum broadcasts open Oct. 29 (Mon.) on the subject of Co-Operatives. Three topics are successively discussed: Are they efficient; democratic; socialistic?

The second group beginning Nov. 26 relates to community living: opportunities for cultural activities. Dec. 3—Educational outlets for adults; Dec. 10—Folk schools for farm people.

The third series delves into farm policy: Jan. 7—Should we increase farm production; Jan. 14—Is there enough farm credit?; Jan. 21—What's wrong with our farm organizations? with the further question: Why don't farm organizations receive more active support from farmers.

The fourth series deals with marketing. Feb. 4—What sets farm prices? Feb. 11—Are commodity groups doing the job? Feb. 18—The effect of high transportation costs.

The final series turns to international relations, Mar. 3—Do we need more immigrants? Mar. 10—Customers abroad. Mar. 17—Are hunger and poverty the real cause of war.

Mr. Sutton suggests a fresh approach to the new Forum season, rekindling of interest, a survey for new groups, and a general recognition of the fact that nothing is to be taken for granted. The whole success of the Forum project, one of the finest rural enterprises in the world, depends on the support of the farm community in every county.

FAIR DATES

Autumn moves on past the milestones of September. Lindsay Exhibition is the main event of next week in this district, and will probably attract as many people as usual from this area . . . Stirling is Wed. Sept. 19 . . . . Campbellford Wed. Sept. 26 . . . Bobcaygeon Sat. Sept. 29 . . . . Provincial Plowing Match, Woodstock, Oct. 9-12.

+ + +

BEEF CLUB FINAL

Final meeting of the junior calf club will be held at the farm of M. H. Pimmett & Sons, Otonabee, Sept. 25 at 7 p.m. Program will be mostly directed toward judging fitting and showing. R. E. Bell is urging all the members not to miss this meeting. The CNE champion bull, Louada Barnone, will be back from the Lindsay Exhibition, which is next week, and the other Pimmett CNE winners will be an added attraction.

ENTRIES DELAYED

Bob Bell reports that so far not one entry has come into the agricultural office for the senior wheat club. Closing date is October 1. Members are required to sow registered seed of Cornell, Dawson's Golden Chaff or Dawbul.

"We would like to have a club of at least 15 for the 50-bushel group," Mr. Bell said, "and it will help a great deal if entries come in right away."

ZONE 4, OCRA MEETING

Annual meeting of Zone IV of Ontario Conservation and Reforestation Association Tuesday, Sept. 18, opens with assembly at Orono township hall at 1 p.m. The afternoon program includes a demonstration of tree planting equipment, fire fighting methods, and an inspection trip to plantations in the area to see their progress.

Dinner at 6 p.m. at Port Hope will provide a business session for election of officers. Guest speaker is Prof. A. F. Coventry of Toronto University. Ed. Youngman of Pontypool, Zone president, and Herb Crown of the Ontario Department of Planning and Development, are in charge of arrangements.

Constituents of Zone are Peterborough, Durham, Victoria, Prince Edward, Hastings and Northumberland counties. Ralph C. Banbury, agricultural representative in Northumberland, is secretary. He is asking other agricultural representatives to relay information to county clerks, chairmen of reforestation or agricultural committees, land, forest and crop improvement associations.

His letter says: "It is highly desirable that at least one car of local leaders should be at this event."

LONDON CATTLE SHOW

Cattle entries at London Fair this week were: 39 Guernseys, 84 Jerseys, 105 Ayrshires and 374 Holsteins.

The big entry of Holsteins is largely accounted for by the Western Ontario Holstein championship show, the Black and White finals for the breeders of ten counties. The number of entries was 40, more than the CNE. Those counties are: Essex, Kent, Lambton, Bruce, Huron, Perth, Middlesex, Elgin, Oxford, Norfolk.

For the county herd class there were ten prizes of $100 each. The judge was C. B. Smith of Williamston, Mich.

Beef cattle entries were: 87 Shorthorns, 63 Herefords and 39 Aberdeen-Angus.

MORE SALE PRICES

Substantial prices were reported from the sale of the Holstein herd of H. Earl Day of St. Mary's, Ont., last week. Average for 29 head was $543, amounting to $13,590. Twelve milking females averaged $554; seven bred heifers $484; six heifer calves $330 and three bulls $311.

Top price was $900 for the two-year-old heifer Granthurst Home Sovereign Supreme, a daughter of Montvic R. A. Sovereign. Second highest was $610, paid by Milo Pulley, of Wheatley, for a daughter of the "XXX" sire, Elmcroft Sylv-O-Gram. The herd sire, a senior yearling son of Sovereign went to S. J. Ballantyne, Stratford, at $560.

BLACK AND WHITE DAYS

Holstein breeders are sustaining interest in county Black and White Days. Twenty Kent exhibitors shower 153 head. Bruce Beer of Brampton, formerly of Manvers township, was judge.

Albert Seiling of Elmira was one of the 21 exhibitors who brought out 145 head at Waterloo. Elis Knudsen of Oconomowac, Wis., was the first American judge at Waterloo county Black and White Day. Mr. Seiling had six firsts and senior and grand female championships on his four-year-old cow Seiling Princess Pet.

Thirteen Ontario county breeders brought out 81 head at Port Perry Fair.

Ontario county directors introduced a new idea in blanketing the entries in the class for best udder, thereby concentrating attention in that important quarter. Judge Everett Brown gave the award to Helen Pietje Posche Illehee, shown by O. Chambers of Wilfrid. As it turned out, this cow went on to the grand championship.

In Leeds county there were 110 head from 17 herds. Quality of the show was rated excellent. Cattle came out in obviously better condition than a year ago.

Eleven exhibitors showed 69 head at Dundas county Black and White Day which was held at Chesterville Fair. Twelve firsts went to W. J. Fawcett of Winchester.

TRACE EARTHY ODOR

The wholesome aroma of freshly turned soil in spring plowing has been taken for granted by generations of farmers as a pleasing emanation of the land they work. But, microbiologists of Rutgers University, Vermont, have traced that agreeable earthy odor to tiny organisms called "actinomycetes." These organisms are said to be of the same kind that produce streptomycin and other drugs that came into use today in combatting diseases. As for pronunciation of these words of the scientists, there is an accent on each "y". Thus—streptomy-cin.

BUYS AYRSHIRE BULL

One of the most outstanding Ayrshire bulls on the continent, Window Shelia Boy, has been bought by Edgar O. Wood & Son, Strathroy, from W. L. McKinnon of Courtright, near Sarnia.

Mr. McKinnon previously imported him from Windrow Farms, Oxford, Mich., the farm of C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors. Shelia Boy once sold for $16,300, the highest price ever offered for an Ayrshire bull in North America. His dam is Addie's Red Shelia Girl, whose dam in turn was Par's Red Shelia, the Ayrshire world champion producerr fo a 365-day test year. Her record was 20,984 pounds of milk testing 4.5 per cent or 937 lbs. fat.

IS THE BARNYARD STRAW STACK soon to be a thing of the past? At some farms, it seems so, as in the case of the straw-baling operation at Miss Mary Nichol's place on the Buckhorn Road. She expects to put up 1,000 bales, to sell some to pay for baling costs and store the remainder in mow space.—Examiner Staff Photo.

The Harvest Moon

This is the weekend of the Harvest Moon. If the rain clouds of Thursday night have drifted away, this moon of the equinox of autumn will be at the full when it soars up the eastern sky after Saturday's Sunset.

Eleven other moons come and go among the stars of the year and the changing constellations, not the least the June moon that seems to loiter through the milky way and the fragrant scents of summer and the lyric echoes of spring. Then, the grain was standing forth above the even rows of seeding. Now, all that is left are the rows of stubble, except where timely plowing has turned up the land in preparation for another harvest.

In fancy the moon suggests an after-thought in the process of creation, the gift of median light between the extremes of day and darkness. If man could not endure gazing into the magnificence of the sun, he could look upon its reflection from the surface of the moon.

Day and night belong to the order of utility, for work and rest, the essentials of life set in the infinite range of the variant beauty of the seasons. The moon casts softer halftones upon the scene. In its silver glow the stubble merges into a carpet of pale gold, the furrows into dark loamy fields, the trees into graceful outlines, the surface of the lake mirrors the sky, except when sportive breezes ripple the calm water into a thousand dancing lights.

So, if the sky be clear Saturday night, the harvest moon of 1951 will cast its magic upon land and lake, on fields of green pasture and corn, and clover that has been left for seed. When the moon of October waxes into fullness, the first intimations of winter will have passed this way, the outriders, frost on the hardwoods, wild fowl in flight or feeding along the marshes, and the quick descent into the longer nights when the clocks are set back an hour at the end of September.

Dr. H. Hannam To Speak Here

Dr. Herbert H. Hannam, president of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture, has promised to visit Peterborough County branch at a date to be set sometime in October or November.

W. W. Dawson, president, told the Examiner yesterday that he had written Dr. Hannam, and had received an immediate reply accepting the invitation conditionally as to the exact date. For this occasion the Federation will hold a dinner meeting at the Empress Hotel.

"This may be the only luncheon event by the Federation this season," Mr. Dawson said, "and I think we can look forward to a big attendance."

Bob Armstrong's Problem Harvesting Rhizoma Seed

Robert Armstrong of Cavan has a crop of Rhizoma alfalfa seed from a sowing of three pounds to an acre and one-half. R. E. Bell said he had visited the farm on Tuesday. Mr. Armstrong had just about decided to use the combine, probably next week, as the best means of harvesting this comparatively new variety. There should be less shelling and handling, he estimated.

Growth has been dense, and the show of seed looks heavy. Another local farmer who had Rhizoma this season was Clayton Sanderson of Smith, but he did not let it go to seed.

Mr. Armstrong has some Oron orchard grass which he has grown for Ontario Agricultural College. It is quite leafy, and does not fall into seed so early as the variety that has been used in grass mixtures.

Memo To Ed Butler

Dairy Tail Wags Industry? New Type Of Cow Required

Looks like a cushy winter for the dairy herds. Less than usual, if nothing at all to worry about. Barns are bursting with feed and fodder, assuring regular munching and ruminating, with no lean days in early spring just before the grass takes on verdure and vitamins.

On the one hand, there is every prospect of full meals. Milk distributors have plucked Wednesday right out of the lacteal week. Meanwhile farmers continue to plan and spend and strive for greater production of milk on their immemorial and irreducible seven-day week schedule.

No one from the grasslands has yet raised question as to possible effect on his economy of the new milk delivery week. Presumably consumption will be sustained while the distribution system smoothly changes gear to the five-day week.

With milking machines in every barn, milking parlors in some and loafing areas in a few for winter housing, the dairy farmer has arrived at a new level of efficiency in his industry. His enterprise has led him into a collective bargaining campaign extolling the merits of his products. With all that development he is bound to observe and probably wonder at the five day week in the distribution branch of his enterprise.

Maybe what he should start thinking about now is how to evolve a cow that can ease up on the milk flow at midweek and week ends. To employ that phrase of onward and upward thinking folk, he is possibly facing a new challenge in production, a type of cow that can adjust its milk flow to the changing phases of the distributing system.

The dairy farmer may get the notion that the tail is now wagging the cow, to extend that familiar figure from canine to bovine application, as to who is boss,— (incidentally, bos-bovis), albeit the distributors may resent the suggestion of caudal position and importance in the daiy industry. However, modern refrigeration will probably take care of temporary and brief surpluses, if any, in the new order of getting the best milk the Ontario dairy farmer has ever produced, from the milking parlor to the shining top of the new chromium breakfast table in the corner of the kitchenette. Change is everywhere.

Anyway, the milk producers had better give some thought to the mere suggestion of a new type cow, if for no other reason than to anticipate and get ahead of any further tinkering with his established business.

That proposal is utterly fantastic, the milch cow being the diligent and responsive partner she is in these times of R.O.P. and herd improvement inspection.

She was never served better rations, of succulent and aromatic hay, one of the elements of primary elements of farm production costs. And, she doesn't know the taste of turnip, nor pass its flavor on to a pampered public.

With all that accomplishment and advance in producing milk of high quality, there may be the odd farmer (speaking of types) who may be tempted to toss in the sponge, yield to the innovators, and sell the milking herd for beef, now that there is increasing and insinuating mention (perish the horrid propaganda) of liquidating remnant horses for the meat block.... Change is everywhere in this era of ersatz.

Mr. Butler is president of Peterborough Milk Producers' Association, the men who have gone far in solving their problem of quality product, and now observe with misgiving, no doubt, a new twist in its marketing.

Russ Reporters To Cover NATO Meeting

OTTAWA, Sept. 14—(CP)—Arcardi Ogorodnikov, representative of the Russion Tass news agency in the parliamentary press gallery, will not be barred from covering meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, it was announced today.

The Russian will be given the same privileges as other correspondents at what External Affairs Minister Pearson described as possibly the most security-bound meeting ever held in Canada.

The announcement was made by Ted Newton, director of public relation for NATO, at Mr. Pearson's weekly press conference.

Mr. Newton said NATO has decided that correspondents of any country will be accredited to cover the meetings. Briefings on what transpires at the closed meetings generally will be made to all accredited to cover the meetings.

Can't Throttle Press

The NATO decision was made in the light of the fact that in some Continental countries there is a large Communist press and one could not throttle a large section of the national press. Another consideration was that NATO had little to hide from the people.

Mr. Pearson said Tass correspondents were accredited to meetings in Washington, London and Brussels.

Accredited correspondents—some 200 of them are expected from United States and elsewhere—will be allowed to attend the opening meeting Saturday at 12.30 p.m. EDT. It will be held in the Commons chamber and largely will be confined to a statement by Paul Van Zeeland, Belgium's Minister of Foreign Affairs and President of the NATO council.

Mr. Pearson said the security arrangements for the meetings probably would appear elaborate for non-security conscious Canadians. The arrangements were made by NATO and the Canadian government did not want to take the responsibility of having them changed.

WE WANT TO ADOPT A CHILD—Behind this wish of thousands are many unanswered questions and unsolved problems. Attack Ottawa For Refusing Price Controls

By JOHN LEBLANC

HALIFAX, Sept. 14 (CP) — Trades and Labor Congress of Canada delegates Thursday attacked the federal government's refusal to put direct price control into effect.

The discussion came as the TLC's annual convention debated a resolution, subsequently adopted, calling for price controls and "condemning" the government for "indifference" towards the living standards of Canadians.

The resolution asked for a rollback in consumer prices, establishment of a prices board and imposition of a 100-per-cent excess profits tax.

The attacks on the government were listened to by Labor Minister Gregg, sitting on the convention platform after delivering an address in which he reiterated the government's reasons for not putting in direct controls. He said inflation could be beaten if all sections of the economy exercised restraint.

No Friend of Labor

Douglas Hamilton of the Toronto District Trades and Labor Congress said the present administration is not a friend of labor.

The only solution, he said, is to engage in "direct political action" by defeating Liberals.

"They've lost the confidence of the people when they sidestep such important issues as price control and the cost of commodities," said E. J. Small, Toronto machinist.

200 At RCAF Station

NORTH BAY, Ont., Sept. 14 (CP)—Wing Cmdr. W. M. Foster, recently appointed commanding officer of the RCAF station here, said Thursday that approximately 20 air force personnel are expected to be stationed at the base by the end of October.

Present complement of the station, now officially opened, is six officers and four other ranks.

IN RED HANDS—Bishop C. M. O'Gara, Ottawa-born Bishop of Yunan of the Order of the Passionist Fathers, is one of seven Canadians reported in custody of Chinese Communists. Canada has formally protested to Peiping about the treatment of Canadians. Bishop O'Gara was arrested in Yuanling and later reported in hospital. He was accused of anti-Communist activities and of maltreating Chinese who came to a home under his charge.

Public Opinion In Ottawa After Midway

Public opinion in Ottawa appears to be sharply concerned about rigged games on the Midway of its August Exhibition. The first blast was delivered by the Better Business Bureau which is reported to be compiling evidence on what are euphemistically called "games of chance". Since then the Ottawa Board of Trade has set up a special committee "to open a full investigation into the Ottawa Exhibition".

"The committee will work along these two main lines: (1) Whether the Exhibition as it now stands is an asset to the city; (2) Whether the Exhibition now is beneficial or otherwise to business in the capital."

The question of games which broke into print at the close of the Exhibition has now branched out over the ground of its general value.

Neither of these investigating business groups has anything directly to do with the enforcement of law.

Norwood Area High School Board Discusses Chest X-ray Test

HAVELOCK, Sept. 14 (ENS)—Chest X-ray tests which the pupils, bus drivers and anyone coming in contact with high school students have to take, were discussed at the meeting of the Norwood Area High School Board. The members asked advice on whether the students from the public school, who are entering high school this year, would have this test and the secretary was instructed to write to the Department for information regarding procedure.

Principal S. S. Breckon gave the enrolment for the Norwood High School as 134 with the attendance in each grade as follows: Grade 9, 40; Grade 10, 34; Grade 11, 28; Grade 12, 18; Grade 13, 14.

Principal Caskey reported for Havelock High School: Enrolment 74, with two more prospects: Grade 9A, 28; Grade 9B, 28; and Grade 10, 18.

Principal Caskey requested better lighting in the high school rooms, higher water pressure in the drinking system, and science rooms. The secretary was instructed to see about the water pressure.

Chairman E. T. Buck presented to the board deeds with affidavits forthcoming for the present old high school property lot 26 and part of lot 27 on Alma Street, transferring the property from the Norwood Board of Education to the Norwood District High School Board.

It was announced that five per cent of the insurance commission held by Norwood High School goes as a broker's fee to the Packenham Insurance Agency at Norwood, the balance of the insurance commission will be divided among the following agents of the district: F. Richardson, G. Marryat and B. Scott, of Hastings; E. J. Leeson and W. J. Nobes, of Havelock; Packenham Insurance Agency, and W. H. Giffen, of Norwood.

W. H. Ives, representative of the Michael Timco Company of Hamilton, gave an exhibition of five types of school seats. The board purchased 10 steel chairs with masonite and steel seats at $7.44 each.

The fence for the new site was discussed and Mr. Walsh reported that 1,300 feet of steel fence erected in cement would cost $1.64 per foot, or a total of $3,132. The board's reaction to this item was to ask that a price be obtained for a suitable stock fence, no fencing to be done until April 1952.

Trustee Hamblin brought up the matter of a rifle range in the long basement way running 25 yards, also a corner stone for the new school, storage of school records and a larger water pipe into the school to give a larger volume of water. The board decided that no change would be made in the present school plans.

Transportation Contracts

Trustee Scriver reported that nine transportation contracts had been drawn up. The Nevins bus between Hastings and Norwood was handling 51 pupils. This bus had a capacity of 43. Some arrangement would have to be made to handle the extra pupils. The matter was left for Mr. Scriver to handle.

The secretary, H. W. Roche, reported that three students from Havelock were attending the Campbellford High School to take subjects which they claimed they could not obtain in either Havelock or Norwood, and that one student from Havelock was going to Peterborough Collegiate. No action was taken by the board except to notify all adjacent school districts that the board would not be responsible for tuition fees unless the proper notice was received in a reasonable time giving the names and subjects, etc., taken by the applicants.

The accounts passed included $2.100 for salaries, $1,500 for bus drivers and $100 for other expenses.

Use Plane, Handcar For Emergency Trip

NORTH BAY, Sept. 14 (CP)—A railway handcar and an airplane were used to take three-year-old Morris Devost to hospital Wednesday after he chopped three fingers from his left hand while playing with an axe.

The accident occurred in a lumber camp, 31 miles north of here, owned and operated by his father, R. Devost.

The child's condition today was reported "very good" by hospital authorities.

Out Of Business

KENTVILLE, NS, Sept. 14 (CP)—The Nova Scotia Apple Marketing Board — sole sales agency for Nova Scotia apples since 1939—bowed out of business Thursday night, throwing the market wide open to individual sales. The board was established at the outbreak of the Second World War as a condition under which the federal government gave financial assistance to Annapolis Valley growers to compensate for loss of overseas markets.

Supports Lawyers

TORONTO, Sept. 14 (CP) — Prime Minister St. Laurent gave his support Thursday to the Young Bar Association's efforts to promote free legal aid for those needing it in Canada. He paid an unscheduled visit to the association and told its members that not only was it good for the legal profession to give free aid but that an "essential need" for it existed in the country.

FEED FOR CATTLE, hogs and poultry is manufactured from alfalfa meal made at this Campbellford plant of Trent Dehydrating Products. Above plant manager, Eugene Dunlay feds dried alfalfa into the ensilage cutter which chops the grain to small bits to start the process toward the meal. Harry Jaques, (left), one of the seven men working in the plant, fills a 100-pound bag of the grass meal from a chute in the bagging room.—W. W. Reid Photo.

Dehydrating Plant Produces Alfalfa Grass Meal For Feed

By WM. W. REID

If you ask any person you meet on a street in Campbellford where the plant of the Trent Dehydrated Products is located, that person would undoubtedly be able to direct you to it immediately. But—if you asked him just what is done at the plant, or how and what they dehydrated, the chances are you would have him stumped

Very few people realize just what is done at the plant, and we confess we were one of the ignorant, so we set about to find out.

First, we sought out the plant manager. He turned out to be a chubby, good-humored individual by the name of Eugene Dunlay. Mr. Dunlay, a very obliging chap, explained the activity at the plant from start to finish. He started as manager of the Campbellford plant in July, 1942; when the plant was rebuilt after the disastrous fire of 1941, when the establishment was completely destroyed.

Farm Feed

The industry turns out alfalfa grass meal, a product used in the manufacture of cattle feed, dairy ration and hog and poultry feed. It is mixed with other grains to produce various types of fodder and feed. As the dehydrated alfalfa leaves the Campbellford plant, it is known as Alfalfa Grass Meal.

Approximately 125 to 150 tons are processed each month, and last year the plant turned out over 1,700 tons. The local plant is the only one of its kind owned by the company, whose head office is in Toronto. The company also operates a feed mill in Norwood and has recently purchased a mill in Chatham which it will operate as a feed mill.

The local mill is the only one that grinds the alfalfa into meal. Another plant owned and operated by the company in Markdale was destroyed by fire a few months ago. The Chatham plant will replace this.

Huge quantities of alfalfa are purchased from farmers within a radius of 30 miles of Campbellford. Trucks bring the alfalfa in loads of about four tons at a time, and sometimes make as many as three trips a day. About eight or ten tons of Alfalfa are processed each day by the local industry.

The trucks dump their loads in a large storage shed from which the alfalfa is fed into an insilage cutter. The cutter reduces the grain to short lengths resembling shredded wheat. The small particles are then forced by fans through a pipe and into a hammer mill. The hammer mill pounds the small pieces through a fine screen, reducing them to even finer particles.

No Smoking

There is a great deal of dust in the plant at all times and smoking is strictly forbidden. The fire danger is always foremost in the the minds of employees who are constantly reminded of the hazard.

As the ground alfalfa leaves the hammer mill it is drawn into a cylinder where it is forced through overhead pipes into an adjacent building. Here, it is collected in a large storage bin on the second floor.

On the ground floor of this building, directly below the storage bin, the bagging room is located. An operator at a chute fills and weighs 100-pound bags of the grass meal, ties and tags them and places them on hand trucks to be taken to an adjoining room where they are stored until shipment.

Some of the grass meal is shipped by railway freight car, and some by transport trucks, depending on the destination. Toronto feed companies purchase the majority of the meal, but shipments are made to many distant points, including Newfoundland and Winnipeg.

Higher Production

A new insilage cutter has recently been installed at the Campbellford plant, and this promises to step up production considerably. The plant is always busy, with a number of standing orders always on hand waiting to be filled.

The industry provides employment for seven local men, and operates the year round. No actual dehydrating is now done at the plant. All alfalfa is cured and sun dried before it arrives. The trucks of the company with their bulky cargo are a familiar sight on the highways of the county.

Firm Gives Evidence In Petroleum Case

CALGARY, Sept. 14 — (CP) — Canadian Delhi Oil Ltd. Thursday gave evidence before the Alberta Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board in suport of its application for a permit to export natural gas from Alberta to Eastern Canada.

The company, through its subsidiary, Trans-Canada Pipe Line Co. has proposed to build a 2,240-mile pipeline to Ontario and Quebec.

The company opened its application in May at Edmonton and Thursday its counsel, M. M. Porter, called witnesses to testify on recent gas discoveries in the province.

J. F. Dougherty, of Dallas, Texas, estimated Alberta's present gas reserves at 13,707,000,000,000 Quebec feet was sufficient to meet the company's requirement of 356,000,000 cubic feet a day for the proposed Trans-Canada pipeline.

Three In One Family Striken With Polio

HAMILTON, Sept. 14 —(CP) —When misfortune strikes members of the Essex family of St. David's, Ont., it knocks them down in groups.

Four of the children, Marilyn 11, Ann 10, Jane 8 and David 3, are in hospital here suffering from poliomyelitis. Their condition was reported "fairly good."

Last year, the three girls were injured severely when a truck struck them as they came home from school. A court suit against the driver is pending in Ontario Supreme Court.

Their father, Sgt. Ralph Essex, is reported being flown home from Korea.

Cigarette Taxes Reducing Revenue

SARNIA, Sept. 14 (CP)—J. W. Murphy, Progressive Conservative member of parliament for Lambton West said Thursday that an increase in cigarette taxes has brought about a reduction in revenue on cigarette taxation.

In a telegram to the flue-cured tobacco marketing board he said revenue from cigarette taxes for May, June, 1951 was 13 per cent lower than for the same period in 1950. Taxes in 1950 were 21½ cents a package of 20; in 1951 taxes were raised to 24½ cents a package.

What's Right?

You inadvertently knock against someone when walking on a crowded downtown street or in a crowded store.

WRONG: Hurray along without saying anything.

RIGHT: Say: "I'm sorry."

7 Canadian Women To Be In Lebanon At YWCA Council

Canada will be represented by seven women at a meeting of the World Council of the YWCA to be held in Beirut, Lebanon, from Oct. 14 to 28.

The delegation will leave Montreal by air the first of October and will be headed by the national president, Mrs. J. L. Savage, of Toronto. Other members will include Miss Lilliam Thomson, Mrs. Walter Rean and Miss Eva Coon, all of Toronto, and Dr. Olga Jardine, of Victoria.

Miss Emma Kaufman, of the National Board, Toronto, and for many years "Y" secretary in Japan, and Miss Estelle Amaron, formerly of the Burma YWCA and now enroute to Sierro Leone, West Africa, will attend as observers.

National board and committee members have met to discuss the Canadian viewpoint on such agenda topics as the place of the YWCA as an ecumenial movement and how understanding can best be furthered between members of all confessions.

Mrs. A. Parrington Representative Of New Zone

Mrs. A. Parrington, a past president of the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion, has been named the representative of the new zone, Zone 24, which includes Peterborough, Lindsay, Lakefield, Apsley, Hastings, Havelock, Fenelon Falls, Coboconk and Haliburton. The appointment was made at a zone rally held in Lindsay September 7, which was attended by a number of Peterborough members.

This month's meeting of the local Auxiliary took place Monday evening in the Legion Hall, president Mrs. A. Mason presiding. She thanked the ladies for attending the picnic held at Comrade Walker's cottage at Bobcaygeon August 22, and the drumhead service held last Sunday in the city.

Mrs. T. Wade was appointed delegate to the provincial convention being held at Timmins October 1 to 4. Other members who will attend are Mrs. Mason, Mrs Parrington and Mrs. T. Ritchie.

It was decided to entertain the Louis Braille Society in October, if convenient for them. Tickets are to be sold on a wool afghan to be drawn for at the November bazaar.

The food parcel for Britain was won by Mrs. I. Rollins. Winners on a raffle were Mrs. E. Cook and Mrs. F. Leether.

Trennum-Jones

The marriage of Audrey Una Jones to Mr. Douglas Blake Trennum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Trennum, Peterborough, took place Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Jones of Omemee.

The Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt performed the ceremony. Baskets of gladioli and decorations in pink and white formed the setting.

The bride was gowned in white slipper satin which had a nylon net yoke giving an off-the-shoulder effect, edged with white lace, and the full skirt extended in a small train. She wore a circular veil of embroidered net caught in a sweetheart headdress and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. George Mills, only sister of the bride, was her attendant. She was frocked in yellow with lace bodice and nylon net over taffeta ankle-length skirt. She wore matching lace mittens, a hat of mauve and yellow and carried a bouquet of mauve and yellow baby 'mums.

The groom was attended by his brother-in-law, Clarence Wilson.

For the occasion the bride's mother wore navy crepe with velvet trim and a grey felt hat. The groom's mother also wore navy which was trimmed with lace and her hat was navy velvet. Each had a corsage of red roses.

After a small reception the bridal couple left for Ottawa and points east. The bride wore a grey suit with burgundy velvet hat and accessories and she had a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Trennum will live at 72½ George St., Peterborough.

THE EXPERTS SAY:

Pears And Apples Can Make Easy, Interesting Desserts

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Peaches and pears, grapes and apples, have filled Canada's horn of plenty to overflowing. But in her canning and jam-making zeal we hope Mother remembers to work plenty of fresh fruit and vegetables into the daily menu.

For instance, pears can become the main feature of an attractive dessert — one, incidentally, as unusual as it is tasty.

The Canadian Fruit Wholesalers' Association which suggests this new dish recommends it for the finale of a heavy meal — for instance, one with pork as the main course.

On individual plates arrange a pear cut in half and cored. On one side of the pear arrange slices of unpeeled red apple and on the other side slices or a wedge of your favorite cheese.

Garnish the plate with a cluster of bright grapes. Sprinkle cut pears and apples with orange juice to prevent darkening. If preferred, salted nuts may be substituted for the cheese.

Glamor For Grapes

Another CFWA recommendation — Grape Angel Dessert "for special dinners."

Ingredients: Two beaten eggs; one-half cup sugar; two tablespoons lemon juice; one cup whipping cream; one cup pineapple cubes; one cup sliced and seeded Tokay grapes; two cups diced marshmallows; one-half cup chopped walnuts.

Combine eggs, sugar and lemon juice in double boiler. Cook over hot water until slightly thickened. Cool. Fold in remaining ingredients. Chill thoroughly.

Avocado Department

If you're interested in avocados here's one way to use them in salad. Something new.

Halve small avocados and scoop out the pulp, leaving shell whole. Mash pulp with fork until smooth. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and onion juice. Whip with cream cheese and mayonnaise until fluffy. Stir in crumbled crisp bacon. Heap back into the shells and serve on lettuce with French dressing, plain or with sliced stuffed olives added.

The Fruit Wholesalers also suggest avocado dip for potato chips:

Push ripe avocados through a sieve. Blend in salt, pepper, garlic salt or juice and onion juice. Add a little Worcestershire sauce and mustard. Beat until fluffy. Serve cold with potato chips or crackers.

Health Department officials say salads should be a daily "must" on the menu rather than a hot-weather special. They contain proteins, minerals and vitamins. They also are easily prepared and provide infinite variety.

Canadian Actress Returns To English Stage

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 14 — (CP) — Back in London for the first time in 14 years Canadian actress Frances Doble has fallen once more for the spell of back-stage life and the smell of grease paint.

"I had absolutely no intentions of returning to the stage when I landed here," she said in an interview, "but this part sold itself."

Miss Doble left her mother's home in Montreal last July and travelled 13 days by cargo boat to get to her son's 21st birthday party.

She had scarcely set foot in Britain, however, before the lure of the English stage reached out once more.

It was here that she made her name in the 1920's and 1930's, playing with such distinguished artists as Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Toronto-born Raymond Massey, Sir Seymour Hicks, Ivor Novello and Edith Evans.

Now she's making a comeback in what she calls one of the most dramatic parts of her stage career. This is in a melodrama called "No Strings" which opens Sept. 20 in one of London's "Little Theatre groups," the New Lindsay theatre, Notting Hill Gate.

"It's really thrilling to be back," said the dark-haired, intense Miss Doble in an interview.

As the dramatic lead in "No Strings" she comes in for some rough handling. One of her problems at rehearsal has been how to simulate being knocked out without raising too many bruises.

It was not long before she learned that she still has the stage in her blood. Now she plans to stay in the theatre if she can get parts to suit her personality.

Since her last spell in London Miss Doble has had a varied career. In 1940, she got out of Paris one jump ahead of the German's after making anti-Nazi broadcasts. She then spent nearly two years in California writing news broadcasts for relay to Burma. She has just finished a historical novel and has started on a romance involving one of Canada's oldest French houses— Bleury, at Ste. Therese near Montreal.

She spent much time in Spain during the civil war and hopes that her stage work will leave her time to write a Spanish romance.

Miss Doble was married in 1929 to Sir Anthony Lindsay-Hogg. They were divorced in 1934. Their son William is a dieutenant in the Royal Army.

12 Local Brides Choose Sept. 15 As Wedding Day

Mid-September has been selected by 12 local bride-elects as their wedding day. The popularity of September bridals is increasing and now rivals June very closely, topped only by July in Peterborough due to the factory holiday periods.

At nine o'clock Saturday morning, in St. Peter's Cathedral, Helen Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred E. Kylie will marry Mr. Timothy Lawrence Corkery. In Our Lady of Assumption Church, Otonabee, Margaret Mary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Heffernan, will become the bride of Mr. Cletus Michael Sullivan. At St. Joseph's Church, Douro, Mary Pauline, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. O'Brien, will marry Mr. Roderick Steven Maloney of Douro. And in Sacred Heart Church will be the wedding of Jean Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Collins, 169 Fradette Ave., to Mr. George Michael Freeman, B.Sc. of Sudbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Freeman, RR 5, Peterborough.

At ten o'clock in the Immaculate Conception Church, Mary Teresa Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Moloney, RR 9, Peterborough, will be married to Mr. Thomas Patrick O'Donnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. O'Donnell of Mount Forest.

Two o'clock in the afternoon is the time for the wedding in All Saints' Anglican Church of Miss Jean Kathleen Elcombe, daughter of Mrs. K. Elcombe of Peterborough, to Mr. Norman Gregory Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Hunt of Sault Ste. Marie.

At two thirty o'clock in Trinity United Church, Audrey Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. MacCourt, will become the bride of Mr. Gerald James Brown. In Knox United Church Marjorie Harriett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Clark of 565 Riverside Drive, will marry Mr. John Alexander Edmison, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Edmison of Smith. Miss June Rosalene Gunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Gunn, 429 Stewart St., will be married in St. John's Anglican Church to Mr. Donald Maurice Searle.

A second wedding in All Saints' Church is at three o'clock of Dorothy Mary Ada, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Storey of Lindsay to Mr. Frederick Donald Bell, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Bell of Peterborough.

The wedding is in Lindsay at the Cambridge St. United Church at two thirty o'clock of Miss Sandra Jean White, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. F. White Lindsay, to Mr. Herbert James Shields, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley O. Shields of Peterborough.

Fabrics Play Star Roles

PARIS, Sept. 14 —(Reuters)—Fabrics play a star role in the autumn and winter fashion scene this year.

World buyers agree that materials have never been so distinguished and unusual. The same goes for their prices.

Reversible fabrics are the season's feature for sportswear. They appear in all the leading houses in plaids, stripes and tweeds, contrasted with solid tones. Jeanne Lanvin shows an entire group of suits and ensembles which reverse completely.

Double thickness coat fabrics are shown with a matching lighter weight material for the suit or dress. Coat materials are stressed in long-haired furry wools and curly poodle hair types. All the couturiers, except Christian Dior, feature these fabrics, in easy to wear swagger styles. Dior prefers semi-classic flat finished wools, flannel and tweeds.

A novelty is wool coating which has been pressed to resemble alligator skin.

Acetate fabrics, appearing here for the first time, have definitely established their niche. Topnotch designers chose many of these materials without knowing that they contained a chemical compound.

When the couturiers realized the superior draping qualities, resistance to wrinkles and lower coat of these fabrics, the manufacturers announced exactly what they were composed of — and acetate was launched in France.

Some designers stage a metallic evening with fabrics of all descriptions. Glitter may be restricted to a mere pin point, woven on the under side of velvet or satin, or the metallic threads may be used in heavy, all-over designs.

Even lace is treated with gold or silver threads, twined through the pattern in shimmering cobweb effects.

Youthful Singer Finding Star Role Test of Talents

NEW YORK (AP)—After years of quick-changing parts in radio, television, stage and night club plays, Martha Wright at 25 succeeded Mary Martin in the feminine lead part in the muscial "South Pacific," still playing to packed houses after more that two years on Broadway.

Martha is an old trouper—she started on the stage in grammar school plays—but she says it really isn't any easier playing in a long-run entertainment.

"It's harder to give a vivid performance day after day in a show you have done again and again than it is when frequent changes create new challenges," she said.

That doesn't mean she isn't glad to have the "South Pacific" lead as Ensign Nellie Forbush—and her name in lights. The glamor and excitement of the long-run show puts sparks in her blue eyes.

Martha comes from Duval, Wash., 30 miles from Seattle. Her grandmother and her father both were singers. Her father went to work for a shipping company when his tenor did not make enough money and her grandmother started Martha singing.

Radio Veteran

By the time she got to college she had her own 15-minute radio show, over the northwest triangle network. Then along came a touring company of "Up In Central Park." She found herself in the chorus in November, 1946, and, wound up in New York in May, 1947.

There followed a couple of flop stage shows and some radio spots, but it was television that kept her going. Also there was a Rodgers and Hammerstein concert in the Yale Bowl in the summer of 1949. There she met Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein who worte "South Pacific" and many other hit musicals.

"They have been wonderful to me ever since," she said. But she never played i. the show until she came to New York to replace Mary Martin last June.

Years ago, she had dreams for opera, and says now she hopes some day to get back to "serious singing." The song hits she does in "South Pacific" may be fine entertainment but in her view it is not real singing.

"There is some good singing in the show," she says, "but I use what we call 'chest tones'. That's the way it was started and that's how it became a hit. But real singing is something else."

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Roast or Bake Meats Fit For Frying

QUESTION: I enjoy your column very much and have tried many of your recipes and have been pleased with the results.

My husband and son (age 9 years) cannot eat fried meats and I am continually wondering what kind of meat to serve them. Could you please send me a few suggestions, beside roast and meat loaf? I have no broiler on my stove. We do not care for pork, except bacon.—(Mrs.) John McK.

ANSWER: Since you have no broiler you should remember that everything that is fit for frying may be roasted or baked. I will give you a few examples: sausages, thick slices ham or bacon, weiners (split and stuffed), meat cakes (Hamburg extended with egg, seasonings, milk and crumbs), steak, veal and lamb chops, fricasseed veal steak or veal smothered in cream sauce or mushroom or tomato coup, cecils (meat balls in tomato sauce).

You see you can bake or roast everything you could panfry. Even foods that usually are deep fried may be baked by placing them in well buttered baking dish and dotting—top with butter or margarine.

I will give you a few baked dishes that are favourites with us.

Scalloped Meat and Potatoes

Two and one-half cups diced cooked meat, 2½ cups leftover mashed potatoes, 1 small onion minced, buttered breadcrumbs. Place alternate layers of meat, potato, onion and breadcrumbs in baking dish. Repeat, finishing with crumbs. Bake uncovered at 400 deg. Fahr., for about 40 minutes.

NOTE.—This is even better if raw sliced potatoes and minced beef are used, when it requires longer, and is covered and 1 cup milk is added, also salt and pepper.

New England Boiled Dinner

Four-lb. piece corned beef, 1 small cabbage, 3 large carrots, 6 each small onions, parsnips and potatoes, 1 small turnip. Wash the corned beef in cold water. If very salty, soak half an hour in cold water or let come to a boil and drain. Place meat in enamel pot with 2 quarts cold water. Bring to boil then simmer 3 hours or until tender. Three-quarters hour before serving time add all of the vegetables cut in large pieces. Serve on large platter with the meat in the centre and vegetables arranged around it attractively. Corned beef is delicious sliced cold; that is why I have made these amounts too large for one meal.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: Like others, I thoroughly enjoy your columns, and cilp most of them. Have tried lots of recipes too—the Downy Cocoanut cake was a prize. Now I have two questions to ask: first, will maple syrup purchased in tin cans keep for a year or so without being canned up, if the can is not opened at all?. I purchased a gallon tin last Spring, and dare whom be identified in court as not even peek to see if it is all right. Second, will tomato juice put in bottle, corked and parafinned, keep all right? I want to make up lots of it, and have not enough jars but lots of bottles, — different sizes and shapes, small and large mouths, so a bottle capper might not be the answer even if I had one. Thanking you for past help and entertaining chat.—Polly J.

ANSWER: The maple syrup is safe probably since it has not burst from fermentation. It must be hermetically sealed like a tin can. It is possible that a screw top might be sealed and have some vacuum if the maple syrup were poured into it hot enough. My advice is not to open it until you need it, then boil it up and pour into sterile jars, and seal.

Bottling tomato juice in different size bottles with corks is tricky business but can be done. I worked it out one summer with a laboratory-technician friend of mine. Here is what we did: We sterilized our bottles and the corks to fit them for 20 minutes in boiling water. Do not touch tops of bottles with anything, and do not take them from the water until the moment they are neede. Have ready on a sterile plate cut out rounds of parchment paper. Have ready very hot new paraffin. Fill the boiling hot tomato juice into the sterile bottle. Lift a cork from the boiling water, shake it to shake off excess water, dip it in the hot paraffin, place it on the clean cut out rounds of parchment paper which will just come up to top of cork when the top of the bottle crumples them to fit it; the wax on the cork picks up the parchment paper. Press the covered cork into bottle top. Hold it for it will tend to spring out for a minute. When all jars or bottles are filled, lower them into hot water bath—but do not immerse—and process at boiling point for 15 minutes. Remove from hot water bath as soon as possible and cool away from draughts. Dip tops in wax at once, and again when cold.

Note: The parchment paper must be new and handled with clean equipment and hands. Its purpose is to catch the wax on the cork. The purpose of the wax on the cork is to seal the top.

Mother, Daughter Teach Together

KITCHENER (CP)—A woman who brought her teaching certificate "out of mothballs" and her daughter will make up the teaching staff of Hawkesville public school when it reopens at the end of September for 59 pupils.

Mrs. Geraldine Eckert and her daughter Geraldine of Seaforth will be the teachers. A third teacher in the family is Anne. Last year all three were together in Wallaceburg schools.

When Mrs. Eckert graduated from Normal school there was no shortage of teachers. Only those with five or six years of experience could get jobs, she says, "so I got married and raised a family instead."

Three years ago when her two eldest daughters go their teaching certificates Mrs. Eckert decided to teach again too.

Reason for the delayed opening of the Hawkesville school is that a new two-room school is being built in place of the old one-room building which proved too small for the expanding enrollment.

DOROTHY DIX

Working Girl's Apartment Used by Friends

DEAR MISS DIX: Why is it that people who have friends in a large city feel free to invite themselves at any time to stay overnight? I've a friend in a city who has a small apartment. She works five and a half days a week, has no maid service and does her own cleaning nights, Saturday afternoon and Sunday. When she has no company she can do this at her leisure but when someone wishes to stay in the week end she has to do it all in one or two evenings, regardless of how tired she is. Then she has to try to keep up with the folks running around New York. These folks, mind you, have probably been resting up for the occasion.

Dorothy Dix

Of course, you know the answer and so do I, but since the visitors are spending money on a trip anyway, let them spend a bit more and stay in a hotel. HILDA

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You outline here one of the most flagrant and frequent forms of "friendly" imposition. Of course, it has a counterpart in the visitors who come swarming to a friend's seashore or mountain cottage in the summer. But in the second instance, at least, the vacationers are resting and so can more easily handle the casual guests.

Consider The Hostess

A business girl is entitled to more consideration. Unless the visitors are special friends who have been specifically invited, they should not drop in for weekend (or longer) stays. Neither should they exect the city dweller to spend her evenings, after a hard day of work, acting as a guide to tourist attractions. A large city can be seen with the aid of a map, which any out-of-towner can follow.

Certainly such visitors, even though they do park on the reluctant hostess for a night or a week end, should not expect hotel service along with the free lodgings. They should take on a fair share of the household chores in the apartment, and have all meals out—taking the hostess with them This, at least, will give her a break and take some of the irksomeness out of the visit.

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been going with a 21-year-old boy for

The only home permanent specially designed "to take" on young hard-to-wave hair

Richard Hudnut CHILDREN'S HOME PERMANENT

So safe and gentle, so easy to give— now every child can have curly hair!

Children's hair can be so stubborn. Its texture is so different from yours! And now at last here's a home permanent that's specially created for limp, less elastic, harder-to-wave hair. Kit includes specially formulated Children's Creme Waving Lotion, Liquid Neutralizer Lotion plus the Special Children's Home Permanent Conditioner . . . all completely different from the preparations in a regular home permanent and designed to make young hair "take" a wave better . . . leave the hair soft, lustrous and manageable . . . like naturally curly hair. All the ingredients in this new Richard Hudnut Children's Home Permanent have been laboratory-tested and salon-tested so you can be sure it's safe and gentle for your child's hair. Use any plastic curlers . . . but we especially recommend the new Richard Hudnut Whirl-A-Wave curlers for ease, speed, and smoother waves.

6—In Memoriam

MOORE—In loving memory of Ethelbert Moore, who passed away Sept. 14, 1946.
We walked together, you and I,
In sorrow and in joy;
We shared our pains and happiness
With love without alloy.
And death shall never end our love,
For through the mist I see
Our glad reunion in the skies
For all eternity.
—Ever remembered by his wife, Gertrude.

MOORE—In loving memory of Ethelbert Moore, who passed away five years ago today, September 14, 1946.
While you, dear father, rest and sleep,
Your loving memory we'll always keep.
—Sadly missed by his daughter Alice.

MOORE—In loving memory of Ethelbert Moore, who passed away five years ago today, Sept. 14, 1946.
I have only your memory, dear father,
To remember my whole life through,
But the sweetness will linger forever
As I treasure the image of you.
—Sadly missed by his daughter Irene and son-in-law, Russ.

WATERMAN—In loving memory of Sarah Jane Waterman, who passed away Sept. 14, 1950.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true,
There is not a day dear mother
That we do not think of you.
—Lovingly remembered by Edwin, Jean and Danny.

PURSUANT to the Order of the Honourable Mr. Justice Aylan, Dated August 22nd, 1951, the following Notice is published:

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF ONTARIO

BETWEEN

MARGARET JEAN BILTON Plaintiff,

And

WILLIAM WILFRED BILTON and BETTY ANDERSON, Defendants,

TO THE DEFENDANT:

BETTY ANDERSON.

The Plaintiff claims Dissolution of her Marriage with the Male Defendant, William Wilfred Bilton, on the ground of his Adultery with you at the Town of Preston, in the County of Waterloo, in or about the month of June, 1948, and on divers other occasions.

If you desire to defend this Action, you must within Ten Days after service on you of the Writ of Summons and the Plaintiff's Statement of Claim as provided in the above order cause an appearance to be entered for you in this Action in the Office of the Local Registrar of this Court in the Court House in Kitchener, and within Ten Days after the entry of such appearance deliver your Statement of Defence, if any.

In default of your so doing, the Plaintiff may proceed therein and subject to the Rules of Court you will not be entitled to notice of any further proceedings, and you may be deemed to have admitted the Plaintiff's claim and judgment may be given in your absence on the Plaintiff's own shewing.

AND TAKE NOTICE that in default of appearance this Action will be set down for trial at the Sittings of this Court at Kitchener, commencing on the 12th Day of November, 1951.

Entered OB 213, Pages 152-3, September 4, 1951. "GN."

Elect Bengough TLC President

HALIFAX, Sept. 14 (CP) — Percy R. Bengough Thursday was elected for his ninth straight term as president of the 500,000-member Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

The veteran Vancouver machinist was given an acclamation at the TLC's 66th annual convention. Other officers re-elected include:

Ontario vice-president, William Jenoves, Toronto.

In another election Ken Green of Halifax was chosen delegate to the next convention of the British Trades Union Congress.

He defeated A. F. MacArthur of Toronto, president of the Ontario Provincial Federation of Labor, S. S. Stephens, pulp union officer from Kapuskasing, Fred Ibsen, Halifax carpenter, and Nelson Cox of Brantford, barbers union officer.

NEW APPOINTMENTS—Two of six senior Canadian Army Officers have received new appointments. Brig. J. A. W. Bennett (left) is the new Saskatchewan area commander. Brig. A. B. Connelly (right) will command the Canadian Military Mission (Far East) with headquarters in Tokyo.

Six Senior Army Officers Given New Appointments

OTTAWA, Sept. 14 (CP).—Six senior Canadian army officers have received new appointments and—in some cases—promotions, the defence department announced today.

Involved in the major shuffle of high-ranking army personnel are Brigadiers A. B. Connelly, J. P. E. Bernatchez, J. A. W. Bennett and W. A. B. Anderson and Colonels George Leech and W. Scott Murdoch.

Brig. Connelly, 43, formerly of Calgary, is appointed to command the Canadian military mission (Far East) with headquarters in Tokyo. He replaces Brig. Bernatchez who returns to Canada late in November to take over command of Quebec command, Montreal, with the rank of Major-General.

Brig. Connelly has been acting officer commanding Prairie command. Chief engineer of the First Canadian Corps in Italy during the Second World War, he has until last month been Saskatchewan area commander.

The new Saskatchewan area commander will be Brig. Bennett, 40, of Ottawa who has been serving as commander western Ontario area. He will assume temporary command of prairie command at Winnipeg when Brig. Connelly vacates.

At Headquarters

Montreal-born Brig. Anderson, 36, will take over the job at headquarters western Ontario area, receiving a promotion from his present rank of Colonel. The son and nephew of Major-Generals in the Canadian army, Brig. Anderson has recently been director of the Canadian Army Staff College.

He will be succeeded at the college by Col. Leech, 40, formerly of Winnipeg. Col. Leech, who came up through Royal Canadian Signals, leaves the post of director of staff duties at army headquarters.

Succeeding as director of staff duties at Ottawa will be Col. Murdoch, 39, of Vancouver, who has been serving at Edmonton as acting quartermaster-general of western command. Col. Murdoch commanded the Royal Rifles of Canada in northwest Europe.

When we put an aluminum roof on our Kingston, Ont. plant, we knew it would have many advantages for the people inside; but, frankly, we did not consider the pigeon population outside. They landed on the shining surface . . . slid . . . liked the sensation . . . made it a pastime.

Providing toboggan slides for pigeons is no part of our programme. However, the aluminum roofs which now dot the countryside do illustrate the rapidly growing demand for aluminum. To match growing markets like this, we are building new plants and powerhouses in Quebec and British Columbia. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

He wants to get married now and I know he is a good man, works hard and is very considerate, but I am uncertain as to whether we will be happy or not. He lives alone and wishes to have a home. He threatens to break up if I won't marry him. What shall I do?

M. M. H.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Don't rush into this marriage. If you aren't at ease with your friend now, you'll be less so later. I doubt if you're in love since you question your emotions so strongly. If your fiance insists on an immediate wedding or none at all, better make it none.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 17, and engaged to a boy 19. Should it make any difference that he is two inches shorter than I? He doesn't seem to mind being the shorter one.

C. W.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: It should make no difference whatever in the chance you have for a happy marriage. Make sure you are suited in the important matters of background, hobbies, and other interests. Lots of things are more important than height.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I have been writing to a boy in service who has been overseas for seven months. Almost three months have passed since I last heard from him. Should I continue writing even though he doesn't write to me? I know he is far from home and likes to hear from his friends. I just don't want to make a nuisance of myself.

B. W.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Keep on writing, but be sure your letters are in a friendly, cheerful vein. Remember, too, delivery of mail from overeas is very uncertain and he may have several letters on the way. Give him the benefit of the doubt and send your mail.

Raps Phillips For Criticism

TORONTO, Sept. 14 — (CP) — Mayor Hiram McCallum Thursday night said that Alderman Nathan Phillips' criticism of amalagamation was a selfish criticism of an honest attempt to solve the problem faced by the whole Toronto metropolitan area.

He was commenting on a speech made earlier Thursday by the alderman, who said council had acted without sufficient information and regard to effects of amalgamation on the people of the city. Mr. Phillips, a mayoralty candidate, said council was handling the question without being directed to do so by the citizens.

Mayor McCallum said Premier Frost initiated the move toward amalgamation of the 12 suburbs—11 of whom oppose it. The Premier, Mr. McCallum said, called the heads of the 13 municipalities to Queen's Park and asked them to seek a solution to a problem which "was being aggravated by the exceptional growth of the metropolitan area."

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

A spokesman for Sydney Millionaires of the Maritime Major Hockey League said Thursday night "piracy is rearing its head" in the scramble for players for the league's 10 teams.

He made the remark after receiving a letter from an oldtime Sydney player who had been offered "an outlandish sum by a New Brunswick club."

(Moncton Hawks and Saint John Beavers are the two New Brunswick clubs in the six-team league.)

The Sydney spokesman said the salary offers of the club concerned was placing the entire league in jeopardy. He declined to name the team.

He said a complaint would be sent league president J. E. Hudson of Halifax, and, if no action was taken, would be carried to the Maritime and Canadian Amateur Hockey Associations.

At Reading, Pa., trainer-driver Delvin Miller, who has won almost $500,000 during the last two years, said Thursday he will open a public harness racing stable next season.

Miller's principal owner, W. N. Reynolds of Winston Salem, NC, died this week and present plans call for his stock to be sold at public auction this fall.

An official of the International Boxing Club said Thursday the IBC plans to investigate the BBC's radio account of Wednesday night's Randy Turpin-Ray Robinson ✧ middleweight title fight.

Harry Markson, manager director of the IBC, said the boxing club had refused permission for the BBC to broadcast a blow-by-blow account of the fight.

The BBC broadcast a round-by-round account of the bout compiled from news agency reports.

A spokesman for Theatre Network Television, Inc., estimated Thursday that 100,000 persons were turned away Wednesday night from theatres carrying telecasts of the Robinson-Turpin fight.

He said the 14 theatres in 11 cities carrying exclusive telecasts of the championship boxing event not seen on home TV, had capacity attendance of 35,000. He declined to estimate gross receipts but with most theatres charging at least $2, they probably exceeded $70,000.

The baseball commissioner's office Thursday announced the players who will be eligible for world series play.

The list was made up of five teams—those which still figure to have a chance for their league pennants. The teams are Cleveland, New York, and Boston of the American League and New York and Brooklyn of the National League.

Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four Thursday night announced acquisition of Glenn Reinhard, 255-pound tackle, who will be used to bolster a faltering line.

Reinhard, 25, played for four years with Wake Forest College, NC, and last year played professional football in York, Pa.

English electricity authorities calculated Thursday that 4,000,000 Britons stayed up until 4 a.m. to listen to the BBC report of the Robinson-Turpin middleweight title fight in New York.

They computed the figure on a basis of a six-per-cent jump in power drain when the fight began.

Babies Uninjured

OSHAWA, Sept. 14. (CP)—Two babies were handed through the window of a transport truck on Thursday night after a plunge into a ditch jammed the truck doors. Driver William Van Wart, 41, of Trenton suffered shoulder injuries. His wife and the children and James Nobles, 34, also of Trenton, escaped with cuts and bruises.

Blame Dying Rats

TORONTO, Sept. 14. (CP) — Two cats and a dog who died in suburban Leaside from poisoning during the last two days are believed to have become infected when they attacked dying rats. Police said Thursday that a rat exterminating specialist had placed poison in a lane behind a Leaside meat market. They believe that the animals ate portions of rats dying from the poison.

ROUGHIE FORWARD CLICKS — Saskatchewan Roughriders took a 31-6 lacing at the hands of Edmonton Eskimos in a Western Canada Rugby Football Union game, but managed to produce some neat passing plays. Here Regina's Jack Russell, former U.S. professional, has snared a pass from quarterback Glenn Dobbs. George Brown of Edmonton, is sprawled on the ground after knocking Russell off-balance; Steve Mendryck is moving in to complete the tackle.

Protest Injustice

GENEVA, Sept. 14—(AP) — The executive of the World Jewish Congress Thursday urged the Allied powers to use their influence with Austria to bring about the "righting of wrongs inflicted on Jews in Austria." The executive said no repayment has been made of special taxes and levies imposed upon Jews, and that Austria did not "lodge a claim against Germany in favor of the victims."

Toronto Peoples Wins Championship

CALGARY, Sept. 14 (CP). — Toronto Peoples proved their right to the Canadian softball championship title here Thursday night with a whooping 17-1 victory over Vancouver Girodays.

A slim crowd of less than 800 turned out to watch the Toronto squad earn their third straight win the best-of-five series against the western Canada champions.

Chuck Leeson, who went two innings for Vancouver, was blasted for 10 hits, including Bill Kelly's homer with two on. Harry Small took over in the top of the third and gave up 11 hits.

Murray Dowey pitched three-hit ball up to the end of the seventh and was tagged for three singles in the eighth, while striking out 10 and walking one.

4 Priests Arrested

HONG KONG, Sept. 14 (AP)— Four Roman Catholic priests were arrested by Chinese Communists in Shanghai last Friday, it was learned here Thursday. One of the priests was a Belgian, another Irish and two Chinese. All were members of the Catholic Central Bureau which was established in 1949 to co-ordinate Catholic operations in Red China.

Step Up Production

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 14—(AP)—The Swedish newspaper Tidningen reports that Russia is stepping up atomic-bomb production by working a dozen uranium mines in Polish Lower Silesia, and shipping the ore to Russia by express.

Pronto Don Wins Roosevelt Trot

WESTBURY, NY, Sept. 14 (AP) —Pronto Don from the Hayes Fair Acres Stable of Duquoin, Ill., rushed up in the stretch on Thursday night to win the $50,000 Roosevelt two-mile trot of Roosevelt raceway and set a world record of 4:10 4-5.

It was a repeat victory for the six-year-old which won the rich trot a year ago. Demon Hanover, owned by Harrison Hoyt of Bethel, Conn., led most of the way only to fade under the stretch drive and wind up second—where he finished a year ago.

Third was Star's Pride, owned jointly by E. Roland Harriman of Goshen, NY, and L. B. Sheppard, Hanover, Pa.

The old world mark of 4:17 was set in this same race by Proximity in 1948. Heldom in harness racing history has a horse clipped 6 1-5 seconds from a record such as the flying Pronto Don did on Thursday night with the masterful driving of Bennie Schue.

Reds Far Stronger Warning To NATO

Use Bayonets To Clear Korean Hill

UN Troops Stopped Twice By Reds Before Victory

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 15. (AP) — Bayonet-wielding Allied troops today captured strategic high ground northwest of Kumhwa after a two-hour hand-to-hand battle with the Communists.

An Allied officer said it was "one of the hardest-fought battles of the West-Central front since the Han crossing."

Three times the Allies stormed the hill. Twice they were pushed back by fire from deep bunkers on the slopes. The third time they used bayonets and drove the Communists off.

The action lasted 10 hours.

Elsewhere on the west-central front UN troops were subjected to heavy artillery fire throughout the day.

Stiff Communist resistance and sporadic rain squalls slowed the Allied advance on the eastern front.

The mountains of eastern Korea echoed with the blast of an all-out artillery barrage.

Tank Force Slowed

AP correspondent Stan Carter said an Allied tank force probing a river valley north of Yanggu was hit by heavy Red mortar and artillery fire and slowed by crude Communist road blocks by logs and boulders.

Reds on one mountain peak northeast of Inje in the east successfully drove off day-long attacks by Allied troops.

The western front was relatively quiet.

There was still no sign of any general Red offensive. But a dispatch from Hong Kong said the Chinese Communists were moving 100,000 militia troops to Korea.

Friday's biggest action was in the East, where US Marines captured one hill and repulsed a Red attack on another.

The fierce fighting—some involving battles lasting up to 14 hours—raged at points along an 80-mile front extending from Kumsong in central Korea to the east coast.

In the west, where the allies were on the alert for an expected offensive, planes and artillery knocked out three of eight Communist tanks spotted 35 miles north of Seoul.

Friday night was quiet in the west despite a full moon, the type of clear weather favored by the Reds for massed manpower assaults.

Would Drop Curbs

OTTAWA, Sept. 15. (CP) Finance Minister Abbott said Friday night that Canada feels countries with restrictions on trade should shed them as rapidly as possible. He made that statement in the presence of Hugh Gaitskell, Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer as the two ministers arrived in Ottawa from the annual meeting of the International Monetary Conference in Washington. Mr. Abbott was chairman of the meeting.

Cease-Fire Move Up To Reds Allies Declare

TOKYO, Sept. 15 (AP)—The United Nations today put it up to the Communists to take the next step in reviving the suspended cease-fire talks at Kaesong.

A statement issued by the public information office of supreme Allied headquarters said "The next move is now up to the Reds."

The Reds broke off the talks Aug. 23. They charged that Allied warplanes strafed, bombed and fire-bombed Kaesong the night before in an attempt to "murder" the Communist truce delegation. The United Nations command denied it.

The statement today dealt primarily with another Communist charge—that an Allied aicraft bombed Kaesong last Monday. The UN admitted that charge, and said it was the result of a pilot's mistake.

The statement said the admission was "no indication that the UN command will admit to any trumped-up Communist charge, no matter how loudly they 'protest.'

"The admission of the charge puts the responsibility of the 'little cold war' squarely up to the Reds," the statement added.

The Communists have not yet officially acknowledged the UN note accepting blame for the incident.

Peiping radio has said the strafing was a deliberate attack.

The Allied release pointed out that the strafing last Monday "occurred in a rather obscure area a mile from the conference site and was not—as the Reds have falsely claimed before—aimed at 'murdering' the Red delegates."

Must Gain On Adversaries Parley Told To Keep Hope Of Peace

Big Conference Underway In Ottawa As House of Commons Jammed, Only Session Not Held In Deep Secrecy

OTTAWA, Sept. 15. (CP)—The military power of the 12 member nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is still far below the level of Communist armed might, foreign minister Paul van Zeeland of Belgium said today. "A balance of that kind is . . . the only way in which war can be avoided," Mr. Van Zeeland, president of the North Atlantic Council, declared in officially opening the seventh session of the Council.

Speaking from the floor of the House of Commons, he delivered the brief address to the 300 delegates first in English and then in French.

He stood at the head of a long table at which sat the leading delegates from the 12 Atlantic nations— including State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States, Foreign Minister Herbert Morrison of the United Kingdom, and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France.

In seats ordinarily occupied by members of the Commons sat the principal advisers to the main delegates.

Overflow Gallery

Newspapermen on hand for Mr. Van Zeeland's address—the only open meeting of the five-day session—overflowed the regular Press Gallery into the Diplomatic and Ladies' Galleries.

The Belgian diplomat said NATO was pressing to catch up to the military strength of "the adversaries of our common civilization." It had been making the greatest possible effort in the 30 months since it was organized to pull abreast.

"It is by restoring a balance in armaments . . . that the real chance of saving peace resides," he said. "We are still a long way off our objective."

He paid tribute to what NATO members had already done and to the "striking personality of General Eisenhower" through whom "the Atlantic army is slowly coming into being."

He gave the United States and Canada credit for the assistance they have given but he said it would be unjust not to recognize the results obtained by the European countries themselves. However, still more was needed from all members.

Make No Stop At Cobourg, Princess To Fly

OTTAWA, Sept. 15 (CP). — The government today issued a revised itinerary for the Ottawa-Toronto leg of the Royal tour in October by Princess Elizabeth and Prince Phillip.

Under the new plans the Royal couple will leave Ottawa Oct. 5 by Canadian National Railways and transfer to the RCAF's C-5 aircraft at Trenton junction for the remainder of the journey. They will arrive at Toronto city hall at 5:55 p.m. after landing at Malton Airport.

The revised itinerary shows that the train will make brief stops at Cornwall and Brockville in addition to Kingston and Belleville as previously planned. Decision to fly from Trenton has eliminated slowdowns at Cobourg, Port Hope and Oshawa.

The details:

Friday, Oct. 5: 1:05 a.m. leave Ottawa union station CNR; 8.45 a.m., arrive Cornwall; 9 a.m.—leave Cornwall; 10:10 a.m.—Arrive at Brockville; 10:20 a.m. — Leave Brockville; 11:20 a.m. — Arrive Kingston; 1 p.m.—Leave Kingston; 2 p.m.—Arrive Belleville; 2:15 p.m.—Leave Belleville; 2.30 p.m.—Arrive Trenton Junction; 4:30 p.m.—Leave Trenton by RCAF. 5 p.m.—Arrive Malton Airport; 5:55 p.m.—Arrive Toronto city hall.

Freedom Train Escapes Daring Story

STRAUBING, Germany, Sept. 15 (AP)—Men who risked death for freedom unfolded today the secret story behind their dash last Tuesday from Communist Czechoslovkia in a train captured at pistol point.

A former station master, who had spent five months in a Communist concentration camp, held the Communist fireman at bay in the locomotive cab.

The engineer who raced at full throttle was already marked down by security police for arrest.

Anti-Communist friends stood guard over the handbrakes in the four-car train, ready to shoot it out if the Communist conductor or two soldiers and a policeman among the passengers tried to intervene.

Thirty-one Czechs from the train have been granted political asylum by the US high commissioner's office. Seventy-seven who were involuntary passengers on the amazing dash through the Iron Curtain have gone back to Czechoslovakia.

Jaroslav Konvalinka, 41, who brought his wife and two children, aged 6 and 9, on the freedom train, was the locomotive engineer who first conceived the escape plan months ago. He had identified himself earlier here as Frazek or Francek Jarda, "for reasons of safety."

The second leader was Karel Truska, 31, former station master at Asch.

They set D-Day for last Tuesday when Konvalinka was assigned to pilot the Prague-Asch express. They had already confirmed that a track was free across the border from Asch during the mid-day.

Thirteen miles from the Czech-West German frontier, Truska climber aboard the locomotive, waved a pistol at the Communist fireman, and forced him to lie down.

Cayuga Raids North Korea

TOKYO, Sept. 15 (Reuters)—The Canadian destroyer Cayuga supported South Korean marines in recent raids on Communist installations far behind the front line, a United Nations communique said today.

The communique said accurate fire from the Cayuga's eight 4-inch guns cracked Communist resistance and killed 150 Communists.

At one time the destroyer, commanded by Cmdr. J. Plomer of Winnipeg, was raining shells on a concentration of 350 men, the communique said.

The Cayuga also knocked out gun positions and shattered installations and supply buildings during her patrol along North Korea's west coast.

Cayuga's own gunnery spotters landed with the South Korean marines. They estimated that more than one-third of the strong Communist force opposing the landing was killed or wounded.

On board the destroyer, Surgeon Lt. J. C. Cyr of Halifax, NS, operated on three badly-wounded marines. He removed a bullet embedded only a quarter of an inch from the heart of one.

Call Citizens' Meeting In Police Inquiry

WHITBY, Sept. 15 — (CP). — The Whitby Ratepayers' Association has called for a citizens' meeting to be held Tuesday in the Town Hall here to discuss th Whitby Police Commissioners' handling of a police inquiry which was adjourned indefinitely Friday.

E. R. Elliott, vice-president of the association, said Friday night that his group was "totally dissatisfied" with the way the inquiry has been held up to now.

The inquiry was investigating 15 alleged misconduct charges against Police Chief Ronald Love.

Royal Couple Do Their Best

LONDON, Sept. 15 (Reuters)—Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, who leave for their tour of Canada Sept. 25, will do their best to satisfy the thousands of Canadians who wish to see them, a Buckingham Palace spokesman said today.

Two human beings could not visit every town in Canada in a four-week tour, he said, but added:

"During the hours of daylight they will probably do their best to appear in the observation car at the rear of their train to see crowds which are likely to gather at the stations on their route across the Dominion."

Asked to comment on a report that Princess Elizabeth may alter her program to visit Duncan, BC, the spokesman said:

"Neither the Princess nor the Duke of Edinburgh can interfere with the tour arrangements."

Many Canadians have written to the Princess asking her to visit their towns and villages during the tour. Some have complained of omission and have appealed to the Princess to see if the schedule cannot be widened.

Engineer Kidnapped

MANILA, Sept. 15 —(AP)—Government troops Friday night killed four Communist Huks and pressed pursuit today of others suspected of kidnapping an American sugar-mill engineer. Military authorities said they believe the engineer, Henry W. Corp, 66, still is alive.

Raid Arsenal, Flee Prison 6 Of 21 Convicts Captured

SPEIGNER, Ala., Sept. 15. (AP)—Six of 21 convicts who made a daring break from Draper prison Friday night were back in custody today. An intensive search went on for the others. As an aftermath, prison director J. M. McCullough announced the firing of two tower guards, who, he said, could have prevented the break if they had been alert. Three of the escaped convicts were captured at Selma, Ala., within a few hours after their escape. Two others were run down by dogs. Another was taken off a train near the prison.

Those picked up at Selma were Robert Cottrell, serving a two-year forgery term, Donald Phillips and Neal Micheison.

Warden B. R. Reeves said the ringleader was Frank Green, a convicted murderer, who grabbed the guard at the front inside gate and overpowered him. Green was serving a life term.

Green had asked the guard to let him put some papers in the Warden's desk outside the gate, Reeves said.

Beaten Unconscious

Reeves said Micheison helped Green take the keys from the guard, W. C. White, who was beaten until he was unconscious.

They ransacked the prison arsenal, then rounded up five other guards and locked them in an office together with two prisoners, Reeves added.

After opening cell doors along the main corridor, they sped off in two prison cars.

Others captured were Alton R. Dabney, serving a 20-year term for assault, and Herman McClain, given two years for grand larceny. They were run down by prison dogs at Porter Creek, about two miles south of Draper.

Earlier railroad detectives had taken Gene Little off a train five miles north of here.

Among those still missing was one of Alabama's most notorious convicts, 33-year-old Leo Self, who had four previous escapes in his record. He was serving a 20-year robbery sentence.

Several Planes To Drop Search

KAPUSKASING, Sept. 15 (CP) —A number of the planes engaged in the wide-spread search for Toronto Maple Leaf hockey player Bill Barilko and Timmins dentist Dr. Henry Hudson will be withdrawn Sunday, it was announced Friday.

The two men have not been reported since they took off from Rupert's House on James Bay 20 days ago.

On Sunday three long-range RCAF Lancaster bombers will be returned to their bases where, it was announced, they are needed to meet "training commitments.' They will carry back RCAF personnel and Toronto newspapermen to various points in southern Ontario.

Twenty men under Flt. Lt. "Rusty" Rutson will continue the search of the tree and lake-covered regions of northern Ontario and northwestern Quebec. A Dakota aircraft will also be based here for the hunt.

Today the Lancasters and four lands department Beaver aircraft, an RCAF Norseman and helicopter will make their final sweep over the district.

British Newspaper Praises Canada's Cultural Report

LONDON, Sept. 15. (CP)—The Times today devoted an editorial and a special article to Canada's Royal Commission on cultural and social influences. It says no commission has ever produced a bolder report.

The special article, given top place in two long columns on the editorial page, ranges extensively over the commission's findings and concludes:

"The report . . . is remarkable for the vigorous writing of many of its chapters, and as an example of unsparing national self-criticism. It is an honest and intelligent Canadian view of Canadian culture—and probably much more critical in its conclusions than any outside comment could fairly be.

"Remarkable, too, is the evidence which the report contains of the great efforts which thoughtful Canadians are making, in spite of difficulties of geography and of a population divided between two languages, to foster—and where necessary to create—a sturdy national individuality expressing itself in those aesthetic and intellectual qualities which go far towards building the spiritual character upon which any civilization is, in the end, to be judged."

The editorial, entitled "Canada Takes Stock" consisted largely of a comparison between the dominion's soul-searching and that of a man who is worked hard and pauses to ask himself what he is making of his life.

"The authors of the report seem to give their fellow Canadians a jolt of the kind that is often salutary to a young man, even though he may think at the time that it is unnecessarily severe."

Canadian influence in the world had become so large that people tended to forget how young a country Canada is. Two world wars had intensified the drive for greater production and hastened the country's growth, but through it all she had preserved "the traditions of sturdy family, sound education and religious teaching which stamp the Canadian way of life."

Quadruplets Born To Negro Mother

BALTIMORE, Sept. 15 (AP) — A 31-year-old Negro mother went into labor at City Hospital at 4 Friday—and 42 minutes later she had delivered quadruplets.

The mother, Mrs. Susie Avance, has five other children.

The four babies, a boy, a girl, a girl and a boy, born in that order, came in a total delivery time of six minutes.

The babies and the mother "loked as if they were getting along fine," the hospital reported.

Rail Workers Ask Protection

NELSON, BC, Sept. 15 (CP)—Railway workers Friday night demanded action to prevent acts of terrorism by the Sons of Freedom Doukhobors in the Kootenays.

Locals of the Canadian Pacific Railway running trades threaten to take "stronger measures" unless the authorities act.

The Sons of Freedom have been blamed for recent rail bombings in the West Kootenays.

No night trains have been operated and now the railwaymen ask to have their work hours restricted to conform with shorter daylight hours.

Canadian Corporal Runs Own Hospital

SOMEWHERE IN KOREA, Sept. 15 —(AP)—Gil Grenier of Montreal is running his own private "hospital" for the benefit of Korean civilians.

Grenier, a medical assistant with the 25th Canadian Infantry Brigade's non - commissioned school, was given permission to set up shop in one of the school's tents. He scrounged medical supplies and the parade of wounded and sick started coming through his door.

In the first week, Grenier treated 20 patients. Now he has a whole tent of his own and the help of two Korean nurses.

Need Diaper Experts?

The policeman's lot, although not always happy, keeps him busy. For instance on Friday, city police were called on to shoot two heifers that escaped from the CPC. Friday night, a man's slightly panicky voice over the telephone told Constable Gordon Trennum that his wife was away and the baby needed attention badly. What was he to do? Change the diaper, said the constable. The man said all right, hung up, and called back in a few minutes to say he didn't know how. He was told how. A third time he called, to check on a few of the aspects of diaper changing he didn't understand. Constable Trennum said today: "We've had everything before this, but we've never been authorities on diaper-changing before."

Vancouver Man Sweeps Winner

MONTREAL, Sept. 15 (CP)—J. E. Walker, of Vancouver, today won $38,000 when he held the winning Quebec Army and Navy sweepstake ticket on Talma II, winner of the one-mile six-furlong St. Leger classic.

The horse race was held at Doncaster, England, and was the last classic of the flat-racing season. The winner was a 7-1 shot.

Second prize money of $22,887 went to M. Munro, Vancouver, who held a ticket on Fraise du Bois II.

Lucien Picard, Montreal, will collect $15,245 for his third place ticket on Medway.

Czech Offered Job In Canada

BATTAWA, Ont., Sept. 15 — (CP)—Thomas Bata, a Czech shoe manufacturer here, has offered Francek Jarda, Czech engineer who drove a train loaded with passengers out of Communist Czechoslovakia, a home and a job in Canada.

Mr. Bata said Thursday night he read an account of the train ride to freedom in a Toronto newspaper and decided that Jarda "sounded as if he had the right ideas about democracy."

He sent the engineer a cable offering him, his wife and two children a new life in this eastern Ontario village.

Jarda drove the locomotive into the US zone of Germany Tuesday.

Romero Fined

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif., Sept. 15 —(AP)— Actor Cesar Romero, 44, was fined $250 and placed on a year's probation for driving while drunk.

Actress' Wedding Plans Sunk

Neal Puts Tone In Hospital In Brawl

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 15 (AP)—Actor Franchot Tone, the loser in a fight over a buxom filmland blonde, was still in a state of semi-coma at a hospital today.

Tom Neal, the movie muscleman who administered the beating, stuck by his story that Tone started it. But the blonde, Barbara Payton, denied it and insisted that Tone "is not the sort of man who would strike anyone first."

This much, however, is definite: The wedding of Neal and Miss Payton, scheduled for today in San Francisco, is off—probably for good—as the result of one of the fiercest and most lopsided fights in Hollywood annals—on or off the screen.

Tone came out of it with his Patrician nose shattered, a broken cheek bone, and a brain concussion. Police Chief William Parker has ordered an investigation, but no charges have been filed.

Delivers Most Blows

Neal, 35-year-old former amateur boxer with shoulders like a full-back, scaled 180; Tone, 46, weighed 155. All blows but the first one, according to Neal, were delivered by him.

"The first blow," Miss Payton contradicted, "knocked Franchot down. He was completely out. Tom beat him unmercifully after that."

The fight took place the day after Miss Payton obtained her final decree of divorce from her second husband, John Payton. Events leading up to it were as follows:

Miss Payton, 25, had been dating Tone steadily until about a month ago. Last year she figured in a child-custody battle between him and his former wife, Jean Wallace.

Then along came Neal, Exit Tone.

Whirlwind Courtship

A whirlwind courtship was climaxed by the announcement of the pending nuptials. Miss Payton, however, apparently was not sure. Thursday night she stepped out with Tone on a tour of Hollywood cabarets.

Neal was waiting for them when they returned to her house.

"I don't know exactly how it started," she said, "but I do know that Mr. Tone did not strike first. I didn't say anything and neither did Franchot."

"Tone tossed a right at me," Neal maintained. "I ducked, and crossed a right to his jaw, and he flew backward 10 feet and down. I was on him like a cat."

His version had Tone as the belligerent and himself as a reluctant combatant due to his advantage in age and condition.

New Arrests Likely In Big Theft

Softball Pitcher Cam Ecclestone One of Three Held

TORONTO, Sept. 15. (CP)—Police indicated today that further arrests may be expected in an investigation of wholesale thefts from the Stromberg-Carlson radio plant here.

Investigating an alleged theft ring among employees at the plant, where between $20,000 and $30,000 worth of radios have disappeared, police Friday arrested two workers and Alfred (Cam) Ecclestone, 40, well-known softball pitcher.

A brother obtained Ecclestone's release on $10,000 bail. Also arrested were James Dedwill and Wilfrid McLean.

Number Recovered

Police said the radios apparently were removed from the plant and taken to sales outlets to be sold at greatly-reduced prices. A number were recovered.

Ecclestone's brother, William, said he believed Cam had obtained two radios on a "wholesale" basis but had returned both of them.

"Maybe the police think they were all in cahoots," said William, "but I'm sure the facts will prove otherwise."

His brother gained wide prominence in 1936 when he pitched a no-hit, no-run game in the opening of a softball "world series" at Chicago. Three nights ago he hurled his team — Evan Motors—to victory in an Ontario amateur softball playoff game.

Western Offers Course At PCVS

Extension course in geography will be offered this year at the collegiate by the University of Western Ontario. Dr. E. G. Pleva, head of Western's geography department, will lecture.

First course, Geography 20, considers the earth as the home of man and examines the various elements of the physical and cultural landscape. The first lecture in this will be given Saturday, September 22, at 10:30 a.m.

The other course is Geography 45, a study of the regional aspect of the geography of Canada, major landforms, climatic types, soil forms, pastoral and agricultural industries.

These extension courses are offered as a continuation of the policy of Canadian universities in going to the public. Each class will meet for a double session every second week; alternate weekends will be free.

Northeast of the "punch bowl"—20 miles north of the 28th parallel in eastern Korea—elements of the US 1st Marine Division seized one wooded height and beat off a determined Red counter-attack against another. Remnants of a Red battalion were cleared from a third hill in the area.

Still Held Back

Allied regiments north and northeast of Yanggu still were denied a hill mass which they have been assaulting for four days. Yanggu is seven miles north of the parallel and 14 miles southwest of the punch bowl.

Late Friday, the allies had to fall back after attacking the hill mass for 14 hours. Nearby other allied elements were equally unsuccessful after a fight which began at 7 a.m. Friday and lasted until 8 p.m.

In the same general area, Reds fighting from bunkers defended a high ridge against a five-hour attack.

On the east coast, west of Kansong, South Korean infantry tackled a Communist regiment on a high mountain throughout Friday, but had to withdraw after failing to break through the enemy's bunker defence.

Turks and Ethiopians fighting in the eastern sector beat off Red attacks ranging up to company strength.

Some allied attacks were pressed far into Friday night by the light of plane flares.

Cut Down Flights

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 15—(AP)— The government said Friday it has cut down plane flights because of the oil stoppage in Iran. All non-scheduled flights have been banned, flight training has been reduced and supplies to International Airlines touching Calcutta, New Delhi and Bombay have been cut.

Teacher Fired

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 15—(AP)—A teacher who stirred up grand jury investigation by charging that a high school harbored a "non-virgins club" was fired Friday. Mrs. Maurine D. Hayslip had previously been suspended after the jury labelled her sensational charges mere gossip.

TLC Cooperation Remains Clouded Issue

HALIFAX, Sept. 15 (CP)—The Trades and Labor Congress of Canada is going to back away from its newly-achieved co-operation with other central labor bodies. But just how far it will retreat was problematical today.

Actions of the Congress this week, culminating in two votes at the annual convention Friday, left the question in considerable doubt.

Originally, on Tuesday, the TLC under the impetus of its executive voted closely to cut down on the co-operative measures, a move not explained to the Congress by the executive but generally interpreted as meaning its withdrawal from a six-months-old national committee for continuing co-operation between the central groups.

But after two votes on the hot issue, the extent of the withdrawal was enveloped in considerable obscurity.

Defeat Executive

On the first vote, those wanting restoration of the pre-Tuesday co-operative status handed a defeat to the executive by getting before the convention a motion to reconsider the question by the slim majority of 117 to 116.

Then, when reconsideration did come up, president Percy Bengough delivered a speech on the executive's stand and promptly shut off debate from opponents. After a quick standing vote that was not counted, he declared the contest won in the executive's favor.

Bengough told the convention that "no matter how the vote goes nothing has been accomplished." He said the executive still would have discretionary power on co-operation.

Not Always Acceptable

But then he promptly told the delegates that, as chairman of the national committee, he could say "some sections (of the committee) had failed to live up to it." Also, he said, some TLC decisions might not be acceptable to other members of the committee.

These members are the Canadian Congress of Labor, the Canadian and Catholic Confederation of Labor and the Independent Railway Brotherhoods. All told, the four groups have about 1,000,000 members—virtually all of Canadian organized labor.

Asked by a reporter to clarify the position of the TLC as the result of the votes, Bengough said it might or might not mean a withdrawal from the committee, though it certainly meant a retreat from the co-operative position that existed up to Tuesday.

Convention observers saw in the careful phrases of the executive-sponsored policy declaration on co-operation an evident desire to make it clear that the TLC is not being pushed into action by the American Federation of Labor, its big United States affiliate.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, Sept. 15 (CP) — Churning cream and butter prints prices were unchanged here today from Friday.

TORONTO FRUIT

TORONTO, Sept. 15 (CP) — Wholesale fruit and vegetable prices were unchanged here today with these exceptions: Onions, green, 20-30; spinach, bus., 75-$1.00; No. 1 peaches, 55-70; plums, six qt., 20-30.

Potato prices were unchanged from Friday.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Sept. 15 (CP)—All grain prices showed a firm tone Friday on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, with flax taking the lead with wide gains.

Advances in flax were prompted by advances in United States flax, which brought out seaboard buying here. Oats and barley moved up under shipper demand. American interests were picking up rye. Some of the buying was stimulated by forecasts of frost for some areas across the prairies.

An emergency call to Port Hope for blood for a Port Hope man in serious condition in a Peterborough hospital brought out 17 blood donors in two hours. The call was made at 3.30 pm Thursday and by 5.30, the 17 donors all from Port Hope, were at the hospital. Of the 17, eleven had type A blood, which matches the ill man's; the other six had type O which is adaptable.

Expect Moscow Blast Over Germany

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP)—The Western Big-Three foreign ministers looked to Moscow today for the next move in the long post-war quarrel over Germany. A prompt and heated reaction was forecast.

Diplomats expected Russia to respond to the western powers' plan to take West Germany into a defence partnership with:

1—A new barrage of protests based on the familiar theme that the west is rearming Garmany in preparation for aggressive war on the Soviet bloc.

2—A move by Moscow for some sort of new treaty or political arrangement with Soviet-dominated East Germany. One effect of this would be to lift any remaining wraps on Communist-controlled military forces in the Soviet zone.

Disregard Growls

Concluding their five-day conference Friday, the British, American and French Foreign Ministers disregarded previous growls from Moscow and declared their intent to proceed with negotiations to bring the Bonn Republic into the anti-Soviet defensive alliance "as rapidly as possible." Authorities hope the first German soldier can start training for the projected European army soon after the first of the year. The Bonn Parliament is expected to accept soon the "peace contract" proposed by the Big Three.

State Secretary Dean Acheson, Foreign Secretary Morrison of Britain, and Foreign Minister Schuman of France meantime travelled to Ottawa for a meeting of the North Atlantic Council, which is expected to expand and tighten the democratic alliance substantially.

Boy Falls From Wagon Fractures His Skull

Brian Weir, six-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Weir, RR 1, Indian River, is in Peterborough hospital with a fractured skull.

The boy received the injury Friday afternoon when he was playing in his father's barn with his brother, Arthur, 7, and a neighboring chum, Bobby Banhour.

Brian was on a hay wagon and fell three to four feet to the barn floor, landing on his head. He didn't lose consciousness, but couldn't seem to walk, so his companions carried him to the pump for a drink and then into the house.

A Peterborough doctor was called and the boy was brought into the hospital early Friday night.

His condition was reported as good today.

A. H. Simmonds Buried

Funeral service for Arthur Henry Simmonds, 61, of 20 Lisburn St., who died Thursday, was conducted today by the Rev. Michael Poole of All Saints' Anglican church. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Pallbearers were Edward Maudsley, Harry Patten, Edward Allan, Arthur Helson, Melville Delong and Thomas Montgomery.

Two Men Wield Broom, Knife Home For Aged

COBOURG, Sept. 15—(ENS)—Details of a fight in the counties home for the aged in which a broom and a knife were used, were related in police court Friday when Mike Manchuri was charged with wounding James Forbes with a knife. The accused was remanded until Friday for sentence. Both are around 70.

Ed Benham, one of the inmates of the home, said on Sept 1 he was walking up the steps behind [illegible]es from the dining hall Manchuri took some bread off the dumb waiter and Forbes asked him if he didn't get enough to eat in the dining room. Manchuri went after him with a knife.

"He said it was none of my business and went after me with a knife. I hit him on the head with a broom and we fell on a bed where he pulled my head down and jabbed me in the neck with his pocket knife. I cut my hand trying to protect myself. It took 16 stitches in my neck and three in my hand," testified Forbes.

The superintendent, William Duncan, said that when he was told of the fight he went upstairs to Manchuri's room and took possession of the knife. Manchuri had been disagreeable at times, Mr. Duncan told the court.

The accused said that he had not eaten all his bread at the meal and brought it with him to eat later, Forbes had questioned his right to have the bread with him and in the ensuing argument, Forbes hit him on the head with a broom and put him down on the bed. Manchuri said that Forbes caught him by the throat and he got knife out for protection and Forbes cut himself when he came in contact with the knife during the scuffle.

Urges Schedule Of Farm Wages

TORONTO, Sept. 15—(CP)—The Ontario Federation of Agriculture suggested Friday that a standard schedule of wages for farm laborers would solve part of the present farm labor shortage.

Many farmers had been disappointed by immigrant workers who stayed only a short time on farms before taking industrial jobs, directors said at a meeting here Friday. An over-all schedule, with pay based on experience and ability, might encourage workers to stay on farms.

Obituary

WILLIAM J. STENSON

Word has been received today of the death of William J. Stenson at his home in New York City on Friday following a prolonged illness. He was 85 years of age. Mr. Stenson, the last of a prominent Peterborough family, was born in Peterborough, son of the late J. T. Stenson and Jane Galley, and before moving, to New York 25 years ago, lived in Toronto. His wife, the former Evelyn Sager, six brothers, Herbert, Frederick, Charles, George, Henry and Bob, and two sisters, the Misses Emma and Margaret Stenson, predeceased him.

Mr. Stenson leaves two daughters in New York, Mrs. Ethel Kraft and Mrs. Beatrice Valdere, and three sisters-in-law, Mrs. Frederick Stenson of Peterborough, Mrs. Harry Stenson of Kirkland Lake and Mrs. George Stenson of Toronto.

An executive with the Kraft Cheese Company in New York, he was formerly in the tailoring business in Peterborough and, at that time, was a member of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

The body will arrive at the Belleghem Funeral Home on the CPR train at Monday noon and funeral service will be held at the chapel at 2.30 p.m. The Rev. C. G. Boyd will officate and burial will be at Little Lake cemetery.

RE-UNION IN NORTH BAY—Six years ago Margaret Ecker Francis was the Canadian Press correspondent and the only woman reporter when Germany signed its surrender in the red school house at Reims. As Mrs. Robert Francis, part of a husband-wife team of writers, she greeted war correspondent Bill Boss when they met recently at North Bay, Ont., en route to a war correspondents' meeting. Boss was war correspondent with the Canadian Army at the time of the surrender. He is returning to Korea after his current leave.

Burglary Count Brings One Year

COBOURG, Sept. 15 (ENS)—Remanded from last week for sentence, Daniel McNulty of St. Catharines was sentenced to 12 months definite and six indefinite on a charge of breaking into a grist mill at Brighton. William Palmer, Brighton charged with breaking into two summer cottages in that area, was remanded out of custody until Dec. 14 and directed to be off the streets by nine p.m. and to stop hanging around a cafe in the village.

Harold and Fred Purdy were found guilty on a charge of theft of four, 16-foot cedar logs on Aug. 28 from Jack O'Connor of Grafton. Fred Purdy told the court that O'Connor was not at home when he called so he took the logs anyway as he had a job to do at the school. The board was to pay O'Connor for the logs. The magistrate fined each of them $25 and costs.

Ralph Lees and George Bowen of Cobourg were sentenced to 30 days in jail when they pleaded guilty to theft of scrap iron from the CNR dock here. A charge of theft against Lionel Clayton, whose truck was used to cart the iron to Port Hope for sale, was read and the magistrate remanded him out of custody until called upon.

Critical Moment

Deeply conscious of the imminence of the danger, we feel the critical moment approaching at which the scales of fate will turn irrevocably towards peace or war."

That is why NATO was a bit impatient to get ahead with rearmament. That is why "we continually turn an eye on the delays, on the deficiencies and on the enormous task which remains to be accomplished."

At the start of his address, Mr. Van Zeeland praised Canada as a country "whose generosity, courage and devotion to the ideals of western civilization we all admire." Later he linked Canada with the United States as the basis for NATO's preliminary achievement.

But he put his stress on calling for a greater rearmament effort from all members.

"A vast step forward has been taken, he said. "But having said that, it is our duty to make good the deficiencies, and to concentrate on the best means of reaching our goal—above all, on reaching it in time.

Makes No Difference

LUDINGTON, Mich., Sept. 15—(AP)— Everett Richter, 61, who has lived for 30 years in Chicago's Skid Row, Friday became the sole heir of his mother's estate, estimated at between $12,000 and $17,000. The court authorized the administrator to put Richter on an allowance of $35 a week. Richter was agreeable, collected his first week's allowance and headed back for Skid Row.

Deny Devaluation

LONDON, Sept. 15—(Reuters)—Wold-wide rumors of Sterling devaluation were derided today in responsible London quarters. A report from the Far East that Sterling would be devalued this weekend from its present value of $2.80 to $2.40 was described as absolute rubbish.

WINS SCHOLARSHIP

Nineteen-year-old Irene Knight of Port Hope has been awarded the $1,600 dominion provincial scholarship for her record in upper school examinations last spring. She took first class honors in six subjects, and seconds in three. Miss Knight will attend Queen's University.

CARS COLLIDE

About $10 damage was done to a car owned by Peter W. Bencze, 730 Lock St., when it was in collision Friday noon with an auto driven by W. A. Jackson, 531 Bolivar St. Jackson had been driving west on King St., and after stopping for the stop sign at Aylmer St., started across and was in collision with Bencze's car. Jackson's car was undamaged.

HIT BY HEIFER

A second girl was knocked down by the runaway heifer that cavorted along Stewart St. Friday around noon. It was reported Friday that one girl was knocked from her tricycle. A second girl, Suzanna De Warga, 629 Rubidge St., was knocked down, suffering bruises to her knees, left arm and left thigh.

JUST BURNING A FORM

Firemen were called to the home of Mrs. William Meredith, 490 Sherbrooke St., late Friday afternon when a neighbor thought her chimney was on fire. What happened was that the Meredith chimney was being repaired and the wooden forms were burnt when the job was finished.

DISAPPOINTED

Cobourg citizens were disappointed when the mayor received a telegram from Ottawa this morning telling him that the visiting Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip will be unable to stop in Cobourg as planned earlier. But not nearly so disappointed as they would have been if they had spent any money on decorations. The mayor was waiting for final confirmation. The Princess is going to fly over Cobourg instead.

Find Human Skeleton Police Investigate

A Toronto cottager discovered an almost complete human skeleton in a sand pit at Viewlake, about 10 miles south of Lindsay, Friday afternoon.

Dan Hyland was searching for Indian relics about 200 yards from Lake Scugog when he saw what appeared to be parts of a skeleton in the sand. He became curious and after digging about six feet unearthed the almost complete skeleton.

He called the provincial police who later reported that the remains had not yet been identified with any person listed as missing in the last few years.

2 Adjudicators Named For 1952 Festival

Geoffrey Tankard, professor of the Royal College of Music, and Ronald Biggs, honorary ARCM, are the two English adjudicators expected to be coming to Peterborough for the 1952 Kiwanis festival.

Miss Irene Fairclough, ARCT, of the Hamilton Conservatory, will again be the adjudicator for the choral public and verse speaking section of the festival.

These names were released today by Wilson Gemmell, chairman of the festival committee.

Mr. Gemmell explained that the names of the two English adjudicators had been submitted to the committee this week by R. W. Cooke, secretary of the Federation of Canadian Music Festivals. The two men have been approved by the Peterborough committee.

Add New Classes

Changes in the festival procedure and the addition of new classes were also announced by the committee chairman.

In 1952 a class for male or barbershop quartets has been added to the syllabus. He said that this addition was made not only to give an oportunity to quartet groups, but also the committee believed that such a class would prove popular and attract large audience attendance.

Other additions will include a piano acordion class and two classes for choir boys' solo work.

The committee have decided to offer the public festival memberships. A purchase of a membership ticket will allow admission to all festival sessions. The membership tickets will go on sale in mid-October.

Starting with the 1953 festival, shields can only be retained permanently if they are won for three consecutive years. The 1952 festival will be the last time that shields can be retained if they are won for any three years by one group.

The committee has also specified that the test pieces in choral work must be sung in the language in which they were originally written. In instrumental classes the use of music will be optional.

The 1952 festival syllabus and application forms will be available in October. The closing date for application has been set as March 31.

Hits Same Car Twice, Fined $25

Banging into another vehicle on the Highway is enough to cause court trouble at any time but when it happens twice within a few seconds a driver is very quickly charged with carelessness and fined.

A Toronto man told the court that he was driving towards Lindsay on Highway 7 on August 4th when he felt and heard a loud crash at the left rear corner of his car which threw it to the right-hand shoulder of the road. When he spun the car back into the traffic lane he was struck again, this time on the left rear door. The impact, said the witness caused his car to spin around completely. About $400 damage was done.

The accused was fined $25 and assessed costs of $19.90.

Hospital Debt Is Nearly Paid

PORT COLBORNE, Sept. 15—(CP)—This fast-growing Lake Erie industrial and shipping centre has to raise only $130,106 to have a debt-free, $1,022,282 hospital.

Since the hospital opened last February, a community fund-raising campaign has collected $892,196.

Capt. R. Scott Misener, chairman of the Hospital Board of Governors, said today that nearly every individual and industry in Port Colborne, Humberstone and Wainfleet had contributed. He said the campaign's success will climax one of the greatest community projects in the province."

The Atkinson Charitable Foundation recently donated $1,050 toward establishing an electrocardiograph department in the hospital.

Traders Greet Weekend, Hectic 7 Days

By DICK BAIDEN,
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Friday's final bell brought welcome relief to weary stock market traders who weathered the most hectic week in more than five years. Toronto, Montreal and New York exchanges posted record highs in stock prices and turnovers.

The steadily-climbing market of the previous two weeks expanded still further from leading issues to less frequently-traded stocks except for a mild reaction Tuesday. The expansion pushed weekly volume in Toronto to more than 22,000,000 shares—the most since 1945.

Lower-priced Western oils and base metals contributed heavily to the volume. Reports Wednesday that the United States was relaxing opposition to the Canadian request to sell part of her gold on the "free market" produced a wild flurry of buying. Senior issues and junior producers caught most of the benefit of the new optimism but some enthusiasm spilled over into prospects. Profit-taking skimmed some gains later but most buyers seemed content to await future developments on gold policy by the International Monetary Fund.

The market reaction to the long climb—predicted by some observers more than a week ago—was mild and short-lived.

Opened Steadily

The week opened with steadily advancing prices in Toronto and New York, only Montreal showing a slight weakness in papers and industrials. New York recorded its fourth high for the year and Toronto its 11th consecutive record high.

It was Tuesday that investors chose for profit-taking. New York started to slip early in the session and Toronto and Montreal followed. Losses in New York leaders in rails, oils, and steels, however, were generally less than $2. Textiles, refining oils and steels dipped the most in Toronto. Montreal industrials followed the downtrend.

In Toronto, Wednesday, industrials recovered slowly from the set-back. Papers, banks and refining oils found the strongest support while steels continued mixed. Papers and industrials climbed rapidly in Montreal to more than recover their losses.

Oils Trade Heavily

Western oils traded heavily in Toronto Thursday and industrials climbed to their 12th record high. Golds were mostly firm. Papers and industrials gained in Montreal.

Friday in Toronto industrials showed new highs with each issue of the index. Final tabulation showed a gain of more than 2½ points for the 13th record high in three weeks. This barometer of stock trends now stands at the highest level since it was established in 1934. Base metals turned on a final-hour push to advance to the highest point since 1934 and western oils recorded another record high to push their index to the highest level since it was started in 1937.

Papers put on a powerful show of strength in Montreal to chalk up a gain of more than 32 points. Industrials were unchanged.

In New York Wednesday, the market turned upward again for the best gain in two weeks. Aircrafts, steels, golds and rails headed the advance.

Thursday saw rails lead the market to a new high for 1951. Metals and oils gained support but the rest of the market gave only scattered help.

Rails and radios thwarted a slipping market Friday. A late recovery followed early declines. The final surge pushed the market to another 1951 high.

WINTER'S COMING

Coupled with the announcement that there will be skating at the Civic Arena on October 5 or 6 is the reminder that winter's just around the corner. Walter Smillie, manager, said today that they hope to make ice during the first week of October, with a thick enough layer for skating at the end of the week.

HEAD LAWYERS — Brig.-Gen. John Arthur Clark, 65, of Vancouver was elected president of the Canadian Bar Association at its annual meeting in Toronto Friday. Born at Dundas, Ont., Brig.-Ben. Clark graduated from Osgoode Hall in 1909 and was called to the British Columbia bar in 1910. He is a veteran of the First World War in which he commanded the 7th Canadian Infantry Brigade. He was awarded the CMG and DSO with two bars. He is a former member of parliament, having represented Vancouver-Burrard from 1921 to 1930.

THE 100TH SOLDIER to enlist at Peterborough Armouries in the current recruiting drive for the 27th Brigade was Floyd Menzies (Left) of Havelock, a veteran of the Second World War. He joined the Royal Canadian Artillery. Before enlisting with the active force, he was a member of the Midland Reserve Regiment. His brother, paratrooper David E. Menzies (Right) of the Royal Canadian Regiment, received his wings at Rivers, Man., last week after enlisting last January. The brothers are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Dan. Menzies of Havelock.

For Parents Only

Care Of Your Child's Teeth

By NANCY CLEAVER

"What perfect teeth she has! Just like little pearls! I hope it will be a long time before you have to take her to the dentist," an older friend said to a young mother.

"I am going to visit the dentist with her next week," the mother answered. "She's just three, but I want her to go with me and become acquainted with the dentist and his assistant. Then when she is older and has to go to his office to get work done, she won't be frightened."

A friendly visit of a little child to the dentist does pave the way for a happy relationship later. The child looks on the dentist as a friend. The shiny new equipment and the big chair fascinate a child's eager mind. In the long run, because it will likely eliminate panic later, this early visit is worthwhile.

Parents want their children to have attractive teeth because they add to a child's appearance. Many youngsters have a charming smile, displaying a perfect set of teeth.

Healthy teeth, well formed and in their correct place, help in pronunciation. Never laugh at the First Grade child who has lost his baby front teeth and is lisping! Your amusement may make him self-conscious. If a child loses a permanent front tooth in an accident, for the sake of his speech it should be quickly replaced by a false one.

Dentists know that unless a false tooth is put in where a permanent one has been, not only speech is affected, but the child cannot bite or chew so well. The teeth on either side of the space are apt to grow a bit crooked. The opposite tooth in the other gum (above or below the space) may grow too long if the damage is not repaired.

Semi-annual visits to the dentist should be a must in every family schedule. The dentist is a professional man who can advise puzzled parents about special mouth problems.

They may mention two new developments in tooth care which are almost too recent to be accurately evaluated. The use of fluorine in water and the action of amoniated tooth paste preventing decay are both receiving a good deal of publicity. Research workers are studying their effectiveness.

There are a number of sensible suggestions on which most dental authorities agree. For proper care, teeth should be brushed after eating and at bed time, last thing at night. The motion of the brush should be up and down, not sideways. The inside of the teeth (next to the tongue) should be brushed too.

It is the tiny food particles which get lodged in the spaces between the teeth and in the small grooves which produce holes. The starches and sugars act on the fat covering the enamel of the tooth, and before long decay is apt to set in.

Many dentists warn against the constant eating of candy (particularly hard candy and also chewing gum which remain in the mouth) and soft drinks because of the acid condition in which the mouth is left. It is difficult to see to it that children brush their teeth after these treats. Better have a "binge" of soft drinks, candy and other treats once a week, immediately after a meal, and then brush the teeth.

Good health and good teeth are dependent on each other. A balanced diet is of great importance to both. Digestion begins in the mouth with the thorough mastication of food.

For the sake of the child's appearance, speech and health, do train your child in good habits—brushing the teeth, eating proper food and regular visits to the dentist. Your child will thank you for a fine set of teeth when he grows to maturity and in middle or later years he may not have to purchase dentures!

Fight For Client Lawyers Are Told

TORONTO, Sept. 15—(CP)—Sir Raymond Evershed, Master of the Rolls of England, Friday told 59 graduating lawyers at Osgoode Hall that their first duty as members of the legal profession was to fight "to the utmost of your ability for your client."

By British legal tradition, the Master of the Rolls is third-ranking Judge of the United Kingdom and presiding officer of the Court of Appeal of England and Wales.

Graduates included David Brooks of Welland, son of A. L. Brooks, KC, a bencher of the Law Society of Upper Canada.

US Editors Favor Barring Tass Agency

NEW YORK, Sept. 15—(AP)—Editor and Publisher said Friday that 40 American editors it polled are in favor, two-to-one, of denying Congressional press credentials to Tass, the Russian News Agency.

The newspaper trade publication scored 28 for disaccreditation, 12 against.

The editors voted on a proposal by Alexander F. Jones, President of the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

Jones advanced the idea as a way of retaliating for the imprisonment in Czechoslovakia of Associated Press correspondent William Oatis.

Strike Two Trees Passenger Dies

LORNE PARK, Ont., Sept. 15—(CP)—One man was killed here Friday night and three others injured in a collision on the Queen Elizabeth Way west of Toronto. First reports said two were killed.

Patrick Nixon, 40, of Grimsby, was killed when the car in which he was a passenger, sideswiped another car and struck two trees.

Driver of the car, Henry Hannan, 60, of Hamilton, suffered face cuts and a possible broken arm. Another passenger, Thomas Tennant, 29, also of Hamilton, suffered a fractured skull. He is reported in critical condition.

John D. Yahodynski, 38, of Welland, driver of the other car, suffered only minor injuries.

May Bomb Manchuria

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP) — Military men said Friday United States planes will bomb Manchuria if the Communists hurl air power against United Nations forces. It is understood at the top military level that once the Reds use air power in force against UN troops—then all bars are down on attacking Manchuria.

Father Dies

TORONTO, Sept. 15 — (CP) — William Apostle, 35, of Oshawa, who last week drove his four-year-old daughter to hospital in Toronto with a mild case of poliomyelitis, died here Friday of the disease. The child was reported to be in satisfactory condition.

Nype Gives Up Role In First Movie

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 15 (AP).—Surprise of the week was the bow-out by Russell Nype from his first movie.

The bespectacled, crew-cut singing sensation of the Broadway hit "Call Me Madam" had been working for eight days in his first picture, "Young Man in a Hurry." Then MGM announced suddenly he was being taken out of the film. Here is his explanation:

"I realized from the outset that I was too young for the role. It was originally written for Jimmy Stewart, and the character was supposed to be married 10 years and have three children....

"I naturally expected they would rewrite the script and at least knock off one or two of the children. But they did not, and I started the picture with trepidation. When the studio bosses saw the first eight days' rushes, they agreed with me that I was too young for the part."

Back to New York

Nype, 27, won't be able to restart his film career until June, 1952. He is signed until then to appear in the Ethel Merman musical. He expects to return to the show within a few days.

Record of the Year

Record album of the week, month or perhaps year is "Hark, the Years" from Capitol. Narrated with understanding by Frederic March, it contains many of the important voices of the last 60 years.

The album begins with the trumpet call of a soldier who sounded the charge of the Light Brigade. It continues with such voices as those of Florence Nightingale, William Jennings Bryan, George M. Cohan, Theodore Roosevelt, Lillian Russell, Woodrow Wilson, and other notables up to the present era. The painstaking job of assembling the recordings pays off with something valuable—audible history.

Comes TV

The topnotch comics of the town are whipping up their routines and writers for the debut of transcontinental television on a commercial basis.

Meanwhile, there is still much discussion on the merits of live and filmed TV. Perhaps the last word is offered by Prof. James Durante, who argues that live TV is better than canned. Says he:

"When you put a laugh show on film, it loses its spontanerity—or is it spontanatiny?"

Strike Illegal

TORONTO, Sept. 15—(CP)—A strike of 900 construction workers at the Ontario Hydro steam plant project here was termed illegal Friday by Sam Finlay, international vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers (AFL-TLC). The strike started Thursday after two reported Communists had been fired and 56 men, who struck in protest, were dismissed.

Avert Milk Strike

OTTAWA, Sept. 15— (CP)—Threat of a milk strike in Ottawa was averted Friday night when delivery men of the city's four major dairies accepted a final offer of the companies. A total of 272 deliveries are affected by the new contracts which granted wage increases ranging from $4.25 to $6.25 weekly. The original union demand was for a $6-a-week increase for all drivers.

Aged Uncle Dies

Last week Prime Minister St. Laurent's uncle, Mr. Phillipe St. Laurent, died at the age of 98 at an old folk's home in St. Boniface, Manitoba. He had gone west in 1882 in the migration which established the French-speaking suburb of Winnipeg, St. Boniface.

* * *

His death makes one pause for reflection. That the old gentleman lived to the advanced age of 98 attests a strain of rugged longevity in the St. Laurent stock. There has been talk on Parliament Hill of Mr. St. Laurent retiring as First Minister because of his health. Mr. St. Laurent is only 69; he has almost twenty years to go before reaching his uncle's age.

* * *

Why did Uncle Phillipe St. Laurent die in an old folk's home? Was he poor; was the comfortably-off nephew niggardly or unfriendly with his uncle and unmindful of family duties? Not at all; Mr. St. Laurent has a very deep sense of family obligation. Mr. Phillipe St. Laurent spent his last years in an old folk's home because that was the best place for him. It was not a question of money.

* * *

Old people's homes have a special function in society: to provide homes for the elderly who for physical, financial or social reasons are unable to maintain a home of their own. More often than not people go to an old folk's home to ward off loneliness. They do not want to burden their children and grandchildren, and to tell the truth, many would be unhappy living as guests (paying or not) of their children or nephews. They need the society of their own generation. And of course, a properly organized old people's home provides them the small services which increasing age and decreasing physical strength make essential. A proper old folk's home is not a charitable institution primarily; it is a home where elderly people of independent means (whether the independence has come from private sources or from pensions) can spend their twilight years in decent surroundings under solicitous care in the company of their peers.

* * *

Ontario and Canada have too few adequate homes for the aged. To provide more and change their character is one of the large public problems which must be met soon in this country where the population is aging. As things are now many elderly people are forced to occupy rented rooms in boarding houses, to foist themselves unwillingly on their children, to go to an institution not far removed in character from the old "poor house", or to occupy expensive bedrooms in hospitals.

* * *

Peterborough is more fortunate than some other Ontario cities in having Anson House and the House of Providence, both of which are quite pleasant and provide for people other than the destitute old. Nevertheless, many elderly folk in Peterborough are living uncongenially in single rooms, rather lonely and not happy. Either they feel that the two institutions are unsuitable—since both accept indigents as well as people who can pay their own way—or there is no room for them. Other elderly people are living their lives out in the two hospitals, occupying space intended for the sick, not rooms intended for old people fading away who need a certain amount of nursing care. There are old people in the Civic Hospital who have been there for a dozen years.

* * *

All across the country new types of places are needed to house our elderly people; places which will provide decent, homelike and even gracious accommodation, and, in conjunction with them, nursing homes for the chronically ill or feeble. In its way, Peterborough does well enough, but soon this will not suffice. Even today it is uneconomical to have new Civic Hospital rooms occupied by elderly people who are there merely because there is no other place for them. And Anson House and the House of Providence by no means meet all the requisites which our elderly should expect a provident and rich and good society to afford.

Comfort To The Enemy?

Britain has bought a million tons of grain from Russia: 200,000 tons of wheat, 425,000 tons of barley, 300,000 tons of corn and 75,000 tons of oats. This will comfort the Russians more than it will Canadian farmers, who expect to have this year one of the largest wheat crops in their history. Last year the United Kingdom bought the same quantities of coarse grains from Russia, but no wheat. She has contracted to buy three million tons of the current Canadian wheat crop, fifteen times as much wheat as she is buying from Russia. Nevertheless that is less than she bought last year from Canada, and even at that, the Canadian Wheat Board has had to reduce the price from $1.75 to $1.40 in order to get the hard-headed British to buy it.

In exchange for Russian wheat Britain will send the U.S.S.R. rubber, wool, tin, tea and machinery, materials which the Russians will find decidedly useful. Perhaps, following the British example, Canada should start importing from Russia: pulp wood for instance. We could sell that to the United States along with the ninety per cent. of our native pulp and newsprint which the U.S.A. takes from us now. We might even make some money out of it. And what would we sell to Russia in exchange for her pulpwood? Well, Canada has a surplus of old guns and ammunition. These would nicely augment the militarily-valuable materials Russia is getting from Britain. Do for scrap or a scrap, anyway.

Snippet Age

Everybody wants to know facts these days and they want them in easy capsules. It is a disease of our age. Gone are the leisurely hours of reading a thousand-page Scott romance. People do not want long stuff, hard stuff or imaginative stuff. Facts, not fancy; brevity, not discourses; what is on the surface and meets the practical eye, not philosophic speculation. That is what people apparently demand, and books, magazines and even newspapers are now catering to the taste. Novels are giving way to biographies, political commentative gossip, and how-to-do-it books (on all subjects from how to get around income taxes to how to believe in God). Articles of an informational kind are replacing short stories in magazines. And magazines are descending from mere digests to digests of digests and looky-quickies with snippets of information which take a minute to read and no digestive mental capacity at all.

We do not deny that facts can be interesting. There is now available a magazine of "quick Canadian facts" and these possibly extend the range and depth of a reader's awareness of Canada. Facts like these:

* * *

In addition to the federal and the provincial governments, Canada has about 4,000 municipal governing bodies.

In the first quarter of 1951 retail sales in Canada amounted to $2,154,700,000.

The Douglas fir tree of British Columbia often grows to a height of 300 feet and a diameter of 10 feet.

Canada's prairie area is not flat land; it rises from 800 feet elevation at Winnipeg to 3,500 feet at Calgary.

In the first four months of this year Canadian labour's supplementary income—that is, employers' contributions to pensions and welfare, workmen's compensation and unemployment insurance—amounted to $102,000,000.

In 1949 Newfoundland had the highest birth rate of any Canadian province, British Columbia the highest death rate, Alberta the highest marriage rate.

It is believed that about 2,000 years ago the ancestors of Canadian Eskimos lived among the forests north of Lake Superior.

More than 700,000 persons will be eligible for the old age pension payments which come into effect in January, 1952.

* * *

We tend to find such quick facts confusing and as like as not immediately after reading those above will be telling our next-door neighbour that the Douglas fir rises to an elevation of 800 feet at Winnipeg and that in the first four months of this year Newfoundland's birth rate qualified it for 700,000 old age pensions.

Facts by themselves have little validity, and that is why the brain so readily discards many of them before entrance is gained into the memory. A head cluttered by a thousand quick Canadian facts would be an awfully messy instrument and most unlovely to look at under a microscope lit by some magic epsilon ray. It is thinking from assimilated facts, not a parade of superficial facts, which is important. And more significant than the ability to face facts is the capacity to outpace them; to let thought free-wheel from the divine depths of the human heart to the heights of exalted speculation. Man does not nobly live nor humanity endure on snippets of facts.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"U.K. Makes Bid To Freeze Iran" says a Montreal Gazette headline. We would have thought Iran too hot for that.

The highest golf course in the world, we are informed, is in New Mexico. However, we have heard of golfers getting rather high on other courses.

Israel And The Jews Outside

By FLORA LEWIS
(in Tel Aviv)

THE Zionist Congress held recently in Jerusalem—it was the first since the establishment of the Jewish State—met head-on the deepest and most controversial question now facing the world's Jews. Unable to find an ahswer, the Congress in the end had to agree to sidestep the issue.

The debate essentially was on whether Jews outside Israel are exiles or not. The Israelis insisted that they were or, at any rate, that they could not consider themselves Zionists unless they felt they were exiles. Their principal, and effective, opponents were the American Jews, basically the underwriters of the Zionist effort, who insisted in long and emotional speeches that, far from being strangers in their American homes, they belonged there as much as Zionists as they did as Americans.

THE Congress, a world-wide affair, resolved itself most visibly into this debate between the Americans and the Israelis. With the righteous air of the convinced, the Israelis proclaimed that the establishment of the Jewish State completed one step in the Zionist programme and that the logic of the entire philosophy inevitably required the next step to be the gathering of all the Jews into the homeland now established.

The reaction of the American Jews was intense. While they did not contest that the original aims of political Zionism had been precisely the "ingathering of the exiles", they maintained that their own views had developed differently and could not now be fundamentally revised. In their minds, Zionism had grown to be the idea of helping other Jews to make and establish a homeland, first politically, then militarily, and now economically, but that it did not include the preaching of emigration from the United States for all who might wish to continue considering themselves Zionists, let alone all who wished to continue considering themselves Jews.

THE determination which the American Jews showed in demanding that they had full rights to call themselves Zionists, despite their refusal to emigrate or to advocate emigration, was remarkable. The Israeli reaction was one of prideful pique as well as one of profound disagreement. Those Jews who had decided and acted on the decision that Zionism meant living in Israel felt that the Americans were trying to claim rights of interference and of political judgement without accepting the corresponding responsibilities.

The underlying question was never raised. The Congress stopped at its argument of "What is a Zionist?" and never went on to the newly pressing but profoundly difficult question of "What is a Jew?". Still, it was there, and the spectators felt it continuously. To the religious among them, there was the gnawing question of whether Judaism had a place and a reason outside its new and concrete boundaries. They feel that what they are so anxious to preserve can no longer, with the real and living existence of a homeland, continue to survive in foreign environments, and that their major enemy, assimilation, a threat far greater than persecution, is bound to win far from the warm folds of the tribe on its territory.

THE Israeli case sought many outlets of persuasion. There was the simple statement of crede by Eliahu Dobkin, head of the Jewish Agency's Immigration and Absorption Department; "A Zionist who does not want to bear Zionism in vain has only one road open to him and to his sons after him....to migrate....to the one and only homeland of our people. To this new road of Zionism, the Congress must call every Zionist, wherever he may be".

In addition, there were both threat and cajolery. There were angry warnings that what happened in Germany might well happen in America. The security which the American Jews so happily and rather haughtily displayed was marked down as smug foolishness, and they were told that they should not be above considering Israel as a refuge for themselves as well as for others.

AT the same time, the Americans were wooed with honest praise for their technological skill, their cultural standards, their moral steadfastness, for which the Israelis admitted they had sore need to make their country the modern stronghold they desire. The Americans accepted the flattery and said they would pass it on to their youth, the real stake in the dispute, but they acidly turned down the appeal to fear.

The Americans were in a minority, but they were large enough to prevent passage of the majority resolution which would have required a three-fourths vote.

The ticklish nature of the problem and the extent of its hold on Israel was reflected in the role adopted by Prime Minister David Ben Gurion. He abstained from the debate during the Congress itself. But just before the convention opened he allowed himself expression of his thoughts:—

"Unconditional assistance to the State of Israel, compulsory Hebrew education, and the fostering of the halutzic (pioneer) movement—these are to my mind the three vital conditions for the existence of the Zionist movement and by their fulfilment a person shall be known as a Zionist. Nearly every Jew is ready to assist Israel; if a person claims the right to be called a Zionist, we shall ask more of him".

BEN GURION explained, with reference to British Jews at the time of Israel's birth pains, that he considered it the right and duty of Jews abroad to oppose their own governments if the policy of the latter was opposed to Israel's. That thesis was never debated; it was too delicate.

In the end, there was agreement to bypass the issue. Everyone realized that at the moment ideology was less important than subsistence, and that this depends on the Zionist movement's continuing to include both American Jews and Israelis. But the battle had been openly joined for the first time, and the fact that it brought forth such acerbity despite the pressure of circumstances forcibly struck participants with the realization that a solution cannot be put off indefinitely.

Arthur Koestler, the cause-seeking author, has proclaimed that emergence of the State of Israel has removed the burden of survival of the race from the shoulders of each individual; that for the first time in 2,000 years each Jew is now free to decide that he wants to go to Israel and live as a Jew, or that he does not wish to be a Jew any longer, without risking the accusation of betrayal of his own conscience. The Zionist Congress, almost against its own wishes, was pushed up against that thesis and shied away, but with the knowledge that one day soon, as Jewish history goes, it will have to stand up and decide.

Letters To The Editor

IN SEARCH OF WORK

Sir: Today—at this very crucial time in my life—I cannot refrain from writing the thoughts that are uppermost in my mind—for never have I experienced such a cruel education as I have these past three months.

Since June 15 I have been wandering from pillar to post searching for a job. I am not a skilled tradesman — nor have I a degree from a school of knowledge—but I am not transient labour. I just happen to own my own home—and would like to keep it if possible—and also keep my wife and three children from starving.

From 1943 to 1946, being of army age, I had a job—fighting to protect my own country—and shedding a lot of my own blood to do so. Now—I am "unwept, unhonoured and unsung"—and unemployed.

Each night completely tired out from tramping the streets from one factory to another, asking for work, I toss feverishly in my bed—hearing in my ears the consistently repeated words— "No job today".

What is a man to do? Do I have to leave my own city, my home and my family to go elsewhere to look for a job? Am I to believe that absolutely no labourers are taken on day after day?

At this stage, I am not only completely discouraged but nearly heart broken to think that there isn't a job available in this city for a young, honest, willing, industrious worker—for such I am. Maybe I am refused a job because I look "too clean and well-fed" Such were the remarks made by one sympathetic, responsible party—"You look well-fed for a man who has been out of work for three months". Thanks to my friends, my parents, and my garden, we are still eating.

Dear editor, will you please head this letter "Wanted—A Job". Telephone 6782.

Signed,
"DESPERATE".

(Ed. Note: "White-collar" jobs are rather scarce now, and there is never an abundance of openings in them because the turn-over is small compared with the fluidity in manual labour. The writer should keep in close touch with the Dominion Employment Office, George Street.)

WINTER COAL ON CREDIT

Sir: According to an account in the Examiner on Sept. 11, coal sales for this year are down 20 to 30 per cent., which may well lead to a serious situation this winter. Is it not possible that the coal merchants themselves are responsible for this situation with their new restrictions on buying? Last winter we burned eight tons of coal in our furnace and kitchen stove, which cost then $200. When I made our final payment on it in March I asked about the new restrictions and the reply was "fifty per cent. down and the balance in sixty days." We are buying our home and with increased taxes along with all the other rising costs of living, it is just impossible to save the necessary amount to put in our winter's supply of fuel. Even having boarders in the home adds very little, if anything, to the family budget at today's food prices.

Are the dealers not further ahead to deliver the coal to the houses directly from the cars in summer, thus save handling it twice, accept a reasonable down payment and monthly installments? I venture to say the average account would be paid by spring, and with the present system, householders will be buying a ton or two at a time, whatever they can afford, and at that rate the coal bill won't be paid until spring anyway.

If the merchants are unable to deliver a flood of small orders, some of us may not have coal when we need it, which would be a hardship, but this is a situation which has been forced on us. There are other "musts" for living besides coal—food, clothing, taxes, medical care, and general upkeep to a home—just to name a few. Some households can ease the situation when the husband and wife both work, but there are others, like our own, where there are small children and we can't do this.

I don't think the coal merchants are responsible for the high cost of living, but I do think they are cutting their own noses as well as those of the consumers, with their present restrictions.

HARRIED HOUSEWIFE.

(Ed. Note: Whether a coal dealer gives credit, and how much over what period depends on the coal dealer himself. Government credit restrictions do not interfere with it.)

BROKEN ARM

Sir: In reading the paper tonight I saw in the Voice of the People a letter by a Mr. Gates having the same trouble as I had last winter.

I too wonder what the city pays insurance for as I fell and broke my arm on a slippery sidewalk and the adjuster came and gave me no satisfaction. It cost me $70 between hospital and doctors and I have been a widow for 17 years and most of the time work for my living but they did not care about that. All I asked was to meet my bills. Where does the money go, into their pocket I presume.

Yours,
A TAXPAYER FOR 40 YEARS.

COMPULSION IN CIVIL DEFENCE

Gen. Worthington himself referred to Swedish measures during a visit to the Sault, but expressed the view that such things probably could not be done in this country. This is an assumption we somehow find irritating. Why can't they? Can't we afford them, though Sweden can? Or is it the element of "compulsion" that rules them out for Canada? Why should it?—Sault Ste. Marie Star.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

This know also, that in the last days perilous times shall come....But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and hast been assured of, knowing of whom thou has learned them; and that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus. (II Tim. 3: 1, 14, 15.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Stand therefore, having your loins girt about with truth, and having on the breastplate of righteousness....And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. (Eph. 6: 14, 17.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart....

Let us therefore come boldly unto the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy, and find grace to help in time of need. (Heb. 4: 12, 16.)

Ovation In Ottawa

(N.G.G. in Ottawa Journal)

The Lord Mayor of London and his bewitching Lady Mayoress, whether they realize it or not, received something while visiting the Capital as rare as blue snow—a spontaneous ovation from an Ottawa crowd.

Even the most splendid figure, the most eminent visitor, cannot count on stirring spectators here.

A half-hearted handclap or a thin "hurray", quickly dead, is about par for the Connaught Place course whether the distinguished guest be statesman or general, diplomat or divine.

Sometime ago, it is true, France's President Auriol evoked a single, high-pitched cry of "Vive la France!", and President Truman an almost whispered "Good Old Harry!" but these were tiny islands of enthusiasm in a vast sea of apathy.

Blase or bucolic—depending upon whether the viewer is a native or an exile from Toronto—Ottawa crowds just don't give.

But they did on Saturday afternoon and that right heartily, with good humour and zest.

Whether it was the elation bred of Summer's unexpected flare-up or the jubilation of Rough Riders' first Big Four victory, the small crowd of several hundred gave Sir Denys and Lady Patricia Lowson rounds of hearty applause, beaming faces and head-nodding approval.

For once the welcome was not self-conscious. It was warm, friendly and genuine.

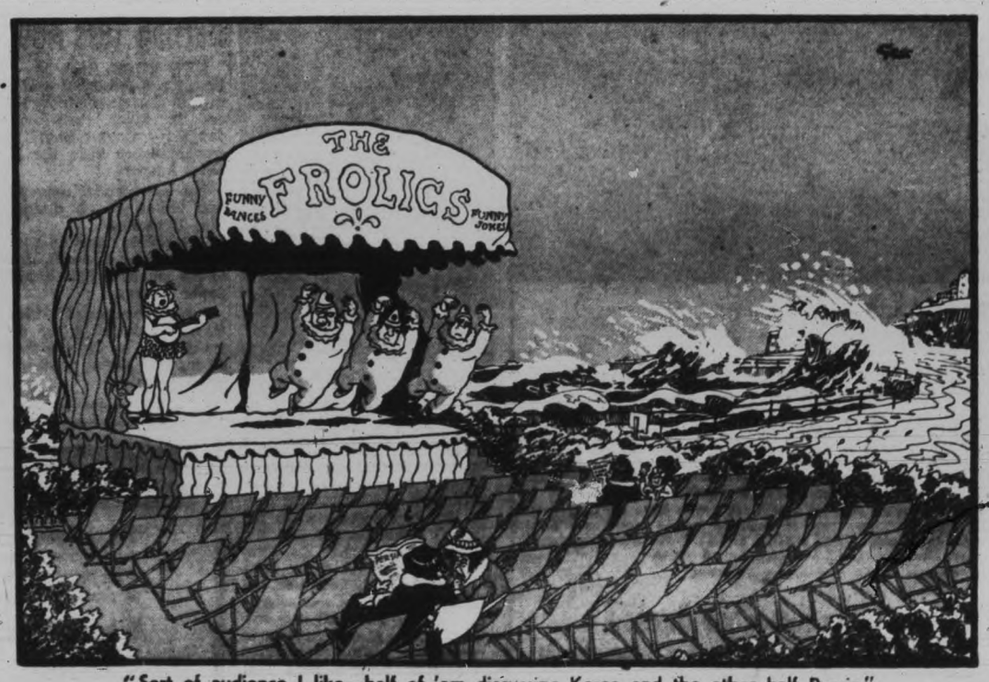
Bonar Law Biography For New Brunswick

(U.K. Information Office)

When Mr. Robert Blake, a Fellow of Christ Church, Oxford, has finished his life of Andrew Bonar Law, the British statesman born in New Brunswick, the papers he has used are to come to Canada. They will eventually go to the Bonar Law-Bennett Library at the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton. It is also possible that a vast collection of papers left by the great Liberal wartime leader David Lloyd-George may also come to Fredericton.

Mr. Frank Owen is now at work in England on a 3-volume life based on these papers, which were acquired by Lord Beaverbrook.

The Manchester Guardian asks: "Where will the Lloyd George papers go? There may be one or two claimants from Wales. Lord Beaverbrook says they should go to Fredericton, because that will be the centre for research when students wish to work on the war of 1914-18."



"Sort of audience I like—half of 'em discussing Korea and the other half Persia."

Bowling along towards Haliburton village this week, we passed a spot just north of Minden named the Evergreen Cabins. Four small dead evergreen shrubs were the only indication of the label.

"Some people just have no idea," said my cab driver.

I wouldn't say that the people of Haliburton have no idea about fixing their places up, however. After booming about the Kawarthas for many years and having a quick look at the neighboring playground district to the north-west, I would say that we were the ones without a clue.

Road signs, cabin parks, hotels, private homes and resorts—everywhere one looks—are very very attractive. It must make the tourist feel good just to travel along Highway 35. It certainly gave me that impression.

Our district operators would well be advised to drive up thet-away some week-end soon—the colors are already changing in the forests—and pickup a few ideas of what can be done to spruce up their own places with paint, if nothing else.

Haliburtonians are making a strong bid for the Muskoka Lakes trade, and winning. They have their eyes on the staid tourist business of the Kawarthas, too. An earnest bit of idea-gathering and application, right away, might prevent the black years of the Haliburton Exodus to come. But to ignore the situation altogether would be sheer suicide.

Water Conservation With a Vengeance

There was a time not long ago when I would not have dared mention the location of any wildlife haunts. Beaver have become so commonplace, and more than a nuisance in some places, perhaps the rule may be relaxed.

Down Norwood way on Lloyd Bennett's farm, east and south of Highway 7, a colony of seven or eight animals have constructed a 15-foot dam on a small stream that joins the Ouse River. Lloyd has broken up the dam half a dozen times and so have conservation officers, twice. Still the beaver rebuild and are causing a continual flooding problem on the Bennett farm. The animals are so bold and confident that they pay no attention to sightseers as they go about their busy ways.

Hope all you fishermen and hunters saw my supplementary column on Wednesday of this week giving all the dope on fishing and hunting season dates. Too long for this space, so it had to run in advance. This info should be worth clipping out and saving and should settle a lot of arguments between you, too. And don't tell us you weren't informed.

To all Trent waterway travellers: Canal locks for navigational purposes are now open only five days a week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Closed on Sundays. And the system closed for the season altogether on Oct. 15.

♣ ♣ ♣ ♣

Zone president Hugh Plowman and Cam Rowatt of the Ontario Federation of Hunters and Anglers attended an executive session a week ago Sunday at Fort William. The main subject of their discussions seemed to be the pollution of the Seine River caused by mining operations of the Steep Rock Iron Mines. You can get some idea of the operation from today's WEEKEND paper.

Some duck hunters have been phoning this office in a bit of agitation about the north and south shooting zones, that is, the use of Highway 7 as a boundary. This does not apply to game birds, but to deer.

And some deer hunters have been phoning, too.

Is it right that Cavan township council have authorized the passing of a bylaw to prohibit deer hunting this year in the township? And South Monaghan as well?

It is true that a bylaw has been prepared and authorized by both councils. They are now awaiting the sanction of the Department of Lands and Forests at Queen's Park. I will try to let you know the answer in plenty of time.

Trout fishermen are packing up their gear tonight as trout fishing season—with the exception of lakers—ends.

Are they satisfied with a good season of sport?

The general opinion among the fly-tie boys is that the sport has been better than ever and they are quite satisfied with (a) the department's restocking program and (b) their increasing skill and knowledge of county streams. Since trout fishing pressure has increased by leaps and bounds during the past few years, that is indeed good news. The supply, so far, is exceeding the demand.

Down Preston way, says the Kitchener-Waterloo Record, Walter Zieman is all steamed up about a whopping green bass he caught recently. It weighed all of 4 pounds, 9¾ ounces. The deputy game warden allowed that it was the biggest large-mouth he had ever heard of being taken in Ontario.

All I can say is that this game warden should be shifted up here to the Kawarthas for a season or two just to open his eyes. We won't brag again about the 14-pounder that was taken a couple of years ago in Stony Lake but we will say that 8-pounders are as common as perch up here.

Your Garden:

Plenty To Do In Early Fall

By HENRY PREE, NEA

There's plenty to keep us busy outside these early fall days. Just to sit down and go over the list is enough to give one a slight backache.

Despite the advice of well meaning neighbors the asparagus tops should be left standing until after seeds ripen so as to give the roots a chance to store up growing vitamins for next year's crops. Other than spraying with calcium arsenate to catch any left-over beetles there is nothing to do until the tops brown. Then remove them by cutting at the ground line.

Unused rows in the vegetable garden should be fertilized lightly and spaded, raked and sown to some cover crop like Rosen's rye, Winter vetch, or buckwheat. A cover crop benefits the garden in many ways, chiefly because it prevents the loss of surface and plant food and adds humus to the soil as it decays after being turned under in spring as soon as the soil is diggable.

A few tricks now will pay dividends next summer.

Lack of rain has brought many birds to our ever-filled bird bath. The wise gardener keeps the bath well supplied with water, especially if a drouth comes.

Plans for autumn planting are being made to insure a good selection of a few choice shade-enduring evergreens.

Our back yard is much too shady for both perennials and annuals and in their place we will plant mountain laurel, leucothoe, Carolina rhododendron, azaleas and Oregon holly grape. These evergreens will bloom before the two large maples are in full leaf. Specie tulips, narcissus, winter aconite, and scillas will supply the color in early spring.

Narcissus plantings that have been blooming poorly because of overcrowding should be dug up, the bulbs sorted and the best of them replanted in an enriched soil. A fertilizer strong in phosphorus and plenty of peat moss or woods earth should be well mixed with the soil. The bulbs should bloom normally next spring.

The final trimming of hedges and clipping of evergreens that have been kept to a form should be undertaken this weekend. It is just as necessary to prune roses, clematis, wisteria and other vines as it is trees and shrubs. All old, ungainly and unproductive canes should be removed. This will give more room for the young and more vigorous shoots.

After observing an unkempt flower border the old gardener remarked to the garden club, "don't let your flower garden run down just because it is hot and dry. Cut out all the dead flowering stalks, keep the soil stirred and weeds removed and the edges trim—and water if possible."

Gardening Questions

Q—Please tell me if evergreens and flowering shrubs and trees may be moved at this time?

A—All evergreens may be moved with safety at this time. Deciduous shrubs should wait until the foliage yellows or is killed by frost. Flowering Dogwood, Magnolia and similar fleshy rooted trees move best in early spring—just as soon as the sap rises and the buds begin to swell.

Q—What is the correct procedure for planting grape vines?

A—Space the holes eight to 10 feet apart and dig broad and deep enough to accommodate the entire root system. Trim the roots slightly and cut back the top to four or five strong buds. Fill the hole up to the right depth for planting with compost or rich soil and set the vine so that the second bud is just below finished grade. Plant firmly and water well and place a mulch of strawy manure or other organic matter around each vine.

Q—Why do my Madonna and Regel lilies bloom poorly and disappear after two or three years? —H. H.

A—Without knowing the type of your soil and other growing conditions my first guess is a heavy soil too retentive of moisture. Lily bulbs must have a fertile well-drained, sandy loam soil. They will not tolerate a soggy location. Sunlight, too, is an essential factor, and the bulbs must not be planted deeper than four inches.

Church Turkey: 125 Pounds

By JIM ENGLISH

Outside the little brick church that is 112 year old, little knots of people stood, chatting and waiting for the fowl supper to start.

They waited, speculating on the quality of the crops, the quality of the turkeys they were about to eat, and the possibilities of rain before the doors opened.

The church, hugged to the lee of a hill in Emily township, was the reason for the fowl supper. The 112th anniversary had been celebrated the Sunday before, and to follow that up, the parishioners could think of nothing that would mark the anniversary better than a fowl supper.

The word went 'round to the housewives. Needed for the meal would be five huge turkeys, four pies from each of 17 cooks, dozens of jellies, many jars of pickles, and pounds and pounds of peas and carrots.

This was to be supper the district would remember for a long time. Rector's warden Stanley McColl and his co-workers reckoned they would have to keep ticket sales below 200.

This was necessary because the dinner was to be held in the square, low-roofed drive shed by the southwest corner of the church. There was room for no more than 185 hungry people.

So, the ticket sellers limited their efforts to the immediate district. Even so, they reported they could have sold 500 tickets.

The Rev. Charles Richmond, newly appointed to St. John's Anglican church, Emily township, arrived in Canada from Africa not long before, thought the supper a good idea. He invited ministers from the district and the rural dean, the Rev. Harold Hesketh, from Lindsay.

Busy Workers

Long before the dinner, a busy crowd of workers descended on the building. Walter McGee, one of the eldest parishioners, carved the five turkeys. They weighed 24 pounds on the average—almost 125 pounds of turkey.

Gallons of ice cream in insulated canvas sacks were tucked into cool corners of the shed. They were to go with the apple pies.

A whole long table was covered with plates holding slices of apple pies. The tables were set, and great helpings of turkey and stuffing were heaped on the plates.

Then the people started to arrive. Eventually, more than two dozen cars parked in and outside the church grounds. They clumped together, and called to friends, and wandered into the church to sit down until the supper was ready.

Inside the shed, there had been a bit of trouble. The oil stove that was to have heated the carrots and peas had gone on the blink. Quickly, the cooks moved the huge pot onto a wood stove already being used to heat the coffee.

185 People Sit Down

Then, the dinner started. Grace was said and the 185 hungry people at the long tables fell to. They made short work of the heavy slices of turkey cut not long before from bulging breasts and thighs.

Scores of cups of coffee were emptied, filled, and emptied again. As the eaters finished with the main course, on came the generous slices of apple pie, garnished with big helpings of vanilla ice cream.

The turkey had been good; the meat was moist, tender, and the browned skin crisp and succulent. The pies were just as good in their ways; pastry mixed and baked to a nice balance between shortness and flakiness, and the filling spiced delicately with cinnamon.

It was a dinner the people weren't likely to forget for a while.

JUST BEFORE THE TURKEYS BECAME FAIR GAME for more than 180 hungry people, these pictures were taken at a fowl supper in Emily township. The supper was held in the drive shed of St. John's Anglican Church, south of Highway 7 on the road to Lindsay. It was one of the celebrations that marked the church's 112th anniversary. TOP LEFT, Walter McGee, one of the oldest parishioners, is shown winding up the job of carving five turkeys that weighed a total of 125 pounds. RIGHT, Mrs. Arthur Jackson (Left) and Mrs. Ken Strain sniff and stir the coffee to make sure it is just right. And BELOW, nine-year-old Viola Kelly gingerly filches a turkey bone not yet cleaned of its meat.—Examiner Staff Photos.

WINDFALL FRUIT

Windfall Pears, slightly damaged, are excellent for baking. Most keeping pears, such as the Beurre Rance, Easter Beurre, Swan's Egg, Chaumontel, and St. Germain, are excellent when baked without any addition; the juice forms a rich syrup, without sugar. They require merely to be wiped clean and put into a dish; if heaped up, so much the better. In this way, wind-fallen fruit, otherwise useless, may be turned to good account. The Marie Louise pear is a first-rate one for stewing.

At Leyburn there was painted over a shop, "Bride cakes, and funeral biscuits."

Warsaw Days On The Indian River Drive

By RICHARD F. CHOATE

Instalment V

In no part of the Trent system has the history of the changing drainage conditions been more legibly written than in the Indian river-bed.

Some half a mile above Warsaw that river divides, one branch forming the village millpond and tailrace while the other to the east, known as the "Back Creek" (or Rock Road Creek), flows more rapidly over its well-scoured floor of flat limestone and rejoins the parent stream a little below the village.

The first Warsaw mill was completed in 1836 by Thomas Choate, the present writer's grandfather. Later he operated four mills at the site. In addition to the grist mill were lumber and carding mills and a factory, chairs from which (comfortable chairs, too, of honest-to-goodness wood as durable as the wooden walls of Old England) are still in use in the district. The grist mill was rebuilt or repaired several times after fires. In the rebellion year, 1837, it provided shelter for the soldiers then being mustered in Dummer. In 1837-38 the intake channel at Gilchrist's Bay, Stony Lake, was blasted out by Thomas Choate with a force of some 25 or 30 men to permit an increased flow of water for the mill at Warsaw and that of Dr. John Gilchrist, the first to be established at Keene, where the river empties into Rice Lake.

About 1890, the last log drive was floated down via the Back Creek, branch of the river. The trees had been cut east of White Lake on or about the site of the present county forest. Doughty Brothers, George Payne Jr. and others were interested in the cutting. The drive was moved to Rice Lake, thence to Deseronto where it was sold to the Rathburn interests, through their agent David Rose, Sr. of Warsaw. For years after this, however, large numbers of logs were held by booms in the millpond and cut by the sawmill, great piles of lumber filling the millyard.

Using The River

Here on, in or about the Indian river millstream the "Young Idea" of successive generations learned not only "how to shoot" but how to burl logs; to swim; to paddle; to catch bass and 'longe (not to mention the giant frogs which yielded their succulent legs as penalty for their overweening curiosity about red flannel and ganghooks); to skate about merrily leaping bonfires; to cool their maple "taffy" on the remnants of the winter's snow; to play hookey and hockey and soccer (then called " association") football under the tuition of teachers who were graduates of the celebrated Norwood High school football team, so long of top-level standing in the province. Perhaps it is a persistence of the old stamina of pre-arena days that has won for Warsaw so many hockey victories in recent years.

And perhaps there may be a grain or two of truth in the words of Sir William Beach Thomas, the eminent British writer who so succesfully carried the breath of the country into Fleet Street in the days of Lord Northcliffe; "The urban mind, that chief curse of civilization, may be found in the country, but it happens often that rural mind is enhanced by a reaction against urban surroundings."

The exciting scenes witnessed each spring in and around the mills in the years before the stop-log controls (crude enough at first) were established at Gilchrist's Bay are hard to imagine today. Floods of wasted water which would be impounded and held in reserve by the control works of today swept through both branches of the Indian river but it was the containing milldam at Warsaw that had to bear the brunt of the assault. Once or twice the dam was carried out with a mighty rush. And thereby hangs a fabulous tale of stranded fish.

In the annual season of uncertainty and high tension, as the waters rose relentlessly nearer and nearer to the top of the retaining wall, vigils were kept night and day.

Tragedy and comedy were mingled in those anxious hours when good neighbors equipped with shovels and saws and axes were on guard to repair any breach.

What of it, if a mistake was made in the dark depths of the flume when the village blacksmith handed to his perspiring but unrecognized co-worker, the Presbyterian minister, the passing pail of foaming lager? The voltage of a kerosene lantern is so low; and it wasn't really a time for the niceties of the shorter Catechism—and, oh well, can't a Scottish dominie enjoy a joke as well as the next one?

And again—what of it if the village shoemaker, wet and weary, should seek repose in the adjoining flour mill? In the presence of an emergency, who should be censorious if he emerged looking like a pillar of salt or an elongated modern "donut" in its coat of white talcum?

LOCAL TIMBERMEN CAPTURE EASTERN ONTARIO LACROSSE CROWN

Beat the Mounties, 11 To 5 Before Crowd Of 4,000 In Exciting Playoff Contest

By CEC. PERDUE

Beating Mimico Mounties 11-5 here last night, the Petes' Timbermen captured the Eastern Canada senior "A" lacrosse championship in four games to one. A crowd of close to 4,000 packed Miller Bowl and saw a swell playoff scrap. It was hard, clean lacrosse all the way with the Petes having a margin of play in the first half but having to fight hard to maintain their lead in the even second half. They led 4-0 the first quarter, edged Mimico 2-1 in the second, held their own in a 4-4 third heat and got the lone fourth-quarter goal. The visitors drew three of the four minor penalties, and they were minus the Dixon brothers, whose mother is seriously ill.

Congrats To Petes

Following the speedy and exciting game, which was finished early, the losers congratulated the jubilant victors as the big crowd milled happily around. There were handshakes on all sides, and pictures taken before the tired local gladiators showered, dressed and headed off to a party celebration. They will be winging their way west on Sept. 21 for the Mann Cup finals in Vancouver.

Mimico did not go down without a battle. After the first frame, they settled away and fought fiercely from the goalie out. They really rolled in the third quarter to bang home four straight goals and whittle the Petes' lead to 6-5, before the Crowe crew got untracked and rapped in four themselves in this exciting chapter. After that, the Petes played carefully and well deserved the win.

Led The Attack

Jerry Fitzgerald proved the main Peterborough gun with three goals and an assist. Arn Dugan slapped in two and aided on another. Two points each went to Harry Wipper, Ike Hildebrand, Ross Powless and Dootch Vitarelli, while Russ Slater scored one and Nit O'Hearn aided on one. The whole team went good in this important fray, making few mistakes. Moon Wootton was his usual brilliant self in goal to keep down the enemy count. Don McPhail scored a pair and helped on one for the gallant Mounties, Ken Lytle scoring two, Chuck Simpson one, Denny Peterson (checked closely) aiding on a pair, and Hal Knox assisting once. Red Hartley made a flock of swell saves in their net.

The first frame was pretty much the Petes' inning, though they didn't do too much the last half of it. Wipper's hot shot on a pass from Powless opened scoring, and Fitzgerald eluded two checkers to whizz home an angle drive to make it 2-0. Slater burned one by Hartley then after Hildebrand tricked them around the net for the passout. The latter got another shortly as he faked a check around defence on his step-and-a-half gallop with Mason's pass. Lytle drew a slashing penalty and Slater scored but the gong beat him as the frame finished.

Gets A Quickie

It took Dugan but 19 seconds in the second chukker to tally in close from Fitzgerald. Chard was gated for slashing and was still off when Lytle took Peterson's long pass-up to blast one by Wootton at close range. Twice Vitarelli hit the post and both goalies were busy in this fast, even period. Dugan notched a nice one from O'Hearn with seconds to go, racing close in to outwit Hartley.

Lytle returned from an interference penalty in the third, and Mimico caught fire to score four in a row. McPhail finished off a play nicely from Peterson and Knox for the first one. Ashbee missed on a breakaway, and Lytle's hot angle drive on a pass from McPhail hit a net corner. McPhail beat a check to score a smart solo, and then Simpson's backhander hit the open net when Moon came out of his crease after a ball. The Petes finally started to click as Wipper slipped around defence to bullet the ball into the hemp. Powless tallying another fast as he hit home a rebound from Curly Mason's shot. Vitarelli took Dugan's corner passout on the run to score, and Fitzgerald added one more at 14.54 with Vitarelli's pass.

Played Carefully

It was hard and quite even in the fourth with both goalies stopping some hot thrusts. They changed players often and the Petes took few chances with their lead. Fitzgerald got the only goal at 10.16 in fast from the side with a bouncing shot. Ted Downer was gated for slashing and O'Hearn followed for a similar offence. Dootch hit the post again and Fitz pulled a nice try, but there was no more scoring in the game. Teams:

Mimico: Goal, Hartley; defence, McPhail and H. Downer; centre, Hayes; wings, Stocks and Chard; rover, Horwood; alternates, Simpson, Peterson, Lytle, Pritchard, Knox, T. Downer and Allwell.

Petes: Goal, Wootton; defence, Fitzgerald and O'Hearn; centre, Thorpe; wings, Ashbee and Dugan; rover, Vitarelli; alternates, Magee, Wipper, Mason, Slater, Hildebrand, Powless and Creighton.

Referees, L. Vipond and P. Bain.

CHAMPIONS OF EASTERN CANADA—After leading the OLA senior race for most of the schedule, and rubbing out Fergus Thistles in semi-final playoffs, the Peterborough Timbermen eliminated Mimico Mounties here Friday night before 4,000 noisy fans to capture the Eastern Canada senior "A" lacrosse finals. They fly west Sept. 21 to playoff for the Mann Cup in Vancouver and the Dominion title. The champions are shown above: Back row, left to right—Coach Don Crowe, Manager Bob Curtin, Trainer Gunner Lynch, Dootch Vitarelli, Ross Powless, Dr. Herb Young, Jerry Fitzgerald, Arn Dugan, Don Ashbee, Ken Kingston, Red Creighton (assistant coach) and President Bob Peirson; second row, left to right—Mick Magee, Nit O'Hearn, Moon Wootton, Harry Wipper, Russ Slater and Bob Thorpe; in front—Curly Mason, Joe Whitnell, Mascot David Creighton, Ike Hildebrand and Emmett Creighton. — (Photo by Pitchford, Roy Studio)

Kingston Rink Victorious After Accident

After surviving a bad auto accident at Marmora and being given first aid by a doctor, Mrs. Edney's Kingston rink taxied from Marmora to Peterborough and not only played three games, but won them all for first honors. Mrs. McCutcheon, Oshawa, came second and Mrs. W. Whitty's local rink was the other three-game winner.

With rinks entered from Lindsay, Kingston, Cobourg, Oshawa, Port Hope and Peterborough the local ladies' lawn bowling club held their last 1951 open tournament yesterday. The weather was ideal, the greens in good condition and the competition keen.

Three Stay Here

The prizes were split 50-50, three going out of town and three staying home. As is always at this time of the year, the games were played in the daytime and were all over by 7:30 o'clock.

Too much cannot be said of the six Kingston ladies motoring to the tournament. The car was so badly wrecked that the ladies taxied to Peterborough. How some of them were not killed is a wonder. They had patches on their faces and arms and a couple were quite lame. It takes a little more than ordinary nerve to do things like that.

Winners

First, Kingston—Mrs. McCullough, Mrs. MacCorquodale, Mrs. Edney, skip.

Second, Oshawa—Mrs. Durland, Mrs. Clements, Mrs. McCutcheon, skip.

Third, Peterborough—Mrs. H. Harris, Mrs. Cameron, Mrs. W. Whitty, skip.

Fourth, Peterborough—Mrs. C. Crocker, Mrs. H. Northrop, Mrs. R. Dyer, skip.

Fifth, Peterborough—Mrs. J. Knights, Mrs. P. Bartley, Mrs. L. Ackford, skip.

Sixth, Port Hope—Mrs. Plummer, Mrs. McLaughlin, Mrs. Highfield, skip.

Fine Boxing Club For Padding

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP). — The State Athletic Commission Friday fined the International Boxing Club $5,000 for "padding" ringside rows for last Wednesday night's Randy Turpin-Ray Robinson middleweight title bout at the Polo Grounds.

The penalty was the maximum permitted by law, short of suspension or loss of licence, and was the heaviest ever assessed by the commission.

Chairman Eddie Eagan said the IBC violated the rules of the commission by both lettering and numbering four rows of ringside seats.

According to commission rules, the rows must be numbered and not lettered. The IBC listed one row as 4 and followed it with 4A. The same thing was done for rows 6, 8, and 10. Thus a ticket-holder with a seat listed for row 11, actually wound up in the 15th row.

Harry Markson, managing director of the IBC, said the additional four rows totalled about 1,000 seats. At $30 a ticket, that amounted to $30,000.

Sidelined 60 Days After 9th Round TKO

NEW YORK, Sept. 15 (AP). — Jackie Keough, Cleveland middleweight, is sidelined for at least 60 days after his ninth-round knockout by Eugene (Silent) Hairston Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

Keough was out for more than 30 seconds after Hairston landed a beautiful right to the jaw at 1:29 of the ninth. Finally he stirred and sat up on a stool near the ropes. A few seconds later he was able to proceed to his corner under his own power.

No more than 1,500 fans, lowest Garden turnout in years, saw the underdog Keough, a Randy Turpin sparring partner, give the deaf-mute from the Bronx a close fight.

Dr. Alexander Schiff recommended the 60-day rest for Keough after a thorough examination.

Maxwell Meets Gagliardi For Golf Title

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 15—(AP).—Collegian Billy Maxwell and lawyer Joe Gagliardi, a pair of comparative unknowns six days ago, square off today in a 36-hole match for the 51st national amateur golf championship.

Gagliardi, the Mamaroneck, NY, barrister who is the tournament's giant killer with victories over defending champion Sam Urzetta and Charley Coe, also breezed into the final. He cut down 16-year-old Tommy Jacobs, Mentebelle, Calif., 6 and 5.

Jacobs, national junior champion and youngest player in 47 years to reach the tournament's semi-final, was no match for the experienced Gagliardi.

Withering Look

Gagliardi travels the course with a little chair. He sits and watches with a cold-steel look that seems to wither his opponents. At least it did Urzetta and Coe.

Gagliardi's play has been nothing to write home about. He's 28 strokes over par for the seven rounds.

Maxwell, the North Texas State College golf captain, doesn't seem to be bothered by anything. He walks the course with his head down, looking to neither right nor left. His concentration is never broken.

The collegian has played the best golf of the tournament. After a first-round bye, he played six rounds in eight strokes over par. His short game has been sensational, especially his putting.

The overall picture presents Gagliardi with the experience and Maxwell with the better fundamental game.

Merchants Take Win First Game In Series

By The Canadian Press.

Oshawa Merchants Friday night took the first game 2-1 in a best-of-five semi-final series against Windsor Panthers. The Ontario Baseball Association contest was umpires' night as Windsor loaded the bases in the ninth and then batter Jeff Hillier stepped out of the box just as the third strike was delivered.

Umpire Calladine gave Oshawa the game.

Manager Mike Mellis won his 12th game of the season for the Merchants, scattering four hits and nine strikeouts along the route.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Been waiting quite a spell to burst out in print and in song thusly:

Thirty days hath September,
The 14th we'll all remember;
Ye Timbermen recall it best—
It meant that they'd be headin' west;
Mounties didn't get their Mann
Cup, that is, but the Petes sure can!

* * * * * *

Ere the end of next week, Don Crowe and his classy lacrossers will take to the air for Vancouver and the Mann Cup finals. Wrapped up the Eastern Canada senior "A" finals 11-5 here last eve to take the best-of-seven series four games to one. A disappointment to a hundred or so ardent Mimico fans who journeyed here for the fray, but highly pleasing to some 4,000 cheering local fans in Miller Bowl. The biggest crowd of the season. Well, they saw a good game, plenty fast, clean and exciting. The Petes earned it but they had to battle for the decision, the game Mountaineers (minus the Dixon brothers) making it a fight. They were down only 6-5 well out in the third quarter.

* * * * * *

Best Period Of Year

Referee Piper Bain, who sees a lot of games, remarked to us between periods: "That third quarter is the best period I've seen this year. And don't tell me that I don't see much of a game!" The Mounties caught fire to blast home four goals in a hurry and almost put the Petes on the run. But the champs settled away and in turn blazed four into the Mimico mesh before the bell. That settled it, as the locals got the lone goal in the fourth frame. Only thing that smelled wrong in this melee was a nosey (or noseless) skunk that got under the east stands at halftime and caused some discomfort for a space. Some of the fans loudly accused the refs of causing the odor, but this time it was a skunk. The officiating was okay.

* * * * * *

We'll name no stars for the Timbermen. They all gave it their best from Goalie Moon Wootton out. Some scored more goals than others, and some were better at checking—but there were no loafers. They wanted to wrap it up at home and they did that neatly. Play was quite clean, despite some stiff checking, and there were no hard feelings after. Congrats all around. The winners got a lot of pats on the back, pictures taken, and a party later. There'll be other celebrations again, but they'll be busy soon packing up for the big trip and the big test. They want to show their large and loyal following that they're the best lacrossers in the country. A week from Monday they have the chance to prove it out west.

* * * * * *

Give Credit Where Due

When the five originals backed hefty notes to rebuild Miller Bowl—Doug Miller, Verte Reynolds, Harry Tudhope, Pete King and Ken Kingston—they couldn't have foreseen the Petes so soon making a bid for the Dominion senior "A" crown. But they had hopes for the future, hopes now being fulfilled. Much credit for this year's strong squad must go to Manager Bob Curtin. Yes, big Bob (or Pup as he was known when starring on defence in lacrosse and in the line for Orfuns and Argos in the grid game) put a lot of time and effort last winter, spring and early summer into lining up the best players available. A capable and well-liked fellow.

* * * * * *

It's just 20 years ago since box lacrosse was introduced to Peterborough fans. The old field game, once highly popular here, had folded in the 20s, never to return. A few centres experimented with the abbreviated (or box) type of the game in 1930 and several local enthusiasts—notably Doug Miller and Pete King—started that sport in the Brock St. rink the following summer. It was played on various sites about town till a box was built down on George St. The sport was suspended during the war and the box torn down. With the players all back from the fighting front, the new box (known as Miller Bowl) was built. The Petes went on to win provincial senior "B" honors and three years ago stepped up to senior "A" company, the best there is in the gutted-stick game. This year they took it all in the east and are heading westward.

Baby Tuna Wins Tournament For British Team

By JACK BRAYLEY.

WEDGEPORT, NS, Sept. 15 — (CP).—The most important fish of the 8th international tuna tournament, won by a nearly-all-veteran British Empire team, was the smallest and it put up the shortest fight.

When Maj. Cyril Frisby, the London stockbroker who made the crucial catch, smilingly brought the bluefin into the cheering crowd in the wharf at the end of the three-day world big game fishing classic, someone yelled "don't bother hoisting that one, Major, carry it up in your arms."

But it wasn't that small—in fact it was an important 269 pounds, and it won the British team their first victory in the post war series of matches, led last year by Chile.

Here is the scoreboard:

British Empire, three fish for 2,039½ points.

United States, two fish for 1,853 points.

Scandinavia, two fish including the 805-pounder biggest of the tournament, for 1,821 1-3 points.

Cuba, one fish for 663 2-3 points.

The scoring is based on poundage, biggest fish of the day and tournament and most fish.

Friday's Catch

A 737-pounder by team captain Tony Hulman, Indianapolis speedway chief, after an hour and six minutes fight.

A 716-pounder by Maj. Davis (Ben) Crowinshield, of Ipswich, Mass., after an hour's fight.

A 644-pounder by Luis Reyes, Santiago industrialist, after a two hour and ten minute fight.

And Maj. Frisby's prize baby. Four fish got away, two each from the Chilean and Scandinavian teams, when lines parted under their express-train strikes.

The final day opened with uncertainty because the dense fog which dogged the tourney since Wednesday, clung to the coast. But team captains delayed the start a half hour and were rewarded with clearing weather and smoother seas.

Anglers who go after less glamorous fish than tuna might be interested in the formula the shrewd Acadian guides use to estimate a bluefin's weight before they reach the official scale — and they usually are less than 10 pounds out. Here it is: square the girth (in inches) multiply by length (in inches) and divide by 800. Who worked it out? Nobody knows around here.

It was on the basis of these unofficial figures that the suspense was terrific yesterday in deciding second place. This wasn't decided until the heavy American fish were slid on the scales.

Remember When—

Frank Chance, of the famous Tinker-to-Evers-to-Chance infield of the Chicago Cubs, died at Lost Angeles 23 years ago today. All three were managers of the Cubs after their playing days, Chance from 1906 to 1912, then Johnny Evers for one year and Joe Tinker in 1916.

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

A move to set up a federal sports commission as a weapon against gamblers and racketeers got underway in the United States Congress Friday.

Sponsors of bills calling for an over-all investigation of all sports laid their case before the House rules committee.

Rep. E. E. Cox (Dem. Ga.) suggested that a bill creating such a commission be drawn up immediately without any further investigation.

But Rep. Clarence Brown (Rep. Ohio) and some other members of the group that screens all bills before they are submitted to the House indicated that would prefer an investigation before considering such a proposal.

At Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Syd Abel, 35, captain of the Detroit Red Wings in the National League will take his regular spot as top line centre this year, Jack Adams, general manager of the Red Wings, said Friday.

Adams said that Abel, now going into his 11th season in the NHL, is already getting a promising team into shape.

Toronto Peoples star hurler Russ Johnson twirled a no hit, no run game with 19 strikeouts to swamp Calgary Eric's 7-0 in an exhibition fastball encounter at Calgary Friday night.

Eric's didn't get a man on first as Johnson's sizzling pitches left the batters swinging wide, while Calgary hurlers Morrison Scott and Bill Burrows were tagged for 13 hits and seven walks.

Toronto was fresh from their three straight wins over Vancouver Girodays to cop the Dominion crown.

The Vancouver exhibition park daily double combination, Peaceful Jane and Van Vic, Friday paid off at $3,404 for $2, believed to be the largest payoff in the history of British Columbia racing.

Three Vancouver men shared the only two tickets sold.

Peaceful Jane paid $190.40 for a $2 win ticket and Van Vic returned $20 in the second race.

Harry Psutka 22, who played hockey for St. Michaels Majors last year, signed Friday with the Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen in the Ontario Hockey Association Senior loop. He played for the Kitchener Junior B team in the 1945-46 season.

Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip will see a lacrosse game at Vancouver Oct. 13 on the night of their one-day stay in Vancouver on their Royal tour, city hall announced Friday.

All-star teams from Vancouver and New Westminster will play in the special game. The Dominion finals will be over by that time.

At North Bay Ebbie Goodfellow, coach of Chicago Black Hawks in the National Hockey League, said Friday his charges will be on the ice Sunday for their first drill.

The Chihawks have their training camp here.

The Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League, will start training for the 1951-52 season at Montreal Monday when 54 veterans and rookies will report to coach Dick Irvin.

Among the new faces will be right winger Doc Couture, purchased from Detroit Red Wings, and Doug Anderson and Colin Kilburn, the gold dust twins of Edmonton Flyers of the defunct Western Canada Senior Hockey League.

Betsy Rawls, University of Texas student who often has been picked by veteran golf followers as successsor to Babe Zaharias as golf's No. 1 girl, succeeded the Babe Friday as leader in the United States women's open tournament.

Betsy shot a fine 71 for a 144 total. That was four strokes better than the Babe had after two rounds on the par 72 6,200-yard Atlanta course.

Vic Raschi Sparks Yankees To Down Tigers 5-2, Red Sox Edge St. Louis 9-5

By RALPH RODEN, Associated Press Sports Writer

Vic Raschi, one of the best pitchers in the business in a stretch drive, has pumped new life into the New York Yankees. Raschi contributed little to the Yanks' pennant drive during July and August, but he's showing signs of finishing up strong just as he did in 1950. The veteran righthander pitched the Yanks to within one percentage point of the pace-setting Cleveland Indians Friday as he turned back Detroit Tigers, 5-2. The Indians' night game with Washington Senators was rained out. The third-place Boston Red Sox climbed to within three games of the top by beating St. Louis, 9-6.

Raschi yielded the Tigers only one hit in the seven innings he worked. He was forced to leave the game in the Yankee half of the seventh with a tight shoulder.

The victory was Raschi's 19th, and he appears a cinch to win 20 games for the third straight year.

Raschi usually starts off with a bang, slumps off during the "dog days," and winds up in high gear. Last year he wound up the season with seven straight victories.

The Yanks sewed up Raschi's 19th conquest in the first inning on Yogi Berra's grand-slam homer off lefty Bob Cain.

Home Runs Help

Home runs by Walt Dropo, Ted Williams and Dom DiMaggio, along with another neat relief job by Ellis Kinder, featured the Red Sox victory over St. Louis. Dropo claimed a five-run rally in the first with a three-run homer.

The victory overshadowed a spectacular batting performance by Bob Nieman rookie Brownie outfielder. Nieman, playing his first major league game, homered in his first two trips to the plate.

Little Bobby Shantz turned in his 16th victory for the sixth-place Athletics as he pitched Philadelphia to a 3-0 victory over Chicago. The A's clinched it with two out in the seventh.

Meanwhile, Brooklyn Dodgers remained six games ahead of New York Giants in the National League. The Dodgers downed Pittsburgh Pirates, 3-1, while the Giants defeated Chicago, 7-2.

20th Victory

Preacher Roe limited the Pirates to six hits in turning in his 20th victory against two defeats.

Five Chicago errors helped the Giants beat the Cubs. Jim Hearn gained credit for his 15th victory but needed help in the ninth from George Spencer.

In other National League games Philadelphia Phils trounced Cincinnati Reds, 10-4, and Boston Braves won a "suspended" game, 7-4, and a night game from St. Louis Cardinals, 6-5.

Royals Edge Buffalo In 7-6 Battle

By The Associated Press.

Montreal Royals and Syracuse Chiefs appeared almost certain today to tangle in the final round of the International League governor's cup playoffs.

The Royals won their third consecutive game Friday night from Buffalo Bisons, 7-6, in their best-of-seven semi-final series.

The Chiefs, after capturing their first three games from Rochester, missed an opportunity to clinch a berth in the finals by dropping a 3-2 decision.

Both Montreal and Syracuse have tradition in their favor. No club in International League playoff history over has bounced back to take four in a row after losing the first three games of a series.

An error by first-baseman Hank Biasatti of Buffalo in the seventh inning, with the score tied 5-5, enabled Montreal to tally two runs that proved decisive. Six pitchers were used in the fray with Bill Voiselle, who faced only one batter, gaining the victory, and Lynn Lovenguth suffering the defeat.

Fred Hahn outpitched Jackie Robinson as the Red Wings kept their playoff hopes alive.

Church Union Replacing Old Sectarianism Trend

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

Dominant trends and influences in almost every sphere of thought and activity become apparent to an intelligent observer as he looks out over any considerable period of time. These, moreover, become so marked that they become fixed, or characterized, in the public mind.

We speak of certain tendencies and forces as "in the air"; we speak of "the age of this, or of that." We are aware of action and reaction, and of what my good old professor of economics used to call "the ebb and flow of social ideas." He himself, incidentally, from early years as a socialist had become the chief individualist of his environment. An age emphasizing the greatest freedom of action today, may be the age of many laws, regulations and restrictions tomorrow.

The young observer of today, who sees extensive movements toward church union, and the development of a world-consciousness and a world organization of the Protestant churches, can hardly realize how completely a generation or two ago the trend was the other way. Sectarianism and divisiveness were not only in the air, but right on the ground, with hard, practical reality.

In a Canadian town in which I grew up there were two sorts of Methodism, each church representing a different organization, and there were additional sorts of Methodism in the country at large. There were, likewise, two sorts of Presbyterianism, and there may have been others as well.

Wherever some presumably prophetic soul, or ambitious leader, thought he had discovered a new idea, or a new emphasis, he proceeded to build a new, and sometimes a very narrow and intense, denomination around it.

That rank growth of the sects was in a sense the disgrace of Protestantism, but it also had in it a touch of Protestantism's glory —the emphasis on freedom. Like all great men and good things freedom is capable of abuse. But freedom is nevertheless great and good.

Today the trend, and I think most of us would say for the better, is all the other way. Controversy has almost disappeared; the things that divided are hardly mentioned.

Yet one of the greatest of Scottish church leaders not long ago spoke of "good controversy" as a great need of our time. And we might well ask whether with all the undoubted gains in present trends we are not in danger of losing some of the essential values of the times when Christians laid so much stress upon their conscientious convictions, and were averse toward compromise.

It is a question to which I shall return.

SPEAKER at the second annual community church service to be held on Sunday evening in the Civic Arena will be the Rev. Dr. James Smart of Rosedale Church, Toronto. Dr. Smart is considered one of Canada's outstanding preachers.

WMS Host To Women

DARTFORD, Sept. 15—(ENS)—A large crowd gathered at Dartford United Church Wednesday afternoon when the W.A. of Oak Heights and the W.M.S. of Roseneath and Fenella United Churches were guests of the Dartford W.M.S.

Mrs. Arthur Ward, president of Dartford W.M.S. was in charge of the meeting. Mrs. Alec Lochart welcomed the ladies to the meeting. The scripture was read by Mrs. W. Sykes and Mrs. J. Coggins.

Mrs. Percy Honey lead in prayer. The program included readings by Mrs. Fred Lewis, Roseneath, and Mrs. Lonsberry, Fenella. Miss Eleanor McMurdo, Oak Heights sang a solo and a duet by Mrs. A. Ward and Mrs. C. Honey, Dartford, was given.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. A. E. Toombs, Campbellford, who with her husband has spent 18 years as a missionary in India. She vividly described home life in India and gave an interesting account of her work there.

Lunch was served by the Dartford ladies.

Mrs. Jack Potter, Oak Heights, thanked the Dartford Association.

Family Honor Mrs. Honey

DARTFORD, Sept. 15 (ENS)—The family and relatives of Mrs. Ida Honey gathered with her at Woodland Park, Saturday to celebrate her 80th birthday.

During the picnic supper, the guest of honor was presented by her family with a purse of money for a trip to Florida for which she has often expressed a desire. She also received other gifts and many birthday cards.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. William Honey and Mary and also Mrs. Jackson of Milliken; Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Honey, Carol and Joan, of Burford; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wood, Earl and Joy; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wood and Anne, of Stouffville; Mr. and Mrs. Narman Hutchinson and son David of Napanee; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Honey and Lyle, Mrs. Thomas McDonald, Gordon and Pamella of Colborne; Earl Honey, Port Hope; Mrs. Archie McCracken and Isobel, Roseneath; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Seeney, and Miss. Marie Honey of Toronto.

FIFTIETH WEDDING ANNIVERSARY is being celebrated on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dean of Norwood. Mr. Dean has served 25 years in municipal politics, four of them as councillor and 21 as village clerk.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Veteran Norwood Couple 50 Years Married Sunday

NORWOOD, Sept. 15. (ENS)—One of Norwood's oldest and best known couples, Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Dick) Dean on Sunday will quietly celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary. They have been residents of the village for 37 years. Mr. Dean has been in village municipal politics for 25 years—four years as councillor and 21 years as clerk. And he has the added distinction of missing only one council meeting in that quarter century span.

Mrs. Dean, who for the last few years has been in poor health, was the former Elizabeth Eva Williams. She was born in Tiny township, Simcoe county, in 1884, daughter of the late Annie Reinbird and John Williams.

She and her husband grew up within a few miles of each other, she in Wyebridge and he in Wyevale, both in Simcoe county. Mr. Dean is now in his 71st year. His parents were the late Helen Marr Saunders and Joseph Pearson Dean.

Came To Norwood In 1914

The young couple were married in the groom's home village of Wyevale on September 16, 1901. Before coming to Norwood in 1914 they lived in Midland, New Liskeard, and Collingwood.

It was in Collingwood that Mr. Dean started in the bakery business. When he came to Norwood he was employed with W. H. Tucker and worked with him until he went into business for himself in 1923. He called it the Norwood Bakery.

Mrs. Dean is proud of her husband's political career and his interest in community affairs.

Elected To Council

It was in 1926 that he made his first bid for a seat on the village council, and he succeeded. There were eight candidates and the newcomer polled second highest vote, being topped only by Walter Bitten. W. H. Montgomery was the reeve at the time.

Altogether he was on council for four years. In 1928 he was defeated in a bid for the reeveship but only two councillors

Mrs. F. Adelman Heads Nursery

Mrs. Frances Adelman, formerly of Toronto, now of 33 Crescent St., Peterborough, has been appointed director of the Recreation Commission's Nursery school at the Dixon house. The school re-opens Monday for the 1951-52 term.

Mrs. Adelman, a graduate of the University of Toronto, was a director last year at the Hillcrest progressive school in pre-school nursery work. Previously she worked at the Central Neighborhood House in group work with the pre-school age children. During the past two summers she has directed the rural day camp in Simcoe county.

Mrs. Adelman succeeds Miss Janie McLauchlin who returned to Scotland after teaching one year at the school. Miss Jeanne Stewart will assist Mrs. Adelman.

For pre-school children from three to five years, the school will open Monday with hours for the morning class from 9 a.m. until 11.30 a.m. and the afternoon class from 1.30 p.m. until 4 p.m. The classes are filling rapidly and recreation director Mr. Sinclair pointed out that they are limited to 20 pupils each.

This year the children will be taught coloring, plasticine work, musical games, actions songs and will be told stories.

School Site Bought In South End

Primary School Of Four Rooms Planned By Board

Accommodating Peterborough's ever-increasing number of schoolchildren remains the No. 1 problem for the Board of Education.

The area containing the biggest increase is the south end of the city. And the Board has bought a piece of property at Cameron and St. Catherines Sts. so a four-room primary school can be built.

Approximately 180 feet square, the property comprises six lots, and cost $2,800.

The need for accommodation in the south end is so great that the erection of a primary school on the property is already included on the 1952 building program.

Plan For Future

Stanley Adamson said it would be good policy for the accommodation committee to draw up a definite plan for future expansion. This would set forth a schedule of building and the approximate cost anticipated.

It would be a guide to both the trustees and the public.

Mr. Adamson also thought it advisable for the committee to look around and buy up sites at suitable locations in advance. Otherwise, he said, the Board might not always be so fortunate in getting a good pieee of property, in the right location, and at an economical price.

"A good idea," commented G. Wilson Craw, chairman of accommodation. "But it will mean extra expenditure, and our estimates are mounting now."

He also pointed out that no government grant is given on the purchase of school sites.

The Board also confirmed the appointment of Mrs. Carl Brickman to the staff as a qualified kindergarten teacher.

Estimate Doubled

K. S. Wightman, superintendent of schools, said more kindergarten children had turned up at Central school than had been anticipated. There were 58 instead of 30. These were too many to be included in one half-day class. At King George school an extra kindergarten class was opened in the Mark St. Church Sunday school.

Mrs. Brickman is the kindergarten teacher.

Attending Mark St. are kindergarten pupils whose homes in Ashburnham are situated south of the middle of Hunter St. and east of Rogers St. Both sides of Rogers St. are included in the Mark St. zone.

Mr. Wightman then cited some statistics bearing on the problem of classroom space.

When school closed at the end of June there were 4,167 children enrolled in the 10 city public schools. The enrolment Sept. 4 was 4,558 an increase of 397. And of these 704 were beginners

School authorities expect about the same number of beginners next year and then—unless there are some new factors to be considered, such as an influx of families into Peterborough—the peak will have been passed.

To accommodate the extra 397 pupils the Board has in use an extra classroom at King George, one at Grove, six at Prince of Wales, and the half-day kindergarten in Mark St. Church Sunday school.

Getting Worse

As an example of how more classroom space is needed Mr. Wightman referred to Confederation. Present enrolment is 493 pupils in a 12-room school with 85 in kindergarten and 38 in Grade 8.

Even if all the Grade 8 pupils graduate it will require two more classrooms. A similar situation prevails at Prince of Wales, he said.

Summing up the Board's view of the mushrooming school population, Mrs. Paige Rowell commented: "Well, we have no choice. We must provide accommodation."

FOUR HUNDRED CGE TEST MEN from coast to coast checked in on Friday afternoon at the Peterborough Works. Representative of the large group watching W. A. Brooks, left, assemble magnetic switches are Douglas Turland of Vancouver, Centre, and Victor Lodge of Halifax. Today there will be dinner at the plant cafeteria and an afternon of sport at the Kawartha Golf and Country Club. — (Examiner Photo)

English Mayor May Open New City Hall

Mayor G. R. Chamberlain of Peterborough, England, is oeing recommended to the city council by its reception committee to perform the official act of opening the new city hall here at the end of October.

This was the decision of the committee with Ald. Herbert Young presiding. The motion by Ald. H. F. Waddell was seconded by Mayor Swanston.

In a letter dated Monday, Sept. 10, from the mayor's office, town hall, Peterborough, Mayor Chamberlain wrote to Mayor Swanston that his forthcoming visit is attracting "quite a lot of interest"

He has already received various requests from citizens "to visit or convey messages and letters to their relatives and friends who live in your city."

Invited To Be Here

So far, it is understood Mayor Chamberlain has not been informed that the function of formally opening the new city hall was to be assigned to him for acceptance. He and the Mayoress had been invited some time ago to consider coming here for this event itself. The committee decided yesterday to prepare further details for the official opening, and in the discussion it was proposed that Mayor Chamberlain be requested to assume the honorary duty of declaring this city's new city hall officially open for the civic business and administration of the future.

Mayor Chamberlain is being accompanied by his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. Martin who are not otherwise identified but it is understood that Mr. Martin is a former mayor of Peterborough, England.

The committee is also settling down to other details of the occasion. It was proposed that the mayors of other cities be invited to attend the opening.

OPENING NEW SCHOOL

The annex to the Prince of Wales School which was opened to the students on September 1 will be formally opened by the Board of Education on Monday, September 24, at 8.00 p.m. A short programme is scheduled to be held in the kindergarten of the old school after which the new annex will be thrown open to spectators.

Kingston Women In Crash Take Taxi, Win Bowling

It takes more than a car accident to stop some of these Kingston women bowlers. Friday morning six Kingston women, on their way to play in the ladies' open trebles, lawn bowling, were in a car that collided with an auto transport in Marmora village. Two of the women were slightly injured, the car was badly damaged and had to be abandoned in favor of a taxi.

But one of the Kingston rinks, skipped by Mrs. McCorquodale, took first prize. The other rink bowled well but finished out of the money,

The accident occurred as the car, driven by Mrs. Minnie Carlaw, 47, came north out of Highway 14 onto Highway 7. Her car collided with a Gilson auto transport loaded with six cars, and driven by Ernest Bunyan, 30, Toronto.

The right fender and bumper of the transport were damaged but the front end of the car was almost completely wrecked Damage is estimated at $350.

Two of the six passengers—Mrs. William Duncan, 29, and Ms. D. Edney—received minor injuries. Mrs. Duncan had cuts and scratches on her forehead and Mrs. Edney, a sprained ankle.

After brief medical attention they continued the rest of their trip to Peterborough by taxi.

Despite her sprained ankle Mrs. Edney bowled and helped her rink to first prize money.

Rambling Reporter

NOT A FLYING SAUCER

For a few seconds Friday night 14-year-old Terry McKinney, Smith township, wondered if what he had read about flying saucers was true. Terry can be excused for this momentary lapse. What really happened was that a front left wheel on a truck owned by Ken McCannan came loose as the truck passed Clarke's Curb Service Restaurant on Highway 28, three miles north of the city. The spinning wheel shot off at an angle, struck a rock in Clarke's rockery, and smashed through the plate glass window into the restaurant. Terry, who was alone at the time and in charge of the restaurant, saw the spinning disk knock over a cardboard case of cokes that had been arranged in the window between two bottles of ginger ale. The ginger ale bottles, only a few inches apart, were untouched.

1,700 To Guard Royal Couple

Peterborough's contingent to assist at the reception in Trenton October 5 for Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will be more than 1,700 strong.

Thursday night, officials of the Trenton reception committee, including Lt.-Col. R. J. Fisher, commanding officer, RCSA (AA), met at the armouries to discuss the preliminary plans for the visit. The meeting resulted in Peterborough and district's representatives being nearly tripled.

If the CGE calls a holiday for the occasion or allows its veterans to leave work, Peterborough and district's contribution will number 1,731 reserve force members, cadets and veterans.

Originally the plans included only the reserve force units from Peterborough (two), Cobourg, Port Hope, Belleville, Norwood, Madoc, Frankfort, Trenton, Picton, Bowmanville and Lindsay.

Thursday night the plans were changed to include Branch 52 Legion members (1,000), PCVS cadets (450), Lakefield High school cadets (60) and Lakefield Preparatory school cadets (Grove, 80). These groups will add nearly 1,590 to the 106 officers and 627 other ranks from the reserve units.

Most of these soldiers, veterans and cadets will be assisting in lining the streets for four miles to hold back the 70,000 people expected in Trenton for the brief period.

The 50th HAA Regiment, RCA, has been asked for 23 officers and 63 other ranks while the 28th Technical Squadron will send three officers and 49 other ranks. From the recruiting station will be one officer and two other ranks.

A special train will transport the Peterborough group to Trenton.

Schools Building More Planned

Following is a progress report on Board of Education building projects, either under way or planned.

Collegiate, Monaghan Rd. S.: Eastwood Construction Co. have already started removing the top soil and started work on the $650,000 project. In a little more than a week work will begin on the foundations and early in October the contractors should be ready to pour cement. Building Steel is expected to arrive at that time.

Grove school addition: the four-room addition has been held up because of scarcity of building materials. The contractor, W. H. Mortlock, was unable to get bar steel joists and plans had to be revised. Steel beams and wooden joists are being used instead. The contractor has not charged any more for the revision.

Ashburnham school, McFarlane St: After some delay the property has been properly surveyed. Plans are expected in a few days allowing the Board to call for tenders to remove the earth from the hillside. It will be an eight-room school.

Purchase of new site: A 180 ft. by 180 ft. property at Cameron and St. Catherines Sts., bought for $2,800, to be used for a new south end, four-room primary school.

Community Church Service Civic Arena Sunday Night

The Rev. Dr. James Smart former minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church Peterborough and now minister of the Rosedale Church in Toronto will be the special speaker at the community church service to be held in the arena on Sunday night.

Dr. Smart recently returned to Canada from serving as associate secretary of the department of education for the Presbyterian Church in the United States. There he reorganized the Sunday School study program introducing text books which follow a style in church schools much similar to every day school. He is acclaimed as one of Canada's great preachers.

City's Request

The community service which is being held at the request of the mayor and city council, will be under the direction of the Ministerial Association. It will be the second such effort, the first one being held a year ago when the Civic Arena was crowded to capacity.

Rev. Charles G. Boyd the president of the Ministerial Association will be in charge and he will be assisted by Rev. Arnold Mathews, who will read the Old Testament lesson; the Rev. Maurice P. Poole will read the New Testament lesson; Rev. Henry Cotton will offer prayer; Rev. R. E. Dargan will lead in the responsive reading and Archdeacon C. W. Balfour will pronounce the benediction. Dr. Smart will be introduced by James Dutton.

A massed choir of 200 voices from the city churches will sing. This choir will be under the direction of Christopher Gledhill with Donald Kennedy at the organ. The choir is to sing two numbers, "Glorious is Thy Name" from Mozart and Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus." The Salvation Army band will be in attendance and from 7.30 to 8.00 p.m., the time the service is to start, the band will play a program interspersed with three or four hymns by the choir. The choir is practising on Sunday afternoon at 3.30 and all members are expected to be in their places by 7.25 on Sunday evening. Many of the churches are cancelling their evening serivce.

Does City Bus Lines Need Help To Meet Higher Costs, Less Income?

Other City Bus Lines In Financial Trouble Peterborough Co. Expanding With City Manager Keeps Mum, To Consult Directors

By HARRY THEOBALD

Financial difficulties of bus lines in four or five cities of approximately Peterborough's population, prompted a question to Lawrie Mitchell, head of this city's transport system, as to its position in circumstances similar to those elsewhere. The query was whether the bus company was faced with any necessity of discussing its affairs with city council, from whom it has an operating franchise until the end of 1958. Mr. Mitchell replied that he did not wish to make any statement without consulting the directors of the company.

Four of the cities which have recently been mentioned in news reports as facing financially adverse conditions are: Woodstock, Kingston, St. Thomas and also, more or less, Kitchener.

The Woodstock service folded up, Kingston is facing discontinuance of its public conveyance system at the end of this month, and Kitchener has reported depleted revenue.

Extended Routes

Peterborough Bus Lines is rated by citizens and especially its regular customers, as having generally performed its promises. The company has extended its routes to keep pace with the expansion of the city in the last 10 years, and especially since the end of the war. Monaghan Road South is a new extension, and the Western Avenue line, including the spur to Civic Hospital is another.

Requests also came from residents south of Lansdowne St. and East of Lock St. for some arrangement to include them in the George St. south branch, and there was another from the new residential area in Ashburnham, east of Armour Road in the Caddy St. district, extending to the canal.

Company investigation informed the council that the number of houses without cars in those two sections did not warrant expectation of satisfactory returns. The indications were that there was not enough prospective bus business in those parts of the city.

Rush Hours

On the other hand the company has carried out its promise of ten minute service within the period from 11.40 a.m. to 11.40 p.m., has also increased the number of its buses in use, and has provided special service at rush hours of the day.

Captain Sharp New Officer Salvation Army

Senior Captain Douglas Sharp, of Ottawa, will succeed Major C. G. Everitt at the Peterborough Temple, the Salvation Army announced today. Two weeks ago the announcement was made that Major Everitt was being transferred to Winnipeg.

S-Capt. Sharp is now with the No. 1 Salvation Army Corps in Ottawa. He will arrive in Peterborough on Thursday, September 27, and assume his duties the following Sunday.

Previous to his Ottawa appointment he served in St. John's, Newfoundland, and in Bermuda. In his early days with the Salvation Army he was on the staff of the training college in Toronto and on the headquarters staff. At one time S-Capt. Sharp was stationed in Campbellford.

Major Everitt will leave for Winnipeg next Tuesday to assume his duties as young people's secretary for the Winnipeg division on September 27. He came to Peterborough two years ago, succeeding Major Charles Watt after serving in Toronto, Windsor and Brampton.

Veteran Lawyer E. H. Cleaver Dies

HAMILTON, Sept. 15 (CP) — Ellis Hughes Cleaver, KC, president of the Halton County Bar Association and a practising lawyer in Burlington for the last 60 years, died Friday in hospital following an operation.

The 83-year-old patriarch of Burlington retained his faculties completely, and drove his car about the town only two days ago.

Mr. Cleaver was town solicitor for 30 years, and during his term as Reeve in 1898 he instituted many improvements in the then Village of Burlington.

His son, Hughes Cleaver, is Liberal member of Parliament for Halton.

An ardent Liberal politically, Mr. Cleaver was past president of the Halton County Liberal Association. He contested office only once, but lost the Provincial seat to the late E. C. Drury, the Leader of the United Farmers' Organization which swept the province that year.

The town flag will fly at half mast in Burlington in memory of the former Reeve, who w born near Lowville and lived Burlington for the last 60 years

Baby Contest Features Fish, Game Show

One of the features of the production "Going Places" being sponsored on Sept. 20 and 21 at the Brock Arena by the Peterborough Fish and Game Protective Association, is a baby contest.

It is open to all children under six years of age. The photos of all entrants are on display in the window of the Kingan Hardware store where popularity ballots and voting boxes are available. Bulletins of the baby race are being posted here daily and voting may be done in various downtown stores. Ballots cost a cent each.

Information about entering children in the contest may be had by applying to Mrs. Jack O'Neill, phone 9803, or Mrs. Rachael Dann, King George Hotel.

11-Year-Old Boy Read 57 Books

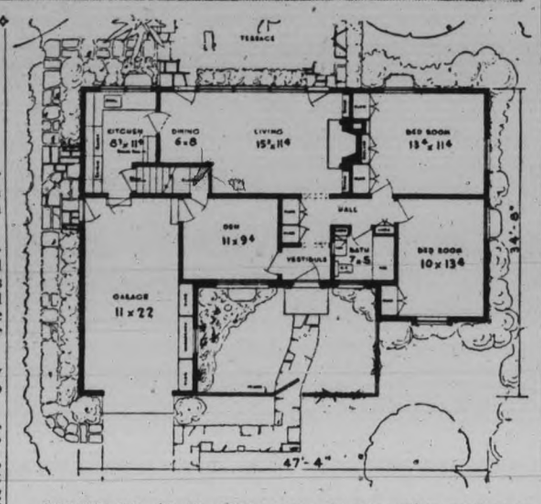
Bobby Howden, 11, 19 Aylmer St., reading 57 books in less than three months, won first prize in a summer library competition.

The competition was incorporated in the Treasure Island Reading Club project which has been carried on in the boys' and girls' department of the Public Library during the summer months.

Second prize went to Nancy Townsend, 12, 611 Ross St., who had read 38 books.

Commenting on the summer project, Miss Lillian Wesley, boys' and girls' department librarian, said today that the club had kept the children interested in reading during the summer. A total of 135 children registered in the club.

Circulation figures back Miss Wesley's statement. The summer circulation showed an increase of 3,057 over the 1950 total.



HOUSE NO. 59-48—Wide gray shingles, blue and gray ledgerock, white trim and dark blue-black roof is the color scheme of this home. With the interesting details of the fence, cupola, box bay, ornamental iron hinges and weathervane added against a background of landscaping, the picture is complete. The den could provide additional sleeping accommodation if desired. Notice how convenient the garage is to the kitchen as well as the basement stairs. The living-dining room has been enhanced by the huge fireplace and the splendid handling of windows. This room, overlooking the large terrace, was made for a beautiful vista. Excluding garage, this home contains 1,011 square feet. For working drawings write Home Building in Canada, 372 Bay St., Toronto.

Say Italy Nearing Break With Czechs

ROME, Sept. 15 (AP)—Italy has moved closer to an outright diplomatic break with Communist-led Czechoslovakia.

Italy has called her consul-general home from Bratislava and ordered the Czechs to close their consulate in Milan by Saturday.

A firmly-worded announcement by the ministry said "a long series of offensive actions" by the Czechoslovaks had made it "practically impossible to operate" the Bratislava consulate.

The "offensive actions" at Bratislava, capital of Slovakia, are said to have included:

1. Frequent police detention and interference with the Italian consul-general himself;

2. Constant and rigid surveillance of the consulate under the guise of a police guard.

3. Intimidation and interference with employees of the consulate, and

4. Refusal of normal service—even medical treatment.

Battle Five Fires

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 15—(AP)—Almost 3,000 smoke-blackened men Friday battled at least five fires roaring unchecked over more than 21,000 acres of valuable California forest and range land. Giant smoke clouds boiled up from Sacramento, in north-central California northward, to the Oregon border.

FRACTURES FINGERS

Mrs. Wm. J. Shield, of Toronto, who was vacationing in the district, is in Civic Hospital with two fractured fingers. Mrs. Shield got her fingers caught in a swing bridge and suffered compound fractures on the fourth finger of the left hand and the third finger of her right hand.

Bethany WMS Plans Special Sun. Service

BETHANY, Sept. 15—(ENS)—Mrs. Mansell Wright was hostess for the September meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the United church on Wednesday evening. President Mrs. T. J. Jackson conducted the worship service.

Letters of thanks were read for bales of used clothing sent to several mission fields. Plans were also made for conducting the Sunday church service on September 16, when Mrs. F. K. Harris of Peterborough, will be the guest speaker.

Mrs. Jackson introduced the new study book for the term "From Lakes to Northern Lights," written by Malcolm MacDonald and is a study of the mission fields in Canada. The Home Missions Digest compiled by Frances Bonwick will also be featured at each meeting.

A dialogue was carried out by Mrs. G. Waddell and Mrs. Donald Lowes which dealt with Canadian missions. It is through home missions the gospel is preached to over 3,000 communities, by 1,100 men and women serving under the Board of Home Missions.

Mrs. Herb Coppins gave a talk on the importance of the work in rural charges and gave a challenge to youth to serve in the rural church.

Mrs. Clarence Rowan told a story of some of the rural missionaries and their work in Newfoundland.

At the close of the service Mrs. Wright served lunch and a social hour was enjoyed.

Donations Swell Funds Of Roseneath WA

ROSENEATH, Sept. 15 (ENS)—Swelling the finances of the organization was the highlight of the WA meeting of St. James' Anglican Church held Wednesday. Every member gave a donation of two dozen eggs or equivalent also a donation of $2 each, in place of having a bazaar.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Hector Winkworth, with the president, Mrs. Earl Braithwaite presiding over the devotional and business period. Letters of thanks from recipients of good cheer were read by the secretary Mrs. Jack Webb.

The treasurer, Mrs. James Brown, reported a balance on hand of $153.

The ECD report was given by the ECD treasurer, Mrs. W. J. Robins.

The Little Helpers' report presented by their secretary, Mrs. James L. Timlin, reported receipts for the month of $2.98.

During the afternoon a custom quilt was made. On motion the treasurer was instructed to pay one-half the expenses of re-decorating the interior of the rectory at Hastings.

Plans were made to attend the deanery meeting in Christ church, Campbellford, on September 20.

Plans were also made to clean the interior of the church this week.

The program period was dispensed with, in order to finish quilting the quilt.

Marmora News

Mr. Thomas Dickson of Beaverton is holidaying this week with Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Potts.

ALARM AT DEWART'S MILL

A crowd of more than 100 local residents crowded to the east end of Simcoe St. at 7.15 p.m. Thursday when half a dozen fire trucks pulled up in front of the Dewart Milling Co. For the curious it was a disappointment. There was nothing to be seen. Inside, firemen used a chemical extinguisher on an elevator belt and pulley. One of the elevator buckets that lift the grain from the bins to the grinder became caught. The belt line started to smoke and spark from the friction of rubbing against the pulley and a workman, taking no chances, called the fire department. There was no damage.

7 WMS Groups Visit Springville In Joint Meeting

SPRINGVILLE, Sept. 15—The Women's Mission Societies of seven communities visited the meeting of the Springville WMS for a joint meeting Wednesday. About 130 in all were present.

President Mrs. O. Murray of the Springville group opened the meeting and welcomed the visitors.

The societies attending were from Fairmount, Centreville, Baileboro, Bensfort, Cavan, Fraserville and Mt. Pleasant.

The Fairmount group conducted the worship service in which Mrs. C. Seymour, Mrs. C. Johnston, Mrs. I. W. McIndoo, Mrs. F. McIndoo, and Mrs. H. McBain took part. Mrs. F. McIndoo and Mrs McBain sang a duet.

Guest speaker was Mrs. Albert E. Larke, who outlined the work of home missions across the Dominion.

"The Kingdom of God has to be planned for intelligently, prayed for and worked for patiently and lovingly. That is where we can do our part," said Mrs. Larke.

Mrs. Larke was introduced by Mrs. M. Cullen and thanked by Mrs. C. Neals.

Mrs. J. Whittington and Mrs. Muspratt of Centreville sang a duet.

Lunch was served by the Springville society. Mrs. Morrison and Mrs. M. Johnston poured tea at a table decorated with lace cloth, flowers and silver. Mrs. H. Rowan, Mrs. Elwood Johnston and Mrs. Dunford planned the successful joint meeting.

Mrs. O. Spencer Hostess Bethany WA

BETHANY, Sept. 15 (ENS)—Mrs. Otto Spencer was the hostess for the September meeting of the Women's Association of the United Church on Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. A. H. Monk presided for the business session. The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. H. L. Challice and Mrs. Wellington Fallis gave the lesson thoughts. The treasurer's report showed a recent donation of $100.00 to the Church Board of Session and the net proceeds of the garden party held earlier in the summer as being $181.00.

Mrs. Harold Sanderson reported for the sick and visiting committee and letters of thanks were read from several members who had been remembered during illnss. Mrs. Harvey Fallis, Mrs. Herb Coppins and Mrs. William Jordan were appointed as a committee to replenish the linen in the church kitchen.

The program was in charge of Miss Elsie Richardson, leader of Group Two. Mrs. Otto Spencer gave the topic "The Good Samaritan." Said Mrs. Spencer: "This parable from the Bible clearly states what the Christian's attitude should be towards his neighbor. Who is my neighbor? Anyone in need. Too many people live with the attitude . . . What is yours is mine, I'll take it. Still others say . . . What is mine is yours, I'll share it. The last is the philosophy of the Good Samaritan and the one on which Christ set His seal of approval. A right relationship between God and man will be followed by right relationships between all men."

Mrs. Harvey Fallis and Mrs. Wellington Fallis sang a duet "God Has Not Forgotten." A contest on "Famous Kings of Bible Times" was won by Mrs. H. H. Ryley.

Assisitng in serving the lunch during the social hour which followed were Mrs. T. Jennings, Mrs. W. Fallis, Miss Lily Thompson, Mrs. M. Finney and Mrs. G. Mulligan.

The thanks of the group to the hostess for the use of her home was expressed by Mrs. Ona Thorndyke.

Lindsay To Modify All Fire Equipment

LINDSAY, Sept. 15—Lindsay is following the Ontario-wide project of standardizing fire equipment in the province.

Fire Chief Alex Wylie reported that work had been begun and that it was expected to be completed in a few months.

The project has been undertaken so that different municipalities' equipment can be exchanged for use in emergencies. The main job is to standardize threads on hose couplings and hydrants. At present there are 3,000 different threads used in the country.

The process is under the direction of the provincial and federal governments. Peterborough fire equipment is in accordance with standard requirements.

E. Beavis is in charge of the project in Lindsay.

Cottesloe WMS Plans Thanks-Offering Oct. 9

COTTESLOE, Sept. 15 —(ENS)— The September meeting of Cottesloe WMS was held at the home of Mrs. George Barr on Wednesday afternoon. The worship and business were conducted by the president, Mrs. John Golloher. It was decided to have the autumn thank-offering at the October meeting.

Mrs. Howard Patterson had charge of the program and took the leader's part. Posters were made by Joan Patterson. Mrs. John Golloher gave a short introduction of the new study book; Mrs. Fred Toms took the part "Canada" and Mrs. Howard Harnden took "Home Missions." Mrs. George Barr gave readings from "Lakes to Northern Lights" and "Home Missions Digest." A solo, "I'll Go Anywhere," was sung by Mrs. George Elliott.

The meeting closed with a hymn and prayer by Mrs. Patterson. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Barr assisted by Miss Betty Barr of Peterborough.

Washable Nurseries Form Part of Today's Designing

One room in the house where the imagination can be given free rein in decorating is the nursery. To start with, much can be done with the walls. If you want them plain, then colourful pictures or bright nursery rhyme plaques, can be used to make the room gay, when placed against a background of pastel washable paint. If a pictured wallpaper strikes your fancy — and there are many appropriate designs — one of the colors can be picked up for painting the furniture, the baseboard, doors and window trim, or perhaps the color of the floor if this is linoleum or rubber tile. Incidentally both of these floor materials are excellent in a child's room, since they can be kept clean so readily.

The nursery should fulfill every standard of a "soapsuds" room and yet be so full of color and charm that it automatically generates a feeling of happiness.

It would be nice to have the furniture scaled to size — which goes a long way in making the nursery a delightful place for the

"It's the one SURE WAY OF SAVING I have

Before I was married I am afraid I didn't realize the importance of regular saving. I had a vague idea I'd be lucky in real estate or some other investment.

After we were married I woke up to the fact that a man with my responsibilities must keep an eye on the future.

I was making good money but we were spending all I made until I got the Mutual Life policy.

This money I put into it is ours and always will be ours. It'll grow too, steadily and surely. It's the one sure way of saving we have."

"AND IT'S THE BEST PROTECTION we have I'm no expert on life insurance. All I know is the face value of our Mutual Life policy is a far bigger amount than what we will ever put into it. And — let's be realistic — can you think of a better cushion for us to fall back on if anything should happen to my husband?"

Moses S. Zacks City Merchant For 30 Years

The funeral for Moses S. Zacks, well-known Peterborough merchant for nearly 30 years, who died in hospital Sept. 6 was held in Beth Sholom Synagogue, Toronto.

Mr. Zacks was born in Pruzana, Poland 75 years ago, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Erin Zacks. He received his education in that country and came to Canada in 1921 when he chose Peterborough as his new home.

In this city he established Zacks Dry Goods store which remains today at its original site on George St.

Mr. Zacks retired from business life less than a year ago and moved to Toronto.

He was a member of Beth Sholon Synagogue and took a very active part in several synagogue organizations.

He leaves his wife, the former Minnie Caspar, two sons, Harry and Dr. Louis Zacks, all of Peterborough; two daughters, Mrs. A. Zacks (Etta), Kitchener and Mrs. C. Minkes (Sylvia) of Israel and one brother, David, Toronto.

Rabbi D. Monson, Rabbi M. Kirshenblatt, both of Toronto and Rabbi J. Mayer of Peterborough conducted the funeral service.

Pallbearers were: S. Zacks, J. C. Zacks, J. Bennett, D. Bennett, A. Zacks, B. Chesler. Burial was in Beth Sholom cemetery, Toronto.

24 Canadian Students Begin Study In UK

LONDON, Sept. 15 (Reuters)—A group of 24 Canadian university students arrived here Friday to begin a two-year post-graduate course under the Athlone Fellowships, sponsored by the British government.

All engineering students, they formed the bulk of a party of 38 who will arrive in Britain in time for the start of the university year.

Frank Slingerland, 23, Winchester, Ont., will study gas turbine vibration and allied subjects at London's Imperial College.

"Everything is scaled down here," he commented. "Your trains are much smaller than ours. But I like the green countryside of England," he added.

New Trial Ordered

VICTORIA, BC, Sept. 15 (CP)—A new trial has been ordered for Martin Saxey, West Coast Indian, convicted of murder last May by a Nanaimo assize jury. Saxey was to be hanged Oct. 2 for the murder of Louis Oscar at Battle Bay Feb. 2. Saxey's appeal was allowed on the grounds that the trial judge, Mr. Justice A. M. Manson, had not directed the jury sufficiently with regard to provocation.

Welcome Suggestion

PORT ARTHUR, Sept. 15 (CP)—Mayor F. O. Robinson said Friday that he welcomed Premier Frost's suggestion that natural gas and oil be refined in Port Arthur for use in Southern Ontario. The mayor said he wished that Premier Frost had supported Port Arthur in its claim last February that the first oil pipeline from Alberta should terminate at the lake head.

Do More Travelling

MURRAY BAY, Que., Sept. 15—(CP)—The United States citizen is doing more travelling than ever before, Garland Hicks, of Scrips-Howard Newspapers, Friday told the Canadian Tourist Association meeting in convention here. Reliable estimates, he said, placed 1951 travel within US borders at 10 to 25 per cent higher than last year. He predicted a similar increase next year unless war should break out.

Labor Amalgamation Drive To Start Soon

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15 — (AP)—William Green, president of the mammoth American Federation of Labor, says he wants to see all United States labor unions joined in one big organization.

Green told reporters Thursday that the drive for labor amalgamation will start "at the earliest possible moment."

He said it was reasonable to assume his 8,000,000-man union would seek its first talks with the CIO and subsequently with the Independent Railway Brotherhoods.

France Has Suspended Czech Air Traffic

PARIS, Sept. 15 (AP)—France has suspended all air traffic with Czechoslovakia, a foreign ministry spokesman said Friday.

No time limit has been placed on the suspension, which became effective Thursday.

The spokesman explained that since Czechoslovak airline flights over Germany had been halted, it was thought better to end all flights.

(The Allied high commission disclosed Thursday the Czechoslovak Airlines, a government-controlled company, was denied the right to fly from Prague over any Allied-controlled territories in west Germany.)

The spokesman said that it was thought best to end all flights between Prague and Paris "to avoid incidents."

Course In Training Projector Operators

Classes for the training of projector operators sponsored by the Peterborough Film Council will begin Saturday at the Public Library.

These classes have been carried on for some time and Librarian William Graff said today that the main aim is to provide each organization in the city and district with a trained operator from its own members, so that outside volunteers are not required when films are shown.

The classes will be held every Saturday afternoon.

Dr. A. Hamilton Buried At Colborne

MARMORA, Sept. 15 (ENS)—The funeral of Dr. A. Hamilton Crawford took place on Thursday. The cortege left Blackstock's Funeral Chapel, Grafton in the forenoon for St. Paul's Anglican Church where the body lay in state until 2.30 p.m. At this time the church was fairly well filled with folk of the district assembled to pay their last respects to him who had been their beloved physician. Canon J. M. Brownlie was the officiating clergyman. Burial took place in Lakeport Cemetery, Colborne. The graveside prayers were taken by Canon J. M. Brownlie and Rev. A. N. Reid.

Norwood Auxiliary At McConnell Home

NORWOOD, Sept. 15 (ENS)—The first fall meeting of the Evening Auxiliary of the United Church was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. John McConnell with a very good attendance.

Miss Pauline Weir opened the meeting. Mrs. A. Weir took the roll call. The president, Mrs. Weir, read a letter from the Committee of Overseas Relief for Korea expressing thanks for the bale sent in June. A donation was made towards expenses of the district delegate who attended the School for Leaders this past summer.

The theme for the worship service was "the Church of the frontiers" and was taken by Mrs. John McConnell and her group. The new study book "From Lakes to Northern Lights" was introduced by the leader.

Mrs. McConnell gave a short talk on the hymn, "Lord of the Lands," and its author. Mrs. Donald Paxton led in the responsive reading followed by a prayer by Mrs. A. R. Atkinson. Mrs. Russell Gardner favored with a solo. Mrs. Kenneth Pakenham gave a preview of the new study book followed by preview on the "Home Missions Digest" by Mrs. Allen McNab.

Short papers were given on Canada and home missions by Miss Florence Nevins and Mrs. David Hall. The program closed with a hymn followed by the Mizpah benediction. Lunch was served by Mrs. McConnell and her group.

To Have Material In Royal Colors By Time of Tour

The two colors Princess Elizabeth has chosen to commemorate her Canadian tour will be available to Canadians by the beginning of October, Bruck Mills announced yesterday. Elizabethan Rose is a deep shade of rose with a slight copper tinge which gives it wide scope for accessorizing with contrasting colors. Edinburgh Green is a medium green with a strong blue overcast which will blend beautifully with brown, wine, navy, black and other popular fall accessory shades. A crepe and a faille are being dyed in the colors and manufacturers are speeding so that dresses will be available as well as yard goods to coincide with the arrival of the Royal couple. They are giving an added spark to the new Canadian fall fashions.

Women Needed In Politics Whitton Says

TORONTO, Sept. 15 (CP). — Women are needed in the municipal political field, Dr. Charlotte Whitton believes.

The acting mayor of Ottawa told the Inter-club Council for Women Friday night that women have certain qualifications for public office that men lack.

Speaking as a "spinster with broad observation unhampered by experience," she said: "Women have a finer sensitivity for ethical and moral values. Often they can draw to male attention something not previously expressed."

She stressed that women should be partners, not competitors, with men in public life.

"No life comes without partnership of men and women. And no better life for a nation can come without this partnership in government."

No level in politics is unworthy of women, Dr. Whitton said but the municipal field is one in which there are no interests foreign to them.

Necklines High Collars Small

PARIS.—Necklines are fitted high with small collars or mere cross-overs, eliminating any hint of a collar on dresses, while coats have medium-sized turn-down collars, or are built up close to the sides of the neck. Fur trimmings (in order of popularity: beaver, black astrakhan, and ocelot) appear on tailormades and coat frocks, more frequently than upon coats. Simple collars, and occasional cuffs, or inset sleeves of beaver, trim some coat-cloak models.

The waistline retains its natural position, marked by belts which are broader than last season, the majority in box-calf studded with gilt nail-heads. There are also black patent-leather belts and some new suede belts with steel or antique silver buckles.

Hemlines remain unchanged; some 14 inches from the ground, or slightly shorter for day, with many calf-length dresses for dancing, and evening dresses which definitely sweep the ground.

A Real Person Knows And Speaks Her Mind

It doesn't make any difference to me.

That is the most wishy-washy declaration in the English language.

And yet a lot of women have the idea that when they make that statement, they are being agreeable, easy to get along with, and somehow, a little better than the people who know what they like and say so.

Take the wife, for instance, who is the it doesn't really matter to me type.

Her husband asks if she would like to go to a movie and instead of saying "Yes" or "No"—she goes "noble" on him. "If you want to, it's all right with me," she says in a namby-pamby voice.

Or she makes a suggestion and he doesn't instantly agree. So, rather than stand up for her idea she shrugs it off with "well, it was just a suggestion. It doesn't really make any difference to me."

Such a woman rarely brings any new interests to her husband or inspires him to do anything he hasn't thought up himself.

Because she doesn't stand in the way of the things he wants to do, she thinks she is being a helpful and understanding wife.

Don't Be Wishy-washy

So don't be wishy-washy about your ideas, beliefs, opinions and plans—unless you want to be a wishy-washy person who makes few definite contributions to any relationship.

If you like good music, say so. If you hate something, say so. If you want to go somewhere, be positive about it. If you don't want to go, be just as positive.

At least, then, you're somebody —a real person. And others can get to know you because they know your likes and dislikes.

The "it doesn't make any difference to me" person is never much more than just a pale shadow of the person she is with.

And actually she isn't even honest. For it does make a difference to you whether you do this or that. Pretending it doesn't is just being afraid to speak your own individuality.

Council of Women Holds Conference On Future Plans

A splendid conference of the Local Council of Women was held Friday at the home of the president, Mrs. W. C. Steinkrauss, Smith township. There were 32 women who are all keenly interested in the Council work made the trip out by bus just after noon hour, returning after nine o'clock in the evening.

An executive meeting preceded the general meeting when resolutions to be presented at National Council meeting later this month were debated.

The members then formed themselves in three groups, chaired by conveners of community planning, aducation and economics. Discussions took place on what could be done by Council in Peterborough in these connections.

After tea the findings of the discussion groups were discussed generally.

All matters dealt with at the conference will be brought before the membership at the regular meeting this Thursday, September 20th.

Soft Rosy Pink Featured Accent

LOS ANGELES—Howard Greer makes a highlight of his featured color "Pink Lady," a soft rosy pink which he shows chiefly in satin. This year he uses it freely as an accent in collars, cuffs, and other such detail on the simplest of daytime wools, as well as for an overall shade in his dramatic evening gowns.

Greer shows straight skirts for daytime, though he uses a great many slashed hems, they are often bound neatly with braid.

GraceHudsonWon University Club $100 Bursary

A highlight of the September meeting of Peterborough University Women's Club was the presentation of a bursary award of $100 to Miss Grace Hudson, Waterford St. The felicitations and good wishes on behalf of the club were extended to Miss Hudson by the president Mrs. C. G. Boyd.

In the bursary committee's report tribute was also paid to Miss Margaret Capron, the 1950 winner of the club's award, who has completed her first year at Queen's University in the French and German course in modern languages. Scholarships recently received by her are: The Toronto Branch of the General Alumni Association scholarship of $100 for general proficiency in heading the first year Arts Course, the W. W. Near scholarship of $50 for highest standing in German and the Welch scholarship of $100 available only to Kingston residents.

Plans were completed for the annual fall tea for all university women graduates in the city and vicinity to be held Saturday, October 27th in the YWCA. The club now boasts of a membership of more than 90.

WRONG: Drive up in front of her house and honk the horn to let her know you are waiting.

RIGHT: Park your car and go up to her door for her.

Reorganization Discussed

OMEEMEE, Sept. 15 —(ENS— Trinity United church Women's Missionary Society met for their September meeting at the home of Miss Christina Connell, Mrs. H. Graham presiding.

The business was preceded by the singing of "Jesus Stand Among Us," and prayer by Mrs. Graham.

The treasurer's report showed a total of $229.65 raised to date. Mrs. R. Williamson read a note of appreciation from Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hough, for sympathy extended. September 27 was set as the date for the Baby Band meeting. Five members volunteered to assist the superintendent in putting it over. Re-organizing Mission Band was discussed. Mrs. H. Deyell and Mrs. S. D. Vaughan were appointed to talk to parents regarding better attendance and also to interview prospective leaders.

Miss Connell, leader of Group 4, presented the theme "The Church of the Frontiers," in which she was assisted by Mrs. V. Lang and Miss Mary Faulkner. Miss Faulkner speaking on Canada, and Mrs. Lang on Home Missions, gave an alternate presentation which illustrated how Home Missions keep pace with Canadian development. Mrs. Zufelt led in prayer. The new study books "From Lakes to Northern Lights" and "Home Mission Digest", were introduced by Miss Jessie Lamb.

Mrs. T. A. McConnell gave a report of her week as a delegate to the W.M.S. School for Leaders in Whitby Ladies' College. She made special mention of the morning worship as conducted by Mrs. Gordon Watts, Christian Stewardship secretary of the Dominion Board. She also was much impressed by the personality of a young speaker, Miss Yoshika Yam Mura a Japanese girl attending Princeton University.

A social half hour was enjoyed after the meeting with lunch served by the group in charge.

DOROTHY DIX

Soldier's Fiancee Plagued By Schoolmates Pessimism

DEAR MISS DIX: I am engaged to a boy in Korea and I love him very much. I go to high school and the girls often ask me, "What if he doesn't come back?" I firmly believe he will come back, but it bothers me when people constantly bring the question up.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: It is sometimes very hard to hold on to one's faith in the face of such pessimistic questioning, but hold on you must! It's a poor friend, indeed, who will try so hard to weaken your morale at a time when it is already bound to be pretty low. Avoid such company as much as possible and seek those who will give you verbal assurance that your betrothed will return to carry out your wedding plans.

Dorothy Dix

You Must Have Faith

Women with boys in service overseas—be they sons, husbands or sweethearts—need a special kind of faith. They are powerless to control the destinies of their men to the smallest degree, and this very inability to help renders the situation doubly hard to bear. Added to this is the uncertainty, from day to day, of the boy's welfare. One of the strongest aids in combating the worries and fears of these times is the comfort of a cheerful friend. Hope must be the constant watchword and only false friends will try to undermine the defenses of faith and hope you build yourself.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a girl 16 and like a certain boy. At one time he liked me, but I didn't care for him. Now I know that I do care for him, but he is going with another girl. Should I hint around that I still like him or go with someone else?

FRANCINE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You'll probably feel the same, Francine, about many other boys before you find the one and only. Your affections work on the not uncommon theory of liking what you can't get and vice versa. If you did get of him very soon and want someone else. This reaction is nothing to worry about—in fact, at your age it's much better than settling down to going steady with one beau. Go out with other boys, and if your lost love is really meant for you, he'll come back with banners flying.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married for six years, and am now 21 years old. I have three lovely children, and we are all very happy. My problem is, I quit school to get married and now would like to resume in the evening the business course I gave up. Can I take typing at home? M.F.G.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Provided you have a typewriter at home, typing is one of the easiest courses to assume by yourself. Your local book store has, or can get for you, books that give a splendid home course and can be followed easily. Typing is a very useful thing to know, and you are wise to continue it. If you don't own a machine, one can be rented for a small sum. When you are proficient at the work, you can earn enough to buy your own.

Wife Discovers She's Royal Tour Widow

By MURIEL NARRAWAY

LONDON (CP)—Amid the excitement of preparing for the Royal tour of Canada, there's at least one Scots lassie who feels a wee bit woebegone.

She's blue-eyed, 28-year-old Eileen Parker, wife of the equerry-in-waiting to Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh. While her husband Michael goes to Canada with the Royal party, Eileen has to stay at home and look after the children.

"Of course I'd love to go too," she said, "but it's just not possible for members of the Royal entourage to take their families along with them."

Eileen is used "to being what you might call a Royal widow." In the last two years, she's been separated from her husband more often than Princess Elizabeth has been away from Prince Philip. Eileen did not visit Malta, although her husband went with Prince Philip on all his naval assignments.

"It's an erratic life, all right," says the slim, five-foot-three lass from Troon, Ayrshire. "My friends say they don't know how I stand it. But it's just the same as being a service wife, really."

Eileen met her husband while serving in the Women's Royal Naval Service and on many wartime dates in Rosyth, Scotland's best-known naval base, her husband-to-be brought along his best and closest friend, then Lieut. Philip Mountbatten.

Royal Suitor

Little did Eileen realize in those wartime days that this charming, easy-mannered naval lieutenant would one day be the husband of Britain's future Queen and that most of her own married life would be controlled by Royal engagements.

For Eileen, like any other ordinary Scotswoman, would probably never have met the Royal family on a social basis had it not been for her husband's long-standing friendship with Prince Philip.

Now she must be prepared to go out any time at a moment's notice should the Royal couple decide on a sudden semi-official night out.

This means an extensive and somewhat expensive wardrobe, especially for state balls and other official occasions. For these, Eileen prefers net and tulle crinolines of pale pastel shades with off-shoulder necklines and tiny sleeves. "A few really good designs with interchangeable accessories give me the best service," she said.

Does Own Cooking

Mrs. Parker does her own cooking in a 10-roomed Georgian house in London's Kensington district, not far from Hyde Park gate. Compensation for much of her loneliness is provided by her children, Michael Jr., 7, and 2½-year-old Julie. Michael in getting to the independent stage but golden-haired Julie, whose Godfather is Prince Philip and who was born the day Prince Charles was christened, is the apple of her mother's eye.

Speaking of her introduction to Royal circles, Mrs. Parker said that one of her outstanding memories was her first meeing with the Queen. "She makes you feel you are the only person in the room and puts you instantly at ease. And she does love to meet Scots, it's not just a rumor."

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Readers' Saturday Column

QUESTION: Would you kindly let me have a good recipe for "green tomato sauce."—Mrs. E. A. MacK.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: The recipe I am giving you is known as Green Tomato Relish or Chow Chow or Picajilli. I do not have a recipe called green tomato sauce. I am assuming it is a pickle you are referring to.

Green Tomato Relish or Chow Chow

Seven lbs. green tomatoes, 1 large hard cabbage, 6 large onions, 6 medium cucumbers, 2 green peppers, 3 red sweet peppers, ½ cup salt. (If desired 1 small cabbage and 1 heard celery may be used in place of a large cabbage,—in which even the salt would be reduced to ⅓ cup.) Prepare the vegetables by washing, seeding, peeling or whatever they require, then put all through the food chopper. Sprinkle with the salt and let stand for 4 hours or overnight. Drain. Mix together 1 tablespoon mustard seed, ¼ cup grated horseradish, 1 teaspoon celery seed, 1½ lbs. brown sugar, 1 quart vinegar. Bring the mixture to boiling point, then add the drained vegetables to it. Bring just to boiling point again. (Do not boil longer if you want the vegetables crisp). Pour into sterile pint jars and seal. This is an excellent barbecue sauce.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: I read your column with interest and enjoy trying your recipes. I would like to get a recipe for canned applesauce. Is there any way of canning melons or cantaloupes? — Mrs. H. Z.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: My friend Barb and I used to "do down" about 40 quart jars of applesauce every summer. We used Melba windfalls. We had a farmer friend who would let us have as many as we could handle in one day for $1.00 per bushel. We think Melbas make the best canned applesauce. Some of the canneries use Duchess and Astrakhans, and later in the Fall most of the other varieties.

Canned Applesauce

Wash apples very well, cut into quarters, cut out seed portions and any bruises. Do not pare. Roughly the amount of water you add is enough to show below the second row of apples when in the preserving kettle or large pot. But this amount varies if you do a very large quantity. It averages about 2 cups hot water to every quart prepared apples or a little less if you like it thick. Boil covered until apples break up and are tender but no longer. Force through coarse strainer. To each quart add from ½ to ¾ cup sugar and 1 teaspoon salt. Bring this puree to boiling point stirring, and stir for 5 minutes. Pour into sterile jars and seal with great care. We always dipped the entire top of our sealed jars of applesauce in hot paraffin as an added precaution. You may reduce the salt to ½ teaspoon and the sugar to 1 cup, but this is for those who have an extra sweet tooth.

Melon Preserve

Select underripe melons. Wash pare and use only firm portion of flesh. Cut into ½-inch cubes and weigh. To each pound allow 5 cups water, and boil 25 minutes or until tender. Add three-quarters lb. sugar for each lb. uncooked fruit, and one-half sliced lemon, 2 small pieces ginger root. Boil over low heat for more than 1 hour or until syrup "sheets off" the spoon as it does in jelly test. Fill into sterile jars and seal. Tint green or red as desired.

QUESTION: I follow your recipes and talks with interest. I don't think I have missed any, but have yet to see a recipe for "Pickled Mushrooms." I wonder if you would have such a recipe Years ago in England when I was a child my mother used to pickle mushrooms. (How we used to love to go mushrooming), but since we have been in Canada I

BLODGETT—In loving memory of mother, Mrs. Alice Blodgett, who passed away Sept. 16, 1942.
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Ever remembered by her loving daughters, Mrs. Lewis Thompson and Mrs. Philip Russell.

McGILL—In memory of a loving wife and mother, who passed away September 15, 1942.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain.
To have, to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they'll never do.
The memory of those happy days,
When we were all together.
—Sadly missed by husband, Herman McGill and family.

SANDERSON—In loving memory of my father, Wellie Sanderson, who passed away three years ago today, Sept. 15, 1948.
Gone from us but leaving memories
Death can never take away,
Memories that will always linger
While upon this earth we stay.
—Ever remembered by daughter, Florence, son-in-law Rollie and family.

WARD—In loving memory of our dear daughter, Effie Ward, who passed away Sept. 15, 1947.
Past her suffering, past her pain,
Cease to weep for tears are vain,
She who suffered is at rest,
Gone to Heaven with the blest.
—Ever remembered by mother, father, sisters and brother.

opinion, the public would perhaps agree that the bus company has given the city efficient and safe and satisfactory transportation.

The large increase in the number of private cars has cut in on bus line revenues, almost everywhere. It is presumably no secret that Peterborough is not an exception in that discouraging experience.

Further Concessions

In that respect there has been some rumor of late that the company might have to seek some further concession from the city. It might be in cancelling the 10 minute service, or in asking the city for some relief from the contributions it has made from its gross revenue annually to the municipal treasury.

The schedule at the renewal of the franchise in 1944 was: 2% of the gross between $50,000 and $75,000; 3% of the amount in excess of $75,000 and up to $100,000; 4% of the revenue between $100,000 and $125,000; and 5% on all over $125,000.

The company also pays $500 a year operating license. In the meantime fares were increased from four tickets for 25c to four for 30c and finally three for 25c; and drop fares were increased from 8 cents to 10c.

Three years ago the company faced the necessity of buying certain new rolling stock. Six new buses were mentioned, four of them additional to the existing fleet and two required for replacements.

There have been purchases of buses and also increased cost of bus parts, against what is said to be a declining revenue.

This information is subject to official verification. Mr. Mitchell told the Examiner he did not feel like discussing the company's affairs without the assent of the directors. There is also the factor of increased cost of living affecting the company's employees.

These are comments which have been heard in conversations as to what extent Peterborough's transportation financial position was being affected, in the light of reports from several other cities, at least two of which have been operating municipally owned bus lines.

Salvation By Slide-Rules

It is all over now. Let us hope the Indian river never again will know that moment of supreme tragedy which used to be mirrored in the perverted humor of the old-time vaudeville comedian when he strode upon the stage with the anguished cry: "My God, the dam has bust!" Shovels and axes served well in their time as instruments of control but perhaps we shall do well now to depend more largely upon slide-rules and T-squares. Not that the people of the Indian river valley (who in essence are Kawartha people in general, since all Kawartha problems are of a single piece) need hope to find salvation by slide-rules any more than to find salvation by spades. For the most that man's instruments can do is to give direction to physico-chemical forces within the limits of the universal laws which have shaped the whole nexus of natural causality.

Let us use these instruments, by all means, but do not let them use us. And do not suppose that they can tell us what our ultimate destination ought to be. An awakened sense or responsibility and of guilt or shame should sharpen our perception of worthwhile ends, or objectives of intrinsic value. The controlling and directing of natural forces is our responsibility if we would attain an earned salvation. And we may well believe that in the main our engineers and other men of science have wrought well in helping us to control and give valid (valuable) direction to the myriad white horses which champ and chafe in the unresting drive of our hydraulic energy.

If we clarify our perceptions and give valid direction to our multiple forces, social and physical, we shall write glorious pages in the history of our future. And we may well give still stronger and convincing support to the already strongly supported view that "all history is direction."

Sweet Waters

Along the Indian river both above and below Warsaw were fine stands of sugar maples which have been prolific producers of syrup. Doubtless the Indian name of the river, Squaknegossippi (meaning Sweet Water) was not unaptly chosen. On the west bank of Quarry lake is the Hawthorne sugar bush, widely known for its fine-quality product. Its operations for decades have been carried on first by the late Edward Hawthorne, then by his son, James, both former reeves of Dummer and prominent many years in county council affairs. This sugar bush was one of the first in Central Ontario to adopt the evaporator method which replaced the old open-kettle process.

On shelves and in crevasses of the perpendicular limestone river-banks in this area vegetation takes root and it was here that Mr. Paul Hahn of Toronto, a year or so ago found growths of rare ferns, specimens of which he presented to the University of Toronto.

Below Warsaw, the Indian river crosses the Dummer-Douro line. It broadens at one point into what is known as Maloney's lake. Threading its way through flatter and more low-lying areas than those of its upper reaches, it pases on into Otonabee township near the CPR Indian river station, proceeding thence through an excellent farming and dairying area to Jermyn, Lang and Keene, in which through the years milling has been carried on actively.

have never seen or heard of one (I mean a pickled one).

The only time I get them is in (the States) and they come in little glass jars and are very good. As the season will soon be on for the field mushrooms I wonder if you could send me the recipe. The ones I get seem to be packed in olive oil.—Gladys D.

ANSWER: I am very glad to print this for you, Gladys — it does not contain olive oil, but I suppose some could be added, but it would not mix with the vinegar.

Pickled Mushrooms

One quart button mushrooms, 1 quite white wine or spirit vinegar, 1 ounce bruised whole mace, one-half ounce peppercorns (preferably white), 3 blade mace, ½ to 1 tablespoon salt (or salt to taste). Wash the mushrooms by scrubbing with a soft nailbrush. Do not peel them,—just slice off a thin slice from the bottom of the stem. Let them drain well. Place them in an enamel or a stainless steel kettle, sprinkle the salt over them, shake them over low heat until the liquid begins to flow, then keep over low heat until most of the liquid evaporates. Then add all of the ingredients, bring to boil, and simmer 10 minutes. Pour into sterile bottles and seal with sterile rubbers and tops.

Veteran Norwood

qualified. In the subsequent election for council Mr. Dean headed the polls.

When he tells of the political battles of those days his eyes light up with enthusiasm, and he checks his retentive memory against a voluminous scrap book which records press accounts of council's doings.

In December 1930 he replaced E. J. Laing as clerk and he has held that office since. The office of treasurer was added to his duties after the late J. E. Roxborough was killed the following January while on his way to the annual meeting.

"Yes, I intend to remain as clerk as long as I'm able," Mr. Dean assured the Examiner. "But the work has certainly changed a lot in that 21 years. . . . "It's the accounting end of it that's much heavier now. For example in 1931 the tax roll was $11,000 and for 1951 it is $26,000."

The veteran clerk feels that there is a definite need for young people to come forward and take an active interest in municipal problems. Unfortunately, he feels many of them shirk this responsibility.

But this is not to suggest that Mr. Dean is a pessimist. Far from it. He advises young couples to come and settle in the village.

"Transportation has changed things for the better. Now a man can live in Norwood and work in Peterborough without much trouble. Years ago that was unheard of. Educational facilities will be as good as any in the city as soon as we have the new high school built. There is lots of room, reasonable taxes, and on top of that you have the neighborliness of village life. How can you beat that?"

The waterworks system, completed in 1950, and the problem of financing the present high school have been the two most controversial issues since he became clerk.

Must Go Forward

"There's been lots of feeling over these two projects," he said, "but they're both worthwhile. We must go forward and move with the times."

Besides his duties as clerk and treasurer he is secretary of the board of health, a justice of the peace, relief officer and secretary of the cemetery board.

For 12 years he was president of the Hastings-Peterborough Conservative Association. He is a member of the IOOF and he has held every chair in LOL 34, Coronation Lodge and the Royal Black Preceptory, No. 311.

He was associated with the once-active Norwood lawn bowling club, and for four years he was secretary of the East Peterborough Agricultural Society.

Writing Poetry

One of Mr. Dean's favorite hobbies is writing poetry, and it was this talent that won him the gratitude of a St. Thomas widow whose only son was drowned while staying briefly in Norwood.

It was in 1938 that Gordon Cady a 19-year-old St. Thomas youth, was looking for work. While going through Norwood he decided to have a swim, and he drowned in the millpond.

There was no means of identifying him and Mr. Dean, realizing that the kin of the boy must be wondering what became of him, wrote a poem, "Some Mother's Boy." It was widely circulated among newspapers, radio stations and periodicals.

Cady's widowed mother, Mrs. Barbara Cady, saw the poem in St. Thomas and, as she read the rhymed description of the unidentified boys' clothing and the contents of his packsack, she realized it was her missing son.

At least a couple of times a year the Deans hear from Mrs. Cady.

The Deans have two daughters —Mrs. Charles Fredericks (Helen) and Mrs. Wilbert Golloher (Grace), both of Norwood. A son Clive died in 1922 and another son in infancy.

They have seven grandchildren: Mrs. Margaret De Graff, Niagara Falls; Mrs. Doris Leachman, Toronto; and Richard, Katherine, Clive, Robert and Morris Fredericks of Norwood. The grandson is Richard Dean De Graff of Niagara Falls.

On Sunday the golden anniversary couple will be at home to their friends.

small child's waking and sleeping hours.

Light painted or natural furniture is a splendid spot for gayly colored decals too, or if you're a little more gifted than average, yau can paint on your own decorations!

Toys are an important part of a child's life, so the nursery should be one place they can be left on display — much to the delight of the younger set.

Transition

The transition from the nursery to the little boy's room usually calls for redecorating. This however, in most cases does not have to be a complete job — but baby pastel colors and furnishings must give way to something a little bit more "grown up."

An easy-to-clean hard surface floor covering will be just as attractive as the pretty nursery rugs. Some of the furniture can be refinished and still suffice his growing needs. The only piece of nursery furniture that really must be discarded is the crib which can be replaced by a youth-size bed or studio bed. Either works out nicely for a youngster's room. The bed can be covered in a sturdy fabric and placed against the wall to leave more space for the play area.

Other essential bed-playroom pieces are low shelves and cabinets or chests to house toys and books, and a small table and chairs.

Sunday Playing Problem Plagues Barrie

OSHAWA, Sept. 15 (CP). — The Sunday playing problem, which troubled Barrie Flyers last season, has bobbed up again.

Coach Hap Emms said Friday night the Memorial Cup holders have been given an "ultimatum" which may result in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A club dropping out of the league or seeking another home arena outside a 50-mile radius of Toronto.

His announcement was made after a stormy session of the OHA Junior A council, made up of the coaches and team managers of the loop.

Emms declared he was told by general manager Art Ross of the Boston Bruins, the National Hockey League club sponsoring the Flyers, that Conn Smythe, manager of Toronto Maple Leafs, had taken the problem to the NHL.

He said that unless Barrie was willing to play Sunday games in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens then the Leafs will insist that the NHL rule be enforced. This gives the Leafs rights over all territory within a 50-mile radius of Toronto, an area that includes Barrie.

This would bar Boston from sponsoring a team in that area. Emms declared he would play no Sunday games in Toronto. Team manager H. Norris said the stand was taken on religious principles.

Not Anxious Ease Controls

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15 (AP) —Governors of the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund ended their sixth annual meeting Friday with still some criticism of United States proposals to relax international monetary controls.

Final speeches reflected the opinion that efforts were being pushed too vigorously to cut restrictions on currencies.

The United States has declared the 50-country fund must take this step to remove barriers to international trade.

The issue now remains in abeyance until net March. The fund's articles of agreement provide that countries still maintaining controls by then must consult with the agency on whether they are to be continued, modified or ended.

George White Describes Trip To Alaska

MARMORA, Sept. 15 (ENS)— As guest speaker at the September meeting of Marmora District Chamber of Commerce, George S. White, MP, of Madoc, gave a talk Thursday evening on a trip along the trail of '98.

This six-week trip the speaker took recently with Mrs. White. He first gave some sketches of bus trips in the Rockies from Jasper and Banff. He described the beauty of the lakes, one of which was the location for a scene in "The Hills of Home," featuring the famous movie dog Lassie.

Next he touched upon the Yoho Valley and described the meeting place of the Yoho and Kicking Horse Rivers. When at Kamloops, the temperature was 100. The trip on the "Princess Kathleen" to Alaska up the Inside Passage greatly interested him.

Juno, Alaska's capital, is named after Joe Juno who found the first gold of Alaska there.

Mr. White visited the federal building and the museum. At a glacier nearby, ice has been penetrated to a dept of 3,500 feet without the bottom being reached.

Skagway and Dead Horse Gulch where it is estimated three thousand of those animals have fallen to their deaths, were described.

A re-enactment of "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" was put on for the tourists.

R. E. Bonter introduced and D. B. Sanderson thanked the speaker. President Alex Fraser introduced a new member, Ray Orr. A committee was appointed to run the annual Hallowe'en shell-out on Oct. 31. It was also decided to hold the Santa Claus parade Dec. 15.

The question of a provincial highway from Marmora to Coe Hill in extension of the present No. 14 Highway from Belleville was again aired. A committee of the following were empowered to look into the matter: R. E. Bonter, V. M. Lynch and I. McCoy. The question of the building of low rental homes in Marmora received some consideration and discussion with nothing tangible resulting.

Fine Trainee $100 Two Soldiers Killed In Crash

Peter B. Wilson, 20, Montreal, was fined $100 plus costs of $68.50 Friday in Lindsay police court on a charge of dangerous driving, the aftermath of an accident in which two were killed.

Wilson, an RCASC trainee, was the driver of a car which failed to make a turn on Highway 7, two and a half miles west of Lindsay on September 4.

William Robert Sawers, 20, Montreal, permanent force member of the RCASC, was thrown from the wrecked car and instantly killed. A second passenger, Sgt. David Woodard, 31, also of Montreal, died the day after the accident in Lindsay hospital, the result of a fractured skull.

A fourth soldier, an RCMC trainee, H. H. Smith, Kingston, received a slight cut on the head.

Changed Plea

Wilson, who was only shaken up in the crash, was charged with dangerous driving and bail set at $4,000. On Friday he first pleaded not guilty but later changed his plea to guilty.

The four soldiers were returning to Camp Borden after a weekend in Montreal. About 4:30 a.m. they were driving west along the highway in a dense fog and Wilson did not see the sharp jog in the highway.

He swerved and the front wheel buckled, throwing the car out of control. It skidded and turned over several times, coming to rest almost 200 feet up the highway.

Royal Treat

MONCTON, NB (CP). — A supply of Maritime oysters and lobsters will be placed aboard the Royal train carrying Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh when it arrives in Moncton Oct. 31. The presentation will be made by Mayor Joseph LeBlanc on behalf of the citizens of Shediac.

Dream Homes At $22 Ready For Pensioners, Widows

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 15 (CP) —A dream comes true today for eight Owen Sound families—apartments for as low as $22 a month.

Dr. MacKinnon Phillips, Ontario minister of health, opens a housing development for old age pensioners, widows on mother's allowances and war veterans receiving small pensions, that may set a pattern for low rent housing in Canada.

Eight families will move into the building opened today. Four others under construction will provide a total of 40 three- and four-room apartments to rent for, respectively, $22 and $27 monthly. Cost of the project was $200,000.

The apartments are modern in every respect. Each contains a kitchen equipped with a refrigerator, electric range and double sink and a bathroom tiled in black and white. Three-room apartments include a bed-sitting room and four-room apartments a bedroom and living room.

A hot water stoker furnace tended by one of the tenants will heat each building, at the rear of which are several garden plots. Lawns in front will be landscaped.

Special Company

The Owen Sound Housing Company, Ltd., which built the project, was organized in February, 1950, by Mayor E. C. Sargent and Frank W. Smith as a limited dividend company to serve the same purpose as a local housing authority.

The company, comprising Mr. Smith, president, Mayor Sargent, Alderman J. C. Crossley, Ivor Wagner and William B. Lemon, was necessary because under present legislation, municipalities have no authority to enter the housing business.

Ninety per cent of the capital came from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, a federal government agency. Owen Sound provided the rest, including $6,000 to purchase the land and provide utilities services.

Profits are limited to five per cent of the total cost and if they exceed this amount, rents must be reduced to maintain the five-per-cent profit margin.

Company officials say the present scale of rents will pay off the capital cost of the apartments, as well as three per cent interest, in 40 years.

The plan will cost Owen Sound only $21 a year to house each pensioner for the next 15 years.

Clerk Foils Would-Be Thugs

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 15—(CP)—Thursday three men tried to work a short change act on Loretta Newman, clerk in an east end confectionery store. They failed.

Friday two men walked into the confectionery story, pulled out a gun and said to Miss Newman:

"You thought you were pretty smart Thursday, didn't you? But you won't be today. Give us all the money and let's have no fooling."

Miss Newman opened the cash register, took out all the bills and threw them on the floor. When the bandits stooped for the money she reached for a bottle of pop.

She fired one bottle after another at the thugs. They ran to a waiting motor car and sped away—without the money.

Order Four Firms To Vacate Hanger

TORONTO, Sept. 15. (CP) — The Federal Department of Transport served eviction notices Friday on four firms who operate aircraft worth $1,500,000 from a Malton aircraft hangar.

Ordered to vacate the hangar by Nov. 1 were the British American Oil Company, the Ontario Pulp and Paper Company, Canada Packers, Ltd., and the Ontario Hydro Commission.

Transport Department officials say the space is required for Avro Canada Ltd., holders of defence contracts to produce the Orenda jet fighter.

Broda May Be PC Candidate

TORONTO, Sept. 15—(CP)—A Toronto paper says today that Turk Broda, goalie for the Toronto Maple Leafs, may be a Progressive Conservative candidate in the next Provincial election.

In a newspage story the newspaper says that he may contest the riding of York West. The York West seat now is held by Charles H. Millard, Canadian director of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL).

Mr. Milllard is a member of the CCF party.

Evening Crew Back On Job

SYDNEY, NS, Sept. 15 (CP)— Operations were almost back to normal at the giant Dominion Steel Corporation mill here on Friday night after the evening crew of the boiler mill returned to their jobs.

This surprise move came several hours after about 2,000 employees staged a sudden wildcat strike in protest against a new wage increase which they said was insufficient.

The strike was the most serious of a series of slowdowns and stoppages which began two months ago.

Union - company relations reached the breaking point on Thursday night when Dosco general manager C. M. Anson said the corporation was introducing an across the board increase of 10 cents an hour.

The United Steelworkers Local 1064, immediately denounced the action as an attempt to break the union in Cape Breton. The union, which turned down the 10 cent boost as a basis for settling the wage row several weeks ago, is demanding that Dosco grant a 13 cent hourly wage increase to give Cape Breton members wage parity with central Canadian steelworkers.

One Dead 6 Injured In Head-On Crash

STRATHROY, Ont., Sept. 15 — (CP)—One man was fatally injured and six persons taken to hospital here, some in critical condition, following a head-on crash on No. 2 Highway at Hickory Corners Friday night.

Daniel Hyatt, 70, of Watford, died a short time after the crash.

His daughter, Mrs. Gladys Miller, 36, of Watford, is in critical condition with extensive injuries which include fractures.

Others injured are Mrs. Miller's 11-year-old son, Robert; Mrs. Helen Kerr, 23, of Lakeshore Inn, Lakeshore, Ont.; her two-year-old son, Johnny; Hugh McQueen, 25, of Donkin, NS; and Hubert Lanigan, 30, of Hamilton.

Population Figures Issued For Cities

OTTAWA, Sept. 15—(CP)—The Bureau of Statistics Friday issued the second of a preliminary series of population figures based on the 1951 census.

The reports are issued from time to time as full figures for a number of centres become available.

Cities in Friday's list, with 1941 figures bracketed:

Ontario—Belleville 19,394 (15,710); Brantford 36,555 (31,948); Galt 19,142 (15,346); Guelph 27,246 (23,273); Kingston 33,120 (30,126); Sarnia 34,420 (18,734); Woodstock 15,486 (12,461).

Bonarlaw News

BONARLAW, Sept. 15 (ENS)— The September meeting of St. Mark's WA was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ira Edwards. The meeting opened in the usual manner with the president, Mrs. E. Heath, in the chair. Mrs. Jason Baker read the scripture lesson.

Arrangements were made for the deanery meeting which will be held in St. Mark's Church early in October. The October meeting will be held on October 4 at the home of Mrs. Ward McInney.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Heath. Lunch was served by the hostess and a social half-hour spent.

Are you in the know?

Which flatters a chubby chassis?
☐ Slinky black ☐ Canary yellow
☐ Soft, cool colours

'Smagic—how a colour can fool the eye. The right hue can pare down plumpness, help deflate a "spare tire." But don't think slinky black's the answer—('taint for teens). Also, avoid dazzling shades. Wear soft, cool colours like blue, green, violet, preferably in darker tones. And never let calendar-time discomfort deflate your poise. Choose Kotex for softness that holds its shape—because Kotex is made to stay soft while you wear it.

If you're collarbone-conscious, what helps?
☐ A library card ☐ More upholstery
☐ Mermaid maneuvers

Got a lean-and-hollow-look around the collar? To add "upholstery," eat hearty. Swim like crazy. And do this: Sit very straight, with a book in each hand, shoulder-height. Keeping elbows back, slowly boost books toward ceiling, then slowly lower them—20 times daily. You can boost your confidence with the special safety centre of Kotex. And those flat pressed ends of Kotex prevent revealing outlines — keep you blush proof.

3 ABSORBENCIES: Regular, Super, Junior
More women choose KOTEX* than all other sanitary napkins!
*T.M. Reg.

How to prepare for "certain" days?
☐ Circle your calendar
☐ Buy a new belt ☐ Perk up your wardrobe

Before "that" time, be ready! All 3 answers above can help. But to assure extra comfort, buy a new Kotex sanitary belt. Made with soft-stretch elastic—light-weight Kotex belt's non-twisting. Stays flat even after many washings. Dries pronto! So don't wait . . . buy a new Kotex belt now. (Why not buy two—for a change!)

P.S. Have you tried Delsey? Delsey* is the new bathroom tissue that's safer because it's softer. A product as superior as Kotex . . . a tissue as soft and absorbent as Kleenex*. (We think that's the nicest compliment there is.)

Indian Guide Drowns After Boat Overturns

A CURVE LAKE GUIDE, Norman Knott, 32, was drowned late Sunday afternoon at the mouth of Little Mud Lake Bay, Chemong Lake, when his boat with two American fishermen, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Morse, of Shelby, O., capsized. Provincial J. G. Healey, Left, dragged for Knott's body through the night and found it 100 yards from the scene of the tragedy at the shoreline at 10 a.m. today.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Young Bride Strangled, Wed 2 Mos.

Husband, 22, Held As Witness; Quarrel Reported

TIMISKAMING, Que., Sept. 17. (CP)—A 19-year-old bride of two months was strangled in the bathroom of her three-room apartment Saturday night in this northwestern Quebec town.

Attractive Mrs. Gerald Ryan was found fully clothed, her hands clutching the wedding gown in which she was married July 16.

Her 22-year-old husband is being held by police as a material witness. A homicide squad from the Quebec Provincial Police in Montreal arrived here late Sunday to take over the investigation.

Ryan, a 240-pound six-footer who works as a cook in a cafeteria and boarding house, told police about the slaying which occurred about 9 p.m. Saturday night.

He telephoned the town police office and blurted out:

"I've killed my wife."

Montreal police officers refused to comment on the case. They would not indicate whether they had uncovered a motive for the slaying.

However, friends of the couple said Ryan and his wife had waged a bitter quarrel Friday night.

They said Ryan was "insanely" in love and deeply jealous of her.

Both worked at the Crawley-McCracken cafeteria and boarding house. The apartment is on the second floor of the cafeteria building where Mrs. Ryan worked as a waitress.

One of Mrs. Ryan's friends said that after the marriage, the young bride had said:

"He told me if I didn't marry him he would kill me."

NORMAN KNOTT of Curve Lake Indian Reservation was drowned in Chemong Lake on Sunday in attempting to swim ashore from a capsized boat.

Two Tourists Drift Into Shore

Accident Occurs In Narrows At Lake Chemong

An Indian guide from Curve Lake drowned late Sunday afternoon when he tried to swim to shore from an overturned boat in the narrows between Little Mud Lake and Lake Chemong.

Two United States tourists saved their lives by clinging to the boat until it drifted into shore.

The drowned man is Norman Knott, 32, who has been a guide all his life. He leaves a wife and four young children living at Curve Lake.

His body was found at 10 a.m. today by OPP Constable Jim Healey, who was in charge of dragging operations. It was right at the shoreline which Knott had nearly reached when his strength gave out.

Knott had taken Mr. and Mrs. Bert Morse, Shelby, Ohio, out on a fishing trip. Late in the afternoon, when the trio were in the narrows about two miles east of the Indian village, Knott somehow lost his balance and fell into the water.

Neither Mr. or Mrs. Morse are sure what happened. They think he started to give the outboard motor an extra wrench, lost his balance, and at the same time struck the boat pitching him over the side.

The boat then overturned pitching the Ohio couple into the water as well.

As they were only about 100 yards from shore Knott decided to swim that distance and get help. Mr. and Mrs. Morse tried to dissuade him but he struck out, swimming strongly. When nearly there he disappeared from view as the Morses watched anxiously while clinging to the upset boat.

Warns Russia Has 215 Divisions, NATO Way Behind

OTTAWA, Sept. 17. (AP)—Emmanuel Shinwell, United Kingdom defence minister, said today he has "solid evidence" that Russia has 215 divisions, 300 submarines and 19,000 aircraft and is making "great efforts" to build its power further. "Like us, they are making great efforts, and their forces are growing in power and numbers every day" Mr. Shinwell said. The British minister is here for the North Atlantic Council meeting. "Weakness is a temptation to the would-be aggressor," he told the Women's Canadian Club in a speech prepared for delivery. "We must build up our strength as quickly as we can, not as a threat to anybody else, but because we know it is the best means of insuring peace."

Must Strike Balance

Meanwhile, the North Atlantic Council thrust the future integration of the Atlantic community to the top of its agenda today while new efforts were made to speed deliberations by slashing the amount of talk.

As delegates from 12 nations went back into secret session, a Canadian source said the paramount problem is how to balance military power, economic stability and social progress.

Military power remains first but the broad general interest shown Saturday in the creation of a more-tightly-knit Atlantic community moved it up ahead of other items for immediate consideration.

Canada is expected to join in the discussion today and to tell the other nations how she feels they should go on from the present military collaboration to create something deeper and broader. A broad statement from the whole council is expected to emerge later.

Translating Facilities

As delegates filed back into the big Commons committee room where they meet, they found a cubicle in a corner. It represents a late but speedy move to install automatic translation facilities—similar to those used by the United Nations—so there won't have to be translation into English or French of what each speaker says. In this way, time spent on talk can be slashed sharply. It was installed by Canadian engineers and signallers but nobody was sure at opening time whether it would work effectively.

Flyer Hits Truck, Two Die; Engine Upsets

CHATHAM, Sept. 17.—(CP)—Two men were killed and another was injured severely when a speeding passenger train struck a truck at a crossing near here today.

Joseph Petigney, 21, of Toronto, died in the flaming wreckage of his tractor-trailer truck when the fast Canadian Pacific Railway Chicago-to-Toronto express plowed into his vehicle four miles east of Chatham. Fireman Carl Sterling, of London, was killed when the locomotive overturned.

The engineer, F. Chubb, of London, was brought to hospital here in serious condition.

Passengers Shaken

Two hundred passengers on the seven-car train were shaken up but none was injured severely.

The locomotive and tender tipped over on their sides and the baggage car and three coaches were derailed but remained upright.

Petigney's truck, normally used to transport bulldozers, was empty at the time.

Sterling was pried from the wreckage of the engine by the Rev. F. Lester Wimple and students of St. Peter's Seminary, London. They were passengers on the train.

First aid was rendered by Dr. A. Cawker of Vancouver and Ina Graham of Windsor, recently graduated as a nurse, who also were passengers.

Say Harriman Refuses To Deliver Note

TEHRAN, Iran, Sept. 17 (AP)—W. Averell Harriman has refused to serve as messenger for an Iranian ultimatum to Britain to reopen the stalled oil talks, an informed source said today.

The United States troubleshooter's reply regarding the two-week ultimatum was delivered to Premier Mohammed Mossadegh this morning.

American and Iranian officials declined to comment on the lengthy note from President Truman's representative, but an authoritative source said Harriman had turned down Mossadegh's request to deliver the ulitmatum.

The ultimatum threatened expulsion of about 350 British technicians remaining in Abadan—site of the world's largest oil refinery—unless Britain reopens the talks within two weeks.

Opposed to Uultimatum

It was reliably reported that Harriman wrote Mossadegh he was opposed to the ultimatum, because it would result in a worsening of British-Iranian relations and put the possibility of settlement further off.

There was strong possibility that Mossadegh would not even send the ultimatum to the British government, but simply inform the British technicians in Abadan that their residence permits were being revoked and they must leave within two weeks.

British sources here said technicians in that case, would have little alternative.

Mossadegh's government has been under fire from a small but powerful group in parliament since the oil talks with Britain broke down.

Ancestor Hunt Latest Craze

LONDON, Sept. 17 (Reuters)—Recent discoveries proving that many people who thought they were of humble origin really have blue blood in their veins have led to a new craze for ancestor-hunting in Britain and the Commonwealth.

Centre of investigations is the London office of "Debrett's Peerage," the 3,000-page book which each year records the latest facts about Britain's aristocracy.

More and more persons from the United States and Commonwealth countries whose families once lived in Britain are writing to the editor of Debrett asking him to trace their family tree.

The experts are still working on the case of Miss Pearl Wilson of Chatham, Ont., who sent them a family tree of her own to be checked. The tree contained nearly 1,000 names.

They have confirmed that Miss Wilson is a descendant of King Alfred the Great, who reigned in Britain from 871-900.

Fireworks Start Fire 14 Die In Cabaret

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 17 (AP)—Fourteen persons were burned fatally or trampled to death when flames, touched off by fireworks, flashed through the crowded "Can-Can" cabaret Sunday.

Ten of the dead were women—mostly hostesses.

Ninety persons were injured in the disaster, 26 of them seriously. About 1,000 persons jammed the place when the fire broke out.

The cabaret was crowded with Mexicans celebrating their Independence day when a firecracker set fire to strips of bunting. Earlier reports had said the blaze was set by an exploding skyrocket.

Combined Funerals Planned For 20 Killed By Stunt Plane At Show

FLAGLER, Colo., Sept. 17. (CP)—This stunned little farming town of 800 residents today prepared to bury the 20 persons killed Saturday when a stunting aircraft cut a deadly swath through the airshow crowd of 1,000. Seventeen others were injured when Lieut. Norman Jones' civilian plane snagged on wheat stubble as he was executing a barrel-roll. Jones, a student at the Lowry Air Force Base photo school, was killed when his plane crashed and scatterd over 150 yards packed with cars and spectators.

The plane cartwheeled into the crowd and practically disintegrated.

Authorities of the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Civil Aeronautics Board scoured the scene today.

The crash was described as "the worst tragedy involving a small aircraft in this country's aviation history," by R. P. Parsall, regional chief of the CAB, who is directing the probe into the crash.

Too Close To Ground

"It was obvious the pilot was too close to the ground," he said.

"I could see parts of the plane fly over the cars," said the Rev. Edward Dinan, who walked among the dead, delivering extreme unction to Roman Catholic victims.

There were 13 children among the dead.

Many of the dead will have mass funerals. Services are scheduled for tomorrow and Wednesday.

"The chaos that followed the crash is beyond description," said William J. Barker, a Denver Post reporter, who was attending the air show.

"Children died beside their parents. Women could be heard screaming the names of loved ones. It was like the end of the world. Bodies were everywhere. The blood was everywhere, too. I personally counted 10 bodies in the first few seconds."

The area was a scene of stark tragedy. Parents, their faces contorted in anguish, bent and kneeled over the bodies of children. Others searched frantically for loved ones.

Barker said the largest piece of the plane plowed into a group of five cars and the town's only ambulance. Ironically, the ambulance, on the scene in case of a crash, was demolished. Those sitting in it were seriously injured.

Labor Leader A. Johnston Dies

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17 (CP)—Alvanley Johnston, 76, Canadian-born labor leader who was Grand Chief Engineer of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers for a quarter century before his retirement last year, died early today.

Born at Seely's Bay, Ont., the son of a Scottish immigrant, he wanted from his early boyhood days in Ontario to take the throttle of a steam locomotive.

He came to the United States as a youth.

He suffered a heart attack on Sunday night, and died in his sleep this morning.

At the time of his retirement he said his proudest possession was a 50-year membership pin in the 81,000-member brotherhood. His successor was James P. Shields.

Johnston, a stocky, heavy-set man with iron-grey hair, was known as "Al" to thousands of railroaders. His railroad career started at the age of 17 when he became a call boy and wiper in Grand Forks, ND.

Fire Destroys Two Factories

HESPELER, Sept. 17—(CP)—A spark from an acetylene torch ignited a small puddle of oil and mushroomed into a raging inferno Saturday that destroyed two factories and threatened to wipe out this town's industrial area. Damage was estimated at close to $250,000.

Combined efforts of firemen of two departments waged a seven hour fight to control the blaze. It was Hespeler's heaviest fire loss in 50 years.

Fire swept the Hall Foundry Company Ltd. and Standard Castings and Manufacturing Company and left the two factories, sprawled over two acres in the heart of the town's industrial area, blackened hulks.

RCMP Arrests Fisherman After Running Gunfight

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP)—Shades of Nova Scotia rumrunners.

A bright moon shone down on Cowichan Bay in the small hours of Saturday. Two small fishing boats slipped into the bay on Vancouver island's east coast, their running lights doused.

Quietly, 200 fathom of net was lowered. Before long, the three men on the two boats had 1,600 pounds of salmon and were about to haul in.

On shore, fisheries inspector A. A. Sherman clambered into his 14-foot patrol boat and shoved of to see what was going on in his prohibited fishing area.

Bedlam broke loose.

As Sherman started to board one of the boats, he was shoved rudely back into his own. A shotgun blast rang out over the still water.

Sherman, unhurt, shouted for help. William Barton and T. W. Spencer put out in Barton's boat. A fusilade of shots made them dive for the deck.

Three Mounties arrived. They hopped into Barton's boat and gave chase.

One of the poachers veered sharply and bore down on the pursuit craft, trying to cut her in two. Barton pulled hard over and avoided a collision.

The Mounties opened up on the two fleeing boats but they made a clean getaway.

Fisheries patrol boats were ordered out immediately. The RCAF sent out planes to sweep Georgia Strait.

Sunday the two boats — the Diana Lee and Sandra M—were found at nearby Steveston, 40 miles from Cowichan Bay, and seized. Arrested and charged with illegal fishing was William MacDonald, 38-year-old Steveston fisherman.

Police were still looking for the other two men today.

All Planes Grounded In Alaska Sector

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Sept. 17 (AP).—All planes in the Alaska air command have been grounded "in the interest of safety until each passes an intermediate inspection," an Alaska air command spokesman said today.

The order, similar to the one issued by the navy last week, follows a series of military and civilian plane accidents which have claimed nearly 100 lives in Alaska since mid-July.

The Alaska command public information officer said the grounding order by Maj. Gen. William D. Old, commanding General of the Alaska air command, exempted emergency flights.

Murderer Proves He's Now Sane

BROADMOOR, Berkshire, England, Sept. 17 (Reuters) — A murderer who made a dramatic jail-break and lived on his wits for two years to prove he was sane today won his fight to convince mental specialists.

After 12 years in Broadmoor criminal lunatic asylum, John Edward Allen—known throughout Britain as "the mad parson" — will soon be released with medical approval.

Allen, now 38, was sent to Broadmoor for life after killing 17-month-old Diana Woodward in 1937. For 10 years he was a model prisoner.

His favorite hobby was acting and in 1947, dressed in a parson's collar and somber black suit for a theatrical performance, he climbed a 16-foot wall and escaped, with $450 from the canteen.

Police caught him two years later in London.

When Allen returned to the asylum he set out in earnest to prove his sanity. Under Britain's lunacy acts, an escaped lunatic who maintains himself for 14 days must be re-certified before he can be locked up again. Doctors found Allen passed all sanity tests.

When he is freed, Allen must obey certain conditions.

"So long as he satisfies these conditions, he will remain free," an official said.

North Koreans Launch Wild Attacks

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 17 (AP)—A battalion of North Korean Reds today launched a series of wild counter-attacks against allied troops on "Heartbreak Ridge" and touched off an all-day battle on the east-central front.

When fire dwindled off in late afternoon, an allied officer told AP correspondent George McArthur it was too early to tell if either side had gained ground.

There was no report of any ground action elsewhere along the 150-mile front.

Cold rains sweeping across the peninsula brought allied air attacks to a virtual standstill.

"Heartbreak Ridge" was named after another savage battle there two weeks ago. It is just north of "Bloody Ridge."

Sunday the Fire Air Force defied the elements and mounted relentless attacks on Red rail facilities.

More than 640 missions were flown. Pilots reported 300 rail cars destroyed or damaged—the greatest number in a single day since last May.

Take Two Heights

United Nations' foot troops in the rugged mountains of the east-central front ground slowly forward. They captured two strategic heights north of Yanggu and Inje.

One of the peaks towered over the punchbowl, an egg-shaped valley north of Inje.

Lt.-Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, said the Reds are suffering 20 casualties for every allied soldier killed or injured.

He said the recent UN drive in the east has destroyed Red chances for an offensive there.

Van Fleet said the Reds apparently were putting battle-worn units back in the lines before they were ready—always a sign of desperation.

On the central front, allied troops three times let attacking Reds advance to point-black range before opening fire. The attacks north of Kumhwa, were beaten off with heavy Communist casualties.

Six Coastguardsmen Race Sharks To Ship

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Sept. 17—(AP)— Six Coast Guardsmen could tell a real salty story today after swimming to safety through shark-filled waters when a fishing vessel sank beneath them.

They boarded the blazing Gloucester fisherman Barbara C. about 15 miles off shore Sunday after her three-man crew escaped in a dory.

Capt. Pasquale Palmisano, 69, and his sons, Charles, 25, and Frank, 32, fled the $22,000 vessel when flames broke out in the engine room.

The Coast Guardsmen from the cutter General Greene boarded the ship and brought the blaze under control. Suddenly the craft sank under them and they leaped into the shark-infested sea.

While a rifleman on the Greene kept a watchful eye on the sharks, the six fought clear of the sinking vessel's suction. The Greene manoeuvred in close to pick them up.

Blast Wrecks Two New Stores

DETROIT, Sept. 17 — (CP).—A dynamite explosion in the north-east section of the city early today destroyed two nearly-completed stores, damaged five others, and eight private homes. No one was injured.

Police attributed the explosion to union labor anger over employment of non-union workers on new construction.

Joseph V. Krug, inspector in charge of the special investigation squad, said he believed union agents found out that Fred Navarro, owner and builder of the stores, had lied about labor employed on the jobs.

Navarro admitted to Inspector Krug that he had lied to union agents when they asked him how many of his employees were union members. Navarro admitted that none of the workers belong to a union.

Ducking Decorators

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The King is ducking decorators at Buckingham Palace. He left the family at their Scottish vacation home in Balmoral Castle and flew here for a week of intensive medical tests and possible operation on an inflamed lung. His unexpected early return caught the palace household staff in the middle of a redecorating job. Court circles said the King may move over to Windsor Castle later in the week to keep out of the way.

'Outrageous' Price Level Under Fire From Mosher

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP).—Lack of direct police control has resulted in the "outrageously high" price level, A. R. Mosher told The Canadian Congress of Labor today in his presidential address at the CCL's annual convention.

President Mosher taxed the government with disregarding the interests of the people in the "indecent haste" with which it had dropped price controls after the war.

If a political party responsive to the interests of labor had been in power, he said, the present price situation would not have developed. He said labor should take political as well as economic action.

(The CCL for some years has designated the CCF party as the "political arm" of labor and has a political action committee to work with it.)

The veteran president and founder of the Congress, opening its 11th convention, also struck at employers who he said give aid to Communist units by signing cheap contracts.

"It is especially regrettable," he said, "that certain employers are so short-sighted as to be willing to make agreements with Communist - dominated unions simply because in many cases they can make a better bargain with a union which is on the defensive and trying at all costs to maintain its existence."

Mr. Moshers' attack was obviously directed chiefly at Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, Ltd., and International Nickel Company of Canada, which hold contracts with the Red-dominated International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers.

The mine-mill union has been expelled from the Congress for its Communist leadership.

Dealing with legislative matters Mr. Mosher revived the demand of the CCL and other labor groups for a wider national labor code. It should cover such industries as steel and meat packing houses, not now included. He also objected to unnecessary use of court injunctions in labor disputes.

Ship Explosion Kills 68 Men

SAIGON, Indo-China, Sept. 17 (AP)—A French landing ship blew up last week, killing 68 of the troops aboard and injuring 56. Most of the troops were Indo-Chinese.

Censorship prevented disclosure until today of the explosion at Badong, 72 miles south of Saigon, last Monday. French army sources said the craft hit a 660-pound mine laid by Communist-led Vietminh forces with whom the French and Vietnamese troops are at war.

Seven of the dead and seven of the injured were Frenchmen.

The landing craft transporting Vietnamese troops on a French surprise operation against the rebels, was believed to have hit the mine near the mouth of the Anterieurs River.

The crowded vessel capsized on dozens of men weighed down by heavy combat equipment.

A French minesweeper leading the convoy, which passed nearby shortly before the explosion, is believed to have stirred up the mine from the mud.

Monsoon rains hampered other landing craft and rescuers who struggled for hours picking up wounded men.

Ask Arizona To Send Firefighting Crews

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 17 — (AP) — Fire-plagued California today appealed to neighboring Arizona for reinforcements as overworked crews battled almost 100 fires knifing into the state's forest land.

Most of the fires were set by lightning Sunday, about 30 of them in the lush Carmel Valley alone. Others were touched off in Lake, Mendocino and Humboldt counties farther north.

Winds of moderate-gale velocity whipped the already-large fire on Boardman ridge in the Mendocino national forest to almost twice its earlier size. By Sunday night it had blackened more than 6,700 acres—or more than 33,000,000 board feet of pine.

Forest Superisor Lee Thomas estimated the loss at $100,000.

More than 1,500 men, including San Quentin prison inmates, battled the blaze.

Troops Sent To Europe Will Serve Under British Command

Ticklish Argument Finally Been Settled About Dominion Soldiers; Eisenhower Report On Plans To Be Given

OTTAWA, Sept. 17. (CP)—The Canadian Government will announce shortly, probably today, that Canadian troops will be placed under overall British command in Northeast Germany when they go to Europe this fall. The delicate decision to continue Canada's traditional military association with Britain despite the army's switch to American arms was made after consultation with Gen. Eisenhower. The troops going are the roughly 6,000 men of the 27th Brigade group. With parliament's approval, they will cross the Atlantic in time to take up posts in the British sector of Germany by Dec. 1.

Meanwhile, Canada and the other 11 members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will probably get official notification today that Gen. Eisenhower would like to see a general hastening of military contributions.

It is expected to be placed before the North Atlantic Council of Ministers in a report by the standing group, the top NATO military body, presented by US General Omar Bradley. General Eisenhower, according to Washington reports, has sent over a master plan for defence of Europe.

Finally Settled

The big significance of the placing of Canadian troops under British command in that master plan is that a ticklish point has finally been settled by or for the Cabinet. Gen. Eisenhower's views on military grounds, weighed heavily in the decision.

The point was whether repercusions from the switch in arms would shatter the tradition that Canadians fight and serve under overall British command.

There have been reports both here and in Washington that the Canadians would be placed under US command because it would be simpler in view of supply problems. This was the view at defence headquarters for some time, even though it meant something approaching the start of a new era.

A lot of the delicacy in the situation arose from charges in Parliament that the Army is being Americanized.

The current situation is clouded by the rifle dispute between the US and UK and Canada's announcement that she has stopped deliveries of the US .303 Garand rifle until it clears. She has also made clear that her decision to adopt the .300 does not necessarily stand.

Hold Daughter In Shooting

OAKVILLE, Sept. 17—(CP)—Shot in the back with his own service revolver, Cpl. John Sheffield, of the Ontario Provincial Police, was reported to be in an improved condition Sunday night in Oakville-Trafalgar Hospital.

The officer was shot Thursday night after he had engaged in a bitter argument with his daughter, Doreen, 16, about her job.

Doreen was later arrested and charged with wounding, causing grievous bodily harm. Crown Attorney Lloyd Dingle said the girl will appear in magistrate's court next Thursday.

Find Child's Body Year After Search

QUEBEC, Sept. 17 — (CP) — Provincial police said today they believe the body of a child found Sunday in the woods north of Quebec is that of three-year-old Nicole Renaud who disappeared more than a year ago.

Hunters found the child's remains at the foot of a tree about two miles from the summer camp of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorenzo Renaud, at Bourg-la-Reine.

A search for the child last year was abandoned because police expressed the opinion she had been devoured by bears.

Tin Miners Don't Get Pimples

Because Cornish tin miners appeared to avoid skin blemishes, British chemists suggested the use of tin in treating Boils, Acne, Pimples.

Now convenient, tasteless tablets containing 42.5% metallic tin are available under the brand name "Tinoxid" Rapid, satisfactory results are claimed for this inexpensive treatment.

Tinoxid Tablets are sold without prescription at all drug stores, 75c.

Ridgway Offers To Renew Peace Talks

TOKYO, Sept. 17 — (AP) — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway today offered to renew suspended Korean cease-fire talks. But his message to Communist commanders gave no indication that Kaesong was a satisfactory site.

The Reds broke off talks in that Korean city Aug 23 in a continuing series of charges that United Nations' ground and air forces were violating Kaesong's neutrality zone.

In the flurry of charges and denials, Ridgway on Sept. 5 proposed that the talks be moved to a new site. The Reds replied Saturday that the suggestion was "completely unsatisfactory and unacceptable."

In his reply to that message today the Allied supreme commander said:

"If you are now disposed to terminate the suspension of armistice negotiations which you declared on 23 August, I am still prepared to order my liaison officers to a meeting at the bridge at Panmunjom (Red outpost six miles southeast of Kaesong) to discuss conditions that will be mutually satisfactory for the resumption of armistice talks."

May Be New Site

Observers here speculated the "mutually satisfactory" conditions mentioned by Ridgway Monday might include a new site for the talks.

In his stinging message Sept. 5 Ridgway called the Red charges "baseless and intentionally false" and added: "I cannot provide you with guarantees against your own failure to exercise control in an area for which you are responsible."

Ridgway rejected all but one Red claim that UN forces have violated Kaesong's neutrality. The UN command has admitted that an Allied plane strafed Kaesong by mistake Sept. 10.

Lt. Col. Norman D. Edwards was ordered to deliver the message to the Reds at Punmunjom. He flew there by helicopter from the advance UN base near Munsan.

Support Weakens On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP) — Support weakened abruptly today in early afternoon dealings as stock market prices turned mixed.

Market leaders took the brunt of the trend reversal after a steady morning climb. Trading continued actively and volume for the first three hours reached 2,305,000 shares.

Papers weakened sharply and were displaced by steels as the strongest industrial section. Refining oils continued to gain. Foods and constructions advanced. Utilities, liquors, banks, textiles, manufacturing companies and retail stores were mixed while miscellaneous industrials turned lower.

Base metals climbed to a new high on the exchange's index at noon and then eased during the mid-session. Consolidated Smelters posted the largest gain as it jumped more than two points. Noranda climbed $1 and Pend Oreille and United Keno Hill added fractions. Cassiar and Steep Rock advanced steadily.

Western oils settled moderately during the noon hour. Anchor Petroleum, Calvan Consolidated, Commonwealth Oil, Home Oil and Okalta eased as much as 25 cents. Central Explorations, Grid-oil, Kroy and New British Dominions went against the trend for small gains.

Senior golds weakened. Six issues showed losses up to $1 while three posted moderate advances.

Nurses Learn Of Work Of Health Department

Field observation work with the department of health for the nurses in their graduating year at Civic and St. Joseph's hospitals started last week.

Miss Gene Clarke, supervisor of public health nurses, said today that the student nurses will spend three days each with department nurses. There are approximately 52 senior nurses in the two hospitals.

Only one nurse from the hospitals will take the training at one time. Civic hospital nurses will be with the department Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays and St. Joseph's hospital nurses, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

The King Prepares For Medical Tests

LONDON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The King settled down to a bachelor's life at Buckingham Palace Sunday in preparation for a week of intensive medical tests and a possible operation.

The ailing King left the rest of the Royal Family at their vacation home, Balmoral Castle, in Scotland, and flew back to London Saturday to hear his doctors' decision on his inflamed lung.

Worried London newspapers said a searching examination of the affected lung will be made this week by a team of specialists and that St. Mary's Hospital is being made ready in case an operation is ordered.

Thieves Pry Window At Garage, Take Razor

Thieves, believed to be looking for car keys, broke into the records office of Seabrook Motors, RR 3 Peterborough, early Saturday and made off with an electric razor and two ownership cards.

A window was pried open on the northeast side of the building and entry was made by crawling through it. An electric fan, golf clubs and some other valuables were not touched. Neither were the books and records.

The keys had previously been moved into the garage by an employee, Leslie Hooks.

OPP Wallace Mohns investigated.

2 Cars Crash Head-On 4 Tourists Killed

NORTH BAY, Sept. 17 (CP) — Four American travellers were killed Saturday when two automobiles crashed head-on 12 miles north of here.

A fifth man, Robert Paul Dempler of Pittsburgh, the sole survivor of the accident, is in hospital with injuries described as serious but not critical.

Three of the men—steel workers from Warren, O.—were homeward bound after a fishing trip to Northern Ontario. They were Ted Swiatkwich, driver of one car, Michael J. Shriner and Charles H. Poff.

Their automobile collided with a car driven by Thomas McCune of Pittsburg. McCune died Saturday night in St. Joseph's Hospital here. He had suffered a crushed chest. For a time doctors thought he might recover, since he did not lose consciousness for some time after being admitted to hospital.

On Way To Fish

Dempler, whose wife flew to his bedside from their home in Pittsburgh, is suffering from a broken arm, multiple lacerations and possible internal injuries. He and McCune were going to fish when the accident occurred.

Police said the three Warren men were travelling south on Highway 11 when their car dropped off the newly-paved highway on a shallow curve. The auto regained the road but careened to the opposite side into the path of the car driven by McCune.

Force of the impact threw the Warren car into a 20-foot rock-strewn ditch. The other automobile remained on the highway.

Two Tourists

Mrs. Morse also started to try and make shore but her husband called her back.

Takes 45 Minutes

The Ohio couple remained hanging onto the craft until it drifted ashore nearly 45 minutes later. They turned the boat over to get rid of the water and Mr. Morse started to row back to Elliot's Lodge on Lake Chemong.

They had just cleared the weed-bed when they sighted Bill Hepburn, 34, 279 Mark St. who was driving by in his outboard motor. He and his eight-year-old son, Don, were also out fishing.

"I thought the Morses were just out of gas at first," Hepburn related later. But when he pulled his boat alongside they told him the story of the drowning.

Tow Boat

Hepburn then towed their boat back to the lodge. At the same time some of the other tourists at the lodge, thinking that something must have gone wrong, had started out to look for Mr. and Mrs. Morse.

Knott leaves his wife, the former Lottie Johnson, and four children. The eldest, Barry, just started to school this term and there are two younger boys — Amos and Rickey. He also leaves a five-month-old daughter Susan.

Exchange Views

Today's discussion on the long-range development of NATO would come after Italy's Prime Minister De Gasperi completed the exchange of views on the world situation. This started Saturday as the first item of business.

The Canadian source said today's discussion will try to clarify just what the nations mean when they talk about an Atlantic community and how they think it can best be achieved.

The long-range discussion will, however, be permeated with talk about the more immediate problem of how to rearm without wrecking the economies of the free nations.

On both points, Canada is expected to have something to say and may come up with concrete proposals for meeting the economic problems confronting European countries who feel that their economies can't bear further rearmament without aid.

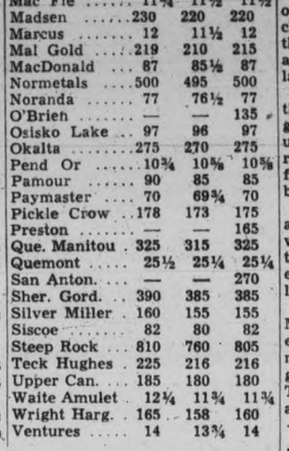
Financial aid from both the US and Canada for those countries has been reported likely here.

It is understood that the foreign ministers of France, Britain and the US reported Saturday on the results of their talks on West German rearmament. The subject is unlikely, however, to be pursued here.

Boy 3, Burned Fell Into Mortar

A three-year-old boy suffered burns to his face Sunday afternoon when he fell head-first into an uncovered trough of mortar at a house under construction on Arndon Ave.

The boy, Gary Sage, 445 Arndon Ave., was taken to St. Joseph's hospital where he spent a fairly comfortable night. He was treated for burns to his head, face, lips, ears and eyes, all of which were covered with mortar in the fall.



GARY SAGE

Cover Trough

A neighbor, Bob Hayes, 415 Arndon Ave., heard the lad and pulled him out. After Gary had been taken to the hospital, women of the neighborhood took planks from the construction job and covered the mortar trough.

Gary's father, Leslie A. Sage, said today that doctors did not think the boy was too badly burned. He was told by hospital officials today that his son slept "all right for the first part of the night," but was restless toward morning.

Pilot Saves 53 On Plane In Good Landing

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 (AP) — A Florida-bound plane crash-landed Sunday, and the pilot's expert handling of the crippled ship was credited with saving the lives of 53 persons aboard.

Capt. B. J. Mountain was lauded for making an "excellent" belly-landing of the converted twin-engined army C-46 in a field near Midway airport. Mountain brought the ship down shortly after getting airborne, when the left engine failed.

The plane was badly damaged and both engines were torn away in the wheels-up landing. None of those aboard was seriously injured.

Most of the 50 injured suffered only minor cuts and bruises. Thirty-seven passengers plus the crew of four were treated at two hospitals and others were examined at the scene. Fourteen persons were sent to hospital, but their injuries were described as not serious.

Excellent Landing

Officials said Mountain manoeuvred his troubled craft to a clear area—a prairie spot about three miles west of the airport—and made "an excellent belly-landing."

Will Sievert, acting chief of the Civil Aeronautics Board region C, said that about three minutes after the take-off Mountain radioed that his port engine had failed and that he was coming back for an emergency landing.

The plane, lumbering along at about 200 to 300 feet, apparently was too low to make a 180-degree turn back to the field. He decided then, Sievert said, to risk a landing in the clear area.

Bringing the ship to the prairie, Mountain and the co-pilot, Robert Tracy, 33, cut the ignition the moment the plane touched the ground to avoid the hazard of fire. The plane pancaked and slid to a halt, right side up.

Parade Route Set For Governor General

Brawl Has Compensations

Tone Loses Fight, But Wins The Girl

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 17 (AP)— Franchot Tone, the suave screen lover, lost a fight over a shapely blonde but apparently won the girl.

Actress Barbara Payton says he proposed and she said "yes."

Thus the ultimate loser of a movie colony brawl Friday is muscular Tom Neal, who threw the punch which pulped Tone's patrician profile and sent him to hospital with a brain concussion.

Neal took it hard. "I was very much in love with the girl, and still am today," he admitted. "I hope she and Tone will be very happy."

Tone, his doctor reports, is on the road to recovery. He proposed marriage Sunday to Miss Payton during her second visit to his room.

"I love him very much," the 25-year-old actress said afterward. "We knew yesterday that we would marry, but today he asked me."

All of which leaves but one question unanswered in the aftermath of the bloodletting in Miss Payton's patio, namely:

Will Tone press charges against Neal, the bull-shouldered actor and weight lifter, or will all three principals be content to let the matter drop? Apparently the answer to that one hinges on further conferences between Tone and his lawyer.

Miss Payton yesterday passed a few remarks about Neal—none of them complimentary.

"I wouldn't have the man in my house," she snapped. "I wouldn't call him a gentleman."

Her announcement of Tone's proposal followed by 24 hours her scheduled trip to the altar with Neal. She also revealed that she did, indeed, suffer a black eye when she tried to halt the thrashing.

Of her former fiancee, Neal said: "She couldn't make up her mind between Tone and me. First it was Tone, then it was me, then Tone, then me. Now, I guess, it's Tone."

Board Members, Teachers Meet Informally

BANCROFT, Sept. 17 (ENS).—Thursday night's meeting of the North Hastings High School Board was an informal get-together of the members of the School Board and teaching staff in the cafeteria of the building.

After brief welcoming messages by Guy Bentley, chairman, and other members of the board, the staff members were introduced by Principal W. R. Robinson. In his remarks Mr. Robinson gave a brief history of each teacher, as well as the part he or she would take in the school program. The reply was given by Mr. George McKelvey, the commercial instructor.

At the gathering were the following trustees and their guests:

Chairman Guy Bentley, Dungannon, and Mrs. Bentley; R. W. Hillis, secretary-treasurer; Emerson Laundry, Bancroft Village, Mrs. Laundry, and Miss Marion Laundry; Gordon Broughton, Bancroft Public School Board. Laurier Hook, Faraday, Howard Burlanyette, McClure, Wicklow and Bangor; Verse McMurray, Tudor-Cashel, W. Thompson, Limerick, Cecil Loney, Carlow, William Crozier, Mayo, T. Brownson, representative of Hastings County Council, T. Buckley, Maynooth Separate School Board. Two memebrs, Howard Gunter of Wollastin and F. M. Price of Monteagle-Herschel were absent.

Staff members and their guests were: Principal W. R. Robinson and Mrs. Robinson, Miss Louise Bunsen, Robert Colhoun, Miss Verna M. Cononr, Ernest Dixon, Miss Catherine Gillespie, Miss Elizabeth Loudon, George McKelvey, W. A. Morrison, Charles Montreuil, John Stuckey, Albert Wright and Mrs. Wright.

Lunch was served by thei nstructress in home economics, Miss Catherine Gillespie, assisted by a number of girls of Grade Eleven.

1806 Coin Found At Alderville

ROSENEATH, Sept. 17 (ENS)—A coin, 145 years old, was found by Mrs. Christopher Marsden in her garden. The figures on this coin are barely descernible but under magnifying glass, on one side it reads: "Georgius III D. Rex. 1806," and on the other side reads "Britanny."

Mrs. Marsden, one of the older residents of Alderville, has in her possession two English coins she had previously found, one an English penny dating back to 1860 and the other a half-penny, date 1882, both minted during Queen Victoria's reign.

Break Light Bulbs With An Air Rifle

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 17 — (ENS)— Officials of three departments turned out on Saturday afternoon in answer to a complaint from a Saskatoon Ave. resident that two boys were breaking light bulbs with an air rifle.

Chief George H. Hardy investgated as did members of the fire department and a crew from the Public Utilites Commission. Chief Hardy sent the two juveniles home with a warning and told them to report to their parents. The lads had broken several bulbs in street lamps, and were, remarked the chief, "Pretty good shots."

Woman Suffers Head Injuries

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 17 — (ENS)— Head injuries, shock and bruises were suffered by Mrs. Percy Windover of Norham, a nurse at the Campbellford hospital, on Saturday night, when the car she was driving was in collision with another at Bradley's Corners, about seven miles south of Campbellford on No. 30 Highway.

Mrs. Windover was travelling east, and was approaching the intersection of No. 30 Highway and the county road, when the brakes of her car failed. She proceeded out onto the Highway and was about half way across when the brakes suddenly took hold, stopping the car directly in the centre of the roadway. A light panel truck travelling south of No. 30 Highway struck the Windover car on the left side. Robert Clark of Clark Brothers Funeral Removal Service, 123 Collier Street, Toronto, was the driver of the truck, and he and a passenger escaped injury.

Provincial Constable George Rose of Campbellford investigated. Damage to the two vehicles has been estimated at about $500.

John Cunningham Buried In Cobourg

COBOURG, Sept. 17—(ENS) — The funeral of John Cunningham, native of England, who has lived in Cobourg since 1894, was held on Saturday afternoon with burial in St. Peter's Anglican Cemetery. He was 76 years of age and had been in good health until a few weeks ago. Very fond of sport, he was particularly interested in the Orphans softball team and followed them on their out-of-town games.

Mr. Cunningham has no relatives in Canada, as far as is known. The pall-bearers were Arnold Hall and James Miskelley, representing the Legion, Jim Medhurst and Ed Haynes, representing the Orphans and Joe Andrews and Hugh Gibson, representing the Orange Lodge.

Spiritual Revival Needed Drew Says

ORILLA, Sept. 17 — (CP) —A need for spiritual revival, possible only in free countries, was emphasized by George Drew Saturday in an address to the Ontario regional conference of Y's Men's Clubs.

The national Progressive Conservative leader said people should get away from the idea that the struggle in the world between the east and west is a contest between two forms of materialism.

The real test was what the two systems meant to the lives of the people affected. The most powerful force on our side today, he said, is "the decency of life that we associate with our concept of freedom and civilization."

500 Ordered Back To Work

SYDNEY, NS, Sept. 17 (CP) — Some 500 steelworkers, suspended by Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation for participating in a large-scale walkout, Sunday were told to erturn to work today.

Ed Corbett, head of district 1064 of the United Steelworkers Union (CIO-CCL), issued the return-to-work order during a stormy meeting of the men who were laid off Saturday. The men were laid off by the company until Sept. 22 after their walkout Friday.

Broda Would Retire If Elected As PC

TORONTO, Sept. 17 (CP) — Walter (Turk) Broda, Maple Leaf goalie who has been suggested as a possible candidate in the next provincial election, would probably quit hockey if he won a seat, he said Saturday.

"But I haven't made up my mind yet," said Broda.

He said that he had been approached to try for the Progressive Conservative nomination in York West in the next election. The seat now is held by Charles H. Millard, CCF.

John Hill's Funeral

The funeral of John Hill, former Peterborough merchant and wholesaler, who died Thursday was held Saturday from the Comstock funeral home.

The Rev. C. G. Boyd of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church conducted the service.

Pallbearers were Jack Wolstenholme, Allan Henry, Dr. C. E. Hill, P. C. Hill, A. R. Hill and Harold Gee. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

Try To Burn Store

BERLIN, Sept. 17—(Reuters)—About 150 West Berliners tried to burn an East Berlin co-operative store and stoned East Berlin police Sunday night, western-sector police reported today. They were protesting the erection of a traffic barrier at a road junction along the boundary line between the French and Soviet sectors. No one was injured.

4 Juveniles Caught

BOSTON, Sept. 17—(AP)—Four juveniles plunged 40 feet in a stolen car off a bridge Sunday during a 60-mile-an-hour police chase, impaling the vehicle on a piling. Police pulled three of the boys from the automobile and took them to hospital suffering broken bones. The fourth, who attempted to swim ashore, was captured.

Cobourg Asks Will Train Stop

COBOURG, Sept. 17— (ENS)—The people of this town are sore; sore at whoever is responsible for changing the tour of the Royal couple. First it was announced that the train would slow down as it went through Cobourg. Later it was announced that it would stop for two minutes. On Saturday Mayor Jack Burnet was advised that the arrangements were cancelled. Incidentally it looks as if tour officials haven't caught up with their announcements because the wire to Mayor Burnet said that it was impossible for the train to "slow down" at Cobourg. This in the face of the change from slow down to two minute stop.

Once bitten twice shy was the attitude of the Mayor. He recalled the first Royal visit when everybody was on hand to see the King and Queen. Then the Royal train was pulling out after an all-night stopover at Cobourg. But the King and Queen did not appear on the observation programme.

"We didn't want to go out on a limb again until we were more certain that the people would be able to see the Royal couple next month. Consequently we are not stocked up on flags or bunting," said the Mayor of Cobourg.

Nevertheless a great many people here are mad. They feel that the district lakeshore town are not getting a break.

Recommend Reeve For Court Of Revision

WARKWORTH, Sept. 17 (ENS)—The Percy council at its regular session voted to submit the name of Arthur Wartman, their reeve, as the representative from Percy to be considered to sit on the county Court of Revision.

The council also appointed James Sykes, the asessor, to proceed with the equalized assessment of the municipality under the county assessor and the new county assessment system at a fee of $1.50 per unit.

Demand Carfare

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 17—(CP)—Two-thousand members of the Building Service Employees' Union (AFL) will soon submit a demand that their employers pay their carfare to and from work, a union official announced today. Charles C. Levy, international vice-president, claims the men are entitled to carfare because they only get a small boost under the Wage Stabilization Board's formula.

Asks Protection

MARTINSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 17—(AP)—A school principal asked Sunday for police protection, saying he fears he will be mobbed for being a member of the Jehovah's Witness sect. William Lewis said 15 persons recently tried to throw him out of the school shortly after he was appointed to it.

Honor Missionary

Woman 100 Dies Formerly Lived Near Roseneath

ROSENEATH, Sept. 17 (ENS)—Word has been received by relatives here of the death of Mrs. George Burkell, at Princess Elizabeth Hospital, Winnipeg in her 101st year.

Mrs. Burkell, formerly Roxceny Merill was born on the Merrill homestead, September 16, 1850, one mile northeast of Roseneath. It is now owned and occupied by her great nephew, Cecil Blodgett.

Mrs. Burkell went to Manitoba with her husband in 1889. She was a pioneer resident of the Portage, Nepawa and High Bluffs district.

Since her husband's death 11 years ago, she has lived with her daughter, the only surviving member of the family, Mrs. Sam Brown, 791 Preston Ave., Winnipeg.

A piece of land was given by the Merrill family and a small church erected, that is known as Merrill's Church, north of Roseneath. Although this church has been closed for about 30 years for regular services, once a year a service is held in the church when the annual decoration service is held at Merrill's cemetery adjoining the church. The small church and cemetery are well looked after by a cemetery board.

Mrs. Burkell's last visit home to Roseneath was in 1935, at the age of 85 years.

Mrs. Herman Blodgett, Mrs. Charles Blodgett and Mrs. Wilbert Blodgett, Roseneath, are nieces by marriage.

She is survived by her daughter, 15 grandchildren, 26 great-grandchildren and three great-great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at McKillop's funeral home, Portage La Prairie with burial in the cemetery there.

Bancroft Cadets Start Training

BANCROFT, Sept. 17 — (ENS)—With only one change in the instructional staff the Royal Canadian Army Cadet Corps of North Hasting High School has started its fall training program during the activity periods of the regular school day. The girls' corps that was organized in the spring has also begun its yearly program.

O. C. is Principal W. R. Robinson, assisted by Instructors Henry Smith and John Stuckey. Assisting and advising are 2nd Lieut. Murray Fox, C. S. M. Donald Russell and Sgt. Jack Milne of 'A' Company of The Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment. The O. C. of the girls' company has not yet been appointed.

Dealer Is Fined In Metal Theft

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept 17 — (ENS) — A fine of $100 and costs was levied against Frank Brown, Campbellford scrap metal dealer, when he appeared in court here before Magistrate R. B. Baxter on a charge of theft. Brown was convisted of the theft of two wheels each weighing about 1,200 pounds, from a steam engine on an abandoned farm near Hastings. The wheels were the property of Michael Fitzpatrick of Hastings.

Replying to a defence plea to have the fine reduced, Crown Attorney Harry R. Deyman said that if the fine were to be reduced to the value of the wheels as scrap as the defence had asked, that it would merely be a license for the crime of theft, and that he would ask to have the fine made much higher. "The price of scrap metal is so high today that these thefts must be stopped, and stopped immediately," said Mr. Deyman.

The story of the theft was a complicated affair, and lasted two hours in the packed room. The deal regarding the alleged sale of the wheels took place in a Hastings beverage room. Edward Fitzpatrick, brother of Michael Fitzpatrick of Hastings, had been talking to Brown in the hotel, and Brown's defence was that Edward had given him permission to take the wheels. He took them in daylight, while accompanied by his partner, J. P. Kozak of Montreal. Fitzpatrick denied in court that Brown had received permission to take the wheels. The wheels were noticed to be missing by Michael Fitzpatrick when he visited the farm on August 5. He investigated and found the wheels had been sold to a scrap metal dealer in Trenton, and as the result of further investigation charges of theft were laid by Pronvincial Constable Donald W. Erskine of Campbellford.

Brown produced three witnesses in court, but the testimony was not consistant. In passing judgment Magistrate Baxter said that he should have made the fine much higher, but that he was taking into consideration the defence attorney's plea that Brown was a poor man.

$1,000 Reward Offered For Clue

TIMMINS, Sept. 17 (CP) — A reward of $1,000 has been offered for information leading to the discovery of Bill Barilko and Dr. Henry Hudson, Inspector I. R. Robbie of the provincial police announced Sunday.

He said the reward has been posted by the families of the Toronto Maple Leaf hockey player and the Timmins dentist, missing since they took off Aug. 26 in a light plane from Ruperts House on James Bay on a flight to Timmins.

A number of the RCAF planes engaged in the criss-cross search for the two men were withdrawn during the weekend. Officials said they are needed to meet "training commitments."

One RCAF Dakota and four Lands Department Beaver aircraft are still searching the tree-and-lake-covered wilds of Northern Ontario and Northwestern Quebec for the two men.

Telephone Rates In This District

The Bell Telephone Company has notified, as it is required to do, all municipalities in Ontario and Quebec that it has applied to the Board of Transport Commissioners to revise upwards its rates in the two provinces. Peterborough's Council has received this notification. It can, if it wishes, object to the proposed increases when the Commissioners consider allowing them.

* * *

How can the Council register an informed opinion? That is its difficulty, and the difficulty of any other municipality; it and its staff are not qualified to judge a complicated matter of rates, costs, profits and management in a huge business structure such as the Bell Telephone company. Nor can they judge the relation of these to the economic and financial condition of the country. They do not have the information, the technical staffs nor the special experience to make out a case for or against the proposed increases. To ask them what their opinions are about telephone rates is as useful as asking them what they think about the weather: they can say: "We think there has been too much rain, but what can we do about it?" One of the dangers of centralization of power such as the Bell now has is that it towers above the comprehension and control of the people who made possible and allowed the giant's growth: the phone ratepayers.

* * *

Peterborough people and their Council can say to the Transport Commissioners: "We do not like to have our telephone rates increased again. We do not know whether these rates can be justified. We ask you, the Commissioners, to ensure that you get the consumers' side of the story and that you get that side adequately presented by qualified men." If none of the local Councils is competent to argue the people's cause adequately, who can? Well, the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities could take up the people's case; and since the new rate schedules are to apply only in Ontario and Quebec, the departments of municipal affairs of the two provinces could co-operate and hire expert advice to brief the Commissioners from a ratepayers' point of view. Governments are supposed to represent the people. Since municipal governments are too small to spar with giants like the Bell company, does it not become the duty of the Provincial Governments to take up their cause?

* * *

The Bell Telephone Company, like other companies, has been hit by rising costs of material and labour, and this at a time when consumers demanded expanded service. A good case can be made for allowing increases. Should the increases be as great as the Bell asks for? They will amount to about ten per cent., and on the basis of the company's revenues last year, will provide it annually some $13,000,000 additional.

* * *

Since last summer the Bell Telephone Company has had a 20.6 per cent. increase allowed in its rates. The proposed new increases add another ten per cent. Here is how the rates have risen in Peterborough and district:

	Before July 1950	Interim July 22, 1950	Confirmed Jan. 1, 1951	Proposed New Homes
1-Party	$3.10	$3.75	$3.75	$4.25
2-Party	2.60	3.10	3.00	3.25
Rural	2.35	2.85	2.75	3.10
Extension	.90	1.25	1.25	1.25
Business
1-Party	4.60	6.25	7.00	8.75
2-Party	3.85	5.25	5.75	7.00
Rural	2.60	3.75	4.00	4.75

* * *

It must be explained that on July 22 the Government granted an interim increase, based on the Bell's proposed rates at that time, until the Commissioners could consider the requests. These held until the first part of this year, when the rates were authorized by the Board of Transport Commissioners as given in Column 3. At the same time (July 22), Peterborough was put into a new classification, from Group 5 to Group 6 (from maximum of 10,000 subscribers to maximum of 20,000 subscribers). Peterborough is still in Group 6. Thus Peterborough and district were hit twice in July last year. It should further be explained that Peterborough's rates did not rise at all from 1940 to July 22, 1950.

* * *

The proposed rates would provide these increases since a year ago last July: residence telephones—one-party $1.15 a month or 37%; two-party line 65 cents or 25%; rural 75 cents or 32%; extensions 35 cents or 39%; business telephones—one-party $4.60 or 68%; two-party $3.15 or 82%; rural $2.15 or 83%; extensions 55 cents or 48%. Thus the increase between the proposed rates and those between 1940 and July 22, 1950, is greater on business telephones than on home phones. The increases on business phones have been, and are proposed to be, very high. The increase on a single-party home phone as now proposed is 37 per cent. above the rate in Peterborough twelve years ago. During the same period the cost of living index has risen 87 per cent.

Vive Peterborough Lacrosse!

On Friday evening four thousand ardent partisans cheered Peterborough's senior lacrosse team to a 11-5 victory over the Mimico team. It was a popular and deserved victory. Now the heroes are Eastern Canada senior lacrosse champions and next Friday they fly to Vancouver to enter the Mann Cup finals for the Dominion championships. All Peterborough is proud of this fine team, jubilant of its victory and wishes them good sport, a good game and the Canadian laurel in its Vancouver tests.

Lacrosse has long been a popular Peterborough sport but until the game's revival as "box" lacrosse in the last decade, the sport had been in a doldrums for twenty years. And never before has a senior Peterborough lacrosse team won a Provincial title or entered the finals of Dominion scope. In 1888 the Peterborough team won the northeastern Provincial championship—in a pretty wild-and-woolly game—and from that decade until the Great War Peterborough held a proud and fearful name in the lacrosse world.

In the years 1897-98 the team was as celebrated for its slaughtering tactics as it was for its victories, and the spectators of the period took as fierce a pleasure in the blood and gore of the matches as they did in the Peterborough triumphs. The team of that day had a celebrated game with an Orillia team. It ended in a riot and the Orillia team, fearful of the fate ardent Peterborough fans might hammer, left the field without changing their togs and ran to the G.T.R. (C.N.R.) station. The train was not in. The Orillia players, not wanting to stay around, hiked up the tracks and flagged it at Lily Lake. At a return game in Orillia the Peterborough players left the field pursued by furious Orillia fans, and sought shelter in the railway coach from a hail of rotten eggs. The old style lacrosse has passed. Friday's game was fast—faster than games half a century ago—and as hard-fought as those, but by comparison it was clean and gentlemanly. Opposing players shook hands after the match and the spectators had cheers for the visitors.

The fury of games of earlier years never took a Peterborough team to the heights of this year's players. In fact, we believe it to be the first local senior team in any sport which has entered Dominion finals. There have been famous Peterborough ball and hockey teams and numerous Provincial championships: Junior O.H.A. in 1894, 1895 and 1901; intermediate in 1902; and Senior winners in 1925. But this year's lacrosse team has outpaced all earlier chasers of pucks and balls.

Good luck to the Provincial championship team which, developing from players and revived local enthusiasm and support since 1945, now goes to Vancouver to spread Peterborough's good sporting name across the Dominion.

Mr. Acheson Gains Support

President Truman's statement that Dean Acheson would continue to be Secretary of State as long as Mr. Truman was President was no more than a repetition, but the situation was considerably different. Mr. Acheson's remarkable performance as presiding officer at the recent San Francisco Conference has won him political and public support to an extent that makes him appear an asset rather than a liability to the Democratic Administration. And at least two of his most active Senatorial critics have retracted on the floor of the Senate.

Senator Douglas of Illinois, Democrat, had said a couple of months ago that Mr. Acheson had outlived his usefulness and called for his resignation. Last week Senator Douglas paid tribute to Mr. Acheson's performance at San Francisco, and then asked California's Republican Senator Knowland what he thought of what the Secretary of State had done. The usually critical Senator Knowland declared it was "an outstanding job," whereupon Senator Douglas asked if any "tenderness" had been shown Mr. Gromyko and his colleagues, and Senator Knowland promptly replied: No.

Much of the criticism of Mr. Acheson and his department has been based on the claim that both are too "soft" in dealing with Communist nations, and on claims that the State Department has harboured Communists and is still doing so. The manner in which Mr. Acheson dealt with Mr. Gromyko and other Communist spokesmen at San Francisco apparently has effectively dispelled the idea that he is ready to play along with Russia and its satellites. Mr. Gromyko and his colleagues have never before been subdued as they were at San Francisco, yet Mr. Acheson managed it with decorum and full observance of democratic procedures.

We do not expect Wisconsin's Senator McCarthy to note this and to desist from his unsupported charges.

Musical Notes

by PETER PIPER

DURING the past summer a number of eminent musicians have been taken from our midst. Of them without a doubt the most important is Arnold Schoenberg. He was born in Vienna in 1874 of Jewish parentage, a fact that later on influenced the course of his life considerably. He was a precocious talent, though not a prodigy in the sense of Mozart. His first essays in composition were deeply imbued with the spirit of the later Wagner, and though extremely chromatic can be related to earn for him a phenomenal amount of adverse criticism. "A fifty-minute wrong note", "the last word in cacophony and musical anarchy"—these are samples of what was said in Vienna. The London "Daily News" commented in 1912, "We must be content with the composer's own assertion that he has depicted his own experiences, for which he has our heartfelt sympathy". Even today a number of music-lovers would echo the same sentiments.

✧ ✧ ✧

YET Schoenberg continued in his lonely path, undeterred by abuse, and today there is scarcely a single country of the civilized world except Russia that does not possess a coterie of "Twelve-Note" composers, and even the Soviet composers lean towards this new idiom as far as it is prudent for them to do so. In fact it is true to say that apart from Stravinsky Schoenberg has had a greater influence over contemporary music than any other composer. There has been a very marked revival in interest in his music since the end of the last war. During the thirties it was widely thought that atonalism was just a passing phase of Central Europe. Constant Lambert (of whom more anon) said in his book "Music Ho!", published in 1934, "Unfortunately the greater part of his public was confined to Germany, where the atonal school was favourably received for two reasons: consciously, because technically speaking it sabotaged the moribund romantic tradition; and unconsciously, because it was emotionally linked to it. In Vienna, its own home town, atonalism is a small and detested cult; in Paris its appreciation is restricted to a few; and though in London Schoenberg's works have had since pre-war days a sympathetic following, the sympathy has, on the whole, been more respectful than enthusiastic". These words, written 17 years ago, would certainly have to be revised today. It is true that the average concert-goer cannot stomach atonal music, but there is a growing minority to whom it evidently means something. In America, whither Schoenberg fled from the Nazis in 1933, his disciples are numerous.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT must be born in mind that Schoenberg was a gifted teacher. Throughout his career he has been associated with institutions of musical education. Thus his influence in forming the style of the younger generation has been immense. In this way he can be compared with John Sebastian Bach. He insisted on a thorough course of instruction in harmony and counterpoint. This may surprise some, who think that modern composers write with an airy disregard for all that has been laid down in former days by example and precept. This is, of course, not quite correct. The Twelve-note system could never have come into being without the tempered scale, which in its turn was derived from the mean diatonic scale. The approach to atonality, therefore, can only be made after a thorough study of tonality.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANOTHER noted figure passed away during the summer. Constant Lambert, whom I have quoted above, died at the comparatively early age of 46. He came of an artistic family, his father being George Washington Lambert, A.R.A., and his brother Maurice Lambert, the sculptor. A Londoner by birth, he was educated at Christ's Hospital (the famous "Bluecoat School") and the Royal College of Music. While he was still a student at the latter institution a singular honour befell him: he was commissioned by Diaghileff to write the music for a ballet. Serge Diaghileff, the almost legendary figure, who first introduced the Russian ballet to Western Europe, had an uncanny flair for discovering talent. It was due to him that Stravinsky was rocketed to fame, and his genius for picking out dancers and designers was equally remarkable. This was a wonderful opportunity for the young Lambert, to be singled out in this way at the age of 20. He wrote two ballets for Diaghileff, and then turned to a setting of a poem by Sacheverell Sitwell, "The Rio Grande", which has become perhaps his most popular work. A synthesis of jazz and South American rhythms worked out with unflagging invention and a brilliant use of orchestral colour, it is still frequently performed. A prominent part is given to a solo piano, which has a scintillating cadenza to the accompaniment of some of the more exotic members of the "kitchen department". As an essay in "symphonic jazz" it shows up the Rhapsody in Blue for the tawdry and incoherent rag-bag that it is, just as though Lambert had said to Gershwin, "This is how it should be done".

✧ ✧ ✧

LAMBERT did not confine himself to composition. For several years he contributed brilliantly to a Sunday newspaper and brought out "Music Ho!", a witty and sometimes penetrating study of the trends of modern music, in which he confounded his admirers by announcing that salvation and sanity was to be found in Sibelius. At the same time he led an extremely active life conducting, especially at the Vic-Wells ballet, where he was music director for several years. In my opinion Lambert has never received sufficient attention as a conductor: I have never heard him give a bad performance, and usually he was magnificent. All the same, the other activities, necessary as they may have been for his daily bread, took him away from composition, and from being, with William Walton, one of the two Great White Hopes of English composition; he became almost extinct, with but an occasional new work to show that he still knew how to write music. In 1947, however, he relinquished his conductorship of the Sadlers Wells Ballet, and returned to his first love, composition, and as recently as July produced the score of a new ballet, Tiresias, with choreography by Ashton and the decor by his wife. It is doubly unfortunate that he should die at a time when he would be able to contribute more to the comparatively meagre amount of his compositions.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN addition to these two outstanding creative musicians two other world famous figures have died—Schnabel and Kussevitsky. Like Schoenberg they were forced by the pressure of world events to leave their own countries and they took up residence in the United States. Unlike the great pianists and conductors of former ages their achievements have been recorded on thin disks for future generations. If only we had recordings of Liszt, Paganini, Chopin, Rubinstein, and the other giants of the past!

Cheaper Phones Out West

(JAMES H. GRAY IN THE OTTAWA CITIZEN)

CALGARY—Ordinarily, when westerners start comparing their lot with that of eastern Canadians, they wind up on the short end. This, however, doesn't apply to telephone users, who get their phones cheaper on the prairies, cheaper even than the rates that were in effect before the Ontario Bell company applied for its recent increase.

The telephones on the prairies are operated as publicly owned utilities. All of them have been making money and the rates, generally speaking, have remained unchanged in recent years. In the cities there are two or three different types of phones — the wall phone, the old style desk phone and the new style cradle phone. The following tables show the comparative prices in the various cities.

	Wall Phone	Cradle Phone
WINNIPEG
Individual business line	$6.50	$7.15
Residence individual line	3.15	3.65
Residence two party line	2.50	3.00
CALGARY
Individual business line	$6.00	$6.50
Individual residence	3.00	3.50
EDMONTON
Individual business	$5.00	$5.50
Individual residence	2.50	3.00

Edmonton probably has the lowest telephone rate on the continent. The Edmonton system is owned by the city, earns a small profit because it has no capital tied up in long distance lines.

In Calgary the service is supplied by the provincially owned utility. To use the word service to describe what Calgarians get is perhaps taking unfair license with the English language. Nothing gripes Calgarians quite as much as their telephone service, not even the appalling conditions of their streets.

The post-war boom in Alberta caught the Government telephone utility completely by surprise. During the war the facilities were taxed to capacity. It was expected that demand for phones would ease off with peace. Instead oil was discovered and the demand skyrocketted. Belatedly the company in Calgary began expanding its lines and exchanges. It has fallen hopelessly behind. A new application for a phone in Calgary will take up to two years to obtain installation.

Calgary has a five-number dial system, i.e., 22222 or 34567. The main business numbers are in the 3 or main exchange. This exchange is so jammed that the busy signal is very frequently set off with the dialing of the second number.

Experienced telephone operators are scarce. The result is that users of long distance frequently have to wait for minutes that seem years to get the operator on the line. Waggish Calgarians revenge themselves on the phone company for this delay by personal calls to the superintendent himself.

TO solve their phoneless problems, Calgarians have worked out systems to double up with neighbours. They get an extension from a neighbour's telephone. Their callers ring the neighbour's number, let it ring twice and hang up. That's a signal to both that it is the extension line that is being called. The caller then dials again and the extension answers. Alberta does not have the two-party line that did so much to solve the shortage in Winnipeg.

Manitoba's telephone utility has always been progressive and profitable. It pioneered in the West with dial telephones. It installed exchanges in advance of demand. Thus Winnipeggers can get a new phone installed in a matter of months.

One reason why the prairie phone companies seem to be able to operate at rates that would be ruinous in the east is that, in Manitoba at least, there has not been a comparative population and industrial growth. That has caused greatly increased exchange requirements and installations at a cost far higher than anything experienced before the war. Alberta is now trying to catch up. What happens to rates then will be anybody's guess.

Million Dollar Arson?

(Brantford Expositor)

A fire which occurred in Manhattan the other day offered excellent support for the old adage, "Crime does not pay". According to the police, the fire, which wrecked a nine-storey building, doing approximately $1,000,000 worth of damage, was set by hirelings of a clothing manufacturer in order that he might obtain $20,000 in insurance. However, the plot backfired with disastruos results. Not only was the entire building destroyed but the lives of a New York detective and one of the suspected arsonists were lost in the blaze.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now the serpent was more subtil than any beast of the field which the Lord God had made. And he said unto the woman, Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden? . . . And when the woman saw that the tree was good for food, and that it was pleasant to the eyes, and a tree to be desired to make one wise, she took of the fruit thereof, and did eat, and gave also unto her husband with her; and he did eat . . . .

And the Lord God said unto the woman, What is this that thou hast done? And the woman said, The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat . . . . And unto Adam he said, Because thou hast hearkened unto the voice of thy wife, and hast eaten of the tree, of which I commanded thee, saying, Thou shalt not eat of it: cursed is the ground for thy sake; in sorrow shalt thou eat of it all the days of thy life . . . . In the sweat of thy face shalt thou eat bread, till thou return unto the ground; for out of it wast thou taken: for dust thou art, and unto dust shalt thou return. (Gen. 3: 1, 6, 13, 17, 19.)

Land Reform, Western Style

(Kitchener-Waterloo Record)

Land reform, as the New York Times says, "is something for which the multitudes in Asia and other parts of the world justly yearn and they can hardly be blamed for not knowing that Communist-style land reform is a fake. It is the only kind of land reform that most of them have ever heard of, because we in the West—who offer the genuine product—have been so slow, so timid and so inept in calling the world's attention to the sort of agricultural reformation for which we stand."

It is, therefore, encouraging to note that in Geneva the United Nations economic and social council (the Soviet bloc abstaining) has approved a resolution endorsing land reform as a means of raising the standard of living in underdeveloped countries.

Genuine land reform means fundamentally a redistribution of holdings into areas of maximum productivity, the size depending on the type of agriculture undertaken and on local conditions. It means reduction of exorbitant rental charges; it means security of tenure, improvement of working conditions, clearing of title, reform of tax systems, granting of agricultural credit, increase of yield, and so on.

Genuine land reform preserves human dignity and individual values, things which the Communist land policy fails to do.

Punitive Systems

(Ottawa Citizen)

In Formosa reckless drivers who kill people are executed by firing squad.

How unreasonable this is, compared with our more enlightened punitive system; we charge them with manslaughter, reduce it to dangerous driving, and then forget the whole thing if they promise to have their brakes fixed.

Safety Speeder

(Ottawa Journal)

In Toronto a motorist was fined $50 for travelling at 80 miles per hour in a 30-mile suburban zone, going through two traffic lights, forcing a couple of motorists into the ditch. It is interesting to observe that this reckless fellow operates a school where safe driving is taught.

SATURDAY-ON-THE-BEACH REPORT from the GILES FAMILY HOLIDAY

"Tea's ready, Don Juan!"

THE 101ST F-86 Sabre jet moved to the top of the production line at the huge Canadair Limited plant recently. Israeli Concert To Present Four Artists

A week to-night the notable Israeli concert group will take the Collegiate stage in one of the most remarkable recitals Peterborough and district people will have the opportunity of hearing. The changes have been announced to-day by the New York management of the tour. David Bar-Illan, pianist, will be replaced by the talented young composer and pianist Robert Starer, and Ingrid Rypinski, mezzo-soprano will be replaced by soprano Hanna Starer, his wife. Zvi Zeitlin the virtuoso violinist and Zamira Gon, the interpretative dancer, will appear as formerly scheduled.

Robert Starer, born in Vienna in 1924, went to Palestine in 1938 and studied composition, piano and harp there. From 1947 he has studied and performed in the United States. He served for a time at the end of the war in the RAF and has appeared on concert platforms in the Middle East and southern Europe as well as on this continent. His compositions have been broadcast and performed in Prague, London and New York.

HANNA STARER

Hanna Starer was born in Germany and went to Israel in 1947. She has had an intensive and brilliant career as soprano soloist in opera and oratorio in the Middle East and in Canada and the United States.

LAST ROUNDUP — Herd of 350 range horses arrives at Nose Creek, on the outskirts of Calgary for slaughtering and processing into dog food. The herd—worth about $15,000 on the hoof—was brought down from the Hanna district in a four-day trek.

14 Of 16 Fatalities Due To Traffic Accidents

By The Canadian Press

Sixteen persons died violently in Eastern Canada during the weekend.

A Canadian Press survey early today showed that 14 of the 16 died in street and highway mishaps. A woman was strangled and police said her husband would be charged with murder. A child was drowned.

Of the 14 highway deaths, four occurred when two automobiles collided head-on near North Bay.

Eleven deaths were reported from Ontario, three from Quebec and one each from Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Four Americans were killed in the North Bay crash. They were Ted Swiatkwich, Michael J. Shriner and Charles H. Poff, all of Warren, O., and Tom McCuen, of Pittsburgh. The Warren men, police said, were returning from a fishing trip when their car veered onto the wrong side of the highway and crashed into the car carrying McCuen.

John Pearson, 13, of Galt, was killed when he turned his bicycle in front of an automobile near his home. Another teen-ager, Floyd Whetham, 18, died when his old-model car turned over in a ditch two hundred yards from his Clifford, Ont., farm home.

James McLean, 33, of Udney, Ont., was killed when his car skidded on loose gravel and turned over 15 miles north of Beaverton, Ont.

At West Ferris, Ont., Jack Leatikamen, 58, of South River, was hit by a car and killed as he walked along the centre of a highway in early morning darkness.

Joe Rito, 45, a Tillsonburg tobacco worker, and William Bloomer, 65, of Angus, Ont., died in collisions.

In Cornwall, two-year-old Merna Laperle was drowned in two feet of water when she toppled off a wharf into the St. Lawrence River at the rear of her parents' home.

Traffic Deaths

Two persons died in the Montreal area when they were struck by fast-moving vehicles. Lionel Leduc, 42, of St. Stanislaus De Kostka, Que., was struck by a car which failed to stop, and Stanley Scott, 4, was hit by a motorcycle.

At Timiskaming, Que., a 19-year-old bride of two months, Mrs. Rose Marie Ryan, was strangled to death in her bathroom. Police are holding her husband, 22-year-old Gerald Ryan. They said early today he would be charged with murder.

John Bernard Long, 17, was killed near Edmunston, NB, when he was dragged beneath the wheel of a tractor, and Charles Swinamer, 73, of Three Mile Plains, NS, died there as the result of injuries received when he was struck by a car.

Fight Big Forest Fire

NANAIMO, BC, Sept. 17 (CP)—More than 400 men tonight fought a raging forest fire on the slopes of Mount Benson, 10 miles north of this Vancouver Island city. Forest rangers blamed some careless hunter for the first which started Saturday and roared through 2,000,000 feet of felled and bucked timber of the Northwest Bay Logging Company.

Big Congregation

LONDON, Sept. 17 (Reuters)—A crowded congregation at Westminster Abbey paid homage Sunday to the crews of the RAF planes which won the Battle of Britain in 1940. Prime Minister Attlee and several service chiefs were present. The congregation included 200 next-of-kin of airmen killed in the battle.

Rotation Leave

PUSAN, Korea, Sept. 17 (Reuters)—The first big batch of British Korean war veterans left Sunday on rotation for home aboard the transport Devonshire.

Substance Is Subject Of Lesson-Sermon

"Substance" was the subject for the Lesson Sermon which was read in all Churches of Christ Scientist, throughout the world including First Church of Christ Scientist in Peterborough on Sunday.

The Golden Text was "Turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgment, and wait on thy God continually." (Hosea 12:6).

Selections from the Bible included the following from Ecclesiastes 3:14.15: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever: nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it; and God doeth it, that men should fear before him. That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God requireth that which is past."

Correlative citations from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" included the following "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of discord and decay. Truth, Life, and Love are substance, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrews: "The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." Spirit, the synonym of Mind, Soul, or God, is the only real substance. The spiritual universe, including individual man, is a compound idea, reflecting the divine substance of Spirit."

Federal scientists estimate there are 2,000,000 Harp seals in Canadian Atlantic waters.

Air Show Draws Big Audience

TORONTO, Sept. 17 — (CP).— Jet planes roared through the air Saturday swooping, diving, and making mock strafing runs as Canada put on her second annual National Air Show at nearby Malton Airport.

Two platoons of paratroopers "hit the silk" as RCAF Dakota transports thundered over the 80,000 spectators who battered down fences and overflowed standing room to get a look at the show.

The paratroopers put on a one-hour mock assault during which they captured the airfield, subdued its imaginary defenders, demolished a make-believe radar station and left between-runways craters which were being filled in Sunday.

French Papers Seek Exemption From Tax

SHAWINIGAN FALLS, Que., Sept. 17 — (CP). — The French-language Weekly Newspapers Association of Canada will seek exemption from a Federal 10 per cent newsprint sales tax.

Ending its three-day annual convention here, the association voted Sunday to join forces with the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association and the Class A weeklies in asking exemption from Federal authorities.

Body In Whirlpool

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 17 (CP)—A body was seen floating in the Lower Niagara river whirlpool Sunday. Police said no attempt would be made to bring the body out of the water unless it floats ashore. No persons are reported missing from this area.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

A few summer sports linger on in the lap of an emerging autumn. Fall arrives officially next Friday. There's a fastball fray this eve at eight in the Bowl, Mutuals and Raybestos settling their semi-final series. Winner opens finals 'gainst Mount Pleasant on Wednesday, and these tilts are attracting a lot of fans. Bell Telephone and Foresters are back in their best-of-five Civic Loop playoff final for the Ostrander Cup tomorrow p.m. in the Bowl, Bell leading the series two games to one. Two games, if necessary, tomorrow to wind it up. Two well-matched and classy softball clubs.

There was a lot of eyeing askance at the Petes around the OLA senior group when the locals decided to take the bye into the Eastern Canada finals. But it paid off. Not financially, of course, since they passed up a couple of playoff gates at home, but they avoided injuries and had a good rest. Meantime, Hamilton and Mimico were knocking each other out in a stiff semi-final series, the Tigers being weakened previously in a hot quarter-final playoff with St. Catharines. Mimico at least had a bit of rest after erasing Brampton, and the Petes had a good layoff after rubbing out Fergus. The Timbermen took no chances on missing that trip west and a crack at the Canadian title.

* * * * * * *

What Happened The A's?

St. Catharines' scribe, who earlier in the season predicted the A's would in the long haul run the legs off the Petes and other teams, thinks Hamilton or St. Kitts would have given the locals a tougher test than Mimico. Well, maybe, though the Mounties finished second in the schedule to Peterborough. He doesn't like the playoff setup and suggests cutting the number of playoff teams in future to four, staging two-semi-finals and the survivors then meeting on pretty even terms in the finals. Sound reason, but the OLA and the CLA like that extra money. They had seven teams going all season to eliminate one from the playoffs, and that one then dropped back into senior "B" playoffs. That's sure taking care of everyone. The fans, too.

The writer winds up: "A bright spot is word that Harry Wipper will definitely make the trip. There is also a strong possibility that Jerry Fitzgerald will be granted time off from his football duties at Western to make the trek. If so, the Petes should make a creditable showing against the British Columbia champs. There's little chance that Bob Thorpe or Nit O'Hearn will get leave of absence from the Eddie Shore hockey interests. Fitzgerald has been commuting from London lately to Peterborough games. With a season of lacrosse and those strenuous football workouts, Fitz should be in top shape." Two chaps who can't get off for the trip are AHL puckists Don Ashbee and Ike Hildebrand, both outstanding lacrossers.

Lacrosse Fund Started

There's a story in elsewhere on a fund being started to help finance the Petes' trip to Vancouver. Ken Kingston is chairman, and a committee has started canvassing. Objective is $3,500 to take care of hotel bills on the coast, meals and wages of players who will be out of work for two weeks. Fans wishing to contribute a dollar, two bucks or 10, can do so by calling on Wm. R. Wallace, accountant at the Bank of Montreal this week. Official receipts will be mailed by the club to all donors. Quite a bit has been promised already, but time is short and a lot needed.

Orfuns' football executive announced yesterday that Bamforth would return as grid coach of the club, succeeding Leo Deadey. The latter says he hasn't the time to attend all drills and has stepped out of the picture. The players voted for Bamforth, who had coached 'em last year but wasn't anxious to take over this season. However, he agreed and has started right in. This will be welcome news to football followers, as Harv knows the game thoroughly and his teams play a colorful open brand of rugby. He was a most successful senior coach at Collegiate for years, handled the senior Orfuns just before the war and again last semester. The gridders will really have to play football for him. Orillia tackles Orfuns here Friday night.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Governor Frank J. Lausche, of Ohio withdrew formally Saturday from the race for the $65,000 per year job as commissioner of baseball.

Lausche admitted he would like to have the berth as diamond czar, but added "if the position is offered, I will not accept it."

Lausche said he could not abandon the Ohio governorship "with any moral justification."

The Ohio executive, frequently mentioned as one of four men having the best chance to succeed A. B. (Happy) Chandler, resigned commissioner, receives $13,000 annually as governor.

One man was severely injured and four others narrowly escaped when a speeding "hot-rod" crashed through the judges' stand during the feature stock car race at Dayus Stadium, Windsor.

John Tingle, of Windsor, a former driver who quit driving because of the danger involved, was taken to hospital suffering a compound fracture of the right leg between knee and hip.

Witnesses said the car driven by Serge Tessolin, Windsor, went into a lonk skid as it came around a turn, swerved into the infield, and smashed into the low judges' stand.

Besty Rawls of Austin, Tex., Sunday won the sixth annual national women's open golf championship when she scored a three-over-par 75 in the final round for a 293 total at Atlanta, Ga.

Port Dalhousie edged Brantford Mohawks 7-6 at Brampton on Saturday to win the Ontario peewee lacrosse championship.

The victory climaxed a day-long pee wee tournament for players 12 years and under.

The minor league comes "home" Dec. 3 through Dec. 7.

On those dates the 50th annual meeting of the minors will be held in Columbus, O., where president George M. Trautman of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues has headquarters for several years.

Art Houtteman, pitching star for Detroit Tigers before he dawned a military uniform a year ago, was given a medical discharge Saturday.

Houtteman said he will not pitch this year.

Houtteman was discharged because of the effects of a brain injury in an automobile accident some time ago.

The Brantford Cricket Club was crowned champions of the South-western Ontario Cricket League Saturday defeating the Hamilton Fairfields 62-50 in the match which gave the telephone city crew the top line.

Sir Strome, four-year-old colt owned by Mrs. J. Tomlinson of Oakville, Saturday captured the 26th running of the $5,000 added Speers Handicap at Polo Park race track, Winnipeg.

Sir Strome, with jockey George Godley up, won easily.

Coach Bob Masterson split his University of Toronto Blues, into two squads for an exhibition football workout at Orillia Saturday and if the game was any indication, the team must be rated a major contender in forthcoming intercollegiate season.

The match, won 10-7 by the Blues mostly on the strength of some fine kicking by left-footed Al Haig, showed that the Blues will be strong at every backfield position.

Bantams Beaten By Oshawa In OBA Contest

Oshawa took the third and deciding game of a best-of-three OBA baseball series against Ray Clifford's Peterborough bantams by a score of 7-4 at Cobourg, Saturday. The win enables the Motor City boys to advance against Kingston in further playdowns.

It was a hard-fought game with Ron Norman opposing Lefty Paul McIlmoyle, star of the Clifford crew; both boys went the route. Each club had four hits and each committed a like number of errors. Norman whiffed 14 batters, retired the side on strikes in the second and fourth and issued no walks; while McIlmoyle fanned 12 and gave up six passes in an almost equally fine display save for the seventh inning. Poor support afield in the seventh proved disastrous to Peterborough lads as the visitors took advantage of three walks, a double by Norman and three bobbles to score five tallies and wrap up the ball game. It was a tough one for the plucky team (sponsored by tinsmith James Welch) to lose and they became the last local baseball team to go down, against outside opposition. The boys gave it all they had. Paul Byrne hit a homer for Peterborough.

FIRST LACROSSE, THEN GOLF—Not satisfied leading the Petes Friday night to the Eastern Canada championship, Dootch Vitarelli added a second championship Saturday to his weekend total, the Kawartha Golf and Country Club championship. It match play against Mel Akers (left), Vitarelli (right) was squared with Akers at the nine and at the 18. Dootch went up three at the 27 and out in 39 while Mel went out in 41. The championship was won on the 35th hole with Dootch two up.

UEW Triumphs By 5 To 2 In Soccer Tilt

Th local UEW soccer team wound up its unbeaten schedule in Brockville on Saturday with a 5-2 Eastern Ontario League victory. The squad opened scoring early against the wind with Robertson counting on nice combination. It was tight then for a time with Titshall making a fine full-length save and Robertson hitting the cross-bar with a rocket shot. Brockville evened it finally with a long high one into the net corner.

UE took command in the second stanza with A. Smith scoring a nifty header on a cross from Cotton. After some close ones, Strong made it 3-1 when he picked up a long pass from G. Smith to go right in and score. He scored again shortly on an overhead battled back to score Brockville battled back to score one more with Titshall having no chance. UE returned to the attack and Robertson got the final marker. UEW will play Rugby, near Orillia, in the next Ontario Cup competition shortly, the first game to be played here. The local lineup Saturday included: Titshall, Allen, Mundy, Davis, Craig, G. Smith, Cotton, Robertson, Strong, A. Smith, Holroyd.

Oshawa Merchants Enter Senior Finals

By The Canadian Press.

Oshawa Merchants are in the Ontario Baseball Association senior finals but whether they will meet Welland Stokes or Niagara Falls Fords hasn't been decided yet.

The Merchants defeated Windsor Panthers 10-5 and 8-1 at Oshawa Saturday to complete a sweep of their best-of-five semi-final series. They had won the opening game of the series 2-1 Friday night.

At Niagara Falls, however, Welland remained in the running by beating the Fords 8-3, partly on the strength of five Niagara Falls errors.

Niagara Falls leads the best-of-seven series with Welland 3-2.

At Oshawa, Bob Carlson pitched eight-hit baseball while his mates put together 16 off two Windsor pitchers for the 10-5 margin. The Merchants kept up the hitting barrage in the second game with another 16 while Wayne Grandcolas, youthful Oshawa southpaw, gave up only four hits. Sherry Rowland had four hits in five times at bat to lead the sluggers.

Lopez Violates Rules Of Yankee Etiquette In Passing Batter To Get At Joe DiMaggio

By JACK HAND.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP). — Walking a batter to get at Joe DiMaggio violates the rules of etiquette at Yankee Stadium.

Al Lopez knows now, but it may be too late for the manager of the Cleveland Indians, now reposing in second place.

Not in the memory of the oldest settler has a manager intentionally passed a hitter to pitch to the Yankee Clipper at the Stadium—not until Lopez tried it Sunday in the fifth inning of the vital Cleveland-New York game.

Some 68,670 fans told him how wrong he was, even before the jolter boomed a two-run triple that ran 457 feet to the wall in left centre.

They loosened a thunderous boo to still the rattle of the elevated trains when Cleveland strategy dictated an intentional pass to Yogi Berra, the Yanks' new cleanup hitter, with DiMaggio on deck, Joe's batting average rests at a meagre .263 this year.

"I hope he hits it out of the lot," one Cleveland supporter told his neighbor.

Women Wept

Women wept and small boys danced in the aisles when the big fellow put the wood to Bobby Feller's slider.

The blow wasn't vital to the game. It merely boosted a 3-1 lead to a 5-1 winning Yankee margin. But it came a few minutes after Allie Reynolds survived his most menacing threat of the game.

After it was over, DiMaggio sat in the clubhouse, as is his custom. He lingered long after the other Yanks dressed and departed.

He wouldn't say so but his pride had been wounded by Lopez' gesture. It was the second time the Cleveland pilot did it. The first time, in Cleveland, Joe came through with a run-scoring single.

"I guess I would have done the same thing myself," said DiMaggio. "Who knows? Maybe Yogi would have hit the ball in the seats."

Empress Shield Captured By Ross Hopkins

Ross Hopkins' local rink won the Empress Hotel Shield Saturday, in the last open tournament to be sponsored by the local club for this season. Tom Doughty's rink, also from this club, was the other three-game winner.

The day was ideal and although the entry was not as large as the committee had hoped for, nevertheless all enjoyed the tournament.

There were rinks entered from Deloro, Cobourg, Port Hope, Port Perry, Cannington, Lindsay and Peterborough.

The committee in charge was F. Dearborn, R. Dyer and C. Mowry.

Tonight it's twice postponed "Visitors'" night at 7 o'clock.

Tuesday night, the club championship game between George Coleman, Jr., and P. Johnson.

Wednesday night, at 7 o'clock, the mixed doubles: choose your partner, $1 per pair.

Winners:

Peterborough, 1st and Empress Hotel Shield—J. Cullen, F. Worsencroft, R. Hopkins, sk.

Peterborough, 2nd—A. Mander, F. Mowry, T. Doughty, sk.

Port Perry, 3rd—A. Cox, M. Letcher, J. Allen, sk.

Cannington, 4th—W. Beard, E. Skells, W. Livingstone, sk.

Fund Set Up For Petes In Trip West

Requiring funds to finance their trip west in search of the Mann Cup and the Dominion senior "A" lacrosse championship, the executive of the Peterborough Lacrosse Club is setting up a fund. Ken Kingston is chairman, and donations from fans and others interested in bringing a Canadian title to Peterborough will be taken at the Bank of Montreal this week.

The lacrosse club drew good crowds this season but had heavy expenses throughout in trips to St. Catharines, Fergus, Hamilton, Mimico, Brampton and Toronto. The Petes passed up a profitable Eastern Canada semi-final series—which would have brought it nearly $2,000 in home gates—in order to have the rest, avoid injuries and take no chances on sudden elimination, so as to make the eastern finals. They won this and can now go after Canadian finals.

In addition, there were heavy expenses since spring in bringing in outstanding players, keeping them till jobs were available, and in the usual run of expenses for injuries—some players were laid up for weeks—and equipment, time off work and the long trips with meals, etc.

It Costs Plenty

Chairman Ken Kingston reports that the club requires another $3,500 to clear the expenses of the two-week trip to Vancouver this coming weekend, when it starts. It will take some $1,500 for hotels and meals for the big squad in that period. About $2,000 more is required to cover wages for players. Many of the latter are buying homes (including several of this year's imports) and have no extra money on hand. They are all willing to settle for two-thirds or less of their wages for these two weeks. The sponsoring firm has gone for more than $2,000 already and will help out some more, if necessary.

Keen lacrosse fans are asked to contribute $10 or $5, or even $2 or $1, while a committee will canvas industries and merchants in an effort to raise this sum. Official receipts will be given to all donors.

Veteran Umpire W. J. Klem Dies In Florida

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 17 (AP)—William J. (Bill) Klem, baseball's famous "old arbitrator," is dead.

The veteran umpire, 77, died of a heart and kidney ailment in Doctors' Hospital in suburban Coral Gables Sunday. His wife, Marie, his only immediate survivor, was with him when he died.

Klem, who had been in failing health for the past two years, entered the hospital Aug. 11. He knew the end was near and only a week ago told his lawyer, "this is my last game and I'm going to strike out this time."

Klem was gravely ill last winter and for a time was in an oxygen tent at his home on San Marco Island in Miami's Biscayne Bay.

Klem was a fine chap and probably the greatest umpire of all time," said Ford Frick, president of the National League.

Colorful Umpire

One of the most colorful umpires the game ever saw, Klem often quoted as saying he never missed one in his life. Later he amended that to say when he called a play he knew in his heart he was right.

Born in Rochester, NY, Klem played baseball briefly with a home town team but soon switched to umpiring and officiated at games in Connecticut and New York State before joining the American Association in 1904.

The following season he went to the National League and remained there for 36 years, until he retired in 1941. Since that time he served as umpire-in-chief of the league, occasionally officiating at exhibition or charity games.

Klem was credited with doing as much as anyone in the national pastime to raise umpiring to its present level.

Tennis Team May Be Revised

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 17 (AP)—The US Davis Cup tennis team may present a revised slate of personnel when it tackles the defending champion Australians in December.

Captain Francis X. Shields said today he would recommend to the American selections committee that veteran Ted Schroeder be added to the team, and there is a possibility that Herb Flam will replace Tony Trabert when the latter is inducted into the navy Sept. 24.

This was the trend today after the triumph of Australia's No. one player, Frank Sedgman, for the second straight year in the Pacific southwest tournament Sunday.

Sedgman defeated Trabert 6-3, 6-3, 2-6, 6-4.

Snaring the laurels with Sedgman was the triumph in women's singles by little Maureen Connolly of San Diego. The new US singles queen, who celebrates her 17th birthday today, won from ambidextrous Beverly Baker of Santa Monica, 9-7, 6-4.

Sedgman ran through the first two sets in 37 minutes. But Trabert stiffened in the third and sent the match into four sets.

Sedgman, who had been stretched to five sets in a grim battle the day before by Flam, played in contrast against Trabert with more rushes to the net and aggressiveness.

A rehash discloses that only Sedgman was invincible of the Australians, and even he had trouble with Flam, who was not named to the Davis Cup team.

Yanks Still Win Big Ones, Crush Indians 5-1 To Take Lead In League

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

New York's defending champion Yankees still win the big ones and that is why they are back in first place today. Because of their ability to rise to the occasion the Yankees won the flag in 1949 and '50. History simply repeated itself Sunday when the Bronx bombers crushed Cleveland 5-1 to replace the Indians at the top of the American League. Boston's third-place Red Sox remained right in the thick of things, beating the Chicago White Sox 5-4 and climbing to within 2½ games of the top.

New York's first place hold is only three percentage points and it can be wiped out today if Ed Lopat loses to Cleveland's Bob Lemon in the last meeting between the two clubs.

Up to now, however, the Indians have shown an apathetic ineptness at the Yankee Stadium. In 10 clashes on the Yankees' home grounds they have won only one game. No other invader has done as badly.

Allie Reynolds wielded the tomahawk Sunday. Old Wahoo set the Tribe back on five hits and added insult to injury by driving in what proved to be the winning run with a second inning single.

Dramatic Point

It was in the Yankee half of the fifth, however, that this crucial contest reached its most dramatic point, as far as the 68,780 fans were concerned.

The Yankees, leading 3-1, had a runner on third with two away. Cleveland strategy dictated an intention pass to the lefthanded Yogi Berra in order for the right-handed Bob Feller to pitch to Joe DiMaggio.

The Yankee Clipper knocked the strategy into a cocked hat and Feller out of the box with a two-run triple that rolled to the left-centre field fence.

The victory was the 15th for Reynolds and five have come over Cleveland. Feller, whose 22 victories lead all the hurlers, was charged with his eighth setback and his third in four duels with Reynolds.

The Indians, who move on to Boston Tuesday for a two-game series, have nine games left to play. The Yankees have 13 and the Red Sox 14 but eight are against each other.

Giants Edge Pittsburgh

Lest it be forgotten, there still is a pennant race in the National League. Two victories over Pittsburgh 7-1 and 6-4 kept the faint hopes of New York Giants alive as Brooklyn's first place margin shrank to 4½ games despite their 6-1 triumph over the Cubs in Chicago.

The Dodgers' magic number is still eight. That is the number of games they have to win in order to clinch the flag no matter how the Giants fare in their remaining nine encounters. Brooklyn has 14 to play.

Elsewhere, Philadelphia's Athletics whipped the St. Louis Browns twice 7-1 and 7-5; Detroit took two from Washington 3-1 and 4-3; St. Louis' Cardinals vanquished the Philadelphia Phils 9-2 and Cincinnati and Boston Braves split. Kenny Raffensberger pitched the Braves to a 4-0 victory after Boston won 6-5 for warren Spahn's 21st triumph.

Queen's Whips Aggies 16-5

Queen's University Golden Gaels overcame a first-quarter touchdown handicap to defeat Ontario Agricultural College of Guelph 16-5 in an exhibition game Saturday at Kingston.

At Sarnia Hamilton Panthers displayed a powerful running attack which ground along for 218 yards and an 8-3 Intermediate Ontario Rugby Football Union win over Sarnia before 900.

Windsor Ako powerhoused their way to a 30-11 triumph over Kitchener-Waterloo Panthers at Kitchener Saturday in a wide-open junior ORFU game. It was the second straight win for the defending champions.

Gaels were reported not too impressive as they prepared for their opening match in the inter-ecclegiate season at Western University Oct. 6.

Barlow put Guelph ahead in the first quarter with an unconverted touchdown. Queen's scored a rouge on Wagar's kick. He added another single in the second quarter before Lampman sent the Gaels into the lead with a major, converted by Mellor. Ross McKelvey added another converted major and Queen's added two more singles.

Jack McAuley kicked three singles for Sarnia in the first quarter before Hamilton retaliated. Joe McFarlane kicked their first point; Glen Dowson rammed home a touch and McFarlane kicked the final points in the last quarter.

Gills Or Frick Likely Named Commissioner

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 17 (AP). — Speculation is growing today that either Warren Giles, president of the Cincinnati Reds, or Ford Frick, president of the National League, will become the new baseball commissioner.

The highly-secret business of selecting a successor to A. B. (Happy) Chandler is expected to come to a head in Chicago Thursday.

The 16 major league club owners meet then to vote for a man to hold the biggest job the sports world has to offer. They are ready to boost his yearly salary—possibly to $75,000.

And just what will be asked of this man? The owners can ask no more than he be a fair, impartial man of integrity. The book of baseball laws is already there for him to abide by.

The confirmed report that Gen. Douglas MacArthur had turned down an offer of the job several weeks ago seems to have steered baseball men away from so-called big-name candidates.

Must Be Baseball Man

The owners are now said to be agreed almost unanimously that the commissioner this time be a dyed-in-the-wool baseball man.

This, at the outset, would appear to eliminate such rumored nominees as James A. Farley; Milton Eisenhower, president of Pennsylvania State College; Benjamin H. Reese, who retired this year as managing editor of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and others.

In stacking up the strongest speculation and reports now current, Giles and Frick emerge as probably the only two serious candidates.

The distinguished-looking, silver-haired Giles—one of the most respected men in baseball and a member of the major league's four-man executive committee,—has been rumored far enough ahead in the race to muster the needed 12 votes out of 16.

There are other reports that say the same of Frick, the 56-year-old former newspaper baseball writer who has been president of the senior circuit since 1934.

Frick is said to have had the backing of 11 of the 16 club owners in 1944 to succeed the late Kenesaw M. Landis. But the owners finally decided to go outside baseball ranks, and named Chandler.

Kesselring Captures Kitchener Playoff

KITCHENER, Sept. 17 (CP)—Jerry Kesselring won the golf tournament named after himself by taking a playoff win here on Saturday from London's Gil Walker.

Both men shot three-under-par 67's on the Rockway course, home of the Kesselring field day held each September, but in the first extra hole to break the tie, Kesselring fired a birdie three to win.

Third low gross was Windsor's Nick Weslock, a previous winner, who turned in a 69.

Late scratches reduced the starting list to 240, just under the record.

Ghosts Trip Orillia 13-11

ORILLIA, Sept. 17 (CP). — Cobourg Galloping Ghosts, Dominion intermediate football champions last season, registered their second straight victory in the eastern division of the Ontario Rugby Football Union intermediate series with a 13-11 triumph over Orillia Bombers on Saturday.

Don Douglas, veteran end, and Burnie Flesch, 20-year-old halfback registered touchdowns for the winners with quarterback Bob Cooper kicking two singles and Art Jones one.

Jim Wilda featured for Orillia with several long forward passes to place the ball in position. Flying wing Bob White carried the ball over for both touchdowns. Jim Honey converted once.

Piccolo Sexy Composer Tells Reporter

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 17—(AP)—Bet you didn't know that the piccolo is sexy.

Neither did I. I had always thought it a comical little instrument used for filling in the lulls of Sousa marches.

But composer Alex North informs me otherwise. He recently finished the score for the film "Streetcar Named Desire" and his music is reputed to the sexiest ever recorded on a sound track.

Not being sure what comprises sexy music, I asked North.

Sensual Sounds

"It's hard to describe," said North. "But when you hear it, you know that it possesses sensual qualities."

And did the piccolo really help?"

"Absolutely," he replied. "There is something about the piccolo when played in the higer registers that sounds sexy.

The saxophone can also exude sex if played well, he added. North has discovered such qualities in instruments as part of his work in scoring motion pictures.

"The flute gives a primitive sound, but is not dynamic or emotional he said. "It can be used to depict pure innocence. On the other hand, the trumpet is highly emotional and dynamic."

He added that the trombone is sentimental, the cello personal and the bassoon capable of high comedy. Drums can be used to promote eeriness and suspense, the French horn to describe desolation and loneliness.

Even movie stars might be identified with instruments, he agreed. For instance, Gary Cooper might be personified by a tuba, Betty Hutton by a soprano sax and Betty Grable by a flugle horn, whatever that is.

Louder, Maestro

Around Hollywood there is a saying that a good musical score is one you don't notice. North doesn't agree.

"If the music is so noticeable that you overlook the dialogue, it is bad," he said. "But I think music can be a great asset to a picture during the scenes of action and when there is no dialogue."

Urge World Union Of College Students

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 15 (CP)—Delegates of the National Federation of Canadian University Students in closing sessions of their 15th annual conference Friday urged formation of a world union of university students—on a non-political nature.

The federation adopted a motion of the Commission on International Activities that delegates from NFCUS to the Edinburgh conference of the International Union of Students set up a secretariat for such a world union.

The world-wide organizations, according to the resolution, "would include all representative national student unions in the world and would be non-political in character."

Junior Red Cross In Roseneath School

ROSENEATH, Sept. 17 (ENS)—A Junior Red Cross was organized and the election of officers conducted by Mrs. Ira Merriam, principal of Roseneath School, at a meeting held on Friday afternoon in the school.

Following are the election of officers: president, Nelda Brown; secretary, Donna McGrath; treasurer, Mary Halstead; chairman of health rules, Dean Adams; executive committee, Billy Murphy, Mary Halstead, Donald Robins, and Nelda Brown.

Plans were made to have a work meeting once a week, preferably on Fridays, and a business meeting the last Friday of every month.

Begin Air Search

WINNIPEG, Sept. 17 (CP)—An extensive air search will be started today for an American pilot, missing since Sept. 10 when he took off from Gods Lake in Northern Manitoba on a 270-mile flight to Red Lake, Ont. The pilot—Roy H. Nieswander of Springfield, Ill.—was on a private fishing trip. He was flying a single-engined Cessna 170 aircraft. There were no passengers.

Crops Threatened

LONDON, Sept. 17 (Reuters)—Unless there is fine weather during the next week or two, Britain's harvest may be one of the worst in years, farming experts predicted Saturday. Heavy and widespread rain, which has been more-or-less continuous since late last month, has beaten down crops, and on many farms wheat is sprouting in rain-sodden fields.

Unveils Plaque

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 (CP)—Prime Minister St. Laurent Sunday unveiled a memorial plaque to 115 members of the Governor-General's Foot Guards who died in the Second World War. The ceremony climaxed a two-day reunion of the Ottawa regiment.

Paving Co. Will Start Pour Cement

Road Work Delayed After Company Ripped Up Streets

Around the city hall it is expected that Warren Paving Company will begin this week pouring cement on the streets they have been excavating and otherwise making ready for concrete base and asphalt top.

The streets in this season's contract are: Lock south from Lansdowne; Stewart Place, from Perry around Park St. Baptist Church to Park St.; Perry from Park to Aylmer; Townsend from Park to Aylmer; and a short strip to Aylmer between the CPR and Townsend St.

Work was begun on Perry St., during the industrial holiday period at Raybestos plant including the last week in July and the first week in August, ending on Tuesday, Aug. 7.

Torn Up 50 Days

Nearly 50 days have passed since Perry St. was broken up for the preliminaries of laying a pavement bed, building concrete gutters and rebuilding the tops of sewer manholes. Apparently there has been a minimum of complaint from residents of those streets, as the delay in getting on with the job continued from week to week.

It is understood that the contractor has another paving job elsewhere, which is considered to be a cause of holding up the cement pouring stage of this season's project.

Micro-Wave Station To Be Built In Manvers

BETHANY, Sept. 17—(ENS)—A micro-wave station is expected to be built near Bethany as a part of the television relay system carrying channels from Buffalo to Toronto and Montreal.

A letter was read at the meeting of the Manvers township council Sept. 11 from the Bell Telephone Co. regarding the purchase of a site for the micro-wave station.

E. G. Baker, manager of the Peterborough branch of the Bell Telephone Co., said today that there would probably be two other stations erected in the vicinity — one near Warkworth and one near Stirling.

Deer hunting is expected to be prohibited in Manvers township. The council instructed the township clerk to draw up a by-law to that effect to be presented at the next meeting.

Charles Chapman was nominated to represent the municipality at the county court of revision.

Accounts totalling $5,093.09 were moved paid.

Road Bathed In Milk As Truck Overturns

A stretch of road in Douro township had the luxury of a milk bath late Saturday morning. A three-ton truck, loaded with milk, overturned in the ditch a mile north of Indian River.

The truck, driven by Richard Collins, 21, of 160 Dunlop St., went out of control as it was going west on a township road. It skidded into the ditch and overturned, spilling out five-gallon cans of milk.

The top of the truck was smashed in, the right door was bent and the right front fender dented. Damage is estimated at $800. Collins was uninjured.

OPP Constable Wallace Mohns investigted.

Msgr. O'Brien Dies At 79 Born InOtonabee

Right Reverend John J. O'Brien, pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart, died at noon today at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Monsignor O'Brien had been in declining health for the last year or more, but had recovered from temporary disabilities and was able to carry on his priestly duties until comparatively recently.

He had attended briefly the annual picnic of Douro parish on Labor Day, but on the Friday of last week he had entered the hospital for rest. Since then his condition of debility had gradually become worse. His death today was said to be the effect of his advanced years. He was in his 80th year.

Born in Otonabee township, Monsignor O'Brien was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward O'Brien who lived years ago on Park St. He received his education in Peterborough Collegiate Institute and St. Michael's College, and took his philosophy and theology courses at the Grand Seminary Montreal where he was ordained to the priesthood on Saturday Dec. 17, 1898. He returned to Peterborough shortly before Christmas that year and was for a time assistant priest at St. Peter's Cathedral.

Subsequently he was assistant in the parishes of Sturgeon Falls and North Bay, and was appointed pastor of Lakefield parish in 1911 and was finally transferred to the Church of the Sacred as parish priest in 1913.

Monsignor O'Brien succeeded in the new south end parish Rev. Dr. M. J. O'Brien, its first pastor, who was elevated to the dignity of Bishop of Peterborough, in succession to the late Bishop R. A. O'Connor, and later consecrated as Archbishop of Kingston.

In recognition of his long and devoted service in the priesthood, Monsignor O'Brien received from Pope Pius XII in September 1943 the honor of appointment of Domestic Prelate with the title of Monsignor. In diocesan seniority of years he was second only to Monsignor F. J. O'Sullivan, VG, pastor of the Church of the Immaculate Conception.

During the 38 years of his pastorate in the parish of the Sacred Heart, Monsignor O'Brien was deeply respected and revered by the people entrusted to his spiritual guidance. His pious life was an example to all his parishioners.

Monsignor O'Brien was always diligent in his duties and his interest began with the children from their baptism and school years. The parish of the Sacred Heart in its gradual development was largely the work of his life, and more recently he had seen it necessarily partitioned as the new parishes of St. John, St. Alphonsus and the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin were formed.

Humble Man

Monsignor O'Brien was a humble man who devoted himself to the spiritual welfare of the families of his parish, and his reward and happiness, as he had said, was in their exemplification in their lives of the great commandment of loving God and their neighbors.

Monsignor O'Brien leaves no immediate relatives. The funeral announcement is to be made later.

Normalites Get More Practise At Teaching

Students this year attending Normal School will have several more weeks of continuous teaching and less half-hour teaching periods in rural and urban schools, L. W. Copp, principal, announced today. The students' orientation period, he said, would be in the city schools during October.

In previous years the students have taught one half-hour lesson a week during the term in both rural and urban schools. This year the half-hour teaching periods will be in October only in Queen Alexandria, Queen Mary and Prince of Wales Schools.

Last year Queen Alexandra and Queen Mary public schools were used as practice and observation schools.

Mr. Copp added that teachers-to-be will have three weeks continuous teaching in the rural schools and at least five weeks' continuous teaching in the urban schools.

The first week of rural teaching will begin November 5.

Last year the normal students besides the weekly lessons taught two weeks in both urban and rural schools.

During the continuous weeks of teaching, the students will be placed in schools nearest their homes and will be teaching in pairs.

Mr. Copp said that teaching this year will seem "less artificial" with fewer half-hour periods, explaining that the students will observe and do all the activities necessary during a school week in their visits to the city and rural schools.

In October, the students will observe the city teachers teaching their classes on Mondays; then the students will teach on either Wednesday or Thursday.

A TWO-DAY WATER SKI MEET, Saturday and Sunday, was a great success, according to co-sponsoring officials of the Ottawa Water Ski and Kawartha Ski Schools. It was held at Viamede, Stony Lake. Contests Hot, Spills Chilly As Water Skiers Compete

Hundreds of shivering spectators lined the shore of Stony Lake in front of Viamede Hotel Saturday and Sunday to witness thrills and spills of a two-day water ski meet sponsored jointly by the Ottawa Water Ski and Kawartha Ski Schools. It was a definite success," crowed Canadian women's water ski champion Norma MacIntosh Gordon of Bobcaygeon and chief instructor of the Kawartha School. To have two consecutive days of fair, fairly warm weather in September, contributed largely to the success of the meet, she said.

The meet was held in the Kawartha Lakes because it was situated half way between Ottawa and Toronto and because the Kawartha school was one of the three establishments to be equipped with a water jump—Southampton and the CNE are the other two.

Events were run off in good order and the water, though cool, was only slightly rippled except on Sunday noon when a short chop upset many of the women entrants and made their performances very difficult.

Junior Winner

Saturday was junior day and in the peewee classes, trick riding and slalom, young John Stuart Jr. III of Peterborough swept the events and was declared winner.

In the junior girl's group, same events, Alta Mae Thomas of Bobcaygeon, swept top lakefront honors and Bruce Poole, also of 'Caygeon, was the boys' winner. He had to compete in jumping class in addition to the two other classes to win his laurels and trophies.

The condensed results of the Saturday meet were as follows: Peewee girls—1 Mary Reynolds, 2 Doreen Kellett, 3 Fern Mills and Judy Thomas, tied for third place. All of them are from 'Caygeon.

In the Peewe boys' class, 1 John Stuart Jr. III, 2 Bobby Smith of Whitby and Don Thompson of Port Elgin, tied, Charlie Higgins of Apsley, 3.

Junior girls', 1 Alta Mae Thomas, 2 Dorothy Nichols, 3 Louise Cross, all of Bobcaygeon.

Junior boys, 1 Bruce Poole, 2 Don McCauley of Port Elgin, 3 Bob Woodard of Ottawa.

Top women in Sunday's meet, all three classes, trick riding, slalom and jumping, was taken by Joan Weale of Toronto. Margaret Gilbert of Bobcaygeon was second and Sylvia Ericson of Toronto, third.

The mens' class was keenly contested with John Clifford of Ottawa coming to the top after his very close competitor "Ack" Ackerman, RCAF, formerly of Bobcaygeon, took a fall which disqualified him for top honors. Doug Matheson of Southampton came second and Owen Switzer of Lake of Bays, third.

People Try To Ignore Sin, DoWithout God Says Dr. Smart

"In much of our Christianity today, we don't expect God to do anything."

This statement was made by the Rev. James D. Smart, MA, PhD, of Rosedale Presbyterian Church, Toronto, at the Community service of worship Sunday evening in the Civic Arena. A capacity congregation attended this service which was under the direction of the Peterborough Ministerial Association and held at the request of His Worship the Mayor and under the auspices of the city council.

"We seem to consider God as a superannuated president of a business whom we respect and worship, but who is not expected to appear. This is an age in which we try to do everything ourselves," Dr. Smart continued.

Using as his text the miracle of the palsied man, brought before Jesus and cured, as recounted in Matthew 9, 2-8, the minister said that Jesus can still give man the benefit of his great power to change and recreate life that was used in healing during his earthly life.

Try To Prove No Sin

The trouble today is that we won't let Christ put his finger on the point of diesease—sin. People are constantly trying to prove that there is no such thing as sin. Even psychologists are trying to drive out the word and idea of sin. Sins are called mistakes and people reconcile themselves to them saying that others make them and therefore no one is any worse than anyone else.

As a result the healing words of Jesus to the palsied man, "thy sins be forgiven thee," can't be given in this age. Sin is not acknowledged and thus can't be cleared away and healing started.

Five Types

Dr. Smart enumerated the five types of people represented in the story of the healing and explained that they had their counterparts today. First were those who carried their friend to Jesus to be healed—people of real faith in Jesus and knowledge of Him. Second, the sick man—a man who was discouraged and would probably have not come to Jesus, if his friends had not brought him. Third, the scribes—the people who are very religious, but who believe they know all the answers. It never occurs to them that they might be able to learn something and are only concerned with the correctness of what others do and say.

Fourth were the simple people who crowded around to hear Jesus teach, and fifth was Jesus—the centre of the whole story and the centre of their trust, faith and hate.

The minister explained that Jesus' purpose in coming to man, as he stated Himself, was to heal the sick and broken-hearted, set free the prisoners and give sight to the blind. It was just as true today as it was then. His work will continue until the world is redeemed.

"Lo I am with you always even unto the ends of the world."

But the benefit of this presence does not reach people because they really don't expect His presence in their midst nor do they quite believe in the existence of His power.

Sick Souls

While on earth Jesus reached beyond men's bodily sickness and probed deeper. He knew that often the body is in disorder because the soul is in disorder and that a deeper healing is needed before healing of the bodily condition could be brought about.

"The good news of the gospel today is that we don't need to remain prisoners of our sins," Dr. Smart concluded. "Christ still has His great power to change and recreate life. The Church of Christ must acknowledge His presence and His power so that He works in us and through us in the love of God."

The Rev. C. G. Boyd, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church and president of the ministerial association, was in charge of the service. In his introduction of the guest minister, he explained that Dr. Smart was considered one of the foremost interpreters of reform theology and a recognized authority on Christian education. He also referred to Dr. Smart's former residence in Peterborough as minister of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

Tribute was paid during the service to the work of Major C. G. Everitt of the Salvation Army, who is leaving on Tuesday to take up his new charge in Winnipeg. The words of tribute on behalf of the ministerial association were given by Dr. D. Bruce Gordon, of Trinity United Church.

Take Part

Other ministers taking part in the service were the Rev. A. A. Mathews, the Rev. Henry Cotton, the Rev. Robert E. Dargan, and the Ven. Archdeacon C. W. Balfour.

Before and during the service, special music was presented by a massed choir of the city churches, under the direction of Christopher Gledhill, and the Peterborough Temple Salvation Army band under the direction of R. G. Routly. Donald Kennedy was at the organ.

Special mention should go to the massed choirs for their singing of the Hallelujah Chorus from Handel's Messiah. With only one rehearsal, the choir, under the direction of Mr. Gledhill, sang this inimitable and difficult work with an amazing grasp of its musical potentiality and with the minimum of timing and phrasing flaws. The competent assistance of the Salvation Army band in this number also added to the presentation.

The same good musical presentation was evident in their singing of Mozart's "Glorius Is Thy Name."

Members of the Peterborough Boy Scout troops acted as ushers.

Two Hit-Run Accidents Within Two Minutes Kill Cow, Injure Woman

Woman Jumps To Ditch To Dodge Car Friend Thinks Woman Hit Rushes Out, Knocked Down By Second Auto

Victim of a hit-and-run driver on the outskirts of Hastings village Saturday night, Mrs. Robert Simpson, 46, is now in Civic hospital recovering from head injuries. She was struck after leaving her home to see if Mrs. Nick R. Dainard had been injured in a pervious hit-and-run accident. Mrs. Simpson has facial cuts and scrapes and her condition today is good. The two hit-and-run accidents occurred about 8 p.m. Saturday within a few minutes of each other. Mr. and Mrs. Dainard were driving their cattle along the Hastings-Warkworth road to a small creek where the cattle could get water.

Mr. Dainard noticed a car coming and warned his wife to get out of the way. She jumped into the ditch, narrowly missing being struck, and the car hit a cow and killed it. The car continued on.

Shouted Warning

Mrs. Simpson, who lives nearby, thought Mrs. Dainard might have been hurt and she rushed out to help. As she started to cross the road another car came along and Mr. Dainard again shouted a warning.

The second car knocked her down and drove on.

After medical attention by Dr. Roy Joliffe, Warkworth, she was taken to Peterborough hospital. Her facial injuries include a cut lip that required several stitches to close.

OPP Constable George Rose of Campbellford is in charge of the investigation. There has been no trace of the drivers but police have one lead: glass from a smashed headlight was found at the scene of the accident.

400 Test Men Gather For CGE Reunion

More than 400 alumni of the CGE test course and their guests attended the annual test reunion at the Kawartha Golf Club on Saturday afternoon. At the buffet supper in the evening, it was announced that the 1951-52 president would be Don Emery of the Peterborough works.

Guest speaker at the supper was Ron Robinson, manager of the Royce Ave. works of the CGE in Toronto. He spoke on "The Other Fellow," a comparison of life under free enterprise and under the "isms".

Perfect Weather

Perfect weather allowed the program to run off smoothly, and the 18 sports events of the afternoon were completed without a hitch.

Other officers elected to the executive of the Test Alumni Association were: L.D.W. Magie, honorary president for Peterborough R. C. Hardie, vice-president for districts; I. M. McLean, vice-president for Toronto, and J. L. Killoran, vice-president for other companies.

President Speaks

Company president H. M. Turner spoke to the alumni at the CGE cafeteria at their noon dinner, and afterwards the group moved out to the Kawartha Club.

After the sports events in the afternoon, the buffet supper was held, at which retiring president Ken Thompson made his farewell speech. Secretary-treasurer Bill McMullen read the association's financial report.

$30 Per Month For Widows Of Four Firemen

Judge S. L. Smoke presided at the first meeting Friday afternoon of the Mayor's Fire Relief Fund. It was held in his chambers at the Court House.

As a set policy of aid to the families that were bereaved in the fire of the Zacks Building May 19, it was decided that each of the four widows should receive $30 a month.

For each child under 10 years the monthly allowance is $15; and for children of 10 to 16 years the allowance is $25.

The trustees were in accord with the remarks of Mayor Swanston on the topic of publicity as expressed at a recent meeting of the council. Respect for the privacy of the four families is the general position taken by the Trust, and it was felt that this attitude would be endorsed by the thousands of people who contributed to the fund.

Any matters of change or of more than routine importance to the public may be reported to the council through its mayor. Otherwise, however, the Trust is to be regarded as a means of fatherly aid to the families and not to cause them embarrassment.

With Judge Smoke were: Mrs. Fred Hooper representing the Red Cross Society, Mayor Swanston, Mr. C. W. Bennett of the Fire Fighters Association, and Mr. T. J. Carley, KC.

Visited the Four Homes

Mrs. Hooper, Mr. Carley and other members of the Trust have visited the four homes, and after the temporary arrangements which have been in effect since the subscription list closed, the affairs of the Trust are now established on a regularized basis.

It is understood that the public will not hear much about the ministrations of the Trust in its month to month disbursements and general administration of the fund.

Note Interest Abroad About Canada

CALGARY, Sept. 17—(CP)—The physical volume of Canada's industrial production has more than doubled in the last decade, F. J. Lyle, director, Ontario Trade and Industry Branch, Department of Planning and Development, said today.

Addressing a joint luncheon of the Kiwanis Club and the Calgary Chamber of Commerce, held in connection with the annual conference of the Provincial Governments Trade and Industrial Council, Mr. Lyle added:

"The significance of this achievement has apparently escaped most Canadians, for I know it has created more stir in New York and London than it has in Toronto or Calgary."

Some industries, including those in which further broad development might be expected, had done better than double physical production.

Good Record

Primary iron and steel had tripled, as had transportation equipment; electrical apparatus and supplies had increased four times; generating capacity in central power stations advanced 60 per cent; oil reserves are 25 times as much as four years ago.

Speaking of Canadian exports, Mr. Lyle said the line of least resistance would be to go on supplying the world with raw materials. However: "We cannot expect to pay with wood pulp, or grain, or iron ore alone for all the finished products we buy abroad." Accordingly, he urged that Canadians keep as low as possible the United States content in their own products, and increase the manufactured content of their exports. For example:

"A ton of iron ore, mined in Canada and sold to a foreign steel company, brings Canada a revenue of about $10. When the same ton of ore is smelted in Canada and turned into a wide range of steel products—as a great deal of it is—it makes about half a ton of such products as nails, screws, coathangers, etc. So used, a ton of Canadian ore becomes manufactured products with a retail value ranging from $80 to $90."

Mr. Lyle said it would be necessary to continue exporting large amounts of goods in raw and semi-finished form, "but, as Canadians, we are within our rights in reserving for ourselves an adequate share of these same materials."

Canada's Growth Appears To Guarantee Customers

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Canadian manufacturers with good products to sell are not likely to run out of customers for a long time to come.

It is true that they may run into temporary embarrassments, and even serious embarrassments, such as are being felt now by some producers because of credit restrictions.

But if prices can be kept right, if inflation can be held in check, if controls can be kept within proper adjustment, then the customers are there; and there is not much likelihood that the market will become over-sold.

Apropos of this, Rhys M. Sale, president of Ford Motor Co. of Canada, Ltd., in an adress at Banff Friday to the Canadian Federation of Automobile Dealers' Associations, dealt with the potential market for motor cars—one of the products now suffering from credit restrictions. He commented:

"There has been some thoughtless talk in some quarters that the motor car industry in Canada has reached the saturation point. That is ridiculous. There may be such a thing as a theoretical saturation point, but it is as far away as the moon."

Given Statistics

To back this up, he stated that in Canada there is one motor car to each 7.1 persons, whereas in the United States there is one to each 3.7 persons. So we would need to nearly double our present number of cars for our present population to reach the same ratio of car-ownerships as across the border.

But further, in the words of Mr. Sale:

"Since the end of the Second World War Canadians have bought 1,100,000 new passenger cars and 440,000 new trucks. In the same period, some 200,000 vehicles have gone to the scrap heap; so the net gain in motor vehicle population has been about 1,300,000.

"It is obvious, therefore, that half the 2,600,000 vehicles registered in 1950 were at least 10 years old, and the rate of attrition among these units will be more rapid from now on."

A further part of the picture, for either motor cars or anything else, may be found in an address today at Calgary by F. J. Lyle, director of the Ontario Trade and Industry Branch, Department of Planning and Development.

Population Increase

He estimates Canada's population increase in the last 10 years at 3,000,000, to a present population total of around 14,500,000.

Now, we are so used to large population figures in other countries that the 3,000,000 increase in the last 10 years may not impress us as much as it should. But percentage-wise it is an increase of more than 25 per cent; or more than one-quarter.

That is the significant figure in judging the increase in the Canadian market; that, along with the fact that the whole population has been engaged in such an expansion of resources as may not have been seen before by any country in such a short period.

Mr. Lyle predicted a population by 1961 of 17,000,000 to 17,500,000; and, in 25 years, he envisioned an increase of 7,000,000 over present figures. He added:

"If this growth follows the pattern of the past 10 years, no fewer than 5,000,000 of these new citizens will live in towns and cities.

"Five million people can be just another figure. They can also be visualized as comprising 40 cities of the present size of Calgary.

"It has been carefuly reckoned that the cost of urban living accommodation and services at today's prices is $4,000 per person. On this basis, the urban expansion of the next 25 years will entail an expenditure of $20,000,000,000 for housing and the whole host of municipal services required for urban housing."

The full significance of that figure is that, if it turns out to be true, it will be only one huge figure among a lot of other huge figures which must accompany it.

Ford Planning Big Expansion

WINDSOR, Sept. 17 (CP) — A $14,000,000 program for expansion of the manufacturing facilities of Ford Motor Company of Australia, Pty., Limited, wholly-owned subsidiary of Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, was announced today at Greelong, Australia, and here.

Rhys M. Sale, Ford of Canada president, and Charles A Smith, managing director of Ford of Australia, made the announcement simultaneously.

The expenditure will provide facilities in Australia for the manufacture of the latest type Ford V-8 engine at the Greelong plant, and will increase vehicle assembly facilities at Brisbane, Sydney, Adelaide, and Perth.

Meat Price Boost

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 (AP)—The government Sunday announced an average penny-a-pound boost in wholesale beef ceiling prices effective next Wednesday. It also announced that beef retail ceiling prices, as well as butcher-shop ceilings for some cuts of pork, will be allowed to increase by up to two cents a pound within the next few days.

Ladies Vote $300 To Finance Furnace

BETHANY, Sept. 17 (ENS)—The September meeting of the Ladies' Guild of St. Paul's Anglican Church was held at the rectory, with Mrs. Charles Reynolds presiding. The ladies voted the sum of $300 to pay off the balance due on the installation of a new furnace in the church. There was considerable discussion as to ways and means of raising further funds. Christmas cards for sale were displayed and several members volunteered to assist in the quilting of a quilt. Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. T. S. Gault, and a social hour enjoyed. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Mervin Smith.

School Organizes

Teachers and officers of St. Paul's Anglican Sunday School held an executive meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Rayson on Tuesday and the following were elected for office for the coming term: Superintendent, Mr. Hope Rayson; assistant superintendent, Robert Read; secretary, Barry Smith; treasurer, Laverne Morton; organist, Mrs. Charles Reyonlds; assistant organist, Mrs. E. Lamb; teacher for adult Bible class, Rev. T. S. Gault; teacher for junior Bible class, Mrs. Charles Smith; assistant, Mrs. D. Smelt; teacher for beginners' class, Mrs. Charles Reyonlds; assistant, Mrs. Hector Morton; teacher for junior class, Mrs. Emory Smith; assistant, Mrs. H. Rayson; teacher for intermediate class, Mrs. Emory Smith, and assistant, Mrs. Morgan Bigelow. At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. Rayson, assisted by Mrs. Charles Reynolds, served lunch.

Launch Drive For Pay Boost

VANCOUVER, Sept. 17 (CP)—Canada's biggest union, the 60,000-member United Steel Workers of America (CIO-CCL), Sunday launched a wage drive to bring the pay of Canadian steelworkers up to those of the United States.

The move, determined at the annual policy conference of the USWA, means the union will go after increases ranging from nine to 20 cents an hour—the current differences between Canada and the US in different classifications—plus any further increases obtained by US steel workers in current negotiations.

The USWA's largest concentrations of membership are in the primary steel plants of Hamilton, Sault Ste. Marie and Sydney, NS.

The "Gasmaster" (Distribution Rectifier) is fully patented. It was developed through government research during World War II and was manufactured by Vokes of England. Today, it has been re-engineered for use on all makes of automobiles, trucks and motorcycles. The full advantages provided by the "Gasmaster" cannot be duplicated by any other device. Vokes are the producers of the world's largest range of filtration equipment installed on aircraft, naval ships, tanks, trucks, cars and motorcycles.

USERS REPORT 10% to 30% GASOLINE SAVINGS

R. C. McRonald, Chief, London Fire Department: "We have installed 'Gasmasters' on the official Chief's car (1950 Pontiac) the Deputy Chief's car (1942 Pontiac) the Emergency car (1946 Ford) and the Maintenance truck (1949 Ford). The improved acceleration is a factor of great value to us where our vehicles have to respond from a cold start to peak performance in a matter of seconds. Improved mileage is another benefit which we find a great advantage as our cars seldom get outside city limits."

L. E. (Ted) Shaw, Lessee, Shell Super Service Station, London: "I am convinced the Vokes 'Gasmaster' is a sensible addition to any carburetor. We have installed about 40 for our customers. All report better starting, smoother operation, and better mileage. The average check for mileage follows this pattern: Fords—from 22 m.p.g. to 26 m.p.g. Plymouths—from 22 m.p.g. to 26 m.p.g. Chevrolets—from 20 m.p.g. to 25 m.p.g. The amazing thing about the 'Gasmaster' is that they give fuel economy even at high speeds. I do not hesitate to recommend them to any of our customers."

O. W. Gilmaster, Maclean's Magazine, Toronto: "I drive a 1939 Packard 120, 8-cylinder sedan that has gone well over 100,000 miles. Before installing a 'Gasmaster', avgage mileage was 16 to 17 miles on the highway. Since installing, on test runs of 320 miles and 220 miles mileage was increased to 20 m.p.g. Easier starting in cold weather has also been an advantage. I can recommend your product without qualification."

Texas Collegian One Of Youngest Golf Champions

By RALPH BERNSTEIN.

BETHLEHEM, Pa., Sept. 17 — (AP).—Texas, the land of cattle, oil and famous golfers, has another linksman to add to its archives today—red-haired Billy Maxwell, the 1951 national amateur golf champion.

The 22-year-old North Texas State College golf captain is the youngest to take the crown since Bobby Jones came out of Atlanta in 1924 to win the first of his five amateur titles. Jones was four months younger than Billy.

Maxwell earned the title Saturday by defeating Joe Gagliardi, 39-year-old Mamaroneck, NY, lawyer and father of five children, 4 and 3 over the Saucon Valley Country Club course.

Maxwell, a 155-pounder who learned his golf leaning on a fence at an Abeline, Tex., country club, was little thought of at the start of the six-day tournament which saw Uncle Sam's entire Walker Cup team eliminated.

Most Consistent

But Maxwell played the most consistent golf of the week. His medal score in the match play competition was only eight strokes over par for nine rounds.

Maxwell, who says he doesn't want to be a pro golfer, is a junior at North Texas State in Denton. He led the college golf team to the national intercollegiate championship. His future is rather indefinite since a stretch in the army probably awaits his graduation.

What will be remembered most about this great title winning effort?

"I guess that it will have to be that birdie two on the 14th hole of the first round against Gagliardi," he said.

Here is how it happened on the 203-yard hole.

Maxwell hooked his drive into a trap in back of the green. Gagliardi, who appeared to be getting his second wind, dropped his tee shot seven feet from the pin. None of the huge gallery gave the grim-lipped Texan a chance on this one.

But he stepped into the trap and hit a sand wedge that rolled on the green and into the cup as if it had a radar beam. That was the shot that seemed to penetrate the week-long cold steel veneer of the swarthy Gagliardi. He never did catch up.

Toronto Green Gaels open OLA bantam playdowns against the local team tomorrow (Tuesday) night at 8.45 in Miller Bowl, the first of a home-and-home series, the return game being Saturday in Toronto.

The local juveniles, who drill at 6.30 p.m. Wednesday, are off Thursday to Dundas to open their two-game OLA series, the return game being here the following night, goals counting.

Peterborough peewees made a good showing in the OLA playoff tourney Saturday at Brampton, defeating St. Catharines, but losing out later to a big squad of Brantford Indians.

Tiger-Cats Defeat Ottawa, Alouettes Down Argos

By The Canadian Press.

Hamilton Tiger-Cats still retain the distinction of being Canada's only unbeaten senior football team after weekend action in both east and west.

The Tiger-Cats delighted a home crowd of about 15,000 Saturday by defeating Ottawa Rough Riders 11-6 for their fourth straight Big Four victory. The five-point margin was significant in that it was unusually small for the high-scoring Tiger-Cats. But it didn't match the wide playing margin Hamilton had over Ottawa.

In the west, the story was familiar as Edmonton Eskimos, beaten only once this season, stretched their lead by pasting Calgary Stampeders 30-15 at Calgary. The surprising Eskimos now have a handy six-point lead over Saskatchewan Rough Riders and Winnipeg Blue Bombers, tied for second place.

In the other Big Four game, Montreal Alouettes broke into the win column by taking Toronto Argonauts 8-6 at Toronto in a hard-fought ground battle.

The second western game saw Winnipeg, led by quarter Indian Jack Jacobs, defeat Saskatchewan 21-12 at Regina.

Edge Imperials

In the Ontario Rugby Football Union, Toronto Balmy Beach won two games in two days. They edged Sarnia Imperials 19-17 in Toronto Friday night and followed it up Saturday by crushing Windsor Royals 27-6.

Most sparkling performance in the east was turned in by Hamilton's Bernie Custis. Six times the Negro import from Syracuse University led the Cats deep into the Ottawa end of the field only to see them lose the ball on fumbles or interceptions.

They finally broke into the scoring in the third quarter after a fumble by Bob Simpson of Ottawa and a 45-yard run by Dick Brown gave Hamilton the ball on the Ottawa 18-yard line. Speedy Hal Waggoner went over in three plays on a touchdown which Tip Logan converted.

Moments later Waggoner fumbled a long kick by Bruce Cummings. Simpson atoned for his earlier fumble by snatching the loose ball and racing 10 yards for a major, converted by Bob Gain.

Custis provided the margin of victory in the fourth quarter when he went over for an unconverted touchdown on a five-yard run around the end.

Third-place Tie

In Varsity Stadium before a Toronto crowd of 18,200, Montreal's slim victory pulled the team into a third place tie with Argonauts, who haven't been producing anything like the football they played last season when they won the Grey Cup.

The Alouette line outcharged Argonauts and Montreal backs picked up 260 yards along the ground compared with 164 for Toronto.

George Ratterman, the high-salaried Montreal quarterback, kept his passing arm as a threat most of the afternoon, sticking mostly to a ground attack.

Argos had a brief second-quarter lead on a single by Steve Karrys, who handled the kicking in place of Joe Krol, benched for indifferent play in last week's game. Montreal went ahead when Ratterman topped off an 85-yard march by tossing a short touchdown pass to outside John Yonakor. Choo-choo Roberts converted. Argos tied it up shortly after, Doug Pyzer scampering 62 yards for a spectacular major, which was not converted.

Two tremendous kicks for single points by Rod Pantages in the third and fourth quarters provided Montreal with the winning margin.

Montreal Trips Chiefs 6-4 In First Of Finals

MONTREAL, Sept. 17 (CP). — Montreal's high-stepping Royals and Syracuse Chiefs go at it again tonight in the second game of their best-of-seven Governor's Cup final, with the Royals holding the edge through a victory Sunday.

The Royals, who waltzed into the finals with four straight victories over Buffalo Bisons, tripped the Chiefs 6-4 Sunday before 15,708 fans.

Chief manager Bruno Betzel will probably start Art Hartley in tonight's game while Tom Lasorda is expected to go to the mound for the Montrealers.

The Chiefs outhit Montreal 11-9 Sunday but left 10 runners stranded, largely because some well-hit balls went right at outfielders.

Sent To Rescue

Lefty Chris Van Cuyk, given a four-run lead in the first inning, was in danger of blowing it when skipper Wally Alston sent Bill Voiselle to his rescue in the fiftn.

At the time, the score was 5-3, there were men on second and third and none out.

Vick Power, first man to face Voiselle, slammed a hard one right into the hands of Hec Rodriguez who touched third to complete a double play.

Bill Keegan went all the way for Syracuse.

Following tonight's game, the teams move on to Syracuse where they play Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

HASTINGS, Sept. 17 (ENS)—Barriefield-Portsmouth Combines proved too strong for Hastings intermediates, and took a decisive 16-8 win, to make it two straight and go on in the OASA "C" playdowns.

Hill was the winning pitcher giving up but three hits and striking out nine

Lewis took over to stamp out a belated rally. Crawley started for Hastings and pitched fine ball but his mates were still suffering from the jitters they developed in Kingston. The Combines lead 2-1 going into the top of the fourth, when suddenly they exploded and when the smoke cleared five runs had crossed the plate, and McComb was on the Hastings mound.

McComb lasted till the seventh when errors proved too much and Smoke came in to finish the game.

Hill topped the winners at bat with three for four, while Beavis was best for the locals with two for four.

She was assisted by the groom's mother who was gowned in dusty rose crepe with hat of black velvet and corsage of pink talisman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Shields left afterward by plane for Key West, Florida, to spend their honeymoon. The bride was wearing a cocoa brown silk suit with velvet trim. Her accessories were matching brown and her topcoat was pale pink wool. Her corsage when going away was of pink talisman roses.

Bancroft WA Sets Date For Supper

The first fall meeting of the Afternoon Women's Association of St. Paul's United Church, Bancroft, was held at the home of Mrs. C. S. Stringer, on Tuesday, with Mrs. Emerson Laundry, president, in charge.

The brief devotional period was conducted by Mrs. R. Delyea and Mrs. R. Robinson.

During the business session reports were heard from various committees. Ten sick calls were made during the summer months and Mrs. R. Delyea and Mrs. James Vance were appointed to the visiting committee for September.

Mrs. E. McColl reported that a stone border was placed during the summer, to mark the boundary of the church lawn in an effort to discourage the careless parking of cars on the grass.

October 29 was the date chosen for the annual church anniversary supper, further plans to be made at the next meeting.

A number of members plan to attend the WA convention to be held in Maynooth on Oct. 17, and it was decided to invite the convention to meet in Bancroft in October of next year.

A visit from Mrs. R. Broad of Madoc, president of the Women's Missionary Society presbytery for South Hastings is expected early in October, the exact date to be announced shortly. Plans were made to have the next meeting at that time in the church and a committee composed of Mrs. Maude Thompson, Mrs. H. Strudwick, and Mrs. E. McColl was appointed to take charge of the tea hour. An invitation to attend will be extended to all the women of the church.

The meeting was then turned over to Mrs. Ritchie Robinson, vice-president in charge of WMS study. Mrs. E. McColl read the introduction to the book "From Lakes to Northern Lights" written by Dr. Malcolm Macdonald.

NewspaperwomenInHalifax For Press Club Biennial

HALIFAX, —(CP)—Newspaperwomen and authors from all over Canada, gathering for the biennial meeting of the Canadian Women's Press Club here during the week starting Sept. 23, have a busy schedule of work and entertainment laid out.

Thirteen branch clubs from Vancouver to Halifax will be represented at this 19th general meeting of the organization, which dates back to 1904 and now has nearly 500 members scattered across the Dominion.

Miss Jean Stenton, telegraph editor of The Examiner, will be attending.

Under the presidency of Reta W. Myers of Vancouver, the business and craft sessions continue from Tuesday, Sept. 25, through Friday.

Spaced throughout the week are luncheons and teas, cocktail parties and dinners which the Halifax club as host has arranged in co-operation with various organizations.

Guest Speaker

Taking time off from her official duties as acting mayor of Ottawa, Charlotte Whitton, a long-time CWPC member, is flying here to speak at the final dinner before returning to Ottawa to join the welcoming ceremonies for Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

Among well-known women writers and editors shceduled to speak are Byrne Hope Sanders, editor of Chatelaine Magazine, and Kate Aitken, traveller and radio commentator.

Premier Macdonald, of Nova Scotia, will extend an official welcome at a dinner tendered by the Province of Nova Scotia on Sept. 28. A feature of this occasion will be presentation of cheques to winners of the 1951 CWPC memorial awards.

A cruise across the harbor and an excursion to the famed Annapolis Valley are also on the itinerary, with luncheon at the Dominion Experimental Farm at Kentville, NS.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Batch of Dawson Plum Jam Is A Remedy For Loneliness

Last night we saw Marianne off on the train to the next stage of her education. Part of me went with her. There probably were hundreds of parents and friends milling around me in that station, but I might as well have been alone. I was rooted to one spot as I watched her going up the ramp, turning back with her loving smile and wave as long as she could see me.

To all mothers of treasured fledglings I want to send this special note and extend God's blessing on their young loved ones as they leave home for broader fields.

One thing I know:—any strangers that Marianne meets will not suffer from unkindness or selfishness at her hands.

I was glad I had to work hard and fast this morning, making two baskets of Damson plums up into jam and conserve. Our neighbours, whose mother has a fruit orchard, brought them home after their weekend at the farm and the lucky Moores received the surplus.

Damson Preserves

Wipe damsons with damp cloth and prick each plum 5 or 6 times with darning needle; weigh. Make a syrup by boiling three-quarters their weight in sugar, allowing 1 cup to each pound of sugar. When syrup comes to boiling point, skim it and add plums, a few at a time, so that boiling is not stopped. Simmer until soft. Pour into sterile jars and seal.

Plum Conserve

Four pounds Damson plums, stoned and cut in quarters, 1 cup seeded raisins, 2 oranges, (juice and pulp and ground rind), ¾ cup sugar to each cup of fruit mixture, juice of 1 lemon, ½ lb. broken walnuts or pecans. Stir ingredients together and cook slowly for 45 minutes—but do not add lemon juice or nuts until last 5 minutes. This needs almost constant stirring. Pour into sterile jars and seal. If you are very careful this may be poured into sterile jam jars, and sealed with two successive coatings of hot paraffin.

Plum and Apple Butter

This is a delicious combination of flavors and a favorite with fruit-butter-making experts.

Prepare equal quantities of the fruits using tart varieties of both plums and apples. Pare and slice apples. Wash and pit plums and crush them with potato masher. If desired add half as much cider as you have apples. If cider is not used add half as much water as apples used. Simmer over low heat until fruit is soft. Press through colander, then through fine sieve to remove all of the fibrous pulp. Measure. Add half as much sugar as there is strained fruit pulp. Add also ½ teaspoon salt to each gallon of fruit pulp and sugar mixed. Boil hard and stir constantly. Cook until, when tested on cold plate, no rim of liquid separates around the edge of the butter. Then stir in the desired spices: a good combination is 1 or 2 teaspoons ground mixed spices to each gallon, but do not overspice it to cover up fruit flavors. If light colored butter is preferred use whole spices tied in cheesecloth bag. Pour the butter boiling hot into sterile jars and carefully seal.

An important factor in butter making is the stirring—the family should be organized to do this in shifts—as was the practice in old Pennsylvania Dutch families.

St. Andrew's Auxiliary Starts Fall Meetings

MILLBROOK, Sept. 17 (ENS) —Mrs. R. Matchett, the president, was hostess for the September meeting of St. Andrew's Afternoon Auxiliary last Wednesday. She was assisted in conducting the worship service by Mrs. M. McDowell, who read a poem, and by the Rev. Margaret Butler, who led in prayer.

The new study books, "From Lakes to Northern Lights" and the "Home Mission Digest," were introduced by choral speaking in duet by Mrs. John McKnight and Miss Mary Widdis. Mrs. John Ridge and Mrs. David Lunn presented "Canada and Home Missions."

Plans for supply work were discussed and Mrs. J. Ridge consented to take charge of that department during Miss Augusta Thornton's absence through illness. Greetings and flowers for shut-ins were arranged.

Mrs. G. R. Edmunds, treasurer, reported $80 sent to the presbyterial treasurer in June, and the receipt in September of a cheque for $25. It was decided to accept the invitation from Centreville Auxiliary to join them in their thankoffering service on September 19, with each member being responsible for providing her own transportation.

Miss Estella Hetherington had on display the books of the new reading course, and also gave interesting items from press reports of the school for leaders held recently in Ontario Ladies College, Whitby.

The October meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. John McKnight on Tupper Street, with Group F, for which Miss Mary Widdis is convener, in charge. At the close of the meeting the hostess served home-made candy.

Donald J. Russell, of Cobalt, was a recent guest of his cousin, Mrs. W. W. Kennedy, and Mr. Kennedy.

Pauline Kennedy has given up her summer position with the Stratford Beacon-Herald and is holidaying for a few days with her parents before returning for her final year at Queen's University.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Hewitt, of Cobourg, visited Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Ingham recently.

Marmora News

The Reliable Insurance Society No. 279, of Marmora, held a meeting on Wednesday evening at the home of friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sopha. After the business session, a social half-hour was spent and refreshments were served by the hostess.

What's Right?

You admire a new dress an acquaintance is wearing.

WRONG: After complimenting her on it, feel free to ask her where she bought it.

RIGHT: Don't ask where she bought the dress as she might prefer not to tell you that.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"That doesn't look right to me!"

DOROTHY DIX

Teen-Agers Should Create Activities For Quiet Days

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: We are two girls 16 years of age. When our mothers first let us date we were only 15. We had plenty of dates with nice boys. Not long ago we met two boys we liked very much. We went out with them and got along very well until they began petting too much. We didn't like it, and made them stop. A few weeks later they made another date with us and broke it. When they called again, we refused to make a date. Now we sit at home nights. We meet new boys every day and sometimes they seem interested in us but never ask us out. Can you tell us what is wrong?

LINDA AND RUTH.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Your temporarily dateless state is nothing to worry about. These slumps come into the life of all but the very few favored glamour girls and they soon pass into another era of boy friends and dating.

Every girl wants to be popular. A few weeks or even months without a date, however, do not presage a lonely spinsterhood, though that is the attitude many young girls take. Be friendly with the new boys you meet, but not over-anxious. Discuss with them the things in which they are interested—sports, cars, hobbies. If they act sufficiently interested, invite them around to meet the gang.

No Excuse for Loneliness

Loneliness has so many cures that theres' no excuse at all for its existence. Don't for heaven's sake, sit around every night waiting for a date to come along. Go out and do the things that will attract boys! Join a bowling group, get into church or school activities, 4-H work, any teen-age group conducted under proper auspices. Boys are not going to beat a path to your door unless they think you are an interesting person. To be interesting to them, you must be interested in them!

You were both very right to discourage the lads whose only interest in a date was petting. Mutual interests are the keynote of boy and girl relationships among teen-agers. Keep this in mind, widen your circle of acquaintances, increase your activities and you'll forget the word "loneliness" exists.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: About three years ago I met and married a naval officer. I was them only a little over 14, though I could have passed for 17. I left home, not telling my parents where we were going, and a year ago became the mother of twins. My parents have now discovered where I am and want me to return home. I didn't tell them of my children because I am afraid they will demand custody of the babies, since I am not yet 18. The twins are with my husband's parents now.

✧ ✧ ✧ T. J.

ANSWER: Here is a state of utter confusion. Your husband is of age and is legally responsible for you, therefore I can't see that your parents would have any right to claim your children. Provided, of course, they are well cared for. Neither can I see why your husbands' people have to care for them now. Since you are old enough to produce children, you should be old enough to care for them, or at least assist those who are caring for them. If you are irresponsible, your eighteenth birthday is not going to work a magical charm and give you any sense. Better tell your parents about the twins and avoid further complications.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl of 15 and have been raised by my aunt since my father died, thirteen years ago. She was very good to me and gave me everything I wished for. Now I am with my mother and am very unhappy. I take care of five children, never get out, have no friends and no new clothes. Should I go back to my aunt?

✧ ✧ ✧ ELLIE.

ANSWER: It's difficult, I know, for a girl your age to have divided loyalties. Since you mother has re-married and raised a new family, naturally you feel like an outsider in her home. Fifteen is a hard age for re-adjustment, too, and for the next few years I think you would be better off back with your aunt and uncle, especially if your mother is willing for you to go. You owe your relatives a great deal in respect and affection for the care they have taken of you; don't forget it when the time comes for you to step out into the world on your own.

Girl Speaks Cree Like Native Aids Treaty Party

THE PAS, Man.,—(CP)—Beth Hutty, a tiny 27-year-old interpreter, may have seemed out of place when she travelled to northern Manitoba recently, but she was nothing new to the Indians.

Beth—who measures four feet-10-inches—was official interpreter for a treaty party which visited northern Manitoba to pay the Indians their yearly rights. Ever since she was two months old she has lived among the Cree Indians at Nelson House, 170 air-miles northeast of here.

Beth's command of Cree is said by her Indian and white friends to be even greater than her ability to speak English. Her teachers were the small Indian children of Nelson House with whom she grew up.

Her ability to speak the Cree language was what made Beth decide to give up her job in a drug store at The Pas and head for the rugged northland.

To any other white girl the trip would have been the thrill of a life-time but to Beth it was no different to what she had been used to all of her 27 years. Even so, she admitted that the northern wilderness and bush scenery still hold a peculiar attraction for her.

Gets Into The Blood

"Once the north gets into your blood you can never get it out," she said. "I don't know how to explain it, but there is something out there in that vast wilderness of lakes, muskeg, bush and rocks that just takes a hold of your very being and claims it for its own."

Beth, who now is back at her job at The Pas, said the hardest part of her job as interpreter for the treaty party was translating church services from English into the Cree language. She has also acted as interpreter for the RCMP on several occasions.

Beth was born at Winnipeg. Dressed in warm rabbit and Indian shawls, she was taken to Nelson House two months later by her mother accompanied by an Indian squaw. Beth was carried Indian style in the traditional papoose sling.

The journey was long, wearisome days of travel over lakes and up and down rivers by canoe. Much of the trip was made in a horse-drawn cart through wild and uninhabited country.

RESTFUL WEEK-END

Without slaving in the garden when you live in this large seven-room home in the central part of the city. You could easily live in part of it and take in a handsome rent for the rest. Priced at $6,900, with low down payment it's an attractive buy. Telephone 8402 or 5345.

GRANDAD'S SORE

Because he couldn't buy a sweet, modern three-bedroom bungalow like the one we offer at $8,700. Boasting a 20' living-room, brilliant modern bathroom, and a kitchen to really rave about, there's immaculate oak and tile floors, grand basement, hot air heating. We heartily recommend this. About $3,000 cash will handle. Telephone 8402 or 8345.

YOUR TURKEY

At Thanksgiving will surely look swell on the dining-room table in this gracious north-end home. Dad will be relaxing in front of the open fireplace waiting to carve. Dishes can be prepared in the step-saving kitchen, and three spanking bedrooms will be there to give all a wonderful sleep. Air conditioned heating nice lot, north-end location. The price, $10,200, with about $3,000 down. Telephone 5345 or 8402.

QUEEN MARY

Doesn't live here, but it's close to the school named after her. It's a real beauty, with built-in garage. Four lovely rooms and modern bath down and two big rooms upstairs. Venetian blinds awnings etc., included, attractively landscaped grounds. $10,600. Telephone 8402 or 5345.

Say Catholics Forming Underground

By PATRICK CROSSE

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 17—(Reuters)—Communist persecution of Eastern European Roman Catholics has led to the birth of underground Catholic resistance organizations.

Private reports reaching Rome indicate that such organizations now are well established in Czechslovakia, Hungary and Poland, and that a small one is in being in Rumania.

This development is ignored by the Vatican.

Although opposed to Marxist Communism and to the forms of Communist rule in Eastern Europe, the church has in recent years clearly shown its desire to minimize the persecutions which the 60,000,0000 Catholics "behind the Iron Curtain" will inevitably suffer for their faith.

Caught In Raid Three Fined $100

Three men arrested in a Saturday night raid on a Gillespie St. house today paid fines of $100 and costs each on charges of having liquor not bought on their permits. All pleaded guilty.

Fined were: Larry Casselman, 27, 612 Watts St.; James Mills, 37, 68 Sophia St., and Albert Vilneff, 30, 338 Welsh St.

William McMaster, 60, of Norwood, pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk in public and was fined $10 and costs by Magistrate W. R. Philp.

13 Scholarships Awarded Air Cadets

OTTAWA, Sept. 17—(CP)—Harold L. Garner, president of the Air Cadet League of Canada, Sunday announced the award of 13 scholarships of $600 each to Air Cadets who recently entered Canadian Services College at Royal Roads, BC, and Royal Military College at Kingston.

Scholarship winners had successfully completed at least three years training in Air Cadet Squadrons with high proficiency standing.

Awards include: Cadets G. D. Murphy, Kirkland Lake; L. C. Smith, Sarnia; E. J. Sinnett, St. Catharines; J. D. Plummer, Thorold; R. J. Sterling, Chatham.

Dockers' Strike May Tie Up Bristol

BRISTOL, England, Sept. 17—(Reuters) — A strike of dock workers protesting payments for handling American carbon-black cargoes today threatened to spread to the whole Bristol port area.

Cranes and ships were idle while dockers held meetings in support of 60 men who Saturday walked off the 7,607-ton Leslie Lykes from New Orleans.

The strikers complained that a bonus equivalent to 75 cents a half-day for unloading carbon-black was not enough.

Several baths are needed to get carbon-black out of their pores, they claim.

London also had dock labor trouble today, with 4,500 tugmen beginning a go-slow strike to support a demand for higher wages.

$500,000 A Day Pay For King As Oil Output Up

By FRED ZUSY

CAIRO, Sept .17—(AP)—Spurred by the cut-off of supplies from Iran, oil production is booming at record rates in the rich Persian Gulf area. This area holds about half the world's oil reserves.

The new oil wealth is flowing chiefly from the United States-owned Arabian-American Oil Co. (Aramco) fields in Saudi Arabia and from the tiny sheikdom of Kuwait.

These two countries have this year boosted their production so high that they've just about made up for the complete stoppage of shipments from Iran.

The world demand for petroleum is so great that the end of Middle East expansion is not yet in sight. Aramco became the world's biggest single producer when it hit the 750,000-barrel-a-day mark three months ago. Today, production is 850,000 barrels.

Nice Income

The stepped - up oil flow is exepected to give King Ibn Saud, ruler of Saudi Arabia, an income from royalties of some $500,000 a day by the first of the year. His royalties under a 50-50 agreement are believed to exceed 50 cents per barrel.

Sheikh Abdulla As-Salem As-Subah, little-known ruler of Kuwait, gets $87,000 a day under his present royalty of 13.5 cents a barrel and production of 650,000 barrels daily.

Kuwait began producing oil only in 1946—at the rate of 11,700 barrels daily. Last year it averaged 350,000. The Burghan field in Kuwait, with its estimated reserves of 15,000,000,000 barrels, is the richest in the world. Saudi Arabian reserves by comparison are estimated at 10,000,000,000 Iran's 13,000,000,000.

Royalties now paid the Sheikh are believed the lowest in the world. He is asking for equal treatment with neighboring countries. This would mean a daily income of better than $300,000.

Chief feeling of danger in this insecure part of the world comes from the proximity of all this oil wealth — a tempting prize—to Russia, which needs oil.

Press Search For 6 Convicts

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Sept. 17—(AP)—An intensive search for six Draper Prison convicts still at large continued throughout Alabama today after the capture of a ringleader and four other escapees.

Latest to be taken were three prisoners who were flushed by bloodhounds near the prison at Speigner, Ala.

The three, who were unarmed, were not immediately identified.

Convicted murderer Frank Green and Milton Wesson were surprised and taken without a struggle Sunday night.

Warden B. R. Reeves said Green was a ringleader in the daring escape Friday night. Nineteen prisoners broke for freedom after a guard had been slugged and five others overpowered.

Still unaccounted for was Leo Self, a notorious desperado with a record of four previous escapes. He was reported seen in Birmingham Sunday night with two other men believed to be escapees.

The report said they were armed.

Drunk Driver Jailed 7 Days

Seven days in county jail was the penalty given Norman Ireland, 22, of Buckhorn, today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving.

Ireland was arrested Saturday night by OPP Constable Roy Feeley when Ireland's car was found in an 18-foot deep ditch at the intersection of Highways 36 and 28.

Found In Bush

Constable Feeley told court he went into the bush at the side of the road and found Ireland there. At that time, Ireland denied being the driver of the car. On the highway, the officer said he arrested Keith Gillespie, 24, of Buckhorn, who said he had been driving the car.

At the county jail, said the officer, the pair switched their stories. Ireland admitted driving the car, and Gillespie said he hadn't been the driver.

Gillespie was fined $50 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty to a charge of being drunk. It was his second offence.

Recover Five Bodies Near Train Crash

MARSEILLES, France, Sept. 17 — (Reuters). — The French steamer Baise radioed today it had picked up five mutilated bodies—those of four women and a child—near the spot where a French DC-3 crashed in the Mediterranean four days ago.

The Dutch steamer Atlas last night recovered the bodies of seven others. The plane was lost off the eastern coast of Spain with 39 on board on a flight from Toulouse, France, to Oran, Algeria.

10 Convicts Escape Jail Through 7 By 12 Opening

CALDWELL, Idaho, Sept. 17—(AP). — Ten agile prisoners squeezed through a small ventilator shaft to escape from the Canyon Conuty Jail, police said Sunday. Six of them were recaptured quickly and a widespread search was launched for the other four.

The 10 men were among a group of 27 short-term prisoners being transferred from Leavenworth Prison in Kansas, to McNeil Island Penitentiary in Washington State.

The bus carrying them stopped here Saturday as Capt. William P. Walsh of Leavenworth, in charge of the prisoners, decided to quarter them overnight in the Canyon County Jail.

No unusual precautions were taken to guard the men because officers had no thought that they would try to escape.

But 10 of them quietly gathered the army blankets in their cells and tied them into ropes. Then they went to the spot where a small ventilator opened through the ceiling into the jail attic, just above the third floor. Seventeen of the prisoners did not participate in the escape plot.

Sheriff Ray Leukenga of Canyon County said he and Walsh measured the ventilator after the escape was discovered and found it measured only 7¾ inches by 12 inches.

The men got out to the roof and slid down the blanket rope.

Say Farmers May Be Forced In Ship Business

FORT WILLIAM, Sept. 17 (CP) Alarmed at the prospect of a record crop and short transportation facilities, the president of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union said Saturday that farmers may be forced into the shipping business.

J. L. Phelps, of Saskatoon, in company with the president of the Manitoba Farmers' Union, Jake Shultz, spent the weekend here on their way to an interview with Canada's transport controller at Ottawa.

"This crop has got to go out quick," Mr. Phelps said. Farmers are worrying "an awful lot" about the outcome.

He did not think that the lakehead was the whole bottleneck. "More shipping space would clear grain from here, but it would only load up eastern elevators all the more. The situation seems to have backed up to the west."

May Buy Ships

He said he would suggest to the transport controller that farmers, as western producing groups, acquire their own vessels to quicken the tempo of grain shipping.

"This crop is the biggest gamble of their lives for many western growers," M. Phelps said. On the strength of the predicted crops, and because of skyrocketing operating costs, they have delved deeply into credit.

Merchants, he said, had extended credit already to the straining point, and unless the harvest is moved quickly, stand to lose their shirts.

"The whole problem centres around transportation. That is why we are going to see the transport controller and try to do something about it."

Henry Young, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, will also attend the talks.

Stole Sinks For Scrap Sentence Suspended

Seventeen-year-old Ronald Bye, 689 Lansdowne St., was today given two years suspended sentence when he pleaded guilty to a charge of breaking and entering a Lansdowne St. house.

Two sinks were stolen from the house, broken up and sold to a scrap dealer. Bye was placed in the care of Major Harry Everitt of the Salvation Army.

Havelock Band Recover To Go To Lindsay Fair

In hospital with a fractured leg, Miss Eleanor Scott will be the only member of Havelock Kilties Band to miss their engagement at Lindsay Exhibition this week.

Some of them are still nursing hurts and superficial injuries suffered in the traffic accident on their way to Tweed Fair last Wednesday, but they will have recovered from the effects of the collision when they take off for Lindsay this week. The band has been booked for four days, Wednesday to Saturday.

There will be 15 or 16 pipers and drummers make the trip. Opinion of friends and supporters of the band considers them lucky to have escaped with comparatively light injuries, with the exception of Miss Scott, in their Tweed engagement.

Lindsay is bringing back the Dr. Leslie Bell Singers for Wednesday afternoon and evening, also the Commodore male quartette and Norman Harris entertainment company.

Bert McLean, secretary-manager, is also mentioning the new band shell on the grounds. Horse races, Conlin's midway, and vaudeville program promise variety of entertainment.

The Exhibition will be formally opened by Mayor Hiram McCallum, Toronto.

9 Minor Accidents Reported As City Drivers Go Astray

Nine minor accidents, in which there were no injuries, were investigated by the police over the weekend.

In one, a driver's thirst for revenge caused slight damage to two autos Saturday evening on Gilmour St. Drivers involved were Donald A. Loucks, 597 Gilmour St., and Gerald Whatman, 668 Hawley St.

Loucks was driving west on Gilmour St.; Whatman was behind, blowing his horn. Whatman started to pass and pulled to the left of Louck's car and cut him off, scraping Loucks' left front fender.

Whatman claimed his reason for stopping Loucks was that before the accident, he had had to brake suddenly to avoid hitting Loucks' car. Whatman's wife, thrown forward by the sudden stop, broke the windshield with her head. She was not hurt.

A witness said the language used by Whatman was abusive. Whatman told Constable D. M. Stark, who investigated, that he wouldn't make a settlement unless Loucks paid for the damage to the windshield, some $15 or $20.

In the other accidents:

Trucks driven by D. B. Thompson, 547 George St., and Erwin Pruner, RR 4, Peterborough, were slightly damaged when they collided at London and Donegal Sts. Thompson was driving east on London St., and Pruner south on Donegal. There is no stop sign at the intersection. Constable Andre Dalton investigated.

$125 Damage

About $125 damage was done to two cars when they were in collision on George St. north of Rink St. Gordon Vilneff, RR 8, Peterborough, was driving south on George St., and turning right onto Rink St., when his car caught the left front fender of a car driven by Mrs. Agnes O'Donnell, 457 Elm St., pulling away from the west curb of George St.

Damage to the Vilneff car was $75 and to the O'Donnell car, $50. Constable Harold Andrews investigated.

Bicycle Damaged

A bicycle which was said to have been ridden Saturday night without lights was damaged when it struck the right side of a car driven by J. Hewie, 863 George St. Hewie told police he was driving north on George St., and turning into his driveway when the accident happened.

Hewie said he saw two boys on bicycles riding south, and thought he had plenty of time to turn. As he turned, a third boy, whom he didn't see, hit the car. Hewie said none of the bicycles had lights showing. Constable W. G. Scott investigated.

Two cars were slightly damaged when they collided Saturday evening on George St. near Romaine. Thomas Morrissey, 210 London St., was driving south on George St., saw a truck pull out from the west curb to the east, and braked his car. At the same time he pulled to the right, and hit a car parked on the west curb.

Owner of the parked car was H. C. Rowe, 125 Princess St. Constable W. A. Scott investigated.

Cars driven by John Hornal, 381 Downie St., and Jack Sanders, RR 5, Peterborough, were slightly damaged when Hornal's car hit the right rear of the Sanders auto.

Too Close

Hornal told police he had parked on Hunter St., and noticed he was too close to a hydrant. He pulled out and hit the Sanders auto. Constable C. J. McGillen investigated.

Two cars making left turns at the same intersection were damaged Sunday afternoon. Drivers were James Hargreaves, RR 5 Peterborough and Mrs. Julia Henry, 422 King George St.

Slight damage was done to cars driven by Raymore Cooper, 356 London St., and Jim Stewart, Hilltop Farm, Sunday afternoon when they collided at Park Hill Rd., and Fairburn St. Cooper was turning left into the southeast entrance to Jackson Park and Stewart was driving west on Park Hill Rd. when the accident occurred. Constable D. M. Traynor investigated.

Edmund Crawford, 249 Princess St., was driving south on Aylmer St. Sunday afternoon when his car was in collision with a car west bound on Prince St., and driven by Christie Hardy, Port Perry. Hardy said he didn't see the other car.

Driving Charge Dismissed In County Court

A charge of dangerous driving against Floyd Michels, 21, Frank St., was dismissed in county court today by Judge S. L. Smoke.

The charge arose out of an accident at George and Brock St., September 13, 1950, in which Mrs. Sarah Edwards, 62, Claraday PO, was knocked down and fatally injured.

After Crown Attorney John Bradshaw, KC, completed the case for the crown, Defence Counsel John Corkery asked for the charge to be dismissed on the grounds that none of the witnesses had seen Michels car hit the woman.

Judge Smoke agreed. He said the evidence was "sketchy," and he commented: "I'm satisfied no jury would convict on this evidence."

Albert Pacey, Arndon Ave., said he was walking from Hatton Bros. store on the southwest corner of Brock and George Sts. when he noticed a southbound car level with the YMCA. He thought he had time to cross to the east side of George before the car arrived.

Heard Thud

"When I was within a few feet of the curb I heard a thud and the lady landed beside me," Pacey said. "I looked around and saw a car half way through the intersection. It was stopped."

He did not see Mrs. Edwards being hit.

Bert Garside, Western Ave., also did not see the collision. He noticed two cars going south, at about 30 miles an hour, and he waited for them to pass before climbing into the driver's seat of his car, parked at the Mohan-Hunter dairy.

When he got to the intersection he noticed what he believed to be one of the two cars stopped in the middle of the road. He observed that it was a taxi.

Under cross-examination by M. Corkery, Garside said he was not sure if one of the two cars that had originally passed him was a taxi. But he was sure no other cars had passed him in the interval.

Garside also said that he did not think the cars were driving at a "reckless" speed.

Constable Claire McGillen said he found Mrs. Edwards lying in the south crosswalk from Brock St., eight feet from the east curb. There was a 42-foot skidmark. The left tire mark was over the centre of the road.

Steering Loose

When he tested the 1949-model car he found that he had to make a three-quarter revolution of the steering wheel before the car wheels would turn.

He also said there was a slight drizzle of rain, and Mrs. Edwards was wearing a dark coat.

Asked by Mr. Bradshaw about the condition of the accused, Constable McGillen replied: "He was nervous but there was no sign of drink."

M. Bradshaw said there were several inferences as to dangerous driving: the car was over the centre line; Michels didn't see the woman and the skidmarks indicated he made no effort to avoid her; and there was an inference of excessive speed.

At this point Mr. Corkery asked for dismissal of the case and Judge Smoke agreed.

75 Air Cadets Enlist With City Squadron

Approximately 75 air cadets were recruited during the past week at cadet headquarters in the exhibition grounds for the City of Peterborough Squadron, Royal Canadian Air Cadets.

The Peterbrough squadron is being sponsored by the Peterborough wing of the RCAF Association.

"We were very pleased with the response and expect that the number of cadets will greatly increase during the fall, "K. C. Dalrymple, chairman of the cadet sponsoring committee, said today.

Mr. Dalrymple also announced that recruiting will continue. Any boy between the ages of 14 and 17 may join by attending the cadet training sessions on Tuesday nights in agricultural building, exhibition grounds.

The first parade will be held Tuesday night with several lectures on familiarization and the showing of the film "True Glory" —the history of the air force in the Second World War.

Plans have also been made to give the cadets a comprehensive photography training course including instruction in using equipment for both ground and air pictures and also the development of pictures.

Another part of the agenda will be a telecommunications course which will include instruction in radar and direction finding.

In addition, if there are enough cadets interested an amateur radio station will be set up in conjunction with the Air Force amateur radio network in Canada.

Cadets will be outfitted with uniforms in the next few weeks.

Indecent Exposure

Steve Morrissey, 18, of 129 Stewart St., was fined $15 and $2.50 costs today by Magistrate W. R. Philp when he pleaded guilty to a charfe of indecent exposure.

Edward Robinson Returns In Role On Broadway

By MARK BARRON

NEW YORK, Sept. 17—(AP)—It was 21 years ago that Edward G. Robinson deserted Broadway and went to Hollywood to quickly find a starring podium in innumerable gangster pictures.

Mostly called upon to speak in "dese and dose" idiom of the Capone-style plug uglies, the facts are that, in real life, Robinson is an erudite scholar who speaks eight languages. Now, after long absence, he is returning to the stage to play the starring role of the revolutionary Rubashov in the Playwright's Company production of "Darkness At Noon."

This "tough guy" admits he'll have butterflies in his stomach until he gets through that first stage comeback performance Sept. 28 at Princeton University Theatre.

That starts Robinson and the show off on a tour to Baltimore, Washington and other cities across US. After that he will bring the production back to Broadway for a return engagement. The New York's critic circle prize play was a hit for six months with Claude Rains in the role Robinson is taking over.

The play concerns the individual versus the totalitarian state problem.

Robinson, a quiet- spoken fellow, said his reputation as an impersonator of criminals came about largely because he made a hit in a gangster role in one of his first movies and after that they kept type-casting him in the same sort of parts.

"On the Broadway stage," he pointed out, "I played but one gangster role and that was the one that got me into the movies. That was when I played the gunman wearing a yellow camel's hair overcoat in the play about the Chicago underworld, 'The Racket,' in 1927.

"People seem to forget that I had also played in such classics as 'Peer Gynt', 'The Brothers Karamozov' and as Caesar in 'Androcles And The Lion'."

"That's why I'm coming back to the stage in 'Darkness At Noon.' In the part of Rubashov I'll still be in prison, but it won't be because I'm supposed to be a gangster."

VAST AREA

The Anglo-Egyptian Sudan has an estimated area of 967,500 square miles with a population of 7,500,000.

Seçondary Education Lacking In Thoroughness

SASKATOON, Sept. 17 (CP)—The Canadian Research Committee on Practical Education today reported "grave deficiencies" in the basic education of secondary school children. In a 26-page, 11,000-word report it recommended a "stronger emphasis on thoroughness" in the three Rs—reading,' 'ritin' and 'rithmetic.

The committee's final report on a four-year study of education in Canada, to be presented here today to the annual convention of the Canadian Education Association and simultaneously to the annual convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor in Vancouver, declared:

"This conclusion is based not only on the reports of employers but also on the replies of employees who have been out of school for two years. Surely this is a serious reflection on the present program of our secondary schools.

Not Surprising

"That both employees and employers attach primary importance to a soil grounding in the basic fundamentals of arithmetic and in oral and written expression is not surprising when we realize that these basic skills are essential in all jobs and in all activities of everyday life.

"What is needed is not necessarily more school time devoted to these subjects, nor more advanced work in them, but a stronger emphasis on thoroughness. A revision of these subjects in objectives and in content, and possibly in methods of presentation, is required."

The committee was born in 1946 when the late Dr. Fletcher Peacock, president of the Canadian Education Association, told the Canadian Manufacturers Association in effect: "Provide the funds and we will find out what is wrong with Canadian education."

Contribute $65,000

Fifty-seven business firms and associations—representative of industry, commerce, business, labor, the teaching profession and merchants—contributed a total of $65,000. The committee's objective was to "consider what constitutes a suitable secondary school education for students who go directly to employment from school." Working with it were advisory committees in each province, with the exception of Newfoundland, not in confederation when the project was started.

Secondary education is considered in the report to begin with Grade VII, extending to a pupil's entrance to university. The general aim of the school was defined as assisting "in the development of good citizens." To this end, the report said, the school "should seek to help the child develop those understandings, attitudes, habits and skills that will enable him to become a well-intergrated and socially responsible citizen who can think critically and independently about the problems of life."

Published and unpublished reports were issued in 1948, 1949, 1950 and in April, 1951 giving the results of fact-finding studies and surveys of opinion among employers and community leaders. This final report embodies the broad conclusions reached and contains recommendations based on these conclusions.

Many Recommendations:

A summary of recommendations:

Teachers:

That education authorities take steps to raise the status of the teaching profession by providing remuneration "commensurate with the training, responsibility and significance of the teacher's function in our society;" longer periods of education and training; better methods of teacher selection and recognition of work experience as part of the qualifications for teaching.

Retention in school:

"That education authorities provide educational programs which, by their availability to all pupils, however economically or geographically situated, by the quality of the instruction and supervision, by the variety of courses, by the adequacy of the accommodation and equipment, and by the atmosphere of democratic freedom under wise authority, will be conducive to retaining pupils until the completion of the secondary school course of study upon which each has entered . . .

"That the legal school-leaving age should be 16, subject only to certain specified exemptions; and that there should be no differential between urban and rural areas."

Public Relations

Seven other recommendations were made in this section, chief of which was:

"That school authorities undertake a well-planned program of public relations to make known the objectives and opportunities offered in local schools and to impress upon parents, pupils and the community the benefits to be derived from better education." Courses of study:

The committee noted:

"Many students who will never go to university follow a matriculation course because of uncertainty as to the possibility of attending university or because of the prestige of this course. It would seem that, in the interest of the majority, the universities should broaden their methods of admission, particularly when there is evidence that this can be done without lowering the quality of those seeking higher education. It is encouraging to note that some universities are moving in this direction."

The committee then recommended that all courses "have a core of common subjects that will assist in developing those understandings, attitudes, habits and skills that make for well-integrated, socially responsible citizens who can think critically and independently."

"That courses be planned with the special employment opportunities of the local community in mind, and that educators consult leaders in the community in adapting the curriculum to local needs."

"The development of good citizenship in its broadest meaning be the main objective."

Need Trained Counsellors

Guidance and replacement:

"Because teachers generally do not have the time or training for diagnosing and giving advice on all the special guidance problems that arise in their classes, there is a need for trained counsellors. However, this is not to be construed as suggesting that all guidance can or should be done by specialists. It is still desirable for home-room teachers and principals to take a special interest in the guidance problems of their pupils."

Among eight recommendations under this heading, the committee suggested:

"That the school maintain a 'follow-up' of pupils after (job) placement to help them, when necessary, through the adjustment period, and to secure information which will be of great value in planning and evaluating school programs . . . .

"That all secondary schools provide a guidance service to assist pupils (a) To become oriented to the program, activities, resources and regulations of the school; (b) To identify educational needs and plan appropriate programs of studies and activities; (c) To identify difficulties in school progress and plan appropriate remedial steps; (d) To identify occupational interests by planning appropriate investigations, studies or work experience."

Citizenship

"Courses of study, methods of teaching and manner of administration must all contribute to training for citizenship. But perhaps of equal importance are to school's various activities in which student participation in democratic processes can be encouraged. The student council, clubs, school assembly and other activities largely under student sponsorship and control, all offer valuable opportunities for citizenship development.

"We recommend that school programs, curricular and extra-curricular, be conducted in such a manner that pupils will have ample opportunity to make group decisions to participate in policy formulation, to assume responsibility and to work co-operatively."

Basic Education

"That, as one method of obtaining better oral and written expression and clear and logical thinking, greater use be made of oral and written reports based on assigned tasks and projects, both group and individual.

"That more emphasis be placed on the fundamentals or arithmetic computation and everyday arithmetic problems; and that short daily periods of drill in these fundamentals be continued through the secondary school grades."

Occupational Competence

The committee noted in a lengthy discussion of the fields covered in this section that agriculture is a major industry in Canada "yet the secondary schools have been slow in developing courses in this field." It said agriculture "has become more and more a business in which, to be successful, a person needs a technical training as well as a good general education."

It said:

"Courses in secondary schools in rural areas should place emphasis on the specific skills required on the farm and should also give attention to the economic problems of the farmer; conservation, marketing, farm organization, consumer problems on the farm, management of farm labor, farm accounting and the like. Attention should be given also to the means of making farm life more attractive . . . perhaps the greatest problem encountered in connection with developing suitable courses in agriculture is to secure well-qualified teachers with the necessary technical and professional training."

Vocational Training

The committee recommended:

"That the emphasis in vocational training be on the development of basic skills and sound work habits; rather than on the development of highly-specialized skills.

"That general education programs include adequate pre-vocational exploratory courses designed to assist in the selection of areas of specialization.

"That work experience be utilized to provide practical experience and to give students an opportunity to explore various avenues of work, and that business and industry co-operate to this end . . .

"That home economics be offered in all secondary schools and that more girls be encouraged to enroll in these courses."

Further education:

"That steps be taken to strengthen further the concept that education is a continuing process that does not terminate upon leaving school.

"That part-time education between the ages of 16 and 18 be extended as rapidly as possible.

"That community institutes be established to provide training in part-time education in daytime and adult education in the evenings.

"That community institutes provide vocational training courses as well as cultural and avocational subjects, and that their facilities be available for community recreational services in order that they may become centres of community life . . .

"That financial support for community institutes be provided by federal, provincial and local authorities."

The report concluded:

"We strongly suggest that consideration be given to methods of establishing a national bureau of educational research which would work with provincial and local research bodies."

Open First Building Of Cheap Apartments

OWEN SOUND, Sept. 17 (CP)—The first building of a five-unit apartment project to provide low-rental housing for Owen Sound's pensioners and widows receiving mothers' allowances was officially opened Saturday.

Health Minister MacKinnon Phillips, who attended the ceremony, said the apartment is "beautiful— a place where any one of us could be proud to have our home."

When completed, the five apartment buildings will provide 40 three and four-room apartments to rent for $22 to $27 a month.

Chief Caretaker Dies From Burns

TORONTO, Sept. 17 — (CP).—Leonard F. Bowers, 36, chief caretaker of Vaughan Road Collegiate in suburban North York Township, died Sunday in hospital from burns suffered Friday when a blowtorch burst into flames in his hands. Two assistants found Bowers with his clothing a mass of flames after he entered a store room in the Collegiate to fill the blowtorch with gasoline.

These are critical years!

YOUR LIFE INSURANCE MAY BE JUST A WIDOW'S MITE.... IF YOU DIE WITHOUT THESE:

—a cash sum for illness and dying expenses.
—a monthly cheque for your widow, adjusted to that critical period until the children are self-supporting.
—a financial provision for children's education.
—a cash sum to lift the mortgage on your home.
—a Life Annuity for your widow.

★ ★

BUT, IF YOU LIVE . . . the same funds, accumulated for your family's protection, will provide a Retirement Income for YOU!

Yes! From the illustration you can see that with John, Mary, and Peter several years away from being self-supporting, and a mortgage on the home, it would be a critical period for Mother if death stopped her husband's income.

The Dominion Life suggestion for this "Critical" period of bringing up the children, is that along with your present Life Insurance you look into Dominion Life's "A Plan for Security." Consider the amounts your widow would need—for some, or all, of the necessaries in the panel to the left. Without these your life insurance may be just a widow's mite!

THEN SEE THE DOMINION LIFE REPRESENTATIVE. HE IS A GOOD MAN TO TALK TO!

Let him, with you, work out a Plan. There is no obligation—and you'll get a clear picture of how you can provide funds for "critical periods" of your widow's income.

Let him also show you how, if you live, the values which accumulate to protect your family, will provide you with a Private Income on retirement.

Mrs. Atkinson Resigns Office

ROSENEATH, Sept. 17 (ENS)—The resignation of Mrs. Warren Atkinson, nee Hilda Arthur, as secretary of Centenary WA was accepted with regret at the September meeting of Centenary WA.

Mrs. Atkinson, a bride of last month, will now reside in another community. Since the WA was organized, upwards of 20 years ago, she was one of the most active workers of the society Miss Emma Sherwin was elected secretary.

The meeting was held in the church on Thursday afternoon. The president, Mrs. Silas Sherwin, presided over the business and devotional period. Miss Lois Arthur was pianist. The sum of $54.75 was reported from the September sale of home baking held in the township hall, Roseneath.

A program, prepared by Miss Jessie Sherwin, was presented, including numbers by Mrs. Neil Sherwin, Mrs. Ernest Burrison, Mrs. Silas Sherwin, Miss Lois Arthur and Miss Emma Sherwin.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction. Lunch was served by a lunch committee including Mrs. Roly Thackeray, Mrs. Bruce Arthur and Mrs. Neil Sherwin.

Pepper Growers Guarding Their Vines As If Gold

By ADRIENNE FARRELL

NEW DELHI, Sept. 17 (Reuters).—When you say "Pass the pepper, please," you are putting a 4,000 per cent profit into the pockets of Indian pepper growers. Watchmen are guarding the pepper vines of India's Malabar coast today as if they were sprouting gold.

The pepper boom came to India when war destroyed most of the pepper vines of Indonesia and gave India a virtual monopoly of the world's pepper trade.

Exports of black pepper have soared from about 3,400,000 pounds weight a year in 1938 to 60,523,400 hundreweight last year.

Today, it costs a small grower in Travancore or Cochin about 100 rupees ($19.60) to grow a "candy" (1,200 pounds) of pepper. Its sale price for export, without the addition of duty, is more than 4,000 rupees ($840) a candy.

Small wonder that the pepper growers of Malabar set guards by night around the precious vines which have brought them fortunes, and which have netted the Indian Government during the year $84,000,000 in export duties.

Growers expect their boom to last at least another two years before the pepper estates of Indonesia come back into full production and competition brings prices down again.

It takes five years to raise a pepper plant from a seedling to the production stage.

Denies Pound To Be Devalued

OTTAWA, Sept. 17 — (CP). — Hugh Gaitskell, Chancellor of the British Exchequer, said Sunday night that rumors that the British pound is about to be devalued "are complete nonsense."

He was commenting on a London dispatch in which the Sunday Empire News reported rumors of a "further devaluation of the pound sterling this weekend."

The dispatch was read to Mr. Gaitskell, and he told a Canadian press reporter:

"You can issue a flat denial."

New York Times Observes It's 100th Anniversary

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK, Sept. 17 (AP).—The New York Times, one of the world's most important papers, will be 100 years old Tuesday.

It was never in better health, a fact attributed to moderate living, a high-minded purpose and a busy but strictly-prescribed pattern of behavior.

True, in recent years, The Times has spiced its diet somewhat. It has consumed more features and pictures, added crossword puzzles (but not comics or fiction) and sought to brighten its writing and speak more bluntly in its editorials.

But basically, the paper still lives and thrives on straight news, which it soberly covers, blankets and sometimes saturates. It does not engage in crusades, stands aloof from sensationalism, turns away from gossip and, in the words of publisher Arthur Hays Sulzberger, solicits the "patronage of intelligent Americans who desire information rather than entertainment."

Great Prestige

All of this has paid off in an enormous prestige, if not in a great mass circulation. The Times has won 22 Pulitzer prizes, more than any other paper.

The Times is read in the White House, in the offices of senators, cabinet members and supreme court justices, in nearly 12,000 towns and cities around the United States and 100 countries abroad. Russia receives 41 copies of the daily Times and 31 of the Sunday, most of the Soviet subscribers being government bureaus and libraries.

Impartial thoroughness is the wellspring of Times' pride. Also its bulk. It lives under the slogan, "All The News That's Fit To Print." From its own reporters and news agencies all over the world, more than 1,000,000 words pour into The Times office every day. It prints about 145,000 words in its daily edition and nearly three times that volume on Sundays.

The Times is filed every day in 615 libraries in the United States and abroad. One reason is that it is a newspaper of record and carries long verbatim texts. It printed 93,000 words on the Versailles Treaty, 247,000 words or 16 full pages on the Pearl Harbor report, 85,000 words on one day of the recent MacArthur hearings.

One Sunday issue of The Times costs more than $500,000 to put out, has run as long as 380 pages, usually weighs about four pounds.

This year The Times daily circulation is 524,086 and the Sunday, 1,146,807.

Its Sunday advertising, The Times says, was greater than that of any other paper in 1950, running to 20,131,327 lines.

The Times was born Sept. 18, 1851, in a candle-lit, windowless, half-finished building on Lower Manhattan. Its founder was young Henry J. Raymond, who announced in an era of violently personal journalism that his paper would seek "to allay, rather than excite agitation." The first edition was four pages.

The Times now makes its home in a 14-story $10,000,000 air-conditioned building just a few steps off Broadway on 43rd Street, but tempermentally far removed.

Common Citizenship Result Of NATO Morrison Hopes

Object To Big 3 Deciding Canada's Allotment

OTTAWA, Sept. 18. (CP)—Canada is objecting to big-three strategic plans which "surprise" her by assuming certain Canadian contributions without first seeking Ottawa's opinion, a spokesman said today. This country wants to be in the know on the strategic planning for western defence from the beginning, Defence Minister Claxton told the North Atlantic Council Monday, at least insofar as Canada herself is affected. Gen. Omar Bradley, top American military leader, told him in reply that strategic planning has to be started somewhere and it starts with the pact's standing group, comprising officers of the US, the UK and France.

The plans the group evolved were not to take-it-or-leave-it propositions. The nine smaller NATO powers had every right to object to what was asked of them in those plans, Gen. Bradley said. He thought there was ample opportunity for discussion.

Too Many Surprises

Mr. Claxton pointed out that the representatives of the big three went into the planning sessions knowing what their own governments felt about contributing manpower and equipment. They did not know what the smaller powers felt. They made assumptions, drew up plans and then presented them to the smaller powers.

This led to "surprises." Canada and other smaller powers found themselves put down for contributions which might or might not be practical.

The smaller powers now are working on a proposal for improvement of this standing group machinery.

Canada has a representative in Washington for liaison purposes with the group, but apparently feels this isn't enough.

Van Doos Have Toughest Fight With Chinese

WITH CANADIANS IN KOREA, Sept. 18 (AP).—Canada's "Van Doos" regiment recently experienced its bitterest fighting since arriving in Korea.

The Royal 22nd Regiment from Quebec encountered heavy resistance from dug-in Chinese on the west-central front while attempting to take a hill, supported by tanks of the Lord Strathcona Horse. An exploratory patrol was stopped in its tracks and called for air strikes on the enemy positions.

Allied planes responded with napalm and high explosive bombs while the patrol regrouped. Then artillery sent a heavy barrage as the Canadians resumed their advance.

Chinese came out of their foxholes fighting.

Cleaned Up Hill

Tanks immediately behind the Canadians opened fire on the Chinese-held bunkers. "The Van Doos" cleaned up the hill, while artillery rained shells on the fleeing Reds.

Thirty-six Chinese bodies were found, as well as many weapons and gear in the hastily abandoned trenches. A bugle, among "souvenirs" picked up, was presented to Lt.-Col. J. A. Dextraze of Montreal, commanding officer.

Brig. John M. Rockingham, commander of the Canadian 25th Infantry Brigade, commented later he never before had seen such fine co-operation between tanks and infantry. "Those Van Doos must have short hair today," he said. "The tank shells seemed to be just clearing their heads and it was almost too close for comfort. But it certainly did the trick."

Toronto Disapproves Of Change In Plans

TORONTO, Spet. 18 —(CP)—Civic officials may protest a change in plans that calls for Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to arrive here by plane from Trenton, Oct. 5. Originally the royal couple was scheduled to come by train.

The weather may be the chief reason for an objection. If the royal plane were grounded at Trenton by bad weather, it would disrupt the minute-by-minute arrangements scheduled for that day.

Traffic complications also arise, say police. The busy Queen Elizabeth Way, south of Malton, would have to be cleared for a distance of some 13 miles to the city limits—on the Friday before Thanksgiving.

The change, announced Saturdayday, also would deprive residents of Cobourg, Port Hope and Oshawa of a peek at the royal pair on their train.

Use 150,000 Men In Manoeuvres

STUTTGART, Germany, Sept. 18 (Reuters)—More than 150,000 United States troops and airmen will stage large-scale war games early next month, using hundreds of new tanks and thousands of guns and vehicles.

The manoeuvres will be the biggest in Germany since the end of the Second World War. For the first time since the war, they will not be carried out with battle-worn Second World War equipment.

Nearly half the troops taking part in the exercise have arrived in Germany during the last three months.

Small British and French forces will also be participating.

The theme will be the familiar one of an "aggressor" from the East mounting a massive onslaught against "friendly forces" whose job this time will be to contain the "enemy" while organizing a defence line on the Rhine.

The war games, which begin Oct. 1 and last 10 days, are expected to be the most realistic ever conducted by the American forces in Germany. Plans call for a wide use of blank ammunition, practice demolitions and night movement.

Distress Signal Reported Mistake

HALIFAX, Sept. 18 —(CP)—The RCAF reported today it picked up a report that the Montreal freighter Mont Clair is in distress but a preliminary check indicated the report was a mistake.

The Air Force said the United States Coast Guard heard what sounded like a distress signal from the 10,000-ton freighter.

However, a check with the ship's owners, Montreal Shipping Company, indicated the ship is in no trouble. En route to Montreal, the Mont Clair is believed to be about 200 miles east of the mouth of the St. Lawrence.

12 Workers Trapped By Explosion

Enveloped By Flames Men Beg For Help In Fire At Refinery

WOOD RIVER, Ill., Sept. 18. (AP) — A terrific explosion rocked the big Shell Oil Company refinery here Monday night killing 12 workmen.

About 19 persons were injured seriously.

The earth-shaking blast occurred in one of the refinery's large oil cracking units as a special night crew was cleaning it.

As flames lashed out from the explosion enveloping workers, panic broke out.

"I saw men knocked to the ground," Willie Burchell, 47, a boilermaker's helper, said. "They were screaming and begging for help, running with their clothes afire."

Slides To Ground

Burchell was atop a pumphouse 20 feet above the ground. Blocked by flames, he reached safety by sliding down a pipe to the ground.

Four bodies were recovered soon after the blast. Four workers died at a hospital several hours later. A hospital authority expressed fear the death toll might mount even more.

Nineteen of the injured, all badly burned, were rushed to hospitals here and at Alton. Six others were treated at the refinery.

The four bodies recovered from the blast were so charred that immediate identification was impossible.

A flash fire following the explosion shot flames more than 50 feet into the air. It was quickly snuffed out by company firefighters, but the intense heat hung on keeping rescue workers

Second Mother Brutally Beaten

TORONTO, Sept. 18 —(CP)—A second Toronto housewife was viciously attacked Monday night, in same manner and apparently by the same man who brutally pummelled Mrs. Mildred Davis the night before.

Seconds after she got out of a taxi in front of her home Monday night, Mrs. Remi Capistrand, 35, was snatched from behind, dragged to a nearby laneway, stripped of her coat and shoes and attacked by a sharp instrument that shredded the rest of her clothes.

Her attacker, described as tall, husky and blonde and who police believe may be the same man who attacked Mrs. Davis, attempted to smother her by forcing her face into a pool of muddy water.

Mrs. Capistrand fought him off and managed to strike him with a rock just before her husband and two sons arrived. Her assailant escaped.

Police said Mrs. Capistrand's body bore marks of where the man had violently clawed at her.

DEATH PLANE — This is part of the wreckage of the single-engined stunt plane which crashed into a crowd of spectators at the Flagler, Colo., Air Show, killing 20 persons and injuring 25. The craft plunged into the row of cars after failing to come out of a low, slow roll over them. An investigation has been started.

Three Perish As Fire Sweeps Home For Aged

COLESVILLE, Md., Sept. 18—(AP).—Flames raced through a home for the aged today and burned three persons to death, the owner of the home reported.

Firemen earlier had reported three bodies recovered and others visible in the burning structure 15 miles north of Washington, DC.

However, Mrs. Jessie Proctor Jolliffe told a reporter by telephone only three of her patients had died in the flames.

She was sobbing and after giving that report hung up, saying "I can't talk."

She operated "Mrs. Jolliffe's Home for the Aged"—a 2½-storey frame building.

A. Forton Thomas, director of the Montgomery County Department of Inspection said there were 59 patients in the home at the time of the fire.

In Bad Condition

At least 10 persons were taken to the Washington Sanitarium and a nurse said "some of them are in bad condition."

One of the first firemen at the scene gave this description to reporters:

"The old folks were leaning out of windows and screaming.

"Some of them had made their way out of the building and were running around the yard crying for some one to do something to aid their friends inside.

"We got into the building just as quickly as we could and began carrying them out while the other firemen got water on the blaze."

All available doctors and nurses in Montgomery County, Md., were called by firemen and all volunteer fire departments in the county also were summoned.

Three ambulances unloaded the stretcher-born patients at the sanitarium and then sped back to the blazing home.

Drivers said additional injured were at the home awaiting removal to the hospital.

Shaking Up Cabinet Over Oil Division

TEHRAN, Sept. 18 (AP). — Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh was reported today to be shaking up his cabinet to strengthen his Nationalist government against internal political opposition and economic pressure from Britain.

Finance Minister Mohammed Ali Varesti has submitted his resignation, informed sources said.

Varesti, who headed the Iranian delegation in the unsuccessful talks with Britain's representative, Richard Stokes, supported Iran's nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company holdings, but opposed Mossadegh's policy of getting tough with Britain regardless of the economic consequences.

Mossadegh apparently is readying for a showdown battle with his parliamentary opposition. He said Sunday in a radio speech he had no intention of leaving office until his oil program is carried out.

Debate On Greece, Turkey Postponed For 24 Hours

OTTAWA, Sept. 18. (CP)—The North Atlantic Council suspended debate on the Greek-Turkish question at 11:30 a.m. EDT today, probably for at least 24 hours. The adjournment of the biggest political issue now facing the 12 nations was granted at Denmark's request to allow the Danes to get instruction from home.

Canada, in a speech by External Affairs Minister Pearson, is understood to have joined the majority of the member nations who want the two countries associated with the alliance through full membership.

It became clear later, however, that there would be no vote on their admission today after Denmark's Foreign Minister Ole Bjorn Kraft said he could not state Denmark's position at this time and asked for a "brief adjournment." Diplomatic sources said it would be at least 24 hours.

Canada had entered today's sessions anticipating that a definite conclusion would be reached this morning.

Full of Confidence

American sources were reported still confident that their desire to see the two Eastern Mediterranean countries join the alliance would be fulfilled at this meeting of the council, expected to end Thursday.

As the 32 Cabinet ministers went back into session, a working group of top-level officials went into three-times-a-day meetings to hammer out a set of principles for the development of the North Atlantic community in the non-defence field.

They will do the spade work for the five-man committee of the council— including External Affairs Minister Pearson of Canada—assigned Monday night to bring in practical and concrete

Allied Advance Stopped By Reds

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 18 — (AP)— An Allied armored force with infantry support launched a surprise attack on the dormant western front at dawn today. It was stopped by firmly dug-in Reds.

The Allied soldiers fought all day in mud and a steady drizzle in their unsuccessful effort to gain a hill mass west of Chorwon. Chorwon is the southwestern point of the Reds' old iron triangle troop assembly area. The town is 13 miles north of parallel 38.

In the fighting west of Chorwon the Reds held grimly to bunkers and trenches on the hill mass. Communist mortar and artillery fire, anti-tank guns and mines helped check the Allied thrust.

American and South African fighter pilots hurled fire bombs on the height in an effort to dislodge the Reds. Heavy Allied artillery and mortar fire was poured on the Communist foxholes.

Then the infantrymen tried again. They met with no better luck.

Flashing Light Spurs Search

WINNIPEG, Sept. 18—(CP) — Four RCAF planes and a Central Airway's Norseman took off today to investigate the sighting Monday night of a fire and a "flashing light" near Deer Lake, Ont., about 200 miles northeast of here—latest clue to the possible whereabouts of a missing American sportsman and his light aircraft.

Roy H. Neiswander of Springfield, Ill., has been reported missing since he started out alone from God's Lake, Man., Sept. 10 on a 300-mile fight to Red Lake, Ont.

Monday night a Lancaster bomber, which arrived from Greenwood, NS, to take part in the search, reported a strong beam of light flashing on and off on the north shore of Deer Lake, about 100 miles north of Neiswander's destination—Red Lake.

"We're not holding out too much hope that this is the missing man," Air Force officials here said. "An Indian village is situated in that area, and they have been known to flash on flashlights at passing aircraft."

Mrs. Neiswander, now at Red Lake, said her husband — on a fishing trip in Northern Manitoba and Ontario—carried a powerful flashlight which can send a beam 1,000 feet.

RCAF officials said the float-equipped Norseman will fly direct to Deer Lake and attempt a landing. Four other RCAF planes will hover over the area. If the other craft will spread out and Norseman reports no findings, the continue the search over the American's proposed route.

Would Like To See Barriers Completely Dropped On Both Trade, Travel

Most Far-Reaching Conception of Future Of Council Developments Made By United Kingdom Foreign Secretary

OTTAWA, Sept. 18. (CP)—Herbert Morrison, United Kingdom foreign secretary, suggested today that in time the North Atlantic Treaty Organization might develop into a community of common citizenship without barriers on trade or travel. "I am sure that we should look forward to the day when in the fullness of time there will be a common citizenship for all the peoples in the North Atlantic community, with all the barriers to thought, travel, trade and understanding swept away," he said.

Here for the NATO meetings, he made his observation in a speech prepared for delivery to the Canadian Club of Ottawa. It was the most far-reaching conception of the eventual evolution of NATO yet voiced by a minister, though previously Canada's External Affairs Minister has spoken of a possible "Atlantic federation."

Mr. Morrison was speaking of the long-term objectives of NATO. These, he said, must not be forgotten, though at present the concentration was on "strengthening our defences and insuring our western way of life against the risk of aggression."

Moving Right Way

After outlining his conception of an Atlantic community of nations, he said NATO was moving now in that direction. The present meeting in Ottawa "marks a stage on the road."

He did not want to convey the idea that "everything in the garden is lovely."

"We must all hope and pray for a change of heart on the part of those powerful and irresponsible rulers behind the Iron Curtain."

The West must play its part in creating better material and social conditions in the world. In this the Colombo plan for the development of South and South-east Asia, marked a great step forward "in our recognition of our obligation to our fellow man."

The West must think in terms of ideas and of the daily battle of ideas. All in the Free World were fighting against false ideas held with all the fanaticism of a new religion.

"We must reconcile the needs of the individual with those of the community and the needs of the community with those of mankind as a whole," he said. "That is what we are seeking in these regional organizations such as NATO . . . .

"It is a big idea. Let us hope that one day it will be a world idea. Above all we must be patient. Ideas take years to work out. While these ideas grow and take hold in men's minds, we have to keep the peace of the world in strong hands."

Doctors Advise King Have More Treatment

LONDON, Sept. 18—(Reuters)—A Buckingham Palace statement tonight said a series of examinations carried out recently showed structural changes had developed in the King's lung.

Signed by nine doctors, the bulletin said the King had been advised to stay in London for further treatment. This weekend he broke off his Scottish Highlands summer vacation to see his doctors.

It was disclosed tonight that Queen Elizabeth also is returning to Buckingham Palace.

The bulletin issued tonight said:

"During the King's recent illness a series of examinations have been carried out including radiology and bronchoscopy.

Changes in Lung

"These investigations now show structural changes to have developed in the lung. His Majesty has been advised to stay in London for further treatment."

The King is suffering from a lung condition, believed the aftermath of a catarrhal inflammation which attacked him last June.

His haggard appearance in recent news pictures has caused concern here.

Doctors signing the bulletin included Sir Daniel Davies and Sir Horce Evans, physicians to the King since 1949.

Other Signatories

Other signatories were Dr. George Cordiner, radiologist whom the King visited at his consulting rooms 10 days ago; Dr.

2 RCAF Fliers Die In Crash

PARKHILL, Ont., Sept. 18 (CP) —Flight Cadets Bruce R. Cardy of New Liskeard, Ont., and Gary S. Bryson of Kamloops, BC, were killed Monday when a wing of their RCAF training plane fell off and the craft nosedived into a farmer's field.

Fred Heaman, a farmer in this area 35 miles northwest of London, saw the crash of the Texan training plane.

"I heard the aircraft open its throttle," he said. "I looked up and saw the plane—and one of its wings going in the opposite direction to it. It must have been up 3,000 feet.

"I yelled to my wife, who was in the house:

"'Get out quick. That plane is going to crash right on top of our place.'

"The wing spun away northwards like a falling maple seed. The aircraft itself suddenly altered course and, falling end over end, crashed into the field. It landed with a terrific explosion, but there was no fire."

Suspend Police Head

TORONTO, Sept. 18 (CP)—Sgt. Gordon Campbell, head of the Whitby Provincial Police detachment, has been suspended pending the result of an inquiry by the newly-formed police commission of the town, OPP Commissioner William Stringer said today.

Call Out More Men To Fight Forest Fire

NANAIMO, BC, Sept. 18 (CP) —More men were called out on Monday night to fight a spreading forest fire burning on the slopes of Mount Benson, 10 miles from this Vancouver Island city.

More than 600 men tried to stem the tide of the flames as they advanced toward the city's watershed.

The fire has burned over 2,500,000 feet of felled and bucked timber and moved toward 15,000,000 feet of prime standing timber.

The blaze started Saturday — forest rangers blamed some careless hunter—on the property of Northwest Bay Logging Company.

7 Planes And Tug In Last-Ditch Search

MEAFORD, Sept. 18 (CP). — Seven aircraft, a fishing tug and an army ground search party of 20 men set out today in a last-ditch effort to find two Collingwood men who disappeared on Georgian Bay Sunday.

There was little hope that Thomas Fudge, 74, and John Komph, 29, would be found alive in their 19-foot sloop.

The men disappeared during a 45-mile trip from Owen Sound to Collingwood. Their sailboat carried 600 pounds of ballast and veteran fishing guides in this Georgian Bay port say the weight would have pulled the craft to the bottom if it capsized in the strong northwest wind that was blowing Sunday.

Four RCAF planes, a Department of Lands and Forests aircraft and a Toronto newspaper's seaplane took part in the search today. A ground party Monday found an air cushion washed up on the uninhabited shore near here, but it has not been established as being from the lost boat.

No Man Shortage Here

Three Males To Every Girl Cupid Finds Going Rough

QUEBEC, Sept. 18 — (CP).—Dan Cupid is having a tough time in Quebec's north-western frontier areas.

It is one of the problems faced by the Quebec government.

Colonization societies say young settlers andthe sons of successful settlers are discouraged because so few girls are willing to share the task of raising a family in the new farming territories of Quebec.

They estimate there are three young men eligible for marriage for every girl in the settlement villages. In most cases, the girls would rather marry city youths than young men setting up homes on new land.

A spokesman for the federation of 17 Roman Catholic diocesan societies recruiting and encouraging pioneers says a possible solution is to encourage young women to serve as domestics in the homes of doctors, government agronomists and other officials in North-western Quebec.

Possibly one of the basic difficulties is that a settler is still looked upon as a pauper in Quebec because of colonization programs organized for unemployed during depression years.

Actually, 30 per cent are people able to finance their own establishment. People who have seen settlers' farms know many now are profitably serving a growing market in the region's booming mining towns.

The government is ready to spend millions on land settlement and religious organizations devoted to the social welfare of settlers.

It has boosted its health services in colonization districts by maintaining nurses — essential where no doctors are available to assist births.

Teachers are still scarce, but every effort is made to provide "adequate education to children."

Want Ottawa Share Cost

Ask Education Discussed At Dominion Conference

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 18—(CP)—Education on a national,standardized scale through financial participation of the Federal government may be discussed at the next Dominion-Provincial conference.

The Ontario Municipal Assoeiation, on a motion by Brantford Alderman J. A. Pennell, decided Monday to ask Ottawa for a discussion on education at the next session.

Reeve Elmer Brandon of Swansea, Toronto suburb, proposed that the Federal government accept joint responsibility with the provinces for Canadian education and joint Provincial and municipal governments in financing it.

His recommendation was that administrative authority be left to local boards of education as at present. Such entry of the Federal government would require amendment of the British North America Act.

Earlier the 264 delegates heard Municipal Affairs Minister Geo. Dunbar say: "I would not want to be a member of a government which would pay 100 per cent. of the cost of education."

Mr. Dunbar referred to recent demands by many Ontario municipalities for an increase in Provincial government educational grants. Some suggested the government assume all costs.

During consideration of 42 resolutions the delegates also: protested a Federal government proposal to authorize a three per cent. provincial turnover tax on all business; requested the Governor of the Bank of Canada to reconsider current restrictions on municipal borrowing; agreed to ask again for Provincial government legislation whereby municipalities can control the sale and display of fireworks.

5,000 Soldiers Get Training In Atomic Battle

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. (AP)—Five thousand United States fighting men are going to learn by the actual explosions of live ammunition how to operate when a battlefield is blasted and seared under atomic barrage. These men and officers drawn from the Army, Navy and Air Force, and including an army battalion combat team, will get their atomic warfare indoctrination during a new series of nuclear tests at the Frenchman Flats, Nev., atomic weapons proving ground.

The military has designed as "Exercise Desert Rock" this first atomic warfare troop manoeuvre.

The combat team will establish a battle position, dig trenches and dugouts and string wire before each explosion. Then they will move to safe positions as the explosion comes, an official army announcement Monday explained.

To Determine Damage

Presumably, their places in the trenches will be taken by blast and heat recorders and geiger counters to record what would happen to them when the detonation occurs.

The announcement said that "supporting service troops" will operate with the combat team. This indicates that the tests also are designed to show how much damage to food, clothing, communications systems and other material used by a combat unit in the field might occur from blast, heat and radiation. Presumably, training will involve the recovery and rehabilitation for immediate use of such equipment.

Another important factor will be psychological—to convince the foot soldier that he can live and fight through atomic attack if he follows instructions and remembers his training.

What types of nuclear detonations would be used while the troops are undergoing training was not disclosed.

Dutch Queen Warns Nation Of Sacrifices

THE HAGUE, The Netherlands, Sept. 18 (AP)—Queen Juliana warned her people today to be prepared for new personal, financial sacrifices because of the contributions The Netherlands is expected to make to the defence of the western world.

She opened parliament in a joint session of both chambers, which took up a budget allotting 28.1 per cent for defence.

The speech from the throne said it is certain that realization of a four-year military plan can hardly be achieved without financial aid from abroad.

The first government action after parliament opened was to submit an anti-inflationary budget of 5,200,000,000 guilders ($1,315,800,000) for 1952.

Increased Efforts

It calls for increased defence efforts combined with "the unflagging use of all energies" to close a 1,000,000,000 guilders gap in the international balance of payments.

The speech from the throne said "heavy defence demands call for the restriction of expenses normally coinsidered desirable."

Defence expenditures for 1952 were estimated at 1,500,080,000 or 28.1 per cent of the total. Up until now, the annual defence budget has been 1,000,000,000 guilders.

With an estimated revenue of 4,883,000,000 guilders, a deficit of 267,000,000 guilders was anticipated.

Many Iranians Sent To Jail

TEHRAN, Sept. 18 (Reuters)—Jail doors closed today on a growing number of high-ranking Iranians as the government began a drive against an alleged plot to overthrow the monarchy of Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi.

Ali Motaardi, a former deputy prime minister, was among those reported arrested. Officials said the plot was aimed at replacing the Shah with a Republican regime.

Motaardi was deputy to Gen. Afi Razmara, pro-British prime minister assassinated last March. His death brought to power the violently-Nationalist Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh, who engineered the nationalization of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Mossadegh's deputy, Hussein Fatemi, announced Monday night the government has decided to arrest and charge with "high treason" some of Razmara's former colleagues.

Young Bride Buried In Quebec

TIMISKAMING, Que., Sept. 18—(CP).— The little Roman Catholic church where Rose Marie Ryan took her wedding vows 65 days ago was the scene of her funeral today.

The attractive, 19-year-old waitress, whose strangled body was found on the bathroom floor of her apartment Saturday night, was buried in the Roman Catholic cemetery.

And while a huge throng of relatives, friends and the curious crowded the church for the services, the girl's 22-year-old husband, Gerald Ryan, was held in jail as a material witness.

Police said that after the slaying Saturday night they had a call from Ryan, husky, six-foot cook, who blurted out: "I've killed my wife."

Mrs. Ryan's body was found in the bathroom, closed eyes turned toward the ceiling. In her hands she grasped the long white satin and lace bridal gown she wore when she married Ryan July 16.

Homicide officers from Montreal on Monday completed their investigation of the slaying and left here for Ville Marie, county seat 50 miles north of here, where Ryan is held.

An inquest probably will be held next week with chief witness the provincial police pathologist who conducted a postmortem examination on Sunday night in this town on the Ontario border, some 40 miles northeast of North Bay.

Gandhi's Son Plans Battle On Segregation

DURBAN, South Africa, Sept. 18 (AP)—Manilal Gandhi, son of the late Mohandas K. Gandhi, announced today he will challenge South African authorities by deliberately breaking laws.

He is protesting against the government's racial segregation laws. He called on Europeans and non Europeans to join him in a crusade against "injustice and oppression" in South Africa.

Gandhi said he would deliberately court arrest by committing "technical" violations of the law. Last April he staged a 14-day fast against the government's segregation laws.

H--Bomb Plant Costs Billion

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (CP)—Grim efforts of the United States to perfect a hydrogen bomb—the most destructive weapon attempted by man—called Monday for the spending of more than $1,000,000,000 on one plant alone.

On the heels of disclosures that the US already has secret, fantastic instruments of death, President Truman asked for $484,240,000 additional for a plant now being built in South Carolina. His request brought the total for that venture to $1,180,000,000.

The South Carolina plant, along the Savannah River, is designed to produce ingredients for the H-bomb.

The huge expenditure for the Savannah plant is for construction alone. Some idea of the ultimate cost of the frightful weapon is obtained from the fact that tritium, key explosive for the H-bomb, costs $500,000,000 a pound as made from atomic reactors.

Stamp Experts Pay Visit To Canada

QUEBEC, Sept. 18 (CP) — The Earl of Derby and nine British stamp experts arrived here today aboard the liner Empress of Canada.

The Earl, accompanied by his wife, plans to visit Western Canada oil centres and will be the guests of Lord and Lady Alexander in Ottawa.

The stamp experts are on their way to Toronto where they will attend the Canadian International Philatelic Exhibition which opens Sept. 27.

Prof. Herbert Tingsten of Stockholm, editor-in-chief of the Swedish newspaper Dagens Nyheter was among the 677 passengers. He plans to write about Canadian and United States government.

Heavy Voting In NWT Election

YELLOWKNIFE, NWT, Sept. 18 (CP)—Heavy voting was indicated in first returns from Monday's first election in the North West Territories. There were more than 5,000 eligible voters.

Eleven candidates were in the running for three seats on the eight-man council governing the Teritories. The whole council used to be appointed at Ottawa but an amendment to the North West Territories Act at the last session of parliament provided for election of three members and appointment of the other five.

Returns were received late Monday night from Mackenzie South and Mackenzie North constituencies. Nothing was heard from the third riding, Mackenzie West.

Unofficial returns from Mackenzie South, with all but one poll reported, appeared to indicate the election of James Brodie, Fort Smith general merchant.

Clerk Mervin Arthur Hardie was leading with a sizeable margin in Mackenzie North.

Stock Market Prices Slip In Dealings

TORONTO, Sept. 18. (CP) — Stock market prices slipped today in early afternoon dealings. Opening support faded rapidly as the market resumed Monday's downward tendency.

Constructions formed the strongest sections as three issues traded for slight gains. Foods, liquors and banks were mixed. Papers, utilities, agricultures, steels, refining oils, textiles and miscellaneous industrials showed a majority of losses.

A wide list of western oils traded for small declines while selective trading boosted a few lower-priced stocks.

Base metals weakened. Consolidated Smelters led the downtrend with a dip of more than a point. Falconbridge, International Nickel, Pend Oreille and Waite Amulet slipped fractions. New Calumet and United Keno Hill edged upward.

Senior golds were mixed. Junior issues posted a wide list of penny declines. Prospects showed little trend while holding companies weakened.

Make Inspection Tour Of RCAF Airports

MONTREAL, Sept. 18—(CP)—A five-man group from RCAF headquarters in Ottawa set out for Goose Bay airport today after surveying progress being made at nearby St. Hubert airport in the Air Force's expansion program.

The group is headed by Wing Cmdr. Charles Ruttan. With him were Wing Cmdr. Paul Blackburn, Wing Cmdr. Richard Whiting, Wing Cmdmr. Charles Ingles and Flt. Lt. H. A. Lutes.

The Herald, in a story on the air officials' visit, said the inspection tour "was the latest evidence of the RCAF's worry about its badly bogged-down plan to guard the airways over Canadian industries." The paper added that a party spokesman said the group, tentatively, will recommend more funds to facilitate speedier shipment of materials to the St. Hubert Air Defence Command.

Cause of the explosion — the second major mishap at the refinery in less than a month—was not definitely determined. A company spokesman said a number of things may have caused it, including a pocket of gas or static electricity. A company official estimated damage might exceed $100,000.

Quick Action By Engineer Saves Many

CHATHAM, Sept. 18 (CP) — Engineer Fred Chubb, due for retirement in three weeks, fought for his life today in an oxygen tent as a result of a collision Monday between a passenger train and a trailer-truck at an open crossing five miles east of here.

Two men died in the crash. They were Joseph Petigney, 35, of Chatham, the truck driver, and Carl Sterling of London, Ont., fireman of the train.

Trainmen credited Chubb with saving scores of lives. An instant before the crash the engineer jammed on the train's emergency brakes. Only one passenger, William R. Robbins of Toledo, O., required hospital attention. His shoulder was X-rayed and he was later released. Several passengers were shaken up.

Suffering severe burns and leg injuries, Chubb was lifted from the steam-filled cab of his locomotive immediately after the crash which turned the locomotive on its side and derailed four cars.

Petigney, crushed in what was left of the cab of his truck, was burned to death while horrified passengers climbed from the wrecked train.

Taken From Engine

Sterling was taken from the locomotive cab by the Rev. Lester Wimple of St. Peter's Seminary, London, and two seminary students, Frank Turner and Harris Mulcahy. They climbed into the cab amidst steam escaping from the broken boiler, pried Sterling free and lifted him out on the grass beside the crossing.

The fireman, badly burned about the head, died soon afterwards.

The crack Canadian Pacific Railway Chicago-Toronto flyer, was travelling east from Chatham at more than 50 miles an hour at the time of the crash. Petigney's vision, as he approached the crossing was obscured by a small orchard.

The locomotive tore through the truck cab, lurched off the track careened 100 yards to a standstill. Four passenger cars jolted after it, but into the roadbed and stopped. Two remained on the track.

The gas tank of the truck exploded and fire enveloped the section of the cab in which Petigney was pinned. Several passengers grabbed fire extinguishers and made ineffectual attempts to put out the flames.

About 150 yards of track were torn up. CPR officials said traffic will be rerouted over Canadian National Railways tracks and the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad until the right-of-way is cleared.

VISITOR — Actress Barbara Payton leaves the hospital room of actor Franchot Tone after defying doctor's orders banning visitors. She allegedly climbed a fire escape to see Tone, who suffered severe head injuries in a fight with actor Tom Neal over her affections.

Dollar Lower

MONTREAL, Sept. 18 — (CP)— The American dollar today opened at 5 5/16 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, 1/32 lower than Monday's close. That is, it took $1.05 5/16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.94⅞ down 1/16.

Leather Union Expelled At CCL Meet

VANCOUVER, Sept. 18 (CP).— The Canadian Congress of Labor has had the first 1951 convention tussle with its Communist fringe and has floored it without working up a good sweat.

Despite a clamorous uproar by left-wingers, they managed to muster only about 30 of 600 votes at Monday's opening session when the chips were down over the expulsion of the Red-line International Union of Fur and Leather Workers.

The net result was that only a scattering of party-liners remained today among convention spokesmen for the CCL's 350,000 members. The 5,000-member fur and leather group was the last ringing voice of Communism in the CCL, which has been systematically cleaning out its Reds for three years.

It followed into exile the 25,000-member United Electrical Workers and the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, with 20,000 members. Like the fur-leather union, these were expelled during the last two years for the Communist-line policies of their leaders.

Small Minority

The final heave of the fur-leather workers appeared to have left as the convention's major left-wing group a body of about 12 members of the United Automobile Workers from Windsor, reported to have slipped into the anti-Red UAW's 100-man delegation as the result of a local internal squabble.

It was from this bloc, booing and catcalling against the anti-Communist CCL executive, that the fur-leather union drew its most solid support Monday in a tumult that preceded the vote on the Red union's expulsion.

The vote itself was on an appeal from an expulsion order against the union last May by the CCL executive council on the ground the union was following Communist policies.

The appeal was carried by Robert Haddow of Montreal, Canadian chief, who accused the CCL leadership of "Red-baiting" and "union-splitting."

Debate On Greece

proposals to move forward in collaboration in the economic, political and other fields.

They will report Wednesday to the Pearson committee which in turn will report before the end of this session to the full council. Out of it all, either here or in Rome, a declaration of principles will emerge.

Working Group

The working group includes A. F. W. Plumptre, head of Canada's Economics Division of the External Affairs Department, and John Deutsch, head of the Finance Department's international economic section.

The development—a reported saw-off arranged as part ofthe Greek-Turkish issue — marks the beginning of long-range planning for NATO. Canada and other countries have stressed that the creation of an Atlantic community must not be overshadowed by immediate military requirements such as the projection of the North Atlantic Alliance into the Eastern Mediterranean.

The Greek-Turkish question is expected to produce the only hard-and-fast decision here.

Sponsors Move

State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States Monday sponsored the move for the admission of the two members. He was promptly supported by Foreign Ministers Morrison of Britain, Schuman of France and Stikker of the Netherlands.

Some indication of Britain's views on the question was given Monday by Defence Minister Emmanuel Shinwell in a speech Monday to a women's Canadian Club luncheon.

The British Cabinet minister said the creation of NATO must not be regarded as exclusively intended for military purposes. He added:

"Its purpose is to create a great Atlantic community which may in due course extend beyond the Atlantic sphere, perhaps embracing many countries now outside NATO and is designed not only for the purpose of defence against aggression but to promote social, economic and cultural ends."

More Important

The day brought these other developments:

1. In a broadcast over a CBS network, Foreign Minister Morrison called NATO a supplement of the United Nations but then said that in his view it has transcended the UN in importance. In present "circumstances, it is in my opinion, the most important of all inter-government organizations."

2. Prime Minister Alcide de Gasperi of Italy told a press conference he had appealed to the North Atlantic Council to back Italy in a drive towards full post-war sovereignty.

3. Canada and other small countries were reported to have urged at the council meetings that the smaller Atlantic Pact powers be given greater voice in the forging of big-three decisions that affect the entire Western world.

4. A five-man committee was appointed to work out practical and concrete proposals to move forward the long-range, non-military objectives of NATO appointed to the committee were Canada, Norway, The Netherlands, Italy and Belgium.

5. The council received a detailed secret report on its European army, including a plea from Gen. Eisenhower for faster delivery of troops and weapons. The report will be consdiered by top military leaders prior to a council meeting in Rome next month.

Nine Students Get Scholarships

SUDBURY, Sept. 18 (CP). — Nine scholarships valued at a total of $11,900 were awarded on Monday to outstanding secondary school students from this district.

The scholarships came from the W. E. Mason Foundation, established last year from funds set aside by the late W. E. Mason, founder and former publisher of the Sudbury Daily Star.

University scholarships of $2,000 each went to Roma Porter, Sudbury, Peter Evans, Sudbury, Albert Dunn, Copper Cliff and Benoit Ethier, Cochrane, a student at Sacred Heart College here.

Normal school scholarships of $500 each were awarded Walma Girourard, Sudbury, Elma Rautianen, Wanup, and Nancy Gladstone, Copper Cliff.

Harvey Campbell Wright of Chapleau and Fernande Chayer of Warren received Grade 10 awards of $400.

Miss Porter also won the Sudbury Women's Institute club scholarship.

Play Deadly Game Mother, Son 7, Die

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The story of how a young mother played her seven-year-old son a deadly game of checkers in a gas-filled room was unfolded at an inquest today.

Coroner P. B. Skeels found that Mrs. Dorothy White, 34, kept her son's attention by playing the game until both died in the kitchen of their home. Friends said she had been despondent because of a nervous breakdown.

The jury returned a verdict of suicide and murder.

Bristol Dockers Resume Work

BRISTOL, England, Sept. 18—(Reuters).—Work resumed in the strike-bound Bristol docks today after 1,500 dock workers decided at a mass meeting to end the strike pending negotiations on present payments for handling United States carbon-black cargoes.

The dock workers went out on Monday in support of 60 men who walked off the 607-ton Leslie Lykes from New Orleans. The original 60 strikers — who also went back today—complained that a half day for unloading the 1,200 tons of carbon-black aboard was not enough. In other ports dock workers get a flat rate of £5 a day for this work. Dock workers said carbon-black is the worst cargo they have to handle.

Labor trouble in the London docks continued today, with 4,500 tugmen on the second day of their go-slow strike for higher wages; and 1,800 dock workers out at Tilbury because they object to a recruitment campaign for extra weekly labor.

Two hundred dock workers returned to work at London's East India docks. They stopped work Monday because of an argument about the manning of cargo-handling gangs.

Discuss Bulbs How To Plant

The Rev. V. E. R. Zufelt, Omemee, will be the speaker at the first of the new series of meetings of Peterborough Horticultural Association Monday, September 24, at 8 p.m., in the YWCA. His subject will be spring flowering bulbs in which he has earned general rating as an expert. A demonstration potting of such bulbs for indoor culture will be conducted by Mr. Zufelt. Door prizes of bulbs are being offered by the society.

It is hoped by the directors that the fall and winter season will be begun in good auspices of interest and attendance.

W. C. Wilks reports rather numerous enquiries about care of lawns. General opinion is that fall is the preferable season for sowing grass seed. Nature sows her seed at that time, but man tries to reverse this process, and to do his planting in the spring, and often the late spring.

"Every hour devoted to your lawn now is worth many hours of labor in the spring. Weeds disturbed in the fall face the rigors of winter in a weakened condition with little chance of survival. Fall sown grass has the advantage of fall rains and mild weather in which to germinate and so become established before winter."

Seed requires approximately 14 days to germinate, and once allowed to dry out, this process stops.

Funeral Service For Drowning Victim

The funeral for Norman Knott, 32, the Indian guide from Curve Lake who drowned Saturday afternoon, will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Curve Lake United Church. The Rev. W. B. Day of the Church on the Rock, Burleigh Falls, will officiate.

Knott, who was a guide all his adult life, drowned when he attempted to swim ashore from a boat that had capsized in the narrows between Little Mud Lake and Lake Chemong. A United States couple clung to the boat for three-quarters of an hour until it drifted into shore.

He was born in Curve Lake, son of Susan Wesley and the late John Knott. Besides his widow, the former Lottie Johnson, he leaves four young children: Norman, 6; Amos, 4; Rickey, 19 months, and Susan, four months. Also two brothers, John Jr., and Alex, both of Curve Lake.

Burial will be in Curve Lake cemetery.

Ottawa Wants Water, Sewers For Ordnance

COBOURG, Sept. 18 —(ENS)— A letter from the Dept. of National Defence; in reference to the $13,000,000 ordnanace depot which is to be built in Cobourg, advised council last night of its requirements as to storm sewers, sanitary sewers and water main connections. Council in turn gave authority to the town engineer to order the necessary pipe. The matter of power supply is being taken up directly with the Public Utilities Commission.

A deputation from the public school board, which plans to build an east end school to cost in the neighbourhood of $419,000, formally requested council to take the necessary steps to put it to a vote of the people at the town elections next December. The deputation was advised to send in the requisition to the town council and then council would give two readings to the necessary by-law after which it would go to the Municipal Board and the ratepayers for approval.

A letter from Coburg, Bavaria, in Germany drew attention to the similarity of the name of that 46,000 population centre with Cobourg, Ontario and asked for names and addresses of people in Cobourg who would be interested in writing and exchanging photographs with Coburg, Bavaria.

No Comment

A brief telegram from the Royal tour authorities was read, advising with regret that there would be no slow down of the Royal train at Cobourg. Council already knew that the train would not be slowing down because the Royal couple were flying from Trenton to Toronto. The telegram was received and read without comment.

A request from Macklin Motors for a parking meter in front of their garage with the privilege of renting it for parking their tow truck, drew a blank. Council decided to put in the meter but with no parking concession. Deputy-Reeve George Galbraith said that it was time the parking meter concessions were reviewed. Mayor Burnet agreed, pointing out that it might not be long until council was swamped by requests from business establishments for parking privileges.

Council, following request of the Fellowship Baptist Church for an amendment to the residential by-law in the east end to permit them to build a church, decided to bring in the by-law, give it two readings and submit it to the Municipal board at which time any residents in the east end who were opposed to it, would have an opportunity to voice their objections.

Some of the council expressed the desire to see something tangible by way of plans and construction period of the proposed church, before anything was done. In any events, providing the by-law amendment was passed, plans would have to be submitted with the application for a building permit.

In order that there should be no uncertainty as to the deed for the Carey property as site of the new east end public school, council authorized the mayor and clerk to sit in with the town solicitor and satisfy themselves as to all clauses of the deed and to report back to the next council meeting.

Larry Boyler Buried

The funeral for Larry Boyler, 33-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Boyler, Lansdowne St. East, who died September 12 in a Duluth Minnesota hospital from injuries received in a motor accident, was held Monday from the Kayne funeral home.

The accident occurred when Boyler was returning home to Regina after visiting his parents in Peterborough.

The Rev. H. D. McCormack of St. James United Church conducted the service.

Pall-bearers were Henry Winslow, Stanley Winslow, Douglas Taylor, William Todd, Alvin Lee, Louis LeBarr, Jr. Burial was in Little Lake cemetery.

$1,150 Damage Done To 3 Cars

PORT HOPE, Sept. 18 — An estimated $1,150 damage was caused to three cars in two week-end accidents which marred Port Hope's safety record.

A charge of careless driving was laid following an accident early Saturday morning in west Port Hope. A car, driven by Miss Mary Baldwin of Toronto, missed a curve when entering the town. It travelled down the sidewalk for nearly 300 feet then crashed into a cement stoop on Ridout St.

Miss June Horton, Toronto, a passenger in the Baldwin car, was taken to the Port Hope hospital with a cut lip, loss of several teeth and a bruised knee. Miss Baldwin was treated for cuts on the nose and head, and a bruised chest.

Damage to the Baldwin car was estimated at $1,000.

A runaway car rolled down Walton St. Saturday, narrowly missed a pedestrian, and hit a parked car, owned by an American tourist, William McQuilton, Trimbull, Conn. Damage to the runaway car, owned by Eugene Jonchberre, Newcastle, amounted to $50 and to the American car, $100.

No charges were laid in the second accident.

Plan Search Fund

TIMMINS, Sept. 18 — (CP) — Representatives of sports organizations in this district have been invited to a meeting Thursday to discuss organization of the "Porcupine Search Fund" to financially help continue the search for hockey player Bill Barilko and Dr. Henry Hudson. They have been last seen taking off from Rupert's House on James Bay in Dr Hudson's aircraft after a fishing trip.

Ridgway Guest Of Emperor

TOKYO, Sept. 18 (AP)—Emperor Hirohito was host today to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway and his wife at a history-making luncheon in the imperial palace.

It was the first time in more than six years of Allied occupamander had called on the Emperor. Gen. Douglas MacArthur never called at the imperial palace although the Emperor paid him official calls.

Today's affair was strictly social. The HRidgways were invited by the Emperor and Empress.

Signing of the Japanese peace Treaty at San Francisco apparently was the signal for social relations between the Emperor and the man who represents the forces that defeated Japan in the Second World War.

Parcel War Ends In Berlin Sectors

BERLIN, Sept. 18 (Reuters) — West Berlin's three-week parcel war with the East German authorities is apparently over. Western postal authorities reported today that the backlog of parcels here has been cleared.

The East German police at the inter-zonal checkpoint at Marienborn passed all 10 mail cars of the Berlin-Hannover mail train Monday night.

Previous, several cars on this train were returned daily to Berlin as "overpacked."

At one time, nearly 100,000 parcels were piled up in West Berlin because of the East-German action.

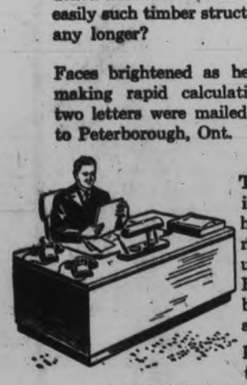
The crash that was heard across Canada...

One sunny morning in British Columbia a tall Douglas fir suddenly trembled throughout its length, lurched forward and fell to the ground with a splintering crash. The echoes of its fall were to spread from coast to coast . . .

In a small town in Ontario the town council was holding a meeting. On the table lay blueprints, plans of the new Community Hall. The Treasurer had just told them that once again, rising prices had put it beyond their financial reach. Building would have to be postponed.

The Mayor picked up a blueprint and began speaking. He spoke of the strength, beauty and endurance of laminated wood. He told them how tall arches were made all in one piece, perfectly shaped in accordance with the architect's plans. He told them of the economy of timber structures, how they could be used as primary structural members supporting both roof and walls, in place of costly metal structures. He spoke of their incredible strength, how they defied time and weather. He emphasized how quickly and easily such timber structures could be erected. Why delay any longer?

Faces brightened as he spoke. The Treasurer smiled, making rapid calculations. Much later that evening two letters were mailed, one to an architect, the other to Peterborough, Ont.



The President of a large company in Eastern Canada was in bad humour as he glanced through the morning mail. The company most urgently needed a new warehouse. But it seemed that nothing could be done because of material shortages . . .

He picked up a memorandum from the Sales Manager. Attached to it was a booklet. He opened it and found himself looking at the photograph of a spacious warehouse, without pillar or post, spanned by an arched timber structure that was notable for its simplicity, its look of enduring strength. For five minutes he read. Then he pressed a button and spoke. "Miss Andrews, get the staff together in the Board Room immediately." He stood up, still holding the booklet, and walked rapidly out of the room . . .

Echoes of the crash of a falling Douglas fir were spreading far and wide . . .

Near Winnipeg a farmer required a new barn.

A School Board in Saskatchewan wanted a new and larger school, modern in design.

An airport manager needed another aircraft hangar.

A Church Council in British Columbia had plans for a new church of great beauty.

A service station operator in the Maritimes wanted a smart, modern building to attract customers. A Montreal storekeeper had similar ambitions for his store . . .

. . . . . .

Yes, Canadians everywhere are learning about glued laminated timbers . . . the prodigious strength of straight-grained Douglas fir when it is kiln dried and the material is joined together under pressure by glues that provide an everlasting bond far stronger than wood itself. Drop a line to the address below and learn more about laminated wood. It's stronger than other structural members of equal weight, lighter than other members of equal strength . . . unmatched in beauty . . . one of the finest of all permanent structural materials.

Bog And Fog At Cedar Lakes

A pall of indifference, disregard and decay has settled over the Cedar Lakes Park project. For all that is being done about it, the entire area of 600 acres might as well be given back to the Indians or the Crown, or surrendered to real estate foxes eager to capitalize on the site and parcel off the lakeshore land to private cottagers. To say that the plan has bogged down is an understatement; if nothing is done it will have disappeared into the underbrush and Burleigh muck of spring.

* * *

People of the district, particularly urban folk, have wailed loud and long at living in a bounteous land of lakes and never being able to set foot near them because most of the shore-lines have been sold off to private cottagers. They have wanted public access to lake water, rocks and woods. Yet there, at the two Cedar Lakes, 600 acres are being set aside without a No Trespassing sign, and they sit apathetically by and do nothing.

* * *

Public recreational areas and natural parks do not drop on heavily populated areas like manna. They have to be searched out, seized and maintained with as much energy and steadfastness as a tribe of Israel investing itself with a Promised Land. Several years ago men of forceful vision like the late Fred Marshall laid their fingers on the tract between Big and Little Cedar Lakes a few miles north-east of Burleigh Falls and only a short distance off the highway. This, they said, would be a fine spot to preserve and develop for public use. A couple of organizations interested themselves in it. A company was formed—Kawartha Recreation Incorporated—to deal with the Provincial Government and acquire the tract as a public reservation. The land has in fact been the property of Peterborough district public since last spring and the Crown title to it will shortly be leased to them. The area is now the property of this district, if people want to develop and use it. But all summer long nothing was done. Why not?

* * *

Can it be that the prime mover, Mr. Fred Marshall, has no successor? Have officials and citizens formerly interested now grown cold? Are they floundering pretentiously in terms of incorporation and in legalistic quibbling about what should and should not be allowed and provided? Have they impossibly grand designs to make it a Valhalla of marble fountains, rosewood picnic-tables, roads paved with gold, beaches of silver sands, and gents' and ladies' flush toilets beside every fifth tree?

* * *

The charter is in the name of three persons to give its official weight: the Mayor, the secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and the late Fred Marshall. Mr. Marshall is dead; the other two directors are not expected personally to go out to Cedar Lake and whip the territory into shape. They are custodians in the name of the public. What is needed now are the people to take the park project in both hands and get started.

* * *

Much time has been lost—all summer, in fact. At that season, when the outdoors called and people could be made conscious of the Cedar Lakes prize within their grasp, then volunteers could have been found, money raised, and the basic steps taken to make the area usable.

* * *

The park will necessarily be dormant during the winter, but between now and spring keen and key persons should prepare a plan of campaign and have people ready to jump into the brush as soon as the snow goes. Even this Fall somebody might persuade the Department of Highways to divert a bulldozer and roadmaker for a day or two from the highway construction in the area and send them in to make serviceable the basic road already put through the park land. Plans for next spring and summer should be kept simple and within reasonable means. No grandiose schemes are needed: a usable road, a limited clearance of brush, a clean-up of a couple of beaches, a few outdoor fireplaces and rough picnic tables, some cleared paths and a few disposal spots for waste. These are sufficient to begin the life of the park. If public enthusiasm is kindled in the spring, surely platoons of volunteers could be found and organized to go out of a Saturday or Sunday and lend a hand and a shovel.

* * *

What is lacking is public interest and support. That lack will continue unless a nucleus for it is formed this winter, to kindle and direct it. Is Peterborough, city and county, dead from the heels up? Are people indifferent to their own best interests? Are they apathetic about the future of the district for themselves and their children? We think not. The job will be done if somebody sets the wheels in motion.

Movies And Plays

Peterborough has a permanent Summer Theatre and patrons have the opportunity of seeing stage plays presented by a professional company every week during the summer months. The season that has now closed—the Summer Theatre's third—has from most points of views been the best. The legitimate stage attracts people who rarely go to a movie, because either they think the screen inferior to the stage or they have never accustomed themselves to the artifices of moving pictures. It also attracts quite constant movie-goers who at first have difficulty adapting themselves to the conventions of a stage, and think the screen is more 'real'.

Which is better—stage or screen? Actually, both are supreme in their mediums. There is nothing better than a good play well staged and acted. There is nothing better than a good movie, well-photographed, well-devised and well-acted. The screen can treat some subjects with greater dramatic power than the stage can—for instance, an adaptation of Dickens' Great Expectations, a documentary film (Kon-Tiki), a theme requiring the illusion of movement and space (Brief Encounter), or one needing special effects which the camera alone can provide, as variously as in The Frog Men (which was shown locally last week) and Modern Times.

Do movies detract from stage plays, or stage plays siphon off potential moviegoers? One complements the other, and sometimes patrons can see stage and screen versions of the same play. This year, for instance, the Summer Theatre gave us Born Yesterday and The Browning Version, both of which have been filmed. It is safe to say that people who had seen Born Yesterday in a movie house were attracted into the playhouse to see what live actors on a local stage could do with the drama. Likewise, patrons who enjoyed The Browning Version on the Queen Mary stage this summer—a notable performance—went to the movie last week. There they could contrast and compare. The screen version—an excellent one indeed—brought out moods and points which the stage version lacked or could not give. The school atmosphere, for instance, was wonderfully well translated into the movie house. And last week's audience at the movie could, liking both versions, remember highlights on the stage which became fuzzy on the screen.

The screen has its own methods of entertaining and moving an audience. During the coming fall and winter season many excellent movies are scheduled for our local movie houses. Regular patrons of plays should not miss the good films, any more than regular patrons of the movies should miss good plays. Some of the best entertainment and mental stimulation modern western art affords is to be found in movies.

Leaders Of The West

Never has Ottawa had such a galaxy of international statesmen as now studs Parliament Hill. Apart from some Prime Ministers or Presidents, twelve nations have sent their chief cabinet ministers, advised by principal experts in military, international and economic affairs. There is Mr. Dean Acheson, the United States Secretary of State, and the Secretary of the Treasury Mr. Snyder. There is Premier de Gasperi of Italy and former premier and Foreign Minister Robert Schuman of France. In the French delegation also is Mr. Georges Bidault, Minister of National Defence, and Mr. Rene Mayer; advising them is General de Lattre de Tassigny, commander-in-chief in Indo-China and M. Andre Francois-Poncet, ambassador and French High Commissioner in Germany. Heading the Belgian group is former Premier and now Foreign Minister Paul van Zeeland. Representing Britain at the Council meetings are three senior Cabinet ministers: Mr. Morrison, Mr. Shinwell and Mr. Gaitskell, heading respectively the Foreign Office, the Ministry of Defence and the Exchequer. With them is the First Sea Lord, Admiral of the Fleet Lord Fraser, the chief staff officer to the Minister of Defence General Sir Kenneth MacLean, Air Chief Marshal Sir William Elliot, and other advisers of exalted rank.

As long as nation members send to NATO Council meetings such senior men in elected and appointed offices—delegates whose names are known around the world—the North Atlantic Treaty Organization will be no mere cipher or just another ineffective congress of amiable men hopefully trying to weave international patterns for which there is no basic woof. NATO is practicable. That is why, two years after its formation, it can call forth the best statesmen and their best efforts.

The only real advantage of telling the truth is that it's easier to remember what you said.

Back-Room Boys At Geneva

By WILLIAM CLARK

"THE biggest office building in the world," says the guide to the Palais des Nations with weary pride, and then adds reluctantly "save only the Pentagon in Washington; but this building" defiantly "is dedicated to peace."

The European Headquarters of the United Nations is indeed a very large and a very fine building. Bone white, it stands on a hill on the outskirts of Geneva looking over Lac Leman to Mont Blanc, surrounded by beautiful, well-kept gardens, through which struts one lovely peacock with half its tail-feathers gone.

Once there were six peacocks given by the President of France; but that was long ago when the Palais des Nations was the seat of the League of Nations and had hopes of becoming the Parliament of Man.

✧ ✧ ✧

IN spite of the magnificence of the Palace and the busy crowds of mingled tourists and international conferees, the single peacock is a sad reminder of better days. For all the numerous economic conferences meeting in its halls, the Palace somehow is reminiscent of a Stately Home which has had to take in paying guests. It remains, at best, a proud, sad monument to the Wilsonian dream of a disarmed world, with nation speaking peace unto nation.

Yet this vast building, with one wing still in construction, is not a mausoleum of dead hopes; it is an overcrowded office building. In the entrance hall a portentous notice board, ten feet high, is covered with announcements of meetings. All the organizations are known familiarly by their initials or abbreviations (which vary in the different languages), so that the newcomer has to find out for himself that ECOSOC, is the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations, or W.H.O. the World Health Organization, and T.A.B. the Technical Assistance Bureau.

The Palace is the home of most of the United Nations specialized agencies, which may, like F.A.O. (Food and Agriculture Organization), be boarded out in Rome, or, like ECOSOC, spend some months in New York, but it is to Geneva that they come each year for their grand joint accounting. Most of the organizations, which are concerned with such diverse problems as world meteorology or European transport, have their headquarters permanently in the Palace. They occupy elegant offices (furnished like Wall Street rather than Whitehall) along several thousand yards of rubber-tiled corridor.

IT is in these offices that much of the real, useful, dreary business is done. Arrangements are made for railway tickets bought in Paris to be valid in Yugoslavia; drugs are ordered to save a plague-stricken village in Guatemala. Only occasionally do these workers emerge into the semi-public of an open committee meeting.

Then, in the big committee rooms with the benches covered in House of Commons green leather, and the walls decorated with sepia drawings of over-muscular men representing the Continents or the Virtues, the dry work of the experts becomes the matter of international politics, Round the horseshoe table sit not experts but negotiators, ready to bargain, and, in the course of bargaining, to make rough speeches into their microphones. Other delegates listen impassively to the translation which reaches them through the headphones which have become a part of their uniform, making them look horribly reminiscent of the prisoners' dock at Nuremberg.

BUT international bickering is at its minimum in Geneva, and the constant rows in the Security Council at New York are observed here with raised eyebrows as the antics of a school that has not yet learnt how to behave. This makes it doubly galling to the people here that the Security Council gets so much more publicity than the specialized agencies. No one in the Palace would admit to seeking publicity, but there is a formidably efficient machine for putting out information—very little of which ever gets into print.

The result is a deep feeling of jealousy. Geneva feels that New York has stolen her birthright as the centre of international organization, and that the birthright has been squandered in a brawl. Russians and Americans are almost equally unpopular in Geneva as the Powers which have started that brawl, and if they begin to quarrel in the Palais des Nations every attempt is made to hush their voices at once with the implied rebuke: "Remember you are not in New York now."

The upstart organization across the Atlantic is compared unfavourably with the old League of Nations, and the present-day work carried on at Geneva is regarded as more valuable than the over-publicized clashes in New York. Certainly the publicity value of the economic work done at Geneva bears no relation to its real value. In the Palais des Nations the dull housekeeping of world organization is carried on; it is essential, but it can never expect to receive its due need of glory.

✧ ✧ ✧

YET Geneva has produced a remarkably loyal and devoted international civil service. Poles, Filipinos, English, Americans, Dutch and Greeks are all working side by side, using an American version of Englisn as their ingua franca. Their ideal is more modest than it was in the heyday of Wilsonism. There is no longer any belief that armed force can be abolished, or that national sovereignty will wither away; the smaller, more realizable ideal is that the nations will learn to co-operate with each other in a reasonable way. To this ideal, as expressed in the detail of plans for improving sanitation in Ethiopia, or facilitating the exchange of learned periodicals between America and Italy, the international civil servants of Geneva are often passionately devoted. But such a liberal, gradualist view is anathema to the convinced dogmatic Communist, and it is for that reason that the Communists who joined the Secretariat in 1945-46 have one by one been ousted, or have left.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE great world rift between the Soviet Empire and the rest is wholly beyond the competence of the experts in the Palais des Nations. They can occasionally throw a rope across the gulf (as in promoting East-West trade), but know it is too wide and deep for them to bridge it. And so, since they cannot do anything about it, the international civil servants in Geneva turn all their efforts to the smaller, duller details of international co-operation. They prepare for a Co-operating World—a world they can never make, but in which, if ever made, they would be the essential, and soon forgotten, bureaucracy.

To Help Pick 'Peter Piper'

(Milwaukee Journal)

The other day we took a little sly dig at the Milwaukee telephone directory for one small fault we found with it. We have to admit, though, that the Wisconsin Telephone Co. keeps on trying to make it easy to find the number a fellow wants, even if he doesn't know exactly how to spell the name.

Turn to the "Schmidts" in the directory, for instance, and you are reminded that the subscriber you are looking for may spell his name "Schmid, Schmit or Schmitt."

Of if you turn to "Pfeiffer" you'll find a note to "see also Pfefer, Pfeifer."

But right there Milwaukee has to take a back seat. The 1951 Philadelphia directory says, on page 872: Pfeiffer, see also Pefer, Peffer, Peifer, Peiper, Pfeffer, Pfieffer, Piefer, Pieper, Pifer, Piffer, Piper, Pyfer."

$90 Or 30c

(Toronto Northern Miner)

"France offers a classic example of inflation and inflation's effects. A man who was given a 100-franc bond in 1914 would now find it worth 30c. But a man who was given five 20-franc gold pieces in 1914 would now find them worth $90."

This item, from the Letter-Review of Fort Erie, Canada's interesting weekly commentator, tells us why the people of France continue to prefer gold they can trust to paper that they have learned bitterly to distrust.

If Canadians had as much foresight as the French they, too, would demand of their government the right to buy gold in the open market. They, like the French today, would be putting some gold coin and bar away against the currency-degradation that is the determined policy of governments nowadays.

Prairie Battle

Like two boxers grimly slugging it out round after round with the decision still in doubt, the Western wheat crop has been at grips with the weather in a nerve-tingling battle. A month ago, the crop was ahead on points but in danger of a knockout punch from its adversary's lethal right (frost) or bruising punishment from his left (rain).

In mid-September, the Western crop is still on its feet, jarred a bit and showing some bruises, but in tolerably good shape. There seems little doubt now as to the eventual winner—it should be the crop—but the enemy's wearing down tactics have taken some toll. Fortunately, the frost weapon failed to connect at the time when it could have done most damage.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics, as referee, gives the crop a score of 548 million bushels, as at August 31, almost unchanged from the indicated 549 million of July 31. But as the bureau itself points out, there has been much wet weather since then, and frosts can still have harmful effect in the more northerly districts of Alberta.

It is now almost certain that the harvest will fall somewhat short of 1928's record of 545 million bushels.

Forgotten Theories

(Lethbridge Herald)

Social Credit rocketed across Alberta in 1935, upset the Farmer Government, and established the monetary and credit reformers in power at Edmonton.

The net result has been no monetary reform and no credit reform worth mentioning, though in the Aberhartian days the members of the Legislature did tilt lances with the "economic royalists" and others.

Then Alberta struck oil and got in the money, so that Social Credit, 1935 version, has been forgotten.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

We are troubled on every side, yet not distressed; we are perplexed, but not in despair....We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak....For all things are for your sakes, that the abundant grace might through the thanksgiving of many redound to the glory of God. For which cause we faint not; but though our outward man perish, yet the inward man is renewed day by day.

For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, worketh for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory; while we look not at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen: for the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal (II Cor. 4: 8, 13, 15-18.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens....For we that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life.

Now he that hath wrought us for the selfsame thing is God, who also hath given unto us the earnest of the Spirit. (II Cor. 5: 1, 4, 5.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed; but my kindness shall not depart from thee, neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the Lord that hath mercy on thee. (Isa. 54: 10.)

Nobody Wants Them

(Edmonton Journal)

What to do with the "Sons of Freedom" Doukhobors is becoming a major headache for the provincial and Dominion governments. Everybody—including the "Douks" themselves—is agreed that they will have to be moved from the Kootenay country where they have lived and rioted for so many years, but no other community is prepared to accept them. A scheme to settle them at Adams Lake north of Kamloops has run into so much opposition from residents of the district that it has been postponed, and may be abandoned.

The objection of the Kamloops people to having the "Sons" as neighbours is quite justified. The members of this strange sect have shown themselves a serious menace to any district in which they settle.

Quite apart from their nude parades and their general defiance of Canadian law, their "religion" regularly requires them to destroy public property such as schools and post offices and to burn the houses, barns and stores of their neighbours. In recent years, they have taken up even more destructive activities like bombing railroads, and—it is suspected—setting forest fires.

On several occasions in the last few years, the whole Kootenay country has resembled a province in the Balkans, with citizens standing watch to protect their homes, police guarding bridges, and railway trains running pilot cars ahead of the engine to detect hidden explosives on the track. No Canadian community should be asked to put up with this sort of thing, or even the danger of it.

Moving the Sons of Freedom is essential, but they should be moved much farther away from any settlements of normal Canadians. The best solution might be to settle them in one of the many isolated valleys of far northern British Columbia or the Northern Territories.

There, at least, they would have no neighbours to molest, and no property to burn but their own—while the mosquitoes would soon take care of any urge for nude parades.

Canadian Liner Will Get Trimmings For Royal Tour

MONTREAL — (CP). — Refurnishing of the 23 staterooms the royal party will occupy on the Empress of France will start as soon as the liner docks at Liverpool on September 21, say officials of the Canadian Pacific Steamships.

The work has been planned in great detail so that it will be finished when Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh sail for Canada on September 25.

The royal couple will use three central cabins on the ship's "A" deck. These will be the Princess' room, the Duke's room, and between them, a combined dining and sitting room.

Princess Elizabeth's room will have a fitted carpet with a turquoise pattern on a grey background. The curtains will be beige and blue striped silk.

Easy chairs in the suite will have willow green tapestry, with cushions of silk brocade in peach bloom and gold. The bedspread will be of turquoise blue silk brocade decorated with a small gold star pattern and bordered with a pale gold fringe.

African cherry has been chosen for the furniture in both the Princess' and Duke's staterooms.

Rich Colors

The Duke's cabin will have a fitted carpet in Georgian green and grey; curtains will be green and gold striped moire damask. The large easy chairs will be upholstered in green ribbed tapestry, while the cushions will have brown and gold stripes.

The dining and sitting rooms will have a fitted carpet with a ruby pattern on a grey background. The curtains will be purple, brown and cream striped silk. Dining chairs will be upholstered in purple brocade shot with gold, while the settee will be in a rich wine colored brocade with loose cushions of mushroom color and a gold star pattern, piped with scarlet silk. The furniture in this room will be made of light Nigerian walnut.

All three rooms will be panelled in light figured okoume.

Coldwell Gets Entry But Won't Use Pass

OTTAWA, Sept. 18—(CP)—An indignant party leader clashed Monday with the military security guard around the House of Commons for the current Atlantic peace meetings.

M. J. Coldwell, CCF leader, was challenged by an army private but declined to produce a pass to enter the buildings. He insisted on his rights to enter as a member of the House of Commons.

Mr. Coldwell won. He was identified by a member of the regular House protective staff and allowed to proceed—without a pass.

Speaking of the incident later, Mr. Coldwell said there was no scene. The army private was "most courteous" and explained he was only acting under orders.

However, Mr. Coldwell said he didn't like the security regulations.

"I don't like the idea of the buildings being under control of the military. We are very happy to have the NATO conference here, but I feel that certain rights and privileges which have been guarded by parliament through the ages have been disregarded at present.

He thought military controls might set a precedent. They made it difficult for members to get to the various facilities in the House as was their privilege—the parliamentary library, for instance, which is down the hall from the railway committee room where the delegates of the 12-nation NATO body are holding their secret meetings.

Parliament actually was in session, Mr. Coldwell maintained. It merely was adjourned — not prorogued — yet many members had found their rooms occupied by NATO delegates without prior notice.

"Before entry was made into members' rooms surely there should have been some permission," he said.

X-ray Identified Noronic Victims

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 — (AP).— X-rays were the only means of identifying 24 of the victims of Toronto's worst maritime disaster, a Canadian radiologist reported Monday.

The disaster was the September 17, 1949, fire on the 7,000-ton Great Lakes pasenger liner, the Noronic. The inferno took the lives of 119 of the liner's 527 passengers and 136 others were treated in hospitals.

Writing in the American Journal of Roetgenology and Radium Therapy, Dr. A. C. Singleton of the Departments of Radiology, University of Toronto, and the Toronto General Hospital said:

"Many of the passengers suffocated and were badly burned in their rooms. Considerable portions of some skeletons were burned away and the remaining portions were badly charred. Many were without arms or legs."

"Headache?.. take a Disprin"

Why DISPRIN? Because DISPRIN is soluble and substantially neutral. When taken in water as recommended, it enters the stomach as a true solution and not as undissolved particles. It is therefore less liable to cause stomach discomfort.

DISPRIN is readily absorbed. Because it definitely dissolves (not merely disintegrates) DISPRIN permits speedy absorption and gives fast relief.

DISPRIN is palatable. Even children will take it readily.

Recommends 4 Be Reinstated

KINCARDINE, Sept. 18 (CP)—Recommendation that four persons be reinstated as employees of the Circle Bar Knitting Company and Botany Dry Spinners Department has been made by Judge Harold D. Lang of Stratford.

At the hearing September 7, evidence was presented by the Textile Workers' Union of America, CIO-CCL, that the four persons had been dismissed for union activity at the company where organization of the union is under way.

In his report, released Monday by George C. Watson, director of the union in this district, Judge Lang found that Beverley Brown, Pearl Morland, and Mrs. Grace Schell had been discharged for union activity and that Harold Smith had been laid off for the same reason. He recommended that the three women be reinstated in their jobs and that Mrs. Schell be compensated with back pay for the time lost through dismissal.

At Special Concert

QUEBEC, Sept. 18 (CP) — Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will attend a special concert marking the 50th anniversary of the Quebec Symphony Orchestra, it was announced Monday night. The Royal couple will appear at the concert by the oldest symphony orchestra in Canada in an upper town theatre, Oct. 2, following a state dinner tendered by the provincial government.

More Oil Talks

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP) — Prime Minister Nuri Said of Iraq arrived in London by plane Monday night, presumably for oil talks. During its continuing oil troubles with Iran, the British announced a deal giving Iraq more of the revenue from British-operated Iraqui oil production. Informed sources said they believed Iraq seeks still more oil revenue.

Provincial Aid

SARNIA, Sept. 18 (CP) —Provincial government aid in an erosion control program that may cost Lambton county as much as $70,000 was asured Monday night by Highways Minister Doucett. The minister met the country roads committee and other county officials in the course of a quick trip through this part of the province.

Seek Two Sisters

TORONTO, Sept. 18 (CP) — Police Monday sought two 15-year-old step-sisters who disappeared Sunday night on their way home from their grandmother's. Mrs. Norma Lawson said her daughters phoned about 8.40 p.m. to say they were on their way home. Both girls are fair-skinned, blonde, and about five feet five inches tall.

Cut Meat Ration

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP) — Britain's scant weekly meat ration will be cut two pence (about two and one-half cents) to two shillings (28 cents) worth for each ration book on Sept. 23, the Ministry of Food said Monday night. On Oct. 7 it will be cut another two pence to one shilling ten pence (22 cents) worth weekly.

Managing Editor Has Heart Attack

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 18 (CP)—Thomas Keith, managing editor of the St. Thomas Times-Journal and well known to residents of Elgin County, was admitted to Memorial Hospital Monday suffering from a heart attack.

Stricken at his home early on Monday, he was removed to hospital after the severity of the attack had been determined. Hospital authorities late on Monday night reported his general condition to be "fair."

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

The UEW soccer squad is nearing the end of a successful season. Already Eastern Ontario League champs, the team is still in the hunt for the Ontario intermediate cup. A lot of oldtimers think it is one of the best balanced sides there's been in Peterborough football. The defence has a swell record in conceding but seven goals in 11 league matches, while the attack accounted for 60. Not a loop loss while every opponent was beaten by at least two goals. UE has played 19 so far and won 17, scoring 85 and having 19 against. In exhibition games, this team beat Hamilton, Picton Army and Oshawa, losing to Toronto City 5-4 and to Toronto CGE 2-1. Quite a crew.

Scugog scribe isn't sure whether Lindsay will ice an OHA intermediate "A" or a senior "B" club this winter. Hm, a senior "B" squad would fit nicely into our setup, eh? Says he: "According to Secretary Art Dickinson, the club is considering coaching offers from Ace Nichols of Bobcaygeon and John Godfrey of Legion fame. Al Burns has indicated he favors the local setup along with two or three others from the liftlock scene. The club plans to get on ice within a couple of weeks if present plans work out. A meeting of the executive and all interested players is slated for the Recreation Centre next week Tuesday eve."

Green Gaels A-Comin'

Minor lacrosse has not yet passed from the picture here. Local bantams are into OLA playdowns in Miller Bowl this e'en at 8.45 against Toronto Green Gaels—a rather intriguing name. Return of the goals-to-count series is Saturday in Toronto. Our juveniles, who drill at 6.30 tomorrow p.m., are off to Dundas on Thursday to open their two-game OLA sawoffs. Return joust in Peter's borough next Monday. Midgets will enter the "B" playdowns now, while our peewees bowed out Saturday in Brampton to some outsize peewees from Brantford. Harry Wipper coached all minor lacrossers here—except Lou Vitarelli's juniors—through the summer, and there's future talent galore.

Guy named Omar Khayyam once quipped: "The bird of time has but a little way to fly, and lo, the bird is on the wing." Ken Kingston heartily seconds the motion and urges early action from folks interested in donating to a fund to help finance the Petes' trip to the West Coast in search of the Mann Cup. Executive is out canvassing and meeting with a good response, but many fans will be missed. These can turn in contributions to Accountant W. R. Wallace at the Bank of Montreal, and official receipts will be given all. Objective is $3,500, and the club feels confident that it will be raised. But they fly west Saturday and "lo, the bird is on the wing".

Bob And Nit To Stay?

The only sure absentees from the local lineup in the Mann Cup finals are Ike Hildebrand and Don Ashbee, playing with Buffalo and Cleveand in the AHL. Bob Thorpe and Nit O'Hearn say they'll make the trip, even if it means getting pro puck releases. In fact, they're planning to take up year-around residences here and will be real lacrosse and hockey assets to Peterborough. Harry Wipper is taking a bit of time off from McGill and Jerry Fitzgerald is expecting to get grid leave of absence from Western. That's not positive at the moment, but the club is working on it and pretty hopeful. Meantime, two replacements are permitted.

Golf is drawing to a close here as autumn arrives. Peterborough Golf Club men hold their official closing day this coming Saturday. A field day with special prizes for driving, putting, etc., and high jinks at the 18th hole, we're told. A dinner in the evening and then presentation of the prizes. Should be a lot of fun there on windup day, and all members are urged to take part. Len Lawrence and his committee of Les Reid, Mac Campbell, Tom Montgomery and Ossie Anderson promise a keen time. Kawartha Club will hold its closing day later this month. Of course, there'll be some friendly golf played on both courses right up until the snow flies.

Say Hill Prince His Old Self, Eyes On Dough

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—(AP)—Hill Prince, the American champion race horse of 1950, is apparently his old self again, trainer Casey Hayes said today. If that is true, the other horses around here might just as well save their marbles by picking up and going home.

Obviously elated over the performance of Chris Chenery's handsome big bay colt in his race Saturday at Aqueduct, Hayes said Hill Prince is ready to take on all comers this fall after being sidelined more than eight months with a leg injury.

"Our present objectives are the New York and Manhattan Handicaps and the Jockey Club Gold Cup," said Casey.

These three major races come on successive Saturdays at Belmont Park. The New York Handicap at a mile and one eighth comes Sept. 29; the Manhattan at a mile and one half, Oct. 8—both $25,000-added affairs. The $50,000-added Gold Cup Oct. 13 is over the rugged two-mile route.

The burly son of Princequillo-Hildene easily defeated Noor in the J. C. Gold Cup last fall, then went to California where he suffered his injury while preparing for the Santa Anita Maturity.

Sparkling Exhibition

Last Saturday the Prince made his first start of 1951 in a six-furlong sprint, packing top weight of 128 pounds, including Eddie Arcaro. He finished third behind Tea-Maker and Northern Star—two speed merchants—but gave a sparkling exhibition, and was flying at the finish.

"Eddie said he was the Hill Prince of old, and a lot of famous trainers who saw the race told me the same thing," Hayes declared.

The four-year-old Prince earned a measley $450 for third Saturday—peanuts compared with the $314,265 he banked in 1950 when he also won the three-year-old crown. His total winnings now are $360,940.

Hayes said Hill Prince probably would go in the $50,000 Empire City Gold Cup at Jamaica Oct. 20, and the $50,000 Butler there Nov. 10, if all goes well.

UEW Tops League

UEW finished the Eastern Ontario Soccer League as champions with a goodly lead on Kingston United, the runner-up. Kingston Vimy will probably forfeit its last game to the locals, having played but 10 games with the others completing 11. Following is the league record at the finish:

	W	L	F	A	Pts
UEW	11	0	60	7	22
Kingston	8	3	51	13	16
Batawa	7	4	34	21	14
Brockville	6	5	34	30	12
O'Halloran	3	8	13	47	6
Belleville	2	9	5	31	4
Vimy	1	9	8	56	2

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

After two postponed nights due to wet weather, the visitors' night finally became a reality—and, at that, if it had another half hour, it, too, would have backfired. The boys just beat the showers by a whisker.

It was a grand night, enjoyed by all. Considering that 50 per cent of the boys had never tossed a bowl down a green before, the bowling was good.

Sides were chosen and all played two-end games.

The visitors were well pleased and at the conclusion W. Hodge, of Kew Beach, Toronto, moved a hearty vote of thanks to the club and the committee.

Winners:

1—D. Willshaw, E. Robins.
2—J. Callohan, D. Knolles, C. Robinson.
3—H. Thompson, A. Sinclair, T. McMillen.
4—O. Price, C. Donaldson, R. Williamson.
5—A. Worsencroft, F. Hapgood.
6—V. Braun, W. Anderson.
7—A. Roode, M. Latimer.
8—B. Hutchinson, J. Begley.

H. Freeman and D. Anderson were the chaps who put this bit of fun over in good style.

Tomorrow: Ladies' tournament at 1.45 p.m.; mixed doubles at 7 p.m.

Ladies' Scores: Mrs. W. Hepburn 13, Mrs. W. Welbourne 11; Mrs. S. Deyman 11, Mrs. F. Staunton 8; Mrs. W. Whitty 13, Mrs. C. Renaud 17; Mrs. H. Northrop 17, Mrs. S. Shields 6.

Durham Series Tied

BETHANY, Sept. 18—(ENS)—Blackstock and Bethany ball teams are still tied in finals for the North Durham League. Rain twice postponed the final and the last one ended in a 4-4 tie, darkness interfering. They meet again at Janetville Thursday at 5.30.

Bethany got a run each in the first three innings and one in the fifth, while Blackstock cashed in on Bethany errors for four in the fifth. Edmunds pitched good ball for Bethany, with Hayes taking over from Dysart in the fourth on the other slab. The latter was their heavy hitter, Ginn going well at bat and afield for Bethany.

Bethany — Edmunds, p; Reynolds, c; Sisson, 1b; Stewart, 2b; Ryley, 3b; Ginn, ss; Rowan, lf; McGill, cf; Smith, rf.

Blackstock — Dysart, p, ss; Cawker, c; B. Dysart, 1b; Marlow, 2b; Bailey, 3b; Hayes, ss, p; Werry, lf; Crawford, rf; Grieves, cf.

Umpires, Tamblyn and Lowery of Orono.

STOCKHOLM— (CP)—A Finnish-language weekly newspaper is to be published in Stockholm. At the beginning of the year it was estimated that more than 40,000 Finns now make their home in Sweden.

Merchants Defeat Picton Athletics 7-1

LINDSAY, Sept. 18.—Lindsay Merchants took the opening game of the Eastern Ontario Intermediate "B" baseball final series beating Picton Athletics 7-1 Monday night.

The Merchants picked on right-hander Stan McTaggart for nine hits and a five-run, game-winning rally in the fourth. Veteran Lloyd Tamblyn stopped Picton with a neat five-hitter, giving up one unearned run. Lew McTaggart, Stu Hicks, Junior West and Tamblyn paced the 10-hit attack with two each. Keith McDonald was the only Athletic to get two hits.

Home Entertainment

LONDON — (CP. — Tenants of one of London's largest new apartment blocks will get entertainment at home. A built-in social centre, accommodating catering recreational and social facilities, will be provided with the aim of making tenants "part of one big, happy family."

TUNA TOURNAMENT CHAMPS—This is the British Empire team that won the International Tuna Tournament at Wedgeport, N.S., for the first time since the Second World War. Left to right, are: Thomas J. Wheeler, Pickering, Ont.; James Pearman, Jr., Pembroke, Bermuda; Maj. Cyril Frisby, London, Eng., stockbroker who boated two fish for best individual record; team captain Cmdr. Duncan C. Hodgson of Montreal, who holds the world record with a 977-pounder; Dr. Edwin Coetzee, Johannesburg; Bevis C. Walters, Sydney, Australia; and Ernest Vesey, Shelly Bay, Bermuda.

PCVS Seniors To Field A Strong Club

Bolstered by PCVS 1950 COSSA juniors the senior Garnet and Greys this year will field a "better than average" grid squad Saturday when they meet Toronto Riverdale Collegiate at Morrow Park.

Debut for the season, this doubleheader for the past few years has indicated to all four coaches (senior and juniors from both schools) how'll they shape up for the coming season.

Coach Bev Goulding has high hopes for his slim team of young hopefuls who will try to bring the COSSA title back to Peterborough this year.

Although he has only seven back from last year's senior COSSA finalists, Coach Goulding has the bulk of the strong junior team. At least most of his team have experience. That's more than in the past few years.

Back At Quarter

Artful Bryan Young will be back at quarter Saturday for the senior Garnet and Grey with his American deceptiveness. But giving him a close run for the position laurels is Dave Langhorne, youthful half from last year's juniors.

In recent practices Langhorne has shown considerable alertness in the seniors' plays and has been working well with his junior mates, now in the senior backfield. He's small but makes up in his other abilities, such as quick-thinking and running.

The Greys' halves are fairly light this year but all have several years' experience, either junior or senior. Starting this year as flying wing will be fleet Bob Craw whose dash helped the seniors in several slow moments last fall.

On the half line will be Warren Brown and Buster Jensen, both thoroughly experienced in ball-handling in the backfield. Up from the junior is Reg Fowler who had several seasons with the juniors as a "natural" football player. Last season with the juniors a leg injury kept him out but this year he is again in the pink of condition. His determined plunging may be needed.

Lot Of Savvy

Along the front wall the weight varies from 200-pounders down to light 130-pounders but again all are experienced. In the middle at snap is senior veteran, Paul Frise, the heaviest man on the squad. Larry Forbes and Hugh Outram, two of the pick of last year's champion line will be at Frise's sides.

Weight is emphasized at middle where Jim Telford and Stan Facendi will start. Both heavyweights as far as the remainder of the team are concerned, Telford played last year as a senior regular while Facendi's best days date back to his junior play, playing only exhibition games with the seniors last year.

At ends will be the youthfuls, Ted Sanders and Spencer Hope. Coach Goulding is relying upon the former lineman, Sanders, and the former junior half, Hope, to carry the team in the air this year.

The team needs depth. Injuries have taken two backfielders and sickness another. Don Ash is expected back this week after a broken nose and Murray Grafstein after a dose of poison ivy. Jim Hendry is probably out for the season with an injured knee.

Ready for the backfield is Don Scriver, a former junior lineman, and Ken Pammett, last year with the junior B team. Along the line will be: ends, Fred Russell, Don Foster, Norm Hayward, Doug Graham; middle, Gary Gilders, Jack King, John Milburn; insides, Bill Nicholls, Don Clapper; snap, Bill Stewart.

A week Saturday the Garnet and Greys entertain Trinity College School, Port Hope, in their annual engagement.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Coach Dick Irvin looked over more than three score hockey players Monday at Montreal Canadiens' opening training camp session and smiled happily.

"Lots of big, young fellows out there; good players, too," he said. "Never saw so many big boys at the camp. It's tough that the new rule allows us to dress only 15 and a goaltender this season instead of 17 as before."

The count showed 61 in action, the big squad working out in relays on the Montreal Forum ice. Three more players will report. Among them are Butch Bouchard, towering defenceman, who has been out of town and will report today.

Playing coach Johnny O'Flaherty Monday night announced the names of three more players signed by Saint John Beavers in the Maritime Major Hockey League.

The three, who played for Toronto St. Michael's Major last season and were formerly with Los Angeles in the Pacific Coast League, are centre Johnny Ubriaco, right winger Bill McCracken and left winger Ed Mulligan.

Bob Masterson, coach of the University of Toronto Blues, said Monday night that the Blues' defensive line will be as hard to break as that of any team in the Intercollegiate Senior League.

"We still have to set up our own patterns," he said, "but I don't see how anybody is going to run or pass too well against us."

Nearly $850,000 in purses will be distributed to harnessmen during the 46-night Yonkers raceway fall meeting starting Monday, Sept. 24.

William H. Cane, track president, said today three new $10,000 purses, the New Jersey pace, the Empire trot and the Roaring Grand pace, have been added to the program.

The grand circuit meet will be held Oct. 15-27 with $247,600 in purses for winners.

Terry Sawchuk registered his second straight shutout for Detroit Red Wings as the National Hockey League champions defeated Indianapolis Capitals, their American Hockey League farm team, 5-0 in an exhibition game at the teams' fall training camp at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Al Smith, coach of McMaster University Marauders, said Monday night his team had again made application to gain admission to the Intercollegiate Senior Football Union.

The Marauders, until this year an intercollegiate intermediate team, have been admitted to the Ontario Rugby Football loop.

Johnny Simpson, veteran harness racing pilot of Chester, SC, will be presented with the national driving award for 1950 at the third annual US Harness Writers' Association dinner in New York Sunday.

Simpson won the national dash championship with 111 victories last year. He recently was named general manager of the famed Hanover Shoe Farms in Hanover, Pa.

Heading into their third week of practice, Western University Mustangs, defending intercollegiate football champions, are gradually taking shape as they prepare for their opening game this Saturday against the Windsor Royals.

With the squad down to about 35 candidates, head coach Johnny Metras has been able to get a much better idea of just who will make up the senior team for the 1951 season.

Princess To See Canadiens Play

MONTREAL, Sept. 18 (CP). — A change is being made in the National Hockey League's 70-game schedule to make it possible for Princess Euizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh to see a game here.

The touring British royal couple will see Detroit Red Wings play Montreal Canadiens Oct. 22. Monday games usually are played in Detroit but in exchange for the home date, Canadiens will play the preceding Saturday in the motor city.

The 1951-52 season, third to feature 70 games, will open in both Montreal and Detroit Oct. 11 and close March 23. Chicago Black Hawks will play in the Montreal premiere, while Boston Bruins will be in Detroit.

Holders of the Stanley Cup, Toronto Maple Leafs, will play host to Chicago in their curtain-raiser Oct. 13. The sixth NHL club New York Rangers will see action first at Chicago, Oct. 14.

Boston will have its first home game Oct. 14 against Canadiens, while the New York premiere will be 10 days later against Bruins.

Barrie Flyers Stay In League

STRATFORD, Sept. 18—(CP)—Despite the loss of Boston Bruins' sponsorship, Barrie Flyers will continue in the junior "A" league of the Ontario Hockey Association, Hap Emms said Monday.

Emms made the statement after learning that Art Ross, president of the Bruins, had said that his club would be unable to continue sponsoring the Flyers.

Earlier, Emms announced he was planning to transfer his club to Stratford, providing the Bruins continued their sponsorship.

He made this decision after Conn Smythe, of Toronto Maple Leafs, had warned that his team would apply to the National Hockey League to rule that no professional club could sponsor an amateur club within 50 miles of Toronto unless the league consented to such sponsorship.

Smythe's statement followed Emms' refusal to have his Barrie Flyers play Sunday games in Toronto.

Comeback Royals Subdue Plainville

COBOURG, Sept. 18: — Link with the past in Cobourg softball was on display Monday when the Royals, champions in the 30's and early 40's won a comeback-for-a-day game with Plainville 26-4.

The Royals used only players who are out of the game today, but the veterans had too much inside baseball for the county league team from Plainville.

The game was a benefit for the John Cunningham Memorial Trophy. Charlie Pearson and Corky Kewin divided the Royal pitching and neither were bothered to any extent by the losers.

Belleville Ties Up Series With Kingston

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 18 (CP)—Belleville Redmen tied up their Central Ontario Baseball League semi-final series with Kingston Disney Leafs here Monday night 3-3 by edging the Leafs 9-8 in the sixth game of the series.

Vern Goyer's homer in the second brought in Dick Fitzpatrick and started the Redmen on a six-run splurge and got three more in the fourth.

Dodgers Miss Campanella, Hurt In Game

By JERRY LISKA.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (AP). — Just before the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers took the field Monday for their season finale against Chicago Cubs, husky Roy Campenalla, frisky as a colt, chortled:

"Don't worry about those New York Giants catching us—we're really seven games ahead of them. Those seven more they lost than we have are gone forever." Actually, the Brooks now lead by four games.

Today, Campanella—rated as perhaps the best catcher in baseball—was resting in a Chicago hospital after an accidental beaning by the Cubs' Turk Lown. The Dodgers felt as though they also had received a collective blackjacking. Roy's condition was pronounced fair, but when he will return to the Brooklyn lineup is questionable.

Without Campanella, the Dodgers, who play the Cardinals at St. Louis tonight, conceivably could back away from the National League pennant which the Giants alone believe they, themselves, might somehow miraculously snatch.

Absence Felt

The husky Negro's absence was felt immediately Monday as the Dodgers blew a 3-0 lead and lost to the Cubs 5-3. Big Don Newcombe, who had whipped the Cubs four times previously this season without defeat, apparently missed the behind-the-plate generalship of Campanella, who was felled in the second inning.

The doctors at Illinois Masonic Hospital had a tough time convincing Campanella he got a severe knock on the noggin.

"He's so impulsive we think he'll be in the hospital only overnight," the hospital superintendent, William Tenny, said Monday.

Preliminary X-rays failed to disclose any fracture, but Campanella, now batting .325 and with 31 home runs, had bleeding from his ear as well as lacerations on the ear surface. He also had a swollen left jaw.

Campanella has worn a protective pad sewed into the lining of his cap since he was hit in the head by a pitch thrown by Bill Werle of Pittsburgh two years ago. However, Lown's high inside pitch struck just below the cap.

Indians Lose 2-1 Tussle In Galling Defeat, Red Sox Crush Chicago

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's vanishing Indians are rid of New York for the season but they may have left the pennant behind in the Yankee Stadium. As they have done in all but one of their 11 games in the Yankees' home grounds, the Indians lost again Monday. This time they dropped a galling 2-1 tussle that put them a full game behind the front-running New Yorkers as they faced the rugged Red Sox in Boston today. It may be a case of out of the frying pan into the fire for the beleaguered tribe. Boston, winner of six of its last seven starts and fresh from a 12-5 romp over Chicago White Sox, is only 1½ games behind Cleveland in this tense three-team American League race. Another Red Sox-Indians clash follows Wednesday.

It was Phil Rizzuto who beat the Indians Monday with the shortest of hits. The winning blow—a deft squeeze bunt that didn't even reach the pitcher's mound—brought in Joe DiMaggio with the payoff run.

It came in the last of the ninth after Cleveland manager Al Lopez had ordered pitcher Bob Lemon to walk Bobby Brown on purpose with runners on first and third and one out.

Lopat Victory

The victory went to Eddie Lopat who squelched the Indians with three hits to reach the 20-win mark for the first time in his career. The only Cleveland tally came in the sixth and it took an error to pave the way for the Indians' unearned run. An infield out followed by Bobby Avila's single brought the run across.

A 13-hit Red Sox attack, featured by the clubbing of Ted Williams and Clyde Vollmer, gave Ray Scarborough his 12th victory. Williams had a perfect day at bat with two singles, a double and his 30th homer in four official times at bat. Vollmer banged in five runs with two singles and his 22nd homer.

Brooklyn Dodgers not only had their National League lead cut to four games over New York Giants as they bowed to the Cubs 5-3 in Chicago, but lost the services of Roy Campanella for at least two days. Brooklyn's star catcher was laid low by a pitched ball which struck him on the left ear and sent him to the hospital.

The Dodgers gave Don Newcombe a 3-0 lead over the first six innings but the righthander wilted in the seventh. Two-run homers by Hank Sauer and pinch-hitter Gene Hermanski turned the tide.

Tommy Brown hit his ninth homer of the season in the 10th inning to give Robin Roberts his 20th victory and the Philadelphia Phils a 2-1 triumph over St. Louis Cardinals.

All other teams enjoyed an off day.

Chiefs Humble Royals 11-8

MONTREAL, Sept. 18—(CP)—Syracuse Chiefs called a halt to Montreal Royals' five-game playoff winning streak Monday night and tied their best-of-seven International League final series at a game apiece.

The Royals, who disposed of Buffalo Bisons in four straight games before beating Chiefs in the first game of the finals, dropped an 11-8 decision before a crowd of 12,421 fans.

Montreal used four pitchers as the Chiefs outslugged them 15 to 12. Starter Mal Mallette was the loser.

Say Labor Income Reaches Record Level

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP)—Canadian labor income reached a record level during June and the first six months of this year, the Bureau of Statistics reported Monday.

Continued advances in employment, wage rates and salaries brought the estimate for the month to $825,000,000, a gain of 18.7 per cent over $695,000,000 in the corresponding month last year.

Cows can't use crutches

We've heard from Denmark that a cow over there had to have its leg amputated, but gets along quite nicely now on a new one made of aluminum.

Whether or not this artificial leg was made of Canadian aluminum, we wouldn't know. Perhaps it was, because we do produce one quarter of the world's supply. That's quite a big thing for Canada. It means jobs for Canadians, and money from abroad to pay for Canadian imports. Right now we are hard at work on extension projects in Quebec and British Columbia; for we intend to go on playing our part in helping Canada grow. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

Recover Child's Body From Gatineau River

CANTLEY, Que., Sept. 18 (CP)—The badly-decomposed body of an unidentified child on Monday was recovered from the Gatineau River near this small village, 12 miles north of Ottawa.

Detective John L. Ross of the Quebec Provincial Police said the body, which was found among a large float of logs by workers would be brought to Hull, Que., for investigation.

Ancient Writings To Be Translated In Joint Project

TORONTO—(CP)—Prof. Fritz Heichelheim, who rose to prominence amongst European historians in 1948 when he discovered that the economy of the ancient Greeks and Romans suffered from a boom and depression cycle, is once more peering into the past.

Soon Prof. Heichelheim, classics professor at the University of Toronto, will begin translation and publication of one of the largest collections of untouched ancient writings in existence.

The collection is now at the University of Giessen, in Western Germany, where it largely survived the war-time bombing. Photostatic copies of items in the collection will be sent here for the professor to study.

The Giessen collection is made up of 1,000 Papyri and 500 Ostraca—writings on paper and pottery, respectively. In Athens, when the busy author ran out of paper, or couldn't afford it as it was very expensive in those days, he reached for the nearest flower-pot. Pottery fragments were as useful as a writing pad to the early Greeks. They put their less important notes on the pieces.

Egyptian Paper

Papyrus, a paper made from an Egyptian plant of the same name, was reserved for important speeches, documents and love letters. The Ostraca were used for lesser correspondence and also as ballots.

Most of the Papyri and Ostraca are in Greek but there are groups in hieroglyphic, demotic, Arabic and Latin. Although that seems difficult enough, Professor Hiechelheim says that handwriting is one of the most serious problems.

Like the economic cycle, handwriting also had its ups and downs, he says. The inks the ancients used, however, were very good. If they had cared to, they could probably have written under water—if they had had fountain pens.

The translation itself will be a joint project carried out by a committee of staff members at the University of Toronto and at Giessen. The professor's connection with the German University is strong. He taught there before his dislike for Hitler caused him to move to England where he taught at Cambridge and Nottingham universities. Now he is an honorary professor of ancient economic history at Giessen.

Just what to expect from the writings Prof. Heichelheim does not know. Perhaps some may be profoundly important, a book by Aristotle or an unknown Greek tragedy. Others may be ordinary records of everyday affairs.

Five Men Remanded In Robbery Case

ST. CATHARINES, Sept. 18—(CP).— Five men, all charged in connection with armed or attempted armed robberies of the nearby St. David's branch of the Imperial Bank of Canada, Monday were remanded one week in custody.

Arthur Grandmason and William Miller, both of Buffalo, are charged with the armed robbery of the bank August 16.

Early Gilson, Boyd Englehart, and George Dabald, all of Niagara Falls, Ont., face charges of attempted armed robbery of the same bank September 12.

Englehart and Dabald still are in St. Catharines General Hospital suffering from gunshot wounds received in a running gun battle the day they allegedly attempted the second holdup of the bank in less than a month.

Name Prosecutor In Swartz Trial

TORONTO, Sept. 18 — (CP).—Attorney-General Porter announced Monday that a former member of his department, Joseph Sedggick, will be special Crown prosecutor in the trial of Harry (Swabby) Swartz, charged in connection with alleged race fixing on Ontario tracks this summer.

Swartz, charged with conspiring to defraud the public, was remanded at Welland on September 7 and released on $15,000 bail to appear in Fort Erie Court on October 10.

The alleged race fixing was exposed by the Ontario Racing Commission in the course of investigations carried on at Fort Erie, Niagara Falls, and Toronto.

New Walkout At Steel Plant Halts Production

SYDNEY, NS, Sept. 18 (CP)—Steel production ground to a standstill at Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation's plant here Monday night as the result of another in a long series of wildcat walkouts.

Production was halted when employees of the open hearth department—heart of the steel-making process—walked off their jobs.

Workers in several other departments also failed to work in a continuation of what observers believe a protest move against what union president Ed Corbett termed a company effort to break the union.

Corbett, head of the 4,700-member Sydney local of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL), made that comment after the company inaugurated a 10-cent hourly wage boost and a cost-of-living bonus already rejected by union wage negotiations.

Meanwhile in Montreal, Lionel Forsyth, president of Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation, said the company has made no effort to break the Sydney local of the United Steelworkers of America as its president claimed.

"We are making no effort to break the union," Mr. Forsyth said. "We have a contract with the union which doesn't expire until next March and we expect them to live up to it as we have."

CAR OWNERS: DODGE HAS THE ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS YOU FREQUENTLY ASK

Q Should I use a standard or premium gasoline in my car?

A That depends on the make of your present car. All new Dodge engines are designed to operate with maximum performance and top efficiency with ordinary gasoline.

Q How can I judge the amount of choking my car requires to start under varying weather conditions?

A Unfortunately, you cannot. But new Dodge cars are equipped with an Automatic Electric Choke which makes starting easier — particularly in cold weather, and avoids wasteful overchoking.

Q If my foot brake should fail will my parking brake still operate?

A Yes, if you own a Dodge. The Dodge parking brake is completely independent of the foot brake, operating on a drum of its own fastened to the propeller shaft. When the propeller shaft is locked, the wheels cannot turn. In many cars the parking brake operates on the two rear drums of the foot brake.

Q In face of the high cost of body repairs, why don't all cars have detachable fenders?

A It would seem that some manufacturers have sacrificed the practical for styling. All Dodge fenders are bolted on and are easily removed to facilitate replacement or repair.

Q How can I stop my gas lines from clogging with dirt and water?

A With most cars there's no sure way. You might try draining and cleaning out your tank from time to time. In cold weather always keep your tank well filled as this reduces the amount of condensation. With a 1951 Dodge, of course, you cannot experience this annoying trouble. The new Dodge is equipped with an Oilite fuel filter located in the gas tank which keeps the entire fuel system free from dirt and water. It's self-cleaning, too, from the swishing action of the gas in the tank.

Q Why is rear seat riding in some cars so tiring?

A That's because a low, sloped-back rear seat places you in an uncomfortable position without support under and behind the knees. Dodge chair-high seats, both front and rear, give you proper knee and back support — let you ride long distances in comfort.

Q How can I best protect my engine from the dirt and abrasives which collect in the oil?

A You should install an efficient oil filter, if your car is not so equipped. Not only are all Dodge Coronet and Regent models equipped with a highly efficient Micronic Oil Filter as standard equipment, but all Dodge models give you added protection with a Floating Oil Intake. This type of intake draws only the clean oil from just below the surface, preventing both surface foam and bottom sludge from entering the oil lines.

Q Should I buy a set of the special tires or tubes advertised as protection against blowouts?

A Many motorists would not be without them. Dodge owners, however, have an exceptional safety factor in "Safety Rim" wheels. Protective ridges on these wheels hold the standard tire in place in case of tire failure, reduce the danger of loss of control and allow safe, straight stops.

Q Why do my windshield wipers slow down and sometimes stop working when I accelerate my engine—often when I need them most?

A That's a little technical but here's the answer in simplest terms. Your wiper is a vacuum type, operated from the vacuum in the intake manifold. This vacuum is highest when the engine is idling — lowest when the engine is under full load, such as when you call for fast acceleration, so your vacuum wipers slow down. With the new Dodge cars you do not experience this trouble as they are equipped with constant-speed electric windshield wipers.

Q Is there any real difference in the various types of air cleaners?

A Yes, there are vast differences. For example, all Dodge cars use a heavy-duty oil-bath air cleaner. In "dust storm" tests, this type cleaner proved much more efficient than ordinary mesh-type filters even at the start. And, after 2,000 miles of driving it proved to be still 98% efficient, or nearly double that of other types of cleaners.

These are some of the reasons for DODGE DEPENDABILITY, COMFORT AND ECONOMY and why we say "Drive a Dependable Dodge for 5 minutes and you'll drive it for years!"

Truck Bangs Three Cars, Verandah

Damage Estimated At $2,000 Driver Charged

Careening south on Park St. a Department of Transport truck Monday afternoon hit three cars and a house, doing damage estimated at about $2,000.

Driver of the truck, Michael McMahon, 30, of 5 Maniece Ave., pleaded guilty in police court today to charges of drunk driving and reckless driving.

He was remanded in custody to Thursday when evidence will be heard. Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, KC, asked that it be taken as an indictable offence liable to be tried by a higher court.

However, McMahon chose trial by the magistrate's court and pleaded guilty.

Said Drunk

Witnesses who talked to McMahon after the accident said he was very drunk. Police found a full bottle of whiskey in the glove compartment of the truck.

After the 210-foot long trail of damage was ended, a crowd of 300 to 400 people, mostly CGE workers just coming out of the plant, had gathered.

As the truck drove south on Park St. at a speed estimated by witnesses at 35 miles an hour, it hit:

A car owned by Ernie Guppy, 754 Herman St., parked 95 feet south of the Cullen car, also on the west side of Park St., damaging the left side;

A third car parked in front of a gas station on the east side of the street, owned by William Rivers, 567 Aylmer St., damaging the left front door, wheel, grill, radiator, hood, and frame;

Through Fence

A board fence, going right through and hitting a house at 32 Park St. N.

When the truck hit the house, it knocked the verandah two feet south, broke the foundation at the northwest corner, split wallpaper in the living room, and knocked a woman off the chesterfield in the living room. A doll, lying on the radiator in the hall, was broken when it fell to the floor.

The woman, Mrs. George Self, was unhurt.

Damage to the truck was to both front fenders, the grill, bumper, headlights, radiator, hood and frame.

Investigating Constable M. P. Traynor said he found no skid marks from the point where the truck hit the Cullen car 210 feet south to the house at 32 Park St. N.

END OF THE TRAIL—This truck driven by Michael McMahon banged three cars, crashed through a fence and was only stopped by the verandah of this Park St. house. The verandah was shifted two feet and the house was disturbed enough on its foundations that the occupants now have trouble closing doors. The third car that McMahon hit was facing east with the driver inside. It was picked up by the impact and spun around about 90 degrees to face west.—(William Aggas Photo)

Colin Cameron Third Victim Of Polio In City

Polio took its third Peterborough victim today when Colin John Charles Cameron, 13, died in Riverdale Isolation Hospital, Toronto.

He is the son of Roy Cameron, and the former Mary La Rue, 511 Stewart St.

The boy was rushed to the Toronto hospital from Civic Hospital September 11 where he was reported as acutely ill until his death today.

Oddly enough, Peterborough's other two polio victims also lived on Stewart St. They were Alvin Snowden, 25-year-old optical worker, 605 Stewart St., who died August 6; and Mrs. William Miller, 25, 207 Stewart St., who died August 11.

Cameron was born in West Guilford, Haliburton, where he lived until three years ago when his family moved to Peterborough. He was a student at Central Public School and the family belonged to Murray St. Baptist Church.

Besides his parents, he leaves one sister, Mrs. E. Yateman (Jacqueline), Peterborough.

Funeral arrangements by the Kaye funeral home will be announced later.

City Seeks Sewer Detour Around Fresh Pavement

To avoid cuting a sewer trench through the new pavement surface on Charlotte St., immediately west of Bethune St., employees of the board of works today were exploring possibility of connection along the green strip between the curb and sidewalk to an adjoining lane.

Mr. W. McIlmoyl has built a new shop fronting part of the terrace front on Charlotte St. for a barber shop. This work was done according to permit. As it turns out, the sewer connection to the terrace and store at the corner of Bethune St. on the south side of Charlotte St., is by way of a lane immediately west of the terrace.

Connections to the occupied sections of the terrace are by way of its rear. It was understood by the council last week that approach from that direction involved a difficulty of shallowness.

The Charlotte St. sewer is on the north side of the street. That connection would require digging a trench through the pavement which was given a fresh top of asphalt this season. Council wished to comply with the application of Mr. McIlmoyl, but the members were quite reluctant about assenting to hacking into the new pavement.

That work, incidentally, would probably block temporarily traffic on a wide stretch of Charlotte St.

Hastings To Vote On New School

HASTINGS, Sept. 18 (ENS).—Hastings village council on request of the public school board has decided to submit to the ratepayers a bylaw for $80,000 for the building of a new school. The vote will be taken on Oct. 17.

At the last meeting of the council E. M. Hess and Arthur Orr appeared before the council and outlined the conditions at the public school and the necessity for a new school. This school of four rooms will cost $80,000 of which the department of Education will pay 60 per cent, leaving $32,000 to be charged against public school supporters.

The board has received the approval of the department to go ahead when the ratepayers approve.

Tentmaker Gets Order For Royal Decorations

J. A. Marchen, city tentmaker has received an order from the Canadian government for decorations to dress up Trenton airport for the arrival of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh.

He will supply a royal blue and gold canopy 75 feet long to lead up to the officers' mess building where the royal pair will have lunch Oct. 5. Mr. Marchen will also supply a carpet of royal red to be laid under the canopy as well as bunting and flags.

"I consider it an honor to have been given the contract," said Mr. Marchen.

Driver's Face Cut In Crash With Pole

Twenty-three-year-old Donald Price, 816 Lansdowne St., suffered a cut above his nose shortly after midnight when his car hit a hydro pole opposite 752 Armour Road.

Price told police he was blinded by the lights of an oncoming car as he drove south. Five passengers were unhurt when the car hit and split the pole.

Damage to Price's car was estimated at about $200. Several street lights along Armour Rd. were put out by the crash, but were lit again in a short while after a hydro crew made repairs. Price was taken to Civic Hospital where he was treated as an outpatient.

House Razed Family Seeks Home

Loss Estimated At $2,000, Possessions Gone

The little Douro community of frame cottages that stretches along the Trent Canal, just south of Nassau, has experienced bad luck this year.

Early in June two-year-old Catherine Jones, whose family had moved in only a day or so before, drowned when she fell into the canal. And last Saturday the home of Manley Godfrey, his wife and grownup son, was burned to the ground.

Ironically, both families lived in the same cottage. The Godfreys moved in when the Jones left.

Cause Unknown

Godfrey, a concrete layer working for George Goodfellow, went out at noon to visit some neighbors. Less than 15 minutes later the wooden frame cottage was a mass of flame. Nothing could be saved and the total loss—house and contents—is estimated at $2,000.

Cause of the blaze is not known.

An extra twist to the hard luck story is this: The four-room cottage was owned by Jack Allen, a neighbor who lives further to the north. Since winter he has been unable to work because of a bad heart.

The Allens were renting the cottage as one means of getting some income. Now all that remains of their investment is a charred mass of burned wood, the twisted steel frames of household articles such as beds, stoves and pots and pans. In short: nothing.

No Insurance

Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey had no insurance on their belongings and the Allens had only a little on the house.

Included in the Godfreys' loss was about $40 in cash—some of it Mr. Godfrey's, some belonging to his 20-year-old son Elwood, some of it his wife's.

"We've only got the clothes we're standing up in," said Mr. Godfrey. "Right now we're living at my brother Sherman's home in Young's Point. "What we would like is to be able to get two or three rooms in town."

Hard luck. But the three families are carrying on.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

POLIO VICTIM MOVED

Karen Herr, RR 2, Indian River, a polio victim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Herr, has been moved to the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto for treatment. She was brought into Civic Hospital here Sept. 11. Her condition is believed to be not too serious.

QUITE ILL

Gail McNamara, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael McNamara, 193 Lake St., who was taken to Riverside Isolation Hospital with polio Sunday, was reported as "quite ill" by hospital officials today.

ART EXHIBIT

An art exhibit of landscapes and portraits in oils by Miss Margaret Florence, Peterborough, a student of the Ontario College of Art, will go on exhibition at the Public Library today. Librarian William Graff also reported that the Catherin Wallis sculptor collection will remain up until the end of September.

KNOCKED DOWN BY TRUCK

When knocked from his bicycle by a truck Monday, Ross Robertson, Lindsay, received a broken neck, a fractured pelvis among other injuries. He was rushed to Ross Memorial Hospital. Driver of the truck was G. Barren, a Petawawa soldier home on leave.

MONSIGNOR J. J. O'BRIEN who died Monday will lie in in state in Sacred Heart Church from Wednesday evening until Solemn Pontifical High Mass Thursday at 10 a.m. Until Wednesday he will be resting at the rectory at 208 Romaine St.

X-Raying Begun Of 800 Teachers, Staffs Of Area

Peterborough city and county program of X-raying school teachers and all persons connected with school children got under way for a week.

Normal School students totalling 136 have all been X-rayed with the last group receiving X-rays Monday. Also Monday, 15 teachers from Otonabee Township were X-rayed.

Dr. R. A. Kelly said today that the program will be completed by October 24.

More than 800 teachers, janitors, bus drivers, and anyone directly or indirectly dealing with the pupils will be included.

X-rays are being given two and three afternoons a week at both city hospitals.

The Peterborough program is following a provincial-wide ruling that teachers must be X-rayed.

The cost of the program will be borne by the Peterborough TB Association.

326 X-Rays.

The TB Association is also continuing to carry out its program for pre-employment X-rays in city industries. A total of 326 pre-employment X-rays were made during July and August—114 in July and 212 in August.

Charles Elliott, vice-president, said this morning that the association is still making an active campaign to persuade Peterborough industries to support this pre-employment X-ray program 100 per cent, but that a few of the industries have failed to cooperate.

Car, Truck Hit On Narrow Road

Nobody was injured though there was about $560 property damage Monday when a father driving his children to school crashed into a hydro truck on the 9th line of Dummer township.

Ross Irwin, 36, of RR 2, Lakefield, was driving a 1950-model car along the 9th line, nine miles north of Norwood, when he came to a narrow neck of the road on a small hill. At the same time a hydro truck approached. It was driven by Cecil Cameron, 20, of White Lake.

Irwin pulled well over to his own side of the road but the car struck a boulder and bounced back into the path of the rear wheel of the truck. The left fender and door were badly damage and the frame was twisted.

Damage to the car is estimated at $500, and to the truck $60.

OPP Constable Tom Armitage, of Peterborough HQ, investigated.

Move Is Made Before Judge For Inquiry As To Why Trust Has Not Been Fulfilled

Maurice Ketcheson Submits Complaint "Money Not Given To Earn Bond Interest" Appeal Made Under Charities Act

Mr. Maurice E. Ketcheson has submitted to His Honor Judge J. A. McGibbon, Lindsay, a complaint that the Peterborough Memorial Centre fund has not been put to the use for which it was collected by public subscription. Basis of his appeal is an amendment to the Charities Accounting Act passed by the Ontario Government at its 1951 sessions. Sections which Mr. Ketcheson says are pertinent to the local circumstances are: "Any person may complain as to the manner in which any person or organization has solicited or procured funds by way of contribution or gift from the public for any purpose, or as to the manner in which any such funds have been dealt with or disposed of."

Also clause 3: "Wherever the judge is of opinion that the public interest can be served by an investigation of the matter complained of, he may make an order directing the Public Trustee to make such investigation as the Public Trustee may deem proper in the circumstances."

Clause 4 of the amendment: "In making any such investigation, the Public Trustee shall have and may exercise any of the powers conferred upon him by this Act, or that may be conferred upon a commissioner under the Public Inquiries Act.

Clause 5: "The cost of any such investigation when approved by the Attorney-General shall form part of the expenses of the administration of justice in Ontario."

Statement

Mr. Ketcheson presents the financial statement of the Centre committe at Jan. 23, 1951, showing total pledges by the public of $205,879.76; total payments $200,153.26; interest on bond investment and interest in bank $34,279.77.

Bond investment $207,926.92; expenditures $11,268.98; balance $15,237.13. Total $234,433.03.

Mr. Ketcheson said today this was a friendly action on his part, but he considered it only right and proper that something should be done about this public trust.

"We have heard a lot about certain public trusts and how they must be carried out. I think we all agree with that, but in the Community Centre Fund, a main feature of that public trust was that the money collected was to be spent on a public memorial to the men who had given their lives in the war.

Colected In 1944

"The fund was collected in 1944. Work was to be under way immediately after the war. But, nothing has been done. That trust has not been carried out. Why?

"I think the people who subscribed to that fund have every right to appeal to the court for a hearing under this new amendment.

"There is no question about the money being properly taken care of, as far as that goes, but it was earning interest on bonds.

"I feel strongly that if one trust must be carried out, why not any other? Why not this Memorial Centre Trust? The committee cannot say that they haven't had ample time from 1944 onward, nor can they say that they did not have a site offered to them.

Psychologist Tells Rotary

"Love Thy Neighbor" First Rule Of Mental Health

"There is no better mental health precept to be found than the commandment, love thy neighbor as thyself, Leviticus 19: 18."

This statement was made Monday by Dr. J. D. M. Griffin, director of the Canadian Mental Care Association, Toronto, and the guest speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club. The topic of Dr. Griffin's address was, Man's Last Spectre—mental illness and its corollary, mental health.

"If you teach children this rule there is no better groundwork that can be laid to pave the way for their mental health," the speaker continued.

He first outlined briefly a few of the many misconceptions of public opinion regarding mental illness which prevent a true grasp of the situation in this country.

Not Incurable

Dr. Griffin explained that mental illness is not incurable. Seven of every 10 suffering serious mental illness are either completely cured or become well enough to continue their regular life in their home.

Mental illness is not a result of living the wrong kind of life. Also so much stress should not be put on heredity in this type of sickness. Neither are mental illness nor nervous disorders character weaknesses.

Until these misconceptions were cleared away and people stopped thinking of mental illness as a disgrace, little progress could be made in preventative treatment.

"True mental health is what makes people able to live happily and effectively with themselves and with others," the speaker pointed out.

Satisfying Job

One of the most important requisites of mental health was a satisfying job. When this is impossible the lack must be made up in recreation.

There should be training in the healthy use of recreation before life work is begun. This and the training of loving oneself and others should be carried out in the three bases primary institutions—home, school and church.

It is when this training fails and people find that they can't respect or love themselves that mental sickness results and curative treatment is required.

Other important factors needed for mental health is group life; a philosophy of life—people must have something to believe in—and community activity which develops social consciousness.

In concluding, Dr. Griffin demanded "Why haven't you people got a mental health clinic in Peterborough? Until and unless the citizens of this city realize this is a major problem, you won't have a mental clinic. It is unusual and remarkable that it is believed there is no need for such a clinic in Peterborough."

Dr. Griffin was introduced by Dr. R. K. Magee and thanked by T. J. Carley.

During the meeting, President Syd Black mentioned the fine work contributed to Rotary by Major C. G. Everitt and gave the best wishes of the club in his new post at Winnipeg.

Separated Church, State Leads To Red Suppression

By WALTER KOLARZ
Staff writer of the BBC, European Service

According to article 124 of the Soviet constitution the Russian Church is separated from the state. The constitution says that this separation aimed at "ensuring to citizens freedom of conscience". The article on the separation of the state from the church has been taken over by most of the satellite constitutions. It figures in the Hungarian constitution and in that of Bulgaria. Separation of the church from the state means above all the suppression of religious education in state schools and also has detrimental effects on the financial position of religious communities. Nevertheless, the disestablishment of the churches in Eastern Europe could have its positive sides as well.

If seriously and honestly put into practice disestablishment would mean absence of state interference with ecclesiastical affairs. In reality the separation of the church from the state is but an empty promise just as most of the other pledges included in the Soviet satellite constitutions. In some of the Eastern European countries there is now more state interference with the church than there has ever been in the past. The satellite regimes have, in fact, created an extensive bureaucratic apparatus to carry out a systematic supervision of all religious activities, to break the influence of religious bodies and to issue instructions to bishops and priests.

As usual Soviet Russia supplied the model. The Soviet state organs for the supervision of the church go back to 1943. Then the Soviet government decided that the relations between church and state were to be handled by two state offices working under the direction of the Council of People's Commissars. One committee was put in charge of the orthodox church, while the second committe was to look after all the other religious communities of the Soviet Union ranging from Moslems and Buddhists to small Christian sects.

Two Committees

The formation of these committees, an act of supreme machiavellism, caused some mild comment even in Communist party circles. The new office dealing with orthodox church affairs was soon nicknamed People's Commissariat for Opium which recalled the well-known Marxist definition that religion was opium for the people.

The functions of the state office for orthodox church affairs are both of a technical and of a political nature. All requests which the holy synod, the patriarch and the bishops, want to submit to a state authority have to be addressed to the Karpov committee. This applies to such an important matter as the summoning of an ecclesiastical assembly in the same way as to small points of detail. Thus, if a bishop wants to travel within his diocese or from his diocese to the patriarchal see, he must apply to the church office for railway tickets.

Another important task of the committee for the affairs of the orthodox church consists in mobilizing the church for actions which are in the interest of the government and the party. In recent years the main task of the committee in this respect was to see to it that the orthodox hierarchy pulls its full weight in the support of the peace campaign.

Conditions Different

The Soviet state apparatus for the supervision of the churches, could not, of course, be copied completely by the satellite countries, where conditions in the religious sphere are not quite the same as in the USSR. The conditions even vary in the various satellite states. In Catholic countries like Czechslovakia, Poland and Hungary the religous problem requires, from the Communist point of view, a different tactical treatment than in Protestant Eastern Germany or in Orthodox states like Rumania and Bulgaria.

In Catholic Central Europe special committees for church affairs were created during the last two years; in Czechslovakia in July 1949, in Poland in May 1950 and in Hungary in May 1951. While these committees are identical in spirit with the Soviet committees they owe their origin to different motives. The formation of the Soviet committees was a gesture of appeasement and amounted to the abandonment of the more militant atheist policy which Soviet Russia had pursued in the 'twenties and early 'thirties. In Central Europe the foundation of the State Committees for Church Affairs marked on the contrary a sharpening of the struggle of the state versus the church.

It is interesting that both in Czechslovakia and in Hungary the church offices were not entrusted to some Catholic fellow-travellers of which both regimes have quite a few at their disposal. It was thought preferable to put outright Communist atheists in charge of them. In Czechslovakia the church office was first handed over to President Gottwald's son-in-law Alexic Cepicka, who ever since 1945 has excelled in particularly violent extremism in his attitude towards the church. Thus when he occupied his first office in liberated Czechslovakia, that of president of the local administration of a district in Moravia, he forbade religious marriages. Cepicka was replaced in April 1950 by Zdenek Fierlinger as head of the state office for church affairs. Fierlinger may be slightly milder in his methods but is indistinguishable from his predecessor in his atheist convictions an dhis hostility againts the Roman Catholic church in particular.

Not Yet A Satellite

In Eastern Germany a state office for church affairs was founded in October 1949 at the same time as the so-called German Democratic Republic itself. The office has not the same authority as the corresponding bodies in Czechslovakia, Hungary and Poland. This is only too understandable. Eastern Germany is not yet a fully-fledged People's Democracy and the Eastern German Communists have to go somewhat more cautiously for the sake of their propaganda in Western Germany. They have not taken over the direction of the office themselves but have left it in the hands of the Eastern German "Christian Democratic Union" which is their faithful ally. With the help of the state office the regime spies on priests, checks on their sermons and forces them to support Communist propaganda actions like the plebiscite on the rearmament of Germany. No wonder that authoritative German Protestant quarters have repeatedly disowned both the actions and the statements of the office.

And now let us look at two orthodox Balkan countries, Rumania and Bulgaria. There, the Communists did not need to create any new offices for the supervision of the church. They were able to use that machinery which had already existed under the previous regimes. In Bulgaria church matters are stil handled by the Direction of Religious Cults which is a department of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs. The powers of this state office are extremely far-reaching. The Bulgarian church law of February 1949 entitles the director of religious cults to dismiss and suspend from office the minister of any religious community of Bulgaria. More than that, he may even declare an entire religious community as illegal.

Persecution of minority religions is, however, but one side of the activity of the Bulgarian state office for church matters. The object of its primary attention is, of course, the orthodox church. The latter was described in the Bulgarian Church law as the traditional church of the Bulgarian people and as a "People's Democratic Church". Before it became "People's Democratic" certain changes in its leadership had to be carried out. The head of the church, Exarch Stephen, was banished to a monastery and replaced by a holy synod. The election of a pro-Communist patriarch is to crown, in the near future, the work of the Bulgarian church reformers.

In Rumania the Ministry of Religious Cults has a similar record as the department of religion of the Bulgarian Foreign Office. Its first outstanding achievement under Communist rule was to remove the Patriarch Nikodim into a monastery and replace him by a person willing to serve as an agent of the Groza government.

De Havilland Workers Get Pay Increases

TORONTO, Sept. 18 (CP) — Employees of DeHavilland Limited will receive pay increases of from 16 cents to 27 cents an hour, retroactive to Sept. 1, under terms of an agreement signed Monday by the company and Local 112 of the United Automobile Workers, (CIO-CCL).

The merit system of payment, previously established in the plant, will be replaced by a system of automatic progression to the top classification pay rate within 120 days.

Young Soldier Held On Theft Charge

WINDSOR, Sept. 18 (CP). — Still suffering with a police gunshot wound, Pte. Michael Wochoski, 18, of Fort William was arraigned Monday on a housebreaking and theft charge.

Wochoski was remanded to Friday for trial. Assistant Crown Attorney Eugene Duchesne said he needed time to call the Crown witnesses.

Wochoski, who has been in hospital since July, is charged with breaking into the home of Joseph McMannus, of Windsor, July 7 and with theft of clothing from the home.

Didn't See Lost Husband

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP). — Mrs. Melinda MacLean, Chicago-born wife of missing British diplomat Donald MacLean, returned to London today from a month's vacation in France.

MacLean, head of the American section of the foreign office, vanished in May with another foreign office official, Guy Burgess. There have been reports both are in Russia.

Asked if she had seen her husband during her vacation Mrs. MacLean said, "I have not seen him, I have not heard of him, and I did not expect to."

Plane Makes Mercy Flight

MONTREAL, Sept. 18 (CP).— An RCAF plane on a mercy flight from the Labrador wastelands on Monday night landed here with 15 tuberculosis-ridden Eskimos being brought for treatment at a nearby Indian hospital. An RCAF Dakota, the plane is based at Goose May, and was piloted by the base's commanding officer, Group Capt. L. Birchell, DFC. Co-pilot was Flt.-Lt. C. E. Snider.

US Carrier Crews Handle A-Bombs

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—(AP) —Admiral William Fechteler said Monday the United States Navy now has carrier crews trained to handle atomic bombs.

He said this includes both men in the ship crews and those who fly the carrier planes.

The chief of naval operations told a press conference that the planes would be used for "tactical" operations of the fleet (against naval targets ashore or afloat).

He said the Navy already has two types of planes which can operate off a carrier and carry atomic bombs. They are the AJ attack plane and the P2V Neptune patrol bomber.

To Challenge Order

TORONTO, Sept. 18 — (CP).— The Toronto Milk Distributors' Association plans to challenge an Ont. Milk Control Board order of August 7 granting producers an increase of 35 cents a hundredweight in the price paid for milk. The association will ask the Ontario Supreme Court September 24 to quash the order.

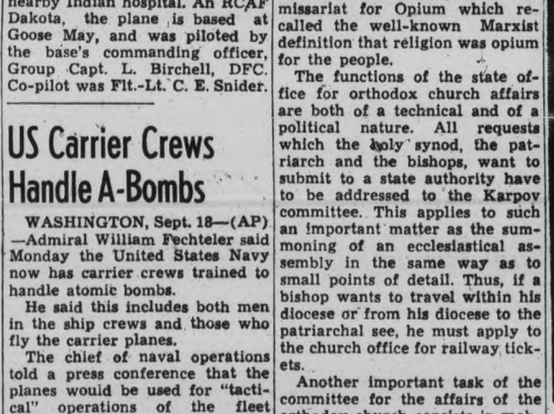
Acts As Mayor

FORT WILLIAM, Sept. 18 (CP) —Alderman Dorothy M. Pickup Monday became the first woman to act as mayor of Fort William. She is acting mayor in the absence of Mayor Badanais who is attending a hydro meeting in Sioux Lookout, 150 miles northwest.

Immigrants Arrive

HALIFAX, Sept. 18 (CP) — More than 240 immigrants arrived here Monday aboard the liner Vulcania from Italy. Six will settle in the Maritimes, 40 will go to Quebec, 164 to Ontario, nine to Manitoba, four to Saskatchewan, five to Alberta and 16 to British Columbia.

HOSTS—These are the representatives of Canada as host nation to the NATO conference of economic, foreign and defence ministers in Ottawa. Left to right are External Affairs Minister Pearson, Defence Minister Claxton and Finance Minister Abbott.



FRIEND IN DEED—Margaret Leptich, left, owes her life to her friend, Vivian Luterbach. Margaret was badly burned in an explosion at her home near Browning, Sask. Doctors grafted skin from Vivian on to Margaret's body. They said the graft probably saved Margarets' life.

117th Birthday Celebrated At Grace Church

MILLBROOK, Sept. 18 (ENS) —Grace Presbyterian Church held services celebrating the 117th anniversary of the founding of its congregation on Sunday. The chancel of the church had been decorated with gladioli, asters and other flowers.

The Rev. Harold Heustin conducted the service assisted by the Rev. Walter Patterson, a former pastor, who read the scripture lesson and led in prayer. Mrs. A. R. Bennett of Peterborough was guest soloist, and Centreville Presbyterian choir assisted Grace church choir with the music. Mrs. Grace Muspratt was at the organ.

In the evening Mr. Heustin took his text from the 13th chapter of Joshua: "There remaineth yet very much land to be possessed." In passing this milestone in the life of Grace church congregation it was well, he said to remember that no matter what was said of its weakness and failures, yet the church was living and victorious; it was the greatest organization in the world, the only one divinely founded for the redemption of the souls of men. He said God's message to Joshua was also for us to be "strong and very courageous," and that through faith we should possess the lands yet to be possessed. In closing he quoted the past moderator, the Rev. Dr. Malcolm Campbell, who said, "Let us rejoice that we are alive today to hold high the blue banner of the Presbyterian church in Canada, looking to Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith."

Mrs. A. R. Bennett gave two vocal solos, "I Walked Today "Where Jesus Walked," and "It Was For Me." The combined choirs sang "Face to Face with Christ My Saviour."

Mr. Heustin announced that at the anniversary services of the other church of the charge, Centreville Presbyterian, which are to be held in six weeks' time, that the Rev. Norman Kennedy of Regina, the present moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, would be the special speaker.

HASTINGS, Sept. 18 (ENS).—The Hastings sub-division of the Catholic Women's League met at the home of the president, Mrs. M. Herr.

It was decided to send a bale of clothing overseas for European relief.

The hostess served a dainty lunch.

Marriage Annulment

JUAREZ, Mex., Sept. 18 —(AP) —A suit was filed Monday in civil court to annul the marriage of George Handolph Hearst, son of the late publisher William Randolph Hearst, and his wife of six months, Sandra Ranbeau Spencer. It is based on the grounds that the marriage allegedly was contracted before Hearst's divorce fram Sally Hearst, his former wife became final.

Didn't Like Banks

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18 — (AP)— A total of $12,277 in $1 to $5 bills —some buried under oatmeal in a half-filled box— was found Monday on the body of Jesse W. Laverty, 60, dental technician who collapsed and died on a Philadelphia street. Relatives told authorites Laverty didn't believe in banks."

ABOARD THE BATTLESHIP IOWA, Sept. 18 — (AP) — The battleship Iowa — the biggest afloat — steamed successfully through trial runs Monday preparatory to joining the Pacific fleet.

Can't Win

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 18 — Elmir Mifflin had saved $81 toward the cost of getting a divorce. Then, he told police Monday, another woman, to which he'd given the money for safekeeping disappeared with the money.

Safety Mat Used In Ring

SYRACUSE, Sept. 18—(AP)—One of boxing's newest safety devices—a "safety" mat for the ring—was tried in a fight here Monday night and was acclaimed a success.

In the fight, Joey DeJohn, 161, of Syracuse, knocked out Lee Sala, 160¼, of Donora, Pa., in the second round.

Sala went down on his back, his head hitting the floor. Officials said Sala's head hit and stayed on the mat—no thud and no bounce such as took the life of George Flores recently.

They said the mat, made of a plastic combination, served as a shock absorber and probably saved Sala a serious injury.

Dr. Charles Muzzicato, acting chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission's medical advisory board, said Sala's hard fall could have caused a serious head injury. He was quick to add that there was no way to tell if the mat had prevented it. However, he said, the mat had stopped Sala's head from "bouncing," often the cause of injury.

H. B. Lauster, deputy commissioner of the Athletic Commission, said the mat appeared to give as firm a footing to the fighter as the conventional felt mat.

The consensus of officials was that the new mat would be required in future fights in the state.

Millbrook Students Initiated On Friday

MILLBROOK, Sept. 18 (ENS)—On Friday afternoon initiations were held by the students of the senior room of the public school of which Percy Hamilton is teacher for all new pupils just entering the room. A wiener roast and paper chase were held following the initiations.

Those in Grade 6 being initiated were: Dorothy Dawson, Lenore Ovellette, Donna Murney, Carol Ridge, Mary Mosher, Judy Hobbs, Helen Wright, Marlyne Chapman, Helen Ingham, Earle Pinnington, Donald Earle, Glenn Forsyth, Douglas Sheppard and John Stinson. Two new Grade 7 pupils, Jimmy Northey and Joan Gilbert, and two new comers in Grade 8. Ada Olan and Eldon Hunter were also initiated.

Swatow Evacuated

HONG KONG, Sept. 18 —(AP) — A report to the usually-reliable Wah Kiu Yat Po says the Chinese Communist authorites have ordered the evacuation of Swatow. The paper said the evacuation was ordered to facilitate the construction of a naval base by recently-arrived Sovet experts. Swatow, an active South China port once noted for its production of lace, is some 200 miles west of the Nationalist stronghold of Formosa.

Couldn't Lose Job

MONTREAL, Sept. 18 — (CP)— Each time R. E. Schofield tendered his resignation as Mayor of suburban Mount Royal the town council just refused to accept his letter. Monday night he tried a new method. Instead of resigning again, he wrote a letter saying he would no longer carry out his duties as mayor. Under the cities and towns act he automatically loses office.

Goes To Swiss School

LONDON, Sept. 18 — (Reuters) —Edward, Duke of Kent, 15-year-old nephew of the King, is to go to Switzerland this fall to help him over the sinus complaint, it was announced Monday. A statement from his mother's home said he has for some time been suffering from severe chronic allergic sinustitis and rhinitis. He will go to a Swiss school.

10 Years In Prison

REGENSBURG, Germany, Sept. 18 — (Reuters) — A United States court today sentenced a Ukrainian, Eugen Korol, 29, to 10 years imprisonment for spying for the Czechoslovak Secret Service. Korol was paid the equivalent of about $800 for information he supplied.

Population Up

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—(AP) —The United States trumpeter swan population has increased to 535, highest in the 17 years that an annual census of the rare bird has been taken. This increase over the 376 counted last year was announced Monday by the Fish and Wild Life Service. The known number was down to 73 in 1935.

Friends Raise Purse To Replace Grain Loss

BETHANY, Sept. 18 (ENS).—The neighborly spirit that exists in small communities was demonstrated on Friday night in the village hall at Pontypool when a large gathering of friends from Bethany, Pontypool and surrounding district presented Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Olan with a substantial purse of money to help compensate them for their recent loss.

Three weeks ago their barn and a newly threshed crop of grain, straw and hay were totally destroyed by fire of unknown origin. The evening was pleasantly spent in dancing to music furnished by the McGill Bros., R. Todd and James Richardson. Mr. Olan expressed his grateful thanks to everyone and especially to the committee who had collected the money and arranged the evening's entertainment.

40-Hours Devotions

MARMORA, Sept. 18 (ENS.)—The Forty Hours Devotions opened at the Sacred Heart Church, Marmora, on Sunday morning with high mass celebrated by the pastor, Rev. J. A. O'Neill at 9:30. Exposition of the most blessed sacrament was held throughout the day. The closing devotions were held at 7.30 when an inspiring sermon on penance was delivered by Rev. Dr. Pickett, DCL of Railton followed by benediction of the most blessed sacrament given by the Very Rev. L. B. Garvin of Belleville. Visiting priests in the sanctuary were Rev. F. D. Hyland, Madoc; Rev. C. E. Baker, Stoco; Rev. John Buckley, Tweed; Rev. L. Lamarche, Flinton; and Rev. G. A. O'Hearn, Stirling.

Hastings Lodges Back Report On Education

BANCROFT, Sept. 18 (ENS).—"The Orange Lodge is 100 per cent in support of the Hope Report," stated Fred Bateman of Stirling, Grand Master of the Ontario Lodge for Ontario East at an open meeting of the lodges of North Hastings and the general public in Bancroft's Canadian Legion Hall on Friday night.

"The commission headed by Mr. Justice Andrew Hope contained a panel of experts, carefully selected and representative of the people of Ontario. It worked diligently for five years, interviewed educationalists in all parts of the province, visited other countries to study their school systems, and its findings should be enacted as legislation by our provincial government," continued Mr. Bateman.

The speaker was optimistic regarding the probability of the implementation of the Hope Report and a return to the principles of The School Act of Ontario East of 1863, when no privileges were granted to any group, body or faction. He stated that the Orange Lodge was only one of the many organizations that concurred in this belief.

"Newfoundland, our newest and oldest province, is a shining example of loyalty to the Empire and the Union Jack," said John Corrigan of Cornwall, Past Grand Master of the Ontario Lodge for Ontario East, co-speaker at the rally.

He was unstinting of his praise of Premier Joseph Smallwood's attitude in stating that no flag but the Union Jack would fly in Newfoundland. "The people of this historic island province are as proud of our flag as our neighbors to the south are of the Stars and Stripes and proudly display it at all times—an example that should be followed by the people of Ontario," he stated.

Both speakers stressed the fact that the Orange Lodge was one of the most important bulwarks against socialism and communism and an important member of a triumvirate that included the churches and church societies.

Mrs. Corigan and Mrs. Bateman brought greetings to the women Mrs. Corrigan gave an interesting and informative talk on the history of the Union Jack, tracing its connections to the early biblical history of the Old Testament.

Joint chairmen for the meeting were Wor. Bros. T. W. Tryon and Howard Tanner. In charge of the general program arangements was a committee headed by Wor. Bros. S. R. Walker and F. A. Brethour.

A social hour, with lunch provided by the ladies of the LOBA, completed the evening.

Rats Wear Furs

JOHANNESBURG — (CP) — Ordinary rats which frequent the cooling chambers of a big cold storage plant here have developed sleek, furry coats.

Bread, Meat Shortage Strike Mecklenburg

BERLIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—Bread and meat shortages have hit the Russian zone "bread basket" state of Mecklenburg, it was officially acknowledged today.

Unofficial reports reaching West Berlin last week told about trouble in the northerly agricultural state and said some 50 so-called "big farmers" had been jailed for allegedly sabotaging delivery of state-fixed crop quotas.

These reports were substantiated today in a statement by Otto Stein, chairman of the Mecklenburg control committee, published in the official Soviet organ, Taeglische Rundschau.

Stein said bread was so short in Mecklenburg recently that emergency shipments had to be rushed from Brandenburg and Saxony to fill the rations until the new harvest.

Follows Bride To UK Stowaway Rejected

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Sept 18 (AP)—Raymond Greeno, United States army veteran who followed his war bride to England as a stowaway, was denied permission to land today for the second time in a week.

Immigration officials told Greeno he would have to stay aboard the liner Washington for her return trip to New York.

Greeno's wife, Madge, and their four-year-old daughter, Sandra, returned to England a year ago.

Greeno was found aboard the Washington when it docked here last week. Barred from landing, he went on with the ship to Germany. His second application to land today also was turned down.

Report Mindszenty Completely Exhausted

VIENNA, Austria, Sept. 18 — (AP)—The Vienna Roman Catholic press service said today Josef Cardinal Mindszenty is in a state of complete physical and spiritual exhaustion.

The press service said the Cardinal was transferred some months ago from Hungary to a hospital in the Tatra mountains of Czechoslovakia. Earlier reports also said he had been moved from his Hungarian jail to Czechoslovakia but this has not been confirmed.

A Hungarian Communist court sentenced the Roman Catholic prelate to a life term in February, 1949, after judging him guilty of treason.

Story Reversed

MEMPHIS, Eenn., Sept. 18 — (AP)— A "man beating his wife" complaint came to the police but they said the report wasn't quite correct. "When we arrived," they reported, "the wife had her husband down on the bedroom floor, sitting on top of him. The husband had been drinking but was not drunk. Both eyes had been blacked by his wife— we don't think he will cause any more trouble."

Waggoner Leads Football Scoring Parade

TORONTO, Sept. 18—(CP)—A newcomer to Canadian football stands at the top of the Big Four individual scoring list.

Hal Waggoner, fleet half from Tulane University, scored one touchdown for Hamilton Tiger-Cats Saturday to bring his total in four games to five touchdowns for 25 points.

Statistics compiled by The Canadian Press showed another Hamilton player, Tip Logan, in second place with 22 points on two touchdowns and 12 converts. Logan, born in the Ontario town of Fort Erie, is the top native Canadian point-getter.

Johnny Chorostecki, last year's scoring champion in the Ontario Rugby Football Union senior series, threatens a repeat performance. The expert placekicker of Sarnia Imperials, a native of the Sudbury district, has 19 points in three games on a touchdown, two field goals, two converts and six singles.

Howard French, of Toronto Balmy Beach, ranks second with 11 points in four games on a touchdown, five singles and a convert.

Three players are tied for third with 10 points apiece — George Watson, Ed Fisher and Bob Lee of Beaches, and Corky Duchene of Sarnia. Watson, who has played in only two games, has a touchdown and five converts. The other three have two touchdowns apiece.

Report On Leaders School

First fall meeting of George St. Auxiliary was held Monday evening in the board room. Mrs. W. H. Prise, president, opened with a hymn and prayer, followed by reports, business and worship service. Mrs. C. D. Munro was at the piano. Highlight of the meeting was a report from the School for Leaders presented in an interesting and informative manner by Miss M. Faulkner and Miss B. Hart, who attended the sessions. A brief introduction of the new study book "From Lakes to Northern Lights" and "Home Missions Digest" was given, with Mrs. W. Armstrong, Mrs. C. McBride and Mrs. G. Adams assisting. Mrs. Frise closed with the benediction and lunch was served by Miss Hart's group.

Pre-Nuptial Events

Prior to her marriage at St. Joseph's Church, Douro, Miss Pauline O'Brien was entertained at several showers. Members of the Sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary were entertained at a kitchen shower by Miss Zita Moher, at her home, where the girls presented Miss O'Brien with a full line of black and white enamelware. A statue of the Blessed Virgin was also presented and an address read by Miss Isabel Heffernan.

Mrs. D. Dwyer, Miss James Delaney, Mrs. F. Condon and Mrs. Thos. O'Brien were joint-hostesses at a miscellaneous shower held at the latter's home. About 75 friends and neighbors assembled to present the bride with many beautiful gifts. A bedspread and pillow cases were presented by co-workers of the J. C. Poolman Company. Mrs. Hubert Flagler entertained at a miscellaneous shower at her home.

M. M. Heffernan Bride Of Cletus Sullivan

Our Lady of the Assumption Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday morning when Margaret Mary Heffernan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Heffernan, Otonabee, became the bride of Cletus Michael Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sullivan of Peterborough.

The Rev. Gerard Sullivan, brother of the groom, officiated at the nuptial mass while present in the sanctuary was the Rev. C. McCarney.

The altar was decorated with bouquets of pink and white gladioli. Wedding music was played by Mrs. G. Carey and Mrs. F. Hoar was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white chantilly lace fashioned on princess lines with full skirt with net inserts. A bolero of lace was fashioned with petal collar accented with self-covered buttons from neckline to waist and long slim sleeves. Her floor length veil of embroidered silk net was caught to a headdress of calla lilies and she carried a cascade of red roses with stephanotis.

She was attended by her sister, Miss Clotilde Heffernan who was frocked in mauve lace and net fashioned similarly to the bride's dress. Her headdress was a wreath of mauve flowers and she carried a nosegay of mauve and yellow 'mums.

The groom was attended by his brother Mr. Joseph Sullivan, and ushers were Raymond Heffernan and Bernard Sullivan, brothers of the bride and groom.

Dinner was held at the Empress Hotel, and a reception at the home of the bride's parents, where her mother received in a gown of navy sher with navy accessories and her corsage was of pink roses. The groom's mother also received wearing wine crepe with black accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The bride and groom left later for a wedding trip to eastern points, the bride travelling in a gown of navy sheer with navy accessories and a white gardenia corsage.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Sullivan will live on the groom's farm in Douro.

Mary Maloney Is Bride Of T. O'Donnell, Mt. Forest

A wedding of wide interest, attended by many friends from a distance, took place Saturday morning in the Immaculate Conception Church of Mary Teresa Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Moloney, R. R. 9, Peterborough to Mr. Thomas Patrick O'Donnell, of Mount Forest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. O'Donnell of Kenilworth.

A profusion of pink and white gladioli and red roses decorated the altar. The Rev. James Greenan performed the ceremony and said the nuptial mass. Wedding music was played by Mrs. C. O'Donnell, organist, and Mrs. D. Campanaro was soloist. During the offertory she sang Roseweig's "Ave Maria", during communion Caesar Franc's "Panis Angelicus" and at the signing of the register "Mother at your feet is kneeling."

The bride's gown was of white slipper satin and imported Chantilly lace made with a full bouffant skirt that fell into a long cathedral train. The bodice of the gown had a sheer nylon yoke outlined in seed pearls and the long sleeves came to points at the wrists. Her fingertip veil was of silk illusion enhanced with wide Chantilly lace and adorned at the head with a tiara of tiny seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white prayer book with a cluster of red roses and gardenias which was the gift of her aunt, Sister Roselea. She was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Patricia Moloney attended her sister, wearing nile green taffeta in bouffant style with sweetheart neckline and short sleeves on the fitted bodice. Her large picture hat was of matching color taffeta and net with a large bow at the back and she had mittens of the dress material. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow 'mums.

Nieces of the bride, Bernadette and Teresa Moloney, were her flower girls. Their dresses were of brocaded pink taffeta made with full skirts and the square necklines were edged with ruffles and white lace, with tiers of matching lace on the skirts. They wore wreaths of tiny roses in their hair and carried nosegays of white 'mums and pink rosebuds with blue streamers.

The groom was attended by his brother Mr. Francis O'Donnell. Ushers were Loyola and Timothy Moloney, brothers of the bride.

Receiving the guests afterward in the reception room of St. Joseph's nurses' residence the bride's mother wore a gown of navy crepe with lace yoke and sleeves, a navy hat and corsage of red roses. The groom's mother was in navy figured crepe and wore navy accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

In the wedding trip to Kingston, Montreal, Quebec and points east the bride is wearing a navy suit and matching accessories and fur neckpiece. When going away she had a corsage of gardenias.

They will live in Mount Forest on return.

Mrs. O'Donnell was formerly teacher at the Indian River school.

Freeman-Collins Wedding

The marriage took place in Sacred Heart Church Saturday of Jean Marie Collins only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Collins, 169 Fradette Ave., to George Michael Freeman, BSc. of Sudbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Freeman of Peterborough. The Rev. Dr. F. M. Grant performed the ceremony.

The church was decorated in pink gladioli and red roses. Mr. Heribert Michel played the music and Miss Margaret Chretien sang, "On this Day" and "Ave Maria."

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and she wore a gown of imported French embossed satin, made with old fashioned bustle and cathedral length train. The long sleeves were made with lace inserts coming to a point over the hand. It had a small stand up collar and a row of tiny buttons down the front. Her veil was of tulle illusion and was in cathedral length, and caught in a tiara of pearls. She carried a cascade of Amazon lilies with ivy leaves.

Miss Joan Freeman, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Her gown was of gold taffeta, made with large collar and had a row of small buttons down the front. She carried a ring bouquet of mauve galdiol and roses, and her headdress was of yellow colored orange blossoms. Miss Barbara Hollingsworth, cousin of the bride, and Miss Alma Shaughnessy, as bridesmaids were in strapless dresses of dark green and rust taffeta, and wore matching lace jackets with long sleeves. They wore picture hats of the same lace, and carried ring bouquets of yellow gladioli and roses.

Miss Elizabeth Jones as flower girl was dressed in Nile green organdy trimmed with white lace. She carried a ring bouquet of peach gladioli and roses, similar to the bridesmaids'. Little David Willis was ring bearer. He carried the ring on a heart shaped pillow made of white satin and edged with wide white lace.

The groom was attended by the bride's brother Mr. Kenneth Collins. Ushers were the groom's brothers, Francis Freeman of Campbellford and Edward Freeman.

The reception was held in the Empress Hotel Kawartha Room. The bride's mother received in a gown of navy sheer and navy accessories and she wore a corsage of talisman roses and frenched carnations. The groom's mother who also received wore a navy crepe gown and matching accessories and her corsage was of pink roses and frenched carnations.

For travelling the bride chose a navy dress and mauve accessories and she wore a gardenia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman will live at 312 Elizabeth St. in Sudbury.

Bell-Storey Rites Take Place In All Saints'

Pastel-shaded gladioli and ferns were the background in All Saints Anglican Church Saturday afternoon at three o'clock for the wedding of Dorothy Mary Ada, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Storey of Lindsay, to Mr. Frederick Donald Johnson Bell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Bell of Peterborough.

The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. M. P. Poole, rector. Miss Margaret Flowers, organist, played wedding music and accompanied Mr. C. Welch who sang before the service, "I'll Walk Beside Thee" and during signing of the register, "Because."

A full-trained gown of white satin with inserted lace was the bride's choice. Her veil was of hand-embroidered net caught with a coronet of satin and she carried a cascade of red roses and gladioli. She was give in marriage by her father.

Maid of honor was Miss Donna McCalla, frocked in marquisette, and the bridesmaids were Miss Marjorie Turner, in mauve taffeta and Mis Doreen DeNoble in blue brocaded satin. Their headdresses were of matching plumes and flowers and they carried cascades of pastel gladioli.

Ring bearer was Master Robert Storey, nephew of the bride, and the groom's attendant was the bride's brother, Mr. William Storey. Ushers were Edward Storey, brother of the bride, and Ernest Hayes, brother-in-law of the groom.

The reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, 184 River Road. Mrs. Bell received in a dress of navy silk and navy velvet hat and wore a corsage of red roses. The bride's mother also received, wearing heather marquisette and lace with a black velvet hat and corsage of yellow roses.

Leaving later on their wedding trip to Toronto and the States the bride was wearing a navy marquisette dress and navy velvet hat and her corsage was of sweetheart roses.

The couple will live at 571½ Hunter St. E. on their return.

Robert D. Scott Weds Toronto Girl In Knox Chapel

In Knox College Chapel, Toronto, on Saturday, Mr. Robert Dent Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Scott of Peterborough, took as his bride Phyllis Valliant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Valliant of Toronto. The Rev. Norman Rawson of Hamilton officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown fashioned with a strapless bodice of shirred tulle and jacket of Chantilly lace. The skirt of layered tulle illusion was worn over a hooped skirt of satin and fell to a short train. A fitted cap of lace held her veil of tulle and she carried gardenias and feather tips.

Attndants, Mrs. Victor Armour of Hamilton, sister of the bride, and Misses Shirley Valliant, Mary Dohaney and Robin Valliant, wore ballerina-length gowns of net shading from pale mauve to deep purple with matching petal headdresses. They carried nosegays of blended petals and feather tips.

Mr. William Scott of Montreal was his brother's groomsman. The ushers were Donald MacTavish and Robert Hanbidge of Peterborough.

Receiving afterward at Annesley Hall the bride's mother wore navy suede lace, flame accessories and a corsage of rose petals. The groom's mother wore blue with a rose vevlet hat and her corsage was of deep pink lilies and white cornations.

As Mr. and Mrs. Scott left later to spend a honeymoon at Stony Lake the bride was wearing a green checked suit, brown velvet hat and brown accessories.

They will live on Water St., North, Peterborough.

Pauline O'Brien Marries Stephen Moloney

St. Joseph's Church, Douro, was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday morning when Mary Pauline O'Brien became the bride of Stephen Rodrick Moloney. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis P. O'Brien and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Moloney, all of Douro.

The Rev. J. J. McCarthy said the nuptial mass and performed the wedding ceremony. Mass was served by Joseph O'Brien, brother of the bride, and Kevin O'Brien, the bride's cousin. Gladioli decorated the altar. Miss Catherine Zenchenko sang "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mather." "Paris Angelicus" was sung by Mr. John P. Sheehan and "Wilt Thou Look Upon Me, Mother," was sung during the signing of the register. Traditional wedding music was played by organist Mrs. Kennedy who also rendered a solo.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with lace yoke, Queen Anne collar and long sleeves coming to points over the fingers. The skirt was of satin with lace peplums and gathered at the back. She wore a tiara of pearls and a finger-tip veil of embroidered net. Her bouquet was American Beauty roses with roses attached to white silk streamers.

Attendants were Miss Marie Moloney sister of the groom as maid of honor, and Miss Ella O'Brien, sister of the bride. Little Miss Frances O'Brien, sister of the bride was pretty in a gown of yellow taffeta fashioned on princess lines, and matching gloves. She carried a nosegay of baby 'mums. The bride's attendants wore matching gowns of mauve and pale green fashioned on princess lines with fitted bodice, full taffeta skirt, gathered at the back and lace yokes with Queen Anne collars. They fore mittens of the same material and carried nosegays of baby 'mums.

The groom's attendant was his brother, Mr. Leo Moloney, and ushers were Martin O'Brien, brother of the bride, and Carl Moloney, the groom's cousin.

The wedding dinner was served at Kawartha Rooms and the reception was held afterward at the bride's home in Douro.

For travelling the bride wore a suit of navy wool with pink accessories and a pink orchid as a corsage.

After a plane trip to Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Moloney will live on the groom's farm in Douro.

DOROTHY DIX

Place For Soldier's Bride With Husband, Not Mother

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am confronted with a problem shared by many girls my age. I have been married four months. I am 19. Harry, my husband, is 22. He is in the army and has been stationed about four hundred miles from here. Now he is being sent much farther away and wants me to come and live there. I want to go, but am faced with the problem of my mother. She is divorced and works to support herself and my 8-year-old brother. She approves of my going with my husband, but the rest of our large family feels that I am wrong and that my duty is to my mother and not to my husband. I love my mother dearly, and want to do what is right for her.

Dorothy Dix

TESSIE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There is no question but that your duty lies with your husband, and you belong where he is stationed just as long as you can be there. If your mother requires financial assistance, you might be able to help her to a small extent.

Keep In Touch

Write her often as you can, telephone when possible. She sounds like a reasonable and sensible person who just asks to be kept aware of your love and concern for her. Of course she will be lonely for you. That is to be expected, but children will marry. Parents must be prepared to have them leave the family especially now with so many young men in service who naturally want their wives with them.

You will find many problems—and many diversions—in your new life. These should all provide interesting subjects for your letters home. Lots of luck!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What can I do about my boy friend? I am very much in love with him, but most of my friends don't approve of him. My mother likes him; my father doesn't. Some people don't like him because of his mother; she does not have a good character, but why take that out on her son? Some people also say he is lazy, but he will work when he has a job.

P. C.

ANSWER: It is very hard for you, I know, to form a just estimate of your sweetheart when there are so many things against him, but if you want to be sure he's a good matrimonial risk, take each item by itself and analyze it to the best of your ability. If possible, discuss them with a more or less disinterested person, such as a clergyman or adult friend.

The fact that the boy's mother is not of good character does not necessarily reflect on the son, but is a point to be carefully considered. The environment in which he was brought up is bound to have made some mark on his personality.

The mere fact that he will work when he has a job is in itself enlightening. Does he make every effort to see that he always has a job? Or does he just lay off until someone comes around and offers him one? A man who is unwilling to work makes a very bad husband, unless his private income is ample for all contingencies. The fact, also, that your friend is disliked by so many people is also cause for due reflection. If a thorough analysis of his character convinces you that he has sufficient strength to rise above his disadvantages—take him!

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I have been married for one year. My husband and I are congenial in every way except that he keeps speaking of his ex-wife. I've hinted that I do not care to hear her name mentioned, but still he continues. I've tried to ignore it, but it stays in my heart and mind.

B. C.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: One thing every second wife can make up her mind to—she will eternally live in the house with the memory of wife No. 1. Since your husband ignores your wishes in this matter, all you can do is listen, smile and walk away. If he sees that you are not annoyed by references to his former mate, he'll stop them.

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Vegetable Plate Dinners Made Enticing

A young man and his wife, whom I know well, like the vegetable plates that a certain restaurant serves on the outskirts of our town, that they pay a baby-sitter one dollar, and drive to this place for dinner once per month.

Now I call that enticing. Can you imagine anybody going through all that for one of your vegetable plates? If the answer is "yes" don't read this.

If "no" use your own judgment.

Vegetable Plate Combination Number One

Shoestring Beets (new style)
Baked Stuffed Tomatoes
Broccoli with Hollandaise
Corn Fritters

Shoestring Beets

This may be new to some of you so we'll run through it quickly. Wash and pare raw beets. Shreddon your finest shredder. (You are not severing an artery by shredding raw beets you konw—we are going to conserve the juices when we cook them). To 4 well-packed cups shredded raw beets add 1 cup boiling water, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine and ½ teaspoon salt, shake of pepper. Cover with tight-fitting lid and boil hard for 8 minutes. The juice left in pan reduces and is just enough to pour over the beets in serving dish—and retains all those precious "valuables."

Stuff the Tomatoes with one-third part each cooked rice, grated cheese and chopped parts of the scooped-out tomato. Add salt, pepper and curry if you like it. Bake until tender but not soft enough to collapse when you lift them from the baking dish.

Vegetable Plate Combination Number Two

Shredded Green Beans in Drawn Butter
Buttered Carrot Strips
Duchess Potatoes in Jackets
Cauliflower with Mock Hollandaise

The Sauces

Drawn Butter: This amount is sufficient for 1 quart beans since you do not want to drown them: Melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, stir in 1½ tablespoons flour, ½ teaspoon salt and ⅛ teaspoon pepper. When blended stir in 1 cup boiling water until thick.

Mock Hollandaise: Make same as Drawn Butter sauce but use milk instead of water and more butter if desired. Add 2 beaten egg yolks, and 3 tablespoons lemon juice, and shake of cayenne. Stir over boiling water until just heated through.

For the Buttered Carrot Strips cut the carrots in 16 full length strips and try to cook them tender without breaking them. The interesting shape gives variety to this plate.

Duchess Potatoes in Jackets

Bake large potatoes in their jackets in oven of 500 deg. Fahr. until tender. Cut off slice from top, scoop out centres. To the scooped out centres add 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 teaspoon salt, shake of paprika, and the beaten yolks of 2 eggs. Fill potato jackets with this mixture, piling them on top to give scored appearance. Brush top with egg yolk diluted with a little water. Bake at 350 deg. Fahr. to heat through and brown.

Note on Cauliflower

Cauliflower is at its best when boiled only long enough to make it crisply tender. If it is boiled longer it begins to get gray and to develop that strong flavour that gives the vegetables in the cabbage family their dim reputation.

Britain To See A New Ballet Russe

By JACQUES POUTEAU

LONDON — (Reuters) — The Ballet Russe, which carried on the great Diaghilev tradition under the late Col. De Basil, is to be reborn shortly in Britain under the direction of George Kirsta

Kirsta was De Basil's aritistic director. Shortly before his death last July, De Basil wrote him in a letter:

"I feel confident because I have now found in you a worthy successor who will doubtless continue my work, should I vanish, and who will guide the ballet in the future."

Principal dancers of the Ballet Russe will be Vladimir Dokoudovsky, Nina Stroganova, Inge Sand, and Kiril Vaasilkovsky.

Traditional Splendor

The company, numbering 70, including the orchestra, will be seen in its original and traditional splendor. It opens Oct. 1 at Wimbledon, a London suburb, then goes on a week's tour of the major cities of England and Scotland.

The repertoire includes such famous ballets as "Aurora's Wedding," "Paganini," "Carnival," "Coq D'Or," and "Prince Igor." Later new ballets will be planned.

One link with the original Ballet Russe is Serge Grigoriev, who was regisseur-general for Diagilev and De Basil and is remeaining with the new company.

Grigoriev, who for half a century has lived and worked for the ballet, is said to have memorized all the choreographies of all the creators from 1911 onwards.

His wife, former ballerina Lubov Tchernicheva, who went with him from Diaghilev to De Basil as ballet mistress, will also work with Kirsta.

Havelock WMS Holds Meeting

HAVELOCK, Sept. 18 (ENS)—Mrs. E. Fennell was hostess for a meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of Havelock United Church Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. R. G. Newman was in charge of the worship period and study which was taken from two new books "From Lakes to Northern Lights" and "Home Mission Digest." She was assisted by Mesdames N. Blakely, A. Anderson, H. Hoard and F. Rogers.

A letter received by Mrs. W. M. Platt from the Rev. Elda Daniels of Hamilton, a missionary from Korea, acknowledging a remittance of $70 collected by the young people's choir for work among Christian Korean girls was read.

Miss M. Seeney as temperance secretary gave a short talk on that subject. Mrs. C. Spencer, the treasurer, announced that $174 had been sent to the presbyterial secretary. The president, Mrs. G. W. Chiles, presided for the business session. The October meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Forsyth.

What's Right?

You are making out a guest list for a bride's shower you are having for a friend.

WRONG: Don't consider whether or not the guests you are considering are particular friends of the bride.

RIGHT: Invite only really close friends of the bride to a shower.

Enjoy Tempting JELL-O IMPERIAL

A colorful, delicious dessert with party manners — yet it's economical and easy enough for any day!

1 package Raspberry Jell-O
2 cups hot water
1 banana, sliced

Dissolve Jell-O in hot water. Set aside ⅓ cup. Pour half of remainder into mould, chill; when firm, arrange banana around edge of mould, pour in other half of cold liquid Jell-O, chill. When the ⅓ cup Jell-O is slightly thickened, set in bowl of ice; whip fluffy, pile on firm Jell-O in mould. Chill. Unmould. Garnish. 6 servings. For large mould, double recipe — but use only 3½ cups water.

or JELL-O FIESTA

Chill Strawberry and Lemon Jell-O in separate bowls. When firm, break into small flakes with fork. Pile Strawberry Jell-O flakes in one side of dessert glasses, Lemon Jell-O in the other. Two of Jell-O's seven wonderful "locked-in" flavors in one gorgeous dessert, that can be enhanced if you like with any fresh fruit. 8 to 10 servings.

or PEACH TINGLE

Mike it in minutes! Dissolve Cherry Jell-O in 1 cup hot water. Add 1 cup cold ginger ale. When slightly thickened, fold in 2 or 3 canned peach halves, diced. Chill. Such a quick, easy, flavor-filled dessert — equally good with other fruits. 5 servings.

or CABBAGE-APPLE SALAD

Marinate ½ cup shredded cabbage in 4 tsps. vinegar, ½ tsp. salt. Fold into slightly thickened pure fruit flavor Lemon Jell-O, with 1 cup diced red apple and ¼ cup chopped walnuts. Chill in individual moulds. May be served with lettuce and mayonnaise. 6 servings.

or JELL-O FRUIT SQUARES

Arrange 6 drained canned pear halves in shallow pan; sprinkle with chopped nuts or candied ginger. Cover with slightly thickened, pure fruit flavor Lime Jell-O; chill. Cut in squares. 6 servings. Remember — only Jell-O gives the most entrancing colors . . . the most delicious flavors!

or ORANGE MOSS

Dissolve 1 package Orange Jell-O (the flavor is pure fruit!) in 1½ cups hot water. (Yes, Jell-O dissolves in water that's hot, not boiling — retains more flavor.) Add ½ cup orange juice, 2 tsps. grated orange rind. Chill. When slightly thickened, set in bowl of cracked ice; whip frothy, adding ½ cup undiluted evaporated milk. Chill. 8 servings.

Dinner Meeting Opens Season Of B & P Club

Peterborough Business and Professional Women's Club held a dinner meeting Monday at Lakeview House, Young's Point, to open their fall season. Some highlights from their holidays were recounted by the 36 members present.

Suggestions made by the executive regarding program ideas for the coming year were adopted. These are under the headings public speaking, current events, and book reviews.

Miss Rachel Young expressed the thanks of the Children's Aid Society for help in sending a little girl to camp this summer.

It was necessary to appoint a recording secretary, Miss Helen Moore, also a telephone convener, Miss B. Dawson.

Some plans were made for the annual tea to be held at the YWCA Wednesday, October 24, from three to seven o'clock.

Hamilton-Preston

BETHANY, Sept. 18 (ENS).—Ballyduff Presbyterian Church, decorated with gladioli, dahlias and foliage, was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday when the Rev. Major John Foote, assisted by the Rev. H. McComb, performed the wedding of Barbara Ellen Preston, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Preston of RR 2, Bethany, to Mr. William John Ross Hamilton, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hamilton of Pontypool.

Mrs. Herb. Neals of Bethany, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, Mr. Bernard Preston of Peterborough sang "Because" and he sang "The Lord's Prayer" before the bridal party entered the church.

Given in mariage by her father the bride was lovely in a gown of white satin with lace inset skirt, fitted bodice, with lace yoke quilted with tiny seed pearls and long sleeves coming to lily points over the hands. Her floor length veil was of tulle illusion caught to a headdress of orange blossoms and lily of the valley. She carried a cascade of pink roses and white poms.

Miss Vivian Hamilton was the maid of honor. Miss Betty Preston and Miss Helen Heaslip, the bridesmaids. Their dresses of pink, turquoise and yellow brocaded satin were made on identical lines with fitted bodice of satin, high storm collars, and full overskirts of matching net. They wore matching long gloves and braided net headdresses and carried nosegays of pink and white and yellow and white poms.

Mr. George Cowling of Bowmanville was the groomsman. Ushers were Maurice Nesbitt and Ross Taylor.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Preston received, wearing a dress of powder blue shadow crepe, with navy accessories and corsage of red roses. Mrs. Hamilton also assisted to receive, wearing royal blue with navy accessories and corsage of white carnations.

For travelling to Ottawa and North Bay, the bride wore a smart wine gabardine suit, with navy accessories and corsage of roses.

Mrs. W. Bongard Hostess To WA

NORWOOD, Sept. 18 (ENS).—The Young Women's Association of St. Andrew's Church met at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Bongard. Mrs. Burtt had charge of the meeting. Mrs. John Rogers read the scripture lesson; Mrs. Duncanson led in prayer; Mrs. Small gave a reading from the "Glad Tidings"; Miss Isobel McMillan took the topic, and Mrs. Rod Webb gave a very encouraging financial report. The ladies decided to have a booth at the fair.

Mrs. Bongard and her joint hostesses, Mrs. Duncanson, Mrs. Cuthbertson, Mrs. Rogers, served a dainty lunch.

Mrs. Rogers expressed the vote of thanks to all who had anything to do with the meeting.

Ronald Buck Is Given Gliddon Award

Peterborough branch of the Ontario Registered Music Teachers' Association held the opening meeting of the season Monday evening in the Pubic Library auditorium. President Mrs. Donald Flet was in the chair and conducted the business.

The secretary's report was read by Miss Eleanor Glover and the treasurer's report by Mrs. L. M. Neil. Committee reports were presented by the various conveners, and Mrs. John Le Roy Smith presented the suggestions of the program committee for each monthly meeting to be held during the coming year.

The annual Glidden Memorial Award was presented to Mr. Ronald Buck, who obtained first class honors in the Grade 10 piano examination of the Royal Conservatory of Music in June, by Mrs. Agnes Logan Green.

Mr. William Graff was the guest speaker and spoke on the formation of the new record library as a new service being offered by the Public Library. He introduced the latest books and periodicals in the library on the subject of recorded music and illustrated his address by playing various recordings. A vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Graff by Mrs. Donald Kennedy.

Refreshments were served by the social convener, Mrs. Margaret Braund, and members of her committee.

NorwoodManWed In Brantford Rites

A lovely double ring wedding ceremony took place in Brantford Salvation Army Citadel, Saturday of Barbara Ann, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hewitt of Brantford, to Karl Darwin Wrightly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Wrightly of Norwood.

Major William Gilson officiated.

Miss Evelyn Amos played the wedding music and Edward Amos sang "The Wedding Prayer" before the ceremony and during the signing of the register "O Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a white slipper satin gown with nylon yoke, with veil to match, and a bonnet style headdress trimmed in satin.

Maid of honor was Miss Betty Hodge and bridesmaids were Misses Doris Williams and Mildred Wilde. Miss Shirley Wright was junior bridesmaid; flower girl was the bride's cousin Linda Wilde. The attendants were frocked in blue, yellow, green and mauve and carried gladioli, roses and 'mums to match their dreses.

The flower girl was in pink taffeta and carried a bouquet to match.

The groom was attended by his brother Lawrence Wrightly. Ushers were Edward Amos and Harry Wilde.

A reception was held at the Maples where the bride's mother received in a navy ensemble and wore a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother received in a gown of gray with navy accessories and corsage of red roses.

Later the bride and groom left for Niagara Falls, the bride travelling in a grey suit with a navy shortie coat and navy accessories. They will live at 126 Wellington St., Brantford.

Hastings Rector Given Welcome

HASTINGS, Sept. 18 (ENS).—The congregation of St. George's Anglican Church held a reception on Friday evening for their new rector, the Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Patstone and their daughter Mavora.

Mr. Charles Plant, the people's warden, spoke for the congregation and extended greetings and the best wishes for successful ministry in Hastings.

Mr. E. G. Brown, LLR, spoke briefly and from his own experience of the past months assured Mr. and Mrs. Patstone that they would find much friendliness and warmth amongst the congregation.

Mr. Patstone, in replying, said he and his family were looking forward to their life in Hastings and expressed the hope that the years ahead would be fruitful and filled with blessings for all.

Hampers filled with preserves, pickles, jams, and jellies, attractively wrapped were presented to Mrs. Patstone.

In expressing her thanks she said they were most acceptable, as her pantry shelves were very empty. Being abroad all summer, had left her no time for preserving or pickling. Refreshments were served and a social hour followed.

King's Dislike Delays Naming Of Premier

ATHENS, Sept. 18 — (AP) — King Paul's dislike for Field Marshal Alexander Papagos is delaying selection of a new premier for Greece.

The Greek rally party of Papagos led in the popular vote in the general election Sept. 8.

But reliable sources said the King is so strong in his opposition to the Marshal that he does not even want to see him, much less nominate him as premier.

Usually, the King begins discussions with party leaders on a new cabinet as soon as the election returns are in. He offers the premiership customarily to the leader of the party which wins the largest number of parliament deputies.

Sabotage Explosion Takes 22 Lives

HONG KONG, Sept. 18 (Reuters)—An explosion officially attributed to sabotage killed 22 persons and injured 564—281 of them seriously—at Nanning in Communist China's Kwangsi province, July 23. This was disclosed in Chinese Communist newspapers reaching here today.

The blast from an explosives store, the newspapers said, destroyed 34 houses, damaged 464 houses and other buildings and left 2,119 persons homeless.

Norwood Council Honors Clerk And Wife

NORWOOD, Sept. 18 (ENS).—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dean were at home to their many friends on Sunday, the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean received many gifts, telephone calls and telegrams, including a call from the Hon. Harold Scott. During the afternoon the Village Council attended in a body and presented Mr. and Mrs. Dean with an embossed address and silver engraved tray. The following address was read by Reeve Rork Ferguson and the tray was presented by Councillor John Nixon:

"Dear Mr. and Mrs. R. Dean—During your association of more than 20 years as village clerk and a previous four years as councillor, you have proved to have two very rare and valuable qualities—that is goodfellowship and a good fellow. Goodfellowship consists of being kind, helpful and of assistance to all and in any way possible.

"A good fellow is one who practices goodfellowship. Goodfellowship, like virtue, is its own reward."

"Dear Friends,—On behalf of the citizens of the village of Norwood, we wish to present to you this gift as a token of our esteem and affection for you.

"Norwood 1951 Council; Reeve Rork Ferguson; Councillors Rod Webb, John Nixon, Dr. A. R. Atkinson, William Garden."

Besides many friends from Norwood and district, the following out-of-town friends called to extend their congratulations; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Spurway, Peterborough; Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Carleton, Peterborough; Mr. and Mrs. Burke Stephens, Campbellford; Mrs. Philip Taylor, Mrs. Alice Harrington and Mr. Albert Wilson, Toronto.

Divorce Too Easy Archbishop's Belief

YORK, England, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Archbishop of York, Dr. Cyril F. Garbett, today called on the Church of England to advocate ways to restore the ideals of marriage and of the home.

Making divorce easy is not the answer, he said.

Addressing the convocation of York, the archibshop said:

"The more easy divorce is made the more occasions for it the law permits, the more lightly will marriage be treated."

He said divorce has become a means of escaping from the obligation of vows when it is "found inconvenient or difficult to observe them."

Flying Boat Crashes Menzies Uninjured

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 18—(AP) — A flying boat carrying Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies crashed into a mooring buoy when taking off here today. No one was injured.

The crash, which smashed a hole in the nose of the plane, was one of a series of flying mishaps which delayed the prime minister for seven hours on a trip to Hobart, Tasmania.

Menzies had first boarded a flying boat which had to turn back twice and was finally taken out of commission owing to engine trouble.

After the crash of the second flying boat Menzies finally made his trip safely to Hobart in an RAAF plane.

Hint Court Action Against General

TAIPEH, Formosa, Sept. 18 — (APP)—The Chinese Nationalists may go to court in the United States against Lt.-Gen. P. T. Mow accused of failing to account for nearly $20,000,000 in Nationalist air force procurement funds.

Mow has nedied the charges and has repected orders of President Chiang Kai-Shek to return to Formosa.

Foreign Minister George Yeh said today the Nationalist government will start legal action in the U.S. against Mow unless he agrees to return here and to turnover public funds in his charge to a successor.

Schuman Starts Libel Proceedings

METZ, France, Sept. 18 (AP)—French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman today started libel proceedings against two distributors of Communist tracts which described him as "minister of American interests."

Legal authorities at Saarguemines, near here, received orders from the ministry of justice in Paris to take action against the two men, who were not named.

(Schuman is currently in Ottawa attending the North Atlantic Treaty Conference.)

Obituary

HENRY WILBUR BARNARD

Henry Wilbur Barnard oldest resident of South Monaghan died very suddenly at his home overlooking Rice Lake on Monday. Mr. Barnard had been in comparatively good health all summer and was quite active for his age. Death followed a heart seizure.

Born 86 years ago on Sept. 11 Mr. Barnard was the son of the late Henry W. Barnard and Mary Anne Parker. His wife, the former Eliza Jane Soden predeceased him in 1948. Since her death he has spent much of his time visiting his family but he always wanted to spend his summers on the beautiful family home near Bailieboro.

A native of South Monaghan Mr. Barnard farmed the homestead. He was a member of the Bailieboro United Church and for years was a member of the choir. He also was for the past 20 years an elder. He was a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Ross Moncrief and Mrs. W. E. Thompson, Peterborough; Mrs. Ross Sinclair, Kababeka Falls and Mrs. M. B. Ferrin, Port Hope and three sons Joseph Barnard, Peterborough, Keith of Toronto and Frederick at home.

The body is resting at the Nisbett Funeral Home until Thursday morning when it will be taken to the Bailieboro United Church for service at 2.00 p.m. The Rev. H. Ludlow Yarr, the Rev. E. W. Rowland and Rev. Morgan Rowland will assist at the service. Burial will be in Bailieboro cemetery.

Canoe Upsets Hunter Drowns

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 18—(CP)—David Moss, 30, was drowned Monday night when the canoe in which he was duck-hunting with two companions overturned in the St. Mary's river, above the Soo locks.

Moss, father of two children and employee of Algoma Steel here, clung to the overturned canoe for 10 minutes after it tipped in heavy winds.

His companions, Glover Collision, 30, a brother-in-law, and Clarence Moss, 23, a cousin, clung to the craft for more than four hours. They were rescued when they drifted close enough for their cries to be heard by the United States coastguard.

The two were taken to hospital in Sault, Mich., where their condition today was reported as "fair."

The search will get underway today for the body of David Moss.

Haven't Got It

"So we had public goodwill, public money, all that was very fine, but we have no Memorial Centre. That money was given for a memorial, and we haven't got it. Why?

"I am informed that the officers of the Memorial Centre committee are: President Joseph A. Jebson; vice-president Herbert I. Bradburn; secretary James J. Dorris; treasurer Charles S. Cummer."

Mr. Ketcheson said he had spent considerable time in laying the groundwork for this appeal to Judge McKibbon.

"I just want to say that I have every confidence in our own Judge Smoke, but he has been ill part of this summer and I did not wish to place any extra load on him."

Part of the information was received by Mr. Ketcheson from M. J. Coldwell, MP, and E. B. Jolliffe, MPP.

The letter from the complainant to Judge McKibbon includes also a paragraph of preamble to the effect that . . . "according to information received there is no record appearing in the records of the Department of National Revenue taxation division, therefore the Peterborough Memorial Centre Committee had no privilege to state there could be a reduction on income taxes by contributors to the Peterborough Memorial Centre."

Credit Bureaux Begin Three-Day Convention

Under Arthur Sinclair, Ottawa president, the Ontario district of the Associated Credit Bureaux, officially opened Monday a three-day convention at Davis Manor, on Stony Lake.

More than 20 members, mostly from Eastern, Central, Western and Southern Ontario, are taking part in the discussions on the organization of credit bureaux.

One of the main items of business is the preparing of resolutions for the national conference to be held in Vancouver in February.

Last Rites Thursday For Msgr. O'Brien

The funeral of the late Monsignor J. J. O'Brien will take place Thursday morning from the Church of the Sacred Heart, of which he was pastor for 38 years to St. Peter's cemetery.

The body is resting at the parish rectory, adjoining the church on Romaine St. until 6 p.m. on Wednesday when it will be removed to the church for the office of the dead beginning at 8 p.m. A guard of honor will keep vigil with parishioner during the night. Pontifical high mass Thursday morning will be celebrated by Bishop Gerald Berry, beginning at 10 a.m.

Three Canadians Killed In Korean Action

OTTAWA, Sept. 18 (CP).—The Army today issued its 51st casualty list of the Korean war, reporting three men killed in action and one officer and two men wounded.

All were members of the Royal Canadian Infantry Corps.

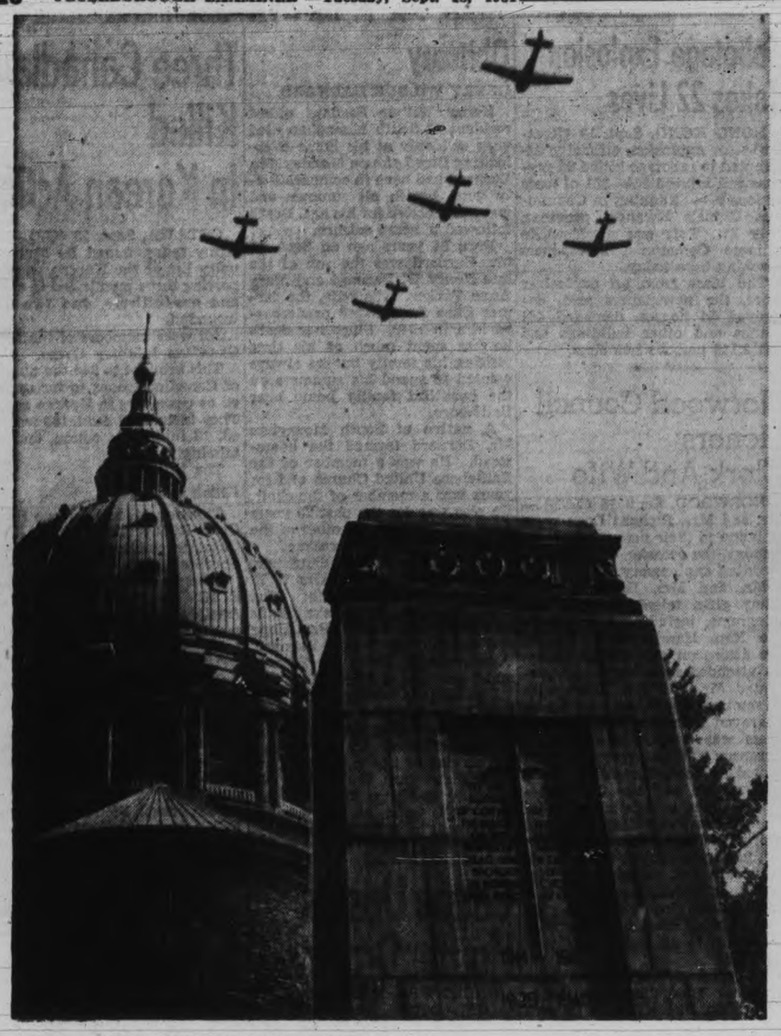
NATIVE NAME

Amisk, a village in Alberta 144 miles southeast of Edmonton, was named after the Cree word for Beaver.



ONE OF THE MOST GRAPHIC EVENTS IN HISTORY was commemorated Sunday, Sept. 16th when 1,500 members of the Royal Canadian Air Force, including the remnant of "the gallant few," paid tribute to those Canadians who paid the supreme sacrifice in the Battle of Britain, 11 years ago. Church parades to St. George's Church and St. James' Cathedral in Montreal culminated in a mass ceremony at the Cenotaph where Air Vice Marshal A. L. James, CBE, air officer commanding, Air Defence Command, St. Hubert, placed a wreath on the monument to the dead of two world wars. As the air officer commanding placed the token of remembrance on the Cenotaph, a formation of five Harvard aircraft flew over Dominion square. The ceremony was attended by some of the survivors of the memorable battle—G/C Hartland de M. Molson, OBE; G/C A. Deane Nesbitt, DFC; W/C Paul Pitcher, DFC; W/C Hal Russel, DSO, DFC., and S/L J. Youle. Present too was Canada's "ace" of the First World War, Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, VC, DSO, DFC, MC.

Urges Business Work Closer With Schools

By FORBES RHUDE,
Canadian Press Business Editor.

Business and industry, always concerned with their supply of raw materials, should pay more attention to the source of their most important raw material — "people."

This is emphasized, in effect, in the report of the Canadian Research Committee on Practical Education, a four-year study to which business, along with other sections of the community, contributed.

And the source of "people" to which, in this instance, the attention of business is directed, is the schools.

The report was presented Monday to the annual convention in Saskatoon of the Canadian Education Association.

There should be established, the report says, a closer relationship than has existed in the past, between the school on one hand, and business and industry on the other.

Practice Essential

"Instruction is important, but practice is essential. Pupils must be instructed in ideals and standards of behavior but must experience situations in which these are practiced. Information such as a knowledge of civics is desirable, but the development of social habits, skills, attitudes and human understanding is even more important. Discipline is necessary, but the development of self-discipline is vital."

The report stresses the need for more thorough grounding in essentials; but it also emphasizes that the pupil's eyes should be opened to the fields of wider general knowledge—science, literature, art—so that he may know what is there to be pursued.

The report recommends further:

Parents, teachers and all community groups should assist the pupil in choosing an appropriate career, and in later grades there should be a variety of elective courses, supplementing a sound general education.

Should Co-operate

Business and industry should co-operate with education authorities in helping teachers to get first-hand knowledge of job opportunities and requirements.

The pupil should be helped in getting suitable employment, and then there should be a "follow-up" system through the adjustment period.

In all, the report indicates that business should look at its future employees and executives, long before they turn up at the personnel office; that it should look at them while they are growing boys and girls; and while they are getting the training which will decide in large measure their future usefulness and success.

Steam Auto Captures Race For Antique Cars In US

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—A steam-driven auto and an equally ancient gas buggy wound up their Chicago-New York race Monday, the steamer the winner by about 37 minutes in their battle against age and time.

The two relics—a 1913 Stanley Steamer and a 1911 Stoddard-Dayton—chugged into modern Rockefeller Plaza.

They had settled the argument that has been bothering nardly anybody—except the two drivers—just before reaching the New York City line. The race ended in nearby Yonkers, NY.

The steamer was the better vehicle in the race that began a week ago. The steamer, driven by 76-year-old Jack Brause, one-time vice-president of the Stanley Steamer Company, wheezed to the finish line a minute ahead of Rube de Launty's buggy.

The elapsed time was given as 53 hours and 4 minutes for the winner, and 53 hours and 41 minutes for the loser.

Brause, proudly gripping the wheel of his rolling tea kettle, modestly announced "I feel 100 per cent. I was sure all along I would win."

De Launty, 70, grunted.

Settle Argument

The mighty argument of the past settled, Brause turned his attention to the future. Is steam here to stay? Brouse doubted it.

"All it means," he said, "was that my steamer was better than that ancient vehicle."

The battle of the turn of the century was sponsored by the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry, where both drivers work, and Popular Mechanics magazine. The reward to the winner was $500.

Brause said that in Sandusky, O., he nearly got a ticket for going 63 miles an hour. He didn't mention that he got one in Lorain, O., for doing 26 miles in a 25-mile zone.

James Melton, singer and collector of antique autos, was among those greeting the drivers. He offered to bet Brause $1,000 that he could outrun him to any place in the United States in his 1907 Locomobile.

But Brause begged off. Since the steamer is owned by the Chicago Museum, he could not make a decision on the offer.

Rugby Vs. Politics

WHANGEREI, NZ — (CP).—It has been said that rugby football is a religion in New Zealand. When N. J. King, a Labor candidate in the recent general election arrived for a meeting at Victoria Valley, near here, at the same time as a rugby match, his audience was precisely nil. He got the same result at another meeting the following Saturday.

UK Crowds Await King's Appearance

LONDON, Sept. 18 (Reuters)—Crowds waited outside Buckingham Palace Monday to catch a glimpse of the King after his return to London from Scotland for further lung treatment.

But the King, whose health has caused concern during the last few weeks, did not appear. He has no public engagements today and no health bulletin was issued by his doctors.

He came back from Scotland Saturday. The King, 56, has twice interrupted his vacation in the Highlands to come to London to see his doctors.

His complaint is believed to be the aftermath of catarrhal inflammation of the lung which attacked him last June.

Judge Suggests Insanity Verdict

WHITBY, Sept. 18 (CP) —Mr. Justice Wishart Spence, presiding at the Ontario County Assizes here Monday directed the jury at the murder trial of Rudolph Slobodian of Oshawa, to return a verdict of not guilty for reasons of insanity. At the preliminary hearing Monday morning, a grand jury returned a true bill, and the trial opened Monday afternoon.

Slobodian, 39, was charged July 7 with the screw-driver killing of his wife Anna, who was beaten to death in her husband's car, parked on a sideroad near here.

At the trial today the Crown produced no evidence. The jury heard evidence from Dr. C. S. Tennant of Langstaff, and Dr. R. N. Senn of Hamilton.

Evidence was given of Slobodian's delusions and paranolac tendencies. Mr. Justice Spence commented that under the circumstances he did not see how the jury could bring in any other verdict.

Says Trade Ban Used Politically

GENEVA, Sept. 18 (Reuters)—Canada's trade minister, C. D. Howe, Monday gave warning that direct state control of trade could lead to the use of trade restrictions as political and economic weapons.

Howe was speaking at the sixth session of the signatories of the general agreement on trades and tariffs, where Czechoslovakia has protested against the US proposal to end its tariff obligations with the Czech government.

GATT had always represented a working compromise between countries employing a degree of state control over trade and those employing private enterprise, Howe said.

But he added: "It may happen that arrangements which have been made become impossible to continue. Where governments undertake direct control of trade, there is always the danger that trade restrictions will be used as political and economic weapons."

Although Howe did not refer to the US-Czech dispute, observers saw his speech as expressing the view of the Canadian government on that subject.

Triole Sight

CARDIFF, Wales (CP)—Talk about seeing double. After suffering an eye injury at soccer, goalkeeper Iowerth Hughes of Cardiff literally saw triple. Every time a shot came his way, he said, he saw three balls instead of one. Hughes decided to save "the middle one" and his team won 2-0.

Two Accidents Bring Charges At Bancroft

BANCROFT, Sept. 18 (ENS)—At 2.30 a.m. on Saturday, a phone call from Maynooth advised Corporal A. F. Grayling, of the Bancroft Provincial Police Detachment, that the car of Franklin Douglas, of Maynooth, had disappeared from the front of the old Orange Hall during Saturday night's dance and that Douglas was anxious concerning the whereabouts of his vehicle.

While investigating early that morning, Corporal Grayling discovered the car in front of the house where George Lloyd Knapp, of Algonquin, a highway construction worker, was boarding, and the car bore unmistakable evidence of having been in an accident. Questioning brought out the fact that the car had gone off the road into a rock pile near the highway, about a mile north of Maynooth on the way to Lake St. Peter. Damages were tentatively estimated at $300.

Knapp was arrested and charged with joy riding and failure to report an accident.

The local provincial police detachment had its second investigation in one day when the car that side-swiped Stanley Dwire's vehicle failed to remain at the scene of the accident on Hastings Street just north of Bierworth's garage during the supper hour on Saturday.

While Constable Lloyd stayed with Dwire's vehicle, Corporal Grayling and Constable Hawkins quickly covered the streets of the village to find the other car that had been involved in the side-swipe.

It was soon located on one of the streets and Elmer Dobblestein, of Oshawa and Centreview, was charged with failing to remain at the scene of an accident.

Says House Shortage To Be Worse By 1955

TORONTO, Sept. 18 — (CP).—O. J. Firestone, economic adviser to the Department of Trade and Commerce and the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, predicted Monday that by 1955 the housing shortage in Canada may be "even greater than it was at the end of the Second World War."

Mr. Firestone, addressing the Toronto Chapter of the American Marketing Association, said the supply of housing "will not keep pace with the demand." He emphasized that he was speaking for himself and not on behalf of the government."

Rising Prices Bar Better Living Standard

QUEBEC, Sept. 18 (CP).—The Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor Monday claimed to have lost "all hope of improving their standard of living" because of rising prices and demanded immediate price controls.

Abour 400 delegates, meeting for the labor group's 30th annual convention, adopted a resolution that prices be fixed at the January 1951 level. Less than 25 delegates opposed the resolution, proposed by president Gerard Picard of the 58,000 member labor group.

Bette Davis Accepts Six-Day Role

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18. (AP) —Hollywood blinked this week at the news that Bette Davis was playing a six-day part in a picture.

Her career isn't slipping. She has taken a short but important part in "Phone Call From A Stranger" as a matter of principle.

I found her sharing a dressing room with the star of the picture, husband Gary Merrill.

"Everyone was hesitant about offering me the role," she explained. "Actually, I loved the part when I read Gary's script."

Star Parts Overrated

"I think it would be a good thing if stars did that now and then. Ever since I started freelancing, I realized how few good starring roles there are.

"It would be a good thing if we got rid of the 'star system' of Hollywood which requires that an actor's role must be big and fat. No wonder the English pictures are so much better acted than ours! It's because the finest performers there are not afraid to take smaller roles, as long as they are good ones. You see such good actors as Robert Morley playing a leading role in one picture and then doing a character part in another."

She added that she found her film-making venture in England stimulating, even if they nearly froze during outdoor scenes. (It was so cold, Merrill said, that the camera had to be nestled in hot water bottles during night shots.)

"Contrary to common opinion, shooting isn't much slower in England," Bette added. "The fable about stopping production to sip tea in the afternoon isn't true. They have tea, but they take it between shots, the same as we drink coffee on Hollywod sets."

Capsule Review

"Behave Yourself" is a good attempt at a screwball murder mystery such as William Powell and Myrna Loy popularized in the '30s. It provides many hearty laughs, largely due to the garish characters among the cops and robbers. The story starts slowly but gets going after the first few murders (there are plenty). Farley Granger and Shelley Winters are personable as the embroiled couple.

Loyalty Of Workers Said Political Football

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—(AP) President Truman said Monday a lot of people "are trying to make political capital" by attacking the loyalty of government workers. He called that "a contemptible way to try to get votes."

Truman spoke before the National Association of Postmasters.

"There are some people, I suppose, who would call this just a meeting of bureaucrats," he said. "Well, if you are bureaucrats, I am a bureaucrat too, and proud of it.

Truman did not name these critics by party or name. Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep., Wis.) has been at the forefront of attacks on the loyalty of some government employees.

Have 12 Drivers For Elizabeth

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 18—(CP) The three armed forces in London are being asked to supply 12 drivers to serve as chauffeurs for the Royal party during its tour through Western Ontario.

These men will be spotted along the Toronto-to-Windsor route with cars to provide transportation any time Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh require it.

The Royal visitors are scheduled to leave their train at Toronto, Niagara Falls, Hamilton and Windsor. The military drivers from this area probably will be used only at Windsor where members of the reserve army are planning a street-side guard.

The army is providing nine of the drivers from this area, the RCAF two and the RCN one. They are to be of senior, non-commissioned officer ranks.

The men are being selected and after screening will be sent on a special course at Toronto. There they will learn all the procedures and regulations regarding driving royalty.

250 Delegates Attend London Conference

LONDON, Sept. 18 (Reuters)—About 250 delegates representing 21 countries will attend a conference on world government beginning in London Sept. 24.

Clement Davies, Leader of the British Liberal Party, will deliver the presidential address at the conference which has been convened by the Parliamentary Group for World Government.

Countries to be represented include Canada, the United States, Britain, Australia, India, Pakistan, South Africa, Jamaica and several West European nations. No Communist countries will take part.

Production Up

MONTREAL, Sept. 18 (CP)—Canadian newsprint production in August amounted to 484,563 tons, compared with 466,443 in the corresponding month last year. The Newsprint Association of Canada reported Monday. Canadian shipments in August were 480,581 tons, an increase of 62,922 tons over the same month in 1950. United States took 85.1 per cent of the total shipments, an increase of 9.6 per cent over the like period last year.

Thirty-one of the 108 passengers elected to stay, the others were permitted to return home.

Outlawing Reds To Be Decided By Australians

SYDNEY, Sept. 18—(AP)—The Australian people will decide in a country-wide referendum next Saturday whether they want the Australian Communist party outlawed.

They will be asked if they are in favor of having the constitution altered so as to give the Robert G. Menzies government power to ban the Communists.

Australia has six state parliaments and a federal parliament which sits in Canberra.

The constitution vests certain powers with the state governments and others with the federal government, just as the Canadian constitution splits powers between the dominion and the provinces.

The last federal election, on April 28, 1951, re-elected the coalition government of Menzies' Liberal party and Sir Arthur Fadden's country party. First elected in 1949 on an anti-Communist platform, it promised to dissolve the Communist party and remove Communist agents from executive posts in key unions.

Only Alternative

The government introduced the Communist party dissolution bill, which passed both federal houses and became law in October, 1950, but the Australian high court found last March that the federal parliament lacked the constitutional power to implement the measure.

Powers to do so are vested with the states. But the states, some of which have Labor goverments, refused Menzies' request to "refer" their powers to the federal parliament.

In the event of a deadlock of this kind, the constitution provides the remedy of a referendum.

The goverment Liberal and Country parties are plugging the "yes" case.

The opposition Labor party, led by Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, is publicizing the "no" case.

The government argues:

"Communist activity in Australia has become a grave menace to industrial peace, to production, to national security, a friend of inflation and disorder and an enemy of defence.

"Unless Australia meets and defeats its conspiracy in the next year or two Australians may oe in a defensive war, inadequately prepared and with insufficient resources."

The opposition case says:

"The question is not whether you are against Communism, but whether you approve of the government's referendum proposals, which are unnecessary, unjust and totalitarian, and could threaten all minority groups."

The Labor party "refuses to turn Australia into a right-wing totalitarian country in order to deal with a left-wing totalitarian threat."

US Bridge Engineer Finds Span Well Built

THREE RIVERS, Que., Sept. 18 (CP).—An American bridge engineer Monday told a two-man commission inquiry into the Duplessis Bridge Collapse that he found "nothing wrong" in the construction of the span which crossed the St. Maurice river.

Dr. Ernest D. Howard, consulting engineer from Kansas, said he could find no evidence of imperfect steel in the construction of the $3,500,000 bridge which plunged into the river last Jan. 31 with the loss of four lives.

The engineer paid tribute to the "excellent assembly and workmanship" in the structure. The hearing is continuing.

Old Ghost Train Makes Final Trip

MALMESBURY, England (CP) —A train that carried an average of five passengers a trip has wheezed and puffed on its last lonely journey.

The picturesque "Ghost" train from this Wiltshire town has closed because it cannot pay its way. It had been operated by British Railways and its private-enterprise predecessor since 1877 over a 3½-mile branch line to Little Somerford.

Wiltshire people called it the ghost train because, says Malmesbury councillor H. V. Bonner "it ran nowhere and met nothing."

Before its demise the service had two season-ticket holders. One bought a motorcycle, and then there was one. So the authorities, despite protests by local residents, decided to withdraw the service.

"I'm sorry she's gone," said driver Benjamin Hill. "She was a matey little train."

Three Thugs Get $5,000 Loot In Beaverton Bank Holdup

IN THE BADLANDS OF DURHAM COUNTY, Ganaraska's 5,000-acre Forest, tree planting to anchor the light shifting soil, is showing results. It was visited on Tuesday by 50 members of the Ontario Reforestation Association and the Ganaraska Authority. At a planting demonstration, the Hon. William Griesinger, Provincial Minister of Planning and Development (Left), tells of the Authority's outstanding success to Melville Johnston, former Reeve of North Monaghan township. Mr. Johnston was on the committee of the Peterborough County Forest in Belmont-Methuen townships.—(Examiner Staff Photo)

Hail Of Bullets Cover Robbers' Retreat To Car Parked On Street

Masked Trio Ordered Staff, Customers To Lie Down On Floor; Machine-Gun Fire Nearly Hits Manager

BEAVERTON, Sept. 19. (Staff)—Covering their retreat with a hail of machine gun fire, three holdup men fled from the Bank of Commerce here today with loot estimated at between $4,000 and $5,000. Nobody was injured. The trio then fled north in a car which was later found abandoned on a sideroad near Brechin, 10 miles north of this village. They drove so carefully that a police cruiser travelling south passed them unsuspectingly.

First reports say the three masked men entered the bank about 11:30 a.m. One was carrying a machine gun and the others each had a revolver.

"Get down on the floor, everybody," was the order to the bank staff of six and two customers. Within two minutes the men had cleaned the two tills and were away.

Fires At Office

As they left P. S. Croft, manager, fired on them and the thug with a machine gun stood in the middle of Simcoe Street and fired a short burst into the bank. The burst caught the manager's office but there were no injuries.

Police said 17 bullets were fired.

"My husband and I heard the shooting and went out to investigate," Mrs. Isabel Gillespie, owner of a hardware store six doors away, told the Examiner. "I started to go down the street and then I saw this man standing in the middle of the street firing his machine gun.

"He was wearing khaki pants and he had a khaki handkerchief over his mouth. He fired and then kept backing up toward the car on the other side of the street. The two other men by this time were in the car. One of them—an older man— was holding his revolver out the window to stop anybody from coming near."

Not In Hurry

"They took their time about it," said Mrs. Gillespie, "and then drove off as brazen as you please. Anybody with a gun could have picked them off."

When the robbers entered the bank there was a staff of six—two tellers, Nick Krcel 21, and Ronald Sproule, also 21; an accountant, two ledgerkeepers, and the manager.

Two customers were also ordered to lie down. They were Jack Parks, Beaverton druggist, and William Crooks, a local farmer.

Just over a year ago there was a similar robbery at the bank. Three armed men came in, and, after ordering everybody to lie down, looted the till and vault of about $13,000 in cash and $30,000 in negotiable bonds.

Shortly after the robbery today five cruisers were dispatched from Peterborough OPP headquarters to set up road blocks. The car was found abandoned near Brechin and the district is now being thoroughly searched for the holdup men.

Provincial Police warned that the bandits might be heading toward the Lindsay-Haliburton area, where a hideout might have been prepared in one of the summer resorts.

Expect NATO Pick Troubleshooters Cut Defence Gaps

OTTAWA, Sept. 19. (CP) — External Affairs Minister Pearson said today he expects the North Atlantic Council will agree today to name a troubleshooting group of diplomats to direct the drive to close the gaps in the defences of the western powers. He told a press conference the 32 cabinet ministers attending the Council refer to the committee as "the wise men," indicating it may consist of representatives of the Big Three—the US, UK and France.

Its job, he said, would be to analyze defence needs and to negotiate with the member countries for the meeting of those needs through increases or changes in present commitments.

Mr. Pearson also said:

1. A "great deal" of progress was made Tuesday in hammering out a set of principles for the future development of NATO in the political and economic spheres. A draft resolution discussed by the council this morning would enunciate certain aims and recommend that a committee be named to put them into effect.

2. The question of the admission of Greece and Turkey should be settled today. He indicated he feels they will be admitted.

3. There should also be a solution today to the problems of financing the "infra-structure," that is the airfields and communications for the defence of Europe. Canada would share about three or four per cent of the bill.

Initial Cost

Defence Minister Claxton later told reporters the initial cost to Canada is expected to be somewhere around $10,000,000 but this will grow.

No further defence appropriations, however, would be sought from the fall session of parliament. The money would come out of some voted already.

When Canadian troops go to Europe late this fall, they would go into barracks in northern Germany. Eventually, however, Canada would build barracks for her own men. Other countries would do likewise.

Papers Demand Details About King

LONDON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Several London newspapers demanded today that the King's subjects be told more about his illness.

A wave of concern swept the nation on the heels of a medical bulletin from the King's doctors reporting cryptically that "structural changes" have occurred in one of his lungs.

The King had no public engagements today but was reported to be up and around at Buckingham Palace. A small crowd milled outside throughout the day.

Lord Beaverbrook's Evening Standard declared in an editorial that "more specific information should be released as soon as possible" about what is wrong with the King.

"Rumor feeds on ignorance," said the Standard. "The British peoples all over the world should be told the facts."

Want Information

The Evening Star said "it is to be hoped" that the doctors "will continue to keep us informed as fully as possible on his progress."

The Evening News suggested that the King's 15 years of "relentless and selfless devotion to duty" may have led to a condition "in which mental and spiritual causes have visible, bodily effects."

News stands did a big business as early commuters snatched papers carrying such headlines as "Serious News" and "King's Lung Is Affected." Little knots of early risers gathered at the gilt-spiked fence in front of Buckingham Palace. They hoped to get an early bulletin on the King's condition.

Doctors for the tired Monarch disclosed on Tuesday night that "structural changes have developed" in one of his lungs, indicating a serious ailment. A medical bulletin Tuesday night gave no explanation of the condition.

Taxi Plunges In River Three Of Nine Drown

CAMPBELLTON, NB, Sept. 19—(CP)—Two and possibly three men were drowned early today when a taxi-cab with nine lumber workers inside it plunged into the Restigouche River. The other six escaped from the vehicle.

Dead are: Norbert Rioux, 17, and Wilfred Drapeau, 19, both of St. Angelle, Que. Quebec provincial police are dragging the Restigouche at Cross Point, Que., across from here for Joseph Bedard, who is also thought to have perished.

The nine left New Richmond, on the Gaspe coast, Thursday night by taxi for their homes in St. Angelle.

At Cross Point, the driver, Omer Cormier, turned onto a ferry wharf, thinking it was a bridge. There was no ferry at the end of the wharf and the car wound up in the Restigouche.

Iran Expels 2 UK Officials

ABADAN, Iran, Sept. 19 (Reuters).—The Iranian Oil Board today ordered two senior British officials of the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company to leave the country by Sunday.

The board withdrew the residence permits of James F. Cunningham, superintendent of AIOC communications, and Dudley Fox, the company's shipping manager here.

The board replaced Cunningham last Thursday with an Iranian technician, alleging he withheld technical information from them.

The board gave no reason for Fox's expulsion, but it was believed to consider him responsible for the departure of five British ocean-going tugs which the Royal Navy escorted from Abadan to Basra Sunday.

POMONA, Calif., Sept. 19. (AP)—A 200-pound stevedore with muscles bulging the seams of his jacket won a blue ribbon at the county fair Tuesday — for tatting. George L. Nance got two first prizes, one for a tatted collar-and-cuff set and one for a pillowcase.

US Offering 3-Point Plan For Oil Talks

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—The United States made public today a three-point proposal for reviving deadlocked British-Iranian talks over control of Iran's strategic oil industry.

Presidential assistant W. Averell Harriman told the Iranian prime minister, Mohammed Mossadegh, in a letter that Iran must be "practical" if her dispute with Britain — generally viewed as dangerous to Middle Eastern peace—is to be settled.

Harriman wrote Mossadegh that "negotiations can soon be resumed" if the premier accepts the US proposals as a basis for discussion. This might indicate Harriman had talked them over, at least informally, with Britain.

The three points called for "competent" management of the oil industry under the company Iran set up after nationalization; compensation to Britain, and British control of overseas sale and distribution of Iranian oil products.

No Change

Refusing to transmit a 15-day Iranian ultimatum to Britain, President Truman's special envoy said the terms laid down by Mossadegh in the ultimatum were largely the same as those the British rejected last month when negotiations stalled.

Harriman said bluntly that both sides must show good will and give recognition to the "practical business and technical aspects" of the industry.

Mossadegh sent the ultimatum to Harriman, to take effect 15 days after Harriman delivered it. This roundabout method was widely interpreted as leaving the door open for Harriman to do just what he has—pocket the ultimatum and propose new talk terms.

Mossadegh's 1,200-word ultimatum contained four points. Britain could accept them or face expulsion of 300 British managers and technicians remaining at the

Call UK Election For Oct. 25

LONDON, Sept. 19. (AP)—Prime Minister Attlee tonight will call a British general election for Oct. 25, Labor party sources announced. The prime minister's residence is expected to issue within hours a statement saying the King has been asked to dissolve parliament to pave the way for the Oct. 25 election in which Winston Churchill's Conservatives will bid to end the six-year reign of Attlee's Labor government.

Election talk was a prime topic of British newspapers, with many reporting outright that the Oct. 25 date already had been set. With the worst winter since 1947 in prospect for Britain, the Attlee decision appeared to be a difficult one, particularly in view of recent public opinion polls showing the Conservatives gaining in popularity. But some Labor party leaders believe living costs and conditions generally will be easier this fall than next spring.

The British Press Association lobby correspondent said the date will be Oct. 25. He often writes with official guidance.

Two London newspapers said the Oct. 25 date had been chosen.

Reports the election was in the offing spurred buying on the London stock market. Most sections of the domestic list rallied strongly, obviously in the hope that the government's freeze of dividends would not become law. British government bonds went down fractions all along the line as investors pulled out their money to get aboard a mild stock boom.

Attlee's visit Thursday night to ailing King George was taken as a sign that he was about ready to call for an election. He must ask the King to dissolve Parliament and make an election possible.

Attlee presided at a Cabinet meeting today. Although half the Cabinet ministers are out of the country or away on business or vacation, it seemed likely that election plans were discussed.

Labor came to power in 1945, with a big majority over Winston Churchill's Conservatives.

Allied Troops Hurl Back Two Communist Smashes

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 19. (AP)—Allied troops today hurled back two Communist smashes against a hard-won key peak on "Heartbreak Ridge" in the rugged mountains of Eastern Korea. They won the commanding height after a bitter fight that ended Tuesday midnight.

The north-south ridge is 35 miles inland from Korea's east coast.

The Eighth Army reported earlier that three major hills were captured Tuesday by Allied forces on the flaming eastern front. On one, 206 Reds were killed and 37 captured.

Red resistance Tuesday on the rest of the eastern front was moderate.

Drive 15 Miles North

Allied forces have driven nearly 15 miles northward in a month of savage fighting against solidly dug-in Reds in the east.

Tank-led allied troops on the west-central front threw two surprise attacks at the Reds Tuesday but were repulsed each time.

The allied blows were aimed at a hill mass west of Chorwon, 18 miles north of the 38th parallel. It was the southwestern peg of the Reds' old "iron-triangle" staging area.

A cold drenching rain undermined allied attacks Tuesday. It also hampered air attacks on North Korean rail and road routes and cut down air force support of ground troops.

The North Korean radio at Pyongyang Wednesday said the Communists sank an allied destroyer in Wonsan harbor on the east coast and shot down 12 planes, including three B-29s.

The navy public information office in Tokyo said it had no reports of an allied destroyer being sunk. A Far East air forces spokesman said no B-29s have been lost to enemy action in Korea for several weeks.

Say Denmark Accepts Plan

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 19 (AP) Informed political sources said today Denmark has agreed to admission of Turkey and Greece to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

This would pave the way for admission of those two countries into the Atlantic alliance.

The United States is pushing for admission of Turkey and Greece, and the proposal is under discussion at the current NATO meeting in Ottawa.

Denmark and Norway had withheld approval.

The Norwegian foreign minister, Halvard Lange, indicated that if Denmark accepts Norway will go along.

PYSICIST MISSING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Milton E. Pugh, 30-year-old physicist who worked on secret defence department projects, has been missing since Monday and is the object of a search by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and police of most east coast cities today.

Send UN Team To Meeting At Red Request

TOKYO, Sept. 19 — (AP) — The United Nations' command tonight agreed to a Communist request to send a liaison team Thursday to the Kaesong neutral zone, site of the suspended Korean armistice talks.

The Reds made the request shortly after the UN command announced that four unarmed South Korean soldiers Tuesday mistakenly entered the neutral zone.

The request for a meeting raised speculation that the Communists may want to discuss resumption of the stalled talks, or may want to lodge another charge of Allied violation of the neutral zone.

The Communists broke off the talks Aug. 23, charging that an Allied plane tried to murder Communist armistice negotiators with strafing fire in the zone the night before.

To Meet Reds

The Reds asked for a meeting with Allied liaison officers at Panmunjom, Communist outpost near the edge of the neutral zone, at 6 a.m. Thursday (5 p.m. EDT Wednesday).

Brig.-Gen. Frank A. Allen, chief of information at general headquarters, said UN liaison officers, accompanied by three cor-

Civil Servants Stage Strike

ROME, Sept. 19 (AP).—More than a million Italian Government workers walked out in a 24-hour strike for higher pay today.

The strike tied up state-owned railways throughout Italy, stranding thousands of foreign tourists and virtually halting mail service.

Telegraph and telephone service also was partially affected.

It is expected that government business will be halted throughout the country during usual office hours today.

Communist, anti-Communist and independent unions of government workers joined in calling the one-day strike. It was estimated that 1,100,000 of the country's approximately 1,500,000 government employees would stay home today.

AFL Asks UN Investigate Alleged Russ Kidnappings

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19 — (AP)—Leaders of the American Federation of Labor today assembled evidence to put before the United Nations charging that Russia is engaging in kidnappings in Western Germany, Austria and other free areas of occupied countries.

A resolution calling upon the UN to launch a full investigation also was being readied for introduction at the AFL convention here.

It will be based on documents collected and verified by the AFL's European staff. Members include Irving Brown, who has been fighting to rebuild free trade unions there.

Brown told a reporter the material has been assembled to show that persons are being snatched from their homes in West Germany and elsewhere, and spirited behind the iron curtain.

Fuller details will be presented to the delegates before they act on the proposed resolution, Brown said.

The convention was in recess Tuesday.

It resumes today (1 p.m. EDT) with speeches by Oscar Ewing, federal security administrator, Governor Sidney McMath of Arkansas, and others.

Speakers to be heard before the week is over will include Price Administrator Michael V. Di Salle, Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman and Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston.

Chapman, Di Salle and Johnston were expected to add their pleas to those of AFL president William Green, Labor Secretary Maurice J. Tobin and others to work for repeal of three major amendments to the Defence Act. The administration says the three make it difficult to enforce price controls.

Tuesday the administrative committee of the AFL's political league chose James L. McDevitt, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor, as its new director.

The AFL plans to ask each of its 8,000,000 members to contribute $1 to finance its 1952 political activities.

Sailboat Overturns 2 Swim To Safety

AMHERSTBURG, Ont., Sept. 19 (CP)—Two Detroiters swam a mile-and-half Tuesday night to reach safety, after their 16-foot schooner-rigged sailboat overturned in Lake Erie.

The two, Peter Hamill, 25, and his sister-in-law Mrs. Jacqueline Foxgrover-Hamill, 22, started swimming for land after they held to the sides of their overturned boat for three hours.

They arrived back at Lakewood Beach, under their own power, at 9:30 pm. They had been visiting friends at Lakewood Beach, four miles south of Amherstburg.

The capsized boat was lost.

Irish King's Descendant Takes In Boarders To Keep Out Of Red, Hold Ancestral Home

NEWMARKET-ON-FERGUS, Ireland, Sept. 19 (Reuters) — Lord Inchiquin, descendant of the Irish kings, is taking in boarders to keep out of the red.

The 54-year-old peer can no longer maintain his vast County Clare ancestral home without help.

He has already sold his Stradivarius violin for $2,700 and a 2,000-acre estate in Shropshire, England.

"So now I take in paying guests. I do not run a hotel but the guests, who live here in a permanent house party, mean that I can keep up my family home," he said today.

Lord Inchiquin is the head of the O'Brien family, branches of which have migrated from Ireland to most parts of the world.

For £11 a week and up, Lord Inchiquin's guests have the run of Dromoland, his 50-room castle on his 1,700-acre estate.

Lord Inchiquin is a descendant of Brian Boru, the first king of Ireland.

Missing US Flier Turns Up In North

WINNIPEG, Sept. 19 (CP)—An American flier, object of an RCAF search in northern Manitoba and northwestern Ontario for the last three days, Tuesday night landed his light plane at a tourist camp near Vermilion Bay, Ont., 170 miles east of here.

The wife of Roy H. Neiswander of Springfield, Ill., said today in a long-distance telephone interview from Kenora, that her husband "apparently had engine trouble, but got it fixed."

She received a telephone message from the Patricia Transport Company that Neiswander had landed at Dale Clark's camp at Corner Lake.

It was the second time within four years that Neiswander was reported missing in Ontario's north country. The first time, he and several companions were lost four days in the bush, 50 miles north of Kenora.

US Envoy To Iran Retires After Frustrating Term

TEHRAN, Sept. 19 (AP) — Henry F. Grady, United States Ambassador to Iran, left Tehran today to retire from diplomatic life after serving a frustrating 14 months in this turbulent country on Russia's southern border.

Grady, who spent $1,000,000 a day helping save Greece from Communism, came to Iran hoping to set up an American economic assistance program.

Through no fault of his, he left with the $25,000,000 U.S. loan still tangled in red tape and the country on economic rocks because of oil nationalization.

Grady's successor is Loy Henderson, who will arrive soon from India.

Grady plans to return to private life in the U.S.

He is leaving Iran fatigued and somewhat bitter at the State Department and President Truman for sending him into retirement in the midst of the oil crisis in which he tried to bring British and Iranian representatives together.

The official Washington story is that Grady was sent here only for a year to get the economic program started, and that he is being relieved because his year is up.

But Grady has been critical of the state department's handling of Iran's problems of economics and oil.

He failed in his attempt to get U.S. pressure on Britain to give Iran a bigger share of oil profits before the nationalization law was passed.

Behind him, he left the Iranian cabinet in the throes of a shake-up as Premier Mohammed Mossadegh prepared to fight through his showdown with the British over oil properties and receipts.

Reports here were that the Shah, after talks with Mossadegh, gave him the word to go ahead.

Air Division To Serve Under USAF

Say 27th Brigade To Be Assigned To British Forces

OTTAWA, Sept. 19. (CP)—Canada apparently is to continue its traditional military association with Britain despite the Army's switch to American arms.

This was implied in a government announcement Tuesday night that the army has been authorized to prepare the 27th Brigade for movement in November to the British sector of Germany.

However, at the same time it was announced that Canada's air division will be grouped with United States forces when it gets to Europe.

Both the RCAF squadrons and the army brigade will be in Gen. Eisenhower's integrated Atlantic Pact force.

Defence Minister Claxton issued a statement after a meeting of Atlantic Pact defence ministers announcing the impending moves.

To Leave Shortly

The first of 11 Sabre jet fighter squadrons for the air division would leave for England "within a few weeks."

He said three RCAF squadrons will be going to England with the Sabres to form the first wing of the division. They would remain in the UK "until facilities are available on the continent."

"There it is expected they will begin by being grouped with the US forces. Because much of the equipment is of the same type as that of the USAF's, the RCAF squadrons will use to a considerable extent the USAF supply organization."

Mr. Claxton said Gen. Eisenhower has expressed "deep satisfaction" that the Canadian government will seek parliament's approval in October for movement of the 27th Brigade—with 6,500 men under Brig. Geoffrey Walsh—to Europe in November.

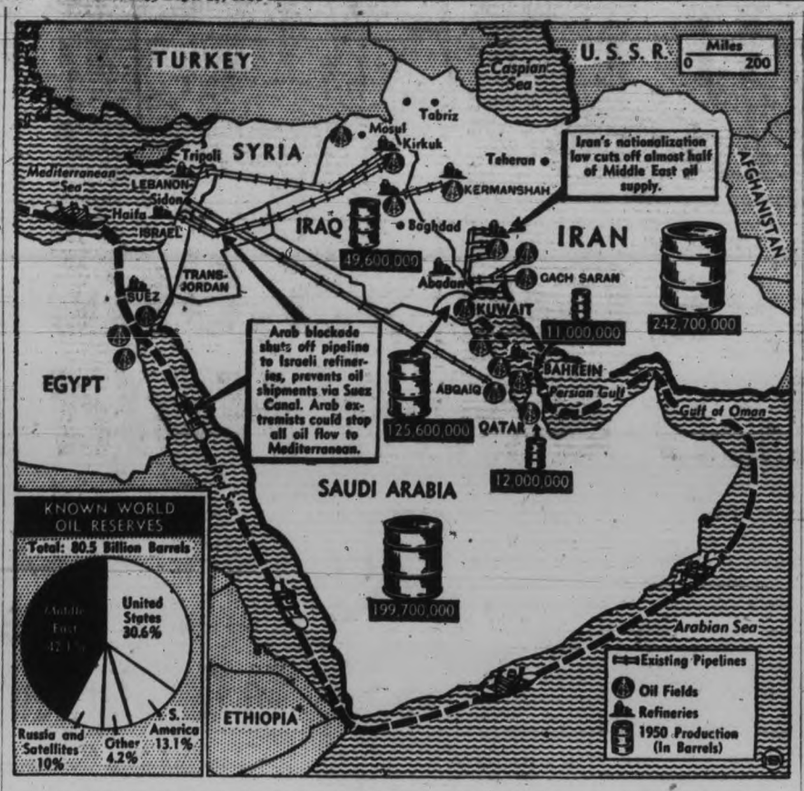
Co-operation Promised

"He was of the opinion that the brigade should be deployed in the northern army sector in association with the United Kingdom, Netherlands and Belgian forces and where suitable accommodation and training areas could be made available."

The UK war office had promised co-operation in carrying out this arrangement.

This indicated the brigade will continue Canada's traditional association with the British. It had been thought in some quarters that the army's switch to US arms would end the association.

The placing of the air division under US command represents a major change from the system of the Second World War when RCAF squadrons came under the over-all command of the RAF.



OIL AND TROUBLE IN THE MIDDLE EAST—With Iran's oil output cut off by nationalization, production in other areas of the rich Persian Gulf area is booming. But, even the stepped-up oil production of Saudia Arabia and smaller Gulf nations—which flows westward chiefly via huge, desert-spanning piplines—could be shut off by the action of a few Arab extremists. The Newsmap above shows normal flow of oil from the Middle East. Israel's big Haifa refineries have already been sealed off from much of their crude oil supplies by Arab blockade, and a recent resolution of the Arab League contains an implied threat to the other great piplines carrying oil to Tripoli and Sidon in Lebanon. Altogether, nearly half the free world's oil resources lie in these troubled Middle Eastern nations.

Must Sacrifice For Long Time

NIAGARA FALLS, Sept. 19—(CP). — Justice Minister Garson says Canada's defence effort may last a generation or more and that Canadians should continue to make sacrifices and accept inconveniences to achieve the long-term goal of maintaining peace.

He told the annual meeting of the Ontario Municipal Association Tuesday night that requests had been made for imposition of price controls to halt increases in the cost of living. He repeated that the government felt that over-all controls would not have the support of most Canadians at this time.

"I, for one, am most hesitant and most reluctant to commit the Canadian people for an indefinite period of years to a comprehensive system of economic controls in many ways indistinguishable from those of a totalitarian country, except as a last resort.

"It may ultimately be necessary, but surely we should do our best to try out every possible alternative before we employ such a system.

"As far as we can now tell, our defence effort may have to carry on for a long period of time, perhaps a generation or more. During this indeterminate period of defence effort, we will not be sustained and disciplined by the single-mindedness of purpose which war evokes, nor by the hope that with the conclusion of the war our emergency measures can be terminated.

"The present emergency, indeed, calls for an attitude and an understanding which in some respects is more difficult to sustain than the patriotic fervor which carried us successfully through the war."

Says A-Weapons Can Be Made Cheaply In-US

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP)—Can the United States make atomic bombs in abundance and for only $240,000 apiece instead of the present multi-million-dollar cost.

Senator Brien McMahon (Dem. Conn.) top man in the Congress on atomic affairs, says yes.

Atomic bottlenecks in materials, production, equipment and design have been broken and the country can turn the weapons out in mass production at a cost less than that of a tank, the Senator said in the Senate Tuesday.

If, he said, the US will provide this arsenal of atomic arms, there will be fewer foot soldiers needed; fewer old-style artillery pieces and more guided missiles with atomic warheads; planes and submarines and aircraft carriers given unlimited range by atomic engines; ships firing guided missiles with atomic explosives and torpedoes which uncannily hunt down enemy ships.

Studying Text

Within an hour after McMahon spoke, military leaders had copies of the text under close scrutiny.

Did it mean the army or the navy or the air force or all of them would be smaller? (McMahon put strong emphasis on cutting national defence cost.)

How much revamping of tactics and strategy would be required?

The air force now has bomber units trained and equipped for using atomic bombs. The army is putting a combat unit into actual atomic explosion tests in Nevada. The navy has carrier and air crews trained for atomic bomb use.

McMahon proposes a "revolution in military firepower."

But no one expects that the transition would be abrupt or that all present weapons would be scrapped.

Witnesses Ask Have Lawyers

WHITBY, Sept. 19 (CP) — A Ratepayers' Association Tuesday night went on record as asking the Whitby police commission to let witnesses at a police department inquiry be represented by lawyers.

The commission is inquiring into 15 charges of misconduct against Police Chief Ronald Love.

The probe bogged down last week when witnesses declined to testify without legal aid. If the commission doesn't grant the ratepayers' request, the association would probably petition the town, Harold Wickett, president of the association said.

Such a petition would be forwarded to the attorney-general's department for action.

Ex-councillor Harold Mace recommended that the town council seek to have the commission abolished and to handle police matters itself.

Discuss Plan Cut Air Rates

LONDON, Sept. 19 (Reuters) — A plan for bringing trans-Atlantic air travel within the scope of thousands of tourists in middle and lower-income groups was discussed today by representatives of 11 airlines.

If their recommendations are accepted by their various governments standard passenger rates for tourists may be cut by a third.

Present round-trip fares to London vary from $500 in the slow season to $675. The one way fare is about $375 regardless of season.

The service, already accepted in principle by the International Air Transport Association, will probably open for a six-month experimental period next year. Tourist airliners will carry more passengers, make more stops and provide meals at airports instead of in flight.

Those represented at the two-day convention were: Trans-Canada Airlines, British Overseas Airways, Pan-American and Transworld Airways of the United States, Air France, Swiss Air, Sabina of Belgium, KLM of Holland Scandinavian Airlines, LAI of Italy and ELAL of Israel.

Abadan refinery of the vast Anglo-Iranian Oil Company.

Satisfy Both Sides

Harriman said his three-point counter-proposal would satisfy Iranian aspiration to control her oil industry while giving justice to Britain.

They were:

1. The Abadan refinery would be run by a "competent organization" under control of the National Oil Co. of Iran, in accordance with "common business practice throughout the world."

2. Payment of compensation to Britain for nationalization of British property must depend upon arrangements for efficient operation of the oil industry, to assure that its products continued to be made available for sale in world markets.

3. Iran must rely on Britain for overseas distribution of Iranian oil products, which amounted to 30,000,000 tons of oil a year before the dispute started. Only Britain, he said, has transportation and distribution facilities available.

2 Missing Boys Found On Curb

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP). — Two young boys missing from their home for three days were found today sitting on a curb in mid-central Toronto. A police constable who picked them up described them as "well-fed, contented and dirty." They refused to say where they had been since leaving their home Sunday.

Harold Dorion, 7, and his six-year-old brother, Danny, fought so hard against being picked up the officer said, that Danny lost his shoes. They were taken to a police station for return to their west-end home.

The boys came here with their parents from Newfoundland three years ago.

Later in the day the boys said a man in a house on Bathurst Street had taken them in and fed them and had given them a bed in which to sleep. But they refused to point out the house to the officers or to say anything more.

Police said, however, that the boys were so dirty they must have slept in vacant sheds during their 72-hour absence.

Royal Plane Makes Dummy Tour Run

OTTAWA, Sept. 19 —(CP)— The specially-fitted C-5 aircraft that will carry Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip to some Canadian points during the Royal visit will leave here Thursday to make a "dummy run" to these points.

Starting tomorrow at 9 a.m. EDT, it will visit Windsor, Kapuskasing, and Winnipeg. The following day it will go to Saskatoon, Rivers, Man., and Fort William. On Saturday it goes to North Bay, Toronto, and Washington, returning to Rockcliffe following day.

The officer commanding the RCAF's No. 412 Squadron, Wing Cmdr. Bob Trickett, 36, of Humboldt, Sask., will accompany the run and discuss co-ordination problems with local committees. Pilot of the aircraft is Sqdn. Ldr. Stewart E. Cowan, 31, of Winnipeg.

Approve GM's Plea For Price Increases

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19 (AP). —The US government Tuesday approved a request of General Motors, giant of the automobile industry, for permission to raise the retail factory prices of its cars by an estimated $61 to $209. General Motors can put the price increases into effect today.

The Studebaker Corporation of South Bend, Ind., became the fourth automobile manufacturer to seek higher prices for its automobiles. Studebaker asks for price increases ranging from $15.78 to $117.36 at the factory retail level.

Ford and Chrysler previous had asked and received approval.

Not Definite

A London lung specialist—not one of the nine examining the King—said "structural changes" can mean any of several lung diseases. He said the wording of the bulletin "suggests the doctors are not sure what is the whole trouble."

The Queen, Princess Elizabeth and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, returned by plane on Tuesday night from a vacation in Scotland. The Princess and the Duke had scheduled their return some time ago but the Queen had intended staying on at Balmoral Castle for several weeks.

The King himself went about his people's business Tuesday night. He had a 75-minute session with Prime Minister Clement Attlee in Buckingham Palace. Some believe the talk set the stage for a general election in October or November.

Won't Change Plan

A palace spokesman said the Princess and Duke still plan to leave Sept. 25 for their visit to Canada and the United States.

They retained the power at national elections in February, 1950, with a smaller margin. The Labor edge over their opponents in the House of Commons is so small that the government often has faced critical tests of confidence in a constant attack by the Conservatives. At present Labor's effective majority is six.

Attlee could have decided to try to hang on for the full five-year period allotted British governments, or until February, 1955, but he was forced to call an election at a time he might not want if the Conservatives succeeded in overthrowing him by a non-confidence vote.

The Labor government is having internal worries, too, with a split on rearmament policies and even on domestic issues.

Labor Party headquarters already is preparing elections campaign plans. Party officials have said they could be ready by October.

Announcement of the dissolution of parliament in the first week of October would provide for the customary three weeks' campaign period before polling as early as Oct. 25.

Press Big Search For 2 Lost On Boat

OWEN SOUND, Ont., Sept. 19 (CP)—Owen Sound today became the communications centre as Ontario Provincial Police and RCAF officials meshed their air, land and water search efforts to find traces of two Collingwood men missing aboard a 15-foot sloop since Sunday.

Thomas Fudge, 74, and John Komph, 29, have not been seen since about noon Sunday off Vail Point, a small head of land jutting out into Georgian Bay, 14 miles northeast of here.

A cushion from the 19-foot boat, Spray, has been washed ashore in the Vail Point area. It has been definitely identified as belonging to the sloop.

respondents, will meet with the Reds.

The South Koreans who wandered into the neutral zone by mistake Tuesday were held by the Communists 20 hours, then freed, a UN command release said.

The Reds had charged that the incident was a violation of the Kaesong neutral zone.

The UN command took a lighter view.

It said the four, members of an anti-epidemic unit, were "armed with nothing more dangerous than DDT."

Investigation on the Communist complaint, the command said, "took place without incident and in an atmosphere almost completely devoid of tension."

Change In Attitude

The release from the headquarters of Gen. Mathew B. Ridgway, supreme allied commander, said UN liaison officers who made the investigation Wednesday noted a marked change in the Communists' attitude as they drove through Red territory into Kaesong.

"Nearly all the Communist soldiers along the road stood rigidly at attention as the UN command party passed," the announcement said.

"Many of the civilians in Kaesong smiled as the UN personnel passed by, in contrast with inscrutable counteriances they have shown on other occasions."

The release said the UN investigators questioned the South Korean soldiers, headed by Sgt. Na Kwang sin, following which they and their truck were released.

The release said Na told interrogators his group lost its way en route to spray South Korean billets and inadvertently entered the neutral zone.

Support Rallies On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP) — Mild mid-session support today rallied stock market prices in early afternoon dealings.

The rapid pace of the past two weeks slowed further as trading became selective. Volume for the first three hours was 2,429,000 shares.

Base metals climbed slowly to another record high after early weakness. Consolidated Smelters led the advance as it climbed $1. Hudson Bay, International Nickel, Noranda and United Keno Hill added fractions. Callinan Flin Flon traded heavily but showed little change.

Western oils pushed slowly higher. Central-Leduc, Devon-Leduc, Gridoil, Model Oil, Okalta and Royalite posted gains up to 25 cents. Home Oil and Security Free eased.

Senior golds were mixed. Of nine stocks traded five showed gains up to ⅜ while three posted losses to $1.25.

Car Impounded For 3 Months

COBOURG, Sept. 19 (ENS) — Claire True of Peterborough pleaded guilty to drunk driving in police court here and was sentenced to seven days in jail. His license was suspended and car impounded for three months. Provincial Constable H. Woolridge testified that the accused was driving all over the highway near Bailieboro on Sept. 16 and nearly put two cars into the ditch. The constable stopped the car and arrested the driver. Two bottles of wine were in the back seat. The accused also pleaded guilty to having liquor in a place other than his residence and was fined $10 and costs.

Daniel Gaffney of Belleville paid $50 and costs on a charge of driving a car while his ability to do so was impaired by the affects of alcohol. His car was involved in an accident with other automobiles near Trenton on Sept. 16.

Lorraine Suttleworth, 24, Trenton, was fined $10 and costs on a drunk charge. Provincial police said they found her lying in a ditch in Hope township on Sept. 16. She told them that two men had picked her up in a car, slugged her and stole $10 from her purse and then threw her out. The magistrate sentenced her to one day in jail in lieu of the fine and told her to go back to Trenton.

A LIVELY ROCK—Frank J. Kinkopf (right) and Michael Cunningham (left), both of Cleveland, Ohio, at first believed they were hooked on a rock Tuesday morning but within seconds learned that it was a 22-pound muskie. They were trolling in Stony lake with a pikie minnow when the monster struck. The fish dove under the boat and Mr. Kinkopf grabbed the line. Without a gaff or net, the fishermen had to use an oar to subdue the fish. Holding it down in the boat with his feet, Cunningham started back to Burnham's lodge, where they were staying. In their excitement they rode past it. Kinkopf caught his first muskie Monday night, just over the 30-inch mark.—(Examiner Staff Photo).

Gordon Walroth Heads Kinsmen

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 19 — (ENS)— Installation of officers was held at the Monday evening meeting of the Kinsmen Club.

Norman Garbutt headed a delegation from the parent Belleville Club, consisting of Frank Laing, Hugh Sullivan and George Mumby. They congratulated the local club on its progress and assisted in the installation of the officers. The new president, Gordon Walroth accepted the gavel from the former chief, Ron Hazell, to officially assume the leadership of the local group.

Other officers installed were: past president, Ron Hazell, vice-pres., John Herd; secretary, Jack Gummo; bulletin editor, Francis Long; directors, Forrest Dennis, Charles Wickens, Borden Robertson and Bruce Grills.

Other guests present were Paul Coughlan, local optometrist and Bud Hoye of Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Hoyt provided the entertainment for the evening, showing color movies of Crow Lake and other scenes in the Marmora district.

Sentenced To Death

KARACHI, Pakistan, Sept. 19 (Reuters)—Ali Patni, a parsimonious bandit who killed both his wives with a single shot, was sentenced to death Tuesday. Patni found the wives a hindrance in running from the law. He made them embrace each other, then disposed of them with one shot.

HUNDREDS VISIT CHERNEY'S OPEN HOUSE

One week ago tonight Cherney's celebrated their 16th anniversary with a well-attended Open House. Over 2,000 people from Peterborough and District visited the store during last Wednesday Evening's Celebration.

TOP PICTURE ABOVE depicts a portion of this crowd waiting to be admitted to the store. LOWER PICTURE shows some of the visitors who thronged the store, enjoying refreshments. Each year Cherney's set aside one evening known as "Open House" at which time old friends and new may come into the store and browse around. The management feel that in this way the Citizens of Peterborough and District may see the very latest in furniture, appliances, radios and house furnishings without obligation to buy.

On display throughout the store were decorated model rooms and furniture settings designed to show just what may be accomplished with the new types of furniture and draperies now available. The kitchen appliances also aroused a great deal of favourable comment as did the wonderful new radio and television sets featuring models to fit every type of room. The management and staff of Cherney's spared no effort to make this year's Open House a gala evening for everyone—and it is their fond hope to continue these evenings as an annual event.

29 Polio Cases Listed In United Counties

COBOURG, Sept. 19 (ENS) — The report of the Northumberland and Durham Counites Health Unit lists nine new cases of polio in the unit area for the week ending September 15 and of these three are in Cobourg. However, since the date the health unit report was issued, there have been two new cases in Cobourg alone. One of them is a housewife, in her forties, and the other is a 32-year-old public school teacher. There is no paralysis in the housewife and slight paralysis in the school teacher's arm.

The health unit lists 27 cases in the counties since August 4, not counting the two new Cobourg cases. Up to the time of issue of the report for the week ending Sept. 15, the 27 cases have been distributed as follows:

Alnwick township, 2; Bowmanville, 1; Brighton village, 1; Cavan township, 2; Clarke township, 1; Cobourg, 8; Darlington township, 5; Haldimand township, 3; Percy township, 2; Port Hope, 1 and Seymour township, 1. The disease has been more frequent among adults and in the up to four years old group, the number is 5; five to 19 years, ten cases and 20 years and over, 12 cases. However the health unit medical health officer does not consider that there has been a particular concentration in any one group.

"With improved facilities for investigation and diagnosis, more cases of polio are being discovered at an earlier stage in the disease, than a few years ago. The earlier diagnosis and treatment by bed rest of cases and suspects has improved the chances of recovery of those who become ill. The most serious cases of polio are admitted to hospital and yet a survey has shown that of all patients admitted to hospital with polio in Ontario during a recent five year period, only 12 per cent had residual paralysis of any degree at the time they left the hospital," said Dr. MacCharles.

The general measures to be taken to avoid polio if possible and of prompt investigation and treatment have been repeated from time to time by the health unit. People enquire if the schools should be closed but Dr. MacCharles points out that this has never been found to be an effective method of controlling polio. He warned that the public should not be disturbed by exaggerated or distorted information or alarming rumours.

Isolated Profanity Not Court Case—Judge

TORONTO, Sept. 19 —(CP)— An isolated act of profanity within earshot of a minor can't be considered a contribution to juvenile delinquency, Mr. Justice F. H. Barlow of the Ontario Supreme Court ruled Tuesday.

His judgment quashed a conviction against Marshall Jeffrey, 21, of Hamilton who was found guilty in Hamilton family court in June and placed on probation for six months.

In a dispute with a neighbor over use of a footpath Jeffrey swore and the neighbor brought him into court, claiming that his 15-year-old daughter was present at the time and that such language was bad for her morals. The court agreed.

His Lordship today ruled that, even if she had heard the outburst, which in this case was uncertain, it wouldn't likely make her a juvenile delinquent.

Marmora News

Mr. and Mrs. Roderick Brawley, Brooklyn, NY, and Mr. and Mrs. A. McKenna, Philadelphia, Pa., are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Brawley.

He told the club the West's "only hope" for preservation of world peace is the support of NATO "by all the means at our disposal." He is shown here with Mrs. Bernard Alexander, (left), and Mrs. Georges Bidault.

Hospital Auxiliary Enters Fair Contest

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 19 — (ENS) — The regular September meeting of the Campbellford Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. K. S. Cairns with president Mrs. R. E. Fox presiding.

The treasurer's report showed a bank balance of $41.74.

A report of the proceeds of the school field day held in June showed a profit of $35.30, and proceeds of a draw on a fur neckpiece netted $78.33.

A move to have the auxiliary enter the Campbellford fair contest "Let's Have a Bazaar" was accepted, and work will begin on this immediately.

A committee was appointed to purchase blinds and curtains for the hospital where necessary, and these requirements will be procured soon.

Mrs. A. MacColl invited the ladies to her home for the October meeting.

Salesmen Hold Plant Meeting

Fifty to sixty men who sell motors and controls produced by Canadian General Electric Company arrived in Peterborough at 11 a.m. today for the wind-up sessions of a three-day conference.

Here from Ontario and Quebec are these men who sell heavier products as distinguished from sales staffs who keep moving on to the market the wide range of domestic machines and utensils that have revolutionized the kitchen. Their visit today was to learn more about controls and motors and so on. Their first sessions began in Toronto Monday morning.

Their tour of the Peterborough works this morning was interrupted by lunch in the cafeteria, then back to the plant until 4.30 when they got ready for dinner at the Kawartha Club. A question period is to wind up the conference.

Keep NATO Manageable

The preservation of the integrity of Western Europe and the United Kingdom, as the eastern frontier of the Atlantic community, was what originally inspired the formation of NATO. We called attention to this in our editorial of Saturday, September 8th, and said then that Canada would not be disposed to promote the adherence of farther-flung nations like Turkey and Greece to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. Canada is primarily interested in NATO as an economic and military defensive organization of manageable scope. The North Atlantic community does not extend to the eastern Mediterranean.

* * *

To expand NATO to include Greece and Turkey is beyond the limits of accession provided in the Treaty. Article 10 of the Treaty states:

The Parties may, by unanimous agreement, invite any other European State in a position to further the principles of this Treaty and to contribute to the security of the North Atlantic area to accede to this Treaty. Any State so invited may become a party to the Treaty by depositing its instrument of accession with the Government of the United States of America.

* * *

Any other European nations may be invited to join NATO if it is "in a position to further the principles of this Treaty and to contribute to the security of the North Atlantic area." Are countries on the south-eastern periphery of Europe in such a position geographically, economically or militarily? One of the "principles" of the Treaty is stated in Article 5:

* * *

The Parties agree that an armed attack against one or more of them in Europe or North America shall be considered an attack against them all; and consequently they agree that, if such an armed attack occurs, each of them, in exercise of the right of individual or collective self-defence recognized by Article 51 of the Charter of the United Nations, will assist the Party or Parties so attacked by taking forthwith, individually and in concert with the other Parties, such action as it deems necessary, including the use of armed force, to restore and maintain the security of the North Atlantic area.

* * *

In excluding Greece and Turkey from NATO, Canada would not thereby be unmindful of the importance of maintaining those two countries in the orbit of the West and out of Russian clutches. Canada supports Greece and Turkey now, and is in accord with American financial and military aid to them. But the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is not a substitute for U.N. or the Security Council, nor for an alliance of European nations to include southeast Europe. NATO is a limited organization with a special purpose: to maintain and protect the economic, social and national integrity of North Atlantic nations by mutual assistance and co-operative defensive measures.

* * *

There is a good possibility that NATO as it now consists—twelve Atlantic nations—will work effectively. The presence in Ottawa this week of the chief cabinet ministers of the member nations shows that NATO is considered a practical instrument. Should the military, political and geographical scope be extended, would NATO succumb in discord and confusion into an ineffective nonentity? By attempting too much over too wide an area NATO could meet the fate of other world organizations—the League of Nations, for instance—and neither stand to its principles nor fulfil its aims.

* * *

NATO is now the most successful post-war defensive alliance of nations which has been created. Tightly-knit as it is, it may ensure peace bridging the Atlantic. With tag-ends all over the world it could fail of its main purpose, and the chief concern of the West to insure the inviolacy of Western Europe. Military exigencies for that purpose, as seen from General Eisenhower's headquarters in Paris, may require military and economic connections with Greece and Turkey but that does not mean that those countries should therefore be admitted into full membership of NATO.

Police Jinx At Ottawa

Elaborate precautions have been taken to ensure the safety of the NATO delegates and secure the sanctity of their meetings. These are being held in the central block of the Houses of Parliament. Most of the chief meetings are being held in a large Railway Committee Room, but even the House of Commons chamber has been used. Mounted Police and military police and security officers are thick as flies and sometimes as obtrusive.

We have sympathy with the plight of Mr. M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, who was challenged by an army private on entering the Parliament building and asked to produce a pass. Mr. Coldwell very properly said that as a Member of Parliament he had a right to enter the building freely. (On being recognized by a staff officer, he was allowed to enter without producing a pass.) It is diminution of rights and privileges of Members of Parliament to prevent or impede in any way their entry to the Parliament Buildings, for they are there as representatives of the supreme power in the land—the people of Canada. No matter how exalted the dignitaries attending the NATO Council meetings and how important their business, at the seat of the Canadian Parliament the Members of Parliament rank above them and their business is above that of NATO.

The Council is meeting in the Parliament buildings at the invitation of Canada and by courtesy of Parliament. But the guests should not and cannot oust the members nor should anxious officialdom so infest the Parliament building with police and No Admittance signs that the liberty of Members of Parliament in their own domain is impaired. Mr. Coldwell has pointed out that the Library is out of bounds to him and other M.P.'s at times when the Railway Committee Room off the same hallway is being used for secret NATO meetings.

Every courtesy, facility and protection which Canada can offer the delegates should be given them, but not at the expense of abrogating the right of Parliament—the body of men and women who are Parliament. A dangerous precedent could be established if police and the military now should be allowed to interfere with Members' rights. No King has dared to bar Members from Parliament for three centuries. The last King who did it lost his head. We hope that Department of External Affairs officials have not lost theirs in posting the welter of security regulations and police and soldiers in and around the Parliament buildings.

Mr. Herbert Morrison's hope expressed yesterday that eventually there may be a common citizenship for all the peoples in the North Atlantic community would, if realized, place a parliament of NATO above a national parliament. When that time comes Members of Canada's Parliament would have to take a back seat, and even produce passes, if NATO councils were again held in our Parliament buildings. That time is not yet at hand.

The King's Face

Recent photographs of the King show his face to be lined and haggard. He looks like a worn and sick man. The photographs are even more disquieting than the recent reports of his physicians. One may make allowance for the tricks light and quick camera clicks play; and one may think that perhaps the latest pictures were taken when the King was without his customary make-up. (Royalty, male and female, always uses make-up so as to present a uniform image to the people; even ruddy seafaring King George V was always made up in public.) But no allowance can hide the fact that His Majesty is indeed a weary, exhausted and ill man.

The time may be at hand when the King will have to lay aside a majority of the state duties which he has borne so steadfastly through the last fifteen arduous years and depute them to Princess Elizabeth. The burden of Kingship—as assumed by so dedicated a person as His Majesty—is beyond the strength of normally healthy people. It cannot be lightened nor its unceasing weight lifted except by a deliberate shifting of the load to other shoulders. It is time that the King's Chief Ministers required that this courageous monarch be reprieved of the work which is denying life itself.

Monkeys And Russian Worms

The Brantford Expositor has some bright remarks to make about the jokes San Franciscans perpetrated on police and the Russian delegates to the recent Japanese peace treaty conference. It cited two incidents: the wag who convinced State police that an attempt was to be made on the life of Mr. Gromyko by ramming his car with a beer truck; the other when someone chartered (by telephone) a fifty-passenger bus in the Russians' name and had it sent to the delegates' house. The Expositor concludes: "All this goes to show that someone is intent upon making monkeys out of the Russians through the rather immature method of the practical joke. However, the Soviet Union has been trying to make monkeys out of the West for so long that it is rather refreshing to see the worm turn in this manner." We find it refreshingly amusing too, and wonder what kind of glandular excretion accomplishes the transformation.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Whenever we hear of a blessing in disguise, the disguise is perfect.

A fad might be roughly defined as something that goes in one era and out the other.

A Heart Throbs writer says that no matter whom you marry in June, it will be somebody else in September. If that is so, you had better take a sid wise glance in the mirror to make sure you're still yourself.

Attlee Bid To Crush Bevan

By PHILIP VERNON

THERE is a flood of political speculation in London, but out of it all only one clear fact seems to emerge. At this week's meeting of the national executive of the Labour Party it was decided that Mr. Attlee should address the annual conference of the party in its early stages. This may seem an unexciting piece of information, but in fact it is the most important political news we have had for many weeks.

During the past few years Mr. Attlee's speeches to the annual conferences of the Labour Party have been unimportant events. He has usually arrived on the morning of the third day, delivered an uncontroversial address on the work of the Government during the past year, watched benignly while his wife accepted a bouquet of multi-coloured gladioli, and departed hurriedly to attend to more important business.

❖ ❖ ❖

THIS year it is to be different. He is to address the conference [it opens at Scarborough on October 1] not in mid-week, but before it has started on its serious business of discussion of policy. He may even introduce the executive's statement of policy which was published last month. This can mean one thing only; that he intends to challenge the group of which Mr. Bevan is leader and to tell the conference a few home truths, before it embarks on the policy resolutions which are before it.

❖ ❖ ❖

IN short, Mr. Attlee does not intend to seek a compromise with Mr. Bevan. He intends to crush him. Anyone who has ever studied Mr. Attlee's temperament can never have doubted that this would be his course. His integrity, his strong sense of duty, his unalterable conviction that Britain must be made strong and, last but not least, his ruthlessness in his dealings with those whom he considers political knaves or fools—all these combine to make a compromise between him and Mr. Bevan impossible. Certainly he would never seek it.

❖ ❖ ❖

IF then, this is to be Mr. Attlee's attitude at the party conference in October, what course will Mr. Bevan adopt? He is in an awkward position. He is a member of the national executive of the Labour Party, and the executive has already declared its support for the Government's rearmament policy, to which he is opposed. It is a long-standing convention in the Labour Party that once the executive has decided its policy no member of the executive is free to oppose that policy in public.

What, then, is Mr. Bevan to do? Even though the support for him from the constituency organizations may be considerable he is certain to be defeated if the matter is put to the vote at the annual conference. Is it, therefore, worth his while to defy the executive merely to make a demonstration of the support he commands among the vocal but uninfluential constituency parties? It would seem not, and it is not unlikely that Mr. Bevan's part in the conference proceedings will be small; not because he wishes that it should be so, but because even he knows that one can open one's mouth once too often.

MR. ATTLEE is likely to emerge from the conference with even greater stature than he has at present. Will this influence him in deciding whether or not to hold an election in October or November? London today is full of people who claim to know when the election will be held. I am not one of them; and I do not believe that they know any more than the rest.

The most publicized rumour is that Mr. Attlee will announce the date of the election when he addresses the Labour Party conference. A general election implies the dissolution of Parliament, and Parliament can be dissolved only by the King acting on the advice of his Prime Minister. It would be quite wrong to announce such a decision—a Royal decision—at a party conference. Certainly Mr. Attlee, who has a keen awareness of the proprieties of political conduct, is the last person to do such a thing.

❖ ❖ ❖

THIS does not necessarily mean, of course, that the date of the election will not be known before the Labour Party meets in October. Mr. Attlee's decision to speak early may well signify he wishes to give the party its marching orders; and this he could do effectively only if the date of the election had already been announced. It would be no surprise, therefore, if between now and October the long awaited announcement of the date of the election were made.

Equally, it would be no surprise if Mr. Attlee decided to postpone the election until next year. There may be good reasons for appealing to the country now—in particular, the fear that two or three by-election reverses might force him to appeal in mid-winter. But there are also good reasons for waiting—in particular the hope that the present trend of popular opinion against the Government might be reversed. Other observers may—and in some newspapers do—tip an autumn election. But the truth is that they know no better than any of us.

MEANWHILE, since Mr. Churchill's return to London this week, the Conservative Party is bustling with activity. It is true that a draft statement of policy has been prepared by the "policy-makers" of the Party. But it is not true that Mr. Churchill has revised and approved this draft. (Even if he had, it would not preclude him from revising it a second, third or fourth time.)

The fact of the matter is that the original draft would have been a rather flabby document to issue to the country at this moment. This is the importance of Mr. David Eccles's sudden emergence into the limelight. The success of his now famous speech at Sturminster, in which he defined the Twentieth-Century Conservative, has inspired him; he has become a crusader, greying at the temples. He has aroused the interest of Mr. Churchill himself—Mr. Churchill always admires the free-lance in politics—and the result of the discussions which have now started may well be a completely new statement of Conservative policy; more realistic, more courageous and more distinctively conservative than the draft which has so far been prepared.

YES, SIR

He was a very new officer, having been commissioned from the ranks, and he had been with his company only a week. He had been on manoeuvres, had done a twenty-mile route march, swum in the sea in full pack, and turned out in a company boxing competition.

Writing home he began his letter: "My hardest job is to remember not to call the sergeant-major 'sir.'"

City Manager Not For Ottawa

(OTTAWA JOURNAL)

SARNIA has added a city manager to its municipal establishment, and great things are expected of him. The new official is to be a connecting link between departmental heads and the city council—the heads report to him, and he reports to the elected representatives.

This system may have some advantages for a city like Sarnia, that does not possess a board of control, because it does tend to concentrate authority which otherwise is loosely held in a series of committees, but even so we see serious objections to placing a competent chief of a department under an intermediary between himself and the elected representatives of the citizens.

And those objections are much stronger in the case of a city which, like Ottawa, has a board of control. Here the line of authority leaves no useful spot for the intervention of a city manager. Here each head of a department or branch of the civic government has a controller with whom he consults on matters of policy and administration and through whom he reports to the board itself. This is his link with City Council, and a city manager could be only a fifth wheel, an obstruction in what has proved, through long experience, an elastic, and sensible system which at once secures a reasonable degree of independence to appointed officials and the over-riding authority of council itself.

The city-manager idea came from the United States where, a few years ago, municipal governments in many cities were masterpieces of graft and corruption, the private preserves of greedy political bosses. When eventually the public conscience was aroused reformers found a considerable public appeal in the idea of one honest, competent man replacing a large number of incompetent and often dishonest party hacks, and so the city manager came into being.

Of course in those conditions a city manager effected an improvement and saved money—any change was bound to be for the better. But it is a municipal system intended primarily to cure ills of government that have not fastened themselves on this country.

No Strings After 75

(STRATFORD BEACON-HERALD)

WHILE Canada is inaugurating a universal old age pensions plan that will give everyone over 70 years of age, rich and poor alike, $40 per month, the United States has made a change in its Social Security Act—the insertion of a clause that will permit a beneficiary to work without penalty if he or she attains the age of 75.

A person covered by U.S. Social Security, upon reaching age 65, may continue working only on pain of foregoing his monthly retirement benefit; that is, unless he makes no more than $50 a month or finds a "non-covered" job. (The limit was $14.90 before revision in 1950.) But let him reach age 75 and the government, in effect, stops worrying about him and his getting rich staying in the labour market. It agrees to give him his full monthly benefit while he earns as much as he can and cares to from private sources, whether or not the employment is "covered."

The reason for this withdrawing of the policing charge for those over 75 may have been due to the cost of keeping strict tab on the money earning ability of those over 75. In other words, the expense of strict supervision may have exceeded the amounts annually going out; or it may have been the lessened likelihood of people 75 and more being vigorous enough to engage in surreptitious employment and thus commit a fraud. Or again, it may just be, as The New York Times points out, a beneficent Uncle Sam stroking his beard and with a twinkle in his eyes, saying amiably to the oldsters: "Well, if you can make it to 75, more power to you. No more strings. Go the limit. You made it."

Letter To The Editor

CITY QUEER ABOUT JOBS

Sir: I read with interest your writer's letter—in search of work. He is justified in being bitter and discouraged.

Peterborough is a queer place when it comes to finding a job. I am a draftsman. Not even the main industry would have an opening for me. There are two reasons for this. Their apprentice system and the huge number of people they are bringing from the Old Country—with guaranteed jobs.

I have done what few people have ambition enough to do—completed a home study course—averaging 80 hours a week on it. It has brought me only limited success and neither happiness nor much respect.

In industry I find most headmen are two-faced, wicked, greedy and unappreciative of a person's efforts. It is most necessary to have a union to deal with them.

I am afraid this man will have to do as I have to do—work out of town. I have the advantage of being single though.

An immigration policy would be good for this country. But certain industries are making a racket out of it to the detriment of Canadian job seekers.

I am now able to live without work if that is what people want me to do. It runs contrary to my wishes because I am young and ambitious.

Yours truly,
DISGUSTED.

The Children's Aid Society of Peterborough is advanced to a "B" category by the Provincial Department of Welfare.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth. (Col. 3: 2.)

❖ ❖ ❖

For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof: but he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever. (I John 2: 16, 17.)

❖ ❖ ❖

Shew me thy ways, O Lord; teach me thy paths. Lead me in thy truth, and teach me: for thou art the God of my salvation; on thee do I wait all the day.... All the paths of the Lord are mercy and truth unto such as keep his covenant and his testimonies. (Ps. 25: 4, 5, 10.)

❖ ❖ ❖

Finally, my brethren, rejoice in the Lord. To write the same things to you, to me indeed is not grievous, but for you it is safe... For we are the circumcision, which worship God in the spirit, and rejoice in Christ Jesus, and have no confidence in the flesh.

Though I might also have confidence in the flesh. If any other man thinketh that he hath whereof he might trust in the flesh, I more.... But what things were gain to me, those I counted loss for Christ. (Phil. 3: 1, 3, 4, 7.)

❖ ❖ ❖

Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any virtue, and if there be any praise, think on these things. (Phil. 4: 8.)

Unconsidered Trifles

"Well, what was the dinner like last night?"

"If the soup had been as warm as the wine, and the wine as old as the chicken, and the chicken as fat as the hostess, it mightn't have been so bad!"

After several synonyms had been given for the word "jubilant" in the sixth-grade spelling hour, one little boy added: "Oh, I know what you mean now—it's like jubilant delinquency!"

❖ ❖ ❖

The lorry driver was unfortunate enough to run his vehicle into a house where a woman stood ironing. Having lost his nerve he did not know what to say, and blurted out: "Can you tell me the way to Wigan?"

"Yes," replied the woman. "Straight past the sideboard and then to the left past the piano!"

Mrs. Smith: "We've been getting more fish lately, which is a good thing. They say fish makes brains."

Mrs. Johnson: "You're telling me! Why, my husband caught a large trout yesterday and, believe me, this morning he could hardly get his hat on."

Trees At Low Cost

(Port Arthur News-Chronicle)

Much of this season's activity of the Department of Lands and Forests branch at Port Arthur has been centred in an area covering three townships north of Nipigon and west of Beardsmore where a total of 750,000 trees have been planted so that 50 or 60 years hence someone else may harvest them to keep the timber industries of the territory going.

In these three townships, which are named Dorothea, Sandra and Eva, 250,000 were set out this year. They are to replace others lost in cutting and by fires. The natural reproduction apparently was destined to be a failure but department officials are highly optimistic about the new plantings of Jackpine, Red Pine, White Pine, and Black Spruce, for which the ground and growing conditions are said to be eminently suitable.

It will also be of interest to the public to note that cost at planting is estimated at slightly more than two and one half cents each.

"Madam! How dare you wear a fox fur during the stag hunting season?"

TRAIN WRECK — Battered locomotive lies on its side amid twisted rails after crashing into a truck on a level-crossing about six miles from Chatham, Ont. Joseph Pentigney of Chatham, driver of the truck, and train fireman Carl Sterling of London, Ont., both were killed. Engineer Fred Chubb of London, received third-degree burns when the cab filled with steam. Only one other person required hospital treatment.

Goes On Trial In Murder Case

BRANTFORD, Sept. 19 (CP)—Donald N. Devereux, 23, went on trial Tuesday charged with the June 16 murder of Mrs. Violet Thompson, 27. The body of the slain woman was found in Devereux's truck which was parked outside the home of her estranged husband, Charles Thompson.

Dr. Leverne Fischer of Kitchener, provincial pathologist, said the woman had died from haemorrhage as a result of a wound in her left chest. He testified that a butcher knife, such as the one entered as an exhibit, could have caused the wound.

Fred Smith, brother of the dead woman, testified that he had identified his sister's body after the slaying. He described the butcher knife as one similar to a knife he had bought for his sister.

He did not recognize a paring knife, also on exhibit, which is supposedly one which Dr. Fischer told of finding in Mrs. Thompson's coat pocket when he performed the post mortem examination.

Smith claimed he had seen Devereux in his truck with Mrs. Thompson on the night of her death.

Testifies Gun Waved At Woman To Frighten, Not Kill

WELLAND, Sept. 19 (CP) — A Buffalo, NY, man accused of murdering his common-law wife with a shotgun last June said afterwards that he picked up the gun merely to frighten her after a day-long quarrel and never meant to kill her.

A statement Anthony Bassett gave police the day after the shooting in a cottage at nearby Crystal Beach was admitted as evidence Tuesday towards the close of the first day of his trial.

Inspector Thomas R. Wright of the Ontario Provincial Police said Bassett told him in the statement that the shooting climaxed a day-long quarrel with the woman, Mrs. Leone Peterson, 47.

The statement quoted Bassett as saying that when he arrived at the cottage at 3:05 a.m. June 16 from a night shift at the American Brass Company in Buffalo, he found Mrs. Peterson in bed with another man.

Bassett said he slapped her, punched the man in the bed and ordered him out of the cottage. He also told the woman to get out.

Three hours later, she returned and he asked her to assign half the property to him. After she went away again, he took a pair of scissors and slashed her dresses coat and underwear, knowing that she had always liked good clothes. The woman returned again about 4:30 p.m., saw the ripped clothing and flew into a rage.

"She threw two or three empty beer bottles at me and caught me in the face and arms," Bassett said in the statement. "She said she would get the police chief and left. I, like a fool, decided to end it all."

He said he took the shotgun from a closet and loaded it. When Mrs. Peterson came back, he refused to let her in. She returned again in 15 minutes, picked up a vase and threw it through the glass of the front door. She reached through the shattered pane, unlocked the door and walked in. She picked up the vase and hurled it at him.

"Then she picked up a piece of glass from the floor and came at me. I picked up the gun to frighten her. She ran out through the door, I all the time pointing the gun at her.

"How it went off, I don't know. I had no intention whatever of pulling the trigger. I saw her fall. Then I went to the bedroom. I held the gun to my neck and pulled the trigger, but I was still alive."

Wounded, he went back to the living room and saw through the window a crowd gathering.

"I became panicky and went into the bedroom and fired another shot at myself. As God is my judge, I loved her. I didn't mean to shoot her."

Dr. Lorne Whitaker of St. Catharines, provincial pathologist, testified that the top of the woman's head was "literally blown off" by the shotgun blast.

Sacred Heart Group Meet In Marmora

MARMORA, Sept. 19 (ENS).—The Forty Hour Devotions at Sacred Heart Church was again well attended on Monday evening.

Dr. Prescott, DCL, of Railton gave an instructive sermon on "The Eucharist." Assisting in the devotions, were also the Very Rev. J. P. Sullivan, rector of St. Mary's Cathedral, Kingston; the Rev. G. Hanley, editor of the Canadian Register, Kingston; the Rev. A. J. Welsh, of St. Joseph's Kingston; the Rev. J. R. Rowell, Kingston; the Rev. John Buckley, Belleville; the Rev. J. Clancy, PP of Picton; and the Rev. J. Donoghue, Marysville.

Slim Chance For NATO Spies Even Doodlings Destroyed

OTTAWA, Sept. 19 (CP).—A NATO meeting presents slim pickings for even the most ambitious foreign agent.

NATO, like many another international body, is amassing a vast pile of documents. Most are under lock and key. And those that are not needed are destroyed.

All copies, carbons, notations and even the slightest scratch or pad doodle made by delegates at their secret conclaves are gathered up at the end of each day's meeting by the security staff and burned.

These "collectors" are the first into the meeting place as the delegates leave. Waste paper also is collected from all offices occupied by NATO secretariat staff and destroyed.

Most closely guarded is the verbatim report of the day's proceedings. It is taken by Hansard reporters who ordinarily work in the House of Commons and have been loaned to NATO for the Ottawa meeting.

All Screened

All the reporters have been screened. Their record is transcribed in a closely guarded office. It is printed in English and French. Each delegate gets a copy. Others become part of the permanent record of NATO.

Each suite of delegation offices in parliament has been provided with a combination self-filing cabinet in which to keep documents of a classified nature.

For delegations wishing to send such documents out of the buildings—say to their legations in Ottawa—the government provides a special military courier service.

The government takes no responsibility for security in the hotels where delegates are staying. In a handbook on security it warned delegates that they should not leave "documents unattended in hotel rooms."

When NATO completes its Ottawa sessions, it will pack paper records in special trunks and cases. These will be sent to their destination through the Canadian Government's diplomatic mail service—most to the Belgrave Square headquarters of NATO in London where the records are stored under guard.

Cripps Cured

ZURICH, Switzerland, Sept. 19 (Reuters) — Sir Stafford Cripps, 62, has conquered the illness which removed him from British politics at the height of his career as Chancellor of the Exchequer. His doctors announced Tuesday that he is completely cured of the tubercular spine infection which kept him on his back in a Zurich clinic for the better part of a year.

Composer Dies

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Sept. 19 (AP)—Joseph R. Alden, who with Ange Lorenzo composed the sentimental song hit of the 1920's, "Sleepytime Gal," died Tuesday at his home here. He was 65 years old. He and Lorenzo, a resident of Saginaw, Mich., introduced their greatest hit in a northern Michigan resort.

Planning Causeway

DESERONTO, Ont., Sept. 19 (CP)—A bridge or causeway may be built across the Bay of Quinte from the northeastern tip of Prince Edward county to Deseronto on the mainland. Hastings county and Prince Edward have agreed that the link should be constructed. The province is ready to pay 80 per cent of the cost, said Reeve Ross Neal of Deseronto. Now it's up to the federal government to approve the plan.

Denies Signing Cheap Pact

VANCOUVER, Sept. 19 (CP)—Harvey Murphy, British Columbia director of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (Ind.), denied Tuesday that his union has signed "cheap" agreements with employers.

He was commenting on a statement by A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, that employers who have signed "cheap" contracts with Communist-led unions have hindered elimination of Red-led groups in industry.

"The agreements signed in the metal mining industry of BC by Mine, Mill are the highest in Canada," Murphy said.

"There isn't a wage in the metal industry that isn't $2.50 a day higher than any agreement Mosher has signed anywhere in Canada."

He termed the CCL convention here "just a bunch of shriners in overalls."

Mine-Mill was expelled from the CCL two years ago because its officers follow Communist policies.

Predict Election

LONDON, Sept. 19 (Reuters)—The London Daily Mirror, a pro-government tabloid, today reported flatly in a front page story that Britain would have an election Thursday, Oct. 25. The Daily Mirror declared that an announcement would be made within 48 hours, and pointed out that Attlee Tuesday saw King George VI. It is the King who calls the election, by dissolving parliament, though he acts at the Prime Minister's request.

Envoy To Brazil

OTAWA, Sept. 19—(CP)—Dr E. H. Coleman 61, Canada's ambassador to Cuba since January, 1949, was appointed Tuesday as ambassador to Brazil. He succeeds J. S. Macdonald, 55, who goes to Yugoslavia. Dr. Coleman, who received his early education in Carleton Place, Ont., was Canada's Undersecretary of State from 1933 to 1949.

Union Drive

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19 — (AP)—The American Federation of Labor planned Tuesday to raise $1 each from its 8,000,000 members to finance political activities in the 1952 United States elections.

A LITTLE HORSE-SENSE?—French Foreign Minister Robert Schumann smilingly declined to divulge any expert advice he received from this Mountie's horse on Parliament Hill. Mr. Schumann is attending the NATO conference of foreign affairs, economics and defence ministers in Ottawa.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

House-cleaning up on summer sports, we note that there are several trophies to be awarded for most valuable players. Men's City Softball League has the Peller Trophy up for the fifth year. Won first by Ray Garvey, then Howie Dalton, Bob Greenlaw next and Red Sullivan last year. Each club submits one name and the vote then goes to the loop executive and the official scorer. The four players mentioned above were all worthy winners of this valuable player trophy, all of them being what is known in the trade as players' players—good team workers. This year's winner will be decided soon.

* * * * * *

In baseball, there's the Jack Legris Trophy for the most valuable member of the senior Petes, won two years ago by Joe Stewart, and last year by Al Menzies. There'll be an early meeting by the judges—Alex Kay, Ray Pammett and this writer—to vote on the 1951 holder. And minor ball commissioner Alex Kay will shortly give out with the name of the boy taking the Fred Craig Trophy this year. It was won in 1945 by Jack Sisson, followed each year by Al Menzies, Ken Pammett, Don Pagett, Sam Murphy and Gary Kearns. The victor receives a permanent trophy each season in this case, the other cups being held for one year.

* * * * * *

Look Out For Penalties

A tip to the Petes' lacrossers when they play out west next week—no rough stuff. The locals aren't known as rough players, but occasionally a guy loses his temper and slashes or charges after a stiff check. Eastern refs let a whole lot more go than the western officials. Hence a western team playing for the Mann Cup here hollers plenty about "the bruising brand of play in Eastern Canada." By the same token, an eastern team playing in B.C. is liable to kick plenty at frequent penalties for minor infractions. They play a cleaner type of lacrosse west of the Rockies, and when in Rome one should do as the Romans do.

* * * * * *

While the players get the fans' acclaim in their guitedstick accomplishments, the executive rates much credit here for its big job behind the scenes. These working officials are: President Bob Peirson, vice-prexy Ernie Braund, secretary Mick Magee, treasurer Howard McLean, manager Bob Curtin, coach Don Crowe, assistant Red Creighton, along with Paul Irwin, Dr. Herb Young, Pete King, Harry Yudin, Ken Kingston, Doug Miller, Walt Murphy, and on publicity Jack Gainey and George Ludgate. No, we're not on any executive, but try to do our bit on publicity for all local sports. These fellows have done a fine chore this year, starting last winter, and that's why the Petes are in Mann Cup finals now.

Orfuns Showing Results

Footballers here are drilling hard on several fronts, PCVS and SPS preparing for their high school schedules, and Orfuns being into the ORFU senior "B" grind. Orillia Bombers play Orfuns under the arcs in Morrow Park this Friday night and that should be quite a struggle. The Bombers are stronger than last season and presently tied for second slot with Oshawa Raiders, each having a win. Cobourg Ghosts lead with two victories in as many starts, while Orfuns, East York and Ryerson Tech are all gunning for their first verdict. Coach Harv Bamforth has the Peterborough huskies on the jump these nights in workouts, and they're coming along fast.

* * * * * *

Ralph (High Pockets) McCabe is returning to Belleville to take up residence, according to the Quinte columnist. He is playing coach of the Bancroft, Iowa, pro team in the Iowa State League, and recently pitched his team to a playoff win. The tall righthander was a junior star in Belleville and Oshawa ere going pro with Cleveland Indians, Baltimore Orioles and Oklahoma City. He has sold out his sports goods store in Iowa to return to Canada, and it might be that he'll be hurling for the Quinte crew next summer in the COBL. Incidentally, the Viaduct League's official scorer in Toronto has never sent out the loop averages for the past season. Brabin led our hitters, Dadson the pitchers, and Lowrey the base-stealers.

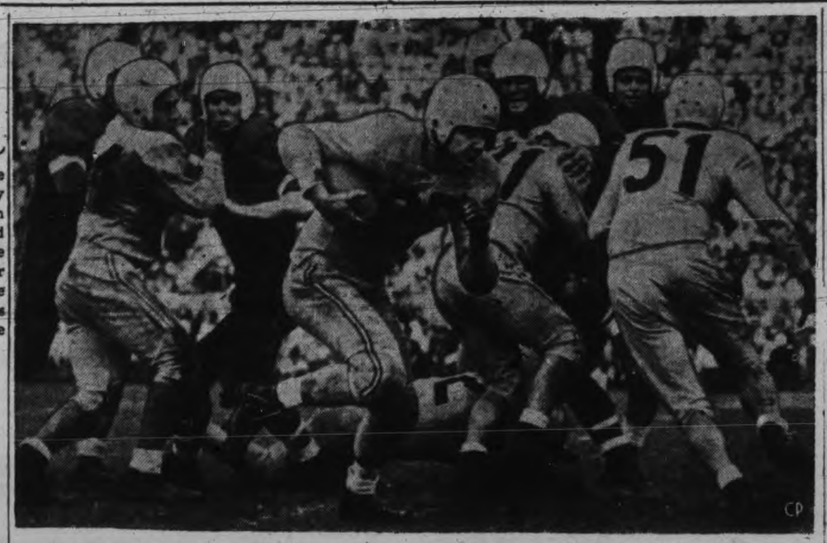
Visking Winner

LINDSAY, Sept. 19.—Scoring in all but one frame, Visking rolled to a 15-6 victory in the fifth and deciding game of the Lindsay Men's Softball League championship here. Don Lucas twirled a two-hitter for the champs striking out seven. Ken Mintz smashed a home run and two singles and Guffer Abercrombie poled out a pair of triples for the winners.

SOLLY CANTOR, the top-ranking Toronto lightweight, is hoping that his 10-round clash with Armand Savoie, Montreal's title aspirant, in the Forum ring next Monday night will be labelled as for the Canadian championship. Because Arthur King, the current wearer of the crown, is reported to have taken out United States citizenship which automatically deprices him of the crown, application has been made to the Canadian Boxing Federation to label the Cantor-Savoie bout as a title affair.



GOOD BLOCKING — Hamilton Tiger-Cats' Blake Taylor went for a first down when his blockers opened this hole in Ottawa Rough Riders' line. Tiger-Cats downed Riders, 11-6, in Hamilton for their fourth stranght Big Four win. Blocking on the play was provided by Jack Rogers (24), Eddie Bevan (31) and Pete Neumann (51).

Coleman Rink Captures The Club Title

By HERB MARTIN

When Geo. Coleman, Jr., defeated P. Johnson's rink for the club championship last evening, the bowling as far as the men's schedule is concerned finished for the season. True, there will be lots of bowling yet, but it will be of the "pick-up" variety.

The game itself was witnessed by very few and it was all Coleman for the first few ends. His rink was bowling well and at the three-quarter mark was leading 18-7. It's quite a grind from June 1 to September 18,but the boys seemed to enjoy it all.

Rink personnel:

First—L. Mitchell, C. Turnbull, T. McMillan, G. Coleman, sk.

Runners-up—Cal Ritchie, R. Payne, E. Mesley, P. Johnson, sk.

In a few days we may have an important announcement re the annual meeting.

Don't forget the mixed doubles tournament this evening at 7 o'clock.

Chiefs, Rovals Meet For Crucial 3rd Game

SYRACUSE, NY, Sept. 19 (AP) —Syracuse and Montreal, all even in their 24 International League games this year, met for the crucial third game of their final playoff series tonight.

The teams each won 11 games during the regular league season and stand one-all in the best-of-seven series playoffs.

Pennant-winning Montreal won the series opener, but Syracuse came back strong to win the second game. Both were in Montreal.

The teams came to Syracuse on Tuesday and will play the next three games here on successive nights. Additional games, if needed to decide the series, will be played in Montreal.

Winner of the series will meet the American Association playoff champion in the "little world series."

Bill Miller (16-10) probably will start on the mound for the Syracuse Chiefs tonight (8 p.m. EDT) while Bob Alexander (15-8) is expected to get the call for the Royals.

Fletcher And Faguy Take Doubles Crown

John Fletcher and John Faguy won the men's doubles city tennis championship over Doug. MacPherson and Ralph Charlton 3-6, 8-6 and 6-4 in a tense struggle on the Quaker courts. The losers had two match points in hand when they were leading by five games to four, and 40-15 in the second set, but they failed to capture the set for match. In the third, Chalton and MacPherson started with a 2-0 lead which was levelled to 2-all and again even at 3-3 and 4-4. In th last game with Faguy serving and leading in games 5-4. there were over 12 deuce points and the losers saved 10 match points before it ended in favor of Fletcher and Faguy.

It was excellent and exciting tennis by all four men before a large group of interested spectators.

Took City Title

In men's singles, Faguy won won the city singles title over John Fletcher at Kawartha in two sets. The ladies' finals between Mrs. Fletcher and Mrs. Charlton was to have been played last night at the Kawartha. At six p.m. Wednesday at Quaker, the mixed doubles finals go with J. Faguy and Miss V. Rose playing Mr. and Mrs. R. Charlton.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Fletcher retained the mixed doubles title in the Kawartha Club tourney by defeating Mrs. Charlton and W. Elmsley 6-4, 6-4. This leaves the men's singles, probably on Thursday.

In Kawartha golf, Ruth McKee and E. Hanbridge won the mixed two-ball over Mr. and Mrs. Barnett. The men's two-ball saw Ches Grant and Ab Thompson get the silverware. All club competitions are now finished. The match and handicap committee deserves credit for running off its big schedule before closing day.

Remember When—

By The Canadian Press

British hopes soared as T.O.M. Sopwith's Endeavor, the British challenger, won her second successive race against Harold Vanderbilt's Rainbow in the America's cup yatching series 17 years ago today off Rhode Island. But Rainbow won the next four to retain the trophy which the U.S. defended sucessfully again in 1937.

Hawks Obtain Quackenbush

NORTH BAY, Sept. 19 (CP) — Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League have obtained defenceman Max Quackenbush, 23, from Detroit Red Wings, in exchange for Doug McCaig.

McCaig, also a defenceman, is a native of Guelph.

Quackenbush is expected to give additional depth to the Hawks' defence. He is the youngest brother of Bill Quackenbush, former Detroit player now with Boston.

Veterans Roy Conacher, Bill Mosienko and Doug Bentley are expected to check into the Hawks' training camp here soon to join the rest of the squad now working out for weekend exhibition jousts with Detroit at Copper Cliff and North Bay.

Fred Hucul, Guyle Fielder and Syd Finney, all from western Canada, are possible starters in an amateur line coach Ebbie Goodfellow plans to use in the exhibition game.

Goaltender Harry Lumley has been working hard to get in trim. Jack Stewart, Bill Gadsby, Clare Martin, Rags Raglan, Leo Fogolin and Al Dewsbury are trying for defence spots.

Coach Goodfellow has been experimenting with Dewsbury, a big fellow who packs a powerful shot, on forward line.

Three Days' Racing Planned For Lindsay

LINDSAY, Sept. 19.—More than $2,000 in purses will be awarded during the three-day harness horse race meet at Lindsay Central Exhibition which will open Thursday. Jack Climie, veteran Tillsonburg starter and announcer will be back again for his fifth year to get the three heats in the two classes under way each day.

Opening day will feature the 2:28 and 2:15 classes while on Friday the pick of Ontario's pacers and trotters will compete in the 2:25 and 2:18 events. On Saturday the 2:21 racers will be called for the fifth $300 race of the card which will wind up with a free-for-all for a purse of $500.

Yesterday's Stars

By The Associated Press.

Batting: Eddie Stewart, White Sox—Homered and singled with the bases loaded to highlight six-run attack in eighth inning as Chicago whipped the New York Yankees 7-1.

Pitching: Tom Poholsky, Cardinals—Scattered eight hits as downed Riders, 11-6, in Hamilton for their fourth stranght Big Four win. Blocking on the play was provided by Jack Rogers (24), Eddie Bevan (31) and Pete Neumann (51).

Olympic Chief Lashes Colleges Over Football

By TED SMITS.

CHICAGO, Sept. 19 (AP). — Avery Brundage, uncompromising spokesman for amateurism in athletics, called today on American colleges to reform their football program in order to save the sport.

"Responsibility for the evils of football can be laid squarely on the doorsteps of the top-level college administrative authorities and not on the athletic departments," said Brundage. "It is their responsibility to correct the situation and prevent it from becoming a national scandal."

The reform Brundage proposes is simple:

"College sports departments should be put on a par with the academic departments," he said. "We got into our present difficulty because our colleges followed the medieval notion that only the mind counts. They also scorned the athletic departments.

"So college presidents and faculties paid no heed to the mad merry-go-round that football created—rich inducements to players, heavier demands on coaches, bigger and more expensive publicity departments, bigger and better stadiums. The colleges did pay heed, however, to the money that football produced.

Natural Result

"What we have now is the natural result of putting the emphasis on dollars and publicity. In fact, the athletic departments have done a highly successful job of getting both.

"Abuses overlooked or tolerated in football are spreading to other clean and healthy sports and games and poisoning our entire amateur program.

"The way to stop this is to go back to the ancient Greek ideal which puts equal emphasis on developing the body along with the mind—which makes sport fun instead of a commercial enterprise."

Brundage, who has been president of the US Olympic Association since 1928 and is International Olympic Committee vice-president as well, is so concerned to set the record straight on amateurism that he has started to write a book about it. Word of this leaked out and this interview was a result.

Whipper Billy Watson Sidelined Till October

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP). — Whipper Billy Watson, injured last week in a wrestling bout in Kingston, has been ordered to quit the mat game until at least Oct. 1.

He was examined Tuesday by Dr. Myron Millar of Ontario Athletic Commissioner's office, who scheduled a re-examination at the end of the month.

St. Louis upset the Brooklyn Dodgers 7-1, to cut the Brooks' first place lead over the Giants to three games.

BEAN BALL GETS CAMPY—Hands to his head, Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers lies on the ground after he was beaned in the second inning of the game at Chicago. Turk Lown (right, No. 35) was the Cub pitcher who hit the Dodgers' ace catcher. Campanella was carried from the field, but was reportedtly not seriously injured. The Dodgers also lost the game, 5-3, and now lead by only 3 games.

Bantams Take OLA Tilt From Toronto

Peterborough bantam lacrossers smeared Toronto Lions—not the Green Gaels as first announced—by an 18-2 score here last night to open their home-and-home OLA playdown series. Return game is in Toronto on Saturday, the locals having a 16-goal lead. Only the next of kin viewed the clean, one-sided tilt, and the players could easily have trimmed the fans present at any time. Toronto drew the only penalty of a tussle handled well by referees Rock Batley and Bun Hill.

It was 4-0 the first frame, 5-1 at the half and 13-1 going into the fourth heat. Simmons scored three and aided on four for the winners, with Hunt getting three and helping on another. Two goals each went to Coombs, Roberts, Ferguson and Davis, as one apiece was counted by Keeting, MacInnes, Jay and Floyd. The latter, and Davis and MacInnes, had two assists each, one apiece going to Keeting, Hunt, Ferguson and Roberts. Stewart and Coate got the Toronto goals. Teams:

Toronto — Goal, McGuinness; defence, Doncaster and Berrell; centre, Cyco; wings, Holland and Hampton; rover, McCracken, alternates, McCoole, Stewart, Coate, Manning, Mansee, Cooper and Swartz.

Peterborough—Goal, F. Heffernan; defence, P. Heffernan and Keeting; centre, Simmons; wings, Lagana and MacInnes; rover, Jay; alternates, Forestell, Floyd, Davis, Hunt, Ferguson, Roberts, Coombs and Trotter.

Referees, R. Batley and B. Hill.

Stymie Dead In Match Golf British Agree

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, Sept. 19 (AP).—The stymie is dead in match play golf, effective Jan. 1, 1952.

Elimination of the stymie is the most significant of a new international code of the game which has now bbeen adopted by the United States and Great Britain, the two big golf-playing nations.

The Royal and Ancient Golf Club Tuesday approved the uniform rules, previously accepted by the United States Golf Association.

Other principal rules in the new code:

1. Stroke and distance will be charged on all lost ball, out-of-bounds and unplayable lies. In the past Britain's penalty has been distance only on out of bounds.
2. The smaller British ball—1.62 inches in diameter compared with America's 1.68—will be permitted in international matches.

The stymie didn't go down without a fight. There was a heated debate on the subject before the fathers of English golf finally agreed.

Under the new rules when one ball is in the path of another on the green, the closer ball must be lifted so the other will have a clear shot at the cup.

Under the stymie, it has been necessary to putt around or chip over the impeding ball, unless the balls were less than six inches apart or less than six inches from the cup.

Stouffville Tied In Round-Robin

LINDSAY, Sept. 19.—In the Tri-County Baseball League round-robin championship series Stouffville Red Sox and Sutton Green Sox are leading the way with five wins in seven games.

Stouffville moved into a tie with Sutton by blanking the third place Sonya Braves 7-0 Monday night. Sonya with a record of three for four led Lindsay Walkwoods and Cambray Cardinals by two points. Woodville holds down the cellar position with one win in four games.

President Roy Scott has announced that the Lindsay protest on the 5-4 loss to Sutton will be aired in Lindsay Monday night.

GOAT AND HERO—Phil Rizzuto, out at second on the first half of a fifth-inning double play, was the goat and the hero as the New York Yankees beat the Cleveland Indians, 2-1, to take a solid grip on first place. Rizzuto's error let in Cleveland's only run, but his squeeze bunt scored the winning run in the ninth. Here, Indians' Ray Boone fires to first to complete the twin killing.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

The United Church Ministerial Association of Toronto has sided with coach Hap Emms of the Memorial Cup-winning Barrie Flyers in his undeclared war with Connie Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs over Sunday hockey.

The Rev. I. G. Perkins, association president, said today that he sent a telegram to Emms on Tuesday praising his stand.

The telegram read:

"On behalf of over 300 United Church ministers of Toronto, the executive extends to you sincere congratulations, appreciation and support for your stand against compulsory Sunday sport.

"We are proud of you and the Flyers, not Connie Smythe."

Because Emms refuses on what he says are religious grounds to allow Barrie to play Sunday hockey, Boston Bruins have withdrawn their sponsorship of the team.

However, Emms said Tuesday the Flyers will remain in the Ontario Hockey Association Junior A League. Emms has appealed to other NHL teams for player help.

Hector Rodriguez, Montreal's 31-year-old third baseman, is the International League's "rookie of the year" in the estimation of the league's baseball writers.

The Cuban won the honor by one vote over teammate James (Junior) Gilliam, outfielder-second baseman. Matt Jackson of the Rochester Times-Union, president of the IL's baseball writers, said 31 writers voted in the poll with Rodriguez getting 11 votes and Gilliam 10.

Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and challenger Willie Pep signed contracts Tuesday for their title fight Sept. 26 at the Polo Grounds. Saddler will receive 37½ per cent of the net receipts, Pep 22½ per cent.

Uniform rules for golfers throughout the world became a fact tonight when the Royal and Ancient Golf Club adopted in full the new international code for the game drafted here last May.

The United States Golf Association previously had approved the standardized code, which, among other things, abolishes the stymie.

Riot squads of several hundred police were called out in Vienna, Austria, Tuesday night to quell an angry chair-throwing crowd of 8,000 wrestling fans, disappointed in an exhibition starring Prima Carnera.

Carnera, attempting to fulfill a bet that he could beat two wrestlers in 60 minutes, finished off one grappler in 20 minutes. Then, for the second time in 10 days he met Adi Berber, Austrian innkeeper. Berber was disqualified in the third round.

The fans thought they had been cheated.

Roy Campanella, Brooklyn Dodgers' catcher, who was beaned Monday in a game with Chicago Cubs, was released from hospital in Chicago Tuesday. He may return to the team by the end of the week.

ESKS STRETCH LEAD — Edmonton Eskimos took a six point lead in the Western interprovincial Rugby Union with a 30-15 win over Calgary Stampeders in Calgary. Roland Miles, who socred one major for Esks, is grounded here by Ced Gyles (80). Stampeders moving up are Bill Blackburn (57), Gil Steer (41), Keith Bennett (31) and Dave Berry (33).

Jockeys At Inquiry

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP). — Several jockeys and trainers appeared Tuesday before the Ontario Racing Commission, which is investigating charges of race-fixing on Ontario tracks. Jockeys Johnny Dewhurst, Mike Mafale and Tommy Fico and trainers J. Goldstein and Reginald Anderson were the witnesses. The Commission adjourned the day's session without issuing any statement on developments.

Poor Sports

WINKLER, Man. (CP).—Strong protest against illegal fishing in Manitoba was expressed by the Winkler Fish and Game Association at its monthly meeting. Members reported having seen numerous violations of the size and bag limits at Lockport on the Red river.

Baltimore Upsets Mathews 8-6

COBOURG, Sept. 19 — Baltimore Millers upset Mathews 8-6 here Monday night in the first game of the finals for the Cobourg and District softball championship, behind Donny Ball's four-hit pitching.

Mathews ran into trouble in the eighth frame when Baltimore came from behind a 6-5 count scoring three tallies to win the game.

Barney Mills went the route for Mathews and gave up 11 hits. Fred McMillan led the attack for the village squad with three timely bingles. Jack Ball had two for four. Gunner Ball had only one hit, but his feature catch of Racine's line drive stopped a Mathews' rally.

Cleveland Scalps Red Sox In 6-4 Beating, Dodgers Bow To Cards 7-1

By JOE REICHLER, Associated Press Sports Writer

Say, doesn't anybody want to win a pennant? That seems to be the picture today as the top contenders in the American and National Leagues keep passing up chances to take a stranglehold on first place. New York Yankees appeared on the way to the American League flag after winning vital games from Cleveland Sunday and Monday. But they blew a 7-1 decision to the fourth-place Chicago White Sox Tuesday night. That cut their lead over the Indians from a full game to three percentage points.

Now take Boston's third-place Red Sox. Winner of six of their last seven starts, the Sox seemed ready to deliver the knockout punch to the groggy Indians. Instead, the Tribe scalped Boston 6-4, leaving the Red Sox 2½ games off the pace.

Even Brooklyn joined the act. Generally regarded as sure-fire world series participants, the Dodgers now find themselves hard put to keep the persistent New York Giants off their necks.

Bow To Cards

The Dodgers saw their margin once 13½ games—shrink to three Tuesday when they bowed to St. Louis Cardinals, 7-1, while the Giants took a 6-5 squeaker from Cincinnati.

While there is some reason for Dodger alarm, it would still take a minor miracle for the Giants to overhaul them. Brooklyn still has a five-game bulge in the important losing side. The Giants have only eight games left to play against the Dodgers' 12.

That's where the Yankees gave their edge, too—in the losing side. Cleveland has won two more than New York but the Indians have also lost two more. They have only seven games left to 11 for New York and 12 for Boston.

Pitcher Billy Pierce and outfielder Stewart collaborated to beat the Yankees. Pierce throttled them with eight hits. Stewart hit a home run to tie the score at 1-1, then loosed a bases-loaded single in the eighth to put the Sox in front 3-1. Chicago added four more runs to rout Vic Raschi before the inning ended.

20th Victory

Mike Garcia strong-armed Cleveland righthander, gained his 20th triumph. The Mexican hurler held the Red Sox to nine hits and helped himself to a mighty double in the Indians four-run sixth inning that sent Bill Wight down to his sixth defeat.

Young Tom Poholsky limited the Dodgers to eight hits in posting his sixth win for the Cards. A five-run fifth, ignited by rookie Vern Benson's home run off loser Ralph Branca, clinched the victory.

George Spencer helped Dave Koslo post his ninth New York victory with a sterling ninth-inning relief job retiring pinch-hitter Hank Edwards for the final out after the Reds had scored three times and had the tying and winning runs on base.

Elsewhere St. Louis Browns swept a twi-night doubleheader from Washington, 8-0 and 3-2; Detroit topped Philadelphia Athletics 8-6; Pittsburgh nipped Boston's Braves 6-5 and Chicago Cubs defeated Philadelphia Phils 7-4.

Indians Sure They're Back In Pennant Drive

By JOE KELLEY.

BOSTON, Sept. 19 (AP). — Cleveland's confident Indians who trail the American League leading New York Yankees by three percentage points, today expected a satisfactory ending to their season's business at Fenway Park, their happy hunting ground.

Thrice this season the Indians have been on the brink of falling out of American League's stirring pennant battle. Each time they revived here, on the same field where in 1948 they battered Boston's Red Sox in the American League's only pennant playoff.

Their most recent revivication occurred Tuesday when Indian manager Al Lopez and pitcher Mike Garcia combined to slicker the Sox who trail New York and Cleveland by 2½ games.

Garcia, relying 90 per cent of the time on blazing, snapping fast balls, won his 20th game of the season, weathering a rocky ninth inning, 6-4.

Caught Napping

Mike's unexpected double when all the percentage and custom called for him to try a sacrifice bunt after Jim Hegan had singled, caught the Sox napping and set up a four run sixth inning.

"I remember Mike had hit a homer against St. Louis," explained Lopez. "And I knew the Sox never would expect a .210 hitting pitcher to swing away. I told him to swing and if he missed to look for a sign from me. He didn't miss."

Today Lopez sent Early Wynn after his 20th triumph, something the veteran righthanded pitcher never has been able to accomplish since he broke in with Sanford in the Florida State League in 1937.

Lopez stood by his prediction: "If we split these two games here we have a fair chance. If we sweep both we have an excellent chance to take it all."

Steve O'Neill, Sox manager who has named southpaw Maurice McDermott to pitch the Bostonians back into the race, lent indirect, and unintentional support to Lopez.

"We have to win today," said stout Steve.

TOO GREEDY — Red Sox pitcher Maury McDermott (left) is tagged out by St. Louis Brownie first baseman Ben Taylor in the first inning, when he tried to get back after making a wide turn after his single. The hit helped the Sox to five runs, which enabled them to beat the Browns, 9-6, and keep in the pennant race.

Adams Certain Wings To Be First

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., Sept. 19 (CP). — In a display of unusual confidence, the general manager and coach of Detroit Red Wings intimated Tuesday that the team is almost sure to finish first in the National Hockey League this season.

"We have more fire and dash than at any other time in the past seven or eight years," said general manager Jack Adams as he reviewed the first 10 days of the Detroit training camp here.

"These youngsters and the spirit of the veterans have proved just the right combination to make this year's Detroit Red Wings a very dangerous threat for another NHL title."

Coach Tommy Ivan was even more certain.

"I've never seen such a hungry bunch of players," he said. "The way things are going now we should take over first place by a comfortable margin."

Leonard (Red) Kelly arrived in camp during the weekend and already has shown the drive which made him in all-star defenceman last season.

Captain Sid Abel was enthusiastic about the play of linemates Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay.

THEIR "BREAK" OVER—Warden Burr Reeves (right) of Draper State prison at Speigner, Ala., questions three escaped prisoners who were captured at Selma, Ala., about 50 miles west of Montgomery. Thirteen of the 19 who "walked out" of the prison have been caught. The rest, heavily armed, are believed to be the cause of a weekend crime wave in and around the capital. An extensive search for the convicts is on. At the same time, Idaho's Canyon County jail had its mass jailbreak. Six of the ten who escaped have been captured, leaving only four at large.

Purple Cow Man Gelett Burgess Dies

CARMEL, Calif., Sept. 19 (AP)—Gelett Burgess, 85-year-old New York and California humorist, died of a heart attack Tuesday.

He was known as "The Purple Cow man" for his famous verse:

"I never saw a purple cow
I never hope to see one;
But I can tell you anyhow,
I'd rather see than be one."

WINNIPEG, Sept. 19 (CP)—Dr. S. F. Leavine, mayor of Kitchener, arrived here Tuesday to inspect flood rehabilitation and attend the opening of the B. F. Goodrich building on Ellice Avenue. Mayor Garnet Coulter, of Winnipeg, greeted the Ontario mayor, who was accompanied by W. E. Ireland, vice-president of the B. F. Goodrich Company of Canada, Ltd.

Textile Row Intrudes At CCL Parley

VANCOUVER, Sept. 19 (CP)—An international row in the Textile Workers' Union of America (CIO-CCL) is due to have repercussions at the current convention of the Canadian Congress of Labor here.

The scrap will revolve around Sam Baron of Hamilton, member of the key executive committee of the congress and "purged" former chief of the Canadian branch of the union.

At stake is Baron's CCL executive job, one of the 41 top posts in the 350,000-member congress.

Baron, a top figure in CCL councils for several years, was booted out of his TWUA Canadian directorship last year by Emile Rieve, international president of that union at New York, in an internal union battle.

The general supposition in Canadian union circles has been that Baron got the heave because, as a member of the union's international board, he opposed Rieve's purging of George Baldzani, TWUA executive vice-president.

At Convention

To supplant Baron, Rieve appointed J. Harold d'Aoust of Nashua, NH, and d'Aoust is at the convention here with a group backing him for Baron's coveted executive job.

While the burly d'Aoust declined to say anything for publication, members of his group represented him as feeling that he has more right to a congress executive job than Baron.

"Because he is the appointed Canadian director of the union," one spokesman said, "it would seem that he is the logical man to speak for the Canadian members of the TWUA."

This spokesman admitted that Baron supporters among the TWUA delegates at the convention outnumbered those of d'Aoust.

Asked about the reports that d'Aoust would be gunning for his executive job, Baron said he saw in this an extension into the CCL of the purge launched against him in the United States.

He said he is going to stand for re-election to the executive committee and feels certain the congress delegates "will give the proper answer to the leadership of our international union."

Grateful Citizens

RIVERSIDE, Sept. 19—(CP)—Riverside town council had a pleasant experience for a municipal body Monday night when a delegation of citizens arrived in council chambers not to complain or criticize—as is so often the case—but to thank council for a job well done. The delegation thanked council for sending the town grader into their district to level the road which has been giving trouble.

"She chases her tail, as dachshunds sometimes do, but she often catches her leg by mistake," said Mrs. Eubank.

Four Have Polio Soldier Home

ST. DAVID'S, Ont., Sept. 19 (CP)—An anxious Canadian soldier came home from Korea Tuesday, just three days after he learned that his four children had been taken to hospital with poliomyelitis.

Sgt. Ralph Essex, on the orderly room staff of the Princess Patricias Light Infantry, flew from Korea to his Niagara district home in 72 hours after being granted 30 days compassionate leave.

"I went numb when I first heard the news," said Sgt. Essex.

Tuesday night he visited his children in Hamilton General Hospital. He brought them treats which he hastily picked up on the way.

Three of the children, Marilyn, 11, Jane, 8, and David, 3, appear to be well on the way to recovery, he said. "We are still concerned about Ann, who is 10."

Sgt. Essex, who has served nine months in Korea, said he "was astounded at the speed in which I returned home. Everybody seemed to be ready to help me. It was wonderful."

Making Progress On Alcoholism

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP)Researchers at the University of Toronto and at Queen's University, are making progress in their study of alcoholism, reform institutions Minister Foote said Tuesday.

Addressing an alumni gathering at Wycliffe College, he said experiments in this field during the last two years have been so successful that they must be permitted to continue. Lack of money was the main stumbling block for the scientists.

Biochemists have found, in many cases, that the theory that alcoholism is a mental condition is entirely false, he said. They had discovered that alcoholism was induced by an imbalance of the adrenal glands, either from birth or brought on by drinking.

"Of course we can't cure all alcoholics," the minister said.

But by administration of adrenalin extracts many victims could be cured. This method, together with developments in antabuse and psychiatric treatment, was winning the fight against alcoholism.

NORTHFLEET, Kent, England (CP)—When Peter Newell and Cynthia Payne were married here recently, the clergyman who performed the ceremony was also their boss. The newlyweds are members of a repertory theatre and the vicar, the Rev. A. E. M. Johnson, is chairman of the theatre's management committee.

Hitchhiker Pulls Gun On Driver

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP) — Harold Lindsay, 32, of Guelph said a hitchhiker, who claimed he had escaped from Guelph Reformatory, threatened him with a gun today and forced him to drive through Toronto and into the suburban Scarborough area before Lindsay managed to escape.

Lindsay, driving to Toronto on business, picked up the young man near Acton in the Guelph area. He drove him through Brampton and into the northern section of Toronto. As he stopped to get street directions his passenger pulled a pistol and said "I'm a Guelph escapee."

Lindsay said the man directed him to drive through Toronto until they got to the Scarborough area. There they stopped at a service station. Lindsay got out of his automobile and dashed across the highway.

The hitch-hiker ran off in another direction. Police searched the area but were not able to find him.

Police said there have been two prisoners escaped from Guelph recently but could not say whether this man was one of them.

Harriman Blamed For Seaway Proposal

SCRANTON, Pa., Sept. 19 (AP)—A top leader of the United Mine Workers said Tuesday the US government is plugging for the St. Lawrence seaway because a bank of which W. Averell Harriman is an officer "is interested in financing newly discovered iron ore deposits in Labrador."

The statement was made to the district 1 UMW convention by Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the international and John L. Lewis' right hand man.

In Washington, the White House quoted Harriman as saying he never heard of the Labrador financing plan.

Harriman is a special presidential assistant and trouble-shooter.

DP Newspaper Fights Back At Communism

TORONTO, Sept. 19—(CP)—The first edition of a weekly Bulgarian language newspaper, designed to combat Communist propaganda in North America, was published Tuesday.

"Today we start to fight back," said Dr. Ivan Docheff, a Displaced Person who came to Canada in May and now works in a Toronto furniture factory.

"I was jolted from my dreams of peace as soon as I got here," he told an interviewer. "Along with several other Bulgarian displaced persons I soon received a copy of the Communist newspaper being circulated here, written in the Bulgarian language and publishing lies about conditions at home and about free people in democratic governments."

The Bulgarian National Herald is the answer. It will carry the words of Dr. Docheff and others who suffered under Communist persecution in Bulgaria.

Works At Nights

Together with friends who worked to get him out of Europe, the doctor worked nights in a printing shop to develop the paper. It will tell of the workings of the United Nations, the truth about the Korean war and about Communist activities around the world.

Dr. Docheff is the former head of the Bulgarian National (Anti-Communist) Legion and secretary-general of the Union of Bulgarian Farmers. He said his father and brother were killed by the Communists, who also hold his mother and another brother.

He said copies of the newspaper will be distributed wherever there are Bulgarian-speaking communities in the continent.

Thanksgiving Service Held

APSLEY, Sept. 19 —(ENS)—Thanksgiving service was held in St. George the Martyr Anglican church Sunday evening. The church had been beautifully decorated with flowers, fruit and grain by members of the Ladies Guild.

The service was partially choral led by members of the choir. Miss Jones took as her subject Thanksgiving, telling of festivals observed by children of Israel in thanksgiving to God for the many blessings received at his hands.

Flowers on the altar were placed there in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith, pioneers of St. George's church. Mrs. Smith was a former Sunday School teacher.

Ever Heard of the Animal Farmer?

During the fall, the western pika cures grass into hay before storing it.

Unlike most other animals, the pika carefully gathers grasses and spreads them to dry in the warm autumn sunshine. When they are fully cured, he stores them in a dry, easily accessible place for winter feeding.

CANADA POST OFFICE

Auctions are fun...but lost parcels aren't funny!

A lady you never heard of just bought the lovely tea set you mailed to Aunt Sophie last year. Not much fun for you in that, but nice for the lady who got it for half what you paid for it.

The gift didn't reach Aunt Sophie because the Post Office just couldn't read the address on the package, or the wrapper came off because the package wasn't tied securely. The Post Office couldn't return the gift to you because there was no return address on, or inside the parcel.

Along with 6,000,000 other letters, circulars and packages—toys, wearing apparel, surveying instruments and even a horse collar—the tea set went to the Dead Letter Office, Canada's largest lost and found department. Experts couldn't figure out where the package was to go.

The package was stored for a year, but no one enquired about it. With thousands of others it was catalogued and sold at auction. That's when the lady you never heard of legally bought Aunt Sophie's tea set.

Visit your Post Office for accurate weighing and correct postage and for courteous advice on addressing and wrapping.

PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER

VOL. CIII. No. 66 — WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 19, 1951 — PRICE FIVE CENTS

50-Ft. Piece Of Land Blocks Road

May Expropriate Property Owned By Hugh Stewart

Expropriation by the township of North Monaghan of a 50-foot stretch of Weller St. at the rear of Civic Hospital is mooted as a practical means of opening a short route down town from new residential property on that frontier of the city.

This piece of new road abutting the hospital property to the north extends easterly 50 feet, by its 66 feet regulation width, from the old fence line running north and south on the west side of the property that was bought from Hugh Stewart for the site of Civic Hospital.

The wire fence shown in the picture on this page is part of of that western border of the hospital lot, but the wire barrier extends northerly across the present west end of Weller St. As residential expansion continues to the west from the fence line and on to Wallis Drive, north and south, and eventually, perhaps, further west, general opinion is that Weller St. should become a main thoroughfare toward the centre of the city.

More or less official city opinion takes the position that because the fence line indicated by the wire barrier is a link in the western border of the city, at present, the question of opening Weller St. for such traffic is properly a problem pointing at North Monaghan council.

West of the short stretch of wire across the end of Weller St. is township territory; east of it is the roadway along the north front of the Civic Hospital property.

City's purchase from Mr. Stewart did not include his major block of property to the north of the hospital and the long extension of Weller St. to the western fence line.

City opinion is to the effect that it is a responsibility of the township.

Traffic Blocked

Meanwhile, traffic cannot pass westerly at the far end of Weller St. to a new piece of road laid by the township from the fence line to Wallis Drive. Information is that such traffic has to go south to Sherbrooke St. or north to Park Hill Road to get into the centre of the city, until Weller St. is made available for that new traffic on the west side of the city but actually in the township.

Presumably the right of way has been retained by Mr. Stewart, and that it is to him the township should look in negotiating for the lifting of wire blockade that is preventing traffic from going to and from Wallis Drive.

It is understood that Mr. Stewart gave to the city the road allowance for what has become the extension of Weller St. from its former terminus, past Civic Hospital property to the north, up to the final 50 feet that ends at the wire barrier.

Tactical Error

If a Norwood man had disregarded a speeding summons and not come to court Tuesday, he would be $12.50 richer. William Matheson appeared and pleaded not guilty to a charge of speeding. He pointed out that the summons charged him with speeding on September 20 of this year. Magistrate W. R. Philp pointed out that Matheson, once in court, was not charged on the summons, but on the information read by the magistrate. And the information had the right date—August 25—on it. But if Matheson had stayed away, said His Worship, very likely nothing could have been done about it, as the summons bore the wrong date.

James Wharry To Speak To City Dentists

James G. Wharry will be the first layman figuratively to start on its way the dental public health week in Peterborough city and county.

For five years dentists have been carrying on this project of education of the public and prevention of decay of teeth. Some of them have been more interested in it than others, but at any rate it has been an annual effort for five years. Custom now established provides for an opening dinner at which the guest speakers have been dentists or doctors.

This year it is going to be the first vice-president of Quaker Oats Company of Canada who made considerable stir of newspaper type with his talk to the directors of the CNE.

Films, Lectures

Anyway, Mr. Wharry is booked for the dinner on Monday, Oct. 1. The week's program continues until Saturday. There will be films and short lectures on maintaining dental health to the school children of the city and county.

The purpose of this undertaking by dentists is to try to keep teeth whole. From what was said in other years they don't have to worry about appointments and that sort of thing.

They prefer to keep teeth sound and efficient for their health job rather than to have to fix up or replace teeth that have fallen into disrepair.

Mr. Wharry's subject to the dental public health week company will be:-"Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread."

Recreation Com. Expanded To 14

The Recreation Commission Tuesday night welcomed one new member, accepted a resignation from another and voted three others to the commission.

G. B. (Bev) Goulding, voted to the commission in May, was welcomed to his first meeting Tuesday night. He is filling the vacancy left by the playgrounds chairman, Mrs. Robert Whalen.

At the same time A. E. Borland, chairman of the adult education committee, by letter announced his resignation. He explained that he was being retired from the civil service at the post office and would not be in the city, except for short periods, in the next year.

Wilfred Langan, chairman of the policy committee, recommended three people, Mrs. Charles Hurst, Mrs. Charles Pilon and D. J. Fitzgerald, appointed to the commission. They will fill vacancies left by Mr. Borland and Mrs. James Wharry, chairman of the arts and crafts, who resigned in June.

The three appointments enlarged the commission to 14 members.

Child Breaks Down Relating Parents' Quarrel Before Shot

Judgment in the preliminary hearing of a murder charge against Mrs. Lillian Thompson, 35, was reserved Tuesday by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, to Thursday. On Thursday his worship will rule on the admissibility of a statement made to Dr. Herbert Young, the coroner, and second, on whether Mrs. Thompson will be committed for trial on a charge of murdering her husband, Roy Thompson, 37.

Mrs. Thompson's daughter, Betty, a Grade 7 public school pupil, broke down Tuesday on the witness stand, and at the same time her mother collapsed in tears in the prisoner's box.

Betty had just told the court of an argument between her mother and father. She said she heard her father ask for the keys to the car, and then "I heard daddy swearing."

"Then I heard a crash. I heard Daddy say he didn't care if he tore the wall off," Betty said.

Then, said Betty, her parents went outside to the car, she heard some "mumbling," and they came back in.

"Then we heard a door open. I think it was the bedroom door.

Heard Bang

"After that we heard a bang that sounded as if it was a picture that fell. Then we heard mummy on the phone," she said.

"Did you hear what she said?" asked Crown Attorney Bradshaw. "I heard Mummy say she shot daddy."

Betty had been upstairs with a playmate, 14-year-old Nancy Scott, who corroborated parts of Betty's evidence.

Last Wednesday, Dr. Young testified that he asked questions of Mrs. Thompson and received answers, and that he gave her a warning to the effect that she need not say anything, but anything she

Commission To Recommend Little Lake For Picnics

The first step towards using Little Lake and its shores for summer recreations such as picnics, swimming and boating was made Tuesday night by the Recreation Commission.

Policy committee chairman, Wilfred Langan, introduced a recommendation that Point St. Charles be developed further as a picnic area for small groups. He suggested that swings and slides, two or three fireplaces, water and toilet facilities and park benches be placed there.

The recommendation followed an investigation by the policy committee.

Mr. Langan pointed out that the city needs more picnic grounds than Nicholls Oval. He explained that the point park was central and could cater to small groups from the south and west districts.

May Cost $20,000

Although the cost would be high, estimated at $20,000, Mr. Langan added that the committee thought it was "a pity that the bay in Little Lake is not developed into a swimming area."

Because the bank is wider at the west end, near Point St. Charles, Mr. Langan believed there would be the best place for a beach. The site he indicated on the city may was close to the old bathing beach at the foot of Lake Street.

Royal Route Disappoints City

"It's going to be a disappointment to a lot of people," Mayor Max Swanston commented today on the recent announcement that the royal couple would not make a stopover in Cobourg.

"I know a lot of Peterborough people made plans to see them in Cobourg, and they are going to be disappointed unless thay make the trip to Trenton or Toronto," the Mayor added.

Hopeful plans of many Peterborough people were made when it was announced that the stopover would be lengthened to 8 minutes from 5. Then, officials in charge of the tour said the royal couple would fly from Trenton to Toronto on October 5, instead of going by train.

Still, there are many who plan to make the trip at least to Trenton or Toronto. Some people have made plans to see the Prince and Princess in both places.

Trenton Women Make Tour Of City Plants

Members of a Women's Institute in the Trenton area drew a blank in their expected call to a modern dairy plant in their tour of Peterborough today. They were informed that local dairies are no longer delivering on Wednesdays.

The party of some 33 women arrived promptly at 11 am at the Quaker Oats plant, followed by lunch at Hooper's. Their route for the afternoon included a visit to De Laval Company, Armour Hill, and possibly at Dominion Woollens.

R. T. Bell, assistant agricultural representative, was in charge of the local arrangements. Mrs. G. E. Wilson, chairman of the Canadian Industries and Agriculture Committee of York Road Women's Institute, was director of the party for this trip. Included in the community representatives were women from Trenton, Brighton and Smithfield.

Twin Girls Flourish In Civic Incubators

Twin baby girls have been residents of Civic Hospital for more than a month.

The twins, Carol and Caroline, are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Garfield Newton, RR 4, Havelock, and were admitted to the Peterborough hospital August 9. At the time of admission, Carol was four days old and Caroline two days old. They were born in Havelock Nursing Home.

On August 9, Carol weighed 3 pounds 4 ounces, and Caroline 2 pounds 15¼ ounces. Today their weights were given by hospital officials, with Carol tipping the scales at 4 pounds 8½ ounces, and Caroline at 4 pounds 5½ ounces.

The babies are in incubators, and no definite information can be obtained as to when they will be able to go home. However, incubator babies are usually discharged when they reach 5 pounds.

All Parties Shirking

Malcolm Robb Demands Immediate Conscription

A demand for immediate conscription to build up the manpower for Canada's armed forces was made Tuesday night by Malcolm Robb, Belleville lawyer. Mr. Robb was guest speaker at the Peterborough Sales and Ad Club meeting.

Mr. Robb chose as his subject "The High Price of Survival," and he delivered a blistering criticism of the present defence policy.

"We desperately need a lot of manpower for our armed forces—active and reserve," he said. "We won't get it without conscription which is the only fair and logical way."

He accused the present government of being of the same calibre as the one that led Canada's war effort in the Second World War, and whom he accused of dodging the reinforcement question.

His verdict on the Second World War leaders was that they were guilty of "sheer funk and vacillation." And he asked his audience if they really believed the present leaders would act differently.

Parallels Reds

"The constant Communist propaganda for 'no conscription' is perilously parallel to the attitude of our government," said Mr. Robb, a former RCAF pilot.

"The truth is we must have conscription even if it means the destruction of a political party."

Mr. Robb paused in his attack long enough to explain that he was not playing politics. All the political parties are equally guilty when it comes to being coy about conscription, he said. And he quoted Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent and other government leaders, as well as Opposition Leader George Drew to back up his contention.

"This attitude is going to continue," he predicted, "until the people put the whip to their MPs in Ottawa to get a policy that will maintain a survival of this country."

The audience of salesmen and other businessmen—out for their first "stag" of the year—also fell under his censure. Not enough interest is taken in the defence manpower problem by businessmen. There is a general attitude of "amused cynicism."

"You gentlemen are failures as citizens of a democracy," he said, "complete and sound failures."

That is why speakers have to keep coming back to service clubs and professional groups and re-warn their audiences about the danger of Communism, said Mr. Robb.

Two Dangers

The speaker said there are two forces that can destroy Canada. One is inflation and the other is Russian Communism.

"Russia wants nothing less than the whole world," he said. At present half of her productivity is devoted to military purposes. And in manpower Russia has control over a population totalling 800,000,000, or a third of the world population.

In a coming war we will be fighting against the unlimited manpower of Russia and China, he warned. In the Second World War these resources were on our side.

Continuingthis pessimistic appraisal, he said that also in the Second World War there were 1,000,000 Indian troops, mostly under British leadership. Their participation in any coming war involving Russia is "doubtful."

Russia will choose her own time and select her own geographical area for a conflict, picking the weakest point on 30,000 miles of front. An obvious target for her expansion is the industrial potential of west Europe.

"We need every ally we can get, dubious or otherwise," he said. "To give up that industrial area is criminal folly."

"Our bare minimum for survival is: everything we've got."

Illusion

One of the greatest illusions, said Mr. Robb, is that Canada is a small country and her contribution to the pooled defence effort should be small.

"We have more at stake than any other country in the world. We have a long frontier and the reason we have a small population is that we have never had a political party with sufficient power to kill the pressure groups that are against immigration."

"But that doesn't lessen the frontier that has to be defended nor does it lessen the urgency."

Another illusion is that this situation has come on us very suddenly. The march of events has been inexorable and obvious, said Mr. Robb. Russia has steadily announced her plans for world conquest.

Maybe the Canadian people didn't know the danger, he continued, but that was because all the political parties were at fault in not telling the people the truth. Politicians don't want to talk about anything but baby bonuses, pensions and other inocuous subjects.

"Another illusion is that Canada is something of an arsenal and that relieves us of the responsibility of gathering together troops. But this is no arsenal except in the minds of certain cabinet ministers and public relations officers in Ottawa."

Need Trained Troops

"You don't win wars with newspaper headlines, but with troops efficiently trained and armed—and, above all, the men have to be there.

"There's something pathetic about a country gazing daily at the headlines announcing the movement of a single platoon as much as seven or eight miles behind the lines. Even the menu is printed.

"The same sort of publicity accompanied the movement of a single squadron to England.

"How stupid can we get?" he demanded.

"Arsenal of democracy. That's what we heard in the last war and yet this country never made a complete aircraft engine. Not even one for a Tiger Moth. And they still haven't."

The manufacture of tanks was ballyhooed by the press relations officers, and yet while they were being turned out soldiers knew they were obsolescent, he said.

"Apart from individual and unit performance Canada had a pretty shabby record compared to what she was capable of doing."

"We need that manpower," he reiterated, "and conscription is the only fair and logical way."

The speaker was introduced by Gerry Grady and thanked by George VanKoughnett. President Bert Cowan was in the chair.

Children's Aid Society To Make Survey To Push City Mental Health Clinic

Needed Every Day—Miss Rachael Young; Dr. Kelly, C. S. Browne Hope For Centre To Aid Peterborough Citizens, Students

New life was put into the project of establishing a mental health clinic in Peterborough this week. Monday, the Rotary club were presented with a forcible argument that a mental health clinic was definitely needed in Peterborough by Dr. J. D. M. Griffin, director of the Canadian Mental Care Association. Dr. Griffin said then that mental health is a major health problem in Peterborough just the same as it is in other communities. And that it was unusual and remarkable that this need had not been felt strongly enough to establish a clinic.

Following his talk to the Rotary Club, Dr. Griffin made visits to people in the city whom he felt would be interested.

The first positive action in this regard, following Dr. Griffin's visit, was taken at the Tuesday meeting of the board of directors of the Children's Aid Society.

Mrs. J. H. Wharry

The board nominated Mrs. J. H. Wharry to organize a committee with the job of finding out about clinics in other cities and to report to the board at the next meeting. Following this report the advisability of holding an open meeting with representatives from other city organizations to discuss the problem and decide how best it could be met was considered by the board.

The matter was brought before the board by the Rev. Ivan Morgan of Murray St. Baptist Church, who gave a summary of what Dr. Griffin had suggested.

These suggestions included the setting up of a clinic with a personnel of three—a psychiatrist, a psychologist and a trained psychiatric social worker.

Mr. Morgan explained that the need for this type of clinic had been felt for a long time, but that the excuse had always been given that specially trained personnel was not available. This lack, he said, is not present today.

Needed By Society

"We have a constant need in our work for the psychiatric service that a mental health clinic would provide," Miss Rachael Young, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, said today.

"We haven't any more need than other communities, but other communities have done something about it. Nearly every day a situation with a child or family is presented to us where this type of help is needed."

Miss Young went on to explain that this district had the services of a travelling mental health clinic for some time, but that it discontinued during the Second World War, due to lack of personnel. This travelling clinic had its centre in Cobourg, and served the Counties of Northumberland, Durham, Victoria, Peterborough and Hamilton.

Supports Project

Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, supported Miss Young in saying that there is a definite need for a clinic in this city.

He said that such a clinic had been established at St. Catharines, a city comparable in size to Peterborough (population 30,275 in the 1941 census). This clinic is financed by a provincial-municipal agreement.

Carl S. Browne, principal of PCVS, said today that services of a psychiatrist was definitely needed in any school the size of Peterborough Collegiate.

These services could also be profitably used in the city's public schools, P. D. Windrim, Inspector of Public Schools in Peterborough, explained.

He also said that schools in Ottawa, Toronto and London had their own psychiatric service.

His Worship Mayor M. J. Swanston said that the Ontarjo government had been approached about the establishment of a diagnostic mental hospital being set up in the city to serve both Peterborough and the surrounding district.

BEHIND THE GRIM WALLS of Kingston Penitentiary, WEEKEND sports editor Andy O'Brien found a two-year recreation experiment in progress which had already achieved a miracle in morale. In one of the most unusual sports features to appear in print, he tells this Saturday how judicious recreational programs have solved many of Warden Allen's ABOVE serious problems.

Faded Sask. Documents Recall Explorers Of The Northwest

WINNIPEG (CP) — A judge's messenger reached into a desk at the legislative buildings here recently and drew out a few more pages of Canada's secluded past.

The faded and brittle documents he held in his hand were written proof that "Yankee" traders had penetrated as far north as Fort Ellice, Sask., as eraly as September, 1859.

They were discovered 35 years ago in the ruins of Fort Pelly, Sask., by bank manager W. B. Galbraith when he thrust his hand into a crevice in the crumbled walls.

He kept them for a number of years and later gave them to a nephew. Their importance as Canadian history was not realized until they were shown to a Winnipeg newspaper reporter.

C. P. Wilson, editor of The Hudson's Bay Company magazine, "The Beaver," has identified one of the documents as a letter written by Archibald McDonald, who discovered the headwater of the Yukon river.

Built Fort Yukon

Another letter bore the name of Alexander Hunter Murray who built Fort Yukon in Alaska while it was still in Russian hands.

McKay, in his letter, mentions sending horses and carts with provisions to Fort Pelly.

"We are doing very little in the dried meat business but we are always getting some pemmican," he wrote. "We now hear that the buffalo is coming closer and I expect we may get provisions yet this fall."

Two agreements to work for the Hudson's Bay Company seem strange when compared to 1951. One of them—signed in 1853 by Daniel Alfred Harrison of Enfield, England, outlined an agreement to work for five years on a sliding scale of wages.

Harrison was to receive £20 for the first year, £25 for the next, £30 for the third, £40 for the fourth, and the grand sum of £50 for his fifth year service.

The second agreement was signed by Edward Monkman in 1868. He was to receive £25 for one year's work. Apparently Monkman couldn't read or write for the agreement was signed with a cryptic "X."

Steel Union Pledges Hollinger Support

VANCOUVER, Sept. 19 (CP)—The national policy conference of the United Steelworkers of America (CIO-CCL) has pledged support to workers of Hollinger Consolidated Mines Ltd. at Timmins.

A resolution presented by Local 1005 of the USWA at Hamilton to the conference here Sunday urging the federal government to nationalize the Hollinger mines was withdrawn. The conference instead adopted the pledge-of-support resolution.

(The Canadian Press reported erroneously Tuesday that the conference had passed the Hamilton resolution.)

The 1,500 USWA men at Timmins recently ended a two-month strike at the Hollinger mines.

Freed of Manslaughter

WHITBY, Sept. 19 (CP)—Mrs. Helen Bayes, 40, of Pickering township Tuesday was freed on charges of manslaughter and attempted abortion. A Supreme Court grand jury returned a "no bill" on each charge. Mrs. Bayes was arrested after the death of her neighbor, Mrs. Lloyd Cooper, 25, mother of four small children.

Countries Offer Canada Great Opportunities

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

Young Canadians today may congratulate themselves that not only have they been born into a country with vast natural resources, but that they are growing up at a time when these resources are needed.

For it would avail little to have the resources if no one wanted them. As an instance: We probably would hear little about Labrador iron except as a possibility of the dim future, if the Mesabi Range in Minnesota were not running out. And we probably would hear little about many another mineral if research had not brought about its days of special usefulness.

In brief, for Canada of this generation, supply is coinciding with increased demand. Add to this the fact that she is developing a manufacturing industry of her own, and the fact that she at last is getting some population both to develop resources and to buy the products of her own industry, and it makes a pretty picture.

Really Beginning

Perhaps we should say it makes the beginnings of a pretty picture. For the coming years of expected prosperity offer a space in which to establish a stable economy which will not be too vulnerable to outside developments.

We have come relatively late onto the stage as a world supplier, and we may tend to think we are the last of the great storehouses.

This is not, of course, the fact. There are other great areas which have yet to make their bow. Some may not make it until we have settled into a more staid way of life; but, with the pace of present-day development, some may come along sooner than we expect.

A reminder of this comes in a statement by the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development on the Belgian Congo, in the heart of Africa, with an area of 900,000 square miles, or about the area of Quebec and Ontario combined.

The statement is made in connection with approval of two 25-year loans—one for $40,000,000 to the Congo, guaranteed by Belgium; and one for $30,000,000 to Belgium itself. Both sums are for development of the Congo and are only a part of a planned expenditure equal to $600,000,000 in a 10-year development plan — 1950-60.

The bank's statement says in part:

"The Belgian Congo is a vast area, thinly inhabited by 11,000,000 Africans and 58,000 Europeans.

"Exploration and development began only at the end of the last century. From a slow start the pace of development accelerated rapidly, especially during the last war.

"The Congo is responsible for more than half the world's production of cobalt and industrial diamonds and is a leading producer of uranium. It is the fourth or fifth largest producer of copper and tin. Gold and zinc, and an increasing tonnage of manganese, also are exported.

Just As Important

"Agricultural exports almost equal mineral exports in value—including vegetable oils, oil-bearing nuts, cotton, coffee and copal.

"Total exports have tripled in tonnage and increased six times in value in 20 years, reaching in 1950 a record value equal to $330,000,000. The Congo now has a trade surplus with every major currency area, including around $10,000,000 directly with the dollar area."

Developments, such as those in the Congo, while they may suggest competition, also offer opportunities. For, as the bank puts it:

"The plan will mean imports into the Congo from countries other than Belgium. It will occasion greater Belgian production and exports to the Congo. This increased activity will give rise to larger imports of raw materials and consumer goods into Belgium itself, and to a diversion into home markets of goods which might otherwise have been exported."

Canadians have in the past shown a fair flair for taking part in the development of other countries, despite the job of developing their own. Today they are in a better position than ever to get in on the ground floor of developments in other parts of the world.

More distantly—in any well-run world, if we can accomplish such, the problems should not be ones of over-supply. Rather, they should be problems of the best use of available supply for a better way of life for all peoples.

For some time—though it will take a while—we shall have to learn to live so that our prosperity will not be dependent upon consuming our resources as fast as we can.

Make Fewer Products At Higher Prices

REGINA, Sept. 19 (CP)—John C. McGuire, general sales manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth-Fargo division of the Chrysler Corporation of Canada, said Tuesday the automotive industry is headed for fewer products at higher prices.

He said in an interview that many materials used in making Canadian cars are obtained from government-controlled American sources. The quantities of these materials available for Canadian manufacturers would lessen considerably.

With less merchandise, there would be a lower sales volume and prices would go up because of the high level of operating expenses.

Bruce Armstrong Urges Uniforms For Schoolgirls

NANAIMO — (CP) — High school girls should dress in some kind of uniform, trustee Bruce Armstrong believes.

It would tend to keep their minds off the opposite sex, help them apply themselves more to their studies, but above all would be welcomed as an economy move by their parents, he said.

Making his suggestion "off the record" he received so much encouragement from the board that his statement was made public. Public reaction, however, is sought before the board will formally deal with the proposal.

Armstrong said two parents had spoken to him about it and he has discussed it with several others, all of whom endorsed the plan. At present, he said, girls have to vie with one another in matters of dress. Those unable to have enough changes got inferiority complexes.

Trustee C. A. Kelly, Lantzville, said that as a bachelor he refused to vote on such a plan. Supervising principal Jack Litch came into the meeting as the discussion ended.

"Don't be silly," was his muttered comment.

Marjorie Clark Bride Of John A. Edmison

In Knox United Church Saturday afternoon the marriage was solemnized of Marjorie Harriett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Clark, 565 Riverside Drive, to Mr. John Alexander Edmison, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Edmison of Smith. The Rev. H. G. Douglas officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Baskets of gladioli at the altar were banked with ferns. Wedding music was played by Mr. Wm. Potter. Before the bride entered the church Miss Betty Lavoie sang "The Lord's Prayer" and during signing of the register she sang "Because."

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was gowned in white slipper satin with Brussels lace forming the shoulder yoke and a pointed overskirt edged with seed pearls. The satin sleeves tapered to lily points at the wrist and the full skirt fell into a long train. Her Queen Anne headdress of silk net was edged with seed pearls and she carried a cascade of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Cameron Bothwell, sister of the bride, as matron of honor was gowned in mauve lace over taffeta with skirt extending in a slight train. Her hat was of mauve lace and she carried a bouquet of mauve gladioli. Miss Clifford Winter of Huntingdon, Quebec, cousin of the bride, was in emerald green satin with shoulder cape, headdress of satin frill and feather, matching gauntlets, and carried an arm bouquet of salmon pink gladioli. Miss Beatrice Carins, also of Huntingdon, was wearing a gown and headdress of gold satin and carried an arm bouquet of fuchsia gladioli.

Dainty flower girl, Miss Barbara Ann Hunter of Huntingdon, cousin of the bride, was wearing a frock of white lace over yellow taffeta, a bandeau of lace and flowers and carrying a cascade of yellow baby 'mums and talisman roses. Master Dell Clark, the bride's nephew, was ring bearer, carrying the rings on a white satin cushion tied with gold ribbon.

Groomsman was Mr. Donald Milburn of Toronto. Ushers were Orville Clark, brother of the bride, and Robert Bell.

The reception was held in Knox banquet hall. The bride's mother received in a gown of winter purple crepe, wearing black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother received in powder blue crepe and wore black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Later the bride and groom left for a motor trip through northern Ontario. Travelling the bride wore a pic and pic suit with brown trim, accessories in tangerine and dark green and her corsage was talisman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmison will live in Smith Township.

St. Andrew's YPC Meets

First regular meeting of St. Andrew's United Church Young Peoples' Club was held in the church parlors Tuesday evening with a good attendance.

After an interlude of quiet music, a brief worship period was conducted by the fellowship convener. The Rev. Henry Cotton took charge of the recreation for the evening after which Bill Peltz, president, took the chair for a short discussion regarding plans for the coming season. Miss Jean Black and her assistants served lunch, during which time Miss Lois Holman entertained with some classical selections on the piano. Next week the club will meet at 7.30 for an evening of bowling.

Trousseau Tea Is Held

Many friends attended a trousseau tea given Tuesday by Mrs. Melville Moncrieff, Fowler's Corners' in honor of her daughter Isobel whose marriage to Mr. Norman Harris takes place on Saturday. Mrs. Arthur Harris, mother of the groom-elect, assisted to receive. Pouring tea in the afternoon were Mrs. Ed Preston and Mrs. Bruce Preston, and in the evening Mrs. Frank Raines and Mrs. J. Hunter, all great aunts of the bride. Assistants were Mrs. Charles Smith and Miss A. Moncrieff, both aunts of the bride. The trousseau and gifts were shown by Mrs. Claude Halleran, Miss Jessie Moncrieff, and Mrs. Beatrice Windrim. Serving refreshments were Mrs. H. Crowe, Mrs. C. Dafoe, Miss Fay Harris, Miss Edna Casey and Miss Maureen Moncrieff.

To Put In New Light

Cheerful Worker's Bible Class of St. James United Church held the first fall meeting Monday evening in the Sunday school room. Miss M. Collins took the devotional on the theme "Thanksgiving." Scripture read by Mrs. L. Ball was from Psalm 67. Mrs. J. Finnie gave a reading entitled "New every morning" and Mrs. K. Sloan read a piece titled "The Cup." President Mrs. L. Gibson was in the chair for business and welcomed the members back for the fall season. Minutes, reports and correspondence were read. Roll call showed 25 present. It was moved by Mrs. R. Watson and Mrs. Sloan that a memorial light be put in the classroom. The Rev. Heuston McCormack spoke a few words and was welcomed to the group. Mrs. S. Curry had charge of the program which included a piano duet by Marjorie Harvey and Carmen Hooey. Two contests were won by Mrs. L. Bird and Mrs. G. Pearson. The lunch was served by Mrs. R. Gilders and committee. A vote of thanks was extended by Mrs. Bird and Mrs. H. Turner to all who had contributed to the enjoyable meeting.

ed by Mrs. Douglas Knight and Miss Ruth McCubbin sang. Before the bride entered she sang "I Love You Truly" and during the signing of the register "I'll Walk Beside You."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore brocaded satin with inserted yoke of lace, the full skirt coming to a slight train. Her veil was of net edged with side silk lace in fingertip length, caught to a halo in pleated effect dotted with pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Miss Doreen Greenly, sister of the bride, and her cousin, Miss Lois Nelson, were attendants, gowned in green and yellow taffeta with net overskirts, and wearing matching hats and mittens. They carried bouquets of yellow and mauve 'mums. Flower girl Margaret Brown was dressed in pink taffeta and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

Groomsman was Mr. Douglas Stewart and the ushers were James and Irwin Greenly.

The reception was at the bride's home where her mother received in a raisin crepe and lace dress, wearing black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The couple left later on a wedding trip to Quebec and the States, the bride dressed in navy and a white topcoat and wearing corsage of red roses.

They will live at the groom's home in Warkworth.

Donald M. Warne Wed In Guelph

The marriage of Mr. Donald MacKenzie Warne, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Warne, 607 Water St., Peterborough, to Hester Ann Rogers, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. G. Hedley Basher, Elmslea, Guelph, took place Saturday in St. George's Anglican Church, Guelph. Rev. Canon Stanley Kirk conducted the ceremony.

The bride's gown was of cream velvet with embroidered decolletage of seed pearls and crystal bugle beads. Her long veil of French tulle illusion was held in place by a half-brim of matching velvet and she carried Lestra Hibbert roses, stephanotis and baby's breath. She was given in marriage by her father and attended by her sister, Miss Daphne Basher, in a period gown of mist green slipper satin with matching headdress trimmed with ostrich plumes. She carried flame gladioli and stephanotis.

Mr. Douglas Gordon, Toronto, was groomsman and ushers were John Hopkins, Toronto, and William Rowell, London.

The reception was at Cutten Fields Golf Club, the bride's mother receiving in a curry brown floor length gown with lace bodice and silk crepe skirt, hat of matching feathers and corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Warne received in sea green silk crepe with a matching feather hat and corsage of pink roses.

Guests were present from Peterborough, London, Toronto, Chicago and Truro.

After a honeymoon in Muskoka, Mr. and Mrs. Warne will live in Toronto where the groom is in his final year at Knox College.

PETER ROBINSON CHAPTER

The Peter Robinson Chapter, IODE, met Tuesday evening in the YWCA with regent Mrs. H. Baker in the chair.

Post-war convener Mrs. Don Hunter reported nine boxes had been sent overseas during the summer and read acknowledgments of some parcels sent. A number of baby jackets made up in flannelette during the summer and some knitted ones were handed to Mrs. Elwood McBrien wool convener. The members were asked for good used clothing for overseas shipment.

Business had to do with arranging the fall tea being held October 20th in the YWCA. Home cooking is to be the specialty and is in charge of Mrs. Stanley Braund, Mrs. C. C. McIntyre Mrs. H. Steggles and Mrs. P. A. Roper. Table decorations will be done by Mrs. James Heffernan, and the tea table is to be in charge of Mrs. W. Hinds and Mrs. P. C. Sanders, Mrs. C. S. Browne and Mrs. S. J. Graham. Draw for a card table and chair set is being handled by Miss Rose Mulholland and Mrs. W. L. Hardwicke.

Mrs. I. H. Keffer, film convener, arranged the showing of a Concert Album film which was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Roper and her group served refreshments at the close.

BRIDGENORTH SCHOOL

A large number was present for the opening fall meeting Tuesday evening of Bridgenorth Home and School Association. The Rev. D. P. Morris was guest speaker and in his topic "Aims of Education" stressed the aims as divided in four divisions: mental, spiritual, physical and moral and social.

"We aim to develop our mental and physical faculties and to be good sports in all our endeavors. The aims build character and the ability to mix with and be useful to our fellow men, to speak correctly and to show reverence. The supreme aim of education is to lead us to a knowledge in God" he said.

Mrs. Earl Blewett presided and welcomed the members. Mrs. Ray Nicholls, membership convener, reported a total of 64 paid up memberships. Reports by conveners of pre-school medical examinations held in June and the field day were given by Mrs. H. MacKay, Mrs. G. Ray Jr. and Mrs. E. Clarke.

Announcements were made of a junior minstrel show of grades 6, 7 and 8 talent to be put on at Bridgenorth October 18 and 19. Also a series of films to be shown in the school each Friday night in November. The October meeting will be a father's night and the program is to be taken by fathers.

Several pupils from grades 7 and 8 were present and enjoyed with the rest of the gathering two amusing songs and readings by Mrs. J. Johnson, "Poor John" and "An Elephant Never Forgets" Mrs. C. Telford accompanying, Mrs. L. Hale favored with a solo "The Arrow and the Song" with her own accompaniment.

Presentations of gifts to the boy and girl with best attendance at school last year were made Sylvia Nicholls was not absent from school throughout the term and Bob Whitehill had only two days absent. A vote of thanks to Mr. Morris was moved by Mrs. Mary Nicholls.

Mrs. E. Clarke, social convener, and committee served lovely refreshments during a social half hour.

Ethel Patterson Wed By Father To D. A. Shanks

Miss Ethel Margaret Patterson, who was until recently social worker in Peterborough with the Children's Aid Society, was married Saturday to Mr. Douglas Allen Shanks of Kingston in the Wellington Street United Church, Brantford, where the bride's father is minister and he officiated with the Rev. A. B. Irwin of Sarnia assisting.

The bride and groom are both graduates of Queen's University. She is daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Neil D. Patterson, Brantford, and he is son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Shanks, Sarnia.

Robed in ivory satin with full skirt falling into a train, Miss Patterson was given in marriage by her father. She wore a silk tulle veil trimmed with wide French lace and falling to the end of her train. It was held by a coronet of seed pearls and she carried a cascade of yellow roses with white and purple heather.

Her sister, Miss Flora E. Patterson, maid of honor, wore gold faille taffeta with matching headdress. Miss Flora MacDonald and Miss Meg Gordon who are now with the Children's Aid Society in Peterborough, and Miss Margaret Shanks, Toronto, were bridesmaids. All wore faille taffeta gowns in contrasting autumn colors with matching headdresses. Bouquets were of chrysanthemums, two of yellow and two of white.

Mr. Stuart Shanks was his brother's groomsman and Donald Shanks, Douglas Marriott, Sarnia, and Rev. Robert Shorten, Rideau Ferry, were ushers.

While in Peterborough Miss Patterson was a member of Trinity United Church choir. Soloist at her wedding was Mrs. D. Bruce Gordon who sang Malotte's "Lord's Prayer" and "The Wedding Prayer" by Dunlap. The Rev. Dr. Gordon was to have been toastmaster at the reception but was unable to attend.

Following their wedding trip to eastern Canada and United States Mr. and Mrs. Shanks will live in Kingston.

How to make milk into Baby's Favorite Dessert

RENNET DESSERTS WITH JELLY
2 cups milk (not canned)
1 package "Junket" Rennet Powder, vanilla flavor
Tart red jelly, grape jam, cranberry jelly, etc.

Prepare rennet dessert mixture according to directions on package — takes only a couple of minutes. Pour mixture at once, while still liquid, over jelly or jam in dessert glasses. Do not move until set—about 15 minutes. Then chill. Just before serving top with a spoonful of jelly or with chopped nuts (for adults).

DOROTHY DIX

Happy Living With Parents Why Should Man Marry?

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a young man, the youngest of six children. My brothers and sisters are all married and I live with my parents. I have been extremely fortunate in that I have lived in a well-adjusted home and have received more than my share of love and attention. But I am not completely happy. I feel a definite lack in my life.

Dorothy Dix

My parents have no ties on me; they are aged, it is true, but independent. I believe my solution to real happiness rests in getting married. On the whole, I enjoy being with people of the opposite sex but I have never had a desire to marry, have never fallen genuinely in love, and children in general "get on my nerves."

Sometimes I feel a certain envy when I am around a happily married couple. Then too, I realize that this present arrangement of living with parents, while convenient and wonderful, cannot last forever. That is what worries me, and makes me feel I should do something about it. Have you any suggestions?

C. F.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: Marriage and the propagation of the race are the natural destinies of man, and unless these purposes are fulfilled there is bound to be a sense of futility in life. However, no existence, married or unmarried, is perfect; sometimes the unmarried achieve a larger sense of happiness and contentment than is ever experienced by those whose matrimonial experiences have been horrible failures.

Marriage Is A Gamble

At present, you are surrounded by love, security and harmony. Marriage insures none of these. You, therefore, are confronted with a choice of sticking to the blessings you have or flying to those "ye wot not of."

Bachelorhood has its advantages, and you do well to consider them carefully before venturing into the uncertainties of wedded bliss (or misery).

Now all these little homilies sound very well, but the crux of your whole position lies in the fact that you have not yet met the girl with whom you can fall in love. And you most assuredly will. It happens to everyone. When she comes along, you'll forget all the advantages of living home with the folks, all your forebodings about marriage, and even children will suddenly all blossom into little angels whose company you adore.

I don't think you are at all in need of psychiatric care. You simply haven't found what you want. Continue to enjoy the company of girls and you'll soon find one whose smile chases all your doubts away.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: My 22-year-old daughter was engaged for nine months to a very nice, sociable boy who loves her very much. She, however, is very moody and always wants her own way. She is constantly picking arguments with him. Now she has told me she doesn't love him, and he wants me to intercede for him. I feel very badly about this as he is a nice boy and she has been very mean to him. Should she return his ring and gifts?

D. M.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: There's nothing you can do to win your daughter back to her boy friend, but since she doesn't love him, and hasn't treated him too well, I should think he's better off without her. Since he has chosen you for his confidante, try to make him see the situation in this light. He's better off learning these things now than if he had married, then found out your daughter was spoiled.

The ring must be returned, gifts may be kept or returned, depending upon their value and the occasions for which they were given. A birthday or Christmas gift, not too costly, may be retained.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a girl of 15 with a talent for music. I play the guitar and sing. Someday I hope to sing over the radio. My problem is bashfulness. Even though I have sung in public a few times, I get so self-conscious I'm afraid I'll never realize my ambition. How can I overcome this fault?

BROWNIE

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: No one with your accomplishments should be self-conscious. When you are singing, think only of your audience, and not of yourself. After all, putting all thoughts of self in the background is the only way to appear at ease in public. I hope you'll get the chance you want and will be successful in your career.

FUNNY BUSINESS -- By Hershberger

"George squawks about indirect lighting, so he made a chandelier out of the new floor lamp!"

What's Right?

You would like to invite some friends to help you and your husband celebrate a wedding anniversary—but are afraid some of the guests will feel they should bring gifts, which you do not want them to do.

WRONG: Ask one of the friends to tell the others that you don't want them to bring gifts.

RIGHT When you invite your guests, don't mention that the date is your wedding anniversary but tell them after they arrive .

MARY MOORE SAYS:

Special Menu To Entertain Immigrants

The "special-purpose" of this menu was to entertain our relatives, who have emigrated to Canada—having lived in Putney in London Town for nigh onto fifty years.

These are delightful folk who told us more about Gawcott in Lancashire, where my father was born, than we can remember from Father himself.

Needless to say we wanted to serve roast beef and Yorkshire pudding but decided to leave that to them when we go to their home, for it would be presumptuous for us to jump them on this dish that they make with such authority. They tell us that we should use a high trivet to raise the roast to, after the Yorkshire pudding is added to the pan, so the meat drippings baste and saturate it while it is baking. My mouth is watering for some of it as I write and it is only ten o'clock in the morning.

Our Canadian-type menu, served in the garden since it was fine, was

Baked Chicken Supeme
Squash Souffle
Creamed Mixed Cauliflower and Broccoli
Hot Parkerhouse Rolls
Salad Plate of Green Pepper and Cucumber Strips
Tomato Wedges
Radish Roses
Open-Face Peach Pie Hot Tea
Danish Blue Cheese

DIRECTIONS: For the Baked Chicken Supreme we used a 7 lb. roasting chicken, and cut it up into pieces for serving, cutting the breasts and thighs into four serving pieces, for we had to serve seven. Place in large baking dish or glass casserole, dredge with flour, salt and pepper, and dot with one-quarter cup butter or margarine. Place in oven of 425 deg. Fahr. for 15 minutes, covered, then reduce heat to 350 deg. Fahr., after basting with one quarter of a mixture of ¼ cup butter or margarine, ½ cup cream and ¼ cup boiling water. Baste at 15 minute intervals with the remainder of this basting liquid 3 times. If chicken is not tender in this time, reduce heat to 300 deg. Fahr. until it is, being sure it is covered. When chicken is tender, lift it to hot platter and thicken the gravy in baking dish with flour paste made of 3 tablespoons flour, and ½ cup cream, stirring it until thick. Add salt and pepper if needed. Strain this over the chicken on platter. (This dish is delicious with popovers.)

The souffle treatment is especially good for pureed carrots, turnips, onions, spinach and squash—all vegetables that are not universally popular. Melt ¼ cup margarine and stir in ¼ cup flour, then pour on gradually while stirring, ⅓ cup cream or rich milk and ⅓ cup water in which vegetable was cooked. Add 1 or 2 cups of the pureed vegetable and the yolks of 2 or 3 eggs beaten until thick and lemon coloured. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of 2 or 3 eggs. Add salt and pepper. Turn into buttered baking dish and bake in slow oven until well-risen and golden. Serve at once as this collapses.

There was a surplus of peaches in our house this week-end so we were obliged to use them for dessert. We made a square open-face peach pie in the jelly-roll tin. It cut enough pieces for twelve. We used 1¼ cups sugar and 2 tablespoons minute tapioca, 12 large peaches and ⅓ cup coarsely chopped pecans for the filling. We decided it was good enough for a repeat performance.

6—In Memoriam

CLARK—In fond and loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Helen Clark, who passed away one year ago today.
—Ever remembered by Isabel and Carman.

CLARK—In loving memory of my dear mother, Helen Taylor Clark, whom God called home one year ago today.
We watched her suffer day by day,
It caused us bitter grief
To see her slowly pine away
And could not give relief.
Her weary hours and days of pain,
Her troubled nights are passed,
And in our aching hearts we know,
She has found sweet rest at last.
'Tis sweet to know we shall meet again,
Where parting is no more,
That my dear mother I loved so well,
Has only gone before.
God knows how much I miss her,
He counts the tears I shed,
And whispers, "Hush, she only sleeps,
Your mother is not dead."
Some day, some time, my eyes shall see
The face I loved so well,
Some day, some time, her hand I'll clasp,
And never say farewell.
—Ever loving son, Bob.

CLARK—In loving memory of a loving wife and mother, Mrs. Helen Taylor Clark, who passed away, Tuesday, September 19, 1950.
Remembrance is a golden chain
Death tries to break, but all in vain;
To have, to love, and then to part,
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart.
The years may wipe out many things,
But this they wipe out never—
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
—Sadly missed by husband Bruce and family.

ELMHIRST — Lovingly remembering "Mother," who left us for higher service one year ago, Sept. 19.
There comes a time for all of us
When we must say good-bye,
But faith and hope and love and trust
Can never, never die.
Although the curtain falls at last,
Is that a cause to grieve?
The future's fairer than the past
If only we believe
And trust in God's eternal care.
So when the Master calls
Let's say that life is still more fair,
Although the curtain falls.
—Frank Elmhirst and family, Keene.

FERGUSON—In loving memory of a dear mother, Annie Ferguson, who passed away one year ago today.
She suffered patiently and long,
Her hope was bright, her faith was strong,
The peace of Jesus filled her breast,
And in His arms she went to rest.
—Sadly missed by Ken, Audrey and family.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

6—In Memoriam

FERGUSON—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Donald Ferguson, who passed away Sept. 19, 1950.
Nothing can ever take away,
The love a heart holds dear,
Remembrance keeps her near.
—Remembered by Pete and Luella.

FOSTER—In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. J. Foster, who died Sept. 18, 1946.
Safe in God's beautiful garden,
Sheltered from sorrow and pain,
Safe in His wonderful keeping,
Until we shall meet her again.
—Ever remembered by daughters, Thelma (Mrs. Welch), Dorothy (Mrs. Hope) and son Albert.

FOSTER—In loving memory of Mrs. J. W. Foster, who passed away September 18, 1946.
There is a link death cannot sever,
Love and remembrance lasts forever.
—Ever remembered by husband and son Ross.

McMILLAN—In loving memory of Donald McMillan, who passed away one year ago the 19th.
Those whom we love go out of sight,
But never out of mind,
They are cherished in the hearts
Of those they leave behind.
Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days,
Sincere and true in heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
—Sadly missed by friends.

ROWLAND—In loving memory of our dear Phyllis, who passed away 12 years ago today.
Still loved—still missed—still very dear.
—Mother and family.

WHITNEY — In loving memory of Trudy Adele, who passed away two years ago, September 19.
She was only a sweet little rosebud,
A sweet little flower from birth,
God took her home to heaven,
Before she was soiled on earth.
—Lovingly remembered by mother and brother Perry.

7—Cards of Thanks

The family of the late C. A. Jos. Duranceau wish to express their heartfelt thanks to the Sisters and nurses of St. Joseph's Hospital, the clergy, the attending doctors, and the 'Bert Duffus funeral directors, for kind help and assistance in their recent sad bereavement; also to friends and neighbours who visited, sent flowers, telegrams and cards.

Textile Mill Workers Take Gov't Course

Two employees of the Dominion Woollens and Worsteds Company, Casper Wiechorek and Alastair Fettes, are attending the Provincial Institute of Textiles in Hamilton this year.

Mr. Wiechorek was employed by the company two years after receiving his secondary school education at PCVS and this year is entering his final year of three-year full time diploma course. Mr. Fettes, winner of a scholarship offered by the company, is entering his first year of the three-year course. He was employed with the company during the summer months.

The Institute was established four years ago in Hamilton by the Ontario government to provide the textile industry with trained technicians. The textile industry which is concentrated mostly in Ontario and Quebec, employs more than any other single industry in Canada.

PAPA CRANE spread his wings in apparent disbelief in the Philadelphia Zoo when he became the father of a baby boy—and then again it might be a baby girl. The new baby is nine inches little while the parent birds are more than five feet tall. Mother Crane stands quite proudly at the right as she waits for a second egg to hatch. This is the second time since July that this pair of cranes hatched out a baby crane but it died at the age of two weeks.

might say could be taken down and used against her.

Dr. Young and Constable Cecil Boyer and W. G. Scott testified Mrs. Thompson had not been told she would be charged with anything.

Defence Argument

Substance of argument of T. J. Carley, KC, defence counsel, was that the person held should be told what charge is against him before a warning is given and a statement taken.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, KC, argued that the rules of evidence are less rigid during a preliminary hearing.

Magistrate Philp said he would rule on the point later.

Witnesses Tuesday were Dr. C. B. Waite, district provincial pathologist, Constable Boyer, Nancy Scott, a playmate of the slain man's children, Lorne Rennie, a neighbor, Betty Thompson, elder daughter of Thompson, Mrs. Wm. Jamieson and Mrs. Thomas Gardner, neighbors.

Dr. Waite testified that the gun which killed Thompson had been held at a distance from him greater than 18 inches. There were no powder marks on his clothing, the pathologist said.

Dr. Waite testified that a sample of the dead man's urine had been lost when the bottle containing it had broken in transit. A bottle containing the sample of blood from Thompson, sent at the same time had not broken.

Evidence given by the other witnesses more or less corroborated the evidence given in the first phase of the preliminary hearing last Wednesday.

Mother Cries

Mrs. Thompson was calm during the greater part of today's hearing, crying only once—when her daughter, Betty, broke down on the stand while giving evidence.

The girl, who is 12, had seemed almost stolid until that point, but suddenly began to sob quietly, and a five minute recess was declared by Magistrate Philp. This was toward the end of Tuesday's hearing.

First witness Tuesday was Dr. Waite, who gave medical evidence about the post-mortem performed on the slain man. He said Thompson died of the results of a bullet wound through the heart.

The bullet had touched the pericardium (the sac that surrounds the heart) and had gone through the aorta into the right lung. The bullet was found beneath the skin near the man's spine, said the doctor.

Took Samples

Dr. Waite testified he took a sample of both blood and urine from Thompson and forwarded them to the provincial analyst at Toronto. The bottle of urine was broken in transit.

There was no sign of alcohol in the stomach, the doctor said. Questioned on this point later by Mr. Carley, Dr. Waite told court he "meant there was no visible evidence of alcohol in the stomach. There was only a faint smell of alcohol."

Mr. Carley asked the pathologist whether he had tested the stomach contents for alcohol. "No," said Dr. Waite, "I tested the blood and urine."

"After death, if there had been alcohol in the stomach, would it continue to be absorbed?" asked Mr. Carley. Dr. Waite said there was in most cases no visible lessening of the amount of alcohol, even over a two-day period.

After the testimony of the next witness, Constable Cecil Boyer, argument took place over the admissibility of the statement Mrs. Thompson is said to have made.

In Custody

Mr. Carley argued that the accused is always entitled to know the charge he may face. He mentioned that Mrs. Thompson was in custody, and not advised of the charge she would face. "There are a number of charges that could have been laid against her," he remarked.

If the warning is to be a proper one, he said, the charge should be made known to the accused.

Mr. Bradshaw quoted a judgment which said: "The rules of evidence are not as rigidly enforced at a preliminary hearing as at a trial."

Mr. Carley said he thought the statement was too sweeping, and that "great departures from justice" might be possible. He submitted that a magistrate must exercise the same degree of care as a trial judge as to admissibility.

"The Crown must always prove that a confession was freely and voluntarily made," said Mr. Carley.

Lorne Dennie, 576 Howden Avenue, told court he had seen Thompson take two drinks of whisky of about two ounces each at Dennie's house. Mrs. William Jamieson, 584 Howden Avenue, confirmed her husband's testimony of last Wednesday.

Commission May

He pointed out the drawbacks to the beach, such as the deep water, and added that "something would have to be done for the small children, such as filling in areas."

Locating a swimming area, he said, would require a bathing house which could be placed, without spoiling the view, close to Point St. Charles.

Other areas suggested were the beach at the Ontario Marble Company and opposite the cemetery point.

Wait For Swimming

The commission felt that the picnic development could begin almost immediately, but decided that the swimming project required more investigation.

The commission recommended to the City Council that Point St. Charles be developed as a picnic area, with fireplaces, water and toilet facilities, swings and slides, additional benches, and the section south of the point should be developed as a swimming and bathing area.

Apsley Church Guild To Purchase Carpet

APSLEY, Sept. 19—(ENS)—The Guild of St. Georges' Anglican church held the September meeting at the home of Mrs. Bert McIlmoyl with a good attendance.

Review of the summer's work including afternoon tea and bazaar and summer picnic meeting were given.

Plans were made for a card party Sept. 26th, also plans for purchasing carpet for aisle and chancel of the church.

President Mrs. W. Everett was in the chair and Bible reading taken by Mrs. Norman Reddick.

Mrs. Chas Smith and Mrs. McIlmoyl co-hostesses served lunch.

J. O. McKellar Ship Magnate Dies In Hospital

PORT COLBORNE, Sept. 19 — (CP).—John O. McKellar, 73, founder with Capt. R. Scott Misener of Colonial Steamships, Limited, one of Canada's largest inland fleets, died today at Port Colborne General Hospital.

Widely known throughout the Great Lakes, he had sailed since he left University of Toronto and a science course to follow a sailor's career. At his death he was secretary and treasurer of Colonial Steamships, Limited, and its marine superintendent.

Born on the town line of Lobo township, near London, John O. McKellar attended Barrie Collegiate Institute and School of Practical Science in Toronto before turning to the lakes. Prior to the First World War, he delivered the steamer J. H. Wade at Quebec when she was commissioned and in 1918 joined Capt. R. Scott Misener as chief engineer of the Simon Langell. From that one ship, they built the Colonial Steamships, Limited fleet.

Mr. McKellar was an adherent of the United Church, Port Colborne, a member and past president of the Marine Club of Toronto, past president of Port Colborne Camera Club, and a member of Port Colborne Lions Club.

Had Poor Health

Ill health forced him into an inactive part in the company during the past two years, but he sailed as chief engineer of the company's new queen of the Great Lakes, the SS Scott Misener, on her maiden voyage from Port Weller in June of this year.

Surviving are his wife Hattie Patterson, whom he married at Brockville in 1922, a daughter, Mrs. Mary L. Weaver of Toronto and a sister Miss Sarah McKellar who resided with him.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

William Thorne Dies

Fifty years a mason, William Thorne died recently at his daughter's home, Mrs. Vera Sarginson, who lives a mile west of Omemee. He was in his 76th year.

Born and raised near Omemee, Mr. Thorne was a major in the First World War and was a holder of two honorary fraternal medals, signifying 50 years of active membership with Lorne Lodge, AF and AM, and half a century as a member of the Royal Black Preceptory in the Orange Order.

Floods In Manchuria

HONG KONG, Sept. 19 — (AP) —Reports filtering in from Communist China confirm that the Liao river burst its bounds in August, gave Manchuria its worst flood in decades, and cut the big Mukden-Changchun railway feeding war supplies to Korea. The floods caused the evacuation of 130,000 persons.

46 Families Get Attention From The Children's Aid

There were 418 cases known to the Peterborough Children's Aid Society during June, July and August, 500 offices interviews held and 1,494 office visits made.

These figures were given by Miss Rachael Young superintendent of the Children's Aid, at the Board of Directors meeting Tuesday.

Seventy-two of the cases came to the attention of the society during the summer period. Of the 72, 46 were family situations involving problems of non-support, separations, illness, neglect of children, imprisonment, intemperance, poor housing, full-time employment of the mother.

In the 28 of the families the parents were living together seven were living apart, one of whom had a written agreement, one was divorced, in four the mother had deserted, in one the mother was a widow, three were common-law unions and in two the marital status was not determined.

Births Out of Wedlock.

Eight children were taken into care, six of whom were born out of wedlock. Two were a request for completion of adoption, one child was placed for adoption.

Two infants were taken into care when the mothers were unable to plan for them and placed in boarding homes and three children were admitted when the parent caring for them was evicted. Nine adoptions were completed. Three children were returned to their parents who had established a home for them, one ward atta'ned majority and two children in adoption homes moved to another county.

Miss Young also reported that eight dentists gave examinations and necessary dental care to 42, wards of the society. Also during the summer, five wards had a camp holiday.

Secure Maintenance.

Eighteen unmarried parent cases came to the attention of the society. Eight, four of whom were common-law unions, did not wish assistance from the society. Five wished assistance only in getting maintenance from the father and five wished help in planning for their babies and in getting financial assistance from the father of the child.

Miss Young concluded her report by explaining to the board that the society had a great need of layettes. Diapers and woollen garments she said were particularly needed.

Juggling Fails To Solve Crisis

HALIBURTON, Sept. 19—Despite frantic juggling of available space for schoolrooms to handle a bumper crop of students, Haliburton still finds itself with overcrowded classrooms.

Every room in all the schools, including the basement of the high school and an Orange Hall have been drafted for school purposes.

A number of children who have reached their sixth birthday and are ready for kindergarten have been refused admission to the school.

There are four schools with 10 teachers in the village. At the high school, there are 106 students registered, and at the public schools, 255 pupils.

Routine Precaution

NEW YORK, Sept. 19 — (AP) — Mayor Vincent Impelliteri, left by plane for Rome Tuesday night —but not until two members of the police bomb squad checked the plane and other passengers' baggage. It was described, however, as nothing more than a routine precaution. The mayor plans a three-week tour of Italy and Israel.

QUINCY, Ill., Sept. 19 —(AP) — Donald Dean Harness, 11, died on Tuesday of a skull fracture suffered when he tripped on his shoelace and fell on the street.

Youths Praise Russian Life

LONDON, Sept. 19 —(CP)— Members of a Canadian youth delegation to Moscow were quoted today as saying all the flattering things about Russia that visiting delegations usually say.

Back in Moscow after a visit to Kiev in the Ukraine, delegates were quoted by the Russian news agency Tass as saying they were impressed by the "tremendous scale" of housing and municipal reconstruction, by the "dense network" of cultural and educational institutions, by agricultural exhibitions and collective farms, by achievements in "agro-technical" science and above all by the fact that peace now is the main feature of Ukrainian activity.

Tass also quoted the Canadian delegates as saying Ukrainians are happy and sing songs, the most popular being those about peace and friendship.

Planes Drop Food

GAUHATI, India, Sept. 19 — (Reuters)—Planes Tuesday dropped food and clothing to people marooned on housetops and patches of high ground above swirling floodwaters in the Lakhimpur district of Assam, near India's northeast frontier. Two towns—Dangari and Saikhoaghat —were reported partially submerged.

Ready To Invade

BANGKOK, Thailand, Sept. 19 —(Reuters) — The Bangkok Post today quoted Cambodia's Minister to Thailand as saying that 200,00 Chinese Communist troops are ready to invade Indo-China. The misiter, representative of one of Indo-China's three states, claimed the Chinese troops were supporting Cambodian groups tied up with Ho Chi-Minh, Communist Vietminh leader.

IRVING MENDELL, of Montreal, rushed to the gangway of the Greek line steamer Columbia recently, took one look at his week-old son, and proudly exclaimed: "He's a real bouncing boy." Mendell didn't realize it but no father ever uttered a more truthful statement. The baby, born on the ship in mid-ocean, spent the first three days of his young life bouncing around like a rubber ball. The Columbia was hit by three hurricanes described by Capt. Demitrios Sigalas as the worst he had seen in many years. Mendell was so excited he hadn't thought of a name for the new arrival. But good-natured customs officers, sticking to the letter of the law which says that everyone coming off a ship from overseas must have a name, listed the baby as "John Mendell." Mother and father went into a huddle and figured John wasn't such a bad name. So John it is. They had rejected an earlier suggestion by ship's officers and passengers that the baby be called Columbus.

Movie Queen's Bath A Production

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 19—(AP)—When a movie queen takes a bath it's a production.

She can't merely dip in and out of the suds. When it's for a movie scene, the bath takes a monumental proportions.

"When I heard that Jane Russell was taking her first film bath, I rushed over to the "Son of Paleface" set. Such history must be recorded. I even brought my brush, in case she wanted her back scrubbed.

Miss Russell didn't seem too interested, either in my offer or in the bath itself. Is this truly her first film bath?

"I guess so," she replied, boredom creeping in like Los Angeles smog. "I've done shower and swimming scenes but never a bath."

"Then this is history," I suggested.

"Apparently," she yawned.

In Film Annals

More aware of the significance of the event was the director, Frank Tashlin. He intimated the scene will go down in film annals along with such noted baths as Jean Harlow's in a barrel in "Red Dust" and Claudette Colbert' splash in the milk for "Sign of the Cross."

"We shot a test of Jane for the picture and the results were sensational," he said. "When we ran the rushes, the projection room was packed."

With an eye to the scientific aspects of the scene, I conferred with special effects man Lee Vasque.

"We're using the Goddard tub," he announced proudly, referring to the wooden vat which Paulette used in "Unconquered." "It's on loan-out from Cecil B. DeMille."

Not So Hot

The great moment was arriving. Miss Russell's stand-in, who had been sitting in the tub with a bored ezpression and a bathing suit, finished her chore of having the lights focussed on her.

Miss Russell arrived on the set, wearing a red robe and blue ribbons in her hair. She inquired about the temperature of the water. "I want it horribly, horribly lukewarm," she instructed. "Last time, it was so hot I almost passed out."

The details finished, she disrobed and exhibited a flesh-colored, strapless bathing suit. As she stepped into the suds, Bob Hope arrived on the scene, escorting the Titan of the tubs, Cecil B. DeMille.

"This," joked Hope, "is a bath tub."

SUSIE McCALL, seven, holds her pet ocelot, a member of the cat family, which her father brought to the family home at Chula Vista, California, from Mexico. Susie and her six sisters call the six-months-old pet "Tiger" and claim it plays just like a kitten, only rougher.

Modern Princess' Training Less Formal

BY ALAN HARVEY

LONDON (CP)—Elizabeth Alexandra Mary Windsor is a princess in the modern manner. Almost from infancy, her training and education have been influenced by a 20th-century concept that members of the Royal family should enjoy greater freedom and informality.

One incident illustrates the new approach. On one of the victory nights in 1945, Princess Elizabeth whispered a few words to her father, threw a scarf over her head and with sister Margaret left the balcony of Buckingham Palace to mingle freely with the happy crowds.

It is even said the sisters joined in the sport of knocking off hats—something that would have been a sensation in Queen Victoria's day.

But if the human touch has not been wanting in Elizabeth's training, there has been no lack of emphasis on her responsibilities. The possibility that she might one day succeed to the throne has been recognized from the feverish days of her father's coronation. Even before that the Duchess of York, soon to become Queen Elizabeth, sought to instil in her daughter a sense of the courtesies demanded of Royalty.

Educated Privately

Her studies covered a wide range, but at Louis Wulff writes in the book, "Queen of Tomorrow," she was never "forced precociously in a hothouse of Royal learning, nor circumscribed in her studies and entertainment when she grew older."

Elizabeth's first lessons came at her mother's knee in a nursery on Picadilly. When she reached school age it was decided she should be educated privately. For years she kept regular school hours in an upstairs room of the Picadilly residence, studying under Marion (Crawfie) Crawford, a graduate of Edinburgh University who became one of the Princess' closest friends.

Her favorite subjects were history, literature and languages. She disliked arithmetic and algebra. She became fluent in French and enjoyed the works of Moliere, Racine and Corneille. One of her early favorites was Alphonse Daudet's "Lettres De Mon Moulin."

But for the Second World War Elizabeth probably would have been the first British Princess to go into residence at a university. Instead it was decided to entrust her advanced studies to Sir Henry Marten, Provost of Eton College. Her curriculum covered such relatively abstruse subjects as the theory and law of land tenure and the history of British agriculture. Controversial questions were not shirked and among other things Elizabeth received instruction on the French problem in Canada.

Wartime Activities

Elizabeth sought few special privileges. During the war, she registered at the labor exchange for pre-service training and at 18 insisted on joining the Auxiliary Territorial Service, although the King had directed she should not be called up compulsorily. Her course of training qualified her as a driver of heavy army trucks.

Before she even came of age an act of parliament stipulated that she would become Regent of Great Britain in event of her father's disablement and that she would act as one of five counsellors of state, who discharge the sovereign's functions when he is absent from the realm.

One of her first major public duties was Nov. 11, 1945, when as representative of the youth of the Commonwealth she placed a wreath on the cenotaph in Whitehall. Two years later, on her 21st birthday, she recognized the extent of her duties in a moving speech dedicating herself to the service of the peoples of the Commonwealth.

As a child Elizabeth was quickly aware of her Royal status. On daily drives through Hyde Park, she precociously waved to cheering crowds on the streets. As early as her fourth birthday she took the salute from the Scots guards. But her grandmother, now Queen Mother Mary, soon pricked the bubble of Elizabeth's self-esteem. When the child wanted to leave a public function, insisting that a crowd outside was waiting to see her, Queen Mary sent Elizabeth out the back way and bundled her off home in a taxi.

Get New Design And Win $1,000

OTTAWA, Sept. 19 (CP) — In need of cash? Design a new idea for a door knocker, house number, letter box and bell push and perhaps you'll win $1,000.

Or you might try your hand at creating something fine and modern in the line of chairs and writing desks and get a chance to share in a total of $7,000 in prize money.

That's the amount of cash Canada's National Industrial Design Committee offered Tuesday as it launched a new countrywide contest to build up industrial designing talent in Canada.

The contest is open mainly to professional designers, but anyone can enter as long as he understands the technique of mass production and the economic possibilities of marketing his product.

Behind the committee's offer is the hope that Canada may be able to stimulate greater use of trained Canadian talent in the designing of mass-produced manufactured goods which can compete with similar goods of other countries.

Moffatt's Gate Battle Ended

TORONTO, Sept. 19 (CP)—The battle of Moffatt's gate ended Tuesday in Ontario Court of Appeal.

The court dismissed an appeal by Mrs. Hazel Moffatt against an order issued last December requiring her to close the gate which gives her and her husband access to the Queen Elizabeth Way near St. Catharines.

The gate opened onto a private road leading from the Moffatt home to the highway. The Highways Improvement Act forbids construction of private entrances to the highway without a permit.

The case has been fought through various courts for several months.

The battle reached a peak in 1949 when Mrs. Moffatt, wielding a rake, defied highways department men who had been given strict orders to fill in the driveway so that it could not be used.

For several months prior to that, the department's workers had tried to close the driveway by stringing fences across it, by blocking it with guardrails and by piling tons of sand across the entrance.

Helicopters Land Marine Troops In North Korea

US EIGHTH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea, Sept. 20.—(Reuters) — Twelve large helicopters today landed fully-equipped United States Marine reinforcements in North Korea in the first combat helicopter landing in history. The landing was made on the crest of a rugged hill within sight of Communist positions. Troops from the first helicopter to hover over the landing area climbed down a rope to the hill-top.

While these men cleared the landing ground, other helicopters flew overhead.

The helicopters carried 228 troops and 17,722 pounds of gear to the mountain top.

Important Experiment

Maj.-Gen. Gerald Thomas, commander of the 1st Marine Division, said he attached great importance to this type of troop movement in future warfare.

Given a big enough fleet of helicopters, he said, he could land an entire division in difficult terrain in a matter of hours.

United States F-86 Sabre jets today damaged two Russian-made MIG-15 jets in a high-speed battle that swirled for 20 minutes over northwest Korea.

All allied planes returned safely to base, the US Fifth Air Force said.

Get Air Support

Clearing weather on the western front brought badly-needed air support to allied infantry fighting the bloody "battle of the hills."

There were no reports of major ground action from other fronts.

The jet battle ranged from 43000 feet down to tree-top level. Thirty-two Sabre jets were pitted against 50 MIGs.

At least 112 jets tangled Wednesday in the same area. The Reds lost one plane destroyed and five damaged.

Go In Red

On the ground United States infantrymen pulled themselves together for a drive to regain Wednesday's losses. The final score for Wednesday—no hills won, three lost, and seven allied attacks turned back—was relieved only by the successful defence

WILLIAM H. WRIGHT

Globe Founder W. H. Wright Dies In Barrie

BARRIE, Sept. 20 — (CP) — William H. Wright, 75, discoverer of the Wright-Hargreaves Gold Mine and one of the Commonwealth's wealthiest men, died at his home here early today.

Death was due to a persistent bronchial condition from which he had suffered for months.

The English butcher boy who arrived in Canada a penniless immigrant had lived in semi-retirement for many years although he held the vice-presidency of the mining company he helped establish in First World War days—before he went overseas to become Canada's millionaire private. His fortune once was estimated to yield him an income of $2,000,000 a year.

Bill Wright—as he was known to the mining profession across the country—also was founder of the Toronto Globe and Mail, a morning newspaper he acquired in 1936 when he bought the Toronto Globe and then its competitor, The Mail and Empire. The paper has been published by George McCullagh, a close friend of Mr. Wright and at the time of the Globe and Mail purchase, a young broker.

Russian Envoy Home For Talk

TEHRAN, Sept. 20 (AP)—Russia's ambassador to Iran is leaving by plane Saturday for talks in Moscow, a government spokesman said today.

Speculation stirred here immediately on what move Iran's northern neighbor is planning in the oil crisis that has brought Iranian politics to a crucial stage.

The ambassador, Ivan Sadchikov, is dean of the diplomatic corps. He visited Foreign Minister Bagher Kazemi Wednesday and plans to see Premier Mohammed Mossadegh today, the spokesman said.

Iran's small Communist party, the Tudeh, has been lying low in the oil dispute. It has supported oil nationalization and its up-setting effect on Iran's shaky economy, but it has also accused Mossadegh of being too moderate in his attitude toward the British.

Souvenir Hunters Wreck Investigation

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 20 (CP) — Investigation into Monday's crash of a Centralia-based training plane is being hampered by souvenir hunters who carried off several vital portions of the wreckage, Flt. Lt. Harry Pickard, investigating officer said today.

The "Texan" trainer plunged into a farmer's field near Parkhill killing two student pilots. One wing was found almost intact more than a mile from the crash scene.

Flt. Lt. Pickard said several parts had been removed which were vitally needed in reconstructing the incident. He asked that they be returned to the Provincial Police or RCAF station at Centralia.

"There is no question of taking any action against these people," he said. "It is natural for people to pick up pieces of wreckage, but in the interests of finding the cause of the crash, I would like the souvenir hunters to return them."

Will Continue Seek Pacts With Russia

US Will Build Up Armed Strength To See Them Kept

WASHINGTON, SEPT. 20. — (AP)—President Truman said today the United States will continue to seek agreements with Russia but will build up its armed strength to see that they are enforced.

Truman told a press conference there is a stronger possibility of preserving the peace as a result of the strengthened arms program. He added that possibility will grow still stronger if the United States goes along with her defence program.

Under existing circumstances, Truman said, it is necessary to rely on force. He said he dislikes this.

He said the United Nations was organized to settle differences without the use of force, and that Korea was just one example of how the Communists have made this impossible.

Make Every Effort

Truman said he is willing to put forth every effort to get a solution of the Korean conflict without having to kill more people.

This was his comment on the Communist proposal for resumption of cease-fire talks.

The press conference questioning began with a reporter's reminder to Truman that he told an audience here Monday that an agreement with Russia was not worth the paper it is written on.

In view of that, the reporter asked, did he propose to continue to seek agreements with the Soviets?

Yes, Truman replied, and added that when one is in a position to enforce agreements with Russia they'll be kept.

MP Guesses Right For Second Time

LONDON, Sept. 20 (CP). — Labor MP Norman Dodds is Britain's hottest political prophet.

In a speech exactly one month ago Dodds said:

"I'm going to be rash and tip the next general election for Thursday, Oct. 25." It was announced Wednesday night that the elections would be held on that date.

Dodds has a batting average of 1,000. He successfully tipped the date of the last general election, held in February, 1950. This is a tall order, since political observers agree that Prime Minister Clement Attlee—who decides when an election will be called—is unusually gifted at keeping secrets.

Dodds is Labor member for Dartford, Kent, and parliamentary private secretary to Alfred Robens, the minister of labor.

Strong Attraction

ST. THOMAS, Sept. 20 — (CP). — P. Stanley Croft, manager of the Beaverton branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce robbed of $3,000 yesterday, has seen it happen before. About 15 years ago, the bank's Shedden, Ont., branch was held up by a Glanworth district farmhand turned bandit. Mr. Croft was manager at that time. He was transferred to the Thedford branch later and bank robbers again invaded his establishment.

Plane Crashes In River Swamp

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 20 (AP) —The survivor of a helicopter crash told today how he struggled for more than eight hours to save a companion from drowning in a Mississippi river swamp.

Both were injured in the crash, which killed the pilot.

Charles (Chuck) Mangner died shortly after the plunge.

Peter Sturzenburger seriously injured, was unconscious. Richard Knittle, 22, suffered an injured shoulder. He told the story from his hospital bed:

"We heard something snap in the back rudder.

"The ship spiralled down and hit on its left side with a terrific noise. . . My head was under water. . . I felt back into the mud in the cockpit and grabbed Pete. I pulled him out and went back after Chuck.

"I got hold of him once but he was under the motor and I could not pull him out. My left shoulder and left arm were numb."

Knittle said he used cushions from the craft and "my good arm" to keep Sturzenburger from sinking into the muck.

Another helicopter spotted them at sundown.

British Election To Delay NATO Meeting In Rome

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP) — Britain's Foreign Minister Herbert Morrison predicted today that the date for the Atlantic pact council meeting in Rome will have to be changed because of the Oct. 25 British election.

It would be impossible, regardless of which party won, for a British government to send cabinet delegates to a meeting starting Oct. 29 when the Rome meeting is scheduled to open. For that reason he anticipated a change in the date.

Mr. Morrison, Defence Minister Shinwell and Hugh Gaitskell, chancellor of the exchequer, fended off reporters' questions about the election, saying they shouldn't talk British politics in Canada.

These were among the other things they said:

1. Britain is negotiating with Canada for production of aircraft, small arms and probably eventually would like to have ships built here. Under certain circumstances—hitched to her dollar shortage—she also would like to take part in development of Alberta oil resources.

2. The defence programs of the Atlantic powers are due for substantial expansion during the next three years under agreed goals. Any further increases had to reconcile the needs of the military and the economic impacts of the increases.

3. Britain's three-year defence program is "going ahead extremely well."

4. The western powers won't allow any new runaway inflation in raw materials prices such as occurred after Korea.

5. The Anglo-Canadian-US-French committee on choosing a common rifle will get a report from the technical experts about the time of the Rome meeting.

Wreckage Of Two Planes Sighted In West

Search Parties In Alaska and British Columbia Head For Crash Sites

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20 — (CP)—Two search parties, one in Alaska, the other on Vancouver Island, today trekked toward the wreckage of two planes.

The Alaska wreck may be that of a Canadian Pacific Airlines Korean airlift plane which vanished July 21 with 38 persons aboard.

A foreman at a construction camp near Seward on the Kenai peninsula reported to Elmendorf Air Force base at Anchorage Wednesday he had sighted the wreckage of a DC-3 or DC-4 at the 4,000-foot level in the Kenai mountains. The missing airlift plane was a DC-4.

The wreck scene is about 500 miles beyond Cape Spencer in the Alaska panhandle, the spot from which the missing plane's pilot, Capt. Victor Fox of Vancouver, last reported on a routine radio check.

The Kenai peninsula juts into the Pacific from the south coast of Alaska proper. It is about 80 miles west of the intended course of the CPA plane, which was headed from Vancouver to Anchorage on the first leg of a flight to Tokyo.

The foreman spotted the wreckage through field glasses. He then flew over the area in a plane but the weather closed in.

The forecast was for bad weather in the area for the next 48 hours so a US Air Force ground party from Anchorage Wednesday night began to walk in.

It will take them two or three days to reach the site because of the rough terrain.

Meanwhile, an RCAF ground party started up a northern Vancouver Island mountain toward the wreck of an American bomber.

The wreckage may be that of a US Navy Neptune lost in that area in November, 1948, or of another US Navy plane which disappeared last December. The first plane carried nine men, the latter 11.

Let Contracts For Highway Worth 23 Million

TORONTO, Sept. 20 — (CP) — Contracts totalling $23,200,000 have been let on Ontario's portion of the Trans-Canada Highway since the federal-provincial agreement was signed in April, 1950, Highways Minister Doucett said today.

In all, 41 separate contracts have been let in connection with Ontario's 1,412-mile portion.

While "considerable progress" has been made, Mr. Doucett said shortages of essential materials were slowing the work to such an extent that only five new contracts for Trans-Canada work totalling $2,490,000 were let this year.

Work done to date shows that the 36 contracts let in 1950 called for grading and culvert work for 177 miles; grading and asphalt surfacing for 111 miles; laying granular base course for 27 miles and erection of five modern steel and concrete bridges. Only one of the five bridges projected was completed: 105 miles of grading and culvert work was done and 57 miles of asphalt surfacing was laid.

In the five 1951 contracts let, four were for grading and asphalt surfacing on 28 miles. There was a contract for hot mix bituminous paving only.

Pipe Shortage

A shortage of concrete and corrugated pipe for culverts is the most serious one, said Mr. Doucett. Where 12,900 cubic yards of concrete were available in 1950, only 8,000 cubic yards could be obtained this year. Corrugated pipe allowed in 1950 was 8,000 lineal feet but cut to 4,000 this year.

Included in the chief points of operation are: three miles east of Ottawa to Plantaganet, a distance of 32 miles; 35 miles between the Magnetawan River towards Sudbury; 44 miles west of Sudbury to Blind River; 12 miles near Thessalon and 30.4 miles from Marathon to Steele River; from Kakabeka Falls for five miles north on Highway 17 and 22 miles east of the English River easterly for 28 miles as well as east of Dryden for 22.85 miles.

Turn Back Fire From Nanaimo

NANAIMO, BC, Sept. 20 (CP) —A forest fire which had threatened 650 homes in the suburbs of this Vancouver island city retreated in its blackened tracks today.

The wind shifted late Wednesday night as the flames were bearing down on the suburbs of Extension, White Rapids road and Harewood, carrying the fire back up the slopes of Mount Benson.

Before the wind—and 600 loggers—turned the blaze, it had reached a point eight miles from the city centre. Mains carrying water to the city were punctured to enable firefighters to bring more hoses into play.

The blaze, believed started Saturday by a careless hunter, was burning on a 6-mile front. It covered 2,000 acres and destroyed 4,000,000 feet of timber.

The provincial forests department closed all forests on Vancouver island and the south coast of the mainland at midnight Wednesday night.

The closure, imposed because of the fire hazard, threw 15,000 loggers out of work for the second time this year. They had been back to work only nine days following a two-month layoff brought on by the July 12 closure order.

Can't Evict Tenant Refusing To Sign 2-Year Lease Cecile Warns Landlords

TORONTO, Sept. 20. (CP)—Refusal of a tenant to sign a two-year lease is not a valid ground for eviction under the Ontario Leasehold Regulations, Louis Cecile, administrator of rent regulations for Ontario said today. "The purpose of the two-year-lease regulation is to allow landlord and tenant to negotiate on an equal footing and endeavor to arrive at an agreement fair to both parties," said Mr. Cecile. "Where an agreement cannot be reached the tenant is not obliged to accept the landlord's offer. The two-year-lease regulation is designed to bear in mind the additional security to the tenant and a satisfactory rental to the landlord."

Officials of the rent control offices said tenants could not be forced to sign such a lease.

"Some tough landlords have been saying to tenants 'Sign this two-year lease or out you go,'" said an official.

Must Apply To Authorities

Should a tenant refuse to sign a two-year lease, the only recourse the landlord has is to apply to the rentals office and submit valid reasons why the rent should be raised.

"The rentals administration will decide whether an increase is justified," said the rentals office.

Officials said a tenant could be evicted only when a landlord wanted the premises for his own use or for the use of a close relative as set out in the regulations.

In such cases six months' notice has to be given the tenant and the landlord—or close relative—has to live on the premises for a year after evicting a tenant.

Mutilated Baby's Body Found Near Tracks

HAMILTON, Sept. 20 (CP) — Police searched the city today for the killer or killers of a newly-born baby whose mutilated body was found Wednesday in the east end of the city near an abandoned street railway track.

The body was found in a paper-wrapped cardboard box in shrubbery beside the Hamilton Street Railway spur line between Wilson and Cannon streets. Fred Clarkson of Fruitland, made the discovery while walking along the tracks.

Detective Sgt. Sam McGee and Detective Sam Burd said the child had suffered a puncture wound in the throat, a broken lower jaw and a deep laceration on the face.

Dr. W. J. Deadman, city pathologist, said the child had lived and that death occurred in the last three days.

Tone Doesn't Plan To File Civil Suit

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20 (AP) —Franchot Tone has scorned suggestions that he file a civil suit against actor Tom Neal, who beat him up last week over the fleeting affections of actress Barbara Payton.

The wealthy Tone, heir to his father's carborundum fortune, said through his lawyer that he is considering only a criminal complaint.

Meanwhile, producer Walter Wanger and Eugene Frenke announced Miss Payton is no longer under consideration for a role in "The Lady in the Iron Mask." This would have been Miss Payton's most ambitious screen portrayal.

Miss Payton, making regular visits to Tone's hospital room, says he has asked her to marry him and that she'll do so as soon as he's up and around.

Doctor, Nurse For Royal Tour

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP). — A Canadian doctor and nurse have been named to accompany Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh on the Royal tour, it was learned today.

The two are Col. John N. B. Crawford, MBE, of Ottawa and Winnipeg, assistant medical director at army headquarters, and FO. Ella Beatrice Mannix of Meota, Sask., senior matron at the RCAF hospital at Rockcliffe.

Besides providing medical care for the Royal couple, they will be responsible for medical service to other passengers on the Royal train and plane, and for reporters on the Royal train.

2 Tourists, Guide Drown In Storm

SUDBURY, Sept. 20 —(CP)— The bodies of an Ohio couple and their Canadian guide were recovered Wednesday night from Lake Huron near the eastern end of Manitoulin Island.

The bodies of Dr. Bernard Gibson, 40, of London, Ohio, and resort owner Earl Goulding, 44, were found afloat and wearing life preservers. That of Mrs. Gibson, also wearing a life preserver, lay on a nearby beach.

Death was believed caused by exposure and drowning after their fishing boat capsized in strong winds Tuesday afternoon.

A provincial police search plane spotted the two floating bodies late Wednesday near the eastern shore of Squaw Island about 20 miles east of Manitoulin. Two officers set out in a boat from Killarney on the mainland to investigate.

The three dead persons left Goulding's tourist camp near Manitowaning on the eastern end of Manitoulin Tuesday morning for a fishing trip. Police were called in when they failed to return Tuesday night.

Gross Refuses To Testify Wrecks Graft Court Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP) — A graft-probing Brooklyn grand jury today faced an almost hopeless salvage task, its case against 18 policemen shattered by stubborn Harry Gross.

Nevertheless, District Attorney Miles F. McDonald said he is going to try to pick up the pieces."

McDonald claimed information from an official source that a $75,000 payoff to Gross, former kingpin bookmaker, made him refuse to testify. The maneouvre wrecked 20 months of work for McDonald and left him in tears.

Judge Samuel S. Leibowitz, in bitter fury, threw the case out of court late Wednesday. He freed the 18 policemen after McDonald said it was futile to go on.

The 18 were accused of sharing in $1,000,000 a year in bribes paid by Gross when the pudgy bookie was riding high as chief of a $20,000,000-a-year gambling ring.

Gross was the state's key witness. When he wouldn't testify there wasn't any case left.

Leibowitz called the defiant Gross "a miserable wretch" and gave him five years in jail plus a $15,000 fine on 60 counts of contempt of court.

And the judge plainly regarded this as only the beginning. He hinted he will go all-out to influence a sky-high prison sentence when the 35-year-old gambler goes into special sessions court Oct. 8 for further sentencing.

Gross has pleaded guilty to 66 counts of conspiracy and gambling. The penalty is a maximum 68 years in prison.

McDonald suggested that Gross may have been bribed last week when the bookie made a runaway trip to Atlantic City, NJ. He was picked up at the race track and returned to Brooklyn—but not until he had been free from his police guard for a whole day.

Gross' excuse for not testifying was that he feared it would endanger his family's lives.

NATO Members Pledged To Consolidate Work Under 3-Point Program

Dominion, Four Others Will Recommend Further Steps To Be Taken To Build Up Inner Strength of Alliance

OTTAWA, Sept. 21. (CP)—The North Atlantic Council, brushing aside "vague and obscure" Russian peace appeals, pledged its 12 member nations today to consolidate their North Atlantic community under a three-barrelled program for advancing non-military co-operation. Canada was named to a five-nation committee to recommend further steps which include "co-ordination and frequent consultation on foreign policy" — something Canada has been urging.

The 12 powers agreed "they will never reject any genuine move for peace but they will not be deflected from building up their defensive strength by mere empty words about peace."

The 500-word document, referred to sometimes as an "Ottawa Declaration" emerged simply as "a statement . . . regarding the North Atlantic community."

It named a committee to consider and make recommendations to the council in three fields so as "to build up the inner strength" of the Alliance.

Long-Range Planning

It was greeted as the start of long-range planning to turn the pact into something deeper and broader than a mere military alliance.

These were the three fields for long-range spade work:

1. Co-ordination and frequent consultation on foreign policy, having particular regard to steps designed to promote peace.

2. Closer economic, financial and social co-operation, in order to promote and to ensure conditions of economic stability and well-being, both during and after the present period of the defence effort, within the North Atlantic Treaty Organization or through other agencies.

3. Collaboration in the fields of culture and public information.

"In these and other ways the council will build up the inner strength of the North Atlantic community, without duplicating the work of other international organizations which promote the same objectives," the statement said.

The statement, without naming Russia, hit out at her persistent peace campaigns, regarded by the West as insincere and cynical.

Doctors Spend Hour With Ailing King

LONDON, Sept. 20 (AP) —The King, suffering from a mysterious lung ailment, was visited by his doctors again today.

The physicians stayed at Buckingham Palace just under an hour. They saw the King for nearly two hours Wednesday night.

No medical bulletin was forthcoming on either occasion.

The King's doctors issued a bulletin Tuesday night which said that "structural changes" had developed in one of his lungs.

Reds Suggest Resuming Cease-Fire Talk

TOKYO, Sept. 20 —(AP)—The Communist high command reversed itself today and suggested that Korean cease-fire talks be resumed immediately in Kaesong.

The Reds broke off the talks 28 days ago. They charged then that an Allied plane bombed and strafed the neutral Kaesong area Aug. 22 in an attempt to murder Communist truce delegates. The Allied command called the charge fraudulent and faked.

Heretofor the Reds have demanded that the Allies admit responsibility for a string of alleged neutral zone violations before the truce talks could be resumed.

They proposed today only that a "suitable organization" be set up to guarantee the neutrality of Kaesong.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway made no immediate comment.

Cease-Fire Nearer

But a release from the supreme commander's headquarters said "There is reason for hope that the latest Communist reversal in policy and agreement to renew the peace talks may bring some sort of a cease-fire in Korea."

It cautioned, however, that "It is a hope that must be tempered by the realization that a renewal of the talks does not mean necessarily that previous difficulties will suddenly iron themselves out."

Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-huai and North Korean Premier Kim Il sung proposed:

1. That liaison officers of both sides meet to fix the time for reopening the meetings.

2. That at the first session after the conferences resume, delegates discuss a plan "to establish a suitable organization" for guaranteeing the neutrality of Kaesong and settling differences over previously-charged violations.

Given Gasoline In Wrong Order

PICKERING, Sept. 20. (CP)— Police and citizens were searching today for a man who was mistakenly given naphtha gasoline instead of coal oil at a service station here.

Fire officials said the gas would "act just like an explosive if used in place of coal oil.

Warnings, door-to-door inquiries and radio appeals so far have failed to reach the man who bought the gas Monday night. The wife of the service station operator, Mr. Arnold Hare, said she sold the wrong fluid because she did not know that two drums had been moved around.

The mistake was discovered on Tuesday night.

Parisians Hard Hit No Taxis Or Meat

PARIS, Sept. 20 (AP) — A lot of Parisians walked more and ate less today. Both taxi drivers and butchers were on strike.

About 11,000 cabbies began a 24-hour strike at 5 a.m. in protest against a compulsory medical examination to determine if they are fit to drive.

The butchers are in the third day of an odd buyers' strike. They have refused to buy meat stocks at wholesale markets in protest against a government cut of 10 per cent in retail meat prices.

Since it is illegal to close food stores by striking, the butcher shops are open but most are empty.

Attlee Opens Campaign For Labor Party

LONDON, Sept. 20 —(AP)— Prime Minister Attlee opened the Labor party's campaign for the Oct. 25 general election today by telling the country it must choose whether it will "go backward with the Conservatives or forward with Labor."

Atlee spoke to reporters before starting an automobile trio to North Berwick, Scotland, where he will address a Scottish Labor party conference Saturday.

He laid down what is likely to be the Labor party line in the campaign:

"The Labor party will go to the country with confidence. For six years under the leadership of the Labor government the British people have carried through an immense task of social and economic reconstruction.

Has Leading Part

"Britain has played a leading part in the promotion of peace in co-operation with all the free peoples.

"The Conservatives have constantly belittled these achievements.

"They have no alternative policy. All they can do is to oppose.

"No fair-minded man can deny that the majority of the people of this country are better off and more secure than when the Conservatives ruled."

Stock Prices Climb Strongly On Exchange

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP). — Stock Market prices climbed strongly to the mid-session today then eased in early afternoon dealings.

Papers and constructions found the most support and posted gains up to a point. Banks were strong. Utilities, foods, liquors, retail stores and miscelalneous industrials held firm while steels, refining oils and manufacturing companies turned mixed. Textiles were unchanged.

Base metals slipped after climbing to record high at noon. Noranda jumped $3 after a similar climb Wednesday. Quemont, Waite Amulet, and United Keno Hill climbed fractions. Cassiar, Barvue, Coast Copper, Golden Manitou, and Silver Standard showed gains up to 50 cents.

Falconbridge, International Nickel, and Hudson Bay weakened.

Western oils showed little trend.

Senior golds weakened as five of six issues posted small declines. Juniors dipped slightly as prospects and holding companies turned mixed.

Churchill Plans For Election

LONDON, Sept. 20. (AP)—Winston Churchill and his Conservative "shadow Cabinet" today began shaping their strategy as Socialists and their foes squared off for a mighty election battle to control the government. The former wartime leader greeted Prime Minister Attlee's announcement that the country will vote Oct. 25—just 35 days from now—with the cry that Britons now can place in power an effective Cabinet "not misled by class warfare or doctrinal fallacies."

His "shadow Cabinet" is made up of the younger Tories who advise him and help fight his battles in parliament. Attlee's brief announcement by radio to the country said the Labor party wants a decisive vote of confidence from the people after 18 months of government with only a small majority in the House of Commons.

Labor's margin on important votes has been only from six to 10 in the 625-seat House since the February 1950 elections. The Labor Party took power in 1945. It now has an effective majority of six.

Wants Policies Endorsed

Attlee appeared to leave no doubt he wanted popular endorsement of his policies not only over the attacks from the Conservatives but also over a left-wing section of the Labor Party that opposes so much spending for rearmament.

Churchill began his talks informally with other party prominents and called a full-dress meeting of the party's big guns for Saturday morning. The party central office announced it had called off its scheduled annual conference at Scarborough, October 11-13.

The Liberal Party was expected to call off its conference scheduled for what is now election day The party has only nine seats in the Commons, but holds a strategic position between the 313-seat Labor Party and the 297-seat Conservatives. Third - largest party, it took a shellacking in the 1950 election.

The leading Labor figures also held informal huddles in London, as the vanguard of a probable 1,500 candidates began to fan out for the campaign, and a boom developed in the stock market over the election turn.

In Good Trim

Attlee was visited by his doctor at 10 Downing Street. A spokesman said the visit was routine and that the physician found Attlee "fighting fit." The Prime Minister has suffered from ulcers and had a slight attack of lumbago last week. The lumbago "seems to have disappeared completely," the spokesman said.

The Labor Party secretary, Morgan Phillips, indicated the Party will fight for every seat. The Party fall conference, slated to begin October 1, would be cut from five days to three.

Anthony Eden, Conservative Deputy Party Leader, was expected to hurry back to London from an Italian holiday. Some predict that if the Conservatives win, the aged Churchill would take the Prime Ministry for a few days as a victory trophy, then turn the job over to Eden, 53, or some other younger Tory.

Suffering Deafness

Churchill, who will be 77 on November 30, is suffering from increasing deafness.

Recent public opinion polls indicate that the county's 34,000,000 voters have swung heavily toward the Conservatives. One poll gave the Tories 51½ per cent to 38½ per cent for Labor.

Attlee's strategists faced two problems as the Party machines raced into gear.

Labor's Socialist ranks were split when Aneurin Bevan, fiery Welsh Leader of leftist sentiment, resigned as Health Minister and took a political walk in April.

And Labor needs a tough-talking program to convince the voters the Party should have more than the six-seat margin it now has.

London political observers list Bevan and his supporters as Attlee's biggest single headache. Some interpret the Prime Minister's sudden decision to ask the ailing King to dissolve Parliament for an election as a showdown with Bevan.

of three other peaks against strong Communist attacks.

Clearing weather brought help from air force and Marine fighter pilots, plus air-directed artillery fire.

The "battle of the hills" flared from northwest of Yanggu almost to the Sea of Japan, west of Kansong. The allies were fighting for a series of east-west positions that, if taken, would place the UN army in the best position yet to launch a wheeling movement to the northwest.

Ground action in that area was savage.

North Korean troops stormed ahead in the rain to recapture three peaks. They forced back the allies at several other points. On three peaks the allies stood fast.

One of the positions lost was a commanding height on "heartbreak ridge," north of Yanggu. The allies took it late Tuesday night after a bitter hand-to-hand fight. The Reds counter-attacked almost immediately and rewon it. Attempts to regain the height were repulsed.

Impressive Funeral Service Held For Msgr. J. J. O'Brien

Final tributes of respect and affection for the late Monsignor John J. O'Brien were silently and solemnly expressed this morning in the Church of the Sacred Heart of which he had been pastor for the last 38 years.

Clergy of the city and diocese of Peterborough and from other localities of Ontario, and a large congregation of the laiety, particularly of his own parish, comprised an impressive assembly eloquent of the esteem in which Mosignor O'Brien was so widely held.

Sisters of St. Joseph, school children, representatives of the Knights of Columbus of which the late priest was a member for years, were noticed in the large attendance. Mayor Max J. Swanston was present with Alderman P. J. Anglesey.

The children's choir sang the responses of the requiem high mass celebrated by His Excellency J. Gerald Berry, Bishop of Peterborough. Monsignor P. P. Butler of St. Peter's Cathedral was the assistant priest, Rev. Dr. F. M. Grant was deacon, Rev. C. J. Moloney, Campbellford, subdeacon, and the deacons of honor were Rev. J. J. Garvey of Hastings, and Rev. George Maher of Cobourg.

Rev. John Coughlan of St. Peter's Cathedral was master of ceremonies.

In Sanctuary

Attending in the sanctuary were the following Monsignori: Right Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan, VG, Peterborough , J. V. McAuley, Lindsay, J. J. O'Leary, Sault Ste. Marie, Thomas J. Crowley, Sault Ste. Marie, Leo Byrne, Kingston, John O'Neil, VG, Ottawa.

In the sermon of the mass, Monsignor Butler said that Mons. O'Brien had endeared himself in the hearts of all. The clergy loved him, the laity revered him. Most of all in the long years of his priestly life, he experienced the ideal of the priesthood which he loved with every fibre of his being.

Clergy and laity had come to refer to him in the affectionate term as "Father John," although possibly he might not have been aware of that phrase of friendly regard which in a way summed up his priestly life and his kindly personality.

Mons. Butler recalled briefly that Mons. O'Brien, who died at noon on Monday, was ordained in December, 1898, had been given by God the opportunity of the long service of 53 years as a priest, 38 of them as pastor of the parish of the Sacred Heart.

Monsignor O'Brien had been a missionary at heart, as evidenced in love of missionaries and the work of the missions. His brother priests knew that in him they had a friend.

Text

The text of Monsignor Butler's remarks was St. John 15, 8: "Herein is my father glorified, that ye bear such fruit; so shall ye be my disciples." He spoke of the fraternity of the priesthood, tracing it to the time when God called Abraham apart to serve him. He quoted the words of Christ to the disciples he had gathered round Him: "As the Father hath sent me, so I send you Go ye into the whole world, teaching every nation. He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved."

The concluding prayers for the dead were offered by Bishop Berry at the bier in front of the sanctuary railing on which thet body of Mons, O'Brien had rested from 6 pm on Wednesday throughout the night with continuing vigil by members of the Knights of Columbus and parishioners. It was the same intercession and committal to the mercy of God which the parish priest of 38 years had invoked for so many of the people who had preceded him in death.

At St. Peter's Cemetery, Bishop Berry recited the final prayers as the body of "Father John" was returned to the dust.

Clergy Present

Among the clergy present were Rev. Fathers J. F. McGuire of Huntsville, J. P. Collins, Cobourg, W. P. Meagher, Lindsay, S. A. Perdue, CSB, Toronto, F. M. Fitzpatrick, Parry Sound, J. P. Collins, Honey Harbor, T. P. McLaughlin, CSB, Toronto.

J. V. Ryan of Britt, G. A. Welsh of Parry Sound, J. V. Ghlogly, Ennismore, J. A. O'Neill, Marmora, A. O. Reilly, Ottawa, L. B. Garvin, VF, Belleville, M. J. O'Leary, Bracebridge, L. M. Dubberry, Belleville, James A. Greenan and Joseph O'Sullivan, Peterborough.

Rev. Joseph Barker, SJ, of the Martyrs' Shrine, Midland, H. A. Black, Grafton, F. L. Rishea, of Wooler, J. Hochban, SJ, and E. J. Sherry, SJ, Toronto, C. J. Begley, Victoria Road, H. E. Archambault, Gravenhurst, J. J. McCarthy, Douro, F. K. Malane, Peterborough, J. M. O'Donnell, CSSR, Peterborough.

F. A. Marrocco, Ottawa, J. Walsh, Kinmount, and J. Houlihan, Peterborough, C. O'Donaghue, L. Leahy and R. Hart.

The pall-bearers were: Rev. P. Lynch, Rev. Leo Rishea, Rev. Chris McCarney, Rev. J. Collins, Rev. H. Fitzgerald, Rev. J. V. Masterson, Lakefield.

Gets Ice Cream For 2nd Month

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20 (CP) — Seven-year-old Charles Gibson will have free ice cream for another month.

He has already had all he could eat since Aug. 21, when an ice-cream company gave him a bottomless cone as a reward for returning a paper bag containing $250 of the company's money.

The firm's manager estimated Charles gobbled up about a quart a day. He has gained 4½ pounds.

Manager W. H. Volkmar said today—the day before the deadline—that the dispensation will be extended a month because Charles "has become one of the biggest boosters of our ice cream."

"The persistent attempts which have been made and are being made to divide the peoples of the North Atlantic community will fail. Those who make these attempts do not understand the nature or the strength of the close ties between the free peoples of the North Atlantic community. The preservation of peace is the very essence of that community, and free discussion as to how this can best be done is a source of continuing strength.

"It was the threatening international situation that brought 12 nations of the North Atlantic community formally together under the North Atlantic Treaty to create sufficient strength to preserve their freedom and liberty. A series of so-called peace offers as vague in language as they are obscure in content are made from time to time. The peoples of the North Atlantic community will test these offers by the deeds that follow them. They will never reject any genuine move for peace, but will not be deflected from building up their defensive strength by mere empty words about peace."

Rose From Nothing

Born in Seaford, Lincolnshire, April 21, 1876, Mr. Wright reached Toronto in 1907, almost penniless after paying his passage from England. His personal history since seemed to parallel that of his adopted country—a rise from nothing to a position of international eminence.

Unassuming to the point of self-effacement, Mr. Wright in recent years lived so quietly that to many he was a man of mystery, of fabulous wealth but almost a hermit. But his intimates found him always ready to tell stories and to chat about his days in the army and his prospecting trips. Too, he always was ready to talk horses. He had a racing stable that produced many good Canadian-breds.

The man who discovered more than one gold mine, who bred a horse that won Canada's premier horse race, the King's Plate, and who owned one of Canada's leading newspapers once remarked that his biggest thrill was when a British relief column reached beleaquered Ladysmith during the South African War. The column brought cigarettes with it.

"Lucky Wright"

He called himself "Lucky Wright," and he was. He turned down a $10-a-month farm job in 1907 and went west where he became fired with the talks of fortunes that could be made in minerals. Then, after a year in a Georgetown, Ont., butcher shop—he had been apprenticed to a butcher in England at the age of 14—he went into the northern Ontario mining country at the height of the Cobalt boom in 1909.

His big break came in 1911. With his brother-in-law, Edward Hargreaves, he went shooting for rabbits as a break from the grind of prospecting for gold. He came across a "likely-looking vein." That was the start of the Wright-Hargreaves gold mine, among Canada's largest, a mine that produced millions of dollars worth of the yellow metal.

By 1916 a prospective millionaire, he had staked the Sylvanite mine, part of the Lake Shore mine and a dozen other good prospects. But the First World War was on and the man who had served the King in South Africa, Ireland, India and Egypt enlisted with the Canadian forces. He served from 1916 until the armistice.

Known in the army as the "millionaire private," he several times refused promotion and returned to Canada in 1919 to make his home at Haileybury not far from the scene of his mining enterprises. In 1922 his home was destroyed by fire and he moved 200 miles south to Barrie the following year.

Here he lived simply with his only close relative, his sister who had been widowed by the death of Mr. Wright's partner. He never married. Most of his time in recent years was devoted to his horse-breeding establishment.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP) — Plain quality cattle made up the bulk of the offerings at the Ontario stockyards today, but trading was dull and sales were generally too few to establish prices. Receipts: Cattle, 150; calves, 30; hogs, 90; lambs, 130. There were 1,100 cattle held over from Wednesday.

Common to medium stockers sold at $29-$33. Medium to good cows made $26-$28 with common cows down to $20. Common to medium bulls were $23-$27.

Calves were steady at $36-$37 for choice vealers, while medium brought $33-$35.

Hogs made $29 for grade A. Sows were $24 dressed.

Lambs were steady at $33.50 for good ewes and wethers with bucks at $32.50. There were no offerings of sheep.

Grain Bottleneck Real Emergency

WINNIPEG, Sept. 20 (CP)—J. L. Phelps, president of the Saskatchewan Farmers' Union, said Wednesday that the Canadian grain transportation situation borders on a national emergency.

Mr. Phelps made the statement on his return from Ottawa after conferring with Transport Minister Chevrier, Agricultural Minister Gardiner and R. W. Milner, transport controller.

The transportation bottleneck had brought about congestion not only at the Lakehead but all down the line at other lake ports and Montreal, said Mr. Phelps. The Wheat Board was losing sales and this made the situation worse.

He said he had spoken to Transport Minister Chevrier about extending the shipping season at Churchill, Man., and Mr. Chevrier had promised to take the matter up with the Marine Shipping Commission.

Traffic Officer 26 Years Ago

PORT HOPE, Sept. 20. — The first traffic officer ever appointed to the Peterborough, Port Hope, Bowmanville district, S. H. Wiggins, has returned to live in Port Hope in retirement.

Mr. Wiggins recently retired as a DVA official.

He was appointed as traffic officer in this district by the provincial government before traffic duties were taken over by the Ontario Provincial Police. At that time an officer had to supply his own vehicle and clothes, which are now provided by the department.

Following a two years' service in this district Mr. Wiggins was transferred to Toronto, where he worked on traffic control until the OPP took over. He then was employed for the Acton Publishing Co. in 1927.

Two Railway Unions Discuss Pay Drive

MONTREAL, Sept. 20—(CP)— Two major Canadian railway unions and 15 international brotherhoods met behind closed doors here today to discuss higher wages for their 90,000 non-operating membership.

Delegates from coast-to-coast under the chairmanship of Frank Hall, international vice-president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clarks, said the unions would review the contracts signed last year. He said the rising cost-of-living had made it imperative that employees receive more money.

There will be no reports issued concerning the meetings until after the sessions have been completed.

Dollar Higher

MONTREAL, Sept. 20 — (CP) — The American dollar today opened at 5 9/16 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, 1/32 higher than Wednesday's close. That is, it took $1.05 9/16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.95 9/16, up 1/16.

In Service For Men Women Who Served

This column is the first of a weekly effort to be made by branch 52, Canadian Legion (Peterborough), to bring the Legion and its many facilities to the notice of the servicemen and their dependents in this district.

As this article will serve as an introduction to the many that will follow, we will attempt to show you the many and different ways the Canadian Legion may be of service to you.

The Canadian Legion's first and foremost job is service—service to the men and women who have fought for our country, service to those in uniform now, and service to the dependents of those gallant men who failed to return. The Legion has accepted this challenge and has committees working on this most important job at all times.

In the Legion itself we have a very capable welfare committee that handles all cases brought to its attention. Under the chairmanship of Comrade Albert Mason, this committee gives help (monetary and otherwise) to those who under difficult circumstances find it necessary to appeal to this committee. The source of the funds that are used by Mr. Mason and his group will be of interest to many, I am sure. The sale of poppies and wreathes for November 11 provide the funds that are the tools of this welfare committee of the Canadian Legion. In a future article we will deal further on this subject, but now on to other Legion activities.

Comradeship is the next thing that the Canadian Legion advocates. To help the fellows out along this line the club has provided a variety of entertainment. Any night you will find two shuffle-boards, two pool tables (one of which has just been purchased), a ping-pong table and dart boards going strong. Along with the fore mentioned there is also a carpet ball league in the winter months, and any amount of card players that will play nearly any game you can mention. The ladies will find out that we have not forgotten them either. Wednesday night is bingo, and we have one of the best bingoes in the city. Friday night is social evening for members and their wives or girl friends. This is a night filled with fun and entertainment for you and yours. Under the fine management of Comrade Ned Heffernan, this night has become a great favorite with many. At the time of this writing, I understand that plans are being made to make the social evenings better than ever.

The Canadian Legion also provides the opportunity for fellows from the same regiment, the navy or veterans that are working together in industry to get together socially and to have business meetings in a room especially built for them on the top floor of the Legion Hall. Here are the dates of the meetings of the different clubs: Navy Club meets on the first Tuesday of the month. The Duffy Club on the second Tuesday. The Red Patch Club on the fourth Monday, and the Westclox Vets on the fourth Wednesday. There is one other branch of the Legion of which we are very proud. This is the Ladies' Auxiliary that meets the first Monday of the month. At a later date I intend to have a story on this fine group and the many services that they perform.

Well, fellows, that just about winds things up for this week, but we will be back next week to keep you up to date on the happenings here at the Canadian Legion. Any of you that are reading this who are not members of the Legion, how about dropping around some evening and see for yourself just how good the club is. Mr. Dodds, our secretary-manager, will be glad to give you any information that you may wish.

To the members of the club that are reading this, may I remind you that the first general meeting of the branch will be held on Sept. 17 on the centre floor of the hall. Come out to this meeting and give the club your support.

OBITUARIES

MISS BESSIE ARMSTRONG

MILLBROOK, Sept. 20 (ENS) —The death occurred at her home in Millbrook on Tuesday afternoon of Miss Bessie Kathleen Armstrong. Miss Armstrong was born in Millbrook, the daughter of the late A. T. Armstrong and Rebecca O'Brian. With the exception of a number of years spent in Beverly Hills, California, Miss Armstrong had lived all her life in Millbrook. She was one of a family of eight brothers and sisters of whom two still survive, a brother Norman, of Vancouver, and a sister, Mrs. Harold Moncrief (Helen), of South Monaghan. Mrs. George Hetherington of Millbrook an aunt, also survives, and there are a number of nephews and nieces.

Miss Armstrong was a nurse by profession and had received her early education in Millbrook public and high schools. She was a member of Grace Presbyterian Church, and had in years gone by belonged to the WMS and the Ladies' Aid of that church and also to the choir.

Her funeral is being held at 2 p.m. on Thursday from G. T. MacPherson's funeral home with the Rev. W. H. Heustin of Grace Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial will be in Millbrook Presbyterian cemetery.

JOHN FRANCIS HOTTS

John Francis Hotts, Norwood, died suddenly at his residence after a heart attack while at supper. He was 47.

Mr. Hotts was born in Tweed, the son of Dennis Hotts and Ereal Lachapelle. His wife, the former Margaret Morna, survives him.

A mechanic for the McCallum Transport, Oshawa, Mr. Hotts has lived in Norwood for the past 12 years. He lived previously in Tweed and district where he obtained his education.

Besides his mother and wife, he is survived by: Daughters, Mrs. William Robinson (Alice), Mrs. Wilson Webb (Eileen), both of Toronto; a son Thomas of Norwood; sisters, Mrs. Louis Rashotte (Mary), Mrs. Fred Geraldi (Dorothy), both of Tweed, Mrs. Fred LePalm (Kathleen), Mrs. Martin LePalm (Agnes); brothers James and Joseph of Detroit, Bernard of Peterborough.

The body is resting at the family residence until 4 pm Friday, then to the home of his sister, Mrs. Rashotte, Tweed, until Saturday, when requiem mass will be celebrated at 10 am at St. Carthagh Church, Tweed. Burial will be at St. Carthagh Cemetery.

JOHN EDWARD WHITE

John Edward White, 84, Lakefield, and formerly of Peterborough, died suddenly in hospital Tuesday.

Born in Whitby, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert White, he lived in Lakefield for three years. Previously he lived in Peterborough for 20 years, coming here from Toronto.

He was in the restaurant business before his retirement and was a member of the Anglican Church.

He leaves three sons, Gordon, New York City, Arthur, Lakefield, Robert, Peterborough; two sisters, Mrs. W. Jones and Miss Polina White, both of Claremont, Ontario, and one brother Albert of Oregon.

The funeral will be held Friday from the Nisbett Funeral Home at 2 pm, the Rev. M. P. Poole of All Saints' Anglican Church will conduct the service. Burial will be in Lakefield Cemetery.

MRS. J. H. WALLLACE.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 20 — (ENS) — A well-known Campbellford resident for the past 46 years, Annie Mary Thompson, widow of the late John H. Wallace, passed away at her home on Grand Road on Wednesday in her 75th year.

Annie Thompson was the daughter of the late John Thompson and Jane Wilson. She had been ill for only a few days. Mrs. Wallace was born in Seymour Township.

Surviving are one son, Arthur Wallace, Campbellford; a brother Wilson Thompson, Marmora; and one sister, Mrs. Andrew Hay, Hoard's Station.

Mrs. Wallace attended St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, of which Rev. A. E. Toombs is the pastor. He will conduct funeral service on Friday afternoon at 2.30 p.m. from Bennett's Funeral Home on Frank Street. Burial will be in Burnbrae cemetery.

JAMES J. ROBERTSON.

CAMPBELLFORD, Sept. 20 — James J. Robertson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robertson of Campbellford has graduated from Osgoode Hall, Toronto, and has been called to the bar. He will practice in Toronto. Jim made quite a name for himself both in Campbellford and Toronto as a softball pitcher.

Conscription Drummer

Mr. Malcolm Robb, a Belleville lawyer, is a vigorous speaker with a mission, but he talks a lot of bally-hoo. He has been tub-thumping on platforms all around southeastern Ontario with the same noisy beat: conscription. This week he banged out the theme again before a Peterborough audience.

* * *

Our news pages yesterday gave a column of space to Mr. Robb's arguments and exhortations, so there is no need to rehearse them all here. But their very plausibility demands a pricking. The gallant Mr. Robb, a former air force officer, is altogether too frantic about Canada's "bare minimum for survival—everything we've got," and he is lop-sided—single-minded—about Canada's role in defending this country and democracy everywhere from Russian Communism

* * *

Mr. Robb would immediately turn Canada into an armed camp. If that is the way Canadians must survive, why bother to survive? For the entire Canadian populace to live in an armed camp called Canada for the best years of their lives—or from now to eternity should the war for which Mr. Robb would arm us take place terribly—is not our notion of how best to survive. We might almost as well exist under Russian hegemony.

* * *

Mr. Robb lacks historical perspective. This is not the only decade in the world's story which has been tortured by threats of doom. Most of the time the doom has been magnified—and averted. The nineteenth century between Napoleon and the Kaiser was pockmarked by alarms and excursions: the unspeakable Turks, the odious Russians or some other people were wickedly setting out to conquer Europe and the world. But they did not, and the frenzies were quieted—Disraeli brought home from the Berlin Conference of 1878 "peace with honour". Even when ogres like Napoleon and the late Kaiser stalked Europe and haunted people's imaginations, and large wars were fought to lay them, civilization was not doomed. People scare bigger and wider these days than ever before because the means of communicating scares are so fast and numerous. Admittedly the instruments of destruction are bigger and deadlier than ever before, but the biggest and best are on our side, or, rather, we are on their side. Let Canada not be frightened into surrendering herself a hostage to a screaming future.

* * *

Mr. Robb lacks a sense of proportion. He wants Canada armed to the teeth, as if Canadians were hydra-headed monsters instead of pleasant people trying to cultivate the arts of peace under difficult international circumstances. In Mr. Robb's view it is almost a sin to try to do so. Does he forget that Canada has not declared war on any nation, nor any nation on Canada? This era of peace may be distressing, but it is the only kind of peace we are likely to get for a long time. Let us make the most of it while cautiously keeping our powder dry. To put "everything we've got" into peacetime defence is to mock life.

* * *

This country is not doing badly in keeping its powder dry, even if Mr. Robb sees "something pathetic about a country gazing daily at the headlines announcing the movement of a single platoon as much as seven or eight miles behind the lines." Canada is geared to devote ten per cent. of her national production to defence preparations—ten per cent., the tithe of the god Mars. That amounts to two billion dollars annually.

* * *

Mr. Robb has a disproportionate sense of Canada's obligation to arm against Russia. Canada is not the only pimple on the plain (or goose in the stew). Let us be realistic about this. To the biggest belongs the burden. Unlike the United States, Canada cannot overawe the world with soldiers, planes, guns and bombs. She need not try. So vast and efficient is the U.S.A. industrial machine and so numerous her population that with the next four years, singlehanded, the U.S.A. can militarily dominate the world and in bearing this burden not make a dent in the fullness of her material life.

* * *

We hesitate to call Mr. Robb a Jingo, but by Jingo! he speaks like one. In 1878 England was stirred to a white heat against the Russians. London music-halls had the song

We don't want to fight
But by Jingo, if we do,
We've got the men, we've got the ships,
We've got the money too.

Fortunately for good living in England and peace in Europe, the war party was circumvented and Russia was kept out of the Mediterranean without England firing a shot, conscripting a soldier or turning her pleasant land into a hundred Aldershots.

Nothing New About Strikes

It seems that just about the time it appears reasonably safe to conclude that something is a product or a development of modern times, evidence comes along to prove that it is old in history. Either the Chinese invented it centuries before Europeans, or the ancient Greeks had a word for it, or the Russians claim that one of their boys did it a thousand years ago. And now the Egyptians have entered the field with a rather surprising but thoroughly authenticated claim.

The first industrial strike probably was called in Egypt. About twelve centuries before the birth of Christ, the Pharaoh Rameses III decided to perpetuate himself after death as a great god. He reasoned that this task could not safely be left to posterity, and he also feared he might not be long for this world. He therefore began a huge construction project to erect temples, tombs and monuments to be ready for use when he died. It was a top priority program, and it made heavy demands on the Egyptian labour supply of the day.

Then the troubles began, according to the Journal of Near Eastern Studies, a trade paper of archaeologists and paleographers. It was strangely similar to those that have plagued workers today. Food and other necessities became scarce, and housing was inadequate. An inflation which had skyrocketed the price of grain about five hundred per cent. added to the discontent of the workers. So they went on strike.

In the ordinary way of things, with Rameses a god as well as absolute monarch, it would have been a case of off with their heads, but the workers had Rameses III over a barrel. If the labourers were executed, where would he find others to complete his necropolis? If they were severely punished, their work might suffer and would thus be unworthy of the great one. And every day the strike lasted meant that much work lost, while bringing the death of Rameses that much nearer. So the Pharaoh and his officials gave unusual consideration to the following complaint from one who probably was the world's first strike chairman: "It is because of hunger and because of thirst that we come here. There is no clothing, no ointment, no fish, no vegetables."

Supplies were rushed in and the men went back to work. They apparently found the victory a heady one, however, for they struck four more times before the long reign of Rameses ended. And, in the end, the Pharaoh never did get things the way he wanted them. His fear of untimely death was well founded, for three years after the strikes at Luxor he was murdered by members of his own household.

Our Fishing Boy

The most obvious recent example of official slackness in Peterborough is the unexplained neglect in getting the fountain at Victoria Park erected. This small but important item of city business does not involve complicated planning, a large financial outlay or any matter of policy. All that is needed is to get the figure of the small boy with his fishing rod (a design already commissioned, approved and executed) cast, and set up on a base (presumably the base of the former fountain) in the shallow pool already prepared, and turn on the water—for which piping has already been laid. Is this project beyond the capacity of the City Council to carry through, or particularly of the chairman of the Parks Committee?

Council, Parks Committee and Parks Department have been footering around with this simple matter for two years.

We expected to see the fountain re-established and playing last summer. Little happened, except that the ground was cleared and the design executed. We should at the latest have seen the fountain in operation with the first zephyr of spring. But no; all summer long the place for it has been an empty bowl. Apparently some people around the city offices do not need a jet of cooling water; they require a gaff from the fishing boy to get the fountain set up. We suspect that there is rage in heaven about the unwarranted delay, since the late Mr. De la Fosse and his walking-stick are no longer around Water Street to prod the authorities.

Can The West Stop Mass Army?

By ROBERT JESSEL

(Ed. Note: Robert Jessel is well known as a military writer. He was formerly on the "Manchester Guardian" and later with the London "Daily Express".)

THERE was a bewildering period last December and January when it looked as if the Chinese army had smashed the comforting theory that in a head-on clash the modern weapons and technical "know-how" of the Western democracies would prove more than a match for the Communists' mass armies. This first classic encounter took place in North Korea. The United Nations, with victory seemingly within their grasp, were bundled back from the Yalu River, from Pyongyang and finally from the 38th Parallel itself with heavy casualties. There was unofficial talk in Washington and London of a further retreat to the Pusan bridgehead, possibly to Japan itself. The Communists might not be able to read and write as well as the Westerner; they might be short of electronic gear and motor transport. But it looked very much as if sheer weight of numbers in the assault could give them decisive victory.

This phase of pessimism did not last long. General Ridgway, General Van Fleet and the skill and grit of the common soldier serving under them soon restored the position. The past half-year has been a grim period for the Communist soldiers in Korea. Their casualties in killed, wounded and missing have been put at more than 1,000,000 since the war's beginning. The initiative is back in United Nations' hands. But we are still left with the problem unsolved which had promised a clear-cut answer in the Korean laboratory of war: Can one Westerner with a modern weapon prove a match for three or four Communist soldiers?

✧ ✧ ✧

MY answer would be Yes. But I should want to qualify it. Indeed, the qualifications are of supreme importance, because they may one day determine the likelihood or the outcome of another "Korea", maybe even a Third World War. We have bought our knowledge dearly, in battle, but its value is immense.

✧ ✧ ✧

FIRST, we have learnt that there is sure to be a substantial time-lag before the lethal effect of the fire-power of highly equipped armies becomes apparent against an enemy plunging forward in a massed assault. This goes for the air arm too. We now know that the Communists can lose a hundred thousand men a week for several weeks and still maintain an offensive. But our blow is no less mortal, and their offensive is still abortive. In particular, the effect of bombing is cumulative. We had discovered this, after all, in the war with Hitler. But the layman's memory is short.

General Ridgway's famous aphorism "Real estate in Korea is incidental" does not mean that your Western-type army must open its campaign with a Dunkirk. It does mean that the Westerner, having mown down four waves of advancing Communist infantry and shattered their supply arteries, must often be prepared for a fifth wave to penetrate his forward area and for a six or seventh wave to pass through the gap. For a few days, even weeks, the news in the papers may look grim to the civilian observer while his commander-in-chief on the spot is well aware that the Communists have used their last reserves in buying ground which they cannot possibly hold. That is the signal for the Western counter-offensive, the reaping of the harvest.

✧ ✧ ✧

MY second qualification is that the Westerner must not only have a weapon which is genuinely superior to the Communists, and be battle-trained to use it to best effect, but he must also be disciplined to keep his head when this sixth or seventh wave, supported perhaps by guerrillas, infiltrates to his rear and isolates his company or battalion. We have seen in Korea that such a standard of discipline and training can be attained quite quickly under good leaders. The Gloucesters were not picked men, but an ordinary battalion of an English county regiment. The disasters which we suffered in December were due to faulty training. It is natural that a highly mechanized division or regiment should be temporarily dismayed when the enemy cuts the supply line which feeds its automatic weapons and its tanks. Events have shown that Western formations can conquer this dismay, establish one or more hedgehog positions, live on reserve stocks of ammunition and petrol, and inflict terrible casualties on the attackers.

✧ ✧ ✧

SO far I have been thinking largely in terms of United Nations infantry and air-striking power. (It is plain that our superiority in the latter was a windfall of fortune which could hardly be repeated in the event of a war in the West within the next three years). My third qualification to my assertion that the Communist soldier is no match for our own concerns the artillery, which has done prodigious feats for the Eighth Army this year. The Communists are good gunners. Ours, equipped with still better guns and the latest proximity-fuse ammunition, have evolved a technique against the mass assault which is far in advance of anything which the Communists can boast. The gunner's ideal target is a mass of enemy troops in the open; and this is precisely what a Communist attack consists of.

WHAT then is my proviso? It is that the cumbrous equipment of a corps and divisional artillery, together with plentiful ammunition supplies, must be available from the start to the commander in charge of the first defensive battles. It was not available in the early phases of the Korean war, or at the time when the Chinese sent General MacArthur's troops reeling southwards last Christmas. Not anything like enough of it. It has got to be available, as a very high priority indeed, if we ever have another June 25, 1950. Against a Western-type enemy our artillery never had such targets as the Communists provide. It is now queen of the battlefield indeed.

The United Nations have learnt these lessons at the cost of some quarter-of-a-million casualties, the South Koreans included. If they remember them, and disseminate them through their staffs and armies at home, the free world's prospects are far from black.

—John Hare.

"The English think of themselves as a dull, plodding, humdrum, hard-working sort of people. They are, in fact, nothing of the kind. So far from being hard-working, they are lazy, constitutionally indolent. They are always being caught lagging behind, unprepared—again and again in their history it has been the same; and then, when up against it—and not until they are up against it—they more than make up for lost time by their resourcefulness, their inventiveness, their ability to extemorize, their self-reliance."
—A. L. Rowse.

"There's plenty of time to win this game, and to thrash the Spaniards, too."
—Sir Francis Drake.

"The surest way to affront any Englishman is to suggest to him that he has no sense of humour. He would as soon have it said that he did not like dogs." —H. W. Garrod.

Export Of Labour Shameful

(Windsor Star)

After a closer look at the Windsor unemployment situation, federal authorities have opened negotiations to place, if they can, several hundred idled Ford workers in jobs in Cleveland.

This may be an acceptable solution for the jobless men involved. For the government it is a shameless admission of the failure of a policy that never had much planning or conviction behind it.

Right on the echoes, as it were, of Prime Minister Louis S. St. Laurent's plea for increased production as the best means to combat inflation, the government tries to arrange for the export of skilled Canadian labour.

By this act it is admitting it cannot place them in appropriate employment at home; that its talk about increasing production was just words cast on the winds. The unemployment it helped create here is a bigger problem than it has shown itself capable of handling. This Cleveland business proves it.

How Time Flies

SEPTEMBER 20

1921 The death occurs of Mrs. Eliza Stanton as the result of an accident in her home here.

Fifty district doctors attend a meeting in this city of the Ontario Medical Association.

W. S. Davidson, formerly of Peterborough, is secretary of the western champion Calgary baseball club.

1931 Brian Bellasis, manager of the British Exhibition in Buenos Aires, pays a visit to Peterborough.

Revised plans for the new rest room at the market square are adopted by the council.

Robert Abbott, with a par 70 score, wins the Ontario fall golf tournament at Oshawa.

1941 The cost of living bonus to C.G.E. Co. employees here is raised to $3.20.

The executive of the local Fish and Game Association threatens to resign because of failure of district resort owners to co-operate.

Roy Tranter defeats Paul Chapdelaine to win the Kawartha men's tennis singles championship.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Who hath directed the Spirit of the Lord, or being his counsellor hath taught him? With whom took he counsel, and who instructed him, and taught him in the path of judgement, and taught him knowledge, and shewed to him the way of understanding?

Why sayest thou, O Jacob, and speakest, O Israel, My way is hid from the Lord, and my judgement is passed over from my God? Hast thou not known? hast thou not heard, that the everlasting God, the Lord, the Creator of the ends of the earth, fainteth not, neither is weary? there is no searching of his understanding. (Isa. 40: 13, 14, 27, 28.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Remember the former things of old: for I am God, and there is none else; I am God, and there is none like me, declaring the end from the beginning, and from ancient times the things that are not yet done, saying, My counsel shall stand, and I will do all my pleasure. (Isa. 46: 9, 10.)

✧ ✧ ✧

O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgements, and his ways past finding out! for who hath known the mind of the Lord? or who hath been his counsellor? (Rom. 11: 33, 34.)

Mayor's Regalia

(London Free Press)

Sir Denys Lowson, Lord Mayor of London, who opened the Western Fair, appeared before us resplendent in his robes of office, plumed three-cornered hat, gold braided gown and bejewelled chain of office.

This is a traditional habilment of shining splendour adding distinction to the high office of first magistrate of the great city.

We should have official robes and regalia for our own mayor. Now that the morning coat, striped pants and topper have been diminished in the official world and are now restricted to church attendance, weddings and receptions, the mayor is apt to appear as a mediocre figure. Whereas he is the first civilian in the community.

Treatise On Underwear

(New York Herald Tribune)

Dr. C. Willett Cunnington, of London, has completed his monumental work, "History of Underclothing", at the age of seventy-two.

The reason that the Pilgrim Fathers shivered as they set sail for America 331 years ago was that they did not wear underwear. Italians and French wore it in the Middle Ages, but the British did not adopt the idea, according to Dr. Cunnington, until the eighteenth century. He thinks the knights in armour may have been the first to wear pants or petticoats because of wind whistling through chinks in the metal.

America's two great contributions toward undergarments, says the author, have been the one-piece union suit, and, more recently, the pioneer use of nylon in that department.

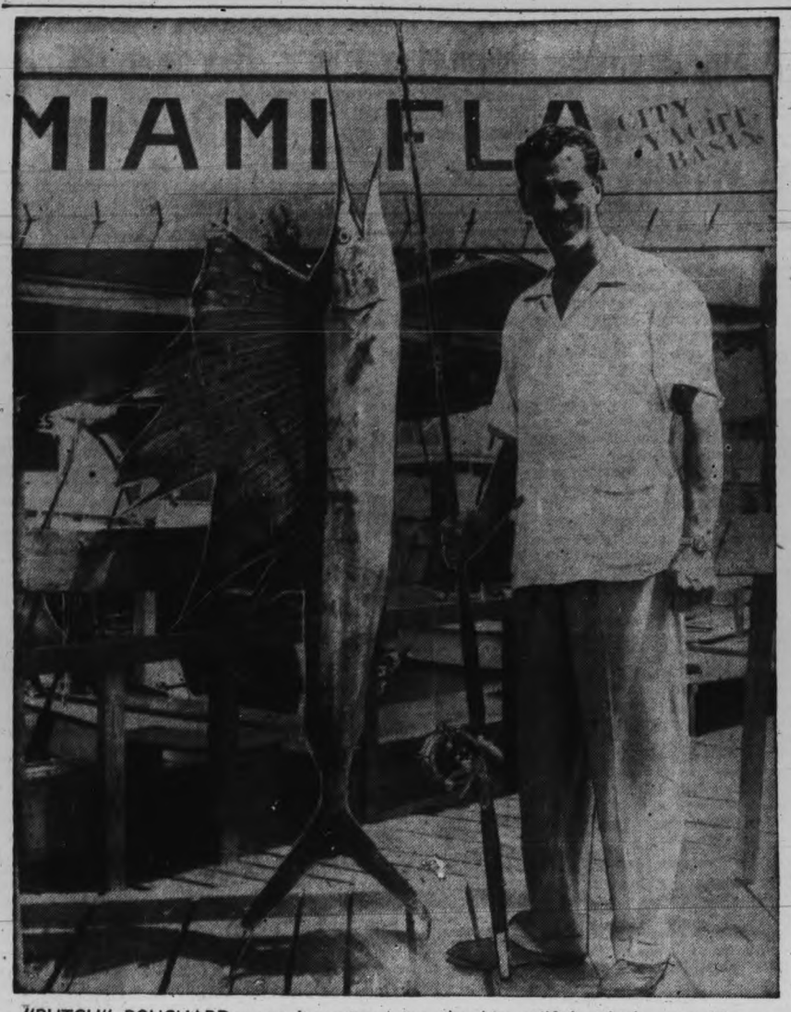
Right Slant

(Wall Street Journal)

One of the stone masons on the palatial new home going up in Connecticut was an elderly New York Italian. He had drunk too much red wine with his lunch the day he was laying the chimney for the main fireplace. The owner happened by, squinted up at the workman on the scaffold and called, "Hey, Tony! You're getting that thing on a slant. Where the devil did you learn the stone masonry trade?"

Tony also squinted. Then he yelled back, "I learn my trade in Pisa, Italy. Where you t'ink?"

WORK-OUT BY THE CHAMP



"BUTCH" BOUCHARD came bouncing in from Florida recently to prove that the "big one didn't get away from him." Here he is on the dock at Miami proudly displaying the big sailfish which gave him as much trouble as Bill Ezinicki before he landed it. He leaves pleasure for the business of holding his spot on the Montreal Canadiens' defence.

31 Yrs. Omemee Postmaster, R. J. Grandy Dies

OMEMEE, Sept. 20 (ENS). — Robert James Grandy, 67, died early Wednesday morning in Peterborough hospital.

He was the only son of the late Richard Grandy and Sarah Graham and a life-long resident of Omemee. He was Omemee's postmaster from 1918 until 1949. Since his grandfather's appointment in 1843 the first year the village had a post office, it had been in the Grandy family, three generations of them.

Mr. Grandy has also been a commissioner for years. He was a member of Lorne Lodge 375, AF and AM.

He is the last of the Grandys in Omemee. Mrs. Havelock Fee (the former Gertie Grandy) of Peterborough is a first cousin as are also Mrs. S. McElwain, Mrs. H. McElwain, Mrs. T. Huggins, and Mr. Harold Graham, all of Emily township; John, Fred, and Wilbert Graham, Mrs. Fred Carscadden, Mrs. H. Cullum, Mrs. M. Morrow, all of Lindsay; Howard Graham of Dunsford and others in Toronto, Orillia and Brockville.

He is resting in the Morcombe funeral home until the funeral Friday at 2:30 p.m. in Christ Anglican Church, the Rev. C. Richmond officiating. The funeral will be under the auspices of Lorne Lodge. Burial will be in Emily cemetery.

Here And There In Sports

By The Canadian Press

Cleveland Indians began accepting world series ticket orders Wednesday.

"We aren't counting our chickens," the club announced, "but we can no longer delay announcement of our world series ticket plans."

Currently the Indians are in second place in the American League, only a shade behind New York Yankees.

No orders will be filled before early next week, and fans have until Saturday to get their applications to the club. Orders postmarked after midnight Saturday, Sept. 22, will not be accepted.

If more orders are received than there are tickets available—which is invariably the case—applications will be filled by lot rather than on a first-received, first-served basis, the club announced.

Charlie Pinnell of Calgary was re-elected president of the Dominion Football Association on Wednesday at closing sessions of its annual meeting at Montreal.

At Detroit, Ken Lovegrove, 175, Hamilton, Wednesday night knocked out Norman Smith, 172, Monroe, Mich., in 2:02 of the second of an eight-round bout.

A Congressional investigation of organized baseball will be resumed with hearings on Oct. 17.

The decision was made in a closed meeting of the House of Representatives judiciary subcommittee on monopoly power.

The committee began the investigation last month.

Quarterback Wally Mellor and Don Griffen attracted plenty of attention Wednesday as 51 candidates for the Queen's University senior football team in the Intercollegiate League worked out under the eye of coach Frank Tindall at Kingston.

The Tricolor squad will take 36 players to Hamilton Friday for its exhibition game Saturday against McMaster University Marauders of the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

Coach Vick Obeck of McGill University announced Wednesday regular backfielders Ken Wagner and Gene Robillard have been declared ineligible for football by university officials following failure in one course of studies.

McGill plays their first exhibition match here Saturday with Sarnia Imperials.

At Delaware, O., Sampson Hanover Wednesday turned in the fastest mile ever recorded over a half-mile track in the history of harness racing.

The undefeated four-year-old son of Volomite went the second heat of the $2,500 Alamhurst pace at Delaware county fairgrounds in 1:59 3-5. It ran his victory string to 16 in a row.

Huron Express the fast-clipping pacer of Woods and Gardiner, of Goderich Wednesday raced to the wire first in three straight heats of the 2.14 feature harness racing event at the Tillsonburg and district fair, before a crowd of more than 6,000.

The Old Country Trotting Association of Westbury, NY, which pioneered night harness racing 12 years ago, will receive the Proximity award for 1951 at the annual dinner of the United States Harness Writers' Association Sunday night.

The award goes annually to the person or persons who have been voted as having done the most for the sport over a period of years.

Mimico Team At Top Strength

BRAMPTON, Sept. 20 (CP). — Mimico Junior Mountaineers and Manitoba all-stars open their best-of-five final for the Dominion junior lacrosse crown here Saturday.

Second game of the set will be played Monday and the third on Wednesday. Fourth and fifth games, if needed, are slated for Sept. 28 and 29.

The Mimico team is free of injuries and will be at top strength for the opener. They have bolstered their squad with Peterborough's Lou Nickle and Rock Batley and St. Catharines' Derry Davies. Regulars Joe Milhilison and Ron Kelly are preparing for hockey and will be absent from the team.

Hurricanes Protest Player Tampering

WATERLOO, Sept. 20 (CP).—Waterloo Hurricanes of the Ontario Junior A series have filed a complaint with the Ontario Hockey Association alleging that Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League have been tampering with a player drafted by the Hurcs.

Earlier this year the Waterloo club was successful in an OHA draft law in which six teams participated for Ron Atwell, centre player of the Nobleton Junior D team of last season.

Waterloo officials allege that Canadiens have taken Atwell to Montreal and that he is working out at the Canadiens' junior school there. He was to have reported in Waterloo last Friday.

Leaves For Germany

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP) — John J. McCloy, United States high commissioner for Germany, left by plane for that country Wednesday after a two-week vacation.

Given 6-Month Sentence

WHITBY, Sept. 20 — (CP) — Joseph Dionne, 24, of Clarenceville, Que., and Emile Parent, 24, of Montreal, Wednesday were sentenced to six months for robbing and beating Albert Wilkins, of Toronto, as he was leaving the Rouge Valley Inn two weeks ago. A third man, Marcel Pelletiai, 23, of Montreal, was acquitted.

Ask Greater Freedom

VALLADOLID, Spain, Sept. 20 (AP).—Representatives of the entire Spanish press appealed to the government Wednesday for greater freedom, including the right to obtain foreign news from any source they desire. Foreign news now is channelled to the Spanish press through a subsidized news agency.

Gnup Signed To Coach Grid Orfuns

Frank Gnup has signed to coach the Peterborough Orfuns the rest of their ORFU senior "B" season. The former American-born Hamilton senior star and coach has taken over his duties and will be drilling the local squad hard from now on in preparation for their next game, a scheduled fixture with East York here next Wednesday night. There will be no games this week.

Following Leo Deadey's resignation as coach last week, Harv Bamforth reluctantly returned to the scene briefly, but he maintained he did not have the time and suggested scouting around for another coach. He and others went to Hamilton and talked Gnup into assuming the job. Gnup had recently returned from Western Canada. He is thinking of settling in Peterborough now.

Frank was born in Pennsylvania. He played football for Manhattan College, NY, and, after three years in the UK air force, he came to Hamilton. He was with the Wildcats for four years, two in the senior ORFU and two in the Big Four. He was signed with Buffalo Bills when Hamilton got him to coach the Cats in 1946. Frank was responsible for bringing Al Dekdebrun to Hamilton. Last year, he was spotter for the Argos. Gnup was also a track and field star. He has Bill Huntley, Babe Levantis and Chuck Paul out now with the Orfuns and has confidence the club will go places. His teams play an open, exciting brand of football.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

The ladies have announced the date for their annual meeting as Wednesday, Oct. 3.

That was a nice crowd out for the mixed doubles tournament last night; 20 pairs is not bad for a mid-week event.

Winners

1, Mrs. E. Jeffery and T. Parker; 2, Mrs. D. Martin and F. Martin; 3, Mrs. W. Hepburn and H. R. Martin; 4, Mrs. L. Bearne and J. D. Fitzpatrick; 5, Mrs. Cameron and R. Benson. Lucky draw, Mrs. E. Jeffery.

The winning skip in yesterday afternoon's tournament: 1, Mrs. L. Allan; 2, Mrs. S. Scott; 3, Mrs. L. Ackford.

Syracuse Team Gets Workout

LINDSAY, Sept. 20.— Coach Frank Beisler was all smiles on Wednesday after 23 players, who will reintroduce pro hockey to Syracuse, donned full equipment for the first scrimmage of the four-week training camp which opened here Tuesday.

"The boys looked very good in their first scrimmage," said Beisler after the two sides went at it for 90 minutes.

The hour and half morning session opened with passing and shooting practice and finished off with Coach Beisler sending five combinations of 15 forwards against the three sets of defencemen.

Recently reappointed coach Frank Beisler had the group loosening up their skating legs in morning and afternoon sessions. Owner Eddie Shore watched as the Indians' roster of two goalkeepers, five defencemen and 15 forwards warmed up.

Back from last year are Nip O'Nearn, Gord Bell, Keith Allen, Gord Davidson, Frank Bergeron, Charlie Gagnon, Gordy Tottle, Kelly Burnett, Henry Hayden, Leo Curik, Bronco Horvath, Bill Gooden, Sammy Casanato, George Ford, Bill Jones, Armand Lemieux, and Harry Pidherny.

Also joining the Indians' Teepees are Vernon Jones, Fred Harthburg and Mike Narduzzi of the Pacific Coast League. Dan Summers from Providence Reds and Joe Krahulec, who was out with a broken leg when with New Haven last season. Vern Pachal, a highly touted young centre will be one of the three amateurs who will drill this week. Monday the first of over 100 amateur prospects will move into camp with the pick being slated for Shore's new Springfield entry in the enlarged Eastern League.

SPS Juniors Powerful In Grid Drill

Light, experienced and loaded with land and air power, St. Peter's High juniors will be one of the top contenders from the lakeshore district this year for the junior COSSA championship.

Much the same as last year's lakeshore junior "B" group champions, the St. Peter's juniors have been grouped this year with Port Hope and Cobourg and will begin league play in a week's time.

Club officials said that although they are in a junior "B" grouping, if they win it, they'll try to enter the junior "A" COSSA playdowns.

Coach John Lynch has experienced John Hickey alternating with Gord Snape at the quarter this year. Hickey was outstanding last year with the Saints while Snape was a member of Guelph's WOSSA champions.

Lots of Talent

On the half line the team's loaded with talent. Back from last year, the Saints have fleet Bob O'Rourke and hard-driving pluggers in Murray Payne, Dick Foley and Frank McGillen. New in the backfield are the flying wings, Gord Whatman and Ron Board.

The line is divided in previous experience but carries considerable weight. Don Chambers and Paul Byrne will be holding down snap position both new men. Veterans Frank Gooley and Paul Hickson along with Lou LeBarr and Paul Hurtubise have been placed at inside beside Chambers and Byrne.

With the exception of Larry Walsh, all the Saints' middles are members of last year's squad, Jim Hull, Carl and Grant Simmons, and Paul Kingdon.

The team is fair on the ends with Lionel Chretien and Ed Corkery, both from last year, and newcomers, Terry Fitzpatrick and John Magee.

Not Operating

The Ontario Catholic Conference is not operating a senior "B" grouping this season because De-LaSalle dropped out for this year. Without enough eligible players for COSSA play, the senior Saints this year will have to be satisfied with only exhibition games.

Coach John Lynch, replacing Fred Allore who moved to Waterloo College this year, has arranged games with Whitby High senior "B" team, St. Michael's senior "B" St. Pat's of Ottawa and University of Ottawa High School.

There is a shortage of manpower in the Saints' senior ranks; Coach Lynch has only 13 men aboard for the series.

But all are experienced seniors or juniors. Working off the flying-T or double-wing-back the Saints will have John Armstrong and Jack Richardson alternating at quarter with Carl Brioux, Frank Farley, Laverne Jones and John Jones at half.

Along the line will be Peter Kirkley, a former junior, at snap, Jerry O'Reilly, Clare Hickson and former junior Paul Clough at inside, Leo Sullivan and former junior Jim Clark at middle, Tom Cavanagh and 1950 junior Tom O'Connell at outside.

Hall Hits 851 Trio

Herb's hit high pinnage of 3520 and single of 1368 in the Major Bowling League, as A. Hall had top three of 851 with W. Moriarity getting best single of 355. Other good scores were: T. Collins 838 (305), Max Hill 822 (323, 300), J. Dormer 795, W. Moriarity 776, D. Abraham 774, J. Playford 772, R. Pearson 767 (317), E. Downer 740, D. Tripp 728 (327), A. Pilling 718, G. Masters 708 (314), M. Caccavella 702 (303), R. Mongraw 701, A. Hall a single of 324, K. Guilfoyle 318 and P. Walker 315.

Six points were taken by Crowley, Sun Life, Kingsmen over Revenoors, Selkirk and Wonder, as 4-2 wins went to Cherney, Clapper, Darling, McLeod, Lillian's, E & B, UEW, Stud. Champs and Herb's respectively over Bickell, Campbell, Odeon, Examiner, Plaza, Kawartha, Brewers, Wade and Wood's.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

There'll be no football game here tomorrow night. Orillia Bombers are short several regulars, through injuries, and asked the Orfuns for a postponement. This was granted gladly since the Orfuns have obtained a new coach and want time to drill under him. Yes, sir, none other than Frank Gnup, noted senior grid mentor from Hamilton. Harv Bamforth didn't want the job when Deadey left, so Harv and others on the executive got busy scouting around for an outstanding coach and Gnup agreed to handle the club for the rest of the season. Football fans know he is a first-class grid man, an expert with long experience. There's a story in elsewhere on Frank. Meantime, the Orfuns will be practicing hard under him in preparation for their next ORFU senior "B" game with East Yorks here next Wednesday.

Soccer followers can trek to King Edward Park on Saturday aft at three to see an Ontario intermediate cup playoff. Rugby of the Orillia area plays the local UEW squad, first of a home-and-home series. Captain Eric Cotton has a potent pack of UE footballers in Goalie Art Jones, Bob Strong, Andy Smith, George Smith, Fred Mundy, Bill Allen, Bill Holroyd, Jim Craig, Jock Robertson, Art Ward, Jack Holt and Glen Davies. Maybe one or two others we missed, too. It is strictly an amateur club but a powerful one with a fine season's record to date. The team should go quite a piece yet.

And How Old Are You?

At what age are athletes most proficient, the Windsor scribe asks. And he gives some answers as discovered by a professor at Ohio University, who studied the subject for a long time. Ball pitchers are best at age of 27, he says, and other ballsters at 28. Boxers are in there prime from 23 to 27, while tennis champs range from 26 to 29. Pro puckists are tops at 26 and pro gridders at 25. One supposes that the pro proficiency ages apply also to amateurs. Of course there are many exceptions where athletes starred at an amazingly early age or else long after the usual retirement time. But these are the exceptions and not the rule.

* * * * * *

In local athletics we've known quite a few youngsters who really shone in fast company and went on for many years to star. Fans would figure these fellows real oldtimers but it was often a case of the athletes being around the sports scene from an early age and for a long spell—they might be only in their early 30s when they decided to quit. Others have played good ball, hockey, rugby or lacrosse when nudging 40—a time when most athletes are reckoned as well over the hill. Some sports are more strenuous than others and few players last too long in them. But we've all known well-conditioned athletes who kept in shape and who starred years after chaps the same age had hung 'em up.

Seeking More Do-Re-Mi

Ken Kingston advised us yesterday that the lacrosse fund—to help finance the Petes in their Mann Cup finals in Vancouver—was approximately $1,800, but the objective is $3,500. "The average fan hasn't been contributing so far," he said, "most of the amount raised being the result of direct canvassing by the executive." He urges folks interested to give any sum at all but to do so right away, handing it in to Accountant Wm. Wallace at the Bank of Montreal. Official receipts will be given. The team leaves Malton airport in Toronto this Saturday afternoon for B.C., the best-of-seven Canadian senior lacrosse finals opening there Monday, games going every other night.

Yes, it's playoff time for the junior and senior lacrossers. Vancouver Combines beat Victoria 9-7 last eve to take the western senior finals by four games to two, so it's Combines vs. Petes' Timbermen in the big series. The Minto Cup finals, a best-of-five affair, open in Brampton this Saturday. They play again Monday and Wednesday, with other tilts if necessary on Sept. 28-29. The series sees Manitoba representing the west for the first time in the Dominion junior series, meeting the Mimico Mounties, who ousted Lou Vitarelli's local lads in eastern finals. Losing two players to hockey, Mimico has obtained three replacements, Derry Davis of St. Kitts, and Rock Batley and Lou Nickle of Peterborough.

Move Indoors

MONTREAL (CP)—Gardenlovers need not let Autumn put an end to their activities for the year. Authorities at the botanical gardens say all they have to do is move their gardens indoors. Lectures in French and English have been arranged for the care of indoor gardens.

Big Catch

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld.—(CP)—A seven-foot shark weighing 500 pounds was caught by John Lambert, fisherman of Cucholes Cove. He found the monster entangled in a mackerel net and said it was the biggest that had been caught in that way in his district.

US University Cracks Down On Athletics

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., Sept. 20 (AP).—William and Mary faculty members, reacting bitterly to a sports scandal which stunned the campus, have moved to take the college off the big-time football map.

Sweeping reforms in the athletic program at W. & M. were deemed "a solemn duty" by the faculty Wednesday night in a statement which condemned the college's ambitious sports policy as a corrupting influence.

The "exaggerated athletic policy" is wrecking the academic standards of the college, the faculty charged, has ravaged the morale of the student body—including athletes—and "has vitiated the most elementary standards of honesty and right conduct."

To curb this, the faculty said, a system of "complete faculty control" must be instituted.

Dr. Nelson Marshall, Dean of the college, said faculty control would, in effect, eliminate athletic scholarships at William and Mary.

This, to all intents, would mean a sudden end to an era of football prosperity which has brought W. & M. a series of winning seasons against major-league opposition and two post-season bowl bids.

Consider Recommendations

The faculty's statement came exactly a week after a new football handbook issued at the college had predicted the current scandal would mean a "re-emphasis" of athletics at the institution.

Oscar L. Shewmake, rector of the W. & M. board of visitors, said the board would consider the faculty recommendations at an Oct. 6 session in Williamsburg.

The scandal in the department of athletics already has resulted in the resignation of the college president, Dr. John E. Pomfret; athletic director and head football coach R. N. McCray; and basketball coach Barney Wilson.

The board of directors found Sept. 8 that the athletic department under McCray had altered the scholastic records of certain high school athletes to make them eligible for entry at William and Mary, and had given other athletes passing grades in physical education classes they did not even attend.

Central Triumphs

Central blanked Queen Alex 2-0 at Riverside yesterday to open public school soccer for the season. The first half was scoreless with Central having more play but slower afoot. Queen Alex opened strong in the second half and had a good share of play when W. Macklin robbed Central several times around goal. Dunford finally broke through but was stopped by McNamee. However, his pass to Paul Hum was good on the latter's kick. Sorrie carried in and passed later to Dunford to make it 2-0. Teams:

Queen Alex. — Macklin, McNamee, Ireland, Wanamaker, Ball, Jackson, Eadie, McClennan, Reid, Johnson, Nelson, Downer, Kilborn, Olmstead, McGee, Croft.

Central — Gray, Matthews, Brown, Harrington, Patterson, Craymer, Dunford, E. Hum, Lustic, P. Hum, Tranter, Lane, Sorrie, Ellis, Woodward.

Outstanding players were: Macklin, Ireland, McClennan, P. Hum, Dunford and Patterson.

Queen Mary Wins

Queen Mary trimmed Queen Elizabeth at the Oval yesterday to commence their public school soccer grind. Morgan got the only goal of the first half. G. Dafoe twice hit the mark in the second stanza, once on a pass from J. Dafoe. Brady counted the other marker on a penalty kick against Heard for using hands in the penalty area. Some good soccer was seen by both sides in this encounter. Teams:

Queen Elizabeth—R. Whitnell, W. Whitnell, Lymburner, Harrison, Hicks, Dorgan, Welch, Wills, Heard, Tighe.

Queen Mary — Atkinson, J. Dafoe, Finn, Harris, Plunkett, Brady, Lincoln, Mason, Ellis, Stinson, Reynolds, Fredericks, G. Dafoe, Vincent.

Royals Whip Syracuse 4-3

SYRACUSE, NY., Sept. 20 — (AP). — With a 2-to-1 edge in the final best-of-seven series for the International League Governors' Cup series, Montreal tonight sends Chris Van Cuyk against Syracuse Chiefs' Bob Keegan.

George Shuba's homer off Bob Miller with nobody on in the seventh inning Wednesday night gave Montreal a 4-3 victory. It was Shuba's fourth homer of the post-season competition.

Montreal hopped on Miller for two runs in the first on a walk and Bert Haas' home run. But the Chiefs came back to tie in the second on hits by Carden Gillenwater, Gene Markland, and Miller and a wild pitch.

Vic Powers' triple and Hank Workman's single off Bob Alexander gave Syracuse the lead in the fifth. Johnny Welaj's double, a sacrifice and an infield out tied it up in the sixth.

That set it up for Shuba's winning blow. Tommy Lasorda who came on after Alexander was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth, was the winner over Miller, who was relieved by Chuck Eisenmann in the ninth.

Stationers Win

LINDSAY, Sept. 20—Recreation Centre took a one game lead over Golden Stationers in the Lindsay Ladies' League best-of-five final series with a 10-4 victory. Shirley Coppins hurled five hit ball for the winners while Pearl Parliament led the 10 hit attack off Marj Owen with two singles and a home run. Marie Anderson banged out a double and a single for the Golden gals.

Graziano Gains TKO Decision Over Janiro

DETROIT, Sept. 20 — (AP) — Rocky Graziano, whose blasting comeback in the last 20 seconds stunned Tony Janiro Wednesday night and gained Rocky a technical knockout, wants to get into the next business—a midleweight title fight with champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

This may be early next year.

Meanwhile, the "We wuz robbed" cry came from Janiro and Frankie Jacobs, his manager.

Until Rocky's crashing lefts and rights suddenly sprawled Tony on the canavs with the fight nearly over, Janiro appeared a sure winner in a wide-open slugfest. Referee Lou Handler halted the 10-round, televised fight just as Janiro hit the floor.

Janiro hopped right to his feet and joined manager Frankie Jacobs in protesting Handler's decision. Many in the crowd of 8,086 booed.

Despite the knockdown, Janiro —had a 5-3, 6-3 and 5-2 edge by rounds on the official scorecards— evidently would have won by decision if the fight had gone 14 more seconds to the conclusion.

Couldn't Get Away

Graziano, 160 pounds to Tony's 154, exploded a left to Tony's face with 20 seconds left. Tony tried to back away but Roughhouse Rocky rained rights and lefts at him.

Tony slid from rope to rope as he tried to cover up and get away. Rocky punched and half-shoved Tony to the canvas.

The winner was slated to get a possible title fight in February in Detroit or Chicago with Robinson. Rocky said he planned at least one fight a month meanwhile and hoped he'd get the title chance.

Tony, a superior boxer, had danced and ducked out of range of Rocky's explosive rights most of the fight and kept slamming his left into Rocky's face as the crowd roared.

The fight grossed $25,251.26. In two previous 10-round fights Graziano had failed to floor Janiro. Graziano won one battle and the other was a draw.

Tribe Wallops Boston 15-2 As Yankees Down Chicago White Sox By 5-3

By JACK HAND, Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's sweep of the Boston series leaves the league-leading New York Yankees gasping for breath in the American League race. Still ahead by three percentage points after Wednesday's 5-3 victory over Chicago, the Yanks have tough going ahead. They play nine of their remaining 10 with first-division clubs, while the Tribe plays only six—five with the bottom half of the league. Chances are the Yanks and Red Sox will knock off one another in their eight meetings while Cleveland picks up enough ground to get home free.

Then they can start worrying about Brooklyn, which opened up a 3½ game lead on idle New York in the National Wednesday night by blanking St. Louis, 3-0.

Chicago can knock the Yanks out of first place today while Cleveland rides a train to Detroit.

Cleveland showed its old drive Wednesday in walloping Boston 15-2, a blow that practically doused the last Red Sox hopes. Trailing by 3½ with 11 to play, Boston's main job now seems to be making or breaking the Yankees in the series opening tomorrow.

Take Full Advantage

Early Wynn became the Tribe's third 20-game winner with a seven-hit job on Boston. While he coasted the Indians took full advantage of 11 hits and 13 bases on balls by Maury McDermott and five successors. Ray Boone, Luke Easter and Bobby Avila hit home runs.

The Yanks didn't bruise the ball in beating the White Sox. They had only three hits, but two of them—off Lou Kretlow—were enough to win with the help of walks. Gil McDougald's homer with nobody on tied the score at 2-2 in the third, and Mickey Mantle's homer with two on won the game in the fourth.

Lefty Bob Kuzava, who replaced starter Tom Morgan in the third, earned his 11th victory.

Preacher Roe pulled Brooklyn out of its tailspin by shutting out St. Louis Cardinals with five hits. The crafty lefty's record now is a phenomenal 21-2 for the season.

Car For Roe

Before the game, friends from Arkansas gave Roe a new car. Given a two-run edge in the fourth on Mickey Livingston's single with the bases full, Roe had only one tight squeak, and one of the Brooks' three double plays helped him out of that. Max Lanier was knocked out in the eighth when the Dodgers added their third run.

Brooklyn ends its last western swing today at St. Louis while the Giants finish up at Cincinnati.

Bubba Church whipped Chicago 5-1, as his Phillies took advantage of four Cub errors.

Murry Dickson's 19th win let Pittsburgh out of last place, 7-3, at the expense of Boston's young Chet Nichols. Dick Cole and Gus Bell homered for the Pirates, Earl Torgeson for the Braves.

The hustling Philadelphia A's, struggling to catch fifth-place Detroit, knocked off the Tigers 8-1, on a seven-run spurt in the fourth inning.

Cass Michaels singled with the bases loaded in the eighth to score two runs for Washington's 4-3 edge over St. Louis, breaking the Senators' four-game losing streak.

OLD WOUNDS HEALED — Ethiopia's Emperor Haile Selassie, right, confers with Italian Undersecretary of Foreign Affairs Giovanni Brusasca in the imperial throne room at Addis Ababa, thus re-establishing cordial relations between the two nations. It was the first time since Mussolini's Fascist armies invaded Ethiopia in 1935 that the Emperor and his ministers received a high-level Italian diplomat.

Police Testify In Liska Case

WINDSOR, Sept. 20 —(CP)— The murder trial of George Liska went into its second day Wednesday with nine crown witnesses telling the jury of the finding of the dead body of Mike Lesko in the backyard of his Droullard road home last June 8, and the subsequent discovery of a .32 pistol in a yard near the scene.

The trial of Liska, charged with the murder of Lesko, began Tuesday.

Wednesday, witnesses were mostly police called to the Lesko home by neighbors shortly after the shooting.

Police told of finding the body lying on a boardwalk in the backyard of the Lesko home, and of finding two bullet holes in the siding of the small enclosed porch at the rear of the house.

Star reporter Ron Robertson told the court he found the gun lying in a backyard, about 300 feet down the alley from the scene of the shooting. He said he informed police of the find and watched a police photographer take pictures of the gun before it was moved.

The trial is continuing.

Support Farmers

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20—(CP) —The Canadian Congress of Labor Wednesday was on record in support of farmers seeking higher prices for their products. A resolution adopted at the annual convention urged an upward revision in prices and asked the Federal government to work out with representatives of farm organizations a just farm price structure.

Fashion Models Not Wanted In Movies Now

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 20—(AP) —New York fashion models need not apply to fill Hollywood's shortage of dancing girls. They're not wanted.

That's the blunt statement of LeRoy Prinz, in command of the beauty brigade at Warner Brothers. Gals who wear the latest clothes in the fashion mags are not suitable for films, said the dance director.

"Why, the public would throw rocks at Hollywood if we put that kind of girl in our musicals," said Prinz. "They may look all right in fancy clothes, but without them they look awful. With their long legs and flat chests, they look like bean poles."

The lack of enough dancing girls for films was caused by two factors, he said:

1. The public appetite for musicals and other escapist fare.

2. The rise of a new kind of dancing girl. He explained it thus:

"The 'chorus girl' is a thing of the past. Until recent times, all a girl had to do was a semblance of a time step and could get in the chorus. But nowadays, the girls don't dance in a line.

Must Be Top

"The dancing girl of today must have many attributes. She must be good looking and have a good figure. She must know how to tap dance and must be a ballet dancer as well. Also, she must sing, read lines and do comedy.

"The result is that the business is attracting a much finer calibre of girl. The dumb chorus girl of the past is disappearing."

Prinz cited Virginia Mayo as a prime example of the new type of show-business girl. She started out as a dancer, but her training soon pulled her out of the ranks.

Capsule Review

"A Streetcar Named Desire" stretches the censorship code about as far as it will go. The sex-ridden Tennessee Williams play is translated almost intact (except for a couple of franker passages). The result is a highly-charted picture of baser emotions in New Orleans' French quarter. It is one of the best-acted pictures of the year, with Vivien Leigh brilliant as the world-weary Southern belle. Marlon Brando is amazingly natural as the brutal husband, and Kim Hunter is fine as his forgiving wife.

Studying Adoption Of Older Children

TORONTO, Sept. 20 —(CP)— The problem of adoption of older children will be the main question studied by an adoption advisory committee, appointed by the Ontario Welfare Department, during a series of hearings at central points in the province. The hearings will start next week when the five-member committee visits Orangeville.

The committee was appointed last April to study the problem of adoption in Ontario and to suggest ways in which more adoptions, particularly of older children, might be encouraged.

Members of the committee include: K. R. Thompson, general manager of the Galt Evening Reporter.

Mushroom Boom

YORKTON, Sask. (CP)—Rainy weather of recent weeks may have annoyed grain harvesters but it also caused a bumper crop of mushrooms. Among pickers in the district one woman was reported to have canned 60 quarts.

Suggest Anthem Used For NATO

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP). — Someone may eventually suggest that NATO adopt its own national anthem to cut down formalities at official dinners where bands now play the anthems of the 12 members—Belgium, Canada, Denmark, France, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Britain and the United States, it was suggested Wednesday.

This protocol nicety at a Canadian government dinner for the delegates aroused some opposition to expansion of the organization to include Greece and Turkey. External Affairs Minister Pearson said that as the band struggled through one anthem after another at the dinner, a delegate, standing stiffly at attention with the others, said "if there are going to be two more (members) maybe we ought to keep them out."

Murder Intent Not Shown Carley Says

Shooting By Wife Was Murder Or Nothing—Defence

The charge of murder against Mrs. Lillian Thompson, 35, was today put over until Monday by Magistrate W. R. Philp.

Cause for the delay was a request by defence counsel T. J. Carley, KC, to have time to search for cases in which a magistrate had freed a person charged with a capital offence.

In today's phase of the hearing, Mr. Carley argued that it was a case of "murder or nothing," since no evidence of negligence had been brought in, and negligence was necessary to a charge of manslaughter.

Statement Inadmissible

Earlier, Magistrate Philp had ruled the statement given by Mrs. Thompson to Dr. Herbert Young, the coroner, was inadmissible.

He cited two cases in which the gist of the ruling was that a statement was inadmissible if the words "against you" were used in the warning given the accused.

Dr. Young's warning, as he gave it earlier in the hearing was to the effect that Mrs. Thompson need not say anything, but anything she did say could be taken down and used against her.

Proper form of the warning is to the effect that the accused person need not say anything, but anything he may say can be taken down in evidence, and used at his trial. The words "against you" implied a threat.

On the question of committal for trial by a higher court, Mr. Carley argued that there was no evidence of intent.

No Intent

He said it could not be taken from the accused woman's words, "I've shot him," that there was any intent. "It could have been an innocent happening, devoid of any criminality," he argued.

Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw, KC, argued briefly that it was not for the magistrate to presume or find intent, but whether there was any evidence on which a jury could find intent.

"I would submit that the quarrelling over a specific matter is something on which a jury could presume intent," he said.

Mr. Carley, who argued for acquittal for about three-quarters of an hour, submitted that there was no evidence that would warrant committal on the charge of murder "or any charge that might be included in it."

Magistrate Philp asked him if he was suggesting it was a case of "murder or nothing." Defence counsel said he was.

On that point, Mr. Carley said that from the evidence, if a motive or intent could be supplied, the magistrate would be equally justified in concluding negligence.

Called For Help

"If intent can be deduced," he argued, "such a deduction would be destroyed by the evidence of an attempt to get a doctor and all available help."

"What have you to say as to whether intent can be presumed for the purposes of a preliminary hearing?" asked the magistrate.

Mr. Carley repeated his argument that there was no evidence of intent and that none could be deduced from the statement said to have been made by Mrs. Thompson that she had shot her husband.

Parallel Case

As a parallel case, defence counsel argued that a hunter who accidentally shot a hunting companion could say, "I've shot him," and criminal intent could not be deduced from such a statement.

"The words could not indicate in law that the shot was fired with intent, or as a result of negligence," he said. "If the gun went off in the hands of the accused, it does not necessarily follow there was any intent."

"The fact that a quarrel takes place does not of itself imply a motive to shoot. As far as her statement goes, if there is an innocent as well as a guilty implication, the innocent one must be taken," Mr. Carley submitted.

"Your worship cannot surmise at what lies behind the evidence. None of the neighbors' evidence assists in the point in issue. Nothing indicates the surroundings of the shooting.

"If a man came up to your worship on the street and said 'I was out hunting and I shot John Brown,' as a reasonable man your worship would have to have the circumstances before him before you could draw an inference that a crime had been committed," Mr. Carley said.

Mr. Carley suggested there must be "a strong probability of a crime having been committed, and there is none here."

Mrs. Thompson sobbed aloud as the next to last phase of the the hearing opened and Magistrate Philp read the charge of murder against her. She was nervous and continued to cry quietly for much of the hearing.

Local Weavers Make Carpets For Royal Visit To Canada

When Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh visit Canada early in October, they will walk on carpets made by the Brinton-Peterborough Carpet Company. A month ago when the route for the Royal visit was announced, orders for the royal red carpets were placed with the Peterborough company. In all the three orders for Trenton, Toronto and Western Canada amounts to 1,095 carpet yards.

Small Orders

David Leether, manager, said today that the three were "very small orders". The towns and cities ordered only a definite amount of the Royal Red carpet which will be cut by them to fit the areas where the Royal couple will walk.

The largest of the orders is from Western Canada for 725 carpet yards while the Toronto order is for only 240 carpet yards and the Trenton order 130 carpet yards The Western Canada and Toronto orders have already been delivered and the Trenton order is now in process.

Man Reaches 104 By Keeping Mind Healthy

PORT HOPE, Sept. 20 — Port Hope's grand old man, William F. Walker of 22 Armour St., is celebrating his 104th birthday today.

Although he has been bedridden for the past year and a half, Mr. Walker will receive a number of his friends. His hearing, appetite and sense of humour belong to those of a man half his age and he attributes this to keeping his mind in a healthy condition, he says.

Previous to being confined to his bed, Mr. Walker spent his days in a wheel chair around the house and in the garden; he occasionally enjoyed drives in the family car.

Mr. Walker was born in Cobourg and three years later came to Port Hope where he has lived ever since. Until his 80th year he was in the furniture manufacturing and undertaking business.

Before the death of his wife, the former Margaret Reed, in 1942, the couple celebrated their 69th wedding anniversary. Mr. Walker attended St. Mark's Church for 100 years and was active in the work well past his three-quarter century mark.

Two Plant Unions Discuss New Contracts

Workers from two plants organized by Local 527, United Electrical Workers, are meeting tonight to discuss contracts.

Production workers from Tilco Ltd., plastics manufacturing plant, will meet at the UE hall at 5 p.m. to decide whether to accept or reject a company offer. The union has recently been certified and is negotiating its first contract.

At 7.30 p.m. Raybestos production workers will also have a membership meeting at the hall. Primary purpose will be to decide on what changes the union proposes to make in the 1952 conract. It runs to December 8.

A negotiating committee will also be elected.

Driver Sentenced 30 Days Fined $100; Hit Cars, House

Michael D. McMahon, 30, of 5 Maniece Ave., today was sentenced to 30 days in jail on a charge of drunk driving that arose after a truck he was driving on Monday afternoon hit three cars and a house on Park St., doing damage estimated at about $2,000.

The charge was heard as an indictable ofence, and on Tuesday McMahon elected summary trial. Minimum sentence for drunk driving heard as an indictable offence is 30 days. McMahon was also fined $100 and costs on a charge of dangerous driving. He had pleaded guilty to both charges.

Record

In 210 feet, the truck hit:

A car owned by Nathan Cullen, 302 Reid St., a car owned by Ernie Guppy, 754 Herman St., a third car, owned by William Rivers, 567 Aylmer St., and a house owned by Mrs. George Self, 32 Park St.

The first two cars were parked on the west side of Park St., 95 feet apart, and near the CPR crossing. Rivers' auto was parked in front of a garage on the east side of Park St., and the house that was hit is just south of the garage.

Constable Dennie Traynor told court today that he found no skid marks along the 210-foot course of the truck.

Head Hit Wheel

McMahon claimed his head was thrown against the steering wheel when the truck hit the first car, and that he remembered nothing after that. He admitted he had been drinking and confirmed a record of liquor convictions read to him by Magistrate W. R. Philp.

Constable Traynor said that before the truck hit the house, it went through a board fence, tearing out about 12 feet of it, and flattened a low fence of iron pipe.

The accused's breath smelled strongly of alcohol, and he had to be assisted into the rear of the police wagon. A 12-ounce bottle of whiskey, full, was found in the glove compartment of the truck, said the officer.

Bought 2 Bottles

Examination of McMahon's liquor permit showed he had purchased two bottles of whiskey that day. Constable Traynor said that McMahon admitted drinking one of the bottles.

Rivers testified that he had stopped his car in front of the garage because the emergency brake was smoking, and was in it when it was hit.

He said that until about two minutes before the accident, a mechanic had been beneath his car, examining it.

Local Regiment To Fire Salute

Peterborough's 50th HAA Regiment, RCA, will take part in the Royal Salute when Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh arrive in Trenton on October 5.

Capt. G. A. Woods, officer in charge of the armouries administrative and training staff, said that a 25-pound gun has been loaned to the regiment by the 33rd Medium Regiment, Cobourg. The Peterborough reserve unit will use the Cobourg gun, not the 3.7 anti-aircraft guns.

Four 25-pounders will be used in the Royal salute of 21 rounds. Each gun will be fired at one minute intervals after the Royal couple step from the train at the Trenton station.

Besides the Peterborough gun crew, there will be two crews from Lindsay's 4th Field Regiment (SP) and one from Cobourg's 33rd Regiment. The 50th Regiment's men will be instructed by Capt. Woods during the next two weeks.

Capt. Woods also announced that the Lakefield's Grove School naval cadets, numbering 80, and the sea cadet corps from Peterborough, Port Hope, Cobourg and Trenton will line the Trenton railway station, recognizing the Duke of Edinburgh's rank in the Royal Navy.

The guard of honor will be supplied by the Trenton RCAF station.

550 Cadets

Peterborough's army cadet quota has been increased to 550 from 450 with the decision that the Grade 12 boys will be sent to help line Trenton's city streets.

Two special trains have been arranged to take the reserve units and the cadets to Trenton. The first train will be from Lindsay with the 4th Field Regiment and the Lindsay Collegiate army cadets and the second train, the larger, from Peterborough with the 50th Regiment, the 28th Technical Squadron, RCEME, the PCVS cadets, the Lakefield High school cadets, the Millbrook High school cadets, the Lakefield Grove school cadets and the Peterborough Sea Cadet Corps.

Students Election Of Aches, Pains Starts Monday

Collegiate students for the next week or more will be swamped with election promises as the two parties, the Aches and the Pains, battle for the four Student Council positions.

On Wednesday the way was paved for the two parties to begin their campaigns next Monday. The contestants were chosen by the students, then divided into the two parties and names selected.

This year William Friskin will lead the Ache party when he contests with the Pain leader, Terry Brown, for the presidency of the Student Council. Both boys are popular with the Grade XIII students.

Others in the Ache party are Mamie Frost for vice-president, Arthur Lowe for secretary, and Marlene Stewart for treasurer Contesting the positions for the Pains are Beryl Rusaw, Robert Hutchison and Elaine Smith, for vice-president, secretary and treasurer respectively.

Girls' Election

The girls' student body completed their Girls' Athletic Association annual election campaigns Wednesday but the results of the vote will not be announced until Monday.

Only two girls won positions by acclamation, Lylia Finnie for secretary and Aileen Todd for treasurer.

The girls voted Wednesday for the presidency candidates, Margaret Martyn and Joan White, and for vice-president, Beverley Goodman and Betty Anne Wilkinson.

Elections were also held for the various sports representatives: basketball, Gertie Phillips, Betty Thomson; volleyball, Carol McKenzie, Ruth Steinkrauss; swimming, Lorraine Derry, Betty Thomson; badminton, Beverley Lillico, Patricia McNeill.

More Pork Eaten Price Drops

Large Number Hogs Sold By Farmers, Women Resist Buying

A seasonal upsurge in hog marketings, and consumer resistance to high meat prices, have resulted in a dietary change, both here in Peterborough and the rest of Canada: more pork is being eaten.

The usual trend of prices these days is one way: up. And meat has been one of the foods most complained of by economy-minded housewives.

Pork Exception

An exception to this trend for the last two weeks has been pork. A Canada-wide survey shows that pork has dropped $6.25 to $7.50 a hundredweight as more animals are brought to market in the east.

The hog run in western Canada has not yet started, but western prices follow the pattern.

In Peterborough on August 31 the Canada Packers quotation to farmers was $35.65 a hundredweight for hogs (plus transportation) and $24.50 for sows. Today the price stands at $28 and $22.50 respectively.

To the housewife this means a drop in the price of a chop from 93 cents to 71 cents, a local butcher told the Examiner today.

Ignore Beef

The same butcher said that shoppers are buying more pork and ignoring the higher-priced cuts of beef. And when they do switch to beef they are choosing the cheaper cuts.

As yet beef prices are remaining steady the butcher said, but if cattle start being left on the market something is bound to happen. He's hoping—and the consumer is hoping—that "something" will be a reduction in price.

Lookout, Here They Come!

Flies Start Fall Offensive; Man Stands Unarmed

Peterborough and a large chunk of the country roundabout are in immediate danger of being picked up and carried into oblivion.

Flies, the domestic annoying type, have descended upon the district in swarms. And men, women and children are without weapons to combat them.

Today, three of the city's largest stores that used to be known as the five-and-ten-cent stores could produce not one fly swatter.

Some hardware stores had some of the flimsy wire netting type, but none of the sturdy rubber killer variety.

Not Enough

This year factories that make rubber fly swatters started bringing out white ones that would not leave a black mark on walls when they hit. Housewives cheered.

But they haven't made enough of them. One hardware store man said he had put in orders with 12 distributors and had only one wire netting swatter to show for his efforts.

It is true that there are large quantities of fly sprays and the spray guns with which to lay down a DDT-spiked smog. But the smog is uncomfortable for humans as well if they cannot leave their rooms or offices after spraying them. We have only bomb shelters, no fly shelters yet.

And as the smog drifts away, the flies follow in behind. No one knows where they hide while the gas attack is on, but there is no doubt a large proportion escape.

When they return after the gas attack they are more fierce than ever. Then is the time for savage and bloody, hand-to-hand combat with fly swatters.

But when you are unarmed, what can you do? Flies laugh at futile flailing arms and hands. They light on the top of your head and explore the jungle of your hair. They land on your arm and tickle their way along searching for heaven knows what. You grab at them and miss. They scoot up into the air and settle down again. They drive you crazy.

All the time they seem to be getting more and more numerous. Have you ever noticed what strong fliers flies are? How many, do you think, would it take to lift you up bodily and carry you away?—B.H.

Baby Sitter Hears Accused Admit Murder

BRANTFORD, Sept. 20 (CP)—Donald Devereux, 23, was quoted in court Wednesday as having told his brother Edward on the evening of June 15 that "I've just killed Vi."

George Hanley, a baby sitter who was minding Edward Devereux' children on the night that Mrs. Violet Thomson was killed, told the court that he had overheard Donald Devereux make the statement in the course of a telephone conversation.

Donald Devereux is accused of the murder June 15 of Mrs. Thomson who was found, knifed to death, in his truck, parked outside the home of her estranged husband, George Thomson.

Recognized Voice

Edward Devereux testified that he had taken a call on the same party line at a restaurant just east of Brantford. He said he had recognized a voice on the line as that of one of his brothers.

He said he went to the Thomson house where he found Donald on the back steps "either drunk or doped" and Mrs. Thomson's body in the cab of a truck.

Jack Devereux, who also went to the house, said Donald was "very drunk."

Both men said, in answer to questions by Defence Counsel J. J. Robinette, that they called police because they felt it was their duty and not because of anything the accused said.

Earlier, Dr. Joslyn Rogers a medico-legal expert, t... both Donald Devereux and Mrs. Thomson were intoxicated at the time of the slaying.

VANISHED ESTATE

A prosperous estate including a mansion, a village, a church and 16 farms were wiped out in a sandstorm at Culbin, Scotland, in 1694.

Says Municipalities Members On Boards

TORONTO, Sept. 20 (CP)—W. A. Goff, executive secretary of the Association of Children's Aid Societies in Ontario, said Wednesday that municipalities and counties are represented on boards of all 53 societies in the province.

He made the statement in answer to a convention resolution passed by the Ontario Welfare Officers' Association in Niagara Falls Tuesday. The resolution ... there should be an elected representative and a local welfare department officer on each of the boards before they qualified for the 25 per cent provincial grant which offsets the cost of maintaining wards of the societies.

Find Buyers Underrate Buying Level

By FORBES RHUDE
Canadian Press Business Editor

There might be less upset in life these days if the following factors could be kept in mind:

First, the ability of the North American economy to produce virtually any amount of goods, once the necessity becomes clear: a factor which should discourage panic buying by the public.

Second, the present-day ability of the North American public to buy virtually unlimited amounts of goods if reasonable buying conditions are maintained. This should encourage business to remain calm, and keep its eye on prices; for there is nothing more important to business than keeping prices down.

In regard to either factor, there has not been anything in announced armament programs that should have made any one fearful of any real shortages in civilian goods.

It is true that there has been, and is, the possibility of the Third World War. If that comes there will, of course, be shortages; but there will also be regimentation such as we have never seen. There is no purpose in governing one's buying habits by the possibilities of general war.

No In-Between

A third factor arises from the extreme swings of thinking in the United States. Public opinion there seems black or white; there is no in-between. A glint of sun makes a fine day; or a speck of cloud a stormy one—according to the mood of the moment.

A succession of recent economic processes in the United States, which have so much influence here, is given in the current monthly letter of the National City Bank of New York, which reads as follows:

Since the Korean war began, two phases are clearly seen. The first, which ran approximately until last March, was dominated by fear among business men and consumers alike that defence requirements would create shortages of perhaps wartime intensity.

It was a period of anticipation, sharply rising prices, and record-breaking demand for goods. Buyers who would have liked to hold back were forced to join in, if they were to protect their needs.

The second phase, which began in March and from which business has not yet emerged, was the reaction from the first. The immense and steadily-increasing productive capacity of the country asserted itself even against the swollen demands.

Shows Increase

Surprisnigly, there was an increase, rather than curtailment, in output of goods for civilian use. Inventories were built up and markets for specific things temporarily became saturated. The desire to buy ahead diminished as it became apparent that shortages would be less than advertised.

Restrictions on personal credit checked the expansion of purchasing power through borrowing. Higher prices themselves induced buying resistance and economy . .

The slackening in trade still leaves the volume at very high levels, except when contrasted with the two great waves of buying last summer and last winter; and the drop has not been progressive, for, according to the seasonally adjusted figures, retail sales have fully held their ground for about four months.

Nevertheless, merchants have found themselves over-committed, for they prepared for more business than has appeared. Their concern now is to bring stocks and commitments down; and while they made considerable progress, their buying for fall has been conservative . . .

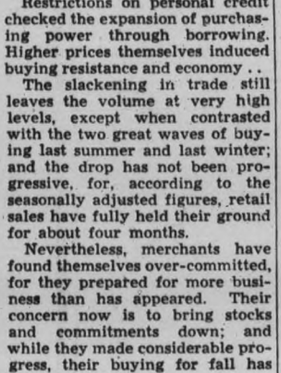
An anomally in the situation is that the slackening in retail sales has come at a time when personal incomes have been rising . . . and the rate of "personal saving," which is the difference between income and expeditures and covers both liquid and non-liquid savings, has risen to the highest level since the war ended, both in dollars and as percentage of income.

News Editors Meet

FREDERICTON, Sept. 20 — (CP)— Maritime members of The Canadian Press and their news editors will gather here Friday to discuss operation of the co-operative news gathering agency. Business sessions will centre around a panel discussion on "CP service—How the members can improve it."

Profesting Tax

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 20 (CP)— Middlesex county council Wednesday night added its protest to those of other municipalities against a 10 per cent tax on fire-fighting equipment. Resolution protesting to Finance Minister Abbott was received from the united counties of Leeds and Grenville.



Cleans-Preserves-Shines

POPPA SPANK?—Harold Dorion, 7, left, and his brother, 6-year-old Danny, aren't a bit happy in a Toronto police station after being missing from home for three days. Neither of the youngsters would say where they had been and they didn't want to go home. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Dorion, their parents, said the boys had been punished before when they had disappeared for a day, and might be scared of being in trouble. This time, however, the parents were so glad to see them that no corrective measures were taken.

Fisherman Lands 20 Pound Muskie

MARMORA, Sept. 20 (ENS)— While fishing near the CPR bridges on Crowe River Tuesday afternoon, Bill Mink of Toronto landed a 20-pound muskie. Bill, who is spending his holidays with Mr. and Mrs. E. Shannon, has done a lot of fishing in the local waters, but this was his first worthwhile catch. He was alone at the time and was casting with a plug. It took him about 20 minutes to land his catch.

Go To Halifax

HALIFAX, Sept. 20 —(CP)— The destroyer Huron and cruiser Ontario will arrive here Friday from the west coast, the Navy announced Wednesday. The Huron recently returned to Canada following six months service in Korean waters. While here the Ontario will carry out escort duties in connection with the Royal tour in October.

ORNITHOLOGICAL ODDITY — This albino raven shot near Debert, N.S., may be the only one of its kind ever found in Canada. Nearest is a part-albino raven in the National Museum in Ottawa. Albinism is complete lack of coloring in an animal or plant. It is due either to lack of pigmentation or inability to utilize the pigment. L. L. Snyder, curator of ornithology at the Royal Ontario Museum of Zoology, says he has not heard before of an albino raven, although albino crows and blackbirds are comparatively frequent. Mr. Snyder says the raven bears out his contention that albinoism can occur in any animal. The taxidermist gave the bird a colored glass eye, although an albino's eyes are pink.

Royal Couple To Celebrate Their First Thanksgiving

By GEORGE KITCHEN

OTTAWA (CP)—If the weathermen co-operates, Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh will see Canada in her best and most colorful autumnal dress.

Their arrival time—they land at Quebec Oct. 2—will bring them to this country in the first flush of autumn and they will travel the land in the lazy, golden days of the distinctively Canadian fifth season—Indian summer.

They will be in Canada almost all of October, one of the months of lowest rainfall for this country. While the weatherman won't forecast that far ahead, the probabilities are that the sun will shine for the Royal couple most of their trip.

Canada's Indian summer, which generally marks the turn of the leaves, should bring them warm, dry crystal-clear days with cool, invigorating nights. The weather for October is pretty much the same across the country.

They probably will find that British Columbia, which Canadians think of as having an "English climate," actually warmer than it would be at home in the United Kingdom. Weather experts say their closest parallel to United Kingdom climate will be Nova Scotia.

First Thanksgiving Day

While in Canada, the Royal couple also will celebrate their first Thanksgiving, an event not observed in Britain.

Thanksgiving day — Monday, Oct. 8—will find them in Windsor and Kapuskasing, at the tail-end of their tour through Ontario and ready to fly into the west for a jaunt to the Pacific coast.

No special preparations have been made to mark Thanksgiving day. They will spend the morning in Windsor before flying to the northern Ontario paper town of Kapuskasing for an overnight stop on their way to Western Canada.

In Windsor, they will visit motor plants, see the Detroit skyline across the Detroit river and be welcomed by thousands of school children in Windsor's Jackson Park. Yachts, freighters and other craft will mass in the river with sirens screaming a welcome to the Princess and the Duke.

Kapuskasing, a town of some 5,000, will give them their first opportunity to see a typical Canadian lumbering and paper town. Landing there from Windsor at 3.30 p.m., they will meet school children and civil officials and tour the big plant of the Spruce Falls Power and Paper Company.

They will stay at the Kapuskasing Inn, dining there, and after a civic reception will have the evening to themselves before flying on to Winnipeg next morning.

Mrs. N. Moore Dies

TORONTO, Sept. 20 — (CP) — Mrs. H. Napier Moore, wife of the editorial director of the Maclean-Hunter Publishing Co. Ltd., died Wednesday night. As the former Blanche Whitley, she was known in magazine and newspaper circles in Canada, the United States and Great Britain.

Favor Rent Control

WINNIPEG (CP)—Manitoba municipalities replying so far to the provincial government have showed a large majority in favor of continuing rent controls after Sept. 30. Of 32 replies so far, 28 have asked continuance, including most of the suburbs in greater Winnipeg.

Customers' Corner

A&P has always been known for its money saving prices.

But we have always placed great emphasis on the quality of the food we sell, too.

Anybody can cut prices if they are willing to cut quality. But it has never been A&P policy to achieve low prices by selling inferior food.

So we are able to offer you the values you enjoy at your A&P because we work hard to hold up the quality of our food as well as to keep down the price.

If you ever feel that the food you buy doesn't measure up to our high quality standards please let us know.

Scale Down Increase

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (AP). —The wage stabilization board Wednesday scaled down a wage increase won by 90,000 Maritime workers on the east, gulf, and west coasts. With labor members dissenting, public and industry members of the board voted to approve only a 6.2 per cent general wage increase for the workers. Four Maritime unions had negotiated an eight per cent general increase.

Kidnap Governor

MANILA, Sept. 20 (AP). — Fifteen men wearing army fatigue uniforms kidnapped Governor Gregorio Santayana of Quezon province from his car late Wednesday near San Pablo, 50 miles south of Manila. Communist Huks frequently use such garb. Another theory was that the abductors were political enemies.

Says Civil Defence Duty of Citizenship

EDMONTON, Sept. 20—(CP)—Health Minister Martin said Wednesday night civil defence now is one of the essential responsibilities of citizenship.

The federal minister, in an address prepared for delivery to a meeting of Alberta's civil defence planning group, emphasized:

"From this time on, civil defence is not only a function of government but a part of the civic duty of every citizen."

Defence of the Canadian civilian also had become one of the inescapable and continuing responsibilities of everyone in authority in Canadian communities.

CCL Criticizes Canadian Press

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20 (CP) — The Canadian Congress of Labor convention Wednesday adopted a resolution critical of The Canadian Press, national news-gathering agency, in its dealing with the American Newspaper Guild (CIO-CCL).

The resolution expressed "alarm at the deterioration in national and international news in Canadian newspapers, as a direct result of the antilabor practices of The Canadian Press, which holds almost a complete monopoly on the supply of news to newspapers and radio stations throughout the country."

The Guild, recently affiliated to the Congress, was certified by the Canada Labor Relations Board 17 months ago as collective bargaining agent for a unit of employees in CP's editorial department in Canada. It has been in negotiations with the company ever since, without a contract having been signed.

Steve Ripley, of Toronto, international representative of the Guild, said CP has been depriving Canadians of news by curtailing its services as the result of its fight with the Guild. He also said the Guild intends to go ahead with a prosecution against CP under the Federal Labor Code, charging it with failing to bargain in good faith as provided by the Code. It recently obtained permission from Labor Minister Gregg to prosecute.

Elected President

QUEBEC, Sept. 20— (CP) — Rene Duclos of Montreal Wednesday was elected president of the Tea and Coffee Association of Canada succeeding Trevor F. Arkell of Vancouver. W. F. Bull, Deputy-Minister of Trade and Commerce told the closing session of the Association, imports of coffee have almost doubled since 1939 and tea volume has increased by 27 per cent., Mr. Bull said.

DEGREE FOR GASPERI—Italian Prime Minister Alcide de Gasperi receives an honorary doctor of laws degree from Very Rev. J. C. Laframboise, rector of the University of Ottawa. The prime minister is attending the NATO conference in Ottawa.

All-Canadian Pipeline Suggested

WALLACEBURG, Sept. 20 — (CP)—Premier Frost Wednesday night called for an all-Canadian pipeline with an eastern terminal at the lakehead.

In an address to the Wallaceburg Chamber of Commerce, he said that Canadian industry would benefit if the oil resources of Western Canada, developed since 1948, could be piped directly to the lakehead ports, Fort William and Port Arthur, and thence shipped to Sarnia and Western Ontario centres.

The eastern terminal of the present pipeline is Superior, Wis. From there the oil is shipped to Sarnia.

In a passing reference to the proposed St. Lawrence Seaway, he promised that Ontario would become a "partner" in the project.

At a dinner given by the Chamber in his honor, Premier Frost was made a chief of the nearby Walpole Island Indian tribe by Indian Chief Sam Shipman.

Premier Frost's newly-acquired Indian name is "Koen-Wash-Kah," which transalted means "Frost."

Denies Strike Off At Furniture Plant

SOUTHAMPTON, Ont., Sept. 20 (CP).—Charles Morton, of Toronto, a representative of the International Woodworkers of America, Wednesday denied that 90 per cent of the workers at the Hepworth Furniture here had returned to work and that a strike had been called off.

Mr. Morton said the nine-day strike was "still definitely on and the picket line will be maintained."

C. H. Steele, president of the company, said earlier Wednesday that 78 of 130 employees of the plant had returned to work.

1,000 Men Laid Off Find Other Jobs

WINDSOR, Sept. 20 (CP). — About 1,000 men laid off from Windsor automobile plants have found other jobs, the Windsor joint committee studying the unemployment situation was told, according to a statement issued Wednesday.

It was the second meeting of government, labor and industrial leaders to discuss remedies for the layoffs. Arthur McNamara, Deputy Federal Minister of Labor and chairman of the committee issued the statement.

Based on National Employment Service figures, it was estimated 3,245 of the 4,312 men laid off were still out of work and receiving insurance benefits.

Set Tourist Record

TORONTO, Sept. 20—(CP) — Travel Minister Cecile said Wednesday that August, 1951, was the greatest motor-tourist month in Ontario's history. Dominion Bureau of Statistics' figures released Wednesday showed 325,419 travellers' vehicle permits were issued to foreign vehicles entering Ontario for stays of 48 hours or more.

Reach Record Levels

OTTAWA, Sept. 20—(CP)—Industrial employment and payrolls both reached record levels at July 1, according to returns from 22,000 of the larger industrial establishments across Canada, the Bureau of Statistics reported Wednesday.

Calls Restaurant Prices Fantastic Raid On Pockets

OTTAWA, Sept. 20 (CP-. — L. F. Burrows, secretary of the Canadian Horticultural Council, charged in a statement Wednesday that Canadian restaurants are "raiding their patrons' pocketbooks" with "fantastic prices for homegrown fruits and vegetables."

Defending producers, he said the restaurants' "excessive prices are curbing consumption at a time when fruits and vegetables are in peak production."

"Whenever a customer complains about food prices in restaurants," he said, "he is given a sympathetic smile and told that high prices demanded by producers and wholesalers are entirely to blame."

Mr. Burrows cited figures to back his contention that the mark-up or profit percentage charged by restaurant operators was huge, while wholesalers and producers were making "only reasonable profits."

Damage Industry

He said the hotel and restaurant prices "are damaging the entire fruit and vegetable industry" and suggested that a lowering of prices would not only increase restaurant sales but would mean that "hotels and restaurants would be doing their part to help curb inflation and assist producers in moving a heavy crop."

"This is the season when fruits and vegetables are most plentiful but many public eating places are not giving their customers the benefit of low peak production prices. In fact, he added, "there is practically no seasonal variation in the prices restaurants ask for fruit and vebetable dishes."

Mr. Burrows offered several recent examples of what he termed "price gouging at the expense of the public."

With early McIntosh and Meloa apples selling from $2 to $2.25 a bushel—"about one cent per apple"—an Ottawa hotel was offering them for dessert at 15 cents apiece. A large restaurant chain cuts its pies in eight pieces and charged 15 cents per cut. From six to eight apples were required for a pie.

"Therefore, the main ingredient of a pie which sells for $1.20, costs 10 cents. Peaches were selling at 65 cents a six quart basket on Toronto wholesale markets, while a downtown cafeteria was featuring peach pie at 35 cents per cut. There are six to eight peaches in the average pie. Peaches and cream were listed on a restaurant menu in Ottawa at 25 cents a dish the same week.

"It's the same with vegetables" Mr. Burrows added.

No Sense of Proportion

"One of our directors reports that a Toronto cafeteria has been charging 15 cents each for a serving of onions and potatoes when the selling price of these vegetables is less than two cents a pound. Even when the high costs of labor and overhead which these establishments have to meet are taken into consideration, these prices are ridiculous," he said. "If retailers insisted on the exorbitant markups hotels and restourants are getting, few people would be able to afford enough to eat."

Figures recently released by the Bureau of Statistics, he said, showed that Canadian fruit and vegetable wholesalers in Canada averaged a net operating profit of one cent for each dollar or sales before income tax reduction in 1949.

"To wind up with a net profit of one cent for every dollars' worth of merchandise sold seems a pretty slim margin on which to operate, compared with the mark-up of from 200 to 1,400 per cent on some fruit and vegetable items in hotels and restaurants, said Mr. Burrows.

CARRAGEEN MOSS—Carrageen moss—Irish moss or sea moss—is an edible seaweed which provides a lucrative industry for farmers around Miminegash, P.E.I. Here the seaweed is spread to dry on flakes, or wooden racks, on the Doucette farm. The Doucette children are removing weeds and other impurities. When boiled in water or milk it is drinkable, or it can be made into a jelly. It also is used for making size, stuffing mattresses and as a cattle food.

Relax Polio Ban

HALIFAX, Sept. 20 —(CP)— A health committee ban prohibiting children under 16 in Halifax from attending public gatherings as part of an anti-polio battle will be lifted Saturday, the committee decided Wednesday night. The ban was imposed Aug. 30 when polio cases took a sharp upswing throughout the province.

One Of My Happiest Childhood Memories is of the smell that used to waft out of the kitchen when mother made raspberry turnovers! Such a rich, delicious aroma! For mother always used WAGSTAFFE PURE RASPBERRY JAM — and what jam that is! Wagstaffe made it then, as it does today, from the same famous recipe brought to Canada from England, in 1906. That means berries must be fresh-picked—big, plump raspberries lush with flavour and juice! And Wagstaffe cooks them with pure, snowy sugar until the jam's a thick, rich ruby-red! You'll love delicious Wagstaffe Pure Raspberry Jam. Remember, you can always depend on Wagstaffe for quality in jams, jellies and marmalade.

I'm Reminded of a popular song-hit about "Money-Money-Money ... (who wants my money today?)!" every time I pay my grocer's bills. That's why it's such a thrill to find something as good and as economical as QUAKER PUFFED WHEAT! Next time you're shopping, just compare the price of Quaker Puffed Wheat with the breakfast cereal you're using now! See how much money you can save! And you and your family will love this delicious breakfast food. Premium grains of sun-ripened wheat shot from guns . . . exploded up to eight times normal size to make 'em crisp and tender! Serve Quaker Puffed Wheat with fruit 'n' cream — tomorrow!

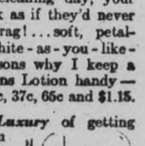
I've Learned My Lesson! . . . after "gaposis" trouble with an ordinary, "slipping zipper", I'll never again buy anything but LIGHTNING SLIDE FASTENERS. Lightning zippers are the zippers with that famous automatic lock, you know. They slide at a touch, yet lock by themselves even if you don't press down the tab. They were the first slide fasteners in Canada and they're still the best. When you buy Lightning zippers, you get flexibility, durability, washability—a wide range of sizes and colours to choose from—PLUS the exclusive automatic lock—and the perfection of expert workmanship! Yet they cost no more than an ordinary zipper! So insist on Lightning Slide Fasteners in the familiar red and black package!

They're The Proudest in Canada . . . the rich, rosy-red tomatoes that go into HEINZ TOMATO PRODUCTS. Mellow — glowing — delicious, they're picked every year at this time . . . so take advantage now of the new pack of Heinz Tomato Products. I'm busy myself, stocking up on them — for I count on Heinz Tomato Products to liven up meals from this September to next! Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup — so delicious as a first course or in meat and vegetable dishes. Heinz Tomato Juice as a tasty cocktail. Heinz Chili Sauce and Heinz Ketchup to add tantalizing, zestful flavour to main dishes. Incidentally, I like to buy Heinz Ketchup the economical way—in the big, 13-ounce bottle.

No Need To Sigh over the worn —'n'—weary state of your hands after Fall housecleaning is done! Even if you're an enthusiastic detergent-user . . . you'll find that JERGENS LOTION soothes 'n' smooths your detergent-dry hands! You see, because Jergens is liquid, it quickly supplies the softening, smoothing moisture dry, thirsty skin needs. And you'll find that when you use Jergens after every watery chore . . . by the end of your housecleaning day, your hands will look as if they'd never seen a scrub-rag! . . . soft, petal-smooth and white-as-you-like-them! All reasons why I keep a bottle of Jergens Lotion handy — always. Just 15c, 37c, 65c and $1.15.

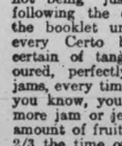
If You're Like Me, your budget just can't stand the strain of meat prices today — every day. But here's good news! . . . a plan for meatless meals that will be kind to your budget — and appeal to your love of good food, too! KRAFT DINNER is a real main dish . . . a wonderful macaroni-'n'-cheese combination that cooks to tasty lightness in only 7 minutes! And here's how economical it is . . . one package of "Kraft Dinner" contains enough for a main dish for four — at just a few pennies a serving! Ask your grocer tomorrow for several packages of delicious "Kraft Dinner" —sure to be a family "flavourite" — and one of the handiest dishes to serve I know! That's why I always like to have it handy on my emergency shelf.

Piping-Hot, buttered toast and lots of grape jelly . . . M-mm! That's a favourite treat at our breakfast table. And now that those delicious purple grapes and other fall fruits are in such abundance, I've planned on "doing down" plenty of jelly with CERTO LIQUID PECTIN. I don't want to take any chances on my jelly not being "just right"—and by following the easy directions in the booklet under the label of every Certo bottle, I can be certain of tangy, true-fruit flavoured, perfectly set jellies and jams, every time. And with Certo, you know, you'll get up to 50% more jam or jelly from the same amount of fruit, as well as saving 2/3 the time of the former long-boil method.



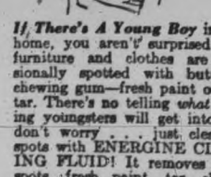
A-aah! The Luxury of getting into a warm 'n' fragrant bath after a busy day of Fall housecleaning! And a bath is a special pleasure when you use a velvet-soft C-I-L COLOURED SPONGE! Yes, C-I-L Cellulose Sponges now come in four beautiful colours . . . blue — coral — yellow — green . . . to blend with your bathroom colour scheme. You'll love C-I-L Sponges! Soft as can be when wet, they're ideal for baby's bath and yours. They hold twenty times their weight in water — what's more they float. Have a "personalized" coloured bath sponge for every member of your family. Ask for C-I-L Sponges at grocery, drug, variety, hardware or department stores.

I've Cut 'Way Down On Food Costs . . . can't help feeling a little proud of myself for doing it in these days of sky-high food prices! Particularly since I get so much for so little — buying BLUE BONNET MARGARINE! I like its delicate, country-sweet flavour — fresh as can be all year 'round. And I love the Yellow Quik bag it comes in. Makes it so easy to colour Blue Bonnet . . . no messy dishes — no extra work . . . just press the colour button on the Yellow Quik bag and knead the bag gently. In just two minutes your Blue Bonnet is golden-yellow — ready-to-use. Yes, I feel I'm getting a lot for my money when I buy Blue Bonnet. Yes, I save enough to buy extra milk too!



They're Almost A Tradition in our house. Yes, we just can't get enough of those luscious, lemony JACOB'S LEMON PUFF BISCUITS. I always have a supply on hand for gala occasions — luncheons, teas and desserts — and to enjoy with a relaxing cup of tea in the afternoon . . . every afternoon. Know why Jacob's Lemon Puffs are so specially good? It's because they're made of soft, English wheat flour that fluffs 'n' puffs 'til almost like Danish pastry. M-mm! Flaky-crisp — featherlight — filled with a lemon-'n'-butter filling that fairly melts in your mouth. Truly, Jacob's Lemon Puffs are "perfection" . . . and no wonder, for Jacob's were making fine biscuits when your great-great-grandmother was young.

Dream Stuff comes in five dreamy shades in the new miracle-plastic compact that's light as your hanky, yet durable as you wish. Nothing to spill or break! Ask for Woodbury Dream Stuff in the new dream compact—only $1.00 —or in the blue-and-gold box—just 75c.



If There's A Young Boy in your home, you aren't surprised when furniture and clothes are occasionally spotted with butter or chewing gum—fresh paint or even tar. There's no telling what growing youngsters will get into! But don't worry . . . just clean the spots with ENERGINE CLEANING FLUID! It removes grease spots, fresh paint, tar, chewing gum . . . from even the most delicate fabrics. And it's absolutely safe because it contains no acids nor caustics! Be prepared for those "little accidents" — put Energine on your shopping list today — as little as 25c at drug and department stores everywhere!

My Eyes Popped when I saw my newly repainted kitchen! What a glorious difference Glidden RIPOLIN ULTRA WHITE does make! And the nicest thing about it is that it will always be white, for it's completely non-yellowing. Scrub it over and over again . . . it stays lustrous, sleek and looking like new. In fact, it looks and washes like the baked enamel on your refrigerator! Ideal for your kitchen and bathroom—for furniture and woodwork —in fact, for any surface where you want a hard, durable, white enamel. Made by that famous Dutch process . . . there's not a finer enamel made than Ripolin. Your Glidden dealer has it for you . . . ask for it. It's the highest quality, whitest white enamel your money can buy!

Colonial Era In Far East Routed Out By Revolution

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 20 (ENS)—The revolution in Asia means that the colonial era is passing and the East has given notice she will no longer be dominated by the West. A similar movement is afoot in Africa where there have already been disturbances.

That was the analysis of the revolution given to the Examiner by the Rev. W. H. Tonge, Lakefield United Church, who spent many years in China.

"The fact is that the West cannot escape responsibility for what is happening in Asia and Africa today," he said. "For more than 150 years the West has been in economic and partial political and cultural control of the Far East and China.

"On that continent 1,000,000,000, for good or evil, are on the march.

Political

"The revolution is first of all political. Within three years India and Pakistan with their 350,000,000 people, have peacefully achieved their independence from British rule. The Dutch East Indian Empire has become the United States of Indonesia, with a population of 70,000,000. The Phillipines, with their 20,000,000 have become independent of the United States. Burma has voted herself out of the British Commonwealth while Ceylon has become independent but has remained inside. Malaya and Indo-China are fighting for self-government. China's 450,000,000 have yielded to Communist control."

During the colonial era the West has consistently exploited the people of Asia and Africa in its own interests, said Mr. Tonge. Nor is Britain blameless. While she adopted a generous policy towards primitive or backward peoples, her devotion to the freedom of private enterprise opened the way to many abuses and to exploitation.

"All western races have been guilty of adopting a superior attitude towards the peoples of Asia and Africa. In the present aroused sensitive state of those people this is almost more of an offence than economic exploitation."

Christian missions were a prime mover of the revolution, he said.

Gandhi Led Change

"Along with the trader, or even ahead of him went the Christian missionary. Along with cargoes of whiskey went bales of Bibles and other Christian books. The Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of man were preached. Primary and middle schools, colleges and universities were opened. Modern medicine was introduced and hospitals were founded. Groups of young people grew up, bound together by their devotion to the good life. Little wonder that they hail anything that promises a new day of freedom and opportunity.

"For the revolution in Asia is not exclusively political; it includes cultural and economic freedom as well. For many years the patriots of India, led by Gandhi and Tagore, have worked enthusiastically to revive her ancient cutlure, including religion. The present Government of India is predominantly Hindu and unmistakably East Indian in its cultural direction.

Had the amounts spent on conquest been spent on improving the conditions of the people, it would have paid material dividends, said Mr. Tonge, and created an atmosphere of good-will.

Too Late

Such provisions as the United Nations subsidy for needy nations, the point four in the Truman program for backward areas, the Colombo plan of the British Commonwealth and the United States gift of wheat to India are all at least gestures of good-will. Made available at an earlier date, and generously administered, they might have gone far to save the reputation of the west in the east. As it is, there is ground for fear that they must be classified as "too little and too late."

In China the revolutionary movement dates back nearly one hundred years to the time of the Taiping rebellion. It was put down, with tremendous losses, by "Chinese" Gordon, an English general.

Since that time the struggle has gone on intermittently to our own time. Internally, it has been a prolonged effort to emerge from medievalism, which found political, economic and social expression in feudalistic forms of society and government. The armored knight of Normandy and England, of 900 years ago, each with his castle, his territory and his troops, finds his counterpart in the Chinese war lord, who has persisted down to our own day.

"In these aspects the struggle in China was over internal issues; externally the fight has been against colonialism. This also began over one hundred years ago in the two 'opium' wars against Great Britain, which ended in the 'unequal treaties' so much talked about in our own time. Although Great Britain took the lead in these and has had to carry most of the blame, other European powers and even the United States shared the privileges thereby secured. It is not without significance that one of the rights obtained by compulsion was that of freedom of religious propaganda.

Reds Used Revolt

"Communism did not cause the Chinese revolution; it merely captured it and adapted it to its own purposes. That statement is not to be taken as implying any alleviation in the challenge of Communism to Christianity. It is without doubt the greatest challenge that Christianity has met since the rise of Mohammedanism, which Communism resembles in several particulars. It is significant that both gained prominence by their protest against evils prevailing in their day. Mahomet pointed to idolatrous practices which had grown up in the Christian churches of his time, while Communism attacks the modern suppression of the common man and the wide prevalence of superior attitudes on race and color which are found even within the Christian church."

"For 25 years Communism has been growing in China. Gradually it has identified itself with the cause of the common man; it has substitute its own aims and objectives for those of the nationalistic movement, and has made it appear that its friends and enemies are the friends and enemies of China."

Follow Russia

China is now thoroughly under Communist control. Its communism follows closely the Russian pattern; the same economic materialism and atheism in the interpretation of man and God, the same hatred and distrust toward Western nations and the same policy of Soviet imperialism in its outlook upon the world at large.

All this has great bearing upon the work of the Christian Church throughout the world. The awakening to a desire for a new life has been influenced greatly by the work of the Christian Missionary. But it is characteristic of revolutions that when they get going they throw out the baby with the bath. Christianity came to those Eastern countries from the West and the present violent opposition in China and the more modern attitude in India and Pakistan are primarily not religious but political. Missionaries in China are branded as agents of Western imperialism and the propaganda against them has been carried so far that, in spite of a great store of personal goodwill, they have become objects of danger to the Chinese church. That, rather than opposition to their Christian teaching is the reason for their withdrawal.

Christening Bowl Used For 45 Years

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 20 (ENS)—A double celebration took place Sunday at the home of the Rev. W. R. Archer. The celebration was in honor of the baptism of his infant grand-daughter, Linda Louise Bullock, and of his 75th birthday.

Linda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Bullock, was baptized by the Rev. Walton Tonge, who used a christening bowl which had served Mr. Archer in his churches for the past 45 years. It had also been used for christening his other grandchildren.

Witnesses of the baptism were Mrs. Howard Bullock and Mrs. Mark Fenwick, the latter a great-aunt of Linda. A birthday cake was presented to Mr. Archer by Mary Beth Darling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Darling, of Peterborough.

Miscellaneous Shower Given Miss M. Crowe

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 20 (ENS)—Miss Marlene Crowe, whose marriage to Douglas Hamblin takes place on September 22, was honored at a miscellaneous shower, held at the home of Miss Elsie Waldon on Tuesday evening.

During the evening the twenty guests present made a loose leaf cook book for the bride-to-be.

The gifts were then brought in in a gaily decorated basket by Iola and Diane Peters.

Miss Elsie Waldon expressed good wishes of her friends to the guest of honor after which lunch was served by Mrs. Ernie Waldon, Miss Elsie Waldon and Mrs. Clarence Coons.

Find Sword, Pottery In Ancient Tomb

NICOSIA, Cyprus, Sept. 20 (Reuters)—A sword 31 inches long was found Wednesday in one of five ancient tombs dating from the seventh century before Christ. It was accidentally unearthed when workers digging foundation trenches uncovered the tombs. Human bones and earthenware pots decorated with geometric designs were found with the sword.

Museum experts are supervising the opening of the other tombs.

The seventh century before Christ corresponds roughly to the period during which Cyprus was under Assyrian domination.

Walter Winterbottom

The funeral of Walter Winterbottom, 596 Chamberlain Street, who died in hospital Monday was held from the Kaye Funeral Home Wednesday.

The Rev. H. D. McCormack of St. James' United Church, conducted the service. The Canadian Legion service at the graveside was conducted by Hurrell Dodds. The Last Post was played by E. Johns.

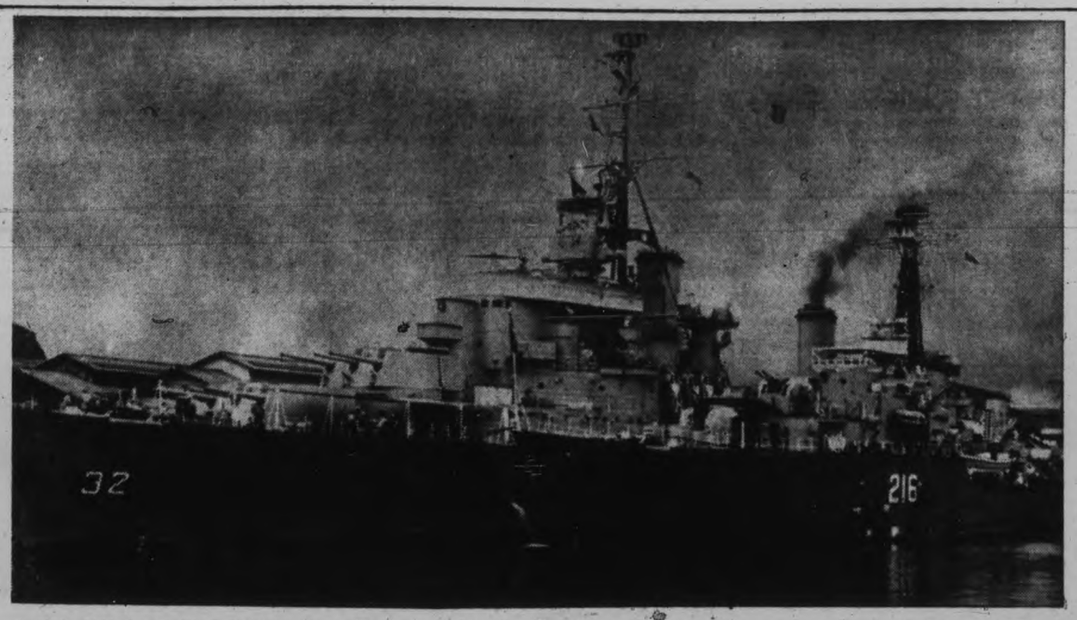
Pall-bearers, all members of the Canadian Legion were: H. Gabbut, W. Summers, J. Lang, W. Phillips, W. Curtis, F. Bell. Burial was in Little Lake Cemetery.

Rain Halts Airlift

DIBRUGARH, Upper Assam, Sept. 20 (Reuters)—Floods in Upper Assam have swept away at least 500 cattle. Blinding rain Wednesday stopped an airlift of food and clothes for 10,000 marooned persons.

Killed In Explosion

BOSTON, Sept. 20 (AP) — An oxygen tent exploded Wednesday when Arthur Peltier, 57, lighted a cigarette while being treated for a lung condition. He was killed in the blast.



TWO SHIPS OF THE ROYAL CANADIAN NAVY, the cruiser Ontario (32) and the destroyer Huron (216), are pictured at Balboa, Canal Zone, as they passed from the Pacific to the Atlantic en route to Halifax. The two ships are due in Halifax Friday, the Huron returning after five months' service in Korean waters. On September 26 the Ontario and Huron will sail from Halifax to rendezvous with the Empress of France at sea, after which they will escort the liner, bearing Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh, to Quebec City.

J. Grylls Named Group President

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 20 —(ENS)—John David Grylls was elected president of the Young Adult Group of the United Church at the Sunday evening meeting held at the parsonage.

Past president Ray Jackman presided for the election of officers which was as follows: president, John David Grylls; vice-president, Archie Stewart; secretary, Mrs. Ray Jackman; treasurer, Miss Jean Miller.

The Rev. W. Tonge moved a vote of thanks to the retiring executive.

Councillor Ken Jakins, representing the recreation committee addressed the group briefly asking them to take over the supervision of Teen-Town.

After some discussion the young people decided to accept the job.

The group also consented to supervise the sports programme at the Sunday School picnic which is being held at Nicholls Oval, Peterborough, Saturday afternoon.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Tonge.

Capone's Brother

HOMER, Neb., Sept. 20 (AP)—Homer's justice of the peace was disclosed Wednesday to be a long-lost brother of the late gangster Al (Scarface) Capone. Richard J. (Two Gun) Hart, a former sheriff of no small reputation, was revealed to be James Capone, about 64, through a Chicago grand jury's investigation into the alleged $96,679 income tax evasion of Al's other brother, Ralph (Bottles) Capone.

Miraculous Escape

QUINCY, Mass., Sept. 20 (AP)—A driverless automobile passed over two little girls and toppled a fence on the brother of one of them Wednesday and all the youngsters suffered were minor bruises. Police said Lorrain Burke, 4, and Eileen Suurhans, 5 were straddled by the wheels as they threw themselves down to the ground in the nick of time. The car knocked down a fence pinning Eileen's brother John, 8 beneath it. Police said the car's brakes apparently slipped.

Mt. Pleasant Victors To Open Loop Finals

Mount Pleasant opened their Industrial Fastball League finals last evening in the Bowl with a 4-2 victory over Mutuals. It was a fine fray all through with the Mounts showing punch to produce three runs in the fifth frame, adding one more in the eighth. The losers got a run in the fourth and another in the sixth. They ha dthe tying runs aboard in the ninth but couldn't score them as Mt. Pleasant tightened up defensively to hold them. Teams:

Individuality And Variety Mark California Fashions

By GLORIA BIGGS

It there's any type of skirt which doesn't whirl across the promenade at one of the showings of five of California's "name" designers it would be hard to say which one it it. Flying panels, wide hemlines posed over very stiff petticoats, pleated skirts, slim tubes, tunic effects, intricate drapery, and fullness, swished to one side or massed at the front, all make their appearance somewhere in the collections of Irene, Marusia, Don Loper, Athena or Angovar.

And although there is much news in the exquisite colors and unusual detail these houses sponsor, it is the immense variety of skirt silhouettes which stands out as being of top significance.

Irene, who always carves a fashion path entirely her own, does particularly fascinating skirt treatments this year. Even her skirts succumb to her preoccupation with what she terms a "more fluid line."

Classical Influence Seen

This feeling for motion stems quite logically from the influence of the classic Grecian and Roman period which is the dominant theme of Irene's collection. Done in a very modified manner, it nonetheless reflects itself in many ways, and more noticeably in her masterfully simple dresses than in her suits. Draped bodices, as well as skirts, cowl necklines and "classical colors" are some of the ideas which this designer borrows from the costumes of antiquity.

The colors which have been "derived from the early Roman days and from Greece" have singular importance throughout and include "Cretan green," a true peacock shade, and "Corinthian," a grayed blue, brown, "Pompeian red" and "Tanagra pink."

Other newsworthy high lights of this collection were the presentation of styles for shorter women, a new feature with this house; the emphasis on rhinestones which were shown with everything from suits to ball gowns; the repeated appearance of fringed ties on woolen dresses; and the liking for a rounder shoulder line.

Rounder shoulders are also highlighted by Marusia, who achieves the natural look through tuck detail, thus gaining a molded line without padding.

But though Marusia tones down her shoulders, she exaggerates the wide hemlines of several of her dresses through very stiff petticoats which flare out in an exaggerated way. Flying panels are also liked by this house, but there are slim tubes, too.

Marusia always acts as a model in her showings, and it was interesting to note that she modeled most of the full bell skirts and stiffened petticoats herself, as if to give them her own personal sponsorship.

Nonetheless, running through the collection like a theme song was the series of very simple daytime dresses frequently of "the little black dress" type, but also done in interesting colors. Contrasting with these were the elegant evening gowns in dramatic fabrics and hues. Significant was Marusia's liking for formal bodices with pointed tops which she calls "butterfly winged decolletages." Also noteworthy were her "stand-away bodices."

Coats Are Featured

Loose wrappy coats for all hours of the day and evening were starred by Marusia and this was true of Don Loper too, who makes a feature of exciting coat designs this season.

Voluminous "cape coats," of wool and theatre wraps of velvet worn over glittering lame dresses were both featured by Loper. As was the case at Irene's showing, flying panels were starred repeatedly and there were several full pleated skirts shown over layers of crisp petticoats. But slim skirts appeared too for those who prefer the more slender silhouette.

This house makes much of necklines this season, with emphasis on tulip or notched types.

Wide Variety Marked

Just as at the other houses, Angovar features a wide variety of silhouettes rather than stressing any particular one. Tuncis, "fishtail" drapery, pleats, whirling skirts and sheaths were all shown. Particularly interesting were the many sleeves with melon fullness above the elbow and a sleek tight line below. Convertible collars, some of which twisted into cowl necklines, were played up repeatedly.

Although Athena's collection highlighted as usual, the quietly distinguished suits for which she is noted, it included for the first time a size 20 gray-haired model. After watching so many young and extremely slender models parade across the showrooms, it was actually a relief to see a mature woman on the runway, who more closely resembles the figures of the women who will actually wear these clothes. Introduced in the showing to highlight Athena's presentation of her suits in sizes 20, 38 and 40, the mature model effectively demonstrated that well-tailored suits, properly designed, are not only for the slim.

MILLIKEN WORSTED is in top favor with designers because of its superior construction and texture, color and pattern. Here it is tailored beautifully with a well cut, smart tailleur suit that highlights the season's newest details.

THE PETTICOAT has a place all its own for fall and winter. This place may be underneath or over, according to the whim of the wearer. Shown here are three petticoats deisgned to be worn either way. Silk brocade (left) gleams with red and green flowers, is stiffened at the hem. Luxurious gold metallic cloth makes a petticoat (centre), while black nyon net (right), is in four layers.

New Petticoats Designed To Be Worn Over Or Under

By GAILE DUGAS.
NEA Woman's Editor.

NEW YORK — (NEA). — The place for your petticoat from now on is underneath or over, depending on your mood. The new petticoats were designed to be worn either way. They can stiffen and bell a tweed suit skirt or a taffeta late-day dress, but they can also go over the sheath dress and thus turn it into a costume on its own.

The petticoat takes many forms. It may be crinoline, taffeta, faille, stiffened nylon net, brocade, or even luxurious gold metallic cloth. Both the flared, or bell, and the yoke styles count. It might even be reversible this season.

Color emphasis is on white or black but all shades of red are important. Stripes and checks are for the girl with a large petticoat wardrobe.

Whatever petticoat you pick it is the underlying force for all of your swinging skirts for fall and winter. You'll wear it with tweed, with flannel, with poodle cloth. Often, you'll wear two or three foaming layers at one time, to make your waist look tiny.

Silk brocade, printed in gleaming red and green flowers, makes a petticoat definitely worth wearing outside. Stiffened at the hem and banded at the waist, it's also appropriate for late-day wear.

Or, there's elaborate gold metallic cloth, cut into a petticoat with great sweep and a tiny waist. Heavy and stiff of its own weight, it could make a bouffant dress billow and spin.

Black nylon net, in four layers with each layer corded in satin, could readily slip over a straight black sheath and be cinched by a patent belt. Once done, you'd have an after-five costume, easy as pie.

DRAMATIC, EXCITING is the way to describe this novel hat. Copper sequins flash over the entire surface of this oval sailor. A wrap in matching copper faille, picks up the sequin trim, to complete the ensemble.

Petticoat Fever Catching

With all the quaint charm and femininity of bygone crinoline days, petticoats again rustle their way into the fashion picture.

The return to the full-skirted silhouette brings out a wonderful array of petticoats to be worn by twos, threes, and even fours, under the season's prettiest frocks.

Petticoats are featured in stiff fabrics such as taffeta; in bright deep colors, in checks and stripes.

Some are full from the waist . . others flare outward below the hipline.

And, honest-to-goodness, stiff, rustling crinoline is used to fashion many of the new petticoats.

Crisped-out petticoats and crinoline underskirts will take their smart places under circular, Dirndl, and unpressed-pleat skirts that give emphasis to the important revival of the truly full skirt.

Yes — the petticoat-fever is catching on with college-going girls, and with smart women and misses everywhere, to whirl and rustle across the fall fashion scene.

Silk Returns For Best FashionShow

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—Until about 50 years ago women averaged three dresses a year . . a winter wool, a summer cotton and a "best dress" in pure silk. To show how some of these documentary "best dresses" of the past have made their impression upon today's designers, the International Silk Association, USA, presented a Cavalcade of Silk Fashions recently at the Waldorf Astoria.

Historic silk costumes from Brooklyn Museum were introduced by Mrs. Michele Murphy, curator and research consultant of the museum's industrial design laboratory and costume collection. They were chosen to illustrate the recurring cycle of design, theme and influence, and offered background material for a group of winter, 1951, designs in silk by top American designers.

One of the three authentic Japanese court kimonas in United States, made in 12 folds of fine silk, opened the show. An early 19th century Korean costume showed an interesting color blend with its woven sheer on a red pleated underskirt, a peach jaquard silk coat with full sleeves and over it a sleeveless shell coat of grey.

The Spanish influence in fashion was pointed up by a sumptuous toreador triumphal parade costume of red silk jersey encrusted with gold and jewels, worn under a brocaded red satin cape with jewelled collar. From Bokhara came a 19th century warp printed silk cloak in shades of red and white on gold.

A Quaker costume of 1810, though simple and grey, was made of fine shimmery China silk. Of even earlier date was a canary yellow ball dress dating from the 1700's, made of Spitafields silk, hand-embroidered with a Chinese floral design.

Turn of the century elegance in silk was illustrated with a theatre coat of 1893 in regal dark green cut velvet brocade and a black satin opera cloak of 1900 with large multi-colored tulips brocaded over the fabric. An 1895 Worth gown in pale blue satin was brocaded in the then fashionable flame pattern and trimmed with red velvet on the bodice and sleeves.

BOW TIES

Tall, slender men are well-suited to bow ties. They are advised by style experts to wear more of them, especially in the new narrow styles.

LACE-TRIMMED BLOUSE—There are two panelled borders on either side of the lace insert on this blouse. Lace also edges the collar and short sleeves.

CHOICE IN SHOE STYLES is so wide in Canada this fall that all individual needs can be met. From low, to middling, to high heel, this season's shoes can express the most special taste. The dress shoe today is worn for luncheon, shopping, bridge and dinner too, and tends to be a pump. Here are photographed six styles, all pump patterns. Above left: High-heeled and distinctive, in fine suede, a dress shoe in three shades of brown. Centre: The suit and sports shoe is planned openly for walking, and the heel range, low to middling, emphasizes this, as in the Parkway Green suede elasticized gore pump with high riding front, and polished brown calf trim. Below: Multicolor snakeskin pump on a high heel. All reptiles are popular this fall. At right, top: Something for the girls—specifically designed for the teen-ager—Spice Brown suede date shoe with low-placed instep strap showing decorative cut-out. Centre: A dressy black suede pump on shell lines, with an air of elegance. Topline trim is in pleated faille. Below: Combining comfort with smart styling — Cognac Brown calf suit or walking shoe.

Helpful Hints For Home Sewing

Here are some suggestions from sewing experts for the beginner at home-sewing: When selecting a pattern, look for a natural shoulder line, set-in sleeves, natural waistline, designs that cut on the double of the fabric. Avoid intricate drapery and elaborate detail.

❖ ❖ ❖

When choosing a fabric for a home-dressmaking project it is usually wiser to select your pattern first. Sewing experts say that more dressmaking failures are caused by an unfortunate combination of pattern and fabric, than for any other reason.

❖ ❖ ❖

For accuracy when cutting out a pattern, local sewing experts suggest that you first press pattern before laying sections out on fabric. Use a very low temperature iron while doing this, since too much heat will cause pattern pieces to curl.

❖ ❖ ❖

Here's a tip from sewing experts: When putting darts or tuck on inside of cutting thread, eliminate tying threads and have the dart lie more smoothly if you follow this procedure: First stitch dart of tuck as usual. When you reach the end of the line of stitching, instead of cuting thread, turn and stitch back along the outer outer edge of the dart or tuck.

Women's Dresses, Suits And Coats Softer In Line, Richer In Color Continuing With The Feminine Look

By COLLETTE FERGUSON

An invitation to sophisticated fashions that spell chic with a capital "C" is being offered to Peterborough women as city display windows offer the latest in fall styles. In fact the new autumn styles and colors are so appealing that pocket books and bank accounts are sure to suffer. They're more than an invitation—it's temptation. But now about the styles themselves. "The feminine look" is still making a record comeback after war-time tailored trends. Dresses, suits and coats are softer in line and richer in color. The last word in color combination right now is a deep purple and mustard-yellow combination. Other fascinating shades coming into the limelight are anthracite grey, brick, Windsor blue and garnet red.

These appealing colors are fashioned of the season's popular stiff materials of ottoman and ribbed taffetta, into pencil slim afternoon dresses, which incidentally have loads of pockets, or full skirts over crinoline for evening wear.

Faille and irridescent shot materials have also gained their place in fall bests.

The hemline that threatened to rise just a little last year has been set a mid-calf length. And with this lower hemline the decolletage or plunging neckline and the mandarin type of collar are the fashion—they're either very high or very low.

There seems to be no definite trend in sleeves. Both push-up and long sleeves are shown with bat-wings definitely still in.

Suits Have Full Skirts

The biggest innovation is in suits. The fashion plates will be stepping forth in the new full, very full, skirts and short fitted jacket. Tailored suits with the dressmaker touch remain as ever the smart and practical buy.

The biggest news in coats is in fabrics with the pyramid of fleecy and shaggy material the hit of the season. Shoulders are sloped and sleeves, big and important.

Matching accessories are still fashion news, with shoes and bag of similar colors and material. Suede leads with reptile trim styles a close second. The heels this season are very high or very low, but shoes are plain with stores selling the opera pump and dorsay styles.

Everything goes in bag fashions this season. They're large, small, wide, narrow and every conceivable shape.

Hats Are Smaller

Now to every woman's failing hats. Here again the styles are allowing everything, but there is a definite leaning to small shapes (to go with short hair styles) and higher shades. Feathers have pushed the spring ribbon fad out with ostrich plumes and other smart feathers gracing slightly exaggerated styles in felt. Brilliant pins and the hand beaded effects also brighten fall hats.

Along with the career girl and housewife, the collegiate miss needs to study fashion trends this fall.

Plaids and corduroy suits, skirts coats and even dresses are jamming back-to-school fashions. With the popular pleated skirts, nylon blouses of simple designs, and nylon sweaters make an attractive and practical wardrobe.

Separate boxy corduroy jackets also go nicely in the nine to four ensemble. And feet can stay comfortable in the standard styles of saddle shoes and loafers.

Camel hair and all wool fleece pyramid topcoats are advised for the up-to-date look.

That's it—the fall fashion picture for Peterborough smart, sophisticated but feminine.

Poor-Fitting Shoes Cause Tempers

Choose comfortable shoes if you want to be healthy, happy and wise—as well as easy on the eyes.

There's more than rhyme in that statement. You don't have to have a shoe expert tell you that tight shoes cramp not only your feet but your entire posture. And they put a kink in your temper as well.

Health Department officials say that shoes too tight or in an unsuitable style may cause fatigue and nervous tension. For foot-ease they suggest a daily foot-bath in alternate hot and cold plunges; dry well and dust with good foot-powder.

Fashions in FURS

Why you should buy from a Furrier . . . .

When you buy a 1951 car whether a Chev., Buick or Cadillac, style will be moulded along uniformly colourful lines. Why? because trained craftsmen have assembled this beautiful motive of speed. So must trained craftsmen be called to make your fur coat if the perfect garment is desired. Anyone can sell a fur coat but only a furrier can properly service your furs. He knows how durable is the fur, how strong is the pelt, the proper blending of colour to harmonize with trimmings or accessories.
Your furrier knows style. If he is a graduate designer he can intelligently advise the proper amount of flare whether pyramid Princess or just a swagger style if desired.

Bold Scarfs Tricky Trims Add Glitter

Vivid color, bold designs and glitter, distinguish the new accessories which will play such an essential role this fall in brightening the universally dark costume background.

Emeralds, ruby, sapphire, amethyst, aqua and topaz appear as importantly as rhinestones in jewelry collections to vitalize the dark greys, browns and black of fall apparel.

Citron yellow, brassy gold, Biarritz blue, ginger, shocking pink and dynamic turquoise are featured in scarfs and stoles as stimulants!

All collections concentrate on special designs to accent the new standaway, keyhole, turtle-neck and cardigan necklines, while unusual placement of jewelry and scarf above and below the waistline provide exciting punctuation for the fall silhouette.

An emphatic color note, no matter how the scarf is tied, characterizes the fall '51 signature of scarf collections.

Tweed textures, cleverly duplicated in print; plaids and checks and autumn flowers are among the scarf designs planned for fall casuals, separates and suits in small 18-inch squares and the large, versatile 36-inch size.

Gay New Accents

Narrow velvet ties with "poodle poms" or silk fringe, that can double at neckline or waistline; curved ascots for filling-in the new necklines; ribbon cocardes for cardigan and turtleneck fashions, are gay new accents.

Stoles, more important than ever, run the gamut in both design and fabric, in everything from striped wool jersey and wool knit, to imported velvets, laces, satins and brocades.

Pleated chiffons, over 3-yards long, in colors to match fall fleeces are suggested for street wear with coats as well as over evening gowns, in the Paris tradition.

Spectacular in size and fabulous in effect is the "jeweled look" sponsored for dramatizing fall styles. Huge heraldics in pins, earrings and bracelets, replicas of authentic royal court orders and executed with all the detail and skill of the ancient master jewelers, introduces a completely new note of splendor in this theme.

Stone Set Bowknots

From the haute couture in Paris comes inspiration for graduated-size, stone-set stars and bowknots, cabachon and square stones massed with brilliants, giant solitaires in all the gem colors, and unusual "French knots" with dimension and mobility in silver as well as gold.

Double-end stick-pins, another Paris inspiration, features pearls, rhinestones and colored stones; others are jet-topped daggers, to "stab" at will from hat to waistline.

Gold and sliver sheaves of wheat, clusters of baroque pearls, jet, and quartz stones, are motifs used in a series of stick-pins.

Massive chunky beads and pearls in colors keyed to match or highlight fall styles are designed for collarless fashions to be worn at the base of the neck.

Bracelets hold the spotlight, because of the new sleeve interest, ranging from pearl strands and tailored links to wide, wide bands studded with multi-colored cabachon stones.

Earrings are "big" news—in the huge-domed baroque pearls rimmed in gold in pearl "saucer" buttons, other styles designed in every type from tailored gold to brilliant stones.

TRICKY, cut-out neckline. LEFT, in this red satin frock has funnel shaped pockets jutting out from the hips while the turtleneck CENTRE is one of the season's most popular necklines and takes top honors when dramatized with jewelry scarfs or stoles. The "doormat wool" coat RIGHT is patterned with graduated stripes in tones of grey. Upper sleeve is cut in one with the shoulders.

Color Interest In New Hosiery

The growing interest in grey for all 'round fall wear, creates color interest in the new season's hosiery.

Glowing rich browns will blend with browns, go smoothly with blacks (in the new brown with black trend) and look just elegant with grey, royal blue and plum-purple.

A sophisticated tone to wear with black, grey, royal and brown is a misty-slate cast with black.

A clear, glowing grey . . . muted softly to blend with dark greys, is the perfect hosiery shade for rose-to-plum hues too.

Pencil-fine seams . . . back clocks . . . side clocks and hand-painted designs are keynoted for that extra-svelte touch for leg flattery.

French Design Accenting High Bust and Bell Skirt

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

PARIS—(NEA)—For the average woman, each fashion report from Paris means a new tussle with budget and silhouette. This year while there are basic changes over last year's fashions, she'll be pleased to know that she doesn't have to scratch her old wardrobe completely.

The basic changes come, first, in the disappearance of the tight and slinky skirt. Even suit skirts show more width at the hem, a width that is belled out over the stiffening provided by crinoline and taffeta petticoats. Fullness is massed at the back, or the front, or distributed about the waist, bell-wise, by such designers as Fath, Desses and Paquin.

A second basic change arrives in the higher, accented bustline that is the result of Empire influence. Collars achieve choker proportions and in daytime dresses, there are bows, jabots, and shoulder drapery. For evening gowns, molded brassiere effects concentrate attention above the waistline.

The normal waist and diaphragm are still molded by high, shaped corselet belts from Desses and Maggy Rouff. But the unbelted princess line reappears in Dior designs. Hips remain rounded with many of the swinging skirts stemming from deep hip yokes or graduated gores.

A third basic change comes in the realm of femininity. Even in tailored clothes, Balenciaga has introduced widened, unfitted shoulders and complicated sleeves. The man-tailored suit is temporarily eclipsed. Sleeves are important in many ways. They become full Regency with Fath, start half-crescent with Desses, are raglan, bishop, modernized leg o' mutton or bell. All but the bell sleeve have one fashion point in common: they taper off from elbow to wrist.

The fashion-conscious, budget-flattened woman will find many notions in the new collections that will help her bring her wardrobe up-to-date. The use of ribbon is one of these. It's seen in enormous butterfly or bustle bows with trailing ends on evening gowns by Maggy Rouff and Balmain. It appears in narrower widths and pastel colors to underline the high bustline and eighteen-inch waist in Dior designs.

Coats offer a wide choice of lines. Dior does casual, medium full, belted ulsters, these sometimes fur-lined. Balmain asd Paquin have redingotes with full, swinging skirts and Desses and Fath design unfitted fullness starting from the shoulder-line. Balmain's afternoon coats have postillion cape collars and shawl collars are draped wast-deep by Paquin, in fur or fabric. The fashionable, bulky look comes, of course, from pebbly or long-haired woollens.

Black is once again out in front for wear around the clock, but gray, from a deep shade to a pale pewter, is a strong daytime color. And there is a whole new range of blues, launched by Desses and featuring drake and peacock, kingfisher and Brazilian, butterfly and petrol blue.

LARGE SELF - COVERED BUTTONS dot the lapels and jacket of this suit. The skirt is straight with a centre pleat.

Tweeds Provide Big City Look

Never before has there been such a wonderful variety and elegance in the usually-tailored, casual tweed fabric!

From tiny flecks to bold plaids, there's an exciting, colorful versatility to new tweeds.

Sportswear items feature bulky, bold men's wear types, and are beautifully co-ordinated with handbags, shoes and millinery, casual-in-mood, yet elegant in styling.

The surprise of the new season, is tweed—for evening wear. You'll find bare-topped tweed frocks and ensembles. You'll see them lavished with jet and brilliants.

These tweeds wear trims of satin, faille and velvet to enhance their new beauty.

And, there are wonderful co-ordinated groups for ensemble wear . . . matching colors, yet in different patterns.

For fashion smartness and greater than ever versatility, tweeds are tops for fall-into-winter wear.

THIS WEATHER COAT is in wishbone cordurella and it is the Paris-inspired corduroy with the velvet look fashioned with finesse.

Refurbishing Lampshades Puts Shine On Living Room

NEW YORK (NEA). — About the easiest, least expensive way to put a new shine into your living-room during these days of mounting costs is to refurbish your lampshades. If you're equipped with a little time, a lot of imagination and some trimmings you can buy for a few cents a yard, you're in business.

For pennies, you can have a new shade suited to the decor of any room in your home. If you've a modern living-room, you may be fond of burlap shades. Start with your old shade or a new parchment one you'll get at the five-and-dime store. You'll want a yard of fine burlap to paste neatly over the parchment. If you paste top and bottom only, you'll find the burlap is smooth.

As trimming, pick a wide, bushy cotton fringe that you'll buy in the drapery section of your department store. Twist it, the way a rope is twisted, to make it bushier. Then tack it, with needle and thread, to the top and bottom of the shade as a border-ing. For the base, you might use a tall, coiled cylinder of white ceramic, but this shade is equally good for any modern base.

Those of you who shun the sleek and modern way of living in favor of the cozy and informal might like a shade that's right for contemporary or early American settings, or a mixture. The covering for this shade is cut from grass-green shantung and pasted over a plain parchment shade. The trim for this is oyster-white gimp, that braid-like bandin that's used in upholstering.

For the top border, four rows of gimp are pasted directly on the covered shade, each row pushed tightly together to create a solid two-inch band. Since the heaviest trim always goes at the top, only two rows are used to edge the bottom.

In a traditional room, the feeling of formality must be carried out, even in lamp shades. Heavy white silk, used to cover a plain parchment shade, is trimmed at the top with gold satin scalloped ball fringe. For the bottom, use narrow gold gimp border. Combined with a formal white porcelain base, you've a lamp to brag about.

If the small fry in your family inhabit a room with a nautical theme, there's no problem in freshening the shades. On a parchment shade, paste navy rope-cord top and bottom and, at the centre, twist and paste the rope into an anchor design. Then, to give the base a salty look, paint it red, white and blue.

The gleam that you'll get from your salvaged shades will tempt you to design your own shades. You might even find it fun to do them as gifts for your friends or as a means of earning pocket money.

Good Accessories Add Smartness To Your Dress

'Round the season and 'round the clock, smart women find accessories a smart investment in chic and fashion know-how.

Good-looking, versatile accessories are the background and basics for every woman's budget, no matter how limited or how extensive.

All accessories should be related in mood and type to the costume for which they are intended.

The separates and individual notes of any ensemble, such as sweater and skirt . . . blouse and skirt . . . are the better coordinated when brought together for smoother harmony with a match-in-mood, smart belt.

Complete your own fashion picture from the host of new, wonderful and exciting accessories. Spark your wardrobe with fashion interest from the new trends in accessories, and you'll find that your wardrobe will wear a right, bright look for fall!

Handbags

Choose a smart, large carry-all with a soft look for your casual and sport ensembles. With tailleurs, you'll want neat, boxy shapes in polished leather.

Dressmaker suits and coats will be brightly punctuated by soft, trimmed bags in suedes and fabrics. And for the cocktail hour and after, the "buy-word" is—the more elaborate, the better.

Handbags, too, show important texture contrasts . . . suede with calf, grained leather with polished calf, fabric with leather . . . polished or patent leathers, many in reversible styles.

Key colors are polished black, sophisticated browns, greys and deep reds, tawny spice shades and royal purples in all variations.

Gloves

Fingertip fashions for fall go to all lengths in smooth leather, suede, pigskin and a multitude of fabrics.

From one-button mannish gloves to 8-button long gloves, glove fashions for day and evening have trims and accents of contrasting fabrics, braid, bead and jet trims.

Satin trims the fabric gloves, as does velvet. Choose string and pigskin for tweedy fabrics . . . leathers in polished tones with tailored ensembles and velvet, taffeta and soft-as-butter suede in elegant glove dress-ups.

Stoles

Stoles, which stole the spotlight throughout the spring and summer showings, continue to be a peak trend. Your best bet continues to be the long, straight stole and huge triangle shawl . . . to give that extra fillip to your costume.

Shoes

Pumps ride high in the shoe picture this fall . . . and they are higher-riding pumps, too, with little resemblance to the deep-cut shell pump of previous seasons.

The number one shoe for fall will be smart and simple, with rounded throatline and delicate yet restrained trimming on the vamps.

Gracing your ankle this fall will be backless treatments with over-the-instep strap or straps . . . halter slings . . . the broadly-opened toe for frivolous occasions and a wonderful lineup of oxfords with side ties and pump variations.

The polished look in soft leathers, sparkle trimly for your accessorizing in black, brown, grey and purple. Patent is your target for attention to complement your luxury look. Suedes will glow softly with corduroys, tweeds and velvets.

The look . . . the feel and the smart fashion of the accessory picture presents opportunities unlimited for fashion this fall.

SILVER IS PRECIOUS!

"To go with" the wonderful grey notes in the fall fashion picture, antique and modern silver jewelry, in heraldics, antique and modern designs, are keynoted for real fashion importance.

Picture Windows Inspiring New Ways of Curtaining

The picture window poses its special problems....to admit all the light, or modify it....to reveal the view yet afford required privacy. This calls for a change from the usual curtainings, with translucent fabrics, important for window-wise decor.

Textures and fabric interest for picture windows, must stand the test of larger areas and be light enough in weight to allow them to be drawn back into thin folds.

The newest window curtain fabrics meet the challenge with eye-appealing designs and textures. One-and-two color prints, in the modern manner, are making a big splash.

And, rating high, fashionwise, are the fabric fibre blends — rayons, cottons, linen, jute, mohair, and metal yarns....to give new color and texture interest.

You'll find a wide range of weaves, from nubby ones to those of loose construction, with a hand-loomed air.

Exaggerated nubs and slubs are affected through the use of contrasting yarns.

Shantung - textured acetate rayon taffeta has a fine texture which filters natural light.

And, cotton lace nets with a square-woven mesh, afford privacy while making it possible to look out into sunlit areas.

Another versatile casement fabric, a mercerized cotton and boucle mixture, features a special treatment top revent sagging in humid weather.

Baffin Island, with an area of nearly 200,000 square miles, is by far the largest island in the Arctic Ocean.

Royal Visit Causes Stir In Autumn's Fashion Styles

OTTAYA, Sept. 20—The program of next month's Royal visit has sent womenfolk into a tizzy with the frantic question: "What will I wear?"

The program for the two-day Ottawa stay of Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh appeared, on the surface, to call for every type of gown and frock imaginable, with the possible exception of ski slacks.

Women who will be prominent in the Royal spotlight, such as Lady Alexander, and Mrs. St. Laurant, will be assisted for the occasion by the top designers of this country and possibly New York and Paris.

The biggest problems seemed to face the wives of Cabinet ministers or diplomats who will have an inside track at all events but whose husbands have not got the sufficiently well-lined pocketbook to foot the bill for an entirely new wardrobe to cover the events around the clock for the two days.

The program, and the problems facing the womenfolk, added up to this:

Wednesday, October 3, 10 a.m.: Greeting the Royal couple on an outdoor platform as they alight from their special train. The hour is a difficult one at which to meet Royalty, an experience this Capital has not had since the 1939 Royal Tour by the King and Queen. Fashions of 1939 would hardly be suitable today.

3.15 p.m.: Civic reception for the Royal couple at Hull. Officials have not decided yet just how wide the invitation list for this occasion will be, but if milady is fortunate enough to be invited to both Hull's civic reception and Ottawa's the following day, she encounters a problem.

4 p.m.: Presentation of Queen Mary's carpet to the National Gallery of Canada, at the Parliament Buildings. This will be a stately occasion and the women are further confounded on the Hull reception by the type of gown they should get which would be suitable for both affairs.

8 p.m.: State dinner at Government House. A simple question on the surface—just get the best formal evening gown you can afford, and hope that nobody else at the dinned will match it.

10 p.m.: Reception at Government House. Ditto.

Thursday, October 4, 12.30 p.m.: Civic luncheon at the Chateau Laurier given by the City of Ottawa. Watch that your frock doesn't match the one you wore yesterday across the river.

2.30 p.m.: Boat trip, weather permitting, down the Ottawa river This is a real conundrum. Ottawa hasn't had a Royal water party in the memory of any of the women who will be participating. If it were not Royalty, slacks and shorts would do. But . . .

5 p.m.: Reception by the Canadian Government at the Chateau Laurier. Cocktail dresses, presumably. That is, unless you are invited to move on to—

8 p.m.: Buffet supper at Government House. In which case, formal attire again. But then, you can't possibly wear the same gown you wore at Government House last night, my dear.

Latest betting is that the tizzy Ottawa womenfolk find themselves in won't be dissipated until:

Friday, October 5, 1.05 a.m.: Royal train departs.

THE FITTED COAT, done in bulky and shaggy fabrics, is a kind of fashion paradox. Though the fabrics themselves are rough and thickly piled, the coat is deftly manipulated. With tiny waist and full, flowing skirt, it doesn't add pounds to the wearer. These coats, appearing in the London collections, are shown first in black, again the important daytime color, and second in the dark greys that are used for all autumn daytime wear and for evening, too. Lapels are intricately manipulated and pockets are designed to accentuate the defined waistline. Braid appears frequently as trim and linings are often in flashing color for contrast. A fitted coat (left) by Worth of London is in elephant grey longpiled British woollen. This double-breasted top coat has sleeve fullness to the elbow. Sleeves slim down from elbow to wrist. Pockets play up the hip line and emphasize the narrow wasit. Skirt has soft, easy fullness. An overcoat (right) by La Chasse of London is in black. This long hair velour is cut with fitted bodice. Inset godets give added fullness to a skirt that's already full. Cuffed sleeves are narrow; revers are wide and flaring.

Gala Season Coming Up For Gowns

It's going to be a great season for the formal gown! You'll see the new lovelies in cocktail and full lengths.

Their lines are slim, full or sculptured. They are superlatives —invjtng in their rich fabrics and luxury trims.

Satin underscores the success of slinky, sculptured gowns . . . these gowns are highlighted by bodice-defining lines and are elegantly worked with beading, velvet, passementerie, braiding and other lavish trims.

In contrast, beautiful ball gowns of soft flowing sheers appear in all collections . . . magnificent laces, net combinations and embroidered organdies.

Dull satins, brocades, repp and failles are used in the ankle-length, cocktail-hour frocks.

Crinoline, flounces, pleats and exaggerated hip-rounding are the biggest of the new, silhouette influences.

Pale pink, ice blue, champagne, honey, amber and blond tones . . . whites; from chalk white to parchment—are the pale colors of the coming season.

Hour glass contours for curves above and below the waist are '51 dramatic innovations for after-five fashions.

From the simplicity of later-afternoon dress-up frocks to the super-elegance of the ball gowns . . . there's glitter, full skirt or slim femininity, and fabric importance in the gala dresses for the gala events of '51-'52. . .

SCARF TRICKS

This season your scarf may be much more than a decorative accent . . . it may, in fact, be the keynote of your ensemble.

The new scarf fashions lend themselves to sash ties, serape drapes, ascot ties, buttonhole adornment and a host of other tricky accents.

HERE IS THE BARBARA ANN SCOTT HAT of ermine sheared rabbit, as worn by the famed skating star. Styled by Ivy of Montreal, the hat comes in seven colors.

Casual Hats, Caps Right WithTweeds

With greater popularity slated for fall tweeds, cheviots, shetlands and flannels, men's fashion authorities say that novel hats and caps will be worn more and more.

A wide variety of smart caps . . . beret-styled with a small visor, modified yacht caps, jaunty versions of classic golf caps and many others make their appearance in small checks, tweed patterns, flannels, and plaids.

Brushed wool and wool felts with a soft look make their entry into the men's headgear picture in pork-pie, tyrolean and skimmer types. They wear clever braid, ribbon and cord trims.

You'll be wearing these hats and caps to sports events, to campus get-togethers and they're smart fashions wherever casuals are worn.

Sculptured significance... moulded and shaped into a series of gentle curves, the hipline arching so importantly from a narrow beginning... collars closed or open... featured at better stores throughout Canada.

Can be had in French ribbolene or worsted flannel

THIS SMARTLY DESIGNED SUIT (Left) offers pocket interest with saddle pockets at the hipline. Note especially the shoulder flanges and the hand picked edges. Expertly tailored this suit (right) creates a debonair look with its detachable stand-up collar and revers of gleaming velvet. The 5-gore skirt has a back-button trim, a cutaway front opening and a gently-rounded hipline.

Grey Gay In Color Scheme Smart And Easy To Wear

At the top of the colorscope for fall season, grey headlines its fashion importance!

After the tremendous popularity of banker's grey, last fall and the pale, silvery greys of spring, grey shades continue to be ace-high in drawing up a winning fashion hand.

Trump-high in all designer collections, fabrics come to the fore in gay greys!

Again, as last year, yarn-dyed greys are getting the most attention in classic suits of flannel . . . both wool and rayon. This medium grey tone, will be shown in your favorite store wearing such exciting names as "pewter", "antique" and "frost".

In rayon suitings and dress weights, especially in the flannel types, yarn-dyed grey, rates your interest and selection.

Your dress-up frocks in rich crepes and taffetas are highlighted too, in very dark greys.

Look to "flannel-greys" in the ribbed fabrics, especially in wide-waled corduray. Look to fur fabrics, especially in krimmer cloth, in wondrous grey. In rich silk, rayon brocade, elegant satins . . . gunmetal greys gleam with high fashion importance.

And grey will add glamour to woven cottons with a wool-look in blouses, office frocks and simple classics.

In the sliver-metal theme of grey, beautiful coatings will have this subtle shade as a ground to highlight the exciting stripes, plaids and texture weaves.

More silver-metal jewelry gives impetus to glitter sparkle on suave grey grounds.

It's a simple exercise in fashion mathematics to add grey footwear and handbags to your ensemble. Gloves, scarfs and millinery too, all take fashion interest in grey.

And what's perfectly wonderful about grey, is its most exciting adaptability to all the thrilling colors in the fall fashion spectrum!

Grey goes with . . . purples, yellows, rust, green and darker grey. It goes with red, royal, black, white and just about every other new-for-fall color imaginable.

To be right for fall . . . go gay with grey in a big way!

Corduroy Becomes New And Exciting

There's an opulent look to corduroys! Never before have there been such interesting variations to this smart fabric!

Considered for so long as a sturdy basic for 'hard-knock' apparel, corduroy has at long last lost its 'bread 'n butter' look, to wear a sophisticated, elegant air.

From woven plaids, pin checks, tweedy looks, wide wales with the look of rich velvet, corduroy is the newest fabric sensation.

It has been specially processed to lose its tendency to shine in wear spots and is more crease-resistant and durable than ever.

You'll find exciting corduroy versions in sheer-weights, medium-weights and the usual stand-by heavyweights.

You'll always enjoy shopping at CORRELL'S LADIES' WEAR, George and Hunter Street! You'll receive courteous "personalized" service too, when you're shopping for your wardrobe requirements! Their three sales ladies are truly, well qualified to help you in your selection. Mrs. Dorothy deMontigny, (left), known to 1,000's of Peterborough shoppers as "Dorothy", specializing in Foundation Garment Fitting. Mrs. Lenora Hollingsworth (centre) is qualified to serve you well in all lines of feminine apparel . . . and Mrs. Jean Watson, (right), specializing in Ready-to-Wear. CORRELL'S at the corner of George and Hunter Streets, is Peterborough's most modern Ladies' Wear, where, style, quality, courtesy and service prevail.

Hat Flair Is Tilt, Tricks

It takes a flair to wear a hat with an air. Without this certain touch, the finest piece of millinery art is nothing more or less than a functional head covering.

This certain tilt that makes or breaks a hat is partially the result of the skill with which a knowing hand perches a felt-and-feather concoction atop her head, but there are, too, certain concrete tricks for helping your hat do for you the things it should.

Hat pins are important. If you've been in the habit of plunging them through, across the back of your hat, try running them the other way instead, along the sides of your head. You'll find that this type anchorage helps your millinery to hold its shape, and preserves its best line when you're wearing it.

Veils, too, can be handled in a practical manner. If it seems too difficult to settle the airy net into its proper position, try this trick from the milliners.

Grasp the edge of your veil between your forefinger and thumb, and twist until the fabric tautens enough to hug your chin, brim, or whatever. Then give another quick wrench to secure the veil when you tuck it in. Sizing in the fabric gives it enough body to stay twisted as you want it, without the aid of unsightly pins.

New Look Coats, Dresses For Big 'n Little

There's exciting news in store for big and little girls this fall! This season clothes for the young set ride the crest of the fashion wave! In line and detail, in fabric and color, styles for children, girls and subteens take their cue from the season's most important, new fashion trends.

Coats and dresses for style-minded girls have a definitely new look that's labelled "fall, 1951." Even the basic and classic children's types have a fresh appeal with clever details and trimmings, contrasting fabric accents and other new treatments.

In coats for girls of 3 to 6 and right on up to high school age, the popular pyramid silhouette is still the big style leader.

It follows the new fall trend toward more modified lines that are smart and becoming to youthful figures. Raglan shoulders, side or back fullness, and curved yoke interest are copies from new fall coats, shown for women and misses.

Fabric newness gives further style significance to new youthful coats. Here, too, poodle cloth is fashion's pet. Fabrics with deep, loopy or curly textures, chinchilla weaves with their own nubby-textures, and the poodle-look, are all featured.

Tweeds are in the picture too, as are the velvet-soft, deep-piled fleeces. Plaids, checks, and patterned woolens are high in fashion favor, especially in coats for younger folk of 3 to 6.

In girls' dresses, the style accent is on the bodice with new sleeve effects, new collar treatments, and trimming details concentrated above the waists. Skirts are moderately full, and pointed up with pockets. Dropped shoulder effects, curved raglan shoulder lines, and novel yoke treatments are new fashion features.

The rich, luscious look of velvet and velveteen—both for the dresses, themselves, or as fashion wear accents is a fall highlight! Corduroys are, of course, ever in favor and contribute to the "velvet feeling" prominent in the fashion picture.

Both in coatings and dress fabrics, the colors that complete the children's wear fashion story show a distinct trend toward rich, warm shades.

Fuller sleeves, both in short and three-quarter lengths with special emphasis on cuff details play a major part in fall dress styling. Collars range from little Peter Pan and club collars to wide cape collars and capelet effects. Trimmings and detail on children's dresses are lavish, with smart emphasis on velvet accents, touches of lace, and clever use of contrasting fabric.

Packable Hats In Fall Collection

NEW YORK—Anita Andra gave special attention to the occasion for which a hat is to be worn in designing the fall and winter millinery collection that was shown at a luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel. These various categories were broken down to include styles to suit varying personalities, thus making it an extensive and varied line.

Packable hats for travelers comprised the first group called 'globe trotter.' Materials with resiliency that take shape easily were used in these designs. Hand crochet chenille in a hombre effect, with alternating stripes of angora or metallic thread, formed the crown of a soft brim cloche. The brims were of soft velours in shades to harmonize with the chenille.

Casual and daytime hats were primarily small with a restrained use of trim. Contrasting piping to accentuate lines, feathers, small tassels or a single pom-pom were typical adornments in this category.

Many wide-brimmed hats were noted among others in the cocktail collection. They were predominantly of velvet in bicorne or cartwheel shapes with touches of brilliants or elaborate hat pins adding sparkle. Pink pears, paillettes and tiny beads formed a completely encrusted cap for evening wear.

Accompanying many of the millinery designs were corresponding accessories from the boutique shop in Miss Andra's salon on 558 Madison Avenue.

Gold-Red Glint In Hair Styling

TORONTO, Sept. 20—(CP)—A New York hairdressing expert has said that the most fashionable hair stylings this autumn will have a gold-red glint.

Victor Ferrantelle, director of his own school of advanced hairdressing in New York and guest demonstrator at the current convention of the Ontario Hairdressers Association convention, had this tip for the style-wise:

"Color tinting, flame auburn for blondes and deep auburn for brunettes, is the news in hair styles this season. Before the year is out, most fashion-conscious women will have turned slightly red-headed."

And about how women will wear their hair:

"Curls are out and soft shallow waves are the thing. Hair has been worn down for a number of years, but now the style is around the head in soft waves."

Double-Breasted Suits Out Fall Style For Men Indicates American Lounge

The era of men's double-breasted suits has ended.

Fall styles indicate a definite trend to the American lounge style, a single-breasted suit which features the old-fashioned cloth-covered buttons.

During the war years men were forced by wartime restrictions on materials to be satisfied with the single-breasted style. Immediately after the war when cloth became plentiful, the double-breasted suit became the rage.

According to clothing store managers, men, both in the United States and especially Canada, found the double-breasted suit too "prim and proper" for all occasions and have gradually reverted to the single front.

Cooler and More Comfortable

The lounge model appears cooler and more comfortable but still has the appearance which is dressy for all occasions. The coat has narrowing tapering lapels, narrow collar and a squarer, narrower effect on the shoulders.

The one or two buttons are cloth covered. This style dates back before the turn of the century and seems to blend in properly with the other changes in suit coat style.

Trousers have taken a modern trend in fancy designs. More than 90 per cent of the new styles in trousers include pleats, only the extra large sizes in ready-made clothing are plain. The slightly lowered belt loops are still in vogue.

Similar Belts

Newest in the trouser trend are belts in material similar or the same as the suit material. The trousers also keep the open lap seams, single or double, down the side of the legs for the fall season.

Vests are nearly a thing of the past. Fall styles include several designs in vests for the elderly man or the office worker who account for the slim demand.

One tailoring company once employed six vest makers and now have only one.

For fall, merchants are suggesting the pic' n' pic cloths which are increasing in popularity. The name refers particularly to the weave rather than the material or design. Worsteds place second in the fall choice.

Plain Shades Slipping

A small design, such as the window pane, is in style as well as fancy worsted designs. The plain shades are gradually slipping out of style for the next several months.

Covert and gabardine top coats are still the style in the box design. Increasing in demand, especially in the fall months, is the military coat, called by clothing stores, the major model.

From the standpoint of economy is the reversible spring, fall and winter coat which has the zippered-in lining. This coat is referred to as the "doubler."

The new trend is towards men's apparent likings, good quality and a change from plain colors to "risky" color combinations.

Wide Brim Hats

Fall styles in men's hats follow the summer styles, emphasizing the wide brim which will be turned up. The light-weight style will be promoted for fall wear.

Shirts, ties and socks will be the usual year-round styles with shirts emphasizing the Windsor collar and dauble cuffs, ties of sugar and spice, and plain shades, and men's nylon hose.

Besides the standard colors and shapes in men's shoes, the fall styles this year will be suede, either combined with aligator or leather. Some shoes have the French toe, a shoe with the toe squared off more than usual.

KNIT TIES

Knit ties are almost a must with tweeds. They go well with flannels, too. The same ties can be worn with the mixture of tweed coats and flannel slacks.

FUR FOR ACCENT

A tiny choker of real, precious mink at the neckline . . . a wide band of fox, above or below the elbow . . . (on coats, dresses, suits and even blouses) . . . little fur collars on elegant frocks . . . huge fur muffs and lavish fur stoles are the fashion accents in fur for fall and winter.

NOTE THE SMARTNESS of these two all-wool top coats. At the LEFT is the towngrey Chesterfield and at RIGHT a Balmacaan with set-in sleeves and turn back cuffs.

Men's Wear Styling Experts 'To Pad Or Not To Pad' Ask

"To pad or not to pad"—that seems to be the question that concerns the men's fashion experts for this fall. Whether 'tis nobler to discard all artifice and device in shoulder padding and waistline shaping, or to build up where nature leaves off with clothing that is designed to bring out the Clark Gable in Mr. Average Man—that is the big controversy.

For instance, Perkins Bailey, man's fashion editor of Look Magazine, comes out strongly in favor of the narrow, unpadded look in clothing — while Bert Bachrach, men's fashion editor of Colliers, predicts that men will never accept a fashion that does so little for them.

This expert believes in a "middle of the road" approach to fall clothing—with modified shoulder padding, definite suppression of the waistline and flatness over the hips.

Then there's Oscar E. Schoeffler, fashion editor of Esquire, who sides with Mr. Bailey on the subject of "natural" shouders and "straight hanging" jacket lines.

Refinement Found

That there is a refinement of styling in men's apparel for fall is most evident — what Mr. Bachrach describes as the "middle of the road" approach. It is not only apparent in suits, sportswear and topcoats—but also in hats and men's furnishings.

The smart hat is the narrow brim style—with brims around two and a half inches wide. The smart necktie is the narrow bow tie, the latter popularized on college campus's. Tie patterns are neater, less flamboyant—with panels, spaced figures and diagonal stripes most important. Big Paisley designs are one of the smart exceptions to smaller patterns in neckties.

Big news in topcoats is the trend toward tweedy fabrics, as a change from the conservative coverts and gabardines popular for so long. These traditional favorites will continue of course, as big favorites. Herringbone patterns are especially good looking—often styled in the English manner with raglan shoulders. Zip-in linings make these tweeds go 'round-the-calendar—a big buying-point in men's wear for this fall.

Grey Flannels

Basic grey flannel suits rank high on the list of fall trends for men, with new interest in chalk strip flannels. The low roll collar in suits and narrow necktie exposing a wide area of shirt—there's more reason for men to have a varied shirtwardrobe as a change from the staple, plain white.

Look for sportswear to set a new record in popular acceptance this fall, for every occasion except real formal business wear.

The separate sports coat and slacks have become a universal way of dressing. Light weight tweeds are favorites for the separate jacket, also corduroys.

College men will go for the patterned corduroys that look like tweeds; also for the many plaids again. New note in sportswear outerwear is colorful linings, such as paisleys and polka dots.

Good example of the way men's fashions actually reflect new changes in living is the styling of pyjamas for fall. More and more, they are being designed to serve two purposes—sleeping and lounging. What more comfortable for the TV viewer than pyjamas that look like sports shirt and sports slacks? They go from easy chair to bed with equal comfort and style.

Look for many more synthetic fabrics in fall apparel.

Great strides have been made in the perfection of these man-made fibres that keep style and comfort up; appreciate them as wonders of modern science that give excellent wear and good fashion, plus 'round-the-callendar comfort.

Fashion Decrees Returned To Skirt Fullness For Fall

There is a forthright declaration in all the designer collections for dresses as dresses. One piece frocks come out as simple, smart statements that clearly define themselves as one-piece and not as anything else!

Big news, too, in the fall dress showings, is the return to skirt fullness after two seasons of almost skin-tight slimness.

The sheath dress remains. Its manipulations and handling have changed, however, to rounded hiplines with a more gradual taper to the hemline . . . or, the sheath dress with mermaid-slim form is now framed in the back with fullness.

Other variations to the sheath basic, are expressed with overskirts of net or lace . . . a windswept-apron front over the skin-tight sheath, or floating panels in front to accentuate the slimness of the sheath below.

In skirts and dresses, the arched hipline and cinched-in waist adds importance to dropped, unseamed shoulder lines.

Inflation enters the sleeve picture with lantern sleeves, push-up and puff sleeves, everywhere.

The return of the cardigan neckline, band-necklines, too, as well as Dior's keyhole neckline, Lanvin's stand-away neckline and the many tricky collar treatments, are evident in all dress groups.

Interesting treatment to collars is given with elaborate beading . . . with braided trims . . . embroidery and rhinestone glitter.

You'll find dresses that wear sweater-like tops, turtle necks and knit banding . . . however handled these frocks still maintain their one-piece look.

Big buttons . . . bold and bright . . . spark up from their important positions on pockets and necklines!

Big pockets make skirts look even fuller and arch out slim sheaths for a softer look.

It's a great season for fabric contrasts, and velvet, ottoman and satin are the big three of fabric trims.

The beautiful fabrics of the season are at their best in the glowing shades of polished metal tones: pewter, copper, sliver, gunmetal and brass. Purple, deep plum, ginger, royal and turquoise blues, mossy green . . . teal-dark blue and red are the color highlights.

Greys have never been so smart or fashion important as are the polished pewter and yarn-dyed greys of the new season.

Whites for after-five frocks are newly-important and lovelier than ever in chalk-white to parchment-white lustre.

Very lovely, very smart and above all-very wearable are the fashions in frocks for fall!

POLISHED SATIN, cut short and full-skirted, makes this season's covered-up evening dress. Pretty, and practical, too, because this dress can go from a dinner date to the theatre to a party and look just exactly right. A short and strapless gown (left) of glowing red satin is given, by Eisenberg, a tiny black velvet bolero. Lining of the bolero is in the red satin. A fitted bodice and full skirt are traced in black velvet embroidery. Belt, too, is black velvet. Blush pink, buffed satin (right) is used by designer Hannah Troy for a dress with a wide neckline and tiny sleeves. Embroidered crystal beads outline the neckline in airy daisy patterns. These same crystal daisies are scattered over the fitted bodice and full skirt.

Bright Colors In Men's Pyjamas

The bedroom has just about moved into the living-room since the advent of TV. Television-viewing has given a greater impetus to lounge-about at home, and men, too, are seeking the answer in what to wear.

Pyjama manufacturers have created a host of exciting lounge models in pyjamas.

First choice with males is the slack-type broadcloth trouser with contrasting sport or knit shirt.

There are bright plaid loungers with tunic length shirts, belted for ease. Middy style jackets over slim, tapering slack bottoms are popular, too.

Bright color and bold patterns typify these models. There is a choice of regimental stripes, plaids, polka dots, and contrasting solids to please every masculine taste.

Crisp And Heavy Fabrics Play Major Role In Return Of Full Skirt

PARIS, Sept. 20.—Fashion reaches new opulence, new splendor in the Paris couture collections, which made their debuts before tremendously large, enthusiastic audiences of fashion experts. Magnificent fabrics, flowing colors, fabulous embroideries and lavish furs all contributed to a spectacle of unparalleled beauty in the couture salons. Every evening, after the long showings at such famous houses as Dior, Balenciaga, Fath and Balmain —fashion representatives gathered together over cocktails to talk over the highlights of the collections they had just seen.

Their decisions greatly affected the fashion lives of women, since the models they selected have been reproduced and adapted by American and Canadian manufacturers and are featured by stores from coast to coast.
